

It Saved My Life.

Extreme cases of disease test the real value of a medicine. Many "tonic" and "stimulant" preparations, which have no real medicinal value, seem to brace up the users when they are feeling "played out." Any stimulant will do this whether bought at the liquor store or drug store. The true test of a medicine is when life itself is staked on its remedial power. In hundreds of such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of saving life when even the "family doctor" had pronounced sentence of death.

"I had been a great sufferer for several years, and my family doctor said I would not be a living man in two years, but, thank God, I am still living," writes Mr. George W. Trustow, of Lipscomb, Augusta Co., Va. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is what saved my life. I had heart trouble so bad that I could not lie on my left side without a great deal of pain. I was nearly past work when I commenced your medicine, but I can do about as much work now as any man. I cannot say too much for the benefit I have received."

Many diseases, named for the organs affected, as "heart disease," "lung disease," "liver complaint," etc., are perfectly cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which cures through the stomach diseases which originate in the stomach.

BOERS SET A TRAP.

Started Shell Fire and Drew British Convoy and Six Guns Into Ambush.

Retrieve of the Disaster Is Considered Improbable.

Burghers Expect Great Things of General Botha, Who Has Shown Clever Tactics.

London, April 2.—General Buller's anxious inquiry whether British officers will ever learn the value of scouting comes back with enforced emphasis to the British public today, in receipt of the tidings that a convoy with guns has walked deliberately into a Boer ambush within about 20 miles of Bloemfontein. This news is conveyed in the following dispatch from Bushman kop, dated March 31:

"The British force commanded by Colonel Broadwood, consisting of the Tenth hussars, household cavalry, two horse batteries and a force of mounted infantry under Colonel Pilcher, which had been garrisoning Thaba N'chu, was obliged, in consequence of the near approach of a large force of Boers, to leave last night.

"Colonel Broadwood marched to the Bloemfontein waterworks, south of the Modder, where he encamped at 4 this morning.

"At early dawn the camp was shelled by the enemy from a near point. Colonel Broadwood sent off a convoy with the batteries, while the rest of the force remained to act as a rear guard.

"The convoy arrived at a deep spruit, where the Boers were concealed, and the entire body walked into ambush and was captured, together with six guns.

"The loss of life was not great, since most of the British had walked into the trap before a shot was fired.

"General Colville's division, which left Bloemfontein early this morning, arrived here at noon and he is now shelling the Boers."

GENERAL BOTHA.

Lord Roberts' own report of the affair, if yet received by the war office, has not been published, and no account of the affair is available to the public except the dispatch from Bushman kop. Nothing can be said, therefore, regarding the exact extent of the British misfortune.

Evidently Colonel Broadwood thought it necessary to retreat in haste from Thaba N'Chu, as he marched all through Friday night, apparently followed by a considerable force of the enemy. The convoy and guns had to pass through a deep spruit which the Boers had occupied.

Six of 12 guns, comprising two batteries, all the wagons, and it is feared many men, fell into the hands of the wily Boers, whose daring, displayed so near Bloemfontein, shows that they are rapidly recovering heart after their recent reverses.

The hope is expressed here that General Colville will recover the convoy and guns, but this is hardly likely in such a difficult country, and it is probable that the next news will be that, after a stiff fight, General Colville has extricated Colonel Broadwood from his difficult position, but failed to retrieve the disaster.

Severe criticisms are heard regarding the renewal of the old mistake of underrating the Boers and the absence of proper precaution. No doubt the affair will revive Boer hopes and inspire confidence among the enemy at a critical moment.

Great things are expected by the Boers of the new commander-in-chief, General Botha, who has made his reputation wholly during the present campaign. Foreign officers serving with the Boers have expressed surprise at his clever tactics.

Followed Husband's Example.

Laconia, N. H., April 2.—Mrs. Clara B. Gardner, aged 45, committed suicide by hanging at her home near East Tilton by hanging from a portiere rod in the sitting room. Her husband took his life by hanging in the barn of the same premises, about 18 months ago.

Offered an Important Position.

Springfield, Mass., April 2.—Fred W. Atkinson, principal of the Springfield high school, has received an informal offer of the position of superintendent of education in the Philippine islands. Mr. Atkinson is 30 years old, and a graduate of Harvard university.

STEERING GEAR GAVE WAY.

Schooner Became Unmanageable and Was Run Into and Sunk by Barge.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., April 2.—The coal-laden schooner Abraham Richardson of Bangor sailed from Vineyard Haven shortly before 8 o'clock Sunday morning, in a fresh westerly wind and clear weather. When off East Chop, and sailing with a free wind and at a good rate of speed, she met the tug Swatara, towing the barges Phoenix, Alaska and Brookside, from Boston for Philadelphia.

When off East Chop and sailing with a free wind and at a good rate of speed she met tug Swatara towing barges Phoenix, Alaska and Brookside, from Boston for Philadelphia.

The schooner and the tow were passing at a safe distance from each other when the Richardson's patent steering gear broke and unshipped, rendering it useless, and Captain Pomeroy lost control of his vessel. The latter swung to the wind and went across the bow of the barge Alaska, the middle one of the tow, which struck the Richardson just aft the fore rigging on the starboard side, cutting into her so that she sank in two minutes.

The schooner went down head first, which gave the crew just time to cut their boat from the davits, get into it and shove clear before the stern settled. Had the schooner gone down stern first some of her crew would undoubtedly have been drowned. They were all saved in their boat except one seaman, who leaped aboard the Alaska. The tug Swatara picked them up and landed them here. The crew lost all their personal effects.

The towing hawser of the Alaska was parted, but she sustained no injury, and the Swatara proceeded with the barges for her destination.

May Round Out Life in Prison.

Boston, April 2.—By the arrest on Sunday of Thomas Jackson, a professional burgler, while in the act of stealing woolens from the wholesale house of Warren & Blanchard, the mystery surrounding several recent thefts from that firm has been cleared up. Jackson admits having made three visits to the place during March, and took goods valued at $1000. Jackson implicated a colored man named Wilson, and the latter was arrested. Jackson is 63 years old. He is now eligible to sentence unred the habitual criminal act, which provides for a 25-year term.

Compromise Accepted.

Gloucester, Mass., April 2.—There will be no strike of the stone workers in this vicinity, as was threatened. A compromise has been effected by which all the members of the stone workers, which includes quarrymen, paving cutters, etc., will accept the 10 percent increase in wages.

Milford, Mass., April 2.—The Milford Pin Granite company has made a settlement with the Granite Cutters' union, conceding eight hours and a 35-cent minimum rate of wages. In the busy season the company employs 250 hands.

Loopholes in a Sunday Law.

Boston, April 2.—No arrests were made Sunday for violation of the recent decree of the supreme court that it is unlawful, except for apothecaries, to sell tobacco or cigars on Sunday, and but little change in the trade in those articles was noticed during the day. In one case a restaurant proprietor declined to sell a customer a cigar, but compromised by selling him a box of matches for 10 cents and making him a present of a cigar. Other methods of evading the law were resorted to.

Big Fire at Newburyport.

Newburyport, Mass., April 2.—Fire started from some unknown cause in the three buildings owned by Cashman Bros., contractors and stevedores, near the water front, Sunday, and the flames made such headway that assistance was called from Haverhill, Salem and Portsmouth. The losses, which are distributed among a number of concerns, aggregate $50,000. O. F. Tucker was run over by a supply wagon and badly injured.

To Give Up Active Work.

Worcester, Mass., April 2.—Rev. Dr. Daniel Merriman, senior Protestant minister in Worcester, for the past 22 years pastor of Central Congregational church of this city, unexpectedly read his resignation to his parishioners Sunday, to take effect May 1. Dr. Merriman has had an associate pastor for the past 10 years, but believes the church wants can be better administered by a young man as pastor, and for this reason decided to retire. He intends to rest. He is prominently identified with several educational, art and charitable institutions.

Worries the Dowager Empress.

London, April 2.—The Pekin correspondent of The Daily Mail says: Li Hung Chang, viceroy of Canton, recently wired the Chinese authorities here that Kang Yu Wei, the reformer, had ordered 8000 uniforms in Hong Kong. The empress dowager was much alarmed by the news, and Li Hung Chang has sent a formal protest to the British governor of Hong Kong against permitting Kang Yu Wei's propaganda.

Twenty-five Insane Soldiers Aboard.

Manila, April 2.—The United States transport Sherman sailed for San Francisco yesterday with a battalion of the Fourteenth infantry, Captains Yeatman, Lasseign and Biddle, Lieutenants Field and Oliver, 175 military prisoners and 25 insane.

Buffers Order a Strike.

Woburn, April 2.—The Buffers' union has ordered a strike in the leather factory of the American Hide and Leather company, this city, and Beggs & Cobb, Winchester, because a demand for increased pay was refused.

SEVEN "INSURGENTS"

Not Likely to Prevent Passage of the Senate Puerto Rican Measure.

The Matter Will Be Disposed of Tomorrow Afternoon.

Quay Resolution Subject to Displacement by Matters of More or Less Importance.

Washington, April 2.—The time of the senate, previous to the vote upon the Puerto Rican bill, which occurs tomorrow afternoon, will be devoted wholly to this bill. Speeches will be made by Senators Bate, Depew, Spooner, Cullom, Mason, Clay and Culberson, and probably by other senators. There will be a great rush of speakers towards the close, and the time allowed is considered too short to accommodate all who will desire to be heard.

There is, however, no disposition to extend the time agreed upon for taking the vote. All but two of the committee amendments have been agreed to by the senate. These two relate to a delegate in congress and to citizenship. The friends of the bill count upon its passage by a handsome majority, but it is now expected that seven Republican votes will be cast against it, the seven comprising Senators Davis, Hoar, Mason, Nelson, Proctor, Simon and Wellington. Senator McEnery (Dem.) and some independent senators will vote for the measure, but until the exact number of such vote is known the majority for the bill cannot be predicted.

The taking of the vote on the Puerto Rican bill will displace the Quay resolution, which was set for tomorrow, and Senator Chandler, chairman of the committee on elections, has given notice that he will postpone calling it up until Wednesday. The committee will adjourn the Clark hearing, in order to give its attention to the Quay resolution Wednesday, but as it is not expected that the latter matter can be disposed of in one day, it is probable that the necessity for going on with the Clark case after Wednesday will cause another postponement of the Quay resolution. There are several speeches to be made on the Quay case, and there is quite a noticeable disposition on the part of some senators still further to postpone the vote on it. Senator Penrose, however, announces his purpose to press the consideration as rapidly as possible after it is once taken up.

The Quay resolution is subject to displacement by appropriation bills, conference reports and the Spooner resolution for the temporary government of the Philippines. The Philippine resolution will be made the unfinished business after the vote is taken on Puerto Rico, and it will give way to the Alaskan code measure.

After that it will divide the time with appropriation bills and conference reports. No prolonged debate is expected on the Philippine resolution, owing to the fact that it is considered a temporary matter, and for the further reason that the Philippine policy has received considerable attention in connection with Puerto Rico.

The committee on order of business is not yet thoroughly decided what subject to take up after the disposal of the Philippine resolution. There is strong pressure to secure first place for the shipping subsidy bill, and at present the indications are somewhat favorable to that measure. The Nicaraguan canal bill is also pressing for first place, and Senator Morgan expresses strong hope of success.

The program in the house this week is fully mapped out. Today is District of Columbia day. Tomorrow, under a special order adopted some time ago, the house will enter upon the consideration of the bill to provide a civil government for Hawaii. By the terms of the order, the general debate upon the bill will continue until Thursday, when it will be read for amendment under the 5-minute rule. The final vote will be taken at 4 o'clock on Thursday. Friday will be devoted to private pension legislation, and Saturday has been set aside for paying tribute to the memory of the late Richard P. Bland of Missouri.

Good Afternoon.

A man who talks all the time can hardly expect to get a reputation for deep thinking.

The faction fight of the Texas populists is quite as important as that of the District of Columbia Democrats.

As the nomination will be equivalent to an election, it is not surprising that there should be numerous aspirants for the Republican Vice Presidential nomination.

Those who are advocating intervention by this government in the South African war are, with a few possible exceptions, actuated by no higher motive than desire to embarrass President McKinley.

Another Massachusetts man is suggested for an important educational position in our new possessions—Fred W. Atkinson, principal of the Springfield High school, and a graduate of the Bridgewater Normal and Harvard University.

With two fire department horses dying within a fortnight, five now on the sick list with distemper and with five between the ages of 18 to 24 years, which will soon have to be replaced, it would seem to the casual observer that when the city purchases a new steamer that it should be a horseless engine. They don't eat, nor require shoeing, nor get sick, nor die. In eight years they pay for themselves in the saving in "keep." Their life is unlimited. Hartford, Conn., has had two in service about 25 years.

The Hull-Massachusetts yacht club in an act of discourtesy to the Quincy Yacht club, in intentionally giving a club race on Sept. 1, the date of the Quincy club's annual open regatta, and especially tempting the 25-foot class with big prize money to repudiate its date with our club, has placed itself in an unenviable light before the yachting world. It is apparent upon the face of it that the Hull-Massachusetts club has been made a tool of to pay off old scores by a certain member of the Y. R. A. M. Executive Committee who hails from that club. It is a pity that the amicable relations which have existed between these two organizations for years should be broken off simply to satisfy the spite of one or two members in the Hull club.

If the broken forward axle had happened to the ladder truck while responding to an alarm, instead of the steamer as was the case Sunday afternoon, the consequences of the lack of ladders might have been something startling. For years we have had immunity from large fires. The city is now growing so rapidly that it is apparent that the time is past when we can depend on one steamer, one ladder truck, three active hose wagons and two combination to hold in check any large fires which are liable to occur at any time. Last year there were 153 alarms, 80 per cent. more than during the previous year. The old ladder truck should be put into commission as soon as possible. The time is not far distant when the city will have to purchase another steamer to be used for responding to general alarms. When that time arrives let it be one big enough to fulfill all requirements for years to come.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ America needs and must have a merchant marine. It must carry its own products, in its own ships, with its own flag floating over them. Congress should be quick to do anything in its power to further this result.—Beverly Times.

☞ The petition of the Single Tax League to give cities and towns option in selecting property for taxation has been reported against. You see, there are more people who don't want to pay a single tax than there are people who do—Lynn Item.

☞ There is nothing Russia would like better than a chance to go to war with Turkey again, and crush her. Russia wants Constantinople and the Bosphrous. Russia has demanded certain large concessions in Asia Minor, which the Porte has refused, backed, it is said, by Germany. If the Sultan should continue to be obstinate, it is feared that grave consequences will ensue.—Milford Journal.

☞ Will the discussion ever cease as to what the Saviour would do under such circumstances in such and such avocation? The whole business approaches too closely to the borderland of blasphemy in the opinion of the majority of people, and the fact that a clergyman was the first to inaugurate the discussion makes it all the more reprehensible, inasmuch as one expects sensibility in an occupant of the pulpit, though it not infrequently happens that the expectation is disappointed.—Brockton Times.

☞ Does anybody really think that the proposed reduction in water rates will be of any great benefit to the workingmen of the city and the "poor washerwoman?" How many in either class own their own houses? And if they do not live in houses of their own does anybody expect that their rents will be decreased because the water rates are? The fact is, a decrease in water rates will benefit the well-to-do, who own tenement house property, more than it will the workingmen whom it is desired to benefit. The mayor makes this point.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞ The Montpelier Journal says that a well-known Vermonter who recently died "was not popular in the vulgar sense of popularity." Few men are but professional athletes and their popularity ceases as soon as they sustain a few defeats. The man who is popular with his own family is the luckiest man on earth. His popularity elsewhere can be dispelled by a breath or by the uplifting of an eyelid. Only his family are likely to stick to a man through thick and thin, and the popularity enjoyed with the mob is only valuable for the moment. A failure ends it all. The lobster is only a favorite when served on the table.—Brockton Enterprise.

City Council Business.

Tonight's meeting of the City Council will be a busy one, as a number of important matters will come up. Among these are a public hearing on the widening of Copeland street, between Crescent street and the depot. The Mayor will forward in print the annual budget, and also communications and other matters of importance.

The Committee on Streets will report on the order for repairs on Webster street and Glover avenue, and on the petition for poles on Water street. This same committee will also report a new street lighting order and orders for public hearings on the widening of Granite and Prospect streets.

The Committee on Finance have a number of matters before them upon which they will probably report. In the calender is the order for the street railway location to Houghs Neck.

School Committee.

A special meeting of the School Committee was held Saturday evening.

The sub-committees of the several schools were given full power to provide extra rooms in case of an overflow.

Miss Corlew was granted the use of High School hall for April 7.

Miss Nicholson of the Lincoln and Miss Andrews of the Coddington schools were granted leave of absence for one term without pay.

The selection of a Latin text book for the High school was referred, with full power, to the sub-committee on text books.

Noted in City Book.

The Sewer debt is now larger than the Municipal debt, the former being $384,500, and the latter $323,206.59. The tax levy for 1899 including street sprinkling was $397,848.58, of which $239,755.21 has been collected.

Tax Collector Dixon recommends that in the future all tax bills for real estate and personal property be itemized.

The number of water services is now 3,889, and the gross receipts of 1899 were $59,953.68, an average of over $15 each.

The receipts of 1899 for dog licenses were $1904,00.

Not a death occurred at the Almshouse last year.

Strike Situation.

More or less work is being done in all of the granite cutting yards but no concerted effort has as yet been made to get men, and no effort will be made until after the regular meeting of the Manufacturers' Association which will be held Tuesday night.

The Herald says the Lanesville branch of the Stone Workers' Union has voted unanimously to accept a compromise offer of an increase in wages, instead of holding out for the full amount recently demanded of the manufacturers and engaging in a strike on Monday. The action was taken at a secret meeting. The men asked for a 20 per cent. increase, and it is understood that they have accepted 10 per cent. A nother meeting was held Saturday to consider some minor causes in connection with the bill of prices recently presented to various companies.

A Milford dispatch of Saturday to the Herald says Woodbury & Leighton have agreed to pay the striking granite cutters 35 cents an hour and allow them eight hours a day. Mr. Woodbury came to Milford this evening and met 150 members of the union in Granite Cutters' Hall 7 o'clock. He was accompanied by H. A. Perry, superintendent of the local plant. Mr. Woodbury asked on what terms the matter could be compromised. In answer the strike committee informed him that the men wanted 35 cents an hour and an eight-hour schedule. After a short discussion, Mr. Woodbury said he was satisfied and would sign the schedule as soon as it was drawn up by the secretary of the union, which will be on Monday. The members of the union are overjoyed with the outcome. They expect a similar settlement with Norcross Bros. O. W. Norcross submitted a new proposition to the union yesterday, the substance of which is understood to be his willingness to concede eight hours at the wages formerly paid for nine hours' work.

Two Alarms From One Box.

The alarm from box 52 at 3.42 Sunday afternoon was turned in by a person who thought William F. Torrey's house on Central avenue was on fire. After the alarm had bbeen turned in it was found that there was no fire and that the smoke was caused by the burning of some old straw in the furnace.

The alarm from box 52, corner Elwood avenue and Farrington street at 5.02 Saturday afternoon was for a small blaze which started in the cellar of the house owned and occupied by E. H. Sprague. The fire apparently started from spontaneous combustion among a few oily rags used for wiping bicycles. The blaze was extinguished before much damage was done.

The forward axle of the steamer broke while that piece of apparatus was responding to the alarm of Sunday afternoon. Fortunately no one was injured. The axle broke, near the hub of the wheel, when opposite Music hall and the horses ran as far as Col. Packard's before they were stopped. The driver was not thrown, but held onto the animals until stopped. An examination of the axle afterwards showed that the break was due to an old flaw.

Within two hours after the accident a new set of forward wheels had been secured, and the engine was again in commission.

Dancing School Reception.

The closing lessons of the Quincy dancing classes of Miss E. J. Corlew were held Saturday, and the children are looking forward to a grand reception to be held on Saturday evening this week. Arrangements had been made to have the party in Music hall, and the burning of that building was very unwelcome news to teacher and pupil. While in a quandary whether to go to the Braintree Town Hall or to have a small party in Faxon hall, the High school hall was suggested. In the emergency, the School Committee at a special meeting on Saturday kindly voted the use of the High school. It is a large and pretty hall, and the reception will be one of the cutest ever given in the city.

Poll Taxes.

Inquiry by Tax Collector Baker in the cities of Massachusets, shows that Quincy stands near the top in the collection of poll taxes, the percentage of polls collected in Quincy being 85, while one city only collected 50 per cent. The summary is as follows:

Quincy, 85; Beverly, 75; Brockton, 90; Cambridge, 75; Chelsea, 80; Everett, 80; Fall River, 86; Fitchburg, 88; Gloucester, 75 to 80; Holyoke, 80; Lawrence, 65; Lowell, 80; Lynn, 65; Malden, 86; Marlboro, 75; Medford, 85; New Bedford, 84; Newburyport, 70; Newton, 83; North Adams, 80; Northampton, 95; Pittsfield, 85; Salem, 50; Somerville, 80; Springfield, 88; Taunton, 85; Woburn, 81; Worcester, 80.

—The selectmen of Weymouth have made these appointments: Superintendent of streets, Nelson W. Gardner; night patrolmen, Michael Allen, Arthur H. Pratt, John D. Walsh; liquor officers, Patrick Butler, Thomas Fitzgerald.

APRIL SHOWERS.

And the Pitter Patter Continues Day After Day.

Rain.

Vacation week.

A holiday April 19.

Almost a thunder shower today.

The April showers were on time.

Next Sunday will be Palm Sunday, and a week later Easter.

Not since Dec. 12 has the noon temperature been as high as today.

There is a bill before the Legislature requiring permits for blasting.

The curbing at the corner of Washington and Coddington street is being put in today.

The Assessor's bill for Quincy was engrossed in the House last week, but has yet to be enacted in both branches.

The Soldiers' Home acknowledges the receipt last week from the Quincy W. R. C. of 5 cushions, and 4 towels for room 64.

George A. Litchfield was on the stand Friday in defence of his nephew, George E. Litchfield, charged with counterfeiting.

There is quite an epidemic of diphtheria at West Quincy, six cases being reported from there last week. With one exception the cases are among children.

One of the houses on Coddington street, purchased by Henry M. Faxon, will be moved to Woodward avenue and the other to Coddington street, next to Mr. Owen Trainor's residence.

Mayor Hall is in frequent conference with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. relative to the new depots and improvements, and also with the Metropolitan Park Commissioners relative to the parkway.

Nine drunks fell into the hands of the police between Saturday night and this morning. Perhaps it was in honor of April fool's day, but they found it no April joke when they were fined in court this morning.

The railroad committee reported a bill on Friday requiring the roads to carry bicycles as baggage and a bill to provide for cheaper morning and evening trains in and out of Boston within a distance of 15 miles.

The Street Railway company is all ready to commence work on the rebuilding of the Houghs Neck line, and if the order now before the City Council passes tonight work will be commenced on it tomorrow morning.

There is a contest in Ward 14, Boston, for delegates to the Tenth district Republican Congressional convention. Stephen M. Marshall was prompt to file a list of delegates and a second list was filed by friends of ex-Aldermen Milton C. Paige.

Preached to Good Templars.

The members of Merrymount Lodge, I. O. G. T., attended services at the Universalist church Sunday afternoon and listened to an able sermon by the paster, Rev. Merrill C. Ward, who took for his subject "The Moaning of the bar."

Aside from the members of the lodge, there was a large attendance.

The church was very prettily decorated about the desk in honor of the occasion. Along the front of the platform was an array of potted plants and flowers, also the words "Faith, Hope and Charity," the motto of the Good Templars; while in the rear of the pulpit was the significant motto "Our Field the Whole World."

The singing was a feature of the service, the local chior being augmented by the choir of the Hingham Universalist church.

Knowlton to Remain.

We are happy to be able to say, that Mr. Knowlton, the efficient Commissioner of Public Works, is to remain in Quincy under the present administration although he was disposed to go to Porto Rico where he saw encouraging prospects for advancement, and a flattering salary. Mayor Hall used all his efforts to retain him assuring him that the city would be the loser by his surrendering of the office, and that the support of the Council and citizens generally would be accorded him if he decided to remain in charge of the city work. The Mayor's arguments have been successful, and Mr. Knowlton remains.

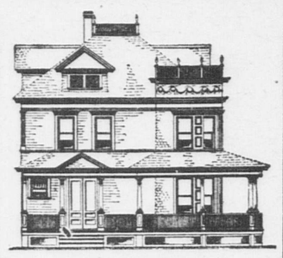

COLONIAL RESIDENCE.

Spacious, Convenient and Handsome. Costs $3,000.

[Copyright, 1900, by George Hitchings, architect, 1099 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn.]

This colonial residence is one of convenience and practicality in every respect. In presenting this design I want to make some suggestions on house building. It is my purpose, in offering these suggestions, to advise the reader somewhat as an architect would advise his client in the process of designing a house. It is intended to carry the reader through the various necessities required in a model house.

Let us now proceed to consider features of arrangement and artistic finish. In a general way it may be said that the model house which we are building should be designed according to the following rules:

First.—The possibility of seclusion in each apartment, especially in the bedchambers, yet with ready direct accessibility to the halls from each apartment.

Second.—Remember that the chief element of cheerfulness in a house is the sunshine. Locate your house so that the important rooms will have the morning sun.

Third.—The plan being arranged so as to make housework a pleasure, avoiding all long passageways and other disagreeable things.

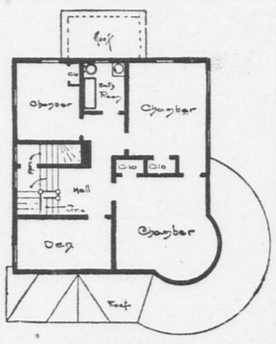

You will find all of the above redeeming features in this design. The house is

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

32 feet wide by 38 feet deep, not including the veranda, which is seven feet wide across the front and extending around the circular tower, as you will see in the plan. The rooms are all large and well ventilated. The parlor is 13 feet wide by 14 feet deep, not including the tower. The dining room is 16 feet wide by 15 feet deep and is separated from the parlor by sliding doors. The kitchen is 14 feet wide by 10 feet deep and is provided with all the modern improvements. The pantry is large and conveniently situated. It is 5 feet 6 inches wide by 10 feet long.

The front and back stairs land in a large square hall on the second floor. This floor contains three large chambers, a den or smoking room and a bathrom. The attic has three finished rooms and a storeroom.

This house will cost $3,000 complete. Trim to be oak, finished natural. Heights of stories—cellar, 7 feet; first floor, 10 feet; second floor, 9 feet 6 inches; attic, 8 feet 6 inches.

Site For a Home.

In choosing a location for a dwelling it is well to avoid flat ground. A gentle slope is much better. Especially undesirable are the bottoms of depressions having no drainage outlet for the excessive subsoil moisture, as malaria and other diseases are to be feared in such localities. A bald, treeless and grassless plain is undesirable, as giving too great changes of temperature. A deep, narrow valley is objectionable, as it has insufficient circulation of air. Neither an open summit nor a flat surface at the foot of a hill is as satisfactory as the intervening slope. The upper half of a declivity furnishes usually the most desirable site. If there be a well drained break above, it will intercept the ground water. Evergreen trees on the up hill side of the house temper the severity of cold night air. Trees on the northern side of the site serve as a valuable windbreak in winter. The location should afford plenty of sunlight.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Country Home.

The essential idea of a country home is outdoor space. Two-thirds of the year in this climate one can spend the sunny leisure hours out of doors. One-half the year a house is only necessary to keep off the rain or dews. We are learning slowly the value of space, but we are not up to the Europeans. In Germany, France, Italy and all the warm countries people pay big sums of money for a little arbor where they may eat their meals when the weather is fair. Whoever sees an American who has imported this privileged habit and made it a part of his family life at home?

"Housework is hard work without Gold Dust"

WASHING CROCKS AND MILK VESSELS

A great deal depends upon the care of crocks or pans in which milk is kept. They should be washed as soon as possible after being used. Rinse first with cold water, then wash thoroughly inside and out with hot water, in which enough of

has been dissolved to make a good suds. Finish by rinsing with scalding water; wipe dry and set out, with right side up, in the fresh air and sunshine, and they will be clean and sweet.

An A 1
Sewing Machine
For $19.00.

A perfect machine, fully guaranteed for 10 years. We sell you the Marguerite Sewing Machine complete with every attachment in a beautiful oak case, highly polished, for $19.00.

People ask us every day "are you sure it is good, the price seems so low?" In answer we can only say, it is just as good as any machine manufactured that costs you $50.00 or $60.00 elsewhere.

If you will only stop to think you can readily see that sewing machine prices have been fearfully inflated. Even today, sewing machine agents everywhere simply rob the public.

Our machine is an honest machine at an honest price. Remember, a 10 years' guarantee. This covers everything.

Ten Year Old Boy Responsible.

The drowning of Arthur C. Long, son of Joseph Long, six years old, at Braintree, on July 7, 1899, may result in action being taken by the Grand Jury against J. E. Burgess, 10 years old, of the same town. The Journal says, Louis A. Cook, Special Justice of Norfolk County, held an inquest in the case and after many months has finally returned a decision which was filed at Dedham Saturday.

The Long boy was in bathing with some others in a pond at South Braintree, and the allegation was made that he was taken beyond his depth, against his protest, by the Burgess boy. A struggle followed and the smaller boy was drowned. Justice Cook, after hearing many witnesses, lays the responsibility for the boy's death on young Burgess.

The report says, "I find that said J. E. Burgess was blameworthy, even for one so young, and that his actions on the premises were the cause of the death of the said Arthur C. Long."

This ends the jurisdiction of the District Court in the case. The report was filed, as the law requires, with the District Attorney, who in that county is Robert O. Harris of Bridgewater.

As the people's prosecuting officer Mr. Harris must take what steps he thinks necessary in the case.

First Annual Reunion Co K.

Company K, 5th Regt., was mustered out of the United States service, March 31, 1899, and to observe this event a number of the members gathered about the festive board at the United States hotel, Boston, Saturday evening. Among those present were: Capt. Charles F. Spear, Lieutenants Maurice Colbert and J. R. McGrath, Sargeants Mahon, Barrett, Leslie, Hermanson and Crane, Corporals Foster, Matthews and Pierce and Privates McLaughlin, Carlson, Gillis, Tucker, Brown, Morrissey and Davidson. The menu was a pleasing one, and after the boys had supplied all the wants of the inner man interesting remarks were made by all present. It was decided to make a permanent organization and to hold a reunion every year. With this in view the company organized with Capt. C. F. Spear as president, and Corporal Frank Pierce as secretary.

TODAY'S COURT.

Good Afternoon.

A man who talks all the time can hardly expect to get a reputation for deep thinking.

The faction fight of the Texas populists is quite as important as that of the District of Columbia Democrats.

As the nomination will be equivalent to an election, it is not surprising that there should be numerous aspirants for the Republican Vice Presidential nomination.

Those who are advocating intervention by this government in the South African war are, with a few possible exceptions, actuated by no higher motive than desire to embarrass President McKinley.

Another Massachusetts man is suggested for an important educational position in our new possessions—Fred W. Atkinson, principal of the Springfield High school, and a graduate of the Bridgewater Normal and Harvard University.

With two fire department horses dying within a fortnight, five now on the sick list with distemper and with five between the ages of 18 to 24 years, which will soon have to be replaced, it would seem to the casual observer that when the city purchases a new steamer that it should be a horseless engine. They don't eat, nor require shoeing, nor get sick, nor die. In eight years they pay for themselves in the saving in "keep." Their life is unlimited. Hartford, Conn., has had two in service about 25 years.

The Hull-Massachusetts yacht club in an act of discourtesy to the Quincy Yacht club, in intentionally giving a club race on Sept. 1, the date of the Quincy club's annual open regatta, and especially tempting the 25-foot class with big prize money to repudiate its date with our club, has placed itself in an unenviable light before the yachting world. It is apparent upon the face of it that the Hull-Massachusetts club has been made a tool of to pay off old scores by a certain member of the Y. R. A. M. Executive Committee who hails from that club. It is a pity that the amicable relations which have existed between these two organizations for years should be broken off simply to satisfy the spite of one or two members in the Hull club.

If the broken forward axle had happened to the ladder truck while responding to an alarm, instead of the steamer as was the case Sunday afternoon, the consequences of the lack of ladders might have been something startling. For years we have had immunity from large fires. The city is now growing so rapidly that it is apparent that the time is past when we can depend on one steamer, one ladder truck, three active hose wagons and two combination to hold in check any large fires which are liable to occur at any time. Last year there were 153 alarms, 80 per cent. more than during the previous year. The old ladder truck should be put into commission as soon as possible. The time is not far distant when the city will have to purchase another steamer to be used for responding to general alarms. When that time arrives let it be one big enough to fulfill all requirements for years to come.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ America needs and must have a merchant marine. It must carry its own products, in its own ships, with its own flag floating over them. Congress should be quick to do anything in its power to further this result.—Beverly Times.

☞ The petition of the Single Tax League to give cities and towns option in selecting property for taxation has been reported against. You see, there are more people who don't want to pay a single tax than there are people who do—Lynn Item.

☞ There is nothing Russia would like better than a chance to go to war with Turkey again, and crush her. Russia wants Constantinople and the Bosphrous. Russia has demanded certain large concessions in Asia Minor, which the Porte has refused, backed, it is said, by Germany. If the Sultan should continue to be obstinate, it is feared that grave consequences will ensue.—Milford Journal.

☞ Will the discussion ever cease as to what the Saviour would do under such circumstances in such and such avocation? The whole business approaches too closely to the borderland of blasphemy in the opinion of the majority of people, and the fact that a clergyman was the first to inaugurate the discussion makes it all the more reprehensible, inasmuch as one expects sensibility in an occupant of the pulpit, though it not infrequently happens that the expectation is disappointed.—Brockton Times.

☞ Does anybody really think that the proposed reduction in water rates will be of any great benefit to the workingmen of the city and the "poor washerwoman?" How many in either class own their own houses? And if they do not live in houses of their own does anybody expect that their rents will be decreased because the water rates are? The fact is, a decrease in water rates will benefit the well-to-do, who own tenement house property, more than it will the workingmen whom it is desired to benefit. The mayor makes this point.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞ The Montpelier Journal says that a well-known Vermonter who recently died "was not popular in the vulgur sense of popularity." Few men are but professional athletes and their popularity ceases as soon as they sustain a few defeats. The man who is popular with his own family is the luckiest man on earth. His popularity elsewhere can be dispelled by a breath or by the uplifting of an eyelid. Only his family are likely to stick to a man through thick and thin, and the popularity enjoyed with the mob is only valuable for the moment. A failure ends it all. The lobster is only a favorite when served on the table.—Brockton Enterprise.

City Council Business.

Tonight's meeting of the City Council will be a busy one, as a number of important matters will come up. Among these are a public hearing on the widening of Copeland street, between Crescent street and the depot. The Mayor will forward in print the annual budget, and also communications and other matters of importance.

The Committee on Streets will report on the order for repairs on Webster street and Glover avenue, and on the petition for poles on Water street. This same committee will also report a new street lighting order and orders for public hearings on the widening of Granite and Prospect streets.

The Committee on Finance have a number of matters before them upon which they will probably report. In the calender is the order for the street railway location to Houghs Neck.

School Committee.

A special meeting of the School Committee was held Saturday evening.

The sub-committees of the several schools were given full power to provide extra rooms in case of an overflow.

Miss Corlew was granted the use of High School hall for April 7.

Miss Nicholson of the Lincoln and Miss Andrews of the Coddington schools were granted leave of absence for one term without pay.

The selection of a Latin text book for the High school was referred, with full power, to the sub-committee on text books.

Noted in City Book.

The Sewer debt is now larger than the Municipal debt, the former being $384,500, and the latter $323,206.59. The tax levy for 1899 including street sprinkling was $397,843.58, of which $239,755.21 has been collected.

Tax Collector Dixon recommends that in the future all tax bills for real estate and personal property be itemized.

The number of water services is now 3,889, and the gross receipts of 1899 were $59,953.68, an average of over $15 each.

The receipts of 1899 for dog licenses were $1904.00.

Not a death occurred at the Almshouse last year.

Strike Situation.

More or less work is being done in all of the granite cutting yards but no concerted effort has as yet been made to get men, and no effort will be made until after the regular meeting of the Manufacturers' Association which will be held Tuesday night.

The Herald says the Lanesville branch of the Stone Workers' Union has voted unanimously to accept a compromise offer of an increase in wages, instead of holding out for the full amount recently demanded of the manufacturers and engaging in a strike on Monday. The action was taken at a secret meeting. The men asked for a 20 per cent. increase, and it is understood that they have accepted 10 per cent. A nother meeting was held Saturday to consider some minor causes in connection with the bill of prices recently presented to various companies.

A Milford dispatch of Saturday to the Herald says Woodbury & Leighton have agreed to pay the striking granite cutters 35 cents an hour and allow them eight hours a day. Mr. Woodbury came to Milford this evening and met 150 members of the union in Granite Cutters' Hall 7 o'clock. He was accompanied by H. A. Perry, superintendent of the local plant. Mr. Woodbury asked on what terms the matter could be compromised. In answer the strike committee informed him that the men wanted 35 cents an hour and an eight-hour schedule. After a short discussion, Mr. Woodbury said he was satisfied and would sign the schedule as soon as it was drawn up by the secretary of the union, which will be on Monday. The members of the union are overjoyed with the outcome. They expect a similar settlement with Norcross Bros. O. W. Norcross submitted a new proposition to the union yesterday, the substance of which is understood to be his willingness to concede eight hours at the wages formerly paid for nine hours' work.

Two Alarms From One Box.

The alarm from box 52 at 3.42 Sunday afternoon was turned in by a person who thought William F. Torrey's house on Central avenue was on fire. After the alarm had hbeen turned in it was found that there was no fire and that the smoke was caused by the burning of some old straw in the furnace.

The alarm from box 52, corner Elwood avenue and Farrington street at 5.02 Saturday afternoon was for a small blaze which started in the cellar of the house owned and occupied by E. H. Sprague. The fire apparently started from spontaneous combustion among a few oily rags used for wiping bicycles. The blaze was extinguished before much damage was done.

The forward axle of the steamer broke while that piece of apparatus was responding to the alarm of Sunday afternoon. Fortunately no one was injured. The axle broke, near the hub of the wheel, when opposite Music hall and the horses ran as far as Col. Packard's before they were stopped. The driver was not thrown, but held onto the animals until stopped. An examination of the axle afterwards showed that the break was due to an old flaw.

Within two hours after the accident a new set of forward wheels had been secured, and the engine was again in commission.

Dancing School Reception.

The closing lessons of the Quincy dancing classes of Miss E. J. Corlew were held Saturday, and the children are looking forward to a grand reception to be held on Saturday evening this week. Arrangements had been made to have the party in Music hall, and the burning of that building was very unwelcome news to teacher and pupil. While in a quandary whether to go to the Braintree Town Hall or to have a small party in Faxon hall, the High school hall was suggested. In the emergency, the School Committee at a special meeting on Saturday kindly voted the use of the High school. It is a large and pretty hall, and the reception will be one of the cutest ever given in the city.

Poll Taxes.

Inquiry by Tax Collector Baker in the cities of Massachusets, shows that Quincy stands near the top in the collection of poll taxes, the percentage of polls collected in Quincy being 85, while one city only collected 50 per cent. The summary is as follows:

Quincy, 85; Beverly, 75; Brockton, 90; Cambridge, 75; Chelsea, 80; Everett, 80; Fall River, 86; Fitchburg, 88; Gloucester, 75 to 80; Holyoke, 80; Lawrence, 65; Lowell, 80; Lynn, 65; Malden, 86; Marlboro, 75; Medford, 85; New Bedford, 84; Newburyport, 70; Newton, 83; North Adams, 80; Northampton, 95; Pittsfield, 85; Salem, 50; Somerville, 80; Springfield, 88; Taunton, 85; Woburn, 81; Worcester, 80.

Aside from the members of the lodge, there was a large attendance.

The church was very prettily decorated about the desk in honor of the occasion. Along the front of the platform was an array of potted plants and flowers, also the words "Faith, Hope and Charity," the motto of the Good Templars; while in the rear of the pulpit was the significant motto "Our Field the Whole World."

The singing was a feature of the service, the local chior being augmented by the choir of the Hingham Universalist church.

Knowlton to Remain.

We are happy to be able to say, that Mr. Knowlton, the efficient Commissioner of Public Works, is to remain in Quincy under the present administration although he was disposed to go to Porto Rico where he saw encouraging prospects for advancement, and a flattering salary. Mayor Hall used all his efforts to retain him assuring him that the city would be the loser by his surrendering of the office, and that the support of the Council and citizens generally would be accorded him if he decided to remain in charge of the city work. The Mayor's arguments have been successful, and Mr. Knowlton remains.

COLONIAL RESIDENCE.

Spacious, Convenient and Handsome. Costs $3,000.

[Copyright, 1900, by George Hitchings, architect, 1000 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn.]

This colonial residence is one of convenience and practicality in every respect. In presenting this design I want to make some suggestions on house building. It is my purpose, in offering these suggestions, to advise the reader somewhat as an architect would advise his client in the process of designing a house. It is intended to carry the reader through the various necessities required in a model house.

Let us now proceed to consider features of arrangement and artistic finish. In a general way it may be said that the model house which we are building should be designed according to the following rules:

First.—The possibility of seclusion in each apartment, especially in the bedchambers, yet with ready direct accessibility to the halls from each apartment.

Second.—Remember that the chief element of cheerfulness in a house is the sunshine. Locate your house so that the important rooms will have the morning sun.

Third.—The plan being arranged so as to make housework a pleasure, avoiding all long passageways and other disagreeable things.

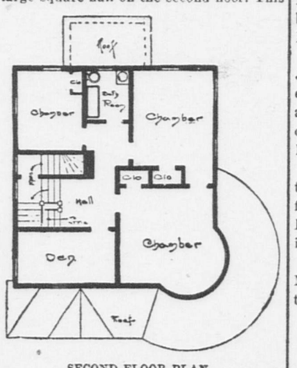

You will find all of the above redeeming features in this design. The house is

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

32 feet wide by 38 feet deep, not including the veranda, which is seven feet wide across the front and extending around the circular tower, as you will see in the plan. The rooms are all large and well ventilated. The parlor is 13 feet wide by 14 feet deep, not including the tower. The dining room is 16 feet wide by 15 feet deep and is separated from the parlor by sliding doors. The kitchen is 14 feet wide by 10 feet deep and is provided with all the modern improvements. The pantry is large and conveniently situated. It is 5 feet 6 inches wide by 10 feet long.

The front and back stairs land in a large square hall on the second floor. This floor contains three large chambers, a den or smoking room and a bathrom. The attic has three finished rooms and a storeroom.

This house will cost $3,000 complete. Trim to be oak, finished natural. Heights of stories—cellar, 7 feet; first floor, 10 feet; second floor, 9 feet 6 inches; attic, 8 feet 6 inches.

Site For a Home.

In choosing a location for a dwelling it is well to avoid flat ground. A gentle slope is much better. Especially undesirable are the bottoms of depressions having no drainage outlet for the excessive subsoil moisture, as malaria and other diseases are to be feared in such localities. A bald, treeless and grassless plain is undesirable, as giving too great changes of temperature. A deep, narrow valley is objectionable, as it has insufficient circulation of air. Neither an open summit nor a flat surface at the foot of a hill is as satisfactory as the intervening slope. The upper half of a declivity furnishes usually the most desirable site. If there be a well drained break above, it will intercept the ground water. Evergreen trees on the up hill side of the house temper the severity of cold night air. Trees on the northern side of the site serve as a valuable windbreak in winter. The location should afford plenty of sunlight.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Country Home.

The essential idea of a country home is outdoor space. Two-thirds of the year in this climate one can spend the sunny leisure hours out of doors. One-half the year a house is only necessary to keep off the rain or dews. We are learning slowly the value of space, but we are not up to the Europeans. In Germany, France, Italy and all the warm countries people pay big sums of money for a little arbor where they may eat their meals when the weather is fair. Whoever sees an American who has imported this privileged habit and made it a part of his family life at home?

WASHING CROCKS AND MILK VESSELS

A great deal depends upon the care of crocks or pans in which milk is kept. They should be washed as soon as possible after being used. Rinse first with cold water, then wash thoroughly inside and out with hot water, in which enough of

has been dissolved to make a good suds. Finish by rinsing with scalding water; wipe dry and set out, with right side up, in the fresh air and sunshine, and they will be clean and sweet.

Ten Year Old Boy Responsible.

The drowning of Arthur C. Long, son of Joseph Long, six years old, at Braintree, on July 7, 1899, may result in action being taken by the Grand Jury against J. E. Burgess, 10 years old, of the same town., The Journal says, Louis A. Cook, Special Justice of Norfolk County, held an inquest in the case and after many months has finally returned a decision which was filed at Dedham Saturday.

The Long boy was in bathing with some others in a pond at South Braintree, and the allegation was made that he was taken beyond his depth, against his protest, by the Burgess boy. A struggle followed and the smaller boy was drowned. Justice Cook, after hearing many witnesses, lays the responsibility for the boy's death on young Burgess.

The report says, "I find that said J. E. Burgess was blameworthy, even for one so young, and that his actions on the premises were the cause of the death of the said Arthur C. Long."

This ends the jurisdiction of the District Court in the case. The report was filed, as the law requires, with the District Attorney, who in that county is Robert O. Harris of Bridgewater.

As the people's prosecuting officer Mr. Harris must take what steps he thinks necessary in the case.

First Annual Reunion Co K.

Company K, 5th Regt., was mustered out of the United States service, March 31, 1899, and to observe this event a number of the members gathered about the festive board at the United States hotel, Boston, Saturday evening. Among those present were: Capt. Charles F. Spear, Lieutenants Maurice Colbert and J. R. McGrath, Sargeants Mahon, Barrett, Leslie, Hermanson and Crane, Corporals Foster, Matthews and Pierce and Privates McLaughlin, Carlson, Gillis, Tucker, Brown, Morrissey and Davidson. The menu was a pleasing one, and after the boys had supplied all the wants of the inner man interesting remarks were made by all present. It was decided to make a permanent organization and to hold a reunion every year. With this in view the company organized with Capt. C. F. Spear as president, and Corporal Frank Pierce as secretary.

RAILWAY VS. CANAL.

Plan to Take Ships Over Land Now Proposed.

The Route from Quincy to Taunton Considered.

Could Be Built for Less and Operated for Less.

The canal scheme proposed by Parker C. Chandler of Weymouth has resulted in bringing to light George M. Copeland's railroad invention for carrying ships across the same stretch, between Quincy and Taunton. Mr. Copeland has given the matter his attention for the past half century, though at first he devised his ship railroad for Panama.

Among other things advanced, in favor of the railway, says the Taunton Herald, is that at the time it is roughest around Cape Cod, the weather cold and the passage dangerous, the canal is very liable to be frozen and could be kept open only at a big expense. His railroad would be elevated enough to make the collecting of snow thereon very difficult, and his great engines would soon push it off he says.

Another point raised is that there would have to be a bridge at every street en route, and every one would have to be a draw bridge to allow ships to pass, this necessitating a keeper at each. The proposed ship railroad would be elevated enough to clear all the streets and not interfere with them or the telegraph or telephone wires, which could be underneath.

The cost of a canal cannot be figured, according to the inventor, owing to the uncertainty of the condition of the undersoil. The dirt from hills would have to be carted away and in case of buildings a tide water canal much inconvenience would be experienced with water in time of rain.

Claims are also made that to have a canal 26 feet deep it would be necessary to dredge below Taunton to Berkley, at least, and to dredge from Weymouth to Boston, making a distance in all of 35 miles, instead of the 19 laid down on these plans. The railroad proposed would be about 30 miles long and extend from the deep water below Taunton to the deep water above Weymouth.

It is claimed that the railroad could be built for less and operated for less money than a canal. The cost of building the railroad can be figured down to a nicety, he claims. The most expensive part of the railroad would be at either terminal where it would equal about one-half of the entire construction, as stated.

It would be a 12-rail system, with those of a pair the same distance apart as on steam railroads, and the rails would be of similar construction. Those at the terminals would be sectioned. Each would be large enough to hold the car cradle bearing a vessel, and held in place by hydraulic means while the car and load was upon it.

This could be lowered under water far enough to allow the vessel to be floated in over it and then fastened with hawsers. The rails and cradle would then be raised until the keel of the vessel rested in place, and the touching of the keel would send a signal to the officer in charge. There are four cab-like constructions on the car, one in each corner, and the tops of these would always be above water and allow the men a place to work. Tackles, windlasses and other working tools would be placed on each.

As soon as the vessel was in place the men would haul in the chucks, which would be adjustable to any form of vessel. They would have finger-like ends, and as soon as one struck the side of the boat the others would seek the side with a rolling motion. As soon as all the chucks were in place the cargo would be firm, and the car and vessel could be raised to the level of the other tracks.

Twin engines, to be used in transportation, would then be put in place one on either side. They would be so constructed to fit between the cab houses at the side, and with couplings be made a part of the big cradle. The engines would be on rails to exactly fit those of the main road.

The main truck of the car cradle would be constructed of iron beams running at right angles. Each truck or pair of wheels would be on springs with cushions to make a jar impossible, the chucks to take the pressure at angles of 45 degrees and easily sustain the weight.

At the other end of the route everything would be reversed. The engines would be withdrawn to the sidings, the cradle and car loaded to a depth sufficient to allow the vessel to float, the chucks removed and the vessel hauled clear and made ready for another sea journey. In making this transit a speed of 12 miles an hour could easily be made with safety.

To make the scheme practical for the largest boats that come into Boston harbor the cars would be built to accommodate a vessel of 14,000 tons displacement, which with the weight of the cradle, would be so widely distributed that very little would come on one spot, Mr. Copeland says. The cradle would be 400 feet long and about 100 feet wide. It would have the necessary number of wheels to support the cradle and load. The rails would be of the regulation car style, as stated before, and the wheels of the regulation freight car kind.

The 20,000 tons would be distributed over the cradle in such a way that only seven pounds would bear on each square inch, or about 1,000 pounds to the square foot. The average pressure on an engine boiler is from 60 to 80 pounds to the square inch, so it can easily be seen it would be strong enough, said the inventor. In case two cars met or were on the road at the same time, their whereabouts would be made known by telegraph and the one nearest the turn out would seek that point.

The turnout would be made on the principle of a sliding at the terminals. When a car reached the movable section of track the car track and all would be moved on tracks at right angles to one side and in the same motion unoccupied rails would be brought into position to allow the car with the right of way to proceed. The other car would then slide back onto the main line and also be ready to proceed in the opposite direction.

This contrivance would save the expense of a double 12-rail road Mr. Copeland said.

The car would be built to hold four small vessels at one time. Sidings could be located in every town and by means of raised tracks each vessel could be taken off as they would rest on supplementary cradles with rails underneath. This would allow vessels with consignments to Brockton or other towns to be left at place until unloaded.

It is claimed the expense of complete construction of and putting into operation would be about $10,000,000.

Knights Templar Funeral.

The funeral of William W. Craig was held Saturday afternoon from Christ church, the services being attended by many of his friends as well as by delegations from the Masonic bodies with which he was affiliated.

The remains, encased in a handsome oak casket were borne down the centre aisle of the church by the guard of honor from South Shore Commandery, Knights Templars and placed at the entrance to the chancel.

The service was according to the ritual of the church and was conducted by the rector, Rev. Walter R. Breed.

At the conclusion of the regular church service the burial service of the Knights Templar was performed by Commander D. J. Pierce and Prelate T. J. Evans.

At the conclusion of the services at the church, the remains were escorted to Mt. Wollaston by South Shore Commandery, St. Stephens Chapter and Rural lodge of Masons, the pall bearers being B. P. French and G. M. Pratt representing the commandery, J. S. Swingle and Elihu T. Spear representing the chapter, and Eben W. Sheppard and Frank F. Prescott representing the lodge.

The commitment serivce at the grave being by the Knights Templar.

There were many handsome floral emblems, including set pieces from the several orders of which he was a members.

Boston Dog Show.

With a record breaking entry list for the Boston Dog Show, to be held in Mechanics' Building, April 3, 4, 5 and 6, the patrons of the exhibition are assured of a fine week's sport. All of the approved breeds are represented in the different classes, from the tiny pet dogs to the giant mastiffs, St. Bernards and wolf-hounds. Among the attractions will be an unusually high class display of beagles from the leading kennels in the country. All of the crack bulldogs from the New York bulldog show will be seen on the bench at the Boston show. In order to provide amusement for the children and young folks, the managers of the show have engaged two troups of performing dogs, and exhibitions of the continuous order will be given on each day of the show.

Those 2-Inch Pipes.

The 2-inch water pipe laid by Commissioner Cavanagh in 1899 was put in the following streets:

Off Albatross, Bennington, Carlson, Central avenue, Curtis, Faxon avenue, Federal avenue, Field, Hall place, Highland avenue, Linden, Mears avenue, Merrymount road, Nelson, off Deldorf, off Sterling, off Hill, off Pine, Putnam, Quincy, Rock island, Rogers, Side and Upland. On all this 8,987 feet it was not practical to locate hydrants, and none were put in.

—Some animals can live many years without water. A paroquet lived fifty-two years in the London zoo without taking a drop of water. A number of reptiles live and prosper in places where there is no water.

THE TABLE AT EASTER.

Violets and Lilies For Decorations. Hints on Serving Eggs.

Although violets are fast coming into favor as Easter flowers, nothing is so appropriate for a centerpiece on the Easter table as lilies—in their purity such fitting emblems of the day! While the city housewife, if her purse will allow, can obtain her Easter lilies in all their pristine beauty and freshness from her florist, her country sister must grow hers herself. But it is a question who is the more fortunate—she who can have her Easter centerpiece transferred directly from the florist's to her own table or she who must depend upon her own exertions for her decorative plants.

While everybody eats eggs at Easter, to the housewife who desires to pay due regard to this time honored custom it often becomes a puzzling question—at least in those homes where they appear on the table once a day almost the whole year through—just how to serve eggs on this their own day in an acceptable and tempting manner.

A pleasing innovation for breakfast on Easter Sunday is to allow each member of the family, from paterfamilias down to the wee chap, to have his eggs cooked "to order"—i. e., in the manner which at the moment strikes his fancy or appeals to his appetite. This privilege will be greatly appreciated, especially by the children, whose individual taste and fancy in such matters are not often consulted. While the eggs are in course of preparation a fruit salad or, if obtainable, white grapes in wreaths of green can be served. Although hot cross buns rightfully belong to Good Friday, they are equally appropriate for the Easter breakfast.

For luncheon a tempting egg salad served on a bed of crisp lettuce will please the eye and sharpen the appetite, while either curried or stuffed eggs, served with celery or tomato sauce will be sure to be relished.

For dinner an attractive menu should be arranged, and eggs can be used in an almost endless variety of ways for garnishing.

The New Lines of the Tailor Made.

The model given shows the general lines adopted by the foremost English tailors in designing the coat for walking dresses, riding habits, costumes for cycling, etc. The noticeable feature is a decided increase in length.

ENGLISH RIDING HABIT.

Fronts for walking dresses are either single or double breasted, with buttons visible or a fly front, the latter of which is shown.

Stitching forms the finish here. On some walking gowns the lapels and cuffs are of velvet. This would be a stylish jacket in any of the lightweight spring goods, such as cheviot or venetian. The skirt is usually made with a box plait or perhaps a triple fold.

Overstrain In the Household.

There is an element of overstrain in every department of household effort with its consequent fatigue that induces a feeling that nothing is worth while and it does not much matter. Why? One source of this weary sadness and tired melancholy is the fact that nearly all household appliances are too large and too heavy for the women who use them. This is true of the pots, pans, brooms, coal scuttles, pails and brushes that find their way into everyday homes. Their owners literally groan under the weight of them. How can it be otherwise when every household article is of the size and pattern best suited to the strength and inclination of the average man? The flatiron, the ironing table and the clothesbasket were evidently made for man; also the wash boiler and the stationary tub. Measure these articles and see. In the house and out of it this seems to be a man's world, says a physician in the New York Journal.

A Toilet Wrinkle.

"I keep my hands smooth and white with vinegar," said a bright little housekeeper who performs much of the work in her busy household. "Whenever I have had my hands in soapy water," she continued, "before I have thoroughly dried them I always pour into the palm about a teaspoonful of vinegar, which I rub over both hands, allowing it to dry in. This neutralizes the alkali in the soap and prevents the hands from chapping."

Somehow the brilliancy of the cut glass and bric-a-brac is dimmed after the washing. It's the fault of the soap, most of which contains rosin and alkali. Ivory Soap contains neither; makes foamy suds. Rinse thoroughly with clean water and the glass will sparkle with a new brilliancy.

A WORD OF WARNING.—There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory'"; they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

IF YOU ARE GOING TO BUY A HOME

This season, remember I am offering bargains which can't be matched by any builder or real estate owner in the city. I am going to build a number of first class, stylish, modern Houses, ranging in price from $2,000 to $4,000, and shall offer them at the same low prices which prevailed last season. These houses are to be built on Independence and Federal avenues, and are the best lots in South Quincy. Handy to steam and electrics, good neighbors, and every lot is dry. The first of these at No. 25 Independence avenue is now completed and will be cheerfully shown to all parties, whether intending to purchase or not; 6 rooms and bath, besides finished attic and basement. This is a corner lot. Also another of six rooms and bath, nearly finished, at No. 31 Independence avenue. This lot bounds on two streets. Favorable terms will be made to responsible parties on either of above.

J. W. PRATT, Builder,
March 24-1m 4 Bennington street.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

Cambridge Led the Procession.

London, April 2.—The greatest rowing contest of Europe, that between the Oxford and Cambridge crews, ended Saturday in a most pitiful procession. The only interesting feature was that the record time was equalled. At no time in the race did Oxford appear to make any serious efforts to catch up with their rivals, who led from the start. The losers were beaten before the race began, and the hundreds of thousands that blackened the banks of the Thames realized it.

WHAT CUBANS DESIRE.

Senators Find Them Looking Forward to Independent Government.

Much Will Depend Upon the Municipal Elections.

People Look to United States as Their Friend, and Are Willing to Be Guided.

Washington, April 2.—Senators Platt of Connecticut, Aldrich and Teller, who went to Cuba as a sub-committee of the senate for the purpose of personally investigating conditions on the island, with a view to intelligent action by congress with respect to Cuba, have returned to Washington. Senator Platt, chairman of the sub-committee, last night authorized the following statement concerning the sub-committee's observations:

"We enquired as carefully and completely as we could, with the limited time at our disposal, into the condition of the people of the island, their needs, and the prospect of the establishment of an independent, satisfactory and stable government by and for the people of Cuba. We were in Havana five days. We also visited the province of Pinar del Rio, Matansas and Santa Clara, being unable to go to Santiago and Puerto Principe, as we very much wished."

"We saw and conversed with a great many prominent and leading men from all portions of the island, men who represented different ideas and interests, from intense conservatism to decided radicalism, and returned with a much better understanding of the problem to be solved and the steps to be taken in its solution than we could possibly obtain otherwise than by a personal visit. It may be said of all classes in Cuba that they are looking to the establishment of an independent government, a Cuban republic. A few are impatient and wish for immediate and complete independence. Others are less impatient, believing that sufficient time should be taken to avoid mistakes and to set up the new government upon such a firm basis as to insure its success and permanence.

"All are looking forward to the municipal elections that are to take place in the latter part of May, regarding such elections as the first step toward the establishment of the new government. Much will depend upon the result of these elections. If they take place without disorder and good officials are elected, that will go far to prove the capacity of the people for self-government, and steps can be taken without great delay for further progress in that direction. The problem is complicated by the fact that self-government is an untried experiment by a people who have had little opportunity to study its principles or its details, its necessities, or its responsibilities. Many of the more conservative citizens and business men, unfortunately, show too much disposition to hold aloof.

"We were very much impressed by the evidences of good administration of the affairs of the island under Governor General Wood. He has a very difficult and complicated problem to deal with, conditions growing out of 300 years of Spanish misrule, and the consequent character of the people of Cuba making every step in its solution embarrassing, but we are convinced that he is the right man in the right place, and that his administration, though firm, is as gentle as possible, and calculated to lead the people wisely to the establishment of an independent government, which shall have close relations with our own, and in which the interests both of the people of Cuba and the United States shall be surely observed. It is not too much to say that the people of Cuba, in respect to the formation of a stable and beneficent government, are very much like children who have to be taught and led. They regard the United States as their friend and teacher, and as a whole are quite willing to be guided.

"There are great possibilities in the island. It is fertile, has a great natural resource and is capable of supporting a population four or five times larger than it numbers at present. On the whole there has been marvelous recuperation since the declaration of peace, but it needs American capital and American enterprise which hesitate as yet to go there. English and German capital seems more confident, and is being invested. Surely our own people ought to have as much confidence in the future of Cuba as foreigners have. On the whole we were much pleased and encouraged. The people of the United States and of Cuba should alike exercise patience, being assured that thereby progress will be most certain."

Charged With Killing Her Child.

Providence, April 2.—Mary Denman, 23 years old, is under arrest, charged with the murder of her infant son shortly after birth. The mother says she gave it extract of cinnamon. The body was buried in the cellar. Neighbors suspected something of the sort, and an investigation resulted in the arrest of the woman. Her mother is accused of being her accomplice in the crime.

Stabbing May Result Fatally.

Providence, April 2.—During a row in a lodging house early Sunday morning, William A. Shaw stabbed Robert H. Riley in the abdomen with a jackknife, inflicting a wound that may result fatally. Riley is in a critical condition, while his assailant is locked up awaiting the outcome. The latter admits he did the cutting, but says Riley struck him.

"Takes Off His Hat" to Fitz.

Chicago, April 2.—"They are all afraid of Fitzsimmons, and, to tell the truth, I would rather fight 10 Sharkeys, a dozen Corbetts and all the McCoys you could bring before me than fight Fitzsimmons again." This was the assertion made here by Champion Jeffries upon being asked why Fitzsimmons could not get on any matches that could be made to stick.

WEBSTER DAVIS TO LEAVE OFFICE.

Says Conscience Bids Him to State the Cause of the Boers to Americans.

Kansas City, April 2.—A special to The Journal from Washington says: Webster Davis of Kansas City will tomorrow tender his resignation to the president as assistant secretary of the interior. Mr. Davis decided to take this course as the result of his visit to South Africa. He has decided to deliver a public address, touching the entire scope of the present war, and believes that he can best do so while free from any restraint which his present position would impose upon him.

When taking his departure for home from Pretoria, 2000 people gathered to take leave of him at the station. They appealed to him in tears to state their cause to the American people, and Mr. Davis says his conscience would haunt him if he proved recreant to that pitiful appeal.

He believes that the American people are not truly informed on the situation. He will, therefore, avail himself of an early opportunity to relate his experience and observations at a public meeting that shall be free to all. Mr. Davis has decided on this course after mature deliberation and free consultation with his friends.

"Compensation" For Killing of Missionary

Pekin, April 2.—The Chinese government has "settled" the controversy arising out of the murder on Dec. 3 last of Rev. Mr. Brooks of the Chicago Missionary society on the following terms: "Two of the murderers will be beheaded, one imprisoned for life, one for 10 years, another for two years, a memorial chapel will be erected upon the site of the murder, and a tablet will be placed in Canterbury cathedral, Eng., at the expense of the Chinese government." Rev. Mr. Brooks, at the time of his murder, was stationed at Ping-Yin. He was captured in that vicinity by members of the seditious society, known as "Boxers."

Daring Work of Cracksmen.

St. Louis, April 2.—Three masked men looted the Star brewery at Belleville, Ills., yesterday, after first capturing and confining the watchman and night fireman of the plant in an empty refrigerator car near by. As the robbers were preparing to blow open the big safe, Hubert Hartman, secretary of the brewery, accompanied by his brother, Hanz, entered the room. They were promptly marched to the same car in which the fireman and watchman were confined. The cracksmen then blew upon the safe.

Machinists Return to Work.

Chicago, April 2.—The machinists' strike is over, and all through the United States where the union had ordered strikes, they have been called off. The conditions upon which the agreement between the bosses and men were reached was approved at a general mass meeting of machinists, the vote standing 3028 for its adoption and 360 against. A formal order was at once issued by President O'Connell of the Machinists' union, declaring the strike off, and ordering the men back to work.

Mob Lynched an Innocent Man.

New York, April 2.—A dispatch to The Press from Richmond says: It has become known here that the white man lynched by a mob of negroes near Emporia was Brandt O'Grady, son of Senior Clerk William L. O'Grady in the office of City Clerk Scully of New York. Every evidence has been produced showing him to have been innocent of any crime meriting death. He died purely in retaliation for the hanging of Cotton, a negro, by a lawless band of white men.

Advance In Naval Ordnance.

Boston, April 2.—"The double turret proposition in naval ordnance is not only feasible, but a distinct advance in ordnance construction," said Admiral Sampson on his arrival from Newport News, Va., where, for his observation, a private trial of the superimposed turrets on the battleship Kearsarge had been held. The admiral explained how the entire broadside of eight guns could be brought to bear, whereas such a concentration of fire was previously impossible.

Many Hub Granite Cutters Idle.

Boston, April 2.—Having failed to obtain an agreement binding all employing granite cutters to pay $3 a day for eight hours a strike of that craft was ordered today. The men are prepared for a protracted contest should one be necessary. The men reported at the various yards in Boston and vicinity this morning and in all cases where the demands have been conceded the men continued at work, but all jobs where the demands were refused were branded as unfair jobs.

Two Firemen Killed.

Owosso, Mich., April 2.—Two firemen were killed by falling walls yesterday in a fire which destroyed the central high school of this city. Three other firemen were seriously injured and two boys were quite badly hurt. The fire caught from a burning chimney, which spread through the cold air ducts to all parts of the building. The building was valued at $125,000.

Attributed to Insanity.

Kansas City, April 2. — Harboring imaginary wrongs, John W. McKimm, aged 29, shot and instantly killed Dr. B. F. Shaw, his brother-in-law, as the latter sat reading a Sunday school lesson to his 5-year-old daughter. McKimm, who is probably insane, threatened to kill the other five members of the family and was only restrained after a struggle.

Russia Gains Her Point.

Yokohama, April 2.—It is reported that the government of Korea has granted the Russian demand for ground within the settlement at Masanphou.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

During Sunday a disturbance of slight intensity developed over Lake Michigan, causing cloudy weather and rain in that district. The disturbance will probably move eastward, and the rain area is likely to extend over the New England states by tonight. Fair weather is indicated for Tuesday. The temperature will rise. Along the Atlantic coast the winds will be fresh to brisk from the south.

FAMOUS STEAMER ADRIFT.

The Cleveland, If She Has Not Gone Down, Is Helpless Somewhere on the Pacific.

San Francisco, April 2.—Advices from Honolulu, under date of March 21, state that the steamer Cleveland, bound for San Francisco, with a $10,000 cargo of sugar, from Kahului, is adrift with a broken shaft, and practically helpless in the open sea. When last heard from she was several hundred miles from Maui. Three of her crew left the steamer in a small boat to go to Maui for assistance. They were spoken by the steamer Eric, March 20, 40 miles from Maui. The men in the boat stated that the Cleveland, when they left her, was 320 miles northnorthwest of the island of Maui. The little boat had travelled 280 miles of the journey to Maui, a trip that must have required six days, so that the Cleveland must have moved a good deal since she was last located. She has two yards, and can put up a little sail, but not enough to control her movements. A steamer has gone to search for her.

About two years ago the Cleveland met with a similar accident between San Francisco and Puget Sound. After being abandoned by her crew, she went ashore on Vancouver island. During the Civil war the Cleveland was a blockade runner, and was captured on one of her trips to Charleston. She was built in 1861, and has seen service of all kinds all over the world. Her name has been changed many times. Lately she was used as a transport for the Philippines.

Shoe Workers Reach an Agreement.

Lynn, Mass., April 2.—The fight between the Boot and Shoe Workers' union and the Cutters' assembly, Knights of Labor, over the introduction of the union stamp by the former into the factory of D. A. Donovan & Co., has been practically adjusted by the agreement that when the Boot and Shoe Workers' union get 250 shoe cutters to join their organization in Lynn, the Cutters' assembly, K. of L., will merge into the Boot and Shoe Workers' union. In the meantime, the Boot and Shoe Workers' union will recognize the union card of the K. of L., and the members of the Cutters' assembly, K. of L., will have the same privileges in the factories in Lynn as the members of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union.

Philippine Leaders Executed.

Washington, April 2.—The execution of Morales and Gonzales, the Philippine leaders, it is said at the war department, marks the inauguration of a new policy in the Philippines. This is the execution of the death sentence by order of the military officer in command in the cases of persons convicted and sentenced by military commissions organized under the rules of war. Morales and Gonzales were convicted by a military commission of the murder of Filipinos and were sentenced to be hanged March 30, and the sentence was carried into effect.

Sentence Will Be Reimposed.

Boston, April 2.—District Attorney Jones has been informed that W. S. Jewett of Lawrence, who stands convicted of having misappropriated bank funds, has gone to Washington, but that he will be on hand when wanted. He is under bonds of $20,000. Jewett's exceptions were not sustained by the court of appeals, and the sentence of seven years in jail, which was passed upon him some time ago, will have to be reimposed.

The Color Line In Schools.

Alton, Ills., April 2.—The jury in the case of Scott Bibb vs. the mayor and city council of Alton, known as the colored school case, brought in a verdict for the city. The case involves the question of separate schools for white and colored children. Bibb charged that the colored children were excluded from the public schools. This is the third time the case has been tried in the circuit court. An appeal will be taken to the supreme court.

Lad Thrown Overboard.

Cambridge, Mass., April 2.—Late Sunday night a patrolman found Clarence W. Dooley, 13 years old, struggling in the water of Broad canal and rescued him. The boy, who was nearly dead from the cold and fright, said that he had been enticed to "dizzy" bridge, so-called, by a man, who threw him into the water. The lad was unable to give an intelligent description of the stranger and was in a greatly excited condition.

Haven't Received Final Instructions.

Washington, April 2.—Secretary Root says that the instructions to the Philippine commission will not be made public at present, as it is desired to keep them open for possible change or addition until the last moment. Consequently the final written instructions to the commissioners will not be delivered until the day of their departure from San Francisco for Manila.

She Played With Matches.

Weymouth, Mass., April 2.—Ruth Alexander, aged 4, was burned to death Sunday, as the result of playing with matches. Everything was burned from her body except her shoes. She and her 6-year-old brother were alone in the house at the time, a sister, 12 years old, who had been left in charge of the other children, having left them to visit a neighbor.

Nine Thousand Men Idle.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 2.—All the coal mines in Indiana suspended operations Saturday evening. This action was due to the failure of the operators to sign a wage contract for the scale year, beginning April 1. About 9000 men will be idle until the joint conference. It is expected that when the conferees meet again the controversy will be adjusted.

Explosion on Torpedo Boat.

Cherbourg, April 2.—The boiler of a French torpedo boat exploded during forced draught trials, and five of the crew were terribly burned. One died and another, unable to bear the agony, jumped into the sea, and was drowned.

Shortage May Reach $75.000.

Elmira, N. Y., April 2.—City Chamberlain Lowman says that the shortage of his predecessor, Frank E. Bundy, will undoubtedly reach $75,000, according to the additional shortages he has discovered during the past week.

MATRON AND MAID.

Minnie, the 11-year-old daughter of General Botha of the Transvaal army, is a pupil in a school in Highgate, London.

Miss Elizabeth G. Jordan, the new editor of Harper's Bazar, began her literary career as a reporter attached to the local staff of a New York daily.

Miss Ella Little, an American, has received a doctorate at the University of Heidelberg, "summa cum laude." This is the first time the distinction has fallen to a woman.

Euchre is the White House amusement after dinner when there are no state functions or receptions. Mrs. McKinley is a devotee of the game and considers herself an expert.

Mrs. Annie Theil of New York, who refused to accept payment of rent from her tenants, has been pronounced insane by competent physicians. This form of insanity is exceedingly rare.

The Duchess of Marlborough, according to report, has been staying awhile at Monte Carlo with her mother, occasionally trying her luck at the tables and always wearing a new, fascinating frock.

The money contributed by a grateful nation to Mrs. Mary G. Lawton, widow of Major General Henry W. Lawton, was handed over to her at Washington recently by Adjutant General H. C. Corbin, the amount being $98,407.07.

Miss Alice Bache Gould has given $20,000 to the American National Academy of Sciences. The income of this sum is to be devoted to aiding such researches in the astronomy of precision as shall be judged worthy of it by a committee of competent professors.

Mrs. Blaine has purchased a lot of seven acres adjoining the city cemetery at Augusta, Me., overlooking the Kennebec, which was a favorite place with Mr. Blaine. It is said that she contemplates having her husband's remains removed there from Oak Hill, Washington.

Anna Held, who has a weakness for diminutive canines, has acquired possession, by purchase, of Daisy, the smallest exhibit at the New York dog show. The smaller a blue and tan, the greater its value, and Miss Held's latest pet has involved her separation from much money.

Mrs. Dewey, wife of the admiral, is said to be of ready wit. An editor called her up and protested that the only photograph he had of Mrs. Dewey, for use in an article, was one that had been taken years before. Mrs. Dewey told him to use it nevertheless. "But don't you want justice done you?" inquired the editor. "No, I can only hope for mercy," answered Mrs. Dewey.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Never set eggs that are more than a month old.

Bran and buttermilk make a good ration for laying hens.

Wheat middlings and cornmeal mixed is a good feed for young chickens.

In nearly all cases diseases and vermin will attack the poorly fed and ill kept chickens.

Charcoal is valuable in the poultry yard if broken in small pieces and placed where the fowls can have ready access to it.

If the hen is fed on the nest it tends to give her a bad disposition and to make her often difficult to manage when she comes off with her brood.

One of the secrets of raising young ducks is not to allow them to get wet, at least until they are fairly well feathered. Keep them away from ponds.

Whenever fowls can be allowed to run at large without detriment to the garden they should by all means be given a free range, as they will keep much healthier.

Turkeys have rapid digestion and are always apparently hungry. If allowed a free range, they can generally be kept at a small expense, but they do not thrive in confinement.—St. Louis Republic.

BRITON AND BOER.

The Boers seem to have run out of traps.—Chicago Record.

Kruger is an inveterate smoker, but the pipe of peace doesn't seem to tempt him.—Boston Journal.

The British are pressing on to the Transvaal strongholds. When will they emerge therefrom, and where?—Boston Globe.

If Oom Paul can hold out until the Paris exposition has finally closed its gates, he may get some help.—Topeka Journal.

It does not seem probable that the Boers will be able to prevent the final occupation of Pretoria by the British troops, and yet it is not impossible that Great Britain may have reason to regret its answer to the Boer appeal for terms of peace.—Chicago Record.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

To prevent steel from rusting place a little bag of quicklime away with the bright steel goods.

To remove panes of glass lay soft soap over the putty which fixes them, and in a few hours they may be easily removed.

When brushing a room, sweep toward the fireplace; otherwise the draft from the chimney draws the dust in that direction and scatters it about the room.

Nothing in the way of linen lasts longer than the half bleached damask, and it is great economy to buy it, for it will not grow yellow when laid away as quickly as the fully bleached.

POLITICAL QUIPS.

Good government can be secured only by electing good men to office.—Omaha World-Herald.

A great statesman is a man who can speak two hours without offending any voters.—Dallas News.

If you are not a fool about politics, you are fortunate, since most men are fools about politics.—Atchison Globe.

The Hon. Wharton Barker will have the distinction of being the only candidate in this year's fight with a last year's nomination.—Washington Post.

THE PEDAGOGUE.

In Nebraska there are 141 log schoolhouses, 517 built of sod, one of baled straw and one of steel.

In the Danish high schools the cost of educating students, including everything except clothing, is $65 a year.

The women's department at Cornell university will be rendered more democratic next year. An effort will be made to get two women in each dormitory room by increasing the price of a room occupied only by one.

3 O'CLOCK.

BOTH SIDES DEFENDED.

Senate Has a Field Day on the Puerto Rican Tariff Question.

Depew Introduces New Republican Doctrine.

Americans Paid Duties Appropriated For Relief of the Suffering Islanders.

Washington, April 3.—Yesterday was a field day in the senate on Puerto Rico, several senators speaking on both sides of the question. The senate convened at 11 o'clock in order that the debate might be extended. The public galleries were crowded.

Those who listened to the debate were well repaid. The speeches were good and the running debate was unusually bright and lively. During the speech of Mr. Spooner the chamber seemed to scintillate with sparks, as he crossed argumentative swords with some of the best debaters on the Democratic side. His address, if so it could be called, was devoted almost wholly to a discussion of the constitutional questions involved in the pending bill.

Mr. Bate opened the discussion of the day with a carefully prepared speech in opposition to the bill. He was followed by Mr. Cullom in a vigorous speech supporting the measure. Then came Mr. Depew, a member of the committee which framed the bill, who made a defense of the measure. Mr. Spooner, who spoke next, was followed by Mr. Perkins, also a member of the committee on Puerto Rico, who presented a strong argument for the bill. The closing speech was delivered by Mr. Simon, who, in criticising the measure, discussed the political effects of its passage.

Senator Depew declared that the constitution does not extend by its own power over these new possessions; to this the majority agree, and also that congress can legislate as it deems wise, subject only to prohibitions of the constitution. He gave a graphic sketch of the history of the island, referred to its remarkable fertility and pictured a bright future for its million of people. The pending bill, he said, is only a tentative measure, and wholly for the benefit of Puerto Rico. The bill gives free trade on all the necessaries of life, and all implements necessary in the industries. It restricts as far as can be done the power of trusts or combinations. It gives to the Puerto Ricans the fullest opportunity for cheap food. All the islands recently acquired, he said, are to be held and governed as a duty as well as for their and our progress and growth. He does not apprehend that we will incorporate the alien races and half-civilized people of the islands into our body politic as states of the Union.

Senator Depew touched a spot which is so very sensitive that the Republican party usually winces at any contact with it. No Republican orator has dared touch it before. Mr. Depew said that when the bill was introduced appropriating for the benefit of Puerto Rico the money which had been paid in customs duties on Puerto Rican goods imported into the United States, somebody had said that we were merely giving back the taxes collected. This he declared false, for these taxes had been paid by the sugar trust and the tobacco trust, whereas the money was given to the Puerto Ricans, who had not paid the taxes.

Here is new Republican doctrine, for practically the whole fight made in 1890 in defense of the McKinley tariff was made on the theory that the foreigner and not the American paid the duties. Mr. Depew's speech ended with the declaration that he hailed with faith and hope and joy the new order of things which will be ushered in with the 20th century.

The final vote on the bill will be taken late this afternoon. It is arranged for 4 o'clock, but an effort will be made to extend the time for debate beyond that hour.

Members of the senate committee on Puerto Rico yesterday made a poll of the senate on the Puerto Rican bill. They estimate a majority of seven for the bill, believing that it will receive 47 votes.

A possible reduction of the war taxes was foreshadowed in a resolution adopted by the house yesterday calling upon the secretary of the treasury for information as to the probable surplus existing revenue laws would create during this and the coming fiscal year. The resolution was presented by Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority.

Among the district bills passed was one to increase the tax on foreign insurance companies doing business in the district from 1 to 1½ percent.

Under suspension of the rules bills were passed to open to settlement 418,000 acres in the Fort Hall Indian reservation and 2,500,000 acres in Oklahoma by ratifying the agreements with the Bannock and Shoshone Indians and the Kiowa, Commanches and Apaches; to divide the northern judicial district of New York into two districts and to appropriate $100,000 for a military post at Sheridan, Wyo.

Anti-Boxing Bill Signed.

Albany, April 3.—Governor Roosevelt has signed the bill repealing the Horton boxing law, under which ring contests were permitted in this state. The repeal goes into effect on Sept. 1.

ITALIANS JOIN IN PROTEST

Against the Alleged Injustice Practiced by the Metropolitan Water Commission.

Clinton, Mass., April 3.—About 125 Italians, many of them citizens and voters in Clinton, made a demonstration Monday afternoon against the methods of the metropolitan water commission. They paraded through the main streets, many errying United States flags, and several with banners upon which were inscriptions against the water board. These inscriptions stated that the laborers demand $1.50 for a day's work of nine hours; that they be allowed to live where they pleased, and not be compelled to live in shanties erected by the commission, and that they be allowed to purchase their supplies where they pleased, and not have to buy everything of the commissary controlled by the commission. They also displayed a schedule showing the difference in prices, amounting to from 2 to 3 cents to double the price of the articles, between the commissary department and the Clinton stores. The leader of the parade stated that the men had been refused work by four agents of the water commission, because they refused to live in the shanties provided by the contractors, who are alleged to reap handsome profits from the rental of these buildings. Many of these Italians live in shanties erected by themselves in the outskirts of the town.

Bay State Legislature.

Boston, April 3.—The two Socialist members of the legislature won their first victory yesterday in obtaining a favorable consideration by the house of the bill making railroad companies bear the entire expense in the abolition of grade crossings. The committee on railroads reported against the bill, which was introduced by Mr. Carey of Haverhill, but after a prolonged debate the house voted, 88 to 67, to substitute the bill for the adverse report of the committee. Under the present law the railroads bear 65 percent of the cost, the state 25 percent and the city or town 10 percent.

After three weeks of deliberation, the committee on manufactures, which has been investigating the price of gas in Boston, decided to examine the books of the New England Gas and Coke company. With the opening up of the books of the Gas and Coke company it is believed that the hearings will again become interesting.

Republican Mayor and Council.

Hartford, April 3.—The city election here resulted in Alexander Harbison (Rep.) being elected mayor by a majority of 3200. The only other contest on the city ticket was Ransom N. Fitzgerald against Frederick A. West for collector, Fitzgerald (Dem.) being elected by 2500 majority. The common council will stand 48 Republicans to 12 Democrats.

At the Stamford election, Homer S. Cummings (Dem.) was elected mayor by 104 plurality over E. J. Tupper (Rep.), the present incumbent. The next common council will consist of five Republicans and four Democrats.

Grand Jury Convenes at Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ky., April 3.—The April term of the Franklin circuit court and the grand jury, working under it, which will investigate the assassination of Governor Goebel, began work yesterday. While nothing was said by Judge Cantrill in his charge concerning the Goebel case, it is understood that Commonwealth Attorney Franklin will recommend the bringing in of an indictment against Governor Taylor and all of the other Republican state officers, on the charge of usurpation of the offices they are claiming to hold.

Motion For Injunction Denied.

Burlington, Vt., April 3.—A case, which the temperance people of this state expected to become famous, was brought to a quick ending Monday by the refusal of the chancellor to allow an injunction to issue. The case grew out of the report that ale was served at a recent banquet at the Van Ness House, this city, of which Former Governor Woodbury is proprietor. The case was to have been tried under the law which permits the prosecution of a real estate owner if a tenant violates the prohibitory law.

Shoe Workers Dissatisfied.

Haverhill, Mass., April 3.—Strikes occurred in five shoe factories in this city yesterday. About 150 men are directly concerned, and several times that number indirectly. It is thought that the firms will act together and a compromise list has been offered to the union, but refused by them. Chase & Co. are manufacturers, but the other firms are contractors, doing work for a number of firms about the city.

Carpenters and Painters on Strike.

St. Louis, April 3.—Two thousand carpenters and 1500 painters in St. Louis and East St. Louis struck yesterday for higher wages. The painters asked for an advance to 37½ cents an hour, while the carpenters want 45 cents. Both demands were refused by the Master Builders' association.

Detective and Lawyer Arrested.

Tacoma, Wash., April 3.—J. B. Thompson, chief city detective, and A. J. Hoshor, his nephew, were arrested by Sheriff Van Devanter and two deputies of Seattle on a carge of embezzling $20,000 from H. G. Torrence, a Klondiker. Hoshor was Torrence's private secretary for two years.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

The disturbance which occupied Lake Michigan has moved eastward over Lake Ontario. The disturbance will cause light rains in New England and fair weather will prevail in all other districts east of the Mississippi. Along the New England coast fresh southwesterly winds will become variable.

BOERS' CAUSE IS JUST.

Reason Given by Webster Davis For His Efforts In Their Behalf.

Says They Deserve Sympathy of the American People.

Severs Connection With Government That He May Freely Express Views.

Washington, April 3.—Webster Davis, assistant secretary of the interior, has resigned his office because of the acceptance of an invitation to deliver a lecture on the South African war, and he felt that as an official he could not express his views with such freedom as he could as a private citizen. The invitation was extended by non-partisan citizens of Washington and was not inspired in any way by persons directly connected with Boer interests.

Mr. Davis' formal resignation was sent to the White House through his private secretary. At the White House no statement was obtainable concerning the resignation other than the fact that it had been received, and the officials declined to say whether it would be accepted.

Mr. Davis says: "It is purely a matter of sympathy on my part. I went to South Africa unprejudiced, visited both armies, saw much of the British soldiers and people, and also much of the Boers. After seeing what I did, I made up my mind that the cause of the Boers was just; that the two smallest republics in the world were struggling against the greatest empire in the world for home, justice and independence. The struggle seemed to me very unequal. The whole number of Boers, including men, women and children, is not greater than the population of the city of Washington, and yet these brave people have the courage to put up the greatest fight in history against an empire of 400,000,000. I concluded at once that my sympathies were with those struggling for liberty, and I feel that the American people should sympathize with them in their fight for justice and independence.

"When I entered the train at Pretoria, on my return home, fully 2000 men and women, mostly women whose husbands and fathers and sons were at the front, gathered at the station to bid me goodbye, and as the tears rolled down many of their faces they made the last request of me that I do everything within my power upon my return home to let the American people know of their exact condition; to let them know how they had been abused and outrageously misrepresented by the English. The English correspondents have no trouble in getting their dispatches over the cable lines, as they are controlled absolutely by the British, while it is impossible for information regarding the situation from the Boers' standpoint to reach the American people.

"If I did not, a free born American, decide to listen to their appeals, my conscience would burn and the faces of those suffering people, as brave and as noble as God ever let live in any land, would haunt me as long as I live. I am therefore determined to do everything in my humble way to assist them. Their cause is just, and in God is their trust, and in the light of the past history of the American people, who went through the same struggle, I believe the Boers will win."

Mr. Davis was asked what course he would have the people of this country pursue in order to assist the Boers. He replied:

"Do anything and everything within their power and let Great Britain and the world know that the sympathies of the American people are not with Great Britain, but with the Boers and in the interests of humanity and civilization. We should let the world know that such an unholy war should stop and stop at once."

Mr. Davis, since his return to this country, has had numerous invitations to deliver lectures, but has so far decided to accept only that extended by the citizens of Washington. This lecture probably will be delivered next Sunday night. Mr. Davis denied that he brought with him a communication to this government from President Kruger. He admitted, however, that he had had several conferences with President McKinley, but declined to make public what had passed between them.

Unnecessary Expenditure by Cambridge.

Cambridge, Mass., April 2.—The overseers of the poor were given something of a surprise yesterday when Aldermen Doyle, at a hearing on poor children, stated that the city was spending $2500 a year unnecessarily for supporting poor children. He pointed out that the state is compelled to care for poor children, and that all the cities in the state had taken advantage of that fact, except Cambridge.

Season Generally Backward.

Washington, April 3.—The weather bureau in its monthly review of weather crop conditions says that east of the Mississippi river, except in the southern states, the season has been generally backward and unfavorable for farm work, with excessive rains in portions of the gulf states, and heavy snows in portions of the lake region and New England.

Good Afternoon.

It should not be lost sight of that the sugar and tobacco trusts would be the largest beneficiaries of free trade with Porto Rico.

The new Carnegie steel combine will doubtless result in encouraging the forwarding of applications from town in need of public libraries.

The Democrats favor free trade with Porto Rico, not because of their love of the Porto Ricans, but because they regard it as an entering wedge to free trade with all the world and its consequent reduction of the pay of American wage-earners.

The lack of acoustic properties of Council Chamber of City Hall are a serious detriment to the intelligent transaction of the city's business. Order after order comes before the Council and is voted upon by the members without their having the remotest idea of what the presiding officer has read. Something should be done to remedy this evil. If the members cannot understand what is before them, and many of them do not hesitate to claim that often an entire meeting is a blank to them so far as hearing goes, then their voting on various orders is nothing more than a burlesque. To one in the audience it is impossible to hear a word. All that is apparent to the visitor is the movement of the speaker's lips. Undoubtedly this state of affairs could be largely remedied by the erection of a sounding board at the back of the President's chair and extending in a curve a few feet over his head. This remedy is quite often used where the acoustic properties of a hall are poor.

G. A. R. Veteran Dead.

Mr. Silas H. Cobb, father of Walter H. Cobb, the well known Herald correspondent, died this morning at his residence on Washington street, aged 69 years. Mr. Cobb was born in Hingham, where he resided many years. A few years ago he removed to Quincy, which has since been his home. Mr. Cobb was a cabinet maker by trade. He gave up this business, however, to accept a position as foreman for Mr. McClellan & Co., well known water plant builder. Of late years his health has not been of the best, and he has followed no business.

Public Baths.

The joint Legislative Committee on Cities gave a hearing at the State House on Monday forenoon upon the bill of the Park Commissioners for permission to erect public bath houses on the play-grounds. Mayor Hall and Park Commissioner Whiting appeared for the city and made earnest addresses in favor of the proposed bill. There was no opposition. The committee took the matter under advisement.

Died in Florida.

Mr. Joseph Thomas, a former resi- of Wollaston, died at Stark, Florida, on Thursday after a lingering sickness of several months, duration. Mr. Thomas was born in Nova Scotia in 1823. In 1877 he left Wollaston and took up his permanent resident in Florida. He leaves three sons and one daughter,—Geo. E., John P., Enoch S. and Mrs ThomasArmstrong.

CITY COUNCIL.

Mayor's Estimates for the Year Received.

Movement to Secure a Larger Depot.

Hearing on the Widening of Copeland Street.

Many important matters came up for action at Monday night's meeting of the City Council which were disposed of with very little debate. Councilman Hill was the only absentee.

JURORS DRAWN.

Assisted by Councilman Badger, the Mayor and City Clerk drew Herbert F. Doble, Charles F. McClure and Samuel Oxford as jurors.

TO MOVE DR. JONES.

The Mayor sent a communication stating that in the widening of Hancock street no appropriation was made for moving the Graham house from the street line, and he recommended an appropriation. Laid on the table until later when an order for $200 was passed.

APPOINTMENT.

The Mayor announced the appointment of George B. Wendall as weigher of coal. Confirmed.

CIVIL SERVICE IN DEPARTMENT.

The Mayor gave notice that he had approved the Fire Department civil service order, but as he desired reorganization before putting it in effect he recommended reference to a committee. Referred to Committee on Fire Department.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS.

The Mayor in a communication asked the Council to make appropriations running for a series of years, for the following items:

Culvert and drain under Hancock street, Atlantic,	$1,500
Edgestones and gravel sidewalks, abutters to pay one half,	$2,500
Street Crossings and paved gutters,	$1,500
Alterations and additions to Adams school; change of manure pit at Central fire station; piping hose tower, the changes necessary for sanitary condition of the Central and Atlantic fire station,	$2,000
Rebuilding and permanent improvement of Squantum causeway,	$1,500
New Hose,	$1,000

Reported to Committee on Finance.

HAWKERS AND PEDDLERS.

The Mayor sent a petition asking for changes in the ordinance concerning hawkers and peddlers. To Committee on Licenses.

MAYOR'S BUDGET.

TO LET.

The store which has been occupied by Mr. Brasee in Music Hall Block, and which has been called the Boston Bargain Department Store. This will be ready for occupancy in less than a month and will be let as a whole or cut up into two or three stores to suit tenants.

Hall on Hancock street, 24 by 54 feet with two ante-rooms 9 by 9 feet and 10 by 9 feet. This is used as a banquet room in connection with Music hall and would have to be let subject to such use, which, however, is very occasional.

Blacksmith shop back of Music Hall, (not the one occupied by Joseph F. Hogan) 24 by 25 feet, with forge and bench. Also a paint shop over the blacksmith shop 20 by 20 feet with a platform outside for carriages. These will be let separately or together.

Two second story rooms back of Music hall, 14 by 16 feet and 20 by 20 feet.

Any of the above will be let at very reasonable figures.

THE SECRET IS OUT.

Favorable Action by City Council Closes Deal.

Eastern Dock and Construction Co. Coming.

May Be Largest Concern of Its Kind in the World.

It is now known that the large real estate deal that had been pending at Quincy Point has been consummated, and it may be announced on good authority that the Eastern Dock and Construction Company has purchased through the agency of Frank F. Crane, about fifty acres of land at Quincy Neck with something over a mile of water front, including a long stretch on the channel of ample depth to launch the largest steamship afloat.

As soon as the Company has received satisfactory assurance that the draw in the Quincy Point bridge will be widened to at least 80 feet, and that certain facilities in the way of freight transportation will be granted by the City Council, it will immediately begin the construction of wharves and workshops of a capacity sufficient to accommodate a thousand skilled workmen, but until these matters are decided the land will be used for wharves and storage purposes.

Such an opportunity comes to but few municipalities as the establishment of such an industry as this, and it is to be hoped that the city authorities will grant the exceedingly moderate requests of the manager of the enterprise, and do all in their power to encourage the fullest and most immediate development of the new industry.

At the meeting of the City Council Monday evening the following resolution was offered by Councilman Packard, and unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, the Eastern Dock and Construction Company, which is to be the largest manufacturing company in its line in New England is considering the question of locating its plant at some place in Massachusetts, and is favorably impressed with a location in the City of Quincy, and will undoubtedly locate here if it is granted reasonable concessions by this city; and

"Whereas it is of great benefit and advantage to the City of Quincy to have a large manufacturing plant located within its bounds, furnishing employment to many high grade machinists, mechanics and laborers, who with their families, will settle here and create a demand for new houses, for the officials and operatives of the company, which will be of benefit to other lines of business and greatly increase the revenue of the city and give new life, impetus and reputation to it; Therefore, it is

"Resolved, that the City Council request the Mayor to extend to the Eastern Dock and Construction Company an earnest invitation to locate its plant in this city, and we hereby pledge the official and individual support of the government to render every assistance to said company that it can legally do, as an inducement to the company to locate in our midst"

For several weeks Mr. Frank F. Crane has been quietly at work securing options at Quincy Point and Quincy Neck, and there has been much wonderment as to just what was up. Real estate at Quincy Neck has been so quiet for years that many did not place any stock in the rumors.

The newspapers were early aware of the movement, and were kept well posted on its progress, but to help it along, by request kept quiet. Had it been widely advertised at the start that the company was to buy up all of Quincy Neck and a part of Quincy Point, the owners of real estate would have placed fancy prices on their estates and killed the goose which may lay the golden eggs.

Options have been secured on about fifty acres of land with the buildings thereon, including the fine estate of Walter S. Redding, the Bryant Adams farm, part of the Bosworth estate, the J. S. Sargent estate, the W. P. Pinel estate, the Marcus Wight estate and several small lots. Nine houses are included in this sale.

W. G. A. Pattee, Esq., is looking after the legal interest of the company. Mr. Albert A. Hayden has already been employed as watchman.

THEIR EYES CLOSED.

H. H. Faxon Criticises the Police and Asks for Evidence.

To the Editor of the Ledger:

Numerous complaints have recently been made to me that school boys are smoking cigarettes freely, and that they are frequenting resorts where gambling, drinking intoxicating liquors and other vices are practiced.

We have a police force which is maintained at a cost of more than five times the sum that was paid the department during the last year Quincy was a town, and yet deviltry and crime abound in the community.

There are policemen in this city who must have one or both eyes closed when they are in the vicinity of certain places to which I have called their attention; nothing else can explain their inaction.

Moreover, when a transgressor is brought before the court, a combination of lawyers and police officers concoct a circuitous story, as a result of which the law breakers case is placed on file, or the offender is released on probation and is free to again curse this or some other community.

If the citizens who are interested in sustaining the good reputation of our city will advise me of any evidence which they may obtain in regard to the existence of dens of vice in our midst, such information will be treated as strictly confidential, if so requested. Henry H. Faxon.

Quincy, April 3, 1900.

Nineteenth Century.

The Atlantic Monday Evening club enjoyed a most interesting address on "Nineteenth Century Work," by Rev. Mr. Litchfield of Neponset at its meeting this week.

Rev. Mr. Litchfield reviewed the primitive conditions of labor and work and advanced to more complete conditions incident to the use of water power in manufacturing, and the collecting and union in towns of the different primitive classes. He touched on the Feudal System and then spoke of the change so completely made by the discovery of the power of steam which really was the controlling power of the nineteenth century. He philosophized on the relation of the laborer to the capitalist, and was convinced that co-opération solved the great question which was a true exemplification of the Golden Rule.

A fine musical program followed.

Success for Q. H. S. Boy.

Mr. Jacob Warshaw, a recent graduate of the Quincy High school, is teaching at present, in the University of North Carolina. This announcement will doubtless astonish the friends of Mr. Warshaw, who believe him to be out at Harvard. The facts of the matter are these, and they are rather peculiar. On Saturday, March 24, as Mr. Warshaw was entering one of his recitations, he was informed by the corresponding secretary of the college that an instructor in French and German was needed immediately in the University of North Carolina. Mr. Warshaw, on being asked whether he would like to apply for the position, said that he should. He came home, took leave of his folks, went back to Cambridge, and started Sunday for the south. He obtained the position, and is now fulfilling the duties of it. Although this has broken up some of the senior-year's work of Mr. Warshaw, it will not impair his chances for the degree.

TODAY'S COURT.

Patrick Sullivan was fined $5 for drunkenness at Quincy, and was sentenced to three months in the house of correction for the larceny of $23 from Baxter Thompson at Quincy.

The continued case of Thomas Murray for drunkenness was called and he was fined $7.

John Meergord was arraigned for the larceny of two hundred pounds of rope from some person unknown at Quincy. Case continued until Saturday.

CITY COUNCIL.

The same committee reported an amendment to the Wollaston hose house order, changing the amount to $15,000. Adopted and order referred to Committee on Ordinances.

SIDEWALKS.

The same committee reported favorably an order for sidewalk on Beach street. Laid on the table until latter, when rules were suspended and the order passed.

The same committee reported favorable on the Washington street sidewalk order, which was passed under suspension of the rules.

The same committee reported favorable on the Billings road sidewalk order which was passed under suspension of the rules.

Councilman McLennan voted in the negative on the three sidewalk orders.

The same committee reported a slight amendment to the order for paved gutters on Prospect street. Accepted and order passed under suspension of the rules.

STREET REPORTS.

The Committee on Streets reported as follows:

Leave to withdraw on petition for a light on Gilbert street. Accepted.

Ought not to pass on order for light on Clark avenue. Accepted.

Ought not to pass on order for change of light on Appleton street. Accepted.

Leave to withdraw on petition for permanent sidewalk on easterly end of Beach street. Accepted.

Orders for a public hearing April 16, on petition to widen Prospect street, to lay out Walker street, and to widen Granite street from Quarry & Copeland street. Adopted.

An order granting the New England Telephone Co. locations for poles on Water street. Ordered to second reading.

Favorable on the order for $400 to grade Glover avenue. Order took its second reading and was referred to Committee on Finance.

Favorable on the order for $500 for Webster street. Order took its second reading and was referred to Committee on Finance.

PUBLIC HEARING.

A public hearing was held on the petition to widen Copeland street between Crescent street and the depot.

Ex-Councilman Thomas J. Lamb said this was the principal business street; it was very narrow; less than 30 feet in some places; it could never be widened cheaper than at present; there could be no question to anyone who travelled over the street that it should be widened.

Councilman Poland—Would you be willing to take the assessed value for your property.

Mr. Lamb—I should want to consider it.

Ex-City Treasurer James F. Burke said: The widening of this street has been agitated for fifteen years; it was merely a matter of cost; it was penny wise and pound foolish the way we have been doing; This street today is in a dangerous condition; it was through no fault of the Commissioner the street was not fixed last year, but because the Council did not appropriate any money. It has got to be rebuilt this year, and it would be economy to widen it at the same time. He did not think the question asked Mr. Lamb a fair one.

Councilman Poland—How do you expect the Council to find out how the abutters value the land?

Mr. Burke—I believe in treating all citizens alike. Some may place a high price on their land.

Mr. Smith had suffered for eleven years by the narrow street, and if for no one else it should be widened for him. As it was now, people could not drive to his block on account of the railroad track.

James F. Desmond was opposed, for the reason that for the amount of business the street was wide enough. In reply to questions, he said he had lived there all his life. It would take the best part of his land. The street was widen enough for all the teams that used it.

Charles Hayes was opposed. It was not necessary; most people who know the place would use Crescent street; the street was wide enough; if widened it would spoil the lot on the corner of Cross and Copeland street.

In reply to questions he said he did not own property there but represented his mother.

HENRY H. FAXON.

Henry H. Faxon did not believe in widening the street. They do not state the cost on the price to be paid for land. He did not believe in paying $25,000 or $30,000 to widen this street. He did not believe the abutters wanted to pay for it. It was no more travelled now than fifteeen years ago. If it would only cost $2,000 it would be all right. He hoped the Council would not run the city into any more debt. He hoped our children would not have to pay all our bills, and he was thankful he did not have many children. If you want to stop all business enterprise keep on and pile up the debt. It was cheaper to resurface the street than to pay interest. West Quincyites want the earth.

Councilman Badger—Do you realize your statement that no more business is done now than fifteen years ago? It was economy to pave the street and it would be good business to pave a mile a year. We ask for a good street and we should have it.

H. Walter Gray, representing the trustees of the Woodward fund, said if widened there would be damages to their property. Some of Farnum property would have to be moved back which will almost mean the removing of the house on the back street.

Hearing closed and order recommitted.

The Committee on Streets reported an order assessing one half the cost of the permanent sidewalks built in 1898 and 1899 upon the abutters. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

The Committee on Streets reported a substitute order for light on various street. Referred to Finance Committee.

Councilman Freeman offered an order for $6,300 to cover several improvement orders. Read and referred.

SEWER EXTENSIONS.

Councilman Poland offered a substitute order for the $200,000 for sewer extension, providing that the Mayor seek Legislative authority to use income from sewer assessments and also the receipt. Adopted 20 to 1, Councilman Nichols voting nay.

GAS INVESTIGATION.

Councilman DeNormandie offered an order for a committee of three to act with the Mayor in investigating the charges in Quincy for gas. The President appointed Councilmen DeNormandie, Alden and Faxon.

NEW ENTERPRISE.

Councilman Packard offered a resolution pledging assistance to the Eastern Dock & Construction Co. to locate its plant here, which was adopted.

LARGER DEPOT WANTED.

Councilman Packard offered an order for a committee of six, three from the Council and three outside, to labor for a more suitable station at Quincy than the one proposed by the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.

COUNCILMAN PACKARD.

The order was amended to include the President of the Council.

Councilman Poland asked for more light.

Councilman Packard considered the depot proposed for Quincy centre altogether too small. The company did not seem to comprehend the needs of such an important station as Quincy.

Councilman Poland thought the railroad was wise enough to provide for the future and that the one proposed would be adequate. Understood it was to be 25x80. The one for Atlantic seemed large, but Atlantic was a junction.

Councilman Packard said Quincy was also a junction as the car lines from Quincy Point, the Weymouths, Braintee, Houghs Neck and elsewhere centre here. Councilman Badger favored order. A city of the size of Quincy should have a large station.

Councilman Freeman opposed. Thought proposed one large enough.

Councilman Alden opposed. It seemed to him like a question of jealousy because Atlantic was to have one the same size.

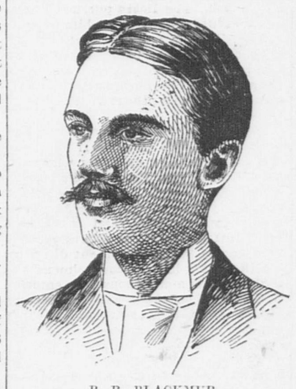

Councilman Packard said it was not jealousy. Were perfectly willing that Alantic should have the one proposed, but wanted an adequate one for Quincy.

President Bryant called Councilman Freeman to the chair and spoke at length in favor. The one proposed for Atlantic as all right. The Railroad Commissioners had practically told the company that it must do something or they would order them to. Upon this the hearing was continued, but had not yet been disposed off. He did not think the station proposed for Quincy was large enough. Many had told him it was not. We should ask for something better. It would not cost much more for a larger station.

Councilman Badger said that was talking business. It was not Quincy which should be thankful for improvements, but the railroad which should be thankful to the people of Quincy for their patronage. The city is growing. Understood the proposed depot was only one-third the size of the one at Braintree.

Councilman Poland would offer no further objection.

The order was adopted unanimously, and the committee which includes President Bryant, Councilmen Freeman,

P. R. BLACKMUR.

Poland, and Packard, ex-City Solicitor R. R. Blackmur, Judge E. C. Bumpus and Representative E. W. Sheppard.

MORE LIGHT.

Councilman Poland offered an order for lights on Glover avenue; Councilman Badger, for light on Cresent street; Councilman Newcomb, for lights on South Walnut street and River street; Councilman Gassett for lights on Squantum street; Councilman Packard for light at corner of Canal and Packard street. Referred.

MAYOR AUTHORIZED

Councilman Packard offered an order authorizing the Mayor to execute deeds approved by the supervisors of the Adams School Fund. Adopted.

HOUGHS NECK LOCATION.

The order in the calendar granting the Quincy & Boston street railway a location on Coddington and Sea streets was adopted.

Adjourned at 10.55.

Garbage Bids.

The Board of Health opened bids Monday night for collecting garbage throughout Quincy, exclusive of Houghs Neck, for a term of three years. Seven bids were received to do the work for three years as follows:

H. Gilmartin,	$10,500
F. T. O'Brien,	9,750
Peter McConarty,	8,709
Alex Larson,	8,100
P. Barry,	7,200
Charles Prescott,	6,300
John S. Gearin,	6,000

The board took the bids under advisement, but will probably award the contract to the lowest bidder, which is at the rate of $2,000 per year.

Disbursements of About $1,250 000.

Northampton, Mass., April 3.—Receivers Cook and Irwin, for the Hampshire Savings bank, have begun payment of the third and final dividend, this last disbursement being about $250,000. About $600,000 was paid Jan. 1, 1899, and $400,000 was paid July 1, 1899. The receivers were appointed in May, 1898, about a month after the bank was wrecked by Lewis Warner, its treasurer, who was also president of the Hampshire County National bank.

Not Afraid of Socialists.

Rome, April 3.—There is no foundation whatever for the report, circulated in the United States, that King Humbert has left the Quirinal and gone to Civita Vecchia, upon the advice of Queen Margherita, in order to avoid a possible socialist attack.

Burghers Likely to Profit by Ambuscade of England's Crack Troops.

Latter's Scouting Is Almost Criminally Ineffective.

Many "Blueb'oods" Connected With the Convoy Are In the Hands of the Enemy.

London, April 3.—The effect of the Boer's bold stroke of Saturday, by which Colonel Broadwood's outpost at Thabanchu was driven in to within 20 miles of Lord Roberts' Bloemfontein headquarters and there ambuscaded with a resultant loss of seven pieces of artillery and 350 men, of whom 200 are prisoners, will probably be greater in its indirect and moral side than in the direct and physical advantage gained. The more important aspect of the affair in a large military sense is the very fact that the Boers have recovered their morale and are able to operate in considerable force and with surprising dash and skill almost under Lord Roberts' nose and in the presence of tremendously superior force.

The disaster is regarded as a direct result of the inability of General French to cut off the commando of General Olivier and the other commandoes when escaping from the Orange river.

Lord Roberts' own dispatch, dated two hours later than The Chronicle's, says nothing about the guns being recaptured. The story, therefore, looks doubtful.

Viewing Saturday's actions as a single action, the reports at hand leave much to be explained. Broadwood, at Thabanchu, 38 miles east of Bloemfontein, found himself so menaced on Friday that he made a night march of 17 miles back to the Bloemfontein waterworks, where he camped. The Boers pursued, and at dawn Saturday opened on him with artillery. At this point he sent off his guns and baggage under cover of his cavalry, a most surprising move, since the province of his horse batteries would seem to be to cover the retreat.

The guns and their escort were ambushed at a ford across a tributary of the upper Modder by Boers who must have slipped past Broadwood's column under cover of night. Again the British scouting seems to have been almost criminally superficial and ineffective. Lord Roberts says the scouts actually rode across the drift without discovering the Boers in their concealment, and that the guns and wagons were entering the drift when the Boers opened fire. This detachment was practically wiped out, but the others escaped by another ford.

Little news has arrived from other points. Kenhardt was formally re-occupied Saturday. The report that the Boers are massing in the vicinity of Taungs and Klipdam is confirmed.

Lord Methuen's difficulties are apparently increasing. He has Boer laagers or guerilla bands on three sides of him, and he will be obliged to watch carefully his communications with the Orange river.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Daily Chronicle, telegraphing Sunday, and describing the loss of the convoy, says:

The Boers opened with a murderous fire. It was simply slaughter. The Kaffir drivers of the convoy ran away, leaving their teams, and it was impossible for our men to hit the hidden enemy. Our gunners fought bravely, trying to save the guns; but our people were greatly hampered by the Kaffirs, who ran hither and thither, looking for cover from the fearful fire that poured in on all sides. Meanwhile the enemy were hotly pressing Colonel Broadwood, whose mounted troops were completely surrounded. The British showed magnificent bravery. The officers were quite cool and composedly directed operations. The opportune arrival of reinforcements saved Colonel Broadwood from annihilation.

The water supply was cut and the pumping gear destroyed, as well as the field telegraph. One hundred wagons were lost through the cowardice of the Kaffir drivers. It is reported that two guns have been recaptured. The whole force is retiring on Bloemfontein.

Broadwood's troops, which were engaged in the disastrous retreat, were not a large body, but included some of the crack corps of the British army. The Household cavalry is mentioned, though whether the whole of the composite regiment which was sent out to Africa was engaged is in doubt. This regiment is officered by some of the bluest blood of the British empire, and until detailed casualty lists are available there will be the most intense suspense in some of the noblest households of Great Britain. In the Household cavalry, the Duke of Teck is serving as a captain. Among the lieutenants is the young Duke of Roxbury, eighth of his line and owner of 60,000 acres; the Earl of Wicklow; D. C. Majorbanks, only son and heir of Lord Tweedmouth; Gerald Ward, son of the late Earl of Dudley, who married the daughter of the Earl of Erne a week before he sailed, and his brother, R. Ward; A. Y. Meade, son of the Earl of Clanwilliam, and A. E. B. O'Neill, son and heir of Baron O'Neill.

The Tenth hussars is also an aristocratic regiment, its title being the Prince of Wales' Own Royal hussars. It is one of the most exclusive corps in the British army, the Prince of Wales himself being its honorary colonel. No one may join it even as a subaltern unless he is prepared to expend at lesat $2500 a year above his pay, so expensive is the regimental mess; and its roll of officers is almost exclusively composed of the names of men of noble birth. Colonel Pilcher, whose mounted infantry was engaged, is the leader whose expedition to Sunnyside was so successful. He is a brother-in-law of Maude Gonne, the Irish agitator.

QUEEN OFF FOR IRELAND.

Spent Last Night on a Special Train and Resumed Her Journey This Morning.

London, April 3.—The Queen and Princess Christian and Princess Henry of Battenburg, with the royal suite, left Windsor Castle at 9:30 last night on a special train for Holyhead, where they will take the boat for Ireland. The train stopped several hours on the way to allow the royal party to sleep. It reached Holyhead at 9 o'clock this morning. Breakfast was eaten there, and the party crossed the Irish sea escorted by warships. Kingstown will be reached at 6 o'clock this evening. The queen will dine and sleep on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, and will land at 11:30 o'clock tomorrow. They will drive to the vice regal lodge in Phoenix park, which they will reach before luncheon.

Republicans Carry Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, April 3.—The Republicans here never scored such a success over the Fusionists as at the election yesterday for city officers. They have all the members of the new board of public service for three years, which controls everything except the police and fire departments. The Republican nominee for mayor was Julius Fleischmann, a millionaire Hebrew. He is in New York most of the time, and was there when nominated. He was colonel on the staff of Governor McKinley, and is a very close friend of Senator Hanna, who is said to have requested him to make the race. He was elected by over 8500 plurality over Alfred M. Cohen, the Fusion candidate, together with the full Republican city ticket.

Suspicion as to Death of Infant.

Waltham, Mass., April 3.—Last Friday afternoon Mrs. James Goulding called at a house on Alder street and stayed there until Sunday afternoon, when Dr. Chadwick was called to attend her. He found that 24 hours previously she had given birth to a child at her home on Colby avenue. The dead body of the infant was found there, and on Monday an autopsy was held, at which it was determined that the child was born alive. The mother is now very ill with pneumonia.

For a Great Negro Empire.

Halifax, April 3.—Dr. A. B. Walker, who was the first colored man in Canada to take the degree of bachelor of laws, is to urge the British government to set aside a tract of territory in South Africa for the settlement thereon of negro emigrants from Canada, the United States and the West Indian islands. Dr. Walker believes Africa's destiny is to become a great negro empire. The working out of the problem he considers the duty of the educated colored people in America.

Planned Great Thieving Campaign.

Boston, April 3.—The notorious burglar, Thomas Jackson, who was held for the grand jury yesterday, says the keys found on him were new ones, made to fit a number of wholesale houses, and it was his intention to go there with Wilson, his pal, in the night time, and cart away all the goods desired. They had figured on stealing $50,000 worth. The police have found a dealer who bought some of the stolen goods from Jackson at bargain prices.

Fish Fare Record Broken.

Gloucester, Mass., April 3.—The cargo of fresh fish brought to this port by the schooner Lucinda I. Lowell, Captain Courant, has been weighed out at 173,000 pounds, breaking all records in landing large fares. The cargo is said to be the largest of the kind in the history of North American fisheries. The next best record was that made about a month ago by the schooner Talisman, which brought in 160,435 pounds.

Student Given a Jail Sentence.

Cambridge, Mass., April 3.—Fred S. Timmons, a Harvard freshman, was found guilty of committing that common college prank, "sign stealing," Monday, and was sentenced to jail for five days. He appealed. The court previously had imposed $50 fines for the same offense, but wanted to make an example, as pilfering of signs from Boston merchants was becoming a regular practice.

Week Later Than Time First Fixed.

Boston, April 3.—The trial of Charles H. Cole, late president of the Globe National bank, on an indictment charging him with misapplication and false entries, has been set down for April 17, a week later than the time originally fixed. District Attorney Jones and counsel for the defendant appeared in the district court Monday and obtained the postponement.

Milford Firm Comes to Terms.

Milford, Mass., April 3.—Downing Bros. have made a settlement with the local Granite Cutters' union, conceding the eight hours and a 35-cent an hour minimum rate of wages. Norcross Bros. have not as yet arrived at a settlement, but the union officials expect that they will do so within a few days, which will end the strike as far as this town is concerned.

May Have Been Victim of Assault.

Pawtucket, R. I., April 3.—Bridget McIntyre, aged 80 years, died Monday at the home of her son-in-law at Lonsdale. John McManus, her son-in-law, claimed that the woman fell from a chair and fractured her hip. He is now in jail under $1000 bonds, awaiting a trial on a charge of felonious assault on Mrs. McIntyre.

Bullet Through His Heart.

Brattleboro, Vt., April 3. — James Flynn, aged 45, a farmer living near Newfane, shot himself through the heart. He fired the shot while in his bedroom and staggered from there into the sitting room, where he dropped dead. He leaves a widow and three children. It is supposed that he was temporarily insane.

Three Men Killed by Explosion.

Atlanta, April 3.—An 80-horse power boiler weighing several tons exploded yesterday at the G. O. Williams Lumber company's brickyard, killing three men and injuring seven others. The body of James Perkins was found wrapped around a post. One of his arms and both legs hung by shreds of flesh.

NO PLACE FOR POOR MEN.

Americans Without Money Are Advised to Give Cuba a Wide Berth.

Washington, April 3.—The war department has been obliged to sound a note of warning to restrain over-confident Americans from flocking into Cuba without resources. General Wood made this a matter of special representations to Secretary Root. He reports that there are quite a number of such Americans completely stranded in Cuba whom he is unable to relieve. His suggestion was that the war department authorize him to . ip them back to the United States on the army transports, but so far Secretary Root has not been able to see how he can do this.

According to the advices received by the department, Cuba is no place for a man without money. With some capital there is large opportunity for returns, but otherwise even willing workingmen and clerks cannot secure employment, and must soon come to grief.

Secretary Root mentioned the fate of some of the Americans who had gone to Cuba as parts of alleged "colonies" as particularly hard, and if it shall appear proper to extend relief at all it may be he will authorize those who are now suffering in these colonies to be brought home in the transports.

No More Sales of "Sapho."

Boston, April 3.—After considering the matter deeply for several weeks the board of police has at last decided to stop the sale of "Sapho" in Boston. Yesterday an officer made the rounds of the local bookstores and quietly informed the proprietors that they were expected to take the volume off their counters and not sell any copies of it in the future. The request has been readily complied with.

Quit to Save a Knockout.

New York, April 3.—Dave Sullivan of Boston and Ed Gardner of Wheeling fought a hard battle at Brooklyn last night, and after Sullivan had been practically knocked out in the 16th round he came to and had Gardner so groggy in the 19th round that the latter's brother, Oscar, threw up the sponge to save Ed from being knocked out.

Found In Pawtuxet River.

Riverpoint, R. I., April 3.—The body of Felix Lockwood, a mill operative, who had been missing from his home at Rockland, about 10 miles from here, since March 1, was found in the Pawtuxet river. He is supposed to have walked into the mill trench, and the body remained in the water until found by a boy.

Ingersoll Pleads Guilty.

Ithaca, N. Y., April 3.—Charles Ingersoll, the defaulting treasurer, was arraigned in the supreme court yesterday charged with forgery, misappropriation of public funds and other crimes. He pleaded guilty, but sentence was suspended in order to allow his attorney to enter a plea for leniency of the court.

Rubber Workers Return to Work.

New Haven, April 3.—Several hundred workmen, employed by the Candee Rubber company, began work Monday, after a lay-off of one month. It is expected that the entire force of 1600 hands who were thrown out of employment, owing to lack of orders, will be at work before the end of the week.

Said He Was Hired to Commit Murder.

Macon, Ga., April 3.—Allen Fuller, a negro, was hanged here yesterday for the murder of Mrs. Eugenia H. Pottle, an aged white woman. Fuller claimed that two white men, whose names he refused to tell, offered him and another negro $250 each to kill Mrs. Pottle.

Fifteen Thousand Benefited.

Pittsburg, April 3.—About 15,000 workmen in the building trades will be benefited by new wage scales. The scales are mostly settled on an eight-hour basis, among which are the brick layers, carpenters and plasterers.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Judge Thomas Cumming died at Hackensack, N. J. He was born in Ireland in 1815. He was a delegate to the Republican convention that nominated Lincoln in 1860.

Mrs. John A. Armstrong died at Philadelphia. She was socially known all over the world. Fifteen years ago her husband died, and since that time she had travelled extensively.

Secretary Long has gone to Colorado Springs, Colo., to visit his invalid daughter, and probably will be absent about 10 days or two weeks. Assistant Secretary Allen will act during his absence.

The Industrial Trust company has absorbed the National Bank of Rhode Island, located in Newport, and with one exception the oldest bank in the state, and with but few exceptions the oldest in the country.

Dr. James, who as "McJames" played last season with the Brooklyn baseball team, has decided not to enter the box again. This determination has been arrived at since the death of a brother.

Rev. Egidius Smulders, C. SS. R., senior priest of the Redemptorist order of the United States, died suddenly at St. Louis. He was born in Belgium, and was 85 years old.

Rear Admiral Hichborn, chief of the bureau of construction and repair, will leave in a few days for San Francisco to inspect the ships building there, and also to investigate the needs of the Mare Island navy yard.

Charles M. Gay, who was widely known in Boston as the publisher of Littell's Living Age from 1866 to 1879, died at New York, aged 66.

A movement has been started in Massachusetts to secure funds for the widow of the late General Guy V. Henry. The committee requests that all checks be sent to the treasurer, Henry L. Higginson, 44 State street, Boston, but that all other communications be directed to Secretary William S. Youngman, 40 Water street, Boston.

The commissioner of patents has dismissed the charge of gross misconduct recently preferred against General R. G. Dyrenforth, upon the ground that the charge was not proven.

Thomas D. Luce has been appointed assignee of the Nashua (N. H.) Savings bank. It is expected that the affairs of the bank will be wound up at an early date.

TEMPTING RECIPES.

TIMELY FOR THOSE WHO KEEP LENT AND THOSE WHO DO NOT.

Fish Consomme—Stuffed Fillets of Flounder With Tomato Sauce—Egg Timbales—Maple Sugar Tea Biscuit and Orange Pie.

Fish Consomme.—Cover five pounds of trimmings (the heads and portions containing but little flesh, etc.) with cold water; add one tablespoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of black pepper, six onions, sliced, and three tea-spoonfuls of savory herbs; bring to the boiling point, then let simmer slowly two hours; strain and cool. If desired, clear with whites and shells of eggs. When reheated and ready to serve, add the juice of half a lemon and salt and pepper as needed.

Stuffed Fillets of Flounder.—Take fillets from a flounder weighing 2½ pounds; season with salt and pepper and a few drops of onion juice, if desired. Spread on one half of each fillet a tablespoonful of mashed potato (about one cup should be prepared) mixed with the beaten yolk of an egg and seasoned with one tablespoonful of butter, one-fourth a teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. Fold the other half of each fillet over the potato, cover with crumbs, dip in the white of the egg beaten with two tablespoonfuls of water and again cover with crumbs and fry in deep fat. Drain on soft paper; then insert a short piece of macaroni in the pointed end of each fillet and cover this with a paper frill. Garnish with lemon and parsley and serve with onion puree or tomato sauce.

For the latter simmer half a can of tomatoes with a slice of onion, a sprig of parsley, three cloves and three peppercorns, a bit of bay leaf and half a teaspoonful of salt 15 minutes. Pass through a sieve and add to one-fourth a cup each of butter and flour cooked together; then let boil ten minutes.

For the onion puree, to one cup and a half of onions boiled and passed through a sieve add one-third a cup of cream, the yolks of two eggs (these may be omitted) and salt and paprika to taste. Beat together thoroughly and reheat without boiling before serving.

Egg Timbales.—Beat six eggs until a spoonful can be taken up; add a scant teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth a teaspoonful of pepper, 20 drops of onion juice and one cup and a half of rich milk and strain into buttered timbale molds. Bake standing in a pan of hot water about 20 minutes or until the mixture is firm to the touch, turn from the molds on to a hot platter, pour about them bread sauce and sprinkle both timbales and sauce with half a cup of fine crumbs browned in butter.

Bread Sauce.—Cook a slice of onion with a clove or two and half a cup of fine bread crumbs from the center of the loaf in a pint of milk an hour over hot water. Remove the onion and cloves, add two tablespoonfuls of butter and a scant half teaspoonful of salt.

Maple Sugar Tea Biscuit.—Sift together one quart of sifted flour, one teaspoonful of salt and three level tablespoonfuls of baking powder. Work into these ingredients two tablespoonfuls of butter and then mix to a dough with milk or milk and water. Cut the dough until light and spongy, then pat out into a rectangular sheet with the rolling pin, spread with maple sugar and roll up like a jelly roll. Cut from the end in rounds. Bake in a buttered pan and serve hot with butter.

Orange Pie.—Cream one-fourth a cup of butter; add three-fourths a cup of sugar, the juice of an orange and half the grated rind, together with the juice of half a lemon. Beat until light, then add the beaten yolks of three eggs and the white of one beaten until light. Bake with one crust. When partly cold, cover with a meringue made of the stiffly beaten white of eggs and sugar.

Potatoes a la Duchesse.

Beat some nice, floury boiled potatoes with a fork, whipping them up lfghtly while hot. Have two eggs well beaten, the yolks and whites separately, the whites being beaten to a stiff froth. Beat the yolks in lightly to the mashed potatoes, with salt and pepper to taste, one tablespoonful of butter and two tablespoonfuls of cream. Whip all together to a creamy heap and then lightly and quickly whip in the frothed whites. Put the mixture into a saucepan over the fire and stir all together till thoroughly hot; then turn it on a dish and let it stand till quite cold. Cut the potato paste into rounds or squares with a cutter. Lay the potato cakes in a greased baking tin, but do not allow them to touch each other, and bake in a quick oven. When they begin to brown, brush them over with beaten eggs. Arrange them on a folded napkin and serve.

Mother and Doctor Too

Until the doctor comes, and for minor ills and accidents, the mother must doctor her family. Tens of thousands of mothers have relied upon JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT, and have found it always reliable. It is used both externally and internally and it is the remedy for inflammation from any cause. Used continually for 90 years as a household remedy, its sustained popularity and increasing use every year are the best possible testimonials to its curative powers.

Johnson's ANODYNE LINIMENT

is of greatest value in treating colic, cramps, diarrhœa, cholera morbus, bites, bruises, burns, stings, chafing, colds, coughs, croup, catarrh, bronchitis, la grippe, lameness, muscle soreness and pain and inflammation in any part of the body. Sold in two size bottles, 25c. and 50c. The larger size is more economical. If your dealer hasn't it send to us. Ask first.

Senate Passes the Puerto Rican Measure After a Prolonged Struggle.

Difficulty Arises Over Effort to Displace Quay Case.

Walcott Accuses Lodge of Uttering That Which Was "Unqualifiedly False."

Washington, April 4.—Yesterday was a notable day in the United States senate. It brought to a close the sharpest and most prolonged debate upon any measure since those discussed during the memorable "war congress" two years ago. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the votes were begun upon the Puerto Rican tariff and civil government bill and the pending amendments and less than an hour later the measure, about which there has been so much contention in and out of congress, was passed by a majority of nine, the final vote being 40 to 31. Only committee amendments were adopted.

It had been evident for some time that the bill would command a majority in the senate, but notwithstanding that fact, the interest in the measure, both of senators and of the public, had not flagged an instant.

When the hour of 4 o'clock was reached the chairman announced that the votes upon the pending amendments and upon the bill should now be taken.

At the suggestion of Mr. Foraker the committee amendments which had been passed over were reverted to and adopted without division.

Mr. Davis then offered his amendment providing that "no duties on imports or exports shall, after the passage of this act, be levied or collected on any articles imported from the United States into Puerto Rico or from Puerto Rico into the United States."

Mr. Davis demanded the yeas and nays. The amendment was lost, 30 to 40.

Without division two other amendments offered by Mr. Davis were defeated. Then Mr. Nelson offered his free trade amendment. The yeas and nays were ordered and this amendment, too, was lost, 29 to 41.

After an amendment offered by Mr. Spooner making a slight change in the measure had been accepted by Mr. Foraker and agreed to, two amendments offered by Mr. Bacon, one being a substitute for the entire bill, were defeated without division.

The bill was then reported to the senate, the amendments were agreed to, and on an yea and nay vote it was passed by a vote of 40 to 31, a majority of 9.

Scarcely had the Puerto Rican measure been disposed of when, quite unexpectedly, a serious snarl over the case of former Senator Quay arose.

Acting under the unanimous consent agreement reached on March 16 that the Quay case should be taken up, "subject to the consideration of appropriation bills, conference reports, the present unfinished business and senate bill 2355" (the Spooner bill as to the government of the Philippines), Mr. Lodge moved that the Spooner bill be made the unfinished business.

This was objected to by the friends of Mr. Quay, and Mr. Wolcott moved to adjourn. The motion was lost.

Mr. Lodge then renewed his motion. It was antagonized by Mr. Chandler, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, who had no objection to the measure, but did not want it to displace the Quay case.

After further discussion Mr. Wolcott again moved to adjourn, the motion being defeated, 25 to 31.

It became evident that there was a fight on, and the senators engaged in the controversy manifested much feeling. The whole question of the unanimous consent agreement was gone into, the entire debate upon it being read.

Mr. Chandler then asked Mr. Lodge a question about the construction he placed upon the agreement, and the Massachusetts senator replied: "I am not engaged in placing constructions upon unanimous consents. I am acting within my rights to make this motion and the friends of Mr. Quay refuse to permit it to be voted upon."

Mr. Wolcott referred to the long hours the senate had been in session and the desire of senators to get their "frugal dinners," and moved an executive session.

"It is perfectly obvious," interjected Mr. Lodge, "that I can attain no good result by detaining the senate. The purpose of Mr. Quay's friends is plain. That is all I desire to show. I have no objection to the senate either adjourning or going into executive session, but I consider the unanimous agreement at an end."

"I do not know how the senator from Massachusetts classifies himself," retorted Mr. Wolcott, "whether as a friend or as an enemy of Mr. Quay. It is hard to tell who are his friends and who are his enemies. But when any suggestion or intimation is made that there is any unworthy or unrighteous purpose in pressing the consideration of that case as a matter of the highest privilege, the person who makes that statement goes far out of his way to state that which is unqualifiedly false."

Mr. Lodge: "I made no charge against anyone. I said that I had been deprived of the right which I thought I clearly had. I am not going to press it, and I am not going to hold the senate. If the unanimous consent is broken of course that is the end of it. It cannot be binding in one case and not be binding in all."

Mr. Chandler: "Unanimous consents would better come to an end if they mean what senators now declare them to mean."

The house yesterday entered upon the consideration of the substitute for the senate Hawaiian territorial bill, under special order, which will bring the question to a vote at 4 o'clock tomorrow. The debate was in committee of the whole, and only three of the six speeches were pertinent to the bill.

DEWEY FOR PRESIDENT.

New York World Quotes Him as Having Expressed Willingness to Accept Nomination.

New York, April 4.—The World today prints a special dispatch from Washington, which quotes Admiral Dewey as saying:

"When I arrived in this country, last September, I said then that nothing would induce me to be a candidate for the presidency.

"Since then, however, I have had the leisure and inclination to study the matter, and have reached a different conclusion, inasmuch as so many assurances have come to me from my countrymen that I would be acceptable as a candidate for this great office.

"If the American people want me for this high office, I shall be only too willing to serve them.

"Should I be chosen for this exalted position, I would execute the laws of congress as faithfully as I have always executed the orders of my superiors."

When asked, "On what platform will you stand?" the admiral replied:

"I think I have said enough at this time, and possibly too much."

Military Instruction Favored.

Washington, April 4.—The bill of Representative Marsh of Illinois, designed to extend military instruction to the public schools of the country, was favorably acted upon yesterday by the house committee on military affairs. The preamble recites that the national defense depends upon the volunteer service of the people of the several states, and those cities and towns which shall adopt a system of military instruction in their public schools are entitled to the assistance of the government in order to secure to the United States such a knowledge of military affairs among the youth of the country as will render them efficient as volunteers if called upon for the national defense.

"Tangos" Will Be Forbidden.

Havana, April 4.—Many prominent negroes in Havana have signed a petition to Acting Mayor Mora against further permits for "tangos," or characteristic negro dances, in which the dancers beat kettles and tin cans. The petitioners contend that these performances are a survival of slavery, and are altogether a degrading spectacle. Senor Mora will issue an order forbidding dances of this character hereafter.

Admits Heavy Embezzlement.

Paris, April 4.—D'Arville des Essarts, a former advocate of the court of appeals, and a former member of the city council, has been arrested on a charge of embezzling 1,800,000 francs of the patrimony of Corporal Gelinard of the recruiting bureau at Versailles. He has confessed to the embezzlement. It is said that he cannot give any account of the use he has made of the money.

Pawtucket Painters Won't Strike.

Pawtucket, R. I., April 4.—At a meeting of the local union, which is affiliated with the International Painters' union, it was decided not to join in a movement which it is proposed to inaugurate on May 1 for a shorter work day and better wages. The decision was reached on account of the high price of building material, which has discouraged the erection of more buildings.

Disappeared on Pay Day.

Chicago, April 4.—A special to The Times-Herald from Vancouver, B. C., says: Lieutenant James Clark, paymaster for her majesty's naval and garrison forces at Esquimalt, is missing. He disappeared early on Monday morning. It was pay day at the naval station for the men of the north Pacific squadron, and his disappearance has caused a sensation.

Otisfield Philosopher Is No More.

Portland, Me., April 4.—Joseph W. Holden, familiarly known as "Uncle Joe," the Otisfield philosopher, died in his native hamlet, East Otisfield, aged over 80. Mr. Holden maintained that the earth was flat, by a series of remarkable arguments. He has lectured before educational institutions and state legislatures throughout New England.

Capitalists Have Their Way.

Albany, April 4.—The most important canal legislation of the session passed the senate yesterday. It was a bill removing the limit of $30,000 at which corporations are permitted to capitalize for operation on the canals. This bill has been earnestly urged by capitalists in the interest of large steel canal boats and as vigorously opposed by the smaller boat owners.

Serious Charge Against a Young Woman.

Lynn, Mass., April 4.—Annie E. Parker, formerly employed as a lawyer's clerk, is under arrest on the charge of forgery. It is claimed that she forged names on notes to the amount of about $500 and negotiated them among money lenders in this city. Miss Parker is about 26 years old.

HEIR TO A FORTUNE.

Jury's Decision in the Case of John Eakin, Who For Years Has Depended Upon Charity.

New York, April 4.—John Eakin, who was picked up as a 4-year-old tot in the streets, 20 years ago, and sent to Randall's island, and has spent all the intervening time in institutions for the destitute, has been declared by a jury to be the lawful child of John Eakin, whose father, William Eakin, left an estate estimated to be worth $1,000,000.

Eakin's mother was sentenced to Randall's island for drunkenness in 1880, and died there. His father had died sometime before. Counsel has asked the court to award to young Eakin his share in the property left by his grandfather to his father.

This property is occupied by Diederich Knabe, the wealthy liquor dealer, and he is made the principal defendant in the suit. It is said that Knabe obtained the property by purchase. It is claimed that there is a flaw in the title.

Thrilling Experience With a Burglar.

New Canaan, Conn., April 4.—Elizabeth J. Northrop, aged about 45, lives alone in a farmhouse in an isolated place about three miles from here. Rumor has it that she has considerable money hid in the house, and Tuesday morning the house was entered by a masked burglar, who demanded that Miss Northrop tell him where she had the money secreted. She denied having any money and repeated threats proved unavailing. The burglar then attacked her and after rendering her unconscious by a blow on the head, tied her in a chair and proceeded with an ax to demolish bureaus and other articles of furniture where possibly there might be money hidden. The search was kept up for nearly two hours, but it proved unavailing. Miss Northrop succeeded in freeing herself and notified the authorities.

Fitzsimmons and Ruhlin Matched.

New York, April 4.—Robert Fitzsimmons and Gus Ruhlin have signed articles to meet in a 25-round contest before the Westchester Athletic club at Tuckahoe on June 2, "or the first day thereafter when pictures may be taken successfully." The men will fight for 67 percent of the gross gate receipts and a like share of the picture receipts. They will divide their share of the gate money 75 and 25 percent, the winner taking the lion's share. The picture money they will divide equally. Each man posted $1000 to guarantee his appearance in the ring.

Benzoin Tank Exploded.

Chelsea, Mass., April 4.—By the explosion of a tank of benzine in the lampblack factory of Samuel Cabot, a fire was caused, in which Frank M. McCormick, 19 years old, who was engaged in cleaning out the tank at the time, was literally baked to death. The money loss was about $5000. McCormick was the chief support of his mother, who has an invalid husband in Ireland, an invalid son in Chelsea, and has now lost six children within a few years.

Killed Children and Herself.

Rochester, April 4.—Mrs. Catherine Meyer killed her two children, a daughter 3 years old, and a son 1 year old, by throwing them into a cistern. She then threw herself into the cistern, where all three bodies were found. Mrs. Meyer left a note which said she owed a grocery bill of $1.06, and that the grocer had refused to trust her for more supplies. It is supposed that she was temporarily insane from brooding over her failure to obtain credit.

Alleged Passing of Bogus Check.

Boston, April 4.—Fred D. Upton was liberated from the house of correction at Deer island Tuesday. As he stepped from the boat, however, an inspector placed him under arrest. It is charged that Upton tendered a bogus check on William F. Langdon of Boston and received the money. The sentence which expired Tuesday was of six months' duration, and was for an offense similar to that on which the man was arrested.

Perjury and Larceny Alleged.

Boston, April 4.—John E. Payne, a contractor and builder, was arrested Tuesday on a charge of perjury. When arrested he was before the court on a charge of larceny. On both charges the case was continued, and Payne was held in $2000 bail. The charge of perjury against Payne is based on a number of bail transactions which have occurred recently.

Man and Wife Suffocated.

New York, April 4.—The bodies of Michael Brady and his wife, Mary, were found yesterday in their apartments on Madison avenue, both having been suffocated by gas some time Saturday or Sunday. Although the police report the deaths as from suicide, there is every appearance that they were accidental.

Caught Over Twenty Thousand Seals.

St. John's, April 4.—The sealing steamer Iceland has arrived here with 20,500 seals. She is the most heavily laden of all the ships that have yet arrived. She had a narrow escape from foundering last Friday during a fierce gale, owing to the fast that she was carrying 2000 seals on deck.

Train Became Unmanageable.

Gorham, N. H., April 4.—An accident occurred on the lumber road of the International Paper company, caused by a loaded train becoming unmanageable and running wild into the company's yard, willing Engineer Blair, severely injured, killing Engineer Blair, severely injuring an unknown man.

New Bedford Has the Shakes.

New Bedford, Mass., April 4.—An earthquake was plainly felt in this city at noon Tuesday. It was accompanied by a heavy, low rumble, and houses and business blocks trembled, in some cases to such an extent as to alarm the inmates. But one tremor of the earth was noticed.

BOERS ARE ADVANCING.

Initial Success Has Inspiring Effect Upon Republics' Allied Forces.

A Check to the British Feeling of Confidence.

Impossibility of Affording Protection to Loyalists Recognized at Bloemfontein.

London, April 4.—The report that General French is engaged in a fierce battle with the Boers has caused great anxiety in London.

London's great hope has been that the guns taken on Saturday might be recaptured, but it is feared that this cannot be. The Boers are reported in force in several directions, and it is feared that it will be no easy matter to drive them out.

The loss of the guns, however, is regarded as quite trifling compared with the political effect of the disaster which overtook the convoy. As the Bloemfontein correspondent of The Times remarks, Commandant Olivier's strategy in reoccupying Ladybrand and Thaba N'Chu was bold, and even brilliant. Most of his force is composed of Free Staters, and the advantage gained by them will have a most disturbing effect on the mind of the Free State population.

Accompanying the attack on the British almost within sight of Lord Roberts' headquarters are signs of Boer activity along the whole line. The main Boer force at Kroonstad has advanced to Smaldeel, 60 miles south, a force has occupied Paardeberg, between Bloemfontein and Kimberley, 6000 are assembled between Fourteen Streams and Christiana, a dispatch from Ladysmith says that a strong column of burghers is operating within 11 miles of Buller's headquarters, while from Boer sources comes the report that Colonel Plumer's Mafeking relief column has again been repulsed by the Transvaal forces. The initial success of the Boers in forcing the fighting cannot fail to have an inspiring effect upon the forces of the allied republics, while a corresponding check to the confident feeling which has prevailed in England since Roberts and Kitchener took the field will result.

The impossibility of affording complete protection for the moment to all farmers in the south and southeast sections of the Free State is recognized at Bloemfontein. Men who surrendered under the proclamation of Lord Roberts are now being punished for the reliance they placed in the ability of the British to protect them. As the correspondent further remarked, "This is a hard fate, and every possible effort will be made to help them; but consideration for the sufferings of repentant belligerents at the hands of their fellow countrymen cannot be suffered to prejudice the military plans of Lord Roberts."

The Daily Telegraph, which takes a more humane view, says: It is just as important to protect those burghers who have trusted in our power and surrendered all means of defending themselves as it is to win victories against those who are still in arms.

The Daily Chronicle, whose Cape Town correspondent joyfully predicted that the war would be over in three months, says: In order to re-establish our position in the Free State we need a brilliant success won on the scene of our latest reverse.

It is announced from Springfontein that the censorship has again curtailed the dispatches. Therefore important developments must be impending.

The British public is reluctant to believe that an American led the Boer forces which attacked the convoy. The Daily Chronicle says: Reichmann may be, like other Americans, in sympathy with the Boers. He may even have unofficially advised the Boer commandant, although this would have been exceedingly improper, but we cannot think he would take the command without previously resigning his American commission.

There is little news from other points. Mafeking was still besieged on March 20; and there are rumors that General Buller is preparing to advance.

General Cronje, Colonel Schiel and 1000 Boer prisoners sailed from Cape Town for St. Helena last night.

No Longer In Government Service.

Washington, April 4.—The resignation of Webster Davis as assistant secretary of the interior was accepted yesterday by Secretary Hitchcock, by direction of the president. Secretary Hitchcock declined to say anything in regard to the resignation. He believes that the statements made by Mr. Davis fully cover the case. The secretary refused to make public the text of the letter of resignation, or that of the acceptance of it.

Americans Defeated by Englishman.

Atlantic City, April 4.—Harry Vardon, the British golf champion, easily defeated the best ball put up by Herbert Harriman, American amateur champion, and Findlay Douglass, former amateur champion, winning by 9 up and 8 to play. His game was perfect golf. Harriman and Douglass, on the contrary, were not in their best form. The game was for 36 holes.

Good Afternoon.

South Dakota is preparing to do the Senate, and the country, a favor by retiring Pettigrew, the Filipino Senator.

"Educated in Quincy." That sounds well in the sketch of the life of Alex E. Frye' who is superintendant of the schools in Cuba and just now prominent in all the Boston papers. We hope he will honor us with his presence at the Col. Parker anniversary.

The action of the House in passing a bill providing for procuring designs for a proper memorial to Gen. Grant, is commendable and should at once be followed by the Senate. It is little short of disgraceful that Congress has not long ago honored Gen. Grant with a monument.

These kind of items don't seem to interest Quincy as much as they should because we don't seem to be in the monumental business just now. The Transcript says, The movement to erect a monument in New York city in honor of the late Baron and Baroness de Hirsch is progressing favorably. At the meeting Monday of the association having the matter in charge, subscriptions to the amount $3,000 were announced and a sight was selected for the monument on the south side of Mount Morris.

Mr. Frank F. Crane is entitled to considerable credit if he succeeds in locating in Quincy a corporation of the magnitude outlined, or even one which will employ 500 skilled mechanics. There are valuable water privileges on Fore River, and desirable land on its shores at Quincy Point and Quincy Neck, and it is one of the encouraging signs of the times that there is demand for land at Quincy Neck. Few would have been as successful as Mr. Crane in securing the options on the land.

No great reduction is promised in the tax rate if the estimates of Mayor Hall and City Treasurer Gray are adopted. The total is about the same as in 1899, and the only hope for a reduction in the tax rate is in an increase in the city receipts and an increase in the valuation. The best way to reduce the tax rate will be to reduce the appropriations now. The metropolitan water assessment is considerably larger this year, and the first Metropolitan Park assessment is expected. One of the most formidable items in the budget is that for interest, a total of over $35,000 being required, enough to support several departments.

There was apparently an oversight or else intentional discourtesy shown to the Mayor in the make up of the committee appointed by the President of the City Council, at Monday night's meeting, to confer with the railroad authorities in relation to the building of a larger station at Quincy. The order was for the appointment of a committee consisting of four Councilmen, including the President, and three citizens. Why go out of the city government? Why were not the Mayor and City Solicitor included?

Three of the Councilmen whose names appear, Bryant, Poland and Freeman are not residents of the center and are not patrons of the station, as are the Councilmen from Wards One and Two; and furthermore two of the three spoke against the resolution.

The slight to the Mayor of this city is not to be passed over lightly. During the incumbency of the mayoralty office, be he John O. Hall, Harrison A. Keith or Russell A. Sears, the Mayor is invariably considered the leading citizen of the community, regardless of his party affiliations or the personal likes or dislikes of others yielding temporary authority. The President of the Council in impartially fulfilling the functions of his office should have honored the office of Mayor of this city by appointing the present incumbent a member of the committee. The order should have requested the Mayor and a committee to act. While we believe Quincy should have a larger depot than the one proposed one must look with suspicion on the new movement.

When it came to an investigation like that of the charges for gas in Quincy the Mayor was included in the committee. That committee is also subject to criticism as the treasurer of the Electric Light Company is one of the members.

Universalist Sociable.

A very enjoyable entertainment was held in the Universalist vestry, Tuesday evening, consisting of musical selections and readings, given under the auspices of the Dorcas society. The following program was given: Piano solo, Mr. J. Schultz; vocal solo, Miss Lu Phelan; cornet solo, Mr. Batchelder; reading, Miss Butuer; piano duet, Mrs. Geddis and Miss Lu Phelan; harmonica solo, Mr. White; piano trio, Mr. Schultz, Miss Balfe and Mr. Batchelder; vocal solo, Miss Balfe; orchestra selection, Mr. Schultz, Mr. Buckleman and Mr. Batchelder.

It was a grand musical entertainment all the selections being greatly enjoyed, especially the solos by Miss Lu Phelan of Wollaston. The committee in charge were Mrs. A. H. Hall and Mrs. M. D. Phelan. Home made candy was on sale during the evening, the table being in charge of Miss Annie Hobart.

Accident.

About 2 o'clock this afternoon as a loaded four horse team of C. H. Hardwick & Co. was coming down Quarry street hill into Granite street, an axle broke when near John Thompson & Sons, and the team was tipped bottom up in front of the residence of George Anderson at the foot of the hill.

The driver, James Connell, had a very narrow escape, as it was a bad wreck.

DOGS MUST BE LICENSED On or Before APRIL 30,

Or the Owners or Keepers thereof

LIABLE TO A FINE!

Extracts from the Laws of this Commonwealth.

Every owner or keeper of a dog of three months old or over shall annually on or before the THIRTIETH DAY OF APRIL, cause it to be Registered, Numbered, Described and Licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city or town wherein said dog is kept, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

An owner of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of the ensuing May; and a person becoming the owner or keeper of a dog after the first day of May, not duly licensed, shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided in the preceding section.

The fee for every license shall be two dollars for a MALE and five dollars for a FEMALE dog.

Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit FIFTEEN DOLLARS, five dollars of which shall be paid to the complainant and ten dollars to the treasurer of the county in which the dog is kept.

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number of dogs so kept exceeds five, the fee shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper, under the age of six months.

Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed, which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day in April in any year, shall, whenever it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May, as provided in Sec. 80 of Chap. 102 of the Public Statutes, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

REACH THE LIMIT.

Granite Manufacturers Association Endorse Committee.

Approve of the Course Taken at Conferences.

Expect to be Successful in Getting Help.

Those who hoped that the regular meeting of the Granite Manufacturers' Association Tuesday evening would result in definite action that would settle the present strike were doomed to disappointment. The meeting was largely attended and was given up entirely to discussing the situation.

The Conference committee, who have had the matter in hand made a report, giving in detail the several conferences held.

In the course of their report the committee said, that as all propositions looking to a settlement, made up to the present time, had come from them, and that the proposition submitted at the last conference was the utmost they could possibly afford to offer, they have reached the conclusion that any further meetings of the two committees would be useless, unless the workmen are prepared to accept the last proposition made.

The Association gave the committee its approval of their action and voted not to increase their last offer of a minimum wage of nine hours pay for eight hours work, but to stand by that offer to the end, as this was all they could possibly pay and in fact was more than they should pay, considering the condition of business.

During the discussion of the committee's report several of the manufacturers claim that they had reason to believe the cutters did not understand that the proposition made at the last conference was a final one. Upon these grounds the association voted to instruct the committee to hold another conference with the Cutters' committee and again submit the proposition as made at the last meeting.

In accordance with instructions received by the Association the Conference committee took the necessary steps this morning to hold a joint meeting, and it is expected that the meeting will be held this evening at the Granite Manufacturers rooms.

Toes Amputated.

Lafayette Gleason, an employe of the water department' met with a painful accident Monday. He was at South Boston inspecting water pipes purchased by the city, and to hasten matters was assisting in loading one of the teams, when a heavy pipe rolled onto his left foot crushing it badly. He was removed to the hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate three of the toes of his left foot.

The Legislative Committee on Counties were in town this morning to view the Quincy Point bridge. They were accompanied by Mayor Hall.

The final session of Mrs. Wadsworths class at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium was held this afternoon. The exhibition was witnessed by a few friends.

George Fogg has been given the contract for carting the material of the Eastern Dock and Construction Co., from the cars tothe company's plant at Quincy Point.

There is a well founded rumor that the directors of the Y. M. C. A., are taking steps toward the purchase of a lot of land upon which to erect an Association building.

Mrs. J. N. White a long resident of West Quincy, passed away on Tuesday, after a lingering illness, aged about 60 years. She leaves a husband, five sons and five daughters.

An entry in our record of births, today, will interest many Quincy people. Mrs. Dodge is well known here, having graduated from the High school and being a sister of Mrs. A. E. Sprowl of Hancock street.

Hon. John Shaw is again in Washington. His frequent visits to the capital show a great interest in government matters, and as our representative in Congress he would be a hustler for the interests of all his constituents.

Thirteen car loads of material for the Eastern Dock and Construction company, who is to locate at Quincy Point, were billed to arrive Tuesday night. This certainly looks as though the new company meant business.

Mr. Joseph White and family of Billings street are to change their present location for one on Atlantic street. The present owner of the estate, Mr. Richardson, of Cambridge, will occupy the house pro tem.

Freeman W. Grant has commenced work on the foundation for a new house on the west side of Hancock street, near McDonnell's stone yard. It is also understood that work will be commenced next week on the foundation for two new houses directly opposite on the Butler estate.

The report which appeared in many papers that Mr. George P. Keith of Hudson, Mass., formerly of this city, was defeated at the last annual town meeting as a member of the school committee was incorrect. Mr. Keith was not a candidate. He was urged to be a candidate in Dr. J. L. Harriman's place on the ticket, but declined to have his name used.

There is evidently a thief around Wollaston Park. Last Sunday evening somebody broke into Master George Stebbins' pigeon coop and stole seven handsome pigeons. The pigeons were prized by George, and he was more than pleased when a number of days ago he found nice pigeons eggs, but they are no good now. If the person who was kind enough to take them away, will be kind enough to bring them back, there will be no more trouble.

Mortgagees' Sale of Real Estate.

PURSUANT to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed dated October 8, 1888, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Lib. 612, Fol. 130, given by George F. Pinkham to Emily W. Macdonald, Joseph Story and Sidney A. Wilbur, as they are Trustees under a deed of trust from Heman W. Chaplin to them dated September 24, 1878, and recorded with Suffolk Deeds, Lib. 1435, Fol. 99, in which said deed of trust said Emily W. Macdonald then a widow is named as Emily W. Conant, and by said Joseph Story and Sidney A. Wilbur, the surviving trustees under said deed of trust assigned to Grace W. Conant and Walter A. Conant, by assignment dated February 5, 1900, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Lib. 865, page 92, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, for breach of the condition of the said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, on FRIDAY, April 20, 1900, at 4 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described substantially as follows:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth aforesaid called Wollaston, and being lot Sixteen (16) in block eight (8) of Section Six (6) of lands of the Wollaston Land Associates as shown on a plan of said section drawn by D. Granger & Son and recorded with said Norfolk County Deeds at the end of Book 406, and bounded: Northeasterly by Newport Avenue, fifty (50) feet; northwesterly by lot seventeen (17) in said block, one hundred (100) feet; southwesterly by lot five (5) in said block fifty (50) feet; and southeasterly by lot fifteen (15) in said block one hundred (100) feet; and containing five thousand square feet.

Said premises are to be sold subject to the restrictions contained in the deeds of the Wollaston Land Associates; subject also to any unpaid taxes and other public assessments.

Seven hundred and fifty dollars of the purchase money to be paid at time of sale.

Other terms made known at time and place of sale.

"Housework is hard work without Gold Dust"

WASHING FEATHER PILLOWS

Feather Pillows need washing once a year. Choose a bright, sunny day; fill a large tub half full of water that is almost boiling hot; dissolve enough in it to make a good suds; put one or two pillows in, according to size, push them up and down and rub them between the hands until clean. If one suds is not enough, use two or more; rinse in clear warm water, wring as dry as possible, and hang them out; when dry, shake well, and they will be as light and soft as new pillows.

RATHER SWEEPING.

Henry H. Faxon's Charges a Surprise.

Prominent Citizens Defend Honor of City.

Many Say the Attack Was Unwarranted.

It is a little early in the year to criticise the Police department of the city, as the present Chief did not assume office until Feb. 1. Aside from that, the charges of Henry H. Faxon are too sweeping and give a false impression abroad of the city. Occasionally there is some deviltry by boys, probably some gambling and drinking, but Quincy is remarkably free from crime.

This is well proven by the fact that there are but ten men and a Chief permanently employed. The people would be quick to increase the force if they saw any urgent need of it.

The greater part of the force, practically all of it, is a night patrol. Nearly every chief has recommended that the force be increased, and Chief Ripley says there should be a day man on patrol in every ward, but many question the necessity.

MAYOR HALL.

The Mayor told a Boston Journal reporter, last night, a little story about Mr. Faxon. When Mr. Hall took up the reins of government, he chose for Chief of Police, Walter H. Ripley, who had been for five years Chief of the Fire Department. He knows the city thoroughly, and is said to be without fear or favor for any one. Chief Ripley proceeded to choose his own Liquor Officer in place of the former one, and Mr. Faxon here took a hand. He wanted the old Liquor Officer retained.

"It is necessary." Mr. Faxon declared, "that some cases should be handled very quiet."

"That's the trouble," Mayor Hall replied, who had learned something of what used to be done in police matters.

"There's going to be a change right away. The Chief of Police is going to be Chief of Police. There is going to be no more of this keeping matters away from the knowledge of the head of the Police Department. He must know everything that the officers are doing."

"It isn't safe to let him know everything," Mr. Faxon said.

Mayor Hall said that some of the police officers were in the habit of running to Mr. Faxon with reports instead of doing what it was their duty to do, to report to the Chief of Police. So long as this queer system was in vogue things went smoothly. When it was interrupted the trouble came.

"When Mr. Faxon says that, deviltry and crime abound in the community,' he states what is not true. Mr. Faxon's statements are the vaporings of an old man. He shouldn't say such things. He shouldn't criticize in such intemperate language."

Mayor Hall said that there might be places in Quincy where gambling is practiced. But they cannot be very open, or else they would be discovered. Everybody does not live an upright life; crimes are committed in every community. But Quincy is a pretty orderly town, and the talk of crime abounding here is nonsense. Mayor Hall knew of no statute that forbade boys smoking on the streets, but there was no more of it in Quincy than amokg boys in other places. He never knew an instance of boys gambling, drinking, etc., in the manner charged by Mr. Faxon.

"We have had some bad boys in Quincy," said Mayor hall. "Sometimes they break windows. Occasionally they go into a house and steal lead pipe. Some boys had a club in a little house off Quincy Avenue, where they played cards, and when they went home nights they used to sing and disturb the neighbors some. But there was nothing worse than that so far as we know. The police put an end to the club."

The Post has done the city a good turn in seeking the following interviews, which are from officials and representative citizens:

Chief of Police Ripley smiled when shown the letter. He said: "If Mr. Faxon or anyone else will tell me where these gambling and drinking dens are, or will swear out a complaint, I'll do my part. As to the talk of gambling and drinking by boys, that's absurd. I believe that perhaps the parent of some wayward boy has gone to Mr. Faxon with an exaggerated story, and on the strength of that he makes these altogether groundless accusations. My officers and I are doing our duty. Quincy was never so clean as it is today.

"Mr. Faxon's remarks as to the cost of maintaining the police force, and his comparison of conditions today with those existing under the old regime, are ridiculous. The town had no regular force; the city employs ten regular men besides myself."

Superintendent of Schools Henry W. Lull read the letter and said: "I am sure that cigarette smoking is not indulged in to excess by boys in this city. As superintendent of schools I have paid some attention to the matter, and some time ago we secured several convictions for selling to boys. If this condition existed to any alarming extent we would surely know it.

"There are ten principals of schools here, and none use tobacco in any form. Neither do I. You can therefore understand that it is particularly obnoxious to us and we would be quick to detect the inevitable evidences of its use by boys.

"As to the other charges, I don't know much, except that, as in the other case, there is no evidence of excess."

Dr. Charles W. Geary, a member of the Board of Health for the past two years, pronounced the whole thing as the veriest nonsense. He said: "Of all the places I was ever in I never saw one that was cleaner and more free from vice in all its forms than Quincy."

A prominent city official who has a son at school, thought the whole thing a little hysterical. He had never seen anything to warrant such a radical statement.

Another business man, who was once a teacher in the public schools, and who now travels considerably, ridiculed the statements in their entirety. He had seen less cigarette smoking by boys, less drinking and less official vice in Quincy than in any town or city he visits.

A High school teacher said: "I can speak for my school and say the statements as to boys are false, and I am also convinced that the remainder of the charges are just as groundless."

The reporter interviewed the managers of stores where cigarettes are sold, and learned that there are few attempts to secure them by means of forged letters from parents or adults.

A High school boy was questioned as to how many boys in his room smoked cigarettes, and he said: "Oh, perhaps half of them do once in a while; whenever they beg one, but there are no fiends." As to gambling and drinking, he never saw any.

Mr. Faxon himself could not be seen, but his son expressed the belief that the charges could be substantiated by his father. He thought there were specific cases, but didn't believe that his father would reveal them just at this time.

Men who are always in a hurry, and most men are, want a soap for the toilet that will lather quickly and freely in hot or cold water. Other soaps than Ivory may have this quality, but will likely contain alkali, which is injurious to the skin. Ivory Soap is made of pure vegetable oils, no alkali, produces a white, foamy lather, that cleanses thoroughly and rinses easily and quickly. Money cannot buy a better soap for the toilet.

Bridges Inspected.

The joint committee of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Legislature were in town this morning The party went from Boston to Weymouth, where they viewed the bridge at East Braintree, and then went through the works of the Fore River Engine Co.

They were then met by Mayor Hall, City Treasurer Gray and President Graham of the Railway Co. with a special car, which took the party to Quincy Point, where the bridge was inspected.

The party then continued on to North Weymouth and viewed the bridge between Weymouth and Hingham. From there the party came to Quincy and took the train for Boston.

Girls Put Out Bonfire.

The excitement on Union street this morning was caused by a few mischievous boys setting a bon-fire on the vacant lot owned by James Griffin, in the rear of the stables owned by E. Menhinick. It was quickly extinguished when it became dangerous, without the assistance of the fire department. Had it not been for quick action on the part of two quick witted young women, it would have gained great headway and caused considerable damage as there was a stiff wind blowing.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

OFF IRELAND'S SHORE.

Queen Victoria Arrives at Kingstown Ahead of the Scheduled Time.

Fireworks and Illumination of the War Vessels.

Finery of "Dear, Dirty Dublin," Sadly Bedraggled by a Heavy Rain.

Dublin, April 4.—The royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with Queen Victoria on board, arrived at Kingstown at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, ahead of the scheduled time, and was greeted with a royal salute from the channel squadron. Rain had been falling all the morning. The royal yacht lay off Kingstown, no one disembarking from her, and no one will leave the vessel until today. Only a handful of persons saw the arrival of her majesty.

The passage of the channel was smooth and the queen suffered no discomfort, although she expressed regret that the premature departure from Holyhead, owing to the threatening weather conditions, should cause her Irish subjects disappointment. It had been officially announced that she would reach Kingstown at 5:30 p. m. instead of 2 p. m., but at the latter hour the Victoria and Albert loomed up through the haze and rain and was greeted with the thunder of 21 guns from each ship of the British channel squadron. Thousands had poured into Kingstown regardless of the pelting rain, which ceased about 5 o'clock, and they braved the cold winds and mud until midnight.

The celebrations were confined to an illumination of the war vessels and to a few fireworks here and there. A shining shamrock stood out against the blackness of Dublin bay, and from the jackies clustered on the decks of the squadron came strains of "God Save the Queen," which were taken up by the patient crowd on shore, and when "Soldiers of the Queen" floated across the quiet water the spectators on Kingstown pier joined in.

Although all political conditions are represented in Kingstown, there was no attempt at a counter-demonstration. In fact the evening's fireworks, singing and cheering were not marred by any hostile note, and the entry of the queen into Dublin today will probably be a repetition of similar friendly conditions.

On Dublin itself, seven miles from Kingstown, the epithet "Dear, dirty Dublin" was never before presumably better justified than yesterday. Dublin was bedraggled, its finery, which rivalled London's jubilee decorations, drooping sadly from the steady rain. However, last evening, when the showers ceased, illuminations such as Ireland had never seen lit up the streets and were viewed by crowds so dense that in several thoroughfares traffic was impossible.

The castle was gay with a dinner party, including the leading Irish nobility; and a spirit of good natured revelry prevailed over every quarter of Ireland's capital.

The queen will disembark some time before noon today and will drive from Kingstown through the city, reaching the vice regal lodge about 2 in the afternoon. Another sword bearer has been secured in the place of James Egan; and, if the universal wish for fair weather should be granted the progress of the queen promises to be one of the most remarkable occasions in the history of Ireland.

By the exercise of tact political considerations have been either kept entirely in the background or banished entirely. Of the Dublin evening papers yesterday The Telegraph, which belongs to The Freeman's Journal, alone strikes a note which approaches the discordant. It says:

Political considerations must chill tomorrow's reception. The nationalists have too much respect for the rights of minorities to interfere with individual expressions of opinion; but anti-British passion will never die out until the aspirations of Ireland are satisfied by reparation for the fraud and wrong perpetrated a century ago.

Strike of Large Proportion.

Pittsburg, April 4.—Reports from the coal mines in the Pittsburg district indicate that the strike inaugurated against the dead work scale and the run-of-mine rate has assumed larger proportions than was at first expected. Few mines are in operation, and fully 20,000 miners are idle. No provisions were made for the strike, and, unless it is speedily settled, it is likely that every mill in the Pittsburg district depending on the coal combinations for their supply of coal will have to shut down.

Matters Before the Cabinet.

Washington, April 4.—At the cabinet meeting a dispatch was read from General Otis covering the operations of the army in the Philippines for a considerable period. The subject of a reduction in the revenues by congress was discussed. It is understood that the administration is in favor of a revision of the war revenue act, so as to cut down the receipts. The resignation of Assistant Secretary Webster Davis was discussed.

Brass Knuckles of No Avail.

Manville, R. I., April 4.—Michael Chapdelaine, a local newsdealer, was knocked down and robbed of $65 while in a remote part of Lincoln early Tuesday morning. Chapdelaine, having brass knuckles, put up a strong fight, but the robber fired three shots, one bullet passing through his hat and another through his hand. Chapdelaine then fainted and the robber secured the money.

To Break Down Color Line.

Albany, April 4.—The assembly yesterday passed a bill providing that no person shall be refused admission into or be excluded from any public school in the state on account of race or color. The bill will permit colored children to attend any public school if the bill becomes a law.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS "OUT WEST."

Returns Thus Far Indicate That Gains Have Been Made by The Republicans.

Omaha, April 4.—City and village elections were held throughout Nebraska yesterday, with the exception of Omaha. While party politics cut little figure in the smaller towns, yet Republican gains are noticed all over the state, especially in the cities, several Democratic strongholds going Republican. South Omaha, for the first time in its history, elects a Republican mayor. The Republicans also elect treasurer, all four councilmen and two of three members of the school board. Lincoln gives the largest Republican majority for years, and makes a clean sweep on the local ticket.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 4.—The result of the municipal elections throughout Wisconsin, outside of Milwaukee, show that where the Republicans or Democrats placed party tickets in the field the Republicans gained the greater number of victories. In many instances, however, party lines were thrown aside and citizens' tickets were elected.

Topeka, April 4.—Municipal elections were held throughout Kansas yesterday. Party lines were maintained in most cases, and the returns indicate that the Republicans have generally been successful.

St. Louis, April 4.—Municipal elections were held yesterday in many towns in Missouri. The results where party lines were drawn were on the whole favorable to the Democrats. There were some surprises on both sides, but the Democratic vote showed the greater gain.

Fell From Fourth Story.

Haverhill, Mass., April 4.—George Peabody was engaged in painting the shutters of the Bishop building when the staging suddenly collapsed and precipitated him from the fourth story to the ground, where he struck on a pile of brick. His skull was fractured, one eye was gouged out and he was also internally injured. He has but few chances for recovery. Jeremiah J. Murphy was also on the staging, but he succeeded in catching upon an open shutter, where he remained until rescued.

Night Work In Fall River Mills.

Fall River, Mass., April 4.—The Merchants' mill of this city will run its machinery in the preparatory departments all night, from 6 p. m. to 6 a. m., allowing the night shift 45 minutes at midnight for lunch. The mill management state that only men will be employed, and that the present 58-hour law will be complied with. The Chace mill will also run its spinning department overtime until 10 p. m. nightly, employing legal help.

Whereabouts Made Known by Death.

Providence, April 4.—Herbert S. Horton, who was killed Monday night by a fall in a shipyard at Wilmington, Del., belonged in this city. Two years ago he disappeared suddenly, leaving a wife and child and prosperous business. He was not heard of again until the news came Tuesday of his death. Previous to his disappearance he had been placed in an insane asylum for a short time, and his brother-in-law was made his guardian.

Simple Accident With Serious Result.

New Haven, April 4.—In cleaning out a stylographic pen several days ago a piece of broken glass and a few drops of ink entered the right eye of Glover Beardsley, a Yale student, causing very painful inflammation. He was treated by a local physician with poor success. He then went to New York and consulted a specialist, who told him that he will lose the sight of the right eye.

Expenditures Far Exceed Receipts.

Washington, April 4.—The war department has given out a statement of the condition of the Puerto Rican treasury for the month of February, 1900. The most important item is that the deficit for the month is $24,191. The deficit in January was $9446. The deficit for the six months ended Feb. 28, 1900, was $155,091, or an average monthly deficit of $25,848.

Must Repudiate Contract and Pay Damages.

New York, April 4.—The Herald says: According to reports received here, Secretary of War Root has decided that the city of Havana must repudiate the $12,000,000 contract for sewering and paving, which it made with Michael J. Dady of Brooklyn, and then must pay Mr. Dady damages for its refusal to allow him to do the work.

Dropped Dead as Warrant Was Being Served.

St. Louis, April 4.—Julius Uhlenruth, cashier of the Hyde Park Brewing company, died at his home yesterday as a deputy sheriff was reading a warrant, charging him with embezzling $9000. Uhlenruth, who was an old man, had been in the employ of the brewing company for a long time.

Missing Girl Found.

Lowell, Mass., April 4.—Maggie Collins, who has been missing from Billerica for a week, was found in the home of the Gray nuns, Union Park street, Boston. She had been become discouraged because of losing her job in the Talbot mills. She was brought back to Billerica last evening.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The archbishop of Munich has forbidden the clergy of the diocese to visit theaters. He has also forbidden cycling, except when in the discharge of duties.

The president has nominated Smith McPherson of Iowa to be United States district judge for the southern district of Iowa. Mr. McPherson was serving his first term in the house of representatives.

George Langevin, aged 26, was found dead in his room at Haverhill, Mass. Death was due to asphyxiation, and is supposed to have been accidental.

Agatha Eagan, aged 20, committed suicide at Putnam, Conn., by hanging. Despondency from ill health is believed to have been the cause.

Joseph L. F. Bertani, perpetual secretary of the French academy, is dead. He was born in 1822, and became secretary in 1874.

At a meeting of the directors of the Bank of England, Samuel S. Gladstone was re-elected governor.

DON'T BE SORROWFUL, DARLING.

Oh, don't be sorrowful, darling,
And don't be sorrowful, pray!
Taking the year together, my dear,
There isn't more night than day.

'Tis rainy weather, my darling,
Time's waves they heavily run,
But, taking the year together, my dear,
There isn't more cloud than sun.

We are old folks now, my darling,
Our heads are growing gray,
But, taking the year all around, my dear,
You will always find the May.

We have had our May, my darling,
And our roses long ago,
And the time of the year is coming, my dear,
For the silent night and the snow;

But God is God, my darling,
Of the night of death so grim;
The gate that leads out of life, good wife,
Is the gate that leads to him.

—Rembrandt Peale.

HAUNTED BY A TELEGRAPH DISPATCH.

A Murderer's Touch on the Instrument Betrayed Him.

Dick Ramsey and I had gone west to make our fortunes. What that means none but an eastern boy who has tried it can tell.

We roughed it together, sometimes faring well when we happened to fall into the camp of a hospitable westerner, but more often tramping it from village to village looking for the work which was never found and wondering when we should strike our "streak" of luck.

Finally we separated, Dick to take the position of station agent at Lakeville, a new settlement, and I to go on to Riverdale, ten miles beyond, to hold a similar position. We could talk by wire, but we found that further communication would be impossible, for we were well tied down and after our separation did not see each other again.

Dick was a gentle sort of fellow, one of those dreamers who never get on in a worldly way, but the dearest companion imaginable. I missed him terribly for awhile, but his occasional talk at the wire told me he was alive and well.

One afternoon there came a frantic call at the wire, and I hurried to the instrument to hear Dick tapping off the words that the express train had been delayed and to hold the "runaway," due at the station ten minutes later, until I heard from him. Directly after the message came the line: "Express train in sight. Something wrong. Stand by." I waited a full minute; then came Dick's familiar tap tap: "Express is being run by strange hands. They have stopped at this station. Send relief."

There was a second's silence; then, before I could flash the alarm along the line, the tapping began again. It ran: "Everything all right. Goodby."

I signaled for him to repeat the message, and again came the words: "Everything all right. Goodby."

I held the instrument in my hand and debated with myself upon my course of conduct. I did not want to needlessly send the alarm along the line. On the other hand, why had Dick sent his first message? I touched the instrument and asked, "Is everything all right, Dick?" And the answer came back, "Everything is all right."

It did not seem at all like Dick's touch, but I laid it to nervousness and quieted my fears while I waited for the "runaway."

I recalled that Dick had told me over the wire the previous evening that the "runaway" would have a large sum of money aboard, which it was to transfer to the express at his station.

When the "runaway" came up, I notified the engineer that the express was waiting for him at Lakeville, and I also casually mentioned that the alarm had come from there, but that afterward I had received a message that all was well.

He seemed disturbed and advised me to repeat the story to the United States marshal aboard, which I did, with the result that the train pulled out of the station prepared for emergencies, though neither they nor I thought anything of the hasty message that had been flashed to me.

Ten minutes later the message came over the wires from Lakeville: "Found train in charge of highwaymen. Dick Ramsey murdered at instrument. Object was to rob the 'runaway,' but we overpowered them after a desperate struggle. Notify the stations along the line to send relief."

This, in brief, was the story of the death of Dick Ramsey, and after I had seen him laid away in the graveyard at Lakeville I packed up my goods and journeyed farther on, for I could not remain so near the scene of my old friend's death.

Well, strange things happen, and after I had found a position with the same company 50 miles away I was assigned back to Lakeville.

I found the village grown into a settlement of very fair size and the simple little station replaced by a very pretentious one, while the humble little churchyard where they had buried poor Dick Ramsey was gay with flowering shrubs, and spires of marble lifted themselves here and there among the trees. Dick's grave was still marked by the rude cross I had placed over it.

Well, in the duties of my new position I am afraid I forgot Dick, and for weeks at a time I never thought of the mound behind the church and the poor fellow who had come with me from home and whose joys and sorrows had been mine for so long.

In Dick's place at the instrument there sat an honest little chap, and assisting him was another lad, for the station at Lakeville now boasted half a dozen employees.

High above the station, on a bluff that commanded the finest view in town, was the home of the president of the company, a man who had fought his way up and who now boasted his millions.

The president was a tall, dark man, with stern features, but a kind heart, and often I watched him with envy as he alighted from his private car and entered the handsome victoria which carried him behind his spanking team up to his home on Lakeville heights.

Often the president did not go up to the city, and on these occasions he wired me on his private line, and I wired to the city for him.

One day, chancing to sit at the instrument, there came a call on the president's wire, and, responding, I received this message: "Let me know if the road is clear."

A minute later I called up his private wire and tapped, "The road is clear."

"All right," came back the answer.

It was a simple enough message, but it set my pulses throbbing. Mechanically I touched the button and repeated the message, "The road is clear," and immediately came back the words, "All right."

I sat at the instrument like a man in a dream, and my thoughts were with Dick, who had sat at the same spot five years before and had touched that same instrument. What was there in that reply that so fascinated me, or was it the anniversary of poor Dick's death that made me fanciful?

That afternoon the president came down to the station on business, and I looked at him closely. He must have seen me watching him, for he shifted his position uneasily and nervously handled the instrument. I may say that he was an expert operator and preferred telegraphing his messages to writing them.

As I watched him I remembered hearing the strange story of his rise; how from an operator on a distant road he had suddenly become a stockholder, a director and finally the president of the road, and how his wealth and holdings were known far and wide.

He seemed ill at ease that day, and I withdrew my eyes and busied myself elsewhere. But more than once he caught me looking at him.

Twice that day the president drove down to the station, and slowly he drove home again, as though he were disturbed about something. The third time he came it was almost dark, and I heard him send his coachman home, telling him that he would follow soon on foot.

For half an hour the president busied himself around the station, a most unusual thing for him, and when he finally took leave it was to walk hurriedly away in the direction of the churchyard, a journey which I often took myself.

Scarcely realizing what I was doing, I pulled my cap over my eyes and started after him. What excuse I would make if he turned and saw me I knew not. I only understood that some force was pulling me onward and that same force was taking me over the same road and in the very footprints of President Greydon of the Lakeville and Laska railway.

To my surprise, he turned the corner as he reached the church and, plodding his way past it, opened the gate which led into the churchyard and slowly wended his way among the graves. Noiselessly I followed him. Through the narrow paths we went, he the substance, I the shadow close after him.

But, horror of horrors, he stopped! And, my God, he bent over Dick Ramsey's grave! Lower and lower he sank until he was upon his knees and his hands were spread out upon the sod. In the uncertain light of the rising moon I could see that he threw back his head, that his face was drawn and deadly white and that his lips were moving.

I must have stepped upon a twig, for a sound betrayed me. Springing to his feet, he turned and faced me, not ten feet away.

With a cry of rage he sprang toward me. "So you followed me!" he cried fiercely between his teeth. "You dogged my steps!"

He was a powerful man, but in the struggle which followed I easily mastered him and had him pinioned, white and panting. "Do not add another murder," I said fiercely, "to that of Dick Ramsey."

"How do you know?" he whispered.

"I recognized your hand upon the wire. I was the agent at the next station when you—took Dick's place—you remember—five years ago—today!"

"Oh, God, yes!" he cried. "Shall I ever forget? When I had to come to this cursed place to live, I thought it might disappear after awhile. But it grows stronger every day. I live with it, see it, hear it—that poor fellow—all the time! Yet I had to do it or be killed. There was a gang of us. Oh, oh!" he cried, and, breaking down utterly, the proud president of the road buried his face in his hands.

It was a strange scene, we two there in the moonlight, accuser and accused, he trembling, I revengeful.

"I tried to lead a better life," he continued, "and on my gains I succeeded well. But, oh, the misery of these years! I thought tonight if I could see his grave and pray upon it I might be forgiven and have rest." His eyes sought the spot where poor Dick lay with crushed skull.

"What are you going to do?" I asked after we had stood there in silence.

"Give myself up now, I suppose," said he. "There is no other way."

The next day the whole country was ringing with the strange confession of President Greydon. He made a clean breast of it and was so manly and sincere in his repentance that nobody was sorry when his sentence was placed at a term of imprisonment instead of the death penalty, which is so summarily dealt out to criminals in the newest of the western towns.—Columbus Dispatch.

MAY FULFILL BOAST.

Boers Surrounding Bloemfontein In Attempt to Recapture It.

French and Colvile Have Rejoined the Main Army.

Belief That Boers Have Moved and Direct Pursuit Would Be Fruitless.

London, April 5.—There are numerous indications that, in pursuance of their boast that they will recapture Bloemfontein, the Boers are trying to surround the town and to cut the British line of communication to the south. Large forces are reported east and south, which are supposed to be making for the railway. They still hold Thaba N'Chu and the waterworks.

Lord Roberts is completing his concentration. Four 4.7 guns and four naval 12 pounders have been mounted on kopjes commanding the plain. The cavalry camp has been removed to a better position northeast of the city. Special precautions are being taken to protect the railway southward.

Several arrests have been made in the town of persons suspected of giving information to the Boers. The railway to the north is in possession of the British as far as Naroe Siding.

General Colville and General French have given up the movement against the Boers east of Bloemfontein, and have joined the main army. It doubtless seemed to Lord Roberts a vain thing to send from 10,000 to 12,000 of his best troops into the wilderness, with a field transport, in the direction of a right angle with his chosen line of advance. The Boers have probably moved elsewhere, and if to the southwest General Colville could as easily strike them from Bloemfontein as by following them up across the plains.

These inferences still leave the situation bewildering for the time being. The enormously superior British forces appear inactive in every part of the war field, waiting yet, probably, for the accumulation of material for a swift advance on the Transvaal frontier. The London military commentators and the public too, to some extent, are irritated and confused by the situation.

A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Mafeking, dated March 28, by runner to Gaborones, says: Last night we received the welcome news of the dispatch of a column, by way of Vryburg, to relieve us. The messenger reported that he had encountered no Boers on the road. Other runners from the north tell of the rapid approach of Colonel Plumer's column. The Boers continue the bombardment; but it is believed now that there are not more than 2000 around us, many having left daily.

Sympathy For South Africans.

Boston, April 5.—Faneuil hall held an enthusiastic gathering of Boston schoolboys and friends yesterday, and speeches were made and resolutions passed in sympathy with the citizens of the South African republics in their struggle with England. P. A. Collins made the principal address, and the remainder of the oratory was supplied by the boys themselves. A committee was appointed to carry the resolutions adopted to Philadelphia, where a national convention of schoolboy sympathizers with the Boers is to be held.

Relieved at His Own Request.

Washington, April 5.—To set at rest stories that have been in circulation to the effect that Captain Leary is to be relieved of the naval governorship of the island of Guam, because of dissatisfaction with his administration of affairs, the navy department says that the officer is to be relieved solely at his own instance. It is also stated that the department is more than satisfied with the manner in which Captain Leary has discharged the difficult and delicate duties confided to his care.

Taft Gets Final Instructions.

Washington, April 5.—Judge Taft, president of the Philippine commission had a long conference with Secretary Root yesterday and received the final instructions to the commission. In case it becomes necessary to modify or add to the instructions to the commission, such changes will be forwarded to Judge Taft at San Francisco. The instructions will not be made public until after they have been finally submitted to the commission in complete form.

Broken Beam Wrought Havoc.

Watertown, Mass., April 5.—Seven platform freight cars made good kindling wood through an accident on the Watertown branch of the Fitchburg railroad. The train was long and heavily laden. A brake beam on one of the cars broke and struck the sleepers. The obstruction broke the couplings of the car, and six others tried to override each other, resulting in a pile of wreckage.

Famous Priest Dead.

New York, April 5.—Rev. Alfred Young, one of the best-known Catholic priests in the United States, founder of the Paulist community, and an author of works on Roman Catholicism and on church music, died here yesterday, after a long illness. He was born in Bristol, Eng.

AMERICAN FLAG AS HIS PLATFORM.

Dewey Admits Presidential Candidacy, and Awaits Orders From the People.

Washington, April 5.—Admiral Dewey has confirmed the interview in the New York World announcing his candidacy for president. He refused at first to add anything to that statement, but later declared in answer to a question as to what would be his platform, "well, how would the American flag do?"

"But the public will be anxious to know your views on the great issues of the day. What stand, for example, will you take on the silver question?" he was asked.

"Well, you know, there can be no question as to the position of a man from my section of the country on that issue." He said further that he had not intended announcing his candidacy so soon, but it had been forced upon him by recent articles in newspapers.

Explaining the medium chosen for communicating to the public, he said: "I gave that statement to the New York World because that newspaper first nominated me for the presidency when I returned from Manila last fall, and I 'threw it down' then, refusing to consider it. That was before I wanted it. Now, however, the bee is buzzing. Well, it is an honorable bee, and I am not ashamed of it."

The admiral persistently refused to declare from which party he would accept the nomination, repeating, "let the people decide that. As I said in that interview, I am ready to obey orders from the people as I have always done."

Bay State Legislature.

Boston, April 5.—The senate yesterday, by a vote of 21 to 15, voted to reconsider its previous vote, by which the Cape Cod canal bill was refused a third hearing, and the matter then went into the calendar.

The house, after considerable debate, by a vote of 90 to 31, substituted a bill giving supervision of telegraph and telephone companies to the gas and electric light commission for the report of the committee leave to withdraw.

Talked Without Disturbance.

London, April 5.—The long-talked-of dinner to Cronwright Schreiner, husband of Olive Schreiner, was held last evening. Sir Wilfred Lawson presided, and several prominent pro-Boer politicians were present. Mr. Schreiner thanked the company for their welcome, and expressed his gratification at finally being permitted to speak without disturbance. He denounced the war in South Africa, and dilated upon British cruelty toward the natives.

Soldiers Did Much Damage.

London, April 5.—For some time there have been disputes between the artillery garrison and the royal munster fusiliers and militia stationed at Fort Brockhurst, Gosport, Eng. These assumed a serious phase when, during the day the officers had admonished the militia, but during the officers' absence, the militia smashed 300 panes of glass, 100 chairs, numerous tables and a great quantity of crockery. About 100 of the rioters will be court-martialed.

Prosperous Season Predicted.

Bangor, Me., April 5.—The shipping season on the Penobscot river has begun, the ice having left the river on Tuesday. Everything points to one of the busiest seasons ever known in the port of Bangor. There is a stock of 24,000,000 feet of logs on the river for early sawing. On the wharves there are piled up about 10,000,000 feet of lumber. This lumber has all been sold and will be moved immediately.

Jury Quickly Reached Decision.

New York, April 5.—The jury in the case of James B. Kellogg, formerly of E. S. Dean & Co., last night returned a verdict of guilty as charged in the indictment. Kellogg, who has been on trial for over two weeks, was accused of grand larceny in connection with the E. S. Dean case. The jury was out only 20 minutes. Kellogg was remanded for sentence until next Monday.

Warrant of Removal Refused.

New York, April 5.—Judge Brown of the United States district court has refused a warrant of removal applied for in the case of Captain Carter's contractors, B. D. Greene, J. F. Gaynor, E. H. Gaynor and W. T. Gaynor, indicted in Savannah. He ordered the discharge of the prisoners without prejudice to further proceedings.

Backed by Argentina.

Lima, April 5.—Recent dispatches from Chile say that considerable alarm exists in official circles there regarding the relations between Peru, Bolivia and Chile, and that it is believed Argentina is urging on Peru and Bolivia to attack Chile.

Striking Weavers Form a Union.

Lowell, Mass., April 5.—The striking weavers of the Faulkner mills organized a union last night, and voted to accept the offer of the state board of arbitration to try and adjust the difficulty with their employers.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

During Wednesday light rain fell along the Atlantic coast from southern New Jersey to South Carolina. Rain or snow was reported in the middle Rocky mountain region, and rain in New Mexico. Elsewhere fair weather prevailed. In the New England states the temperature will rise. Fair weather will prevail. Along the Atlantic coast the winds will be fresh from the north.

THUNDEROUS WELCOME

Accorded Queen Victoria on the Occasion of Her Visit to Ireland.

Popular Enthusiasm Buried All Political Feeling.

Crowds Lined Entire Distance of Nine Miles From Kingstown to Dublin.

Dublin, April 5.—Queen Victoria landed in Ireland yesterday for the first time in 39 years. The disembarkation from the royal yacht was accomplished at 11:30. The commander of the forces in Ireland, the Duke of Connaught; the lord lieutenant, Earl Cadogan, and their staffs greeted the queen. The ride from Kingstown to Dublin commenced in splendid weather and before huge, good-natured crowds. The queen's progress from Kingstown to the vice regal lodge was accomplished without untoward incident, and was marked with great enthusiasm.

Before landing at Kingstown the queen asked for a bunch of shamrocks, and throughout the day she wore them upon her breast.

From the pier at Kingstown to the royal residence in Phoenix park is about nine miles. Crowds lined the entire distance, but there was practically no disturbance, the police and military easily preserving perfect order. Thanks to wind and sunshine, the forests of bunting had regained freshness after Tuesday's soaking.

A most interesting ceremony took place at the city limits, where an ancient gate and castle tower had been reproduced. On the city side of the gate were the lord mayor and council in their scarlet robes, the mace bearers in blue and silver, and several hundred of the best-known Irish, who were provided with seats on stands. The royal Inniskilling fusiliers lined the road as a guard of honor, while behind them were cordons of police, lancers and militia.

Thousands of spectators awaited the coming of the queen. Shortly before her arrival the pursuivant-at-arms galloped up to the lord mayor and asked permission for the entrance of the queen. The lord mayor granted the request. Back galloped the pursuivant-at-arms, the gate banging behind him. Although the aged beefeaters, rigged out for the occasion with costumes from the Gaiety theatre, could scarcely totter around, the whole scene was a counterpart of a 16th century play.

Then from the ramparts of the gate came a fanfare of trumpets. The queen was in sight. Out upon a scarlet cloth, laid upon the muddy road, stepped the lord mayor and the corporation, their robes glowing in the sunshine and their wands and maces flashing. The gate creaked open. The Earl of Denbigh rode through, and then came the life guards. Behind them were carriages containing Home Secretary Ridley, the Duchess of Connaught and her daughters, accompanied by members of the court and attended by mounted equerries, and then more life guards.

Finally, amid almost perfect silence, save for the echo of cheers and cries of "God Save the Queen" from outside the city limits, came the queen herself. Opposite her in her carriage sat Princess Christian and Princess Henry of Battenburg.

The moment the queen passed the gate enthusiasm broke loose, bands played, men cheered, shouted and sang, all bareheaded, and the women waved their handkerchiefs and struggled to get a better view, many of them weeping.

Beside the queen's carriage rode the Duke of Connaught, commander of the forces in Ireland. During the five minutes when the queen was receiving and answering the address of welcome, there was scarcely a lull in the frantic cheering from the crowds. Frequently the queen nodded. Princess Christian also took a prominent part in the ceremony, helping the queen to take the sword, keys and casket containing the address.

After the lady mayoress had presented a bouquet to the queen, the procession moved on. Behind her majesty came a dazzling escort of staff officers, more life guards and dragoons, and finally the Inniskillings, who were loudly cheered as they moved into line.

It was a pageant such as had never been seen in Ireland before. Deafening and continuous cheers marked every stage of the route, especially at the historic college green, where the crowds were thicker than at any other point. Trinity college was almost hidden by stands, which were black with people and flaming with flags and festoons. Amid the thunderous welcome of the populace the bells of the Catholic cathedral rang out a greeting.

At the vice-regal lodge Earl and Countess Cadogan, who had met the royal party at Kingstown, but had taken a special train back, not joining in the procession, welcomed the sovereign to their Irish residence.

During the evening the queen sent the lord mayor a message, saying that she was not over fatigued by the morning's drive, and had been deeply touched and gratified by the welcome she had received. The message concluded as follows: "Her majesty looks forward with much pleasure to her stay in Ireland."

Later the queen officially conveyed to the lord mayor the following: "Convey to the lord mayor and citizens of Dublin the sincere thanks of the queen for the loyalty and enthusiasm of the greeting which her majesty received during her progress through the beautifully decorated route. The queen is happy to be once more among her Irish people, from whom she has again received so warm a welcome."

DOGS MUST BE LICENSED On or Before APRIL 30,

Or the Owners or Keepers thereof

LIABLE TO A FINE!

Extracts from the Laws of this Commonwealth.

Every owner or keeper of a dog of three months old or over shall annually on or before the THIRTIETH DAY OF APRIL, cause it to be Registered, Numbered, Described and Licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city or town wherein said dog is kept, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

An owner of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of the ensuing May; and a person becoming the owner or keeper of a dog after the first day of May, not duly licensed, shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided in the preceding section.

The fee for every license shall be two dollars for a MALE and five dollars for a FEMALE dog.

Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit FIFTEEN DOLLARS, five dollars of which shall be paid to the complainant and ten dollars to the treasurer of the county in which the dog is kept.

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number of dogs so kept exceeds five, the fee shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper, under the age of six months.

Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed, which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day in April in any year, shall, whenever it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May, as provided in Sec. 80 of Chap. 102 of the Public Statutes, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

Good Afternoon.

President Bryant informs us that the Ledger was in error in reporting the members of the gas investigation committee; that Councilman Faxon is not a member, but Councilmen De Normandie, Alden and Packard. It was singular that all the newspapers should have reported it as did the Ledger, but again, not very singular, as it is very difficult for the reporters to catch what the President says. If Mr. Faxon is not on the committee, all reference to his serving is hereby withdrawn. The Mayor should not have been placed on an investigating committee.

It is not generally known that the Park Commissioners of this city have control of the laying out of the new boulevard and shore reservation. The Metropolitan Park Commission looks after the field work, but no taking becomes legal, in accordance with the acts of 1893, until approved in writing by the local commission. Should our commissioners object to any particular location of the boulevard they have the power to have it changed. A case in point is where the Metropolitan Park Commission projected the plan of the boulevard through Merry Mount Park. The commission proposed to run the boulevard through two small ponds and the centre of the large foot-ball field. The Quincy commissioners declined to have one of the most beautiful as well as one of the most useful spots in the park obliterated. A mutual agreement between the two commissions has been reached and the foot ball field will not be cut up. One of the greatest problems to solve is the location at which the boulevard shall cross the railroad tracks near Adams street. Neither commission has yet arrived at a solution of this engineering question.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The South is shouting for more business and less politics. There are places in the North that might take up the refrain with profit.—Nashua Press.

☞ It is roughly calculated that about one more successful Boer trap will smoke Strategist Franklin K. Young out of his retirement in the slough of despondency according to the principles recognized by the student of the military art.—Lynn Item.

☞ Come to think of it, who among the American people cares a kopeck about the order of precedence at Washington social functions? Washington society is largely made up of free lunch fiends and titled and untitled nobodies. We have often noticed even in Haverhill, that the greatest sticklers for form have the least to recommend them.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞ The director of the mint is going to coin $20,000,000 worth of silver half-dollars, quarters and dimes right away, under the authority given in the law of March 14. There is not "small change," enough in the country. The French government will buy 22 tons of silver this week for a similar purpose. The British mint has also been buying silver for minor coinage purposes. There is still a place for silver in the world's money system. It is all right for subsidiary coinage.—Hartford Times.

☞ A Washington physician has been studying the effect on the brain of early education of children, and he has come to the conclusion that modern systems of education that put a child into a kindergarten at 4 or 5 years of age, are destructive of brain development and dangerous to health. From experiment he feels confident that it is better for a child to be kept out of school until he is 8 years old, and instead of fostering precocity he would check it. Aside from the proofs of science which he brings to bear on this theory, it appeals to common sense.—Worcester Telegram.

☞ It is being rumored and of course the report is being spread by the mugwump and Democratic press, that the Republican party is in danger of losing the German-American vote on account of the trusts and expansion issues. One can understand the dissatisfaction which has arisen over the trusts, for which neither of the parties is responsible, but when it comes to the question of reasonable expansion the Republican party can well afford to meet the issue in man fashion and fight it out.—Haverhill Gazette.

As these Japanese have had a war experience within a few years, they must have learned something from that experience; and they have proved that they can shoot pretty straight, like the Yankees of the West.—Malden News.

☞ Cecil Rhodes is a most ungrateful wretch. He feels very indignant that the British army in South Africa should have paid any attention to the relief of Ladysmith while he was obliged to live in a bomb proof shelter and dine on mule steak at Kimberley. According to his idea, General Buller and his troops should have been first sent to the relief of the Rhodes' diamond mines. Mr. Rhodes likewise severely criticises the English generals and says that all of them have been disposed to overrate the Boer strength. Nevertheless he was very careful to remain where he was and made no attempt to break through the thin cordon of burghers that stood between Kimberley and Cape Colony.—Beverly Times.

Funeral of Mrs. White.

The funeral services of Mrs. Mary, wife of Mr. James N. White, were held this morning from St. Mary's church, West Quincy. The services were very largely attended and there were many flowers. Solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. A. F. Roche, assisted by Rev. J. P. Cuffe as deacon, and Rev. D. J. Reardon as subdeaacon. Rev. W. F. Lynch of Hingham was master of ceremonies. The music was by the choir of St. Mary's church, assisted by soloists from St. John's church of Quincy and St. Paul's church of Hingham. The interment was at St. Mary's cemetery.

THERE IS HOPE

Of a Settlement of the Granite Wage Question.

A Friendly Conference of Committees Held.

Cutters' Committee Asked for an Adjournment.

As announced in Wednesday's Ledger, the Conference committees of the Granite Manufacturers' Association and the Cutters' Union held another meeting last evening. The best of feeling prevailed and the two committees discussed the situation in an informal manner, at length.

The Manufacturers' Committee renewed its offer of nine hours pay for eight hours work, which was the matter discussed.

One of the cutters suggested that the manufacturers raise their bid to 33 cents per hour minimum, although they further said they had no power to accept such a proposition. The manufacturers, however, said they could not go beyond the price already offered.

After the discussion the cutters said they did not want to give their answer at this meeting and requested an adjournment to some future night, subject to their call, but probably Friday evening. To this the manufacturers readily agreed, and an adjournment was taken.

It is understood that a meeting of the Cutters' Union will be held to consider the final proposition of the manufacturers, and it was for this purpose the adjournment was desired.

Both sides are anxious to reach a settlement of the strike, and as the offer made by the manufacturers is a substantial increase over that paid the cutters in years past, it is the general wish to accept this offer and settle the strike.

The season is now well advanced and, unless the strike is settled within few days and work resumed, it means an entire loss of the year's business.

The strike pay received by the cutters is small, and while one dollar a day will perhaps do for the single men who can afford to take a vacation, to the family man, who has four or five hungry mouths looking him in the face every day, it is a hardship, for the dollar a day will go but a little way in providing food and clothing.

These men while loyal to the union can not afford to remain idle long, and it can hardly be expected that they will refrain from returning to work if the strike is prolonged.

Therefore, to save the union and start the wheels of industry moving again, it is hoped that the union will vote to accept the final proposition as made.

It is understood that a mass meeting of the Granite Cutters' Union will be held Friday morning at St. Mary's hall, to take action on the offer of the Manufacturers' Association.

Association Not United.

The Monumental News comments as follows on the granite strike:

"The labor question so far as it affects the granite industry in New England remains unsettled. As was anticipated the cutters' demand for an eight hour day at a $3.00 wage was refused by the manufacturers, which resulted in a general cessation of work on March 1st. Compromise agreements were effected however at several points early in the month which while obviating the immediate suspenion of work will require the necessary ratification of the principal organizations.

"Unanimity of action on the part of the manufacturers of different centers would in all probability have hastened an agreement and that without the unsatisfactory quibblings which always result from lack of such unanimity and which cause at least unnecessary delay. The much desired settlement may now be accomplished only after a bitter struggle with the consequent disastrious effects to both interests.

"Having virtually conceded the unreasonableness of the demand by the action of a large number of its members in accepting compromises the National Union should submit to a reasonable settlement not only as to hours and wage rate but to cover a long term of years. An arbitration stipulation should also be agreed upon in order to avoid such unfortunate interruptions in what may be termed local prosperity.

"The trades unions of New Zealand work with great success under an agreed arbitration law, with the result that for five years past there has been no interruption to trade interests by strikes; and by all accounts both employers and employes enjoy a condition which secures, by such mutual arrangments, the greatest possible protection to the welfare of both sides."

Assessors Card System.

The cards to be used this year in the new system of assessing property arrived this morning. The new system is somewhat different from the old method of assessing, and many changes are looked for in valuations.

Under the old method the Assessors had what was known as a field book, in which the names were arranged alphabetically. Under this method one man's land might be assessed for one price and the adjoining lot owned by a party of a different name another price. The reason for this would be, that when Mr. B.'s property was assessed the Assessors could not remember what Mr. A's, or Mr. K's property, which adjoined was assessed for, and therefore there was always much kicking over the assessment.

Under the new system cards are used instead of a field book cards of one color being used for real estate and of another color for personal estate. Under this system the assessors take one street at a time, for instance Hancock street. This they would take commencing at its beginning at Quincy avenue and take every piece of property according to the street numbers its entire length in the ward. These cards are then filed away in a cabinet by streets. This system makes a great deal more work the first year, but it is claimed that the assessment will be more fair and equalized. To inaugurate the new system requires a large amount of extra work and as the cards will have to be made ready before the Assessors start out, extra clerical assistance will have to be employed. The assessors have voted to employ A. G. Dolliver as an assistant to Miss Brackett to do clerical work.

DEPOT COMMITTEE.

President Bryant Objects to the Criticism.

But Understands Mayor Has Approved Plans.

Therefore It Is Time for a Committee.

President Bryant of the City Council hardly thinks he should be criticised for not appointing Mayor Hall as one of the citizens to secure for Quincy a more suitable depot than the one proposed. He informs the Ledegr that he simply obeyed the order of the Council, and appointed three citizens. Had it been the wish of the Council that the Mayor serve, it should have been so directed.

Relative to the further make-up of the committee, he says, he selected as the three Councilmen, the chairmen of the three most important committees—Freeman on Finance, Packard on Public Buildings, and Poland on Streets. He did not consider where they lived, or their attitude toward the movement.

It may be that the President should not be criticised for not appointing the Mayor, but it would have been different had there been hearty cooperation between the Council and the Executive. President Bryant knew the resolution was to be introduced; knew how it read; knew that as drafted it included the President of the Council. He had his name stricken from the resolution before it was offered, but was perfectly willing it should be added as an amendment.

An effort to interview Councilman Packard this morning was unsuccessful, as he was in Boston.

The City Council know that Mayor Hall has been in conference with the railroad officials, and should know that he would be in better standing than a committee of the Council or committee of citizens.

President Bryant says Mayor Hall has approved the plans for the new depot, which provide for a waiting room 20x40, and such being the case, it is not unreasonable to appoint an independent committee.

Mayor Hall was unwilling to be interviewed today, but may have something to say tomorrow.

Had the Mayor approved of the plans, as stated, it would not be necessary for him to be in almost daily conference with the railroad officials as of late. The Mayor as a patron of the railroad to and from Quincy at different hours of the day is better qualified to judge of the needs of Quincy people, than the President of the Council who rarely visits the Quincy depot, or any of the Councilmen appointed on the committee.

Two members of the committee thought the proposed depot was large enough, and should be thankfully accepted; that any attempt to get a larger one might result in delay or the abandonment of the improvement.

Possibly some Councilmen would like to see it abandoned, for fear that Mayor Hall may receive a little credit. Things are not always what they seem.

Street Railway Extension.

It is reported that the West Roxbury and Roslindale street railway have been granted a location for its tracks in Milton through Adams street to Neponset. It is said the line will come through Adams street to Minot, thence through private land to Marsh street, and by the latter street and private land to Neponset, where the line joins the Quincy & Boston line at the Neponset car house. This will give a continuous line from Dedham and Forest Hills to Nantasket beach. The West Roxbury and Rosindale line is a part of the third division of the Massachusetts Electric Co., of which John Graham is manager, and the new line will form an important connecting link in the street railway system in southern Massachusetts.

Many Would-Be Policemen.

An examination of applicants for the Metropolitan Park police force was held Monday at the State House, the examiners being William F. Davis, Joseph D. Fallon and Henry M. Nourse. The Transcript says eighty-three able-bodied men, who are at least five feet seven inches tall, appeared to take the educational test, which is similar to that for the Boston police force, and those who pass this examination later will be subjected to a physical examination to see if they are sound, and then to a test as to their strength, the same as is given for the Boston police.

This examination, which is the second of its kind, is given in anticipation of a call for more men from the Metropolitan Park Commission. When the State reservations, such as the Blue Hill and Revere reservations, are opened, it is likely that the Park Board will have to call for several new men to patrol them, and when the Nantasket Beach and Quincy Shore are sufficiently developed to be opened to the public, a considerable number of park patrolmen will be required.

Post-Office Consolidation.

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Postmaster-General be, and is hereby, authorized to consolidate the post-offices at Quincy and Wollaston, both in the city of Quincy, in the State of Massachusetts; that said offices when consolidation is perfected, shall be known as the Quincy post-office, the post-office now known as the Wollaston post-office shall be a division thereof, and under the supervision of the postmaster of the Quincy post-office as constituted by this Act."

It must not be inferred from the above bill that Wollaston is to lose its 18 mails per day or its Sunday mails. There will be no diminution in the number of mails. Box holders can retain their boxes the same as heretofore. So far as the public can see there will be no change.

Mr. L. Nuther of Chicago, Ill., president of the Rapid Eyeletting Machine Co. of Quincy, is stopping at the Greenleaf, a guest of Mr. Perley R. Glass, manager of the company.

A very enjoyable whist party was held at the home of Mrs. B. N. Adams, Revere road, Wednesday evening. Prizes for best scores were awarded Mrs. John Wales and Miss Addie G. Holton; Mr. E. B. Fuller and Mr. Louis Gomez. Consolation prizes were won by Miss Carrie Matthews and Mr. Harry Holton.

Harold B. Faxon resumes citizenship in Quincy before May first, having rented one of the new houses on Upland road, back of the Centre station. His mother will make her home with him. Mr. Faxon has accepted the position of paying and receiving teller in The People's National Bank, Roxbury district, Boston.

The board of trustees of the First United Presyterian church met Wednesday evening to elect officers. All were reelected. Andrew Stewart chairman, R. A. Macqueen clerk, John W. Kerr, treasurer. The regular meeting of the board of trustees will be held the last Wednesday in each month. The collections for the past year amounted to $3,407.

NANTASKET BEACH.

Board Begins this Week to Prepare Reservation.

The Metropolitan Park Commission commences this week the task of putting in order the Nantasket reservation for the coming season. The commissioners visited the beach last week, going over the ground and finally deciding details. Notice has been served upon former tenants, and the work will begin immediately on tearing down the old buildings.

No extensive improvements are planned this year, which is regarded as the experimental season. The idea is simply to clean up the beach, make it attractive in this way, and then to study the various problems which a year of the new departure may present.

The general plan now of dealing with the reservation, is that all hotel buildings will be removed or closed, except the Hotel Nantasket.

The roller coaster will remain, and the bathhouses, merry-go-round and bowling alleys also. No fakirs will be allowed on the beach and an absence of "competition" will be noticeable.

All the superfluous buildings, great and small, will be ultimately removed or torn down over the whole reservation, including the buildings between the railroad and the sea, and along the road to the north landing, thereby vastly improving the view from trains and vehicles coming toward the reservation. A police station will also be established, probably in the old skating rink adjacent to the hotel.

Mr. Sturgis wishes to use part of the old rink for a dance hall, and the commissioners will probably allow this, under special supervision of the park police.

Daily band concerts will take place in the pavilion, between the hotel and the cafes, and this pavilion, as well as the piazzas and promenades of the hotel, will be free to all.

The commissioners believe that the beach can be made attractive in innocent ways, and it is their intention to favor any legitimate pastimes which are naturally in vogue by the sea.

Law and order will be enforced, and this fact, added to natural attractions of the place, will, the commissioners believe, make the Nantasket reservation an ideal place in which to spend a hot summer day.—Brockton Enterprise.

In Collision.

On Monday evening about 5 o'clock while riding home on his wheel from his place of business, Mr. Otis Cooke, of Clay street, Wollaston, met with what might have proven a very serious and possibly fatal accident. It seems that an electric car obscured from view a carriage, which was coming toward Mr. Cooke and without any warning crossed his path so abruptly as to give him no time to avoid it. With a crash he struck the side of the horse squarely between the fore and hind legs. His bicycle somehow managed to wiggle itself under the vehicle, while Mr. Cooke was doing a very pretty song and dance under the animals hoofs. It was only through his agility that he managed to withdraw himself from his perilous position. By this time the driver was pulling in his very much animated animal, who managed to prance all over the wheel, making it a total wreck. The driver very kindly gave his name and address, but it cost Mr. Cooke ten cents car fare and two hours time to find out that it was fictitious. Mr. Cooke is in the market for a new wheel.

Hamilton Monument.

An incident of years ago is recalled by the following item from the Monumental News:

William S. Hamilton, the son of Alexander Hamilton is buried in the city cemetery of Sacramento, Cal. The monument over his grave bears a bronze medallion of his distinguished father donated by the citizens of Quincy, Mass. It is inscribed "William Stephen Hamilton, son of Alexander Hamilton, born August 4, 1797, died August 7, 1850. Members of the Hamilton family recently sent for the medalion which was cast many years ago and returned it after having obtained copies of it for preservation.

ANIMAL ODDITIES.

Horses in their wild state live to the age of 36 normally, being still fairly fresh and hearty at that age in the desert.

The rats caught in the sewers of Paris are said by the well known catcher, M. Davye, to act like ostriches, burying their heads in holes and forgetting that they can be pulled out by their tails.

The sheep possesses a less degree of nervous energy than the horse, ox and pig, but it is capable of enduring great extremes of heat and cold with less inconvenience and possesses a more vigorous digestion than those animals.

METEORIC.

The pages of philosophical writers of all times contain references to mysterious stones and irons which have fallen from the heavens from time to time.

On April 4, 1095, a star shower during which several aerolites fell was witnessed in England. This was considered a sign of God's anger with William II's mode of life.

The Chinese have a record of a star fall as far back as 644 B. C., and they have an older tradition of a mass of 40 feet in height which fell from the sky in western China.

TRIED TO KILL PRINCE.

Would-Be Assassin Fired Two Shots at Albert Edward In Brussels.

Both Prince and Princess Had a Narrow Escape.

Youthful Anarchist Had Boasted That He Would Attempt Assassination.

Brussels, April 5.—Two shots were fired at the Prince of Wales here yesterday just as his train was leaving the northern station. Both bullets missed the prince.

The attempt occurred at 3:35 p. m. The would-be assassin jumped on the footboard of the prince's saloon car as the train was starting and fired into the car, aiming at the prince.

The would-be assassin, who was immediately arrested, is a tinsmith named Sipido, a resident of Brussels, 16 years of age. His pockets were found to be full of anarchistic literature. Sipido subsequently said he wanted to kill the Prince of Wales "because he caused thousands of men to be slaughtered in South Africa."

He fired two shots at the prince. The Princess of Wales and others were in the car, but no one was touched.

Hearing the shots, the station master rushed to the scene and knocked down Sipido's arm as he prepared to fire a third shot, and a number of persons threw themselves on the prince's assailant. In the confusion a second man, who was quite innocent, was seized, roughly handled and beaten.

After the prince had ascertained that the man who fired the shots had been arrested he declared himself and the princess uninjured and the train started.

When examined by the railroad station officials, Sipido declared he intended to kill the prince; that he did not regret his action, and that he was ready to do it again if given a chance to do so.

Intense excitement prevailed for the moment, as it was feared the prince had been hit, the shots having been fired almost point blank. The railway carriage door was hastily thrown open, and great relief was felt when the prince himself appeared at the window unhurt.

Both the prince and the princess, however, had a very narrow escape. The policeman on duty took Sipido in charge. The latter appeared proud of his exploit and seemed quite calm.

An eye witness says that the train was already in motion, and when the engineer heard the pistol he shut off steam, applied the brake and stopped the train. As the train restarted, after Sipido's arrest, the public loudly cheered the prince.

An examination of Sipido's revolver showed that four chambers had been discharged, but that two of the cartridges had missed fire. The weapon is of the cheapest six chambered description, such as is usually sold here for 3½ francs.

Sipido has a round, boyish face, black eyes and dark hair. At the examination before the magistrate it was ascertained that he had purchased a penny ticket in order to reach the departure platform, where he walked up and down quite a while at the same time that the prince was promenading.

Persons who attended the Maison Du Peuple, where the extreme anarchists meet, say they heard Sipido declare that if the Prince of Wales came to Brussels he ought to have a bullet in his head; and they also heard him offer to bet 5 francs that he would fire at the prince.

According to Le Patriote, some news of the man's views expressed at the meeting referred to was conveyed to the station master, who had taken what he thought were extra precautions.

Sipido appeared at the station in his best clothing, having explained to his father that he was going to seek employment.

The Prince of Wales appeared quite unaffected by the incident. He asked whether the revolver was loaded, and on being informed in the affirmative, smiled and begged that the culprit might not be treated too severely.

The Gazette attributes the following words to Sipido: "All I regret is that I did not kill this man, who, instead of disavowing Chamberlain in his inhuman policy, became his accomplice." The Gazette adds that when taken to prison, Sipido declared that he would have fired six shots if he had not been arrested.

The Prince of Wales arrived at Cologne at midnight. It was learned from a member of his entourage that he remained perfectly self-possessed when the attack was made, and that the princess, although considerably alarmed, soon recovered from the shock.

Broke From Island Prison.

New York, April 5.—The Journal prints a report to the effect that Captain Oberlin M. Carter, sentenced to hard labor in the government penitentiary for defrauding the government, had made a partially successful attempt to escape from Governor's island, where he is confined pending the disposition of his case by the courts. He is said to have gotten out of his prison and to have been caught in a boat.

Westerly Strike May Soon End.

Westerly, R. I., April 5.—The prospects are good for an agreement to end the granite cutters' strike. The proposition made at a conference Wednesday was to the effect that the average price per hour would be above 35 cents, and that a corresponding increase would be made in the price list. This offer is made so that men who work by the day can benefit by the increase.

Death of General Bidwell.

Chico, Cal., April 5.—General John Bidwell, the Prohibition candidate for president in 1892, died at his home near this city on Wednesday from heart failure. He was a pioneer of 1841 and the founder of Chico. He was 80 years old, a native of Chataqua county, N. Y. He leaves an estate valued at $1,000,000.

SPOONER BILL UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Republican and Democratic Congressmen Engage In a Heated Controversy.

Washington, April 5.—The senate yesterday decided to take up the Quay case today under the unanimous consent agreement made on March 16. In accordance also with that agreement the Spooner bill was made the unfinished business, thereby bringing the Philippine question to a direct issue in the senate.

There was an exciting scene in the house as the climax of a discussion of the Kentucky situation when Mr. Wheeler, a Kentucky Democrat, and Mr. Pugh, a Kentucky Republican, faced each other from opposite sides of the main aisle and indulged in a wordy duel. Mr. Pugh charged Mr. Wheeler with misrepresenting facts. He was laboring under great excitement. Mr. Wheeler showed admirable temper, and though quick to resent the fancied insult, awaited the explanation of Mr. Pugh, in which he disclaimed any intention of imputing to him, personally, a desire to distort the facts. Throughout the debate, which was precipitated by a speech of Mr. Boreing, the other Republican member from Kentucky, there was an air of suppressed excitement. It was the first time the subject had been broached in the house, and intense interest was manifested. Mr. Lacey of Iowa concluded the debate with a general denunciation of the Goebel law.

GREGORY ELECTED GOVERNOR.

Republicans Carried Rhode Island by Plurality Lower Than That of Last Year.

Providence, April 5.—With every incentive for active voting, a beautiful day, a presidential year and the roar of a coming national campaign close at hand, the Republicans carried the state election Wednesday and led off in the endorsement of the administration at Washington.

William Gregory of North Kingstown was elected governor over Nathan W. Littlefield of Pawtucket, his Democratic opponent, by about 8300 plurality.

Although the Republicans elected their entire state ticket and again control the general assembly by a large majority, the Democrats succeeded in not only polling a heavy vote, but in cutting down the Republican plurality of last year by over 1000.

With three election precincts missing, the vote stands: Gregory (Rep.), 24,292; Littlefield (Dem.), 16,476. The general assembly will stand on a joint vote 93 Republicans and 16 Democrats, and George P. Wetmere (Rep.) will probably be returned to the United States senate.

Kansas City's Heavy Loss.

Kansas City, April 5.—Convention hall, where the Democratic national convention was to have been held on July 4, was laid in ruins in less than 30 minutes yesterday by fire. A stiff breeze was blowing, and before the fire was subdued the Second Presbyterian church, the church parsonage, the Lathrop public school, a two-story, 13-room building, all situated across the way on Central street, and a half block of three-story flat buildings on Twelfth street, were totally destroyed. Several residences were damaged. The aggregate loss is $400,000. Plans are on foot to rebuild convention hall immediately, and have it ready for the Democratic convention in July.

Fasting as a Cure For Disease.

Boston, April 5.—Dr. J. Pfeiffer of North Adams, who on March 26 completed a 21 days' fast, states that he will soon begin a longer fast, in company with a number of persons who have been declared incurable, to demonstrate that Bright's disease, heart and liver diseases, associated with or without dropsy; serious chronic rheumatism; excessive obesity; extreme trouble with the digestive organs, and the worst form of melancholy, can be successfully cured by scientific fasting. A committee of prominent newspaper men, physicians, scientists and progressive thinkers of various walks of life will have charge of the experiment.

Relocation of Sentence Asked.

Ponce, P. R., April 5.—The Republican municipal council has asked Governor General Davis to cable to President McKinley a request for a commutation of sentence passed by the Puerto Rican supreme court on five murderers condemned to be garrotted. Three of the five are Republicans. The people generally are in favor of having the sentence carried out, owing to the revolting nature of the crime, but the public executioner refuses to act.

Killed While Responding to Alarm.

Stamford, Conn., April 5.—Zophar Horton, captain of No. 1 engine company, was killed Wednesday night while responding to an alarm of fire. He was riding on the running board of the fire truck, when the wheels caught in the street car tracks, and he was thrown off, the wheels of the truck passing over his chest. The fire was a trifling one.

Struck by Derailed Car.

Boston, April 5.—By the jumping of a moving car from the rails and dashing against a stationary car, in the elevated South Boston stables last night, Edward J. Hennessey, a conductor, was killed. He was changing car signs as the derailed car struck him.

Pleased at Prospect of Relief.

Ponce, P. R., April 5.—Much satisfaction is expressed at the news that the Puerto Rican bill has passed the United States senate. Many are opposed to the terms of the bill, but welcome any settlement that will tend to relieve the present distress.

Knockout May Cause Death.

Adrian, Mich., April 5.—In a prize fight at Jasper Tuesday night between Isaac English and Albert Day, colored, the latter was knocked out, and has remained in an unconscious condition since. His condition is said to be critical.

Winter's Following Is Small.

St. John's, April 5.—Mr. Morine was chosen leader of the opposition in the colonial legislature yesterday. He has 11 supporters. Former Premier Winter is left with but four.

PRESIDENT STILL IN CONTROL.

Everything In Puerto Rico Is Provisional and Temporary, Pending Action of Congress.

Washington, April 5.—Solicitor General Richards of the department of justice has filed a brief in the supreme court which fixes the attitude of this government on the question of whether the constitution extends to the new possessions of the United States. The department of justice says it does not without act of congress.

The case is that of Ramon Baez, a native born inhabitant of Puerto Rico, who applies for leave to file a petition for writs of habeas corpus and certiorari to secure his release from further imprisonment under a judgment of the United States provisional court of Puerto Rico sentencing him to two months' imprisonment for illegal voting at a municipal election held under the military order. The prayer is that the writ of habeas corpus be directed to Samuel C. Bothwell, marshal of the provisional court at Humacoa, P. R., commanding him to produce Baez before the supreme court, and that the writ of certiorari issue to the provisional court of Puerto Rico commanding it to forward to the court a transcript of the proceedings in this case.

After reviewing the case the solicitor general makes the following argument: "Is this military court and its trooper marshal within the territorial jurisdiction of this court? Both are in Puerto Rico. While that island has been ceded to the United States, congress has as yet taken no action toward organizing the territory or applying to it the constitution and the laws of the United States.

"The ultimate disposition and government of territory thus acquired rests with congress under the power granted it to 'dispose and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States.'

"Congress has not yet acted. The president is therefore still in control, acting through the war department. The occupation is a military occupation. The so-called courts are the mere agencies of the military power. Everything is provisional and temporary. The department of justice of the United States is not in operation in Puerto Rico. The court has no jurisdiction of the case presented."

Mrs. Hackett Acquitted.

Dover, N. H., April 5.—In the supreme court Wednesday, Mrs. Mary R. Hackett, charged with being accessory before the fact to the breaking and entering of the residence of her husband, was acquitted. The government charged that Mrs. Hackett, who had been divorced from her husband, hired Almar Davis and Henry Burley to break and enter her husband's house, for the purpose of giving him a whipping. Before the grand jury had reached her case, Mrs. Hackett and her husband had effected a reconciliation and again married. Davis and Burley appeared in court Wednesday, retracted their former plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty to entering and larceny, but the court adjourned without imposing sentence.

Dr. Dewey Called to Brooklyn.

New York, April 5.—At a meeting of the church and society of the Church of the Pilgrims, Brooklyn, last night, the pulpit supply committee, appointed to consider the matter of calling a successor to Rev. Dr. Richard S. Storrs, unanimously recommended the name of Rev. Dr. Harry P. Dewey, pastor of the South Congregational church, at Concord, N. H. The recommendation was ratified.

Poor Outlook For Creditors.

New Haven, April 5.—The record of the New Haven Trust company, receiver for the Connecticut Indemnity company, shows that the receipts for the six months have been about $3000, and that the expenses have been practically the same. The total claims thus far handed in will reach $220,000. The indications are that there will be almost nothing for the creditors.

A Lack of Efficiency.

Lynn, Mass., April 5.—A company of the militia—I of the Eighth regiment of infantry—which has seen service in two wars, has been ordered disbanded through lack of efficiency. The orders were issued from the office of the commander-in-chief. The company's officers and the men will receive honorable discharges. Company I was formed in Lynn in 1860.

To Remove Four Thousand Corpses.

Clinton, Mass., April 5.—Martin Murphy has commenced work on his contract for removing 4000 bodies from the old to the new St. John's cemetery, the latter being situated in Lancaster. The old cemetery has been in use by the St. John's Catholic parish for 50 years.

And More Are Wanted.

New York, April 5.—According to the Washington correspondent of The World, the navy department has bought the submarine torpedo boat Holland for $160,000, and will ask authority from congress to obtain from eight to ten additional boats of the same type.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Mrs. Ada Lawrence died at Quincy, Ills. She was one of the oldest actresses in the country.

Wells Valentine, president of the Valentine company, which has a large knitting plant, died at Bennington, Vt., of consumption, aged 36. He returned a few days ago from the Bahamas, where he had lived for two years, in hopes of recovering his health.

James Kelley of Clinton, Mass., has brought suit to break the will of his uncle, the late James Kelley of Lowell, who left an estate of about $12,000.

The trustees of Middlebury (Vt.) college have formally accepted the gift of $50,000 recently made by Ezra J. Warren of Chicago for the erection of a hall of science.

Germany's efforts to penetrate up the Chinese rivers with gunboats have failed because the boats are too deep. The German naval department has, accordingly, ordered the construction of seven flat-bottomed gunboats for this special purpose.

Manuel Maderios, a farm hand, employed in Middletown, R. I., was killed as the result of a runaway accident.

Tired Out

And she does not understand why. Her work used to seem so easy. You could tell her whereabouts as she worked by the snatches of song which now and again overflowed her happy lips. And now she can hardly keep up. Her head pains, her back hurts, and she feels entirely worn out. What is the matter? The probability is that the stomach is disordered, the liver is not performing its whole duty. Poisons are accumulating in the blood, and unless these are removed, and the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition cured and strengthened, there is liable to be a serious illness. There is no medicine can equal Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for prompt help and perfect cure for diseases of the stomach and blood. It strengthens the stomach, purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves, and brings back the happy days of health, when life is all song and sunshine.

"I suffered ten months from a complicated case of liver complaint, constipation, indigestion, suppression of monthly function, and kidney disease, too," writes Miss Lula M. Brittle, of Ivor, Va. "I also suffered excruciating pain in my back and head. I am glad to say that six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' three vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and two bottles of 'Compound Extract of Swart-Weed' cured me entirely. I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all sufferers."

Swansdown FLOUR.

When you are willing to pay a little more than the average price of all Kinds of Flour and obtain a barrel of Swansdown that will make enough more bread to offset the little more you have paid. Then you will get the best bread, the whitest bread, the lightest bread, the sweetest tasting bread and on account of its yielding qualities it has not cost you any more than the cheapest.

BOERS ARE CLOSING IN,

Evidently Inclined to Carry Out Boast of Recapturing Bloemfontein.

"Conquered" Parts of Free State Not Yet Settled.

Sortie by Baden-Powell and Plumer Repulsed by Boers Near Mafeking.

London, April 6.—Little news gets through from South Africa and no actual achievement on either side is reported. The correspondents at Bloemfontein, in brief dispatches to which the increasedly rigorous censorship limits them, concur in saying that the Boers, emboldened by General Roberts' inactivity and their recent successes, seem inclined to take the offensive, with the idea of carrying out President Kruger's reported boast that he would recapture Bloemfontein. Their efforts seem to be directed to cutting the British communication south, and considerable precautions have been taken to prevent their doing this.

General Gatacre is at Springfontein, co-operating with General Roberts to protect the railroad. The measures taken for the protection of Bloemfontein include the mounting of four 4.7 inch naval guns and four naval 12-pounders on the kopjes commanding the surrounding plains. One correspondent declares that the situation is most satisfactory, despite Saturday's mishap, but there is much evidence that the so-called conquered parts of the Orange Free State are by no means settled, and that a number of burghers who outwardly submitted to superior force do not accept the new rule willingly.

There is a leakage of information regarding the British movements, and many Dutch sympathizers in Bloemfontein have been arrested in consequence, much to their apparent surprise.

As usual, whenever there is any check in the progress of the British campaign, the war office is being severely censured for failing to maintain the necessary supply of remounts for the army. It is possible Lord Roberts has difficulties other than remounts with which to contend.

Much anxiety is felt as to the water supply, despite the statements cabled home that there is no fear of a water famine.

Whatever the reason may be, considerable dissatisfaction is beginning to be expressed here at the unaccountable delay, both at Bloemfontein and in Natal, which enables the Boers to recover from the demoralization caused by Lord Roberts' former rapid movements. The enemy now evidently hope to retard the advance by threatening the railway behind Lord Roberts. So far as the Natal railways are concerned, repairs are being made beyond Elandslaagte, and the idea, so often repeated, is that an advance is imminent.

Thabanchu is still held by the Boers, who also continue to hold the waterworks. The Boers across the Modder river are in some strength. East of Bloemfontein the mounted infantry are in touch with them at Bushman's kop, 12 miles distant.

A special dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez says sharp fighting occurred April 2 in the neighborhood of Mafeking. The garrison made a sortie, while Colonel Plumer's cavalry attacked the Boers at Ramathlabama. Both attacks were repulsed. Twenty of Colonel Plumer's men were found dead on the field, and six others were made prisoners. The federal losses were small.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Times, telegraphing Wednesday, says: The Boers showed in some force yesterday, with three guns, towards Bushman's kop. Detached groups skirmished up to our outposts, but this morning shows that the enemy desire to sweep further round to the right of Bloemfontein. Early today artillery fire in the south was audible.

The Times publishes the following from Wopener, dated April 4: The Boers are sniping our patrols. A party of blindfolded Boers was brought in with the following written message: "I am here with several thousand burghers, and, in the cause of humanity and to save such a dreadful sacrifice of life as occurred in the last battle, I demand your immediate surrender." This was signed "Banks, general." The party was sent back with the answer "No reply." General Brabant's force is here, and will give some trouble to any body of Boers likely to attack us.

A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from Ladysmith says that the Boer investing positions reveal immense strength, ingenious construction and immunity from the British shrapnel and lyddite fire.

A dispatch from Ladysmith to The Daily Chronicle gives serious news of the outbreak of a deadly lung sickness among the oxen, which, if it spreads, is likely to cripple General Buller's operations.

From Lourenzo Marquez comes the report that Mr. Steyn has been appointed commandant of the Free State forces.

Although Colonel Plumer is reported to have gotten within six miles of Mafeking, it is evident that the siege had not been raised on April 2. Toward the end of this month Colonel Plumer will be reinforced by the troops now going by way of Beira, so that relief cannot be far distant.

Dr. Jameson, the leader of the famous raid into the Transvaal, has arrived at Cape Town. He is very ill.

QUEEN PASSES AN UNEVENTFUL DAY.

Newspapers Discuss Political Effect of Queen Victoria's Visit to Ireland.

Dublin, April 6.—Queen Victoria went out for a drive in Phoenix park yesterday afternoon as quietly as she would have done in London. She bowed in return to the frequent salutations. She did not enter the city streets, and returned to the vice regal lodge for dinner.

The official announcement of the formation of the Irish guards was not given out here and came from London too late for the afternoon papers. Neither The Freeman's Journal, The Independent nor The Irish Times comments upon it this morning; but The Express says it is a "great and kindly compliment to Ireland," and suggests that the guards should be chiefly composed of the remnants of the Irish regiments which have fought so valiantly in South Africa.

The Independent, commenting upon the suggestion of the London Daily Mail that the time is ripe for the government to seek to make Irish sentiment a great bulwark of the empire, says: Past experience would lead us to expect that nothing particularly advantageous to Ireland will result from the visit of her majesty; but this imperialistic organ is right in indicating that British statesmen have an opportunity of making Irish sentiment a bulwark of the empire. It is an opportunity they have always had, but they have never had the political sagacity to realize it. The editorial goes on to say: The best experiment the imperial government could make would be to grant Ireland her rights. Until this is done a dozen queen's visits every year would not make things otherwise.

It is understood that the queen received the news of the attempted assassination of the Prince of Wales with calmness, and that although disturbed, she was not in the least agitated.

The illuminations last night were again the feature of the town, attracting large but orderly crowds, although many deserted the city proper to go to Kingstown, where a brilliant display of fireworks was given.

Admiral Sampson's Daughter Married.

Boston, April 6.—A brilliant society event was the wedding Thursday evening of Miss Hannah W. Sampson, youngest daughter of Rear Admiral Sampson, and Ensign Wat T. Cluverius, U. S. N., which was solemnized at the commandant's residence at the navy yard. The company that witnessed the ceremony included prominent army and navy people, and others equally well known in the social and business life of Boston. The service was performed by Rev. Frank J. Goodwin of Glen Ridge, N. J. The Marine band played the wedding march, and contributed other numbers. All the officers present were in full dress uniform. The young couple will reside at Annapolis, where the groom has recently been ordered for duty at the naval academy as instructor in gunnery.

Washington Republicans For McKinley.

Ellensburg, Wash., April 6.—The Republican state convention yesterday elected eight delegates to the national Republican convention, instructing them to vote for William McKinley for president. The platform endorses the administration of President McKinley, approves the action of congress in enacting to law the existing gold standard, endorses the doctrine that the territory acquired as result of the war with Spain is subject to such laws as congress may enact, and favors prompt establishment of such permanent government in the newly acquired territory as will promote civilization, education and commerce, such government to be based on the home rule principle.

Canadian Carried Off the Honor.

New York, April 6.—H. D. Bates, a young field shooter of St. Thomas, Ont., a man who was comparatively unknown in the trap shooting world until yesterday, has won the grand American handicap, the most important event of the year for wing shots. He has shot only twice previously in pigeon shooting tournaments and has never before competed in the event that he won in such magnificent fashion yesterday. There was $5555 in the sweepstakes, divided into 54 moneys.

Contracted Disease From Animals.

Winsted, Conn., April 6.—Dr. E. M. Heath, a veterinary surgeon, for the past two years has been busily engaged in treating cattle affected with tuberculosis and horses that had the distemper. As the result he is now suffering from an illness which seems to be a combination of both maladies. For some weeks he has been in an unconscious condition for the greater part of the time. Doctors say that he cannot recover.

Whole South Interested In Experiment.

Charlotte, N. C., April 6.—The Coleman Manufacturing company of Concord has started the machinery of the negro cotton mill of that place for the first time. This mill is owned largely and will be operated by negro labor. It is an experiment, but is backed by men of means. The people of the whole south are interested in the experiment. Work in earnest will not begin for some days yet.

Conditions Not Very Encouraging.

Havana, April 6.—General Wood is receiving a large number of inquiries from the United States with reference to La Gloria colony. To all he replies with the advice that any person contemplating a visit to the colony should consider the matter very carefully, as there are no hotels there and as the existing conditions of living are very hard and precarious.

THE CRIME OF SIPIDO

Deeply Regretted by Members of Belgian Chamber of Representatives.

Individual Crimes Are Condemned by the Socialists,

But They Look at "Great Collective Crimes" In South Africa In Another Light.

Brussels, April 6.—The attempt at the assassination of the Prince of Wales is the sole topic of conversation on the streets and in the cafes and theaters here. Everywhere regret and deep indignation are manifested and satisfaction at the failure of the criminal attempt is unanimously expressed.

In the chamber of representatives yesterday President Snoy said he felt sure he was but voicing the feeling of the whole Belgian nation in expressing, in behalf of the chamber, the indignation created in all minds by the attempt made on the life of the prince.

"The youth of the criminal," he continued, "leads me to hope it was only the act of a person unconscious of the enormity of his offense, but we feel bound to express to England and the Prince of Wales our most sincere regrets."

The minister of foreign affairs, M. De Favereau, in behalf of the government, associated himself with the regret of Baron Snoy. "The government," he said, "yesterday forwarded to the Prince of Wales and Queen Victoria an expression of the indignation to which so odious an outrage had given rise."

The Socialist leaders announced their unanimous approval of the words of the previous speakers, adding, however, that if Socialists condemned individual crimes, they blamed with no less energy the "great crimes being committed at present in South Africa, and they protested against the inaction of Europe, which was indifferent to the crimes the English perpetrate in South Africa. But, at the same time, they deeply felt the attempt against the Prince of Wales."

"Blood calls for blood," said M. Van Der Velde, the leader of the Socialists. But this remark called forth a protest from the Rightists, who declared that Great Britain had always been the best guarantee of Belgium's neutrality.

M. Lorand, Leftist, while admitting Great Britain's services to Belgium, said he could not, nevertheless, "forget that she had betrayed her traditions in attacking a free people."

The minister of foreign affairs expostulated at the last remark, and said the Leftists ought to observe the reserve which was the most elementary of the rules of courtesy, rendered incumbent upon them, to which M. Van Der Velde retorted:

"You failed to blame the red sultan. You have, therefore, no right to find fault with us. We protest against the attempt on the life of the Prince of Wales, but we also protest against the infamous, shameful war the English are waging on a free people. You have protested in the name of the government. We protest in the name of the Belgian people, and send to the Boers our fraternal greeting."

The minister of foreign affairs again protested against these attacks on a friendly nation, when M. Furneinent, Socialist, jumped up and shouted: "Long live the Boers," whereupon the president of the house appealed to the patriotism of the chamber not to prolong the discussion, but the Leftists continued to inveigh against Great Britain "undertaking an unjust and infamous war."

After further heated interchange of remarks, during which M. Van Der Velde repudiated the Rightist insinuation that his remarks at Tuesday's Socialist meeting in any way instigated the commission of outrages, the president of the house declared the incident closed.

The Independence Belge says: "The criminal is insane. There is no sign either of a plot or vengeance. All our sympathies go to the Prince of Wales, the royal family and Great Britain."

One of Sipido's accomplices has been arrested. Sipido seems inclined to make a confession, and, judging from his latest statements, the outrage was the outcome of a plot. The names of three of his associates are known to the police. The person arrested has confessed that he sold the revolver to Sipido. His name is Meert. He admits that he had a conversation with Sipido on the subject of the outrage on the prince, but pretends that the words were spoken in jest. The police are seeking two other accomplices.

Convicted of Conspiracy.

Lansing, Mich., April 6.—In the case of Arthur F. Marsh, late inspector general of the Michigan national guard, indicted with others, charged with conspiracy to defraud the state in alleged fraudulent military clothing transactions, the jury yesterday returned a verdict of guilty.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Fair weather generally prevailed Thursday and the temperature rose generally. The indications are that fair and warmer weather will prevail in the New England states. Along the Atlantic coast the winds will be light and variable and shift to easterly.

Good Afternoon.

Don't lose sight of the fact that it is free trade with the world, not with little Porto Rico, that the democrats want.

President McKinley is strongly in favor of a reduction of war taxes, now that it has become certain that the Treasury surplus has come to stay, and as soon as it can be done without disturbance to trade relations he will recommend a reduction to Congress.

If Senator Pettingrew used the language quoted by Cuban papers, during his recent visit to the Island, he should be tried for treasonable utterances. He is said to have stated that President McKinley and his administration were planning to make Cuba our colony, instead of an independent republic.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ A fashion writer predicts that the pointed toe in shoes is about to intrude itself upon us. Never will the square toed, low heel shoe be wholly absent from the sensible girl's wardrobe. She has known its comfort too surely to let the fashion of the few interfere with here welfare.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ Much of the present prosperity of the United States is due to the great strike of engineers of England a few years ago. Though it failed as a strike the harm it did to British trade through driving business out of that country was immeasurable. Perhaps the American machinist now desire to send business back over the ocean.—Waterbury American.

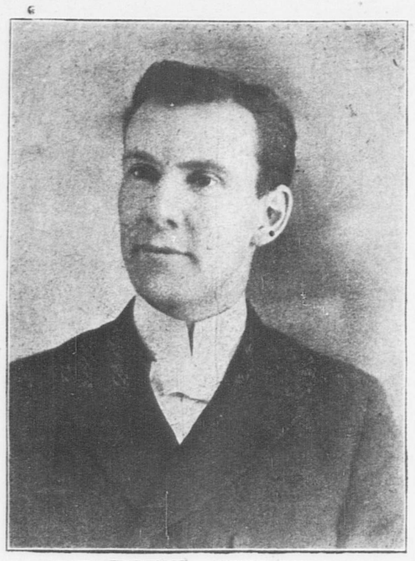

☞ A Boston paper remarks that one of the notable features of Lynn's new and beautiful public library building is the fact that Andrew Carnegie has had nothing to do with it. It is also a notable feature of Massachusetts that there is no Andrew Carnegie library in the Commonwealth. There are only two towns, as we recall the report, where there are no public libraries. Mr. Carnegie knows this and has made no effort to work our State.—Lynn Item.

☞ Business men have gone before the General Court to ask that the tax rate of Boston be kept less than that of other cities of the Commonwealth. Our rate is $9 per thousand for current expenses. The rate in other cities is $12 per thousand. We are spending just twice our income. Business men banqueted the two city Officials who in the past four years have done their best to increase the huge debt to $20 a head and padded Boston's payroll with useless names— useless to the city, but servicable to our local Tammany on election day. Mayors Hart and Curtis are "politicians." The blind indorsers of Tammany tactics at City Hall and the State House that have left us with a crushing debt were "business men." Which are the better patriots?—Commmercial Bullletin.

UNIVERSALISTS INSTALL PASTOR.

Flattering Success of Rev. Merril C. Ward Since He Has Supplied the Pulpit.

The services attending the installation of Rev. Merrill C. Ward as pastor of the First Univeralist church were held at the church Thursday evening. The exercises were of a very interesting nature. They were very largely attended, not only by the present and former parishioners of the church but by friends of the parish from Quincy and Hingham.

The exercises opened with an anthem by the choir followed by the invocation by Rev. C. H. Pennoyer with responsive service by the people.

Then came a hymn by the congregation and the reading of the scripture lesson from the fourth chapter of Paul to the Ephesians by Rev. Robert T. Polk.

Rev. George L. Perin, D. D., then gave the sermon taking his text from first Corinthians "Paul called to be an apostle to the church of God which is at Corinth."

If the church of those days could be called the church of God the church of our modern life can be called the church of God. The reason is that we have that ideal before us. It was good then to raise the question with what forces they work. Much depends upon the resources, intellectual, moral and and financial. Many a life has been wrecked for lack of resources to draw from. To the speaker's mind the three ethical forces as far as he could see were Home, Common Schools and the Christian church. The speaker then took up each of these forces separately and enlarged upon them saying it was not possible to overestimate their power. The great message the Christian church has for the world is that there is nothing better or so good as that this world belongs to God, that every human soul belongs to God. The nearer we can bring the church up to the ideal of Jesus Christ the better we are. If you want to prevent moral anarchy in the world you must stand by the church. In closing the speaker urged his hearers to stand by their new pastor.

Following the sermon there was a selection by the choir and the prayer of installation by Rev. Robert T. Polk.

Rev. Edwin N. Hardy, pastor of the Bethany church, then extended the welcome to the city saying that he looked upon Rev. Mr. Ward as one of the spearsmen in the annual tilt with the liquor men.

Edmund Hersey, 2d, of Hingham followed with a fraternal word to the Quincy parish from Hingham parish.

Rev. Alphonso E. White gave the charge to the people and after the singing of a hymn by the people the exercises closed with a benediction by the pastor.

Mr. Ward is well known and much beloved by the Univeralist society in this city where he has been pastor for past four months; and by many of the citizens who have had the pleasure of making his acquaintance.

He was born on a farm in Guilford, Vt., Jan. 27, 1871, and when a boy he worked in a bookstore and at the machinist trade. But his heart was in the ministry, which he says is his life and joy.

In 1890 he was graduated with high honors from Glenwood Classical seminary, West Brattleboro, Vt., after which he attended Tufts college, winning second prize in oratory in 1894, graduating from the Divinity school in 1896, ranking second in the class and receiving a commencement part. Afterward he studied at the Emerson College of Oratory.

His first sermon was preached in the Hingham Universalist church in the winter of 1893. His first parish work was during his vacation in summer of 1894, at South Buxton, Me. In the summer of 1895 he organized a parish at Bar Mills, Me., where the society has erected a beautiful church. Although he has had charge of the Hingham church since March 1, 1895, he was not installed as pastor until Sept. 30, 1896; and he is now the longest resident pastor in Hingham. He resides in the house opposite the West Hingham station, where his friends will find him at home on the first and third Tuesday afternoons and evenings of each month.

Mr. Ward married Miss Margaret E. Harmon Dec. 24, 1897; an organist whom he met at Buxton, Maine. He holds many important positions: Is superintendent of Christian Citizenship department, Y. P. C. U.; president of Heth Aleph. Res., an incorporated college fraternity; president Neal Dow club, Hingham, and is a member of Mechanics Temple of Honor, and Grand lodge, I. O. G. T. He drafted the platform of Massachusetts Prohibition party in 1899. He won oratorial contest between Prohibition clubs of Harvard, Tufts, Boston university and Newton seminary, May, 1896.

He is greatly attached to Hingham where he has resided three and a half years, and attended fifty funerals during that time. His mother, Mrs. Ellen A. Ward, who resided with him, died Sept. 8, 1897.

In accepting the pastorate of the Quincy church Mr. Ward will not relinquish that of the church in Hingham.

Failure of Durgin-Merrill Co.

The Quincy Department store after a brief existence of six months has made an assigment for the benefit of creditors. It is particularly unfortuate coming at this time as the firm had made extensive preparations for spring trade. NOT SUCCESSFUL.

Ground Lost in Bringing About a Settlement.

Granite Strike Will Continue Indefinitely.

The Union Objects to a Secret Ballot.

The ray of hope that appeared at the meeting Wednesday night between the committees representing the Granite Manufacturers and Cutters, that the strike in the granite industry might be brought to an end, was dispelled this morning, and the situation now is farther from settlement, if anything, than it was before.

At the conference held Wednesday night the Cutters' Committee said they had not the power to settle upon the basis proposed by the Manufacturers, and they asked an adjournment, which was readly granted. The understanding was that the Cutters would hold a meeting to settle the question, or further instruct its committee, and it was planned to hold another conference Friday night. This conference owing to the action or non-action of the Cutters' Union will not be held.

A mass meeting of the Cutters was held this morning at St. Marys' hall which was very largely attended but when an adjournment was made no action had been taken.

At this meeting it was proposed to take a secret ballot to see if the Union would give its committee full powers to settle. A motion was made to take a secret ballot, but was voted down. There was no further business, and the meeting adjourned.

This action simply means that the Cutters are determined to stand by their demand for a minimum price of 35 cents per hour, and will take nothing else. It would therefore seem that the prospects of a settlement are now very remote.

A BILL REPORTED.

For the Rebuilding of the Quincy Point Bridge.

In the Legislature today the Committee on Roads and Bridges reported a bill for the rebuilding of the bridge over the Weymouth Fore river between Quincy and Weymouth. It provides for a wide draw, and that the work shall be done under the direction of the Norfolk County Commissioners, the cost to be apportioned among the cities and towns benefited, by a commission of three disinterested men appointed by the Supreme court.

A minority report provides that the cost shall be apportioned only among the Norfolk county city and towns benefited.

The Depot Committee.

Mayor Hall is quite wrathy over the action of the City Council with reference to the depot, which would in every way have been satisfactory to Quincy people. As yet he is unwilling to be interviewed for publication, but will probably be heard from at the proper time.

Councilman Packard says, "No disrespect to the Mayor was intended in the appointment of the railroad committee, simply an oversight on my part. Twenty Councilmen and City Officers, failed to notice omission.

Council has the right to appoint investigating committees from their members, excluding Mayor, unless communication comes from him.

As a proof that it was a case of forget, note that I offered resolution requesting Mayor to Welcome the Eastern Dock Co. to Quincy.

And at a prior meeting, requesting Mayor to interview Electric Railway officers regarding free transfers.

If your readers would like to know the facts about the new station, I would say, that outwardly it is to be a handsome building, and as originally planned. The committee simply requested a third larger structure, with additional toilets, which were granted. The enlarged station will be built at once and will be an ornament to the city.

—Society in Washington is becoming greatly disturbed over the influences of its social customs. The long strain of the social season is beginning to make alarming inroads on the health of prominent hostesses. Several times during the past week, dinners have been practically suspended on account of the sudden illness of those seated around the board. Many ladies of rank have firmly refused to attend these receptions or to sit down to banquets at a late hour, which is sure to leave its impression upon their constitutions and by the formation of nervous prostration, which will unfit them for years if not for life.—Whitman Times.

MORE CHARGES.

Inspector of Plumbing Keniley Again on the Rack.

G. B. Bates, Recent Candidate for Mayor, Complainant.

Charges Against Mr. Bates Are also Pending Before Board.

The life of an Inspector of Plumbing, especially in Quincy, is not a happy one. For the past two years, at about this season, Inspector of Plumbing Keniley has been placed upon the rack to answer charges preferred against him for neglect of duty, etc.

Two years ago G. B. Bates and others brought charges against him. A private hearing was given which occupied several nights at the end of which the charges were found not sustained.

Last year charges were again made against Inspector Keniley; being signed in most cases by parties who were not familiar with the plumbing laws and in some cases by parties who had not seen the work which they claimed were not according to the laws. A public hearing was given upon these, which also occupied several nights, and at the end the Board of Health found the charges not sustained.

Most everybody supposed that this would certainly end what seemed like persecution. But not so, for this week another batch of charges six in number, against Inspector Keniley, were filed with the Board of Health.

This time charges were signed by Gustavus B. Bates.

The Board of Health have not made the charges public, as a copy of them has not been served upon Mr. Keniley. It is however said that some of them are the same as acted upon last year.

The charges were filed with the Board of health last Monday and were laid on the table until next Monday, when they will be acted upon.

It is also worthy to note, that at this meeting, Mr. Bates will appear before the board to answer a complaint of the Inspector of Plumbing, for concealing plumbing work before it had been inspected.

Death of Prof. Worden.

There was much sorrow evidenced at Troy, N. Y., March 16, upon the announcement of the death of Prof. Jesse P. Worden, after an illness of but five days. Professor Worden had been a teacher in the Troy high school for twelve years, and by his death the school loses one of its most proficient and best liked instructors. He was appointed second assistant instructor on July 26, 1888, and was promoted to first assistant July 1, 1897, which position he held at the time of his death.

Professor Worden was born in Perry, Wyoming county 51 years ago. He graduated from Williams college in 1873. His first position was as a teacher at the Adams academy, Quincy, Mass., where he served for ten years. In the spring of 1883 he was appointed principal of the literary department of the New York state institution for the blind at Batavia, and held the place two years, leaving it to become principal of the Union school at Perry. He resigned twelve years ago to come to Troy.

Professor Worden was identified with the interests of the Memorial Presbyterian church. His wife, who was Ella E. Laramore of Rochester, and three sons, Charles A., Lewis and Richard Worden, survive.—Troy Times.

—The pine needle of South Oregon are being utilized, says the New York Evening Post. The needle are first boiled and then run between horizontal wooden roller, which extracts the juice. This is called pine needle oil, which is supposed to possess medical properties. The pulp is used as a medicated material for upholstering, and is also said to be good substitute for horsehair. It is said that insect pests will not live in furniture that has been upholstered with pine needles.

—Fruit is now being shipped from New South Wales packed in the bark of the ti tree and the outer bark of the melaleuca leucadendron, which is shredded into a sort of coarse chaff. These barks seem to have some peculiar power of preserving oranges during carriage.

—The number of roses seems to be enormous. Prof. M. Gandover enumerated 798 species in Europe, the Orient and the Mediterranean basin, two years later adding ninety-five as new discoveries in France alone!

—It is announced in Boston that Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts is to give a new dormitory to Harvard.

Private Theatricals.

The Tawasentha club entertained a few friends at Colonial hall Thursday evening at private theatricals, the members presenting a farce and a drama in creditable style.

The farce was entitled "A New Woman," and the cast was as follows:

Mrs. Darius Simpkins, (nee Marie,) attorney at law, and manager-in-chief of the Simpkins household. — Miss Lulu Tupper
Mrs. Henrietta Dugold High Mind, another New Woman. — Mrs. John Hunt
Miss Betty Boston. A. B. C. Ph D, M. D., N. Y. Z., ditto, — Mrs. Frank W. Crane
Scene—A kitchen interior on Monday morning.

When the curtains were pulled aside, Darius was doing the family washing, and bemoaning his fate. He put in some good licks, but it was too apparent that he did not know much about washing, as clothes would be worn out with one washing. "The New Woman" when she appeared on the scene was ready to fulfil a number of engagements which she enumerated. Mrs. High Mind and Miss Boston dropped in, gave a rehearsal of their "papers," took a bout with the gloves, but a mouse was discovered and the ladies were frightened. Darius leisurely dispatched him, and paraded with it like a lord, saying: Yes, his soul has departed for the happy hunting grounds. Peace to his ashes, for he has been the means of showing up you three women in your true light. Henceforth the "Old Man" will divide honors with the "New Woman" in this household.

"Comrades" was the drama presented, the characters being:

Royal Manning, — Mr. Frank W. Crane
Matt Winsor, a tramp, — Mr. Ernest D. Gourd
Marcus Graves, — Mr. Ezekiel C. Sargent
Simon Stone, "Jack of all trades," — Mr. H. Everett Crane
May Manning, Roy's wife, — Mrs. Arthur W. Ryder
Bessie Bradley, — Miss Hattie E. Sargent
Nancy Nipper, — Mrs. H. E. Crane
Darius Simpkins, Married to the New Woman, — Mr. John Hunt

The make-up was so complete that for some time the actors were not recognized. Simon Stone was the life of the play, and took his part cleverly. All were good, but especial mention should be made of Mat Winsor; as the tramp and as the polished gentleman, he took his part surprisingly well, and made some lightning changes. Mr. Manning was an upright man with a miltiary record, and Mrs. Manning a faithful loving wife. The love scenes of Mr. Graves and Bessie Bradley greaty amused, and Nancy Nipper was very successful until near the end in turning the cold shoulder to Simon.

The entertainment was complimentary, but at some future time the club should score a financial success should they offer tickets for sale.

☞The labor men are very much exercised over a bill for the regulation of trusts in this state which has been introduced in the legislature. They see in the measure danger to trade unions, put they must bear in mind the fact that what is sauce for the goose is likewise sauce for the gander. It is mighty hard work to frame a law that will operate in favor of one class of the community and against another, without arousing antagonism.—Haverhill Gazette.

—A settlement has now been made of the estate of the late Dr. Thomas W. Evans, the American dentist, and it is found that the amount which will go to Philadelphia for the Thomas Evans Museum and Institute society is to be about $3,000,000. The total value of the estate is about $4,000,000.

—Living animals have been newly discovered at a depth in the ocean two miles greater than any hitherto reached.

—John F. Wilson, delegate to congress from Arizona, is an authority on the various American Indian languages.

THE DEPOT PLANS.

The Committee Report Great Success at Conference.

About 500 Feet of Floor Space Added.

Quincy Depot to be Over 30 Feet Longer Than Proposed.

The Committee of the City Council and citizens appointed by President Bryant met Fourth Vice-President Curtis of New Haven at the Terminal station in Boston Thursday at 11.30. A. M. for the purpose of discussing the new plans for the proposed station at Quincy. The meeting was arranged by Mr. Blackmur of the committee who had since Tuesday been in communication with the railroad officials as to the inadequacy of the proposed station for that place and the committee report as follows:

All the members of the committee were present with the exception of Judge Bumpus who was unavoidably detained before a committee of the legislature.

As a result of the conference the new station is to be increased in length over thirty feet the waiting room enlarged by about five hundred square feet more floor space and both the men's and women's lavatory increased in size and conveniences.

Mr. Curtis said that since hearing from Mr. Blackmur he had interviewed some of the officials of the railroad and from what he had learned from them and had been stated to him by the committee he was satisfied that the station the Company was about to build in Quincy was too small for the place. The matter had been brought to his attention none too soon however, as the contractors' bids for the erection of a station on the present plans were to be opened Friday of this week.

ELEVATED vs. PEOPLE

Bill in Legislature That Will Adjust Matters Satisfactorily.

In all the evidence that has been presented before the street railway committee of the legislature in opposition to the bills which would give the local authorities in the cities and towns the right to grant connecting street railway companies the privilege of operating over the local companies tracks, it seems evident that it is not a fight between the Boston Elevated street railway company and Boston and Worcester street railway company but between a syndicate of New York capitalists who dictate the policy of the Boston Elevated and the people of our commonwealth.

We know that the people of Quincy appreciate the advantages to be gained by through service, as is demonstrated by the service we have had to Brockton, Nantasket and elsewhere.

We realize the disadvantage the citizens are put to who are obliged to use the cars of other street railway companies connecting with the Boston Elevated street railway company by being obliged to change; and we believe that the legislators will take the part of the people and pass a bill which will put the matter in the hands of local authorities.

If the street railway systems in the cities of Worcester, Springfield, Fall River, New Bedford, Lawrence, Lowell, Newburyport, Providence, Buffalo and Cleveland can take into the centres the cars of connecting lines of street railway companies, we can see no reason why the Boston Elevated system should not do the same thing, and we are at a loss to understand their opposition to this bill.

It is to be hoped that the outside roads will be given entrance into Boston.

Civil Trial List.

The following cases are marked for trial at the Civil session of the district court next Tuesday.

45—Lyons vs. Barry.

IF YOU ARE GOING TO BUY A HOME

This season, rememember I am offering bargains which can't be matched by any builder or real estate owner in the city. I am going to build a number of first class, stylish, modern Houses, ranging in price from $2,000 to $4,000, and shall offer them at the same low prices which prevailed last season. These houses are to be built on Independence and Federal avenues, and are the best lots in South Quincy. Handy to steam and electrics, good neighbors, and every lot is dry. The first of these at No. 25 Independence avenue is now completed and will be cheerfully shown to all parties, whether intending to purchase or not; 6 rooms and bath, besides finished attic and basement. This is a corner lot. Also another of six rooms and bath, nearly finished, at No. 31 Independence avenue. This lot bounds on two streets. Favorable terms will be made to responsible parties on either of above.

Danger.

"Hi, Jimmy, come on out!"
"Can't! Ma says she saw a professor hunting around here this morning."—New York Journal.

"The Degenerates" Barred From Detroit.

Detroit, April 6.—After witnessing Mrs. Langtry's performance of "The Degenerates" in Toledo, Mayor Maybury announced yesterday that her company would not be permitted to give the production in this city. The three days' engagement, which was to have been begun last night, was consequently cancelled, and the company played last night in Windsor, Ont., just across the river, instead. Only a small audience was present in the Canadian playhouse.

Finances Now on a Solid Basis.

Malden, Mass., April 6.—Elisha S. Converse, Malden's first mayor, has cancelled the debt of the Malden Young Men's Christian association by mailing the treasurer of that organization a check for $16,000. The committee appointed to lift the debt of the association, with the aid of several smaller pledges, will now be able to put the finances of the association on a solid basis.

Dewey Is a Democrat.

Philadelphia, April 6.—Admiral Dewey last night came out squarely with the statement: "I am a Democrat." This, in the opinion of political leaders means a fight with Bryan for the Democratic nomination for the presidency. This second announcement has caused a sensation scarcely less intense than his announcement of his candidacy.

Charged With Larceny of $3200.

Marlboro, Mass., April 6.—In the police court, Thursday, Edmund Naganzi, a negro clairvoyant, was given a hearing upon the charge of the larceny of some $3200 from Mrs. Ellen A. McKenna. The prosecution was unprepared to go on with its case and after the defendant had pleaded not guilty the case was continued until Saturday. Bail was fixed at $3000.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

PUERTO RICAN CAUCUS.

Majority of House Republicans Concur In Senate Amendments.

Realized the Necessity For Harmonious Action.

Seven Advocates of Original Bill Decide Not to Recede From Their Position.

Washington, April 6.—There was a caucus of the house Republicans last night on the Puerto Rico bill, to try to decide upon a policy. The idea seemed to be that a majority of those present wished to have the house lay aside its own civil government bill, and to have Mr. Payne report back the tariff bill as amended by the senate, with a recommendation to concur in the senate amendments.

Not one of the seven Republicans who opposed the original bill—Messrs. McCall (Mass.), Littlefield (Me.), Lorimer (Ills.), Heatwole (Minn.), Crumpacker (Ind.), Lane (Ia.) and Warner (Ills.)—was present. At a conference held by them, they decided not to recede from their former position, and consequently they considered it useless to attend the conference.

Mr. Cannon of Illinois, chairman of the Republican caucus, presided. Mr. Payne of New York, the floor leader of the majority, made a short preliminary statement as to the necessity for harmonious action. He said that the Republicans of the ways and means committee were agreed that the senate amendments to the tariff provision of the bill should be concurred in. He pointed out that the amendments supported the position of the house for a tariff, and that concurrence involved no abandonment of the course to which the Republicans of the house had committed themselves. He further stated that the provisions excepting breadstuffs from the tariff would help to allay some of the popular and unreasonable clamor against the bill and commended the 5-cent duty on coffee as being in line with the protective policy. He moved that the caucus declare in favor of concurrence in the amendments to the tariff provisions. With regard to the civil government scheme embodied in the senate amendment, he thought it but proper that the members of the insular committee who had evolved a bill should be heard.

Mr. Hemenway of Indiana moved concurrence in all the senate amendments. His motion evoked enthusiasm, and it was evident that a large majority of the caucus favored a termination of the struggle by the shortest route.

Mr. Grosvenor of Ohio, Mr. Cannon of Illinois and Mr. Ray of New York advocated concurrence in the entire senate bill. As the debate proceeded the leaders, one after another, urged this course. Speaker Henderson concluded with a rousing speech, urging concurrence in the senate amendments, and when the vote was taken on Mr. Hemenway's motion the chorus of ayes was overwhelming. Without division it was declared carried and the caucus adjourned.

The house did not finish the bill to provide territorial government for Hawaii. When the hour fixed for taking a vote, 4 o'clock, arrived, less than half the bill had been covered and so many amendments remained that it was agreed to continue consideration of the bill under the five-minute rule until it was finished. Several important amendments were agreed to, among them the following:

To nullify any labor contracts in the islands to extend the alien contract labor laws to the islands; to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquor in saloons; to limit the land holdings of corporations to 1000 acres, and to substitute for the house provision relating to the appointment of judges and other officers of the island the senate provision. The house provision lodged the appointing power in the governor, the senate placed it in the president.

During yesterday's comparatively brief session of the senate, Mr. Gallinger (N. H.) presented an argument against the seating of M. S. Quay as a senator from Pennsylvania. He devoted himself almost entirely to the constitutional phases of the question. Most of the day was spent in executive session.

Death of Major Macnamara.

Boston, April 6.—Major Daniel F. Macnamara, an employe in the custom house and formerly major in the Ninth Massachusetts regiment, was stricken with apoplexy while at his desk, Thursday, and died a short time afterward. Major Macnamara was 58 years old, a native of Boston, and served during the Civil war in the Ninth regiment of volunteers. He was a member of many organizations. He was author of "The History of the Ninth Massachusetts Volunteers From June 1, '61-'64."

Triple Tragedy at Boston.

Boston, April 6.—A triple tragedy occurred in the lodging house conducted by Jennie Rubin, at 7 Endicott street. The lodging house keeper was attracted by the strong smell of gas to a room occupied by three Russians. The door was forced, and the three men were found unconscious on the floor. A physician was called, but the men were dead when he arrived. The gas was turned on full force, but was not lighted, and the police believe that the men were victims of an accident.

Disastrous Train Wreck In Texas.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 6.—A serious wreck occurred yesterday on the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad, south of Magenta. As a result two men are known to be dead, and at least six were injured. At the time of the accident, the train was running at full speed, when it struck a defect in the track, caused by a partial washout. The entire train was ditched, the cars being piled in a heap. Fire then started in the debris, consuming the entire mass of wrecked cars.

SUPPORT PLEDGED TO BRYAN.

Keystone State Democracy Favors Free Trade With Puerto Rico and Is Against Expansion.

Harrisburg, April 6.—The 64 delegates from Pennsylvania to the national Democratic convention at Kansas City were instructed by yesterday's state convention to support William J. Bryan for president. They are bound by the unit rule and cannot change to any other presidential aspirant unless it be so decided by a majority of the delegation. The platform strongly endorses Bryan's candidacy; denounces the war policy of the McKinley administration and advocates numerous state reforms.

The platform declares for free trade with Puerto Rico, independence in Cuba and home rule for Philippine islands. It is against colonial dependencies. It favors eternal opposition to trusts, a vigorous foreign policy, an income tax, and the election of United States senators by a vote of the people. Bimetallism is favored as tending to make permanent the prosperity of the country and freeing us from the power of the money trust.

Sympathy to the Boers is extended, and it is declared "that the war of conquest and extermination now being carried on by the British empire in its greed for gold and power is a menace to civilization. We favor united action on the part of all the republics of the world to maintain the independent existence of the two republics in South Africa."

Trusts are denounced and legislation to curb their power is favored. Municipal ownership of public franchises is demanded.

The appointment of M. S. Quay as United States senator by Governor Stone is denounced in strong terms, as well as the refusal of the governor to convene the legislature to elect a senator. The platform concludes with a tribute to William J. Bryan, inviting him to become a candidate for president and pledging the support of the Pennsylvania Democracy.

Labor Law Declared Unconstitutional.

Toledo, April 6.—Judge Pangsley, in common pleas court, has declared unconstitutional that provision in the Ohio statutes which prohibits an employer from discharging a workman because the employe is a member of a labor union. The court held that the statute is class legislation; that it does not apply to all workmen, but only to union men. He added that under the statute non-union men could be discharged with impunity whenever the employers saw fit. The case will be appealed to the state supreme court.

Olga Nethersole Acquitted.

New York, April 6.—A jury in the criminal branch of the supreme court yesterday officially declared "Sapho" a proper play and acquitted Miss Olga Nethersole and her associates, Messrs. Revelle, Mayer and Moss, of the offense charged in the indictment under which they had been tried, that of maintaining a public nuisance. The jury occupied 12 minutes in arriving at this verdict. Miss Nethersole seemed much affected when the verdict was announced, Justice Fursman's charge clearly favored the defendants.

Dewey Won't Get Vermont Delegates.

New York, April 6.—The Press says: Bradley B. Smalley, Democratic national committeeman from Vermont, who was in the city last night, said that the delegates from Vermont will be for William J. Bryan. Said he: "It has long been apparent to me that the nominees this year will be William McKinley and William J. Bryan. The Vermont convention will be held in June, at Montpelier, and the delegation will be instructed to vote for Mr. Bryan, regardless of the candidacy of Admiral Dewey."

Democrats Passive For the Present.

Frankfort, Ky., April 6.—Representatives of the Beckham administration deny the rumors that force will be used to dislodge the Republicans from possession of the state house as soon as the court of appeals renders a decision in the contest cases. They say no movement will be made till after the United States supreme court has acted. Governor Taylor returned here yesterday. He was escorted to his office by a squad of militiamen.

Not Easily Discouraged.

Kansas City, April 6.—At a mass meeting of business men held last night a resolution was adopted declaring that "it is the sense of this meeting that a new convention hall be built and completed for the use of the Democratic convention on July 4." The board of directors now has an available fund for rebuilding the hall, which aggregates $224,500.

Goebel Said to Have Been Warned.

Frankfort, Ky., April 6.—The grand jury heard several witnesses in connection with the Goebel assassination yesterday. Miss Sallie Jackson is said to have testified that she heard a conversation between a prominent state officer and his wife, and that she went to Goebel and warned him.

Not Dickering For the Galapagos.

Guayaquil, April 6.—The government of Ecuador authorizes an official denial of the report that negotiations are in progress for the sale to the United States of the Galapagos islands.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Consul General Mosley, at Singapore, writes to the state department that the climate, soil and moisture in the southern states, he believes, will admit of the cultivation of the rubber tree and the production of profitable india rubber crops.

The Hotel Russell, Springfield, Mass., was badly damaged by fire. Several rooms were burned out, and prompt work by the firemen was all that saved the building.

Lieutenant Gilmore has successfully passed his examination for promotion to the grade of lieutenant commander in the navy.

The New York Chamber of Commerce adopted a resolution declaring that the stamp taxes should be abolished as soon as the revenues of the government will permit.

HARD TIMES IN PUERTO RICO.

People In Country Districts on Verge of Starvation, and Want Food and Work.

San Juan, P. R., April 6.—Delegations representing the country poor arrive almost daily at the palace. They tell the usual story of starvation and want, and they ask for food and work. Two important delegations have appeared this week, the latest being from Agnas Buenos, consisting of 100 men and 50 women in procession, headed by two 10-year-old girls carrying black flags to signify that they were mourning for existing conditions.

Although the situation is certainly very bad, it is the opinion of many in authority that, in some instances, the applicants for relief are really directed by political bosses, who hope to secure road work. For instance, 5000 rations have already been issued weekly at Aguas Buenos for the last three months. Further material relief will follow from the recent granting of road making contracts, involving an outlay of $600,000, although the authorities have not yet announced how they propose to distribute the appropriation.

The pier strikers are quiet, no further demonstrations having been made. The property, however, is still guarded by the troops. All the native labor from St. Thomas has been dismissed and American labor only will be employed.

Guilty of Counterfeiting.

Boston, April 6.—The trial of Porter N. Bliss, charged with counterfeiting, ended Thursday evening, with a verdict of guilty. Bliss was indicted jointly with George E. Litchfield, a printer, and William Davis, who operated a counterfeiting plant at Winthrop. Spurious Dominion of Canada bills were manufactured there, and circulated in Canada by confederates. Davis acknowledged his guilt some time ago, and was sent to state prison for a long term. Litchfield was convicted some days ago. He assisted Davis in printing the counterfeit notes. Bliss, who is a photographer, made the negatives for the plates. Litchfield and Bliss will be sentenced later.

Boy Convicted of Manslaughter.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 6.—Peter Graham, 16 years old, was found guilty of manslaughter, Thursday, and he will receive his sentence next Tuesday. The crime was committed May 30 last. On the day following, the body of Louis Stahlman, a Hebrew peddler, was found in his wagon on a lonely lane. The boy early admitted that he shot the man, but claimed that it was in self- defense. He said that Stahlman went into their home and tried to take some things away, but when discovered was about to attack him (Graham) with an iron bar, when he used the gun with fatal effect.

Turks Get a "Call Down."

Washington, April 6.—Secretary Hay has addressed a vigorous protest to the Turkish government against the proposed application of an edict excluding American pork from Turkey. The note enters emphatic denial of the pretense of unwholesomeness set up against our pork as a basis for the exclusion, and pointedly makes it necessary for the Turkish government to support its contention by adequate evidence before it can enforce the edict without serious results.

Large Majority Favored Lease.

Lawrence, Mass., April 6.—Stockholders of the Boston and Maine railroad voted, by 137,035 shares out of a vote of 137,330 shares cast, in favor of a lease of the Fitchburg railroad by the Boston and Maine on a 5 percent guarantee on Fitchburg preferred stock. The vote also empowered the president and treasurer of the road to issue bonds to the amount of $5,500,000 to carry out the lease and appointed an attorney to approve the bonds.

The Wonderful Kearsarge.

Newport News, Va., April 6.—The battleship Kearsarge returned to Old Point last night, after being at sea 48 hours with the naval board of inspection. The test of the superimposed turrets proved eminently satisfactory. All the big guns were fired simultaneously, and the result stamped the new invention a decided success. It is understood that the board has reported the tests to the navy department as an unqualified success.

A Split on Bryan.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 6.—The state Populist convention has split on the question of endorsing Bryan. The fusion wing out-voted the "middle-of-the-road men" four to one, and elected delegates to the national convention at Sioux Falls. The "middle-of-the-roaders" withdrew. The bolters decided to call another state convention for June 26, to elect delegates to the Cincinnati convention.

A Prince Among the Offenders.

Berlin, April 6.—During the March quarter 31 persons were convicted of lese majestie. The sentences aggregated 176 months of imprisonment. Prince Lynar, who married an American, and who was formerly attached to the German embassy in London, was sentenced to one year's detention.

To Reorganize Fisheries Trust.

Trenton, April 6.—The United States Menhaden Oil and Guano company was incorporated here yesterday, with a capital of $200,000. The incorporation of this company is another step in the reorganization of the $10,000,000 American Fisheries company, which recently went into receivership.

May Die From Alleged Beating.

Pawtucket, R. I., April 6.—Francis Kennedy of Cumberland was bound over to the grand jury on the charge of assault on his wife, Margaret. Kennedy, it is alleged, beat his wife severely and then jumped upon her, inflicting internal injuries, from which death may result.

Yanger Knocks Out Noel.

Chicago, April 6.—Ben Yanger knocked out Frank Noel last night in the second round of what was to have been a six-round contest. Noel made a plucky fight, but was outclassed and was badly punished. Yanger forced the fighting from the start.

3 O'CLOCK.

THE PRESIDENTIAL BEE

Is Now Said to Be Buzzing Around the Bonnet of General Nelson Miles.

Dewey Says That He Has Always Been a Democrat.

He Has Never Voted, but Wanted to Cast a Vote For Grover Cleveland.

New York, April 7.—The World today prints the following: General Nelson A. Miles is willing to be the Democratic nominee for president. He has so stated to his friends, and 10 days ago he visited William C. Whitney to talk with him about the possibility of his being nominated.

Mr. Whitney told the general that all of the leading gold Democrats were as much opposed to the nomination of Bryan now as they were when he was named four years ago, but he did not commit himself to the support of the general. He merely took the matter under advisement, and said he would consult with his friends.

The sudden announcement of Admiral Dewey that he would be a candidate is looked upon in some quarters as a plan to head off the Miles boom. It is said that arrangements were made some time ago by prominent gold Democrats to name Dewey in order to kill off Bryan.

Robert B. Roosevelt, former president of the Sons of the American Revolution of New York, said last night: "I will heartily support Admiral Dewey if he be nominated on a satisfactory platform. I favor him in preference to Mr. Bryan, and believe he can be elected."

NEVER VOTED IN HIS LIFE.

But Admiral Dewey Declares That He Has Always Been a Democrat.

Washington, April 7.—Admiral and Mrs. Dewey, who were visiting Philadelphia to attend the concert in aid of the families of soldiers and sailors killed in the Philippine islands, returned to Washington last evening. A number of reporters were at the admiral's house awaiting his return. In response to a question, the admiral said that he expected to soon have his plans ready for the press.

"Can you confirm the statement you are credited with making that you are a Democrat?" persisted one of the reporters.

"Certainly, I am a Democrat," he replied. "I always have been a Democrat," he added smilingly.

"Have you ever voted the Democratic ticket?"

"No, I never voted in my life. The only man I ever wanted to vote for was Mr. Cleveland."

"It is said that Mr. Cleveland wants you to run on a straight gold Democratic platform."

"Good night" answered the admiral, without answering the question, and retiring.

"Act of the Admiral Himself."

New York, April 7.—William C. Whitney says that all statements suggesting that he has had to do with the candidacy of Admiral Dewey for the presidency are without foundation. He says: "I do not consider myself as so related to politics at present as to be entitled to assist in making candidates. I have the profoundest admiration for Admiral Dewey. It came naturally to me from my acquaintance with the admiral when I was secretary of the navy. I take great pride in his reputation, but I have no knowledge of and had nothing to do with his recent announcement. I believe it to be the act of the admiral himself. His nature is simple and straightforward, and he has doubtless been solicited to become a candidate by thousands of people who would like to see him president. I imagine that if you get at the real truth you will find that to be the reason of his announcement."

Engaged For Dewey?

Kansas City, April 7.—John R. McLean, brother-in-law of Admiral Dewey, has engaged elaborate headquarters at one of the leading hotels for the Democratic convention in July. The rooms are very choice, and it is rumored that they are to be shared by Admiral Dewey. When the selection was made Mr. McLean, it is said, announced that the rooms would be occupied by himself and a friend.

Crooks Skipped With Cash.

Manchester, N. H., April 7.—Two men entered Ladd's bakery Friday evening and engaged the attention of the young woman who was in charge of the store by inquiring for a particular sort of goods. When she turned to see if there was any of the article in stock one of the men reached over and picked up nearly $100 that the young woman had been previously counting and got away with it.

Assault Was Not Premeditated.

Brussels, April 7.—The police investigation into the outrage upon the Prince of Wales shows that Jean Baptiste Sipido, his assailant, acted without premeditation. Sipido was under the influence of companions who had urged him against his will to commit the outrage.

EDITORIAL STAFF UNDER ARREST.

Cuban Newspaper Which Went Beyond Bounds of Public Decency Has Its Plant Confiscated.

Santiago, April 7.—The first important action of the new mayor, Senor Grinan, in suppressing El Cubano Libre and placing the editorial staff of five men under arrest, has created intense excitement. El Cubano Libre had always been intensely radical in its utterances against Americans, Spaniards and white Cubans. On Thursday it published an editorial, both offensive and indecent, in criticism of the civil government, particularly the municipal branch.

The editorial characterized the palace as "An official sewer and a cesspool of moral corruption," and used language not fit for publication. It charged officials with stealing and with selling immense quantities of valuable timber belonging to the municipality, particularly 1000 trees of mahogany that were delivered on contract for $100. Furthermore the editorial asserted that Senor Grinan became legally incapacitated for holding office years ago on account of corrupt conduct.

The new mayor, who proposes an aggressive and progressive administration, acting under General Woods' order of March 24, giving mayors the control of public order, confiscated the printing plant and lodged the editorial staff in jail. He justifies this step on grounds of public decency. The Americans, foreigners and the best class of Cubans applaud this action. Two hundred prominent Cubans sent a telegram to General Wood endorsing Senor Grinan's course.

The colored party objects and says the time has arrived for decisive action. General Rabi and other leaders were requested by telegraph to come immediately to Santiago to head a "popular movement against the Americans and the Cuban traitors."

There is considerable excitement in the city, and it is expected that the release of the editors will be followed by riots. All the police of the city and the rural guards are under arms and ready for an emergency.

The friends of annexation are pleased with the situation. They say that the attitude of the Cubans, who are fighting each other, shows the impossibility of self-government.

All the papers except The Independencia endorse the mayor's action.

Interment In Catholic Cemetery Refused.

London, April 7.—The remains of Dr. St. George Mivart, long recognized as the leading scientist within the Roman Catholic church in England, who died April 2, have been deposited temporarily in an unconsecrated spot in Kensal Green cemetery. There was no funeral ceremony in consequence of the Roman Catholic ecclesiastical authority forbidding it, owing to his attitude toward certain dogmas of the Catholic church. Therefore it was decided to use a temporary vault pending a decision in whatever action may arise between the relatives of the deceased and the church authorities.

Bonner Soundly Drubbed.

New York, April 7.—Tommy West administered a terrible beating to Jack Bonner last night and received the decision after one minute and 22 seconds of fighting in the 16th round. They were to have fought 25 rounds at 162 pounds. The winner retired without a mark. Their last previous meeting was upon the occasion of the memorable "oil of mustard" fiasco, when Bonner's gloves had been soaked in such a way as to blind West and render him incapable of competing.

Actress Seeks $20.000 Damages.

Boston, April 7.—The filing of legal papers in this city is understood to be the first step in a litigation against Arnold Lawson, son of Millionaire Thomas W. Lawson, on the part of Miss Margaret E. Riley of New York, known on the stage as Margaret Lee. Assault and breach of promise are understood to be the allegations upon which the suit is based. Young Lawson is at present in Germany. The suit is for $20,000 damage.

Dishonest Baggageman Arrested.

Toledo, April 7.—Fred Burmeister, baggageman on a Lake Shore train, running between here and Buffalo, was arrested yesterday, charged with having rifled baggage in transit. It is said that Burmeister's depredations have been going on for two years. In a satchel found with the accused man were goods said to be valued at $5000, which, it is alleged, were taken by him from trunks in transit.

Sheriff Killed a Soldier.

Richmond, April 7.—Joseph Fletcher, a re-enlisted negro soldier of troop F, Ninth cavalry, while drunk on a Chesapeake and Ohio train became dangerously unruly. On the arrival of the train at Staunton he was put in jail, and assaulted Deputy Sheriff Dawson, who shot and killed him. Dawson was acquitted by the coroner's jury.

Trade Augmented by $1,000,000 a Year.

Caracas, April 7.—President Castro yesterday signed and delivered to United States Minister Loomis the parcels post convention. It is considered that this agreement should augment the American retail trade by about $1,000,000 yearly, so far as the mail order business is concerned.

Banker's House Looted by a Workman.

New York, April 7.—Henry C. Friedman, a banker and broker, reports to the police that he has been robbed of jewelry and a silver watch worth $5000 and $350 in cash by a man whom he had employed to do some work at his home. Detectives are looking for the thief.

Champion Jefferies' "Victory."

Detroit, April 7.—Champion Jeffries knocked out John Finnegan of Pittsburg last night in less than a minute. Jeffries said he weighed 220 pounds, but he looked 30 pounds heavier. Finnegan weighed but 180, and looked like a boy beside the champion.

IMPROVED RETAIL DISTRIBUTION.

Bradstreet's Reports General Situation to Be In a Satisfactory Condition.

New York, April 7.—Bradstreet's says: Favorable features continue in the majority in the general trade situation. The hopes for the advent of seasonable spring weather have been realized, and nearly all markets report an improved distribution at retail.

The industrial situation is a rather spotted one. While many thousand men are directly or indirectly involved in the Chicago building trade strike, and several thousands are out in the coal industry in the Pittsburg region, most of the building trade strikers in other cities have gained their demands, and the machinists' strike at Chicago has been called off, pending arbitration.

While domestic trade shows signs of expansion, as indicated by noticeably lowering clearings this week, export business is likewise satisfactory.

The price situation, too, is encouraging, farm products leading in the upward movement. Nothing like the speculative interest in corn has been seen for some years past. Hog product are very strong statistically. Cotton has developed renewed speculative interest this week, and a slight upward swing has occurred. Cotton goods are seasonably quieter at first hands, but a fair jobbing business is doing and retail distributions is encouraging.

Wool is, on the whole, weaker, but reports from the woolen goods branch are quite favorable. Cancellations reported are the smallest there is record of.

The iron and steel situation shows some effects of the recent missionary work in aid of lower prices, but results as yet are rather in the shape of unsettled feeling than of actually lower quotations.

The better tone of the boot and shoe industry is reflected in steady prices for leather and some advance in hides.

The total number of failures reported to Bradstreet's for the first three months was 2697, 3 percent fewer than 1899, 23 percent smaller than in 1898, and in fact the smallest reported since 1882, while liabilities were only $29,157,101, a sum 6.7 percent smaller than in 1899, and likewise the smallest since the year mentioned. The percentage of assets to liabilities is the smallest recorded.

The business failures in New England during the first quarter of the year number 606, with liabilities of $8,931,643, assets of $3,171,519; as compared with 682 failures, liabilities $9,609,022, assets $3,836,249, in the corresponding quarter of 1899.

Gloom at Dublin Castle.

Dublin, April 7.—The queen drove out in an open carriage yesterday, accompanied by Princess Henry of Battenburg, and a lady-in-waiting, and escorted by four mounted constables and a sergeant of the Dublin police. The route was through one of the humblest sections of Dublin township, and it must have been decided upon in consequence of her desire to leave no part of the district unvisited. Lord Roberts' dispatch, describing the disaster at Reddersburg, was printed in the Dublin evening papers, and created general consternation. It brought the populace with a quick turn from the rejoicing over the queen's visit to the great issues of the war, and cast a sudden gloom over the gayety of the party at the castle.

Strikers Go Back to Work.

Concord, N. H., April 7.—The strike o the granite blacksmiths, which began Friday morning, has ended by agreement, and they, with the cutters defending them, returned to work this morning. The trouble was over the interpretation of the price list.

Mind Was Depressed.

Buffalo, April 7.—First Sergeant Arthur Scott of company K., Seventh infantry, stationed at Fort Porter, killed himself yesterday by shooting. The cause of his suicide was an intense mental depression.

RISKS

Are run by every woman who has household cares. It is so easy just to run out of the warm house into the fresh air, to pin a piece of lace to the clothes line. It is also easy to take cold in doing so. Then perhaps comes suppression and kindred evils. Whenever there is any disturbance of the normal womanly function Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription may be relied upon to re-establish perfect health. It is strictly a temperance medicine, containing no alcohol or whisky, neither opium, cocaine nor other narcotic.

"Several years ago I suffered severely from female weakness, prolapsus and menorrhagia, and used 'Favorite Prescription' with splendid effect," writes Fannie Shelton, of Washington, Iowa. "Glad I have not needed it for a few years past but if I should have a return of the old trouble would surely try 'Favorite Prescription.' I have recommended it to a number of my lady friends. I always tell them to try a bottle and if they are not benefited by it I will pay for the medicine. In every case they have spoken in praise of it."

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

TARIFF IS THE SOURCE

Of Difficulties Confronting Attempts at Reduction of the War Tax.

Beer Interest Is Declared to Be a Phantom Fright.

Allison Fears That Move Toward Reducing the Taxes Would Make Campaign Issues.

Washington, April 7.—The reduction of the war tax is not a "dead issue" by any means here, in spite of Mr. Allison's declaration that it would not do to open the question in the senate. As far as the fear of the beer interest is concerned, it is more of a phantom fright than a well-founded alarm, for there is no doubt that the brewers could be not only placated, but induced to join in the movement. Competent judges assert that we could throw off a very handsome slice of the beer tax itself, in addition to schedules A and B, and still have enough revenue and to spare.

Experts differ a little, but not much, on the amount which could be dispensed with. Their opinions range between a reduction of 35 cents a barrel and a reduction of 40 cents. This of itself would make away with $16,000,000 or $17,000,000 a year and still leave us with more than $230,000,000 of revenue from internal taxation, and with a surplus of only about $5,000,000 a month instead of $10,000,000 in round numbers.

The effort to throw the bulk of the blame upon the beer men for obstructing the reduction of taxes is merely a "blind." The real source of trouble is the tariff. Certain senators are waiting for a chance to attack the duties imposed for the protection of the tin plate makers, and Mr. Allison fears the result. Steel and iron are two other points open to attack. The first move toward reducing taxation would, he thinks, be a signal for amendments and speech-making on the subjects of tin, steel and iron, and the amount of campaign material which can be made up when discussion takes such a range is incalculable. Just now the majority leaders in congress are not hunting for issues for their opponents.

The house, after four days' of debate, yesterday passed the substitute for the senate bill, providing for a territorial form of government for Hawaii. The bill now goes to conference. The most interesting feature of the day's proceedings was the attempt of Mr. Hill (Conn.) to secure the adoption of two amendments, one providing for a resident commissioner, instead of a delegate in congress, and the other declaring that nothing in the act should be interpreted as a pledge of statehood. Both amendments were overwhelmingly defeated.

Representative Payne, floor leader of the majority of the house, and chairman of the ways and means committee, announced that the Puerto Rican tariff bill would be called up next Wednesday. He said the time limit to be placed upon the debate had not been decided upon.

A bill of much interest to the national guard and the militia of the country was introduced by Representative Marsh of Illinois, chairman of the house committee on militia, for the arming of state troops with Krag-Jorgensen rifles.

Senator Deboe of Kentucky gave notice in the senate yesterday that he would move to refer the credentials of former Senator Blackburn as a senator from that state to the committee on privileges and elections. During the greater part of the session the senate had under consideration the Indian appropriation bill. Early in the day Mr. Sullivan of Mississippi delivered a speech in favor of the seating of Mr. Quay.

Shutdown on Account of Accident.

Fall River, Mass., April 7.—About half of the printing machines in the large plant of the American Printing company here are idle, and it will be about four weeks before they can be started up again. The stoppage was caused by the blowing out of the cylinder head of one of the powerful engines which run the machinery of the printing plant.

Dewey's Candidacy Discussed.

Washington, April 7.—The cabinet meeting yesterday was largely occupied with the instructions to be given to the Philippine commission. These instructions have not yet been completed. The question of the appointment of a successor to Assistant Secretary Webster Davis was discussed, as well as the candidacy of Admiral Dewey.

Vice Suppressors Disbanded.

Boston, April 7.—The liquor squad, commanded by Captain Brown, was disbanded at roll call in the police department Friday night. It is believed that a general shake-up in the police force will follow, by means of transfers and retirements. The squad was supposed to suppress vice of all kinds.

Rounds Lacked Variety.

Boston, April 7.—Tommy Sullivan of Brooklyn defeated Billy Gardren of Lowell in 15 rounds. The rounds had the sameness throughout, as Sullivan used a straight left, and Gardner's returns were usually with a right upper cut.

Good Afternoon.

Mr. Cleveland's denial that he had said he would support Mr. Bryan is equivalent to a declaration against him.

Hon. Hoke Smith has retired from journalism, he says with a profit, others who have traveled the same road have found their profits to consist of "valuable" experience only.

Hon. Grover Cleveland has once more shown his lack of sympathy with the present leaders of the Democratic party, by coming out good and strong for the Nicaragua Canal treaty and Admiral Dewey.

Louisianians are once more devoting more attention to raising political cain than to raising sugar cane, notwithstanding their previous experience showing the former to be an unprofitable crop.

Before the immense summer traffic over the street railway line begins, the company should make suitable arrangements for a large lavatory in the city square where great crowds continually congregate in waiting for cars.

A commendable increase in the annual budget by Mayor Hall is that of the street sprinkling estimate from $4,400 to $6,000. Paradoxical as it may seem it is more economical for the city to spend $6,000 for sprinkling the streets than $4,400. The sprinkling of our main thoroughfare not only holds down the surface, but is of inestimable benefit from a health point of view.

There were many and frequent inquires yesterday for the street car sprinkler. This car is hired by the season and it is understood would cost no more if put on now than three weeks later. If this is true and a similar contract is proposed, it would seem that it would be good policy to put it into service at once. It would certainly be appreciated by the citizens and business houses whose places on Friday were filled with dust.

The day after the City Council meeting this week the Ledger was informed by the Councilman who introduced the resolution relative to the Quincy depot plans, that the principal object of the enlargement was to crowd out the large stable now in the depot yard. This would be commendable, as the table is somewhat of a nuisance, and will be more so when the new depot is placed nearer to it, but the committee seem to have forgotten all about the stable when at the conference, as they were satisfied with a station of the width first proposd, but stretched out 19 feet longer than the present depot. Even 25x110 will be too small for Quincy, as considerable space should be given to baggage room and toilet rooms, news stand, etc.

It is hinted that the mover of the resolution was used as a tool, the resolution being drawn by others.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Mr. Bryan talks a good deal against monopoly, all the time having the monopoly of the Democratic party tucked snugly down in his vest pocket. —Milford Journal.

☞ The new shade trees to be set out in the city, the locations for which were selected by the mayor and city forester yesterday will prove a boon in the future. As much as possible should be done in this way of beautifying the city, and adding to the pleasure and comfort of the people.—Brockton Times.

☞ The latest child born into the royal family of England, the son of the Duke and Duchess of York, who entered life last Saturday, will be christened Patrick, by the desire of Queen Victoria. Her Majesty evently means no half way expression of her new born love for Ireland.—Lynn Item.

Sudden Death.

Miss Angeline M. Spear of Thayer street died suddenly Friday noon at the residence of her brother, Elihu Spear. Miss Spear had apparently been enjoying good health, and Friday morning remarked that she never felt better than she did then.

Shortly after 11 o'clock she left her home on Thayer street to visit her Brother at Wollaston. She had been there but a few minutes when she was seized with a terrible pain in the region of the heart. Nothing seemed to relieve the pain, and in about twenty minutes she passed away. The direct cause of her death was neuralgia of the heart. Miss Spear was a daughter of the late George W. Spear and resided on Thayer street with her brother Francis A. Spear. Several brothers and a sister mourn her demise.

EQUAL TO THE BEST.

Granite Cutters Should Accept the 33 Cents Minimum.

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

The granite cutters of Quincy must have been under the spell of Socialist Carey of Haverhill at their mass meeting yesterday, when they decided "to stick to their demands" to "the last ditch." Fine sentiment; no doubt, and as old as savagery.

After all brains counts for little when "Greek meets Greek," and this dispute between the Manufacturers and the Cutters seem destined to be fought on the old lines of "who can hold out the longest." The fine intelligence we boast of, is entirely set aside as something fit only for needless occasions, and the wild savage nature is allowed to blaze out untrammeled by any superior sense or judgment until "the last ditch" has been reached and every chance of an honorable agreement has gone.

"The last ditch!" The line where humiliation and defeat meet. The trench from which is dug the old miseries and trials to be lived over again.

Is it possible the cutters can be carried away by such miserable hair-brained sentiment. Cannot the superior intelligence of the few in some way reach the heart and brain of the seemingly obdurate, before it is too late and make it clear as noonday that the possibility of forcing the full demand of 35 cents an hour minimum is as improbable as finding gold in the trees. The trade will not bear it, and rather than attempt what would be the extreme of foolishness, the manufacturers, no doubt, will partially suspend operations at their yards until such times as they can resume work on a paying basis.

The cutters we presume, imagine, because, some other places make settlements of 35 cents minimum, Quincy must do the same. Don't they know there are good and sufficient reason why it is possible to pay a higher rate in some places, than in others, and yet the cutters be none the better for it.

There is not a granite center in New England has the uninterrupted opportunity of being at work all the year round as Quincy.

The fluctuations of the building branch of the business is unknown. Extreme heat and long rigorous winters hardly interfere for a day with the steady flow of business, and if Quincy granite could be as cheaply manufactured as the Barre stone, Quincy never would have the spectacle of a thousand men walking its streets because their demands could not be acceded to.

All things considered as 33 cents minimum in Quincy is equal to the best settlements yet made in other places and if the manufacturers are prepared to grant it, the cutters will show wisdom in accepting it.

Interested.

Easter Opening.

Quincy has never had so fine an exhibit of Easter millinery as that shown by Miss E. B. Collins this week and her store has been thronged with buyers. Some of the hats are imported, others come from the leading houses in New York, while many are the work of expert milliners employed by Miss Collins. The styles are very pretty and becoming, softer in coloring and effect than last year. No plain straws are seen. Although flowers are used they do not make up the whole hat trimming but are grouped with chiffon or silk. Chiffon and velvet are much used, especially chiffon and always in great quantities and tucked.

Settlement at Worcester.

A Worcester dispatch of yesterday to the Globe says: The local union of granite cutters settled the differences between them and their employers tonight by agreeing to the minimum of 35 cents an hour. The contractors readily agreed to the price, but wanted an agreement for five years, but the union could not agree to this, as the rules of the national organization would not allow it.

It is generally understood that the settlement is a victory for the granite cutters as the workmen were willing a short time ago to agree to 34 cents an hour. The men will go to the yards on Monday. During the dispute there has been the best of feeling between the manufacturers and the employes.

At Work at Concord.

A dispatch from Concord, N. H., in a morning paper says the granite manufacturers and blacksmiths have reached an agreement. The dispatch further says, the cutters, men and blacksmiths will return to work in their different yards this morning. It is rumored that the terms agreed upon is that a blacksmith shall sharpen for 13 cutters and a "lumper." An arbitration similar to that in the cutters' bill of prices was agreed upon. The grievance arose from a claim of the manufacturers of the right to call upon a blacksmith to sharpen tools for 15 cutters, provided the extra men were paid 25 cents.

"What is the real good?"
I ask in a musing mood.
"Order said the law court;
"Knowledge," said the school;
"Truth," said the wise man;
"Pleasure," said the fool;
"Love," said the maiden;
"Beauty," said the page:
"Freedom," said the dreamer;
"Home said the sage,
"Fame" said the soldier:
"Equity," the seer;
Spake my heart full sadly:—
"The answer is not here."
Then within my bosom
Softly this I heard:—
"Each heart holds the secret; Kindness is the word."

ONE OF QUINCY'S PRETTY CHURCHES.

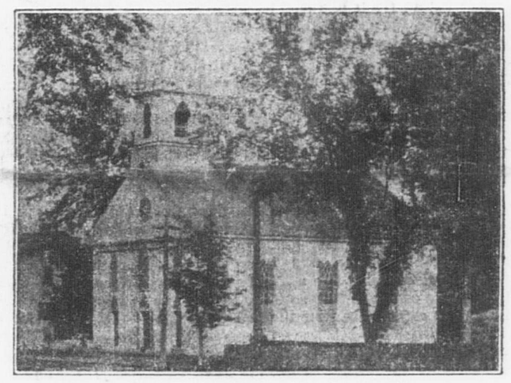

THE FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

ERECTED IN 1832. REMODELLED IN 1882.

The Univeralists are not believers in revivals, that is in the religious sense, but in the rapid recent growth of the past few months they are a living example.

Their church edifice is one of the prettiest in the city, especially the interior, but from the accompanying half tone it will be seen that the exterior is also a gem of architecture. The church is extending a very hearty welcome to young people, and promises to take its place among the leading societies of the city.

The new pastor installed this week, the Rev. Merrill C. Ward, is also pastor of the Hingham church, an engraving of which follows:

A Gym Tea.

During the winter several ladies have been enjoying physical culture exercises at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium under the instruction of Mrs. D. E. Wadsworth and most profitable and enjoyable have the hours been.

The class has met twice a week for two terms. After the lesson a social time has been enjoyed, the ladies taking turns in acting as hostesses and serving light refreshment.

Wednesday afternoon a reception was given by Mrs. Wadsworth and the class, each inviting one or two friends. About thirty were present. The class went through the club swinging and wand drills receiving hearty applause from their guests. It was a very pretty and done in a manner most creditable to Mrs. Wadsworth's teaching. It is hoped Mrs. Wadsworth can be persauded to have a class next winter.

After the exercises tea was served in the gymnasium, and enjoyed as such teas always are. Everything was so social and informal that it was after five before the ladies separated.

THE SUICIDE.

Toil worn, but trusting Zeno's mad belief,
A soul went wailing from the world of grief;
A wild hope led the way,
Then suddenly—dismay!
Lo, the old load was there—
The duty, the despair!
Nothing had changed, still only one escape
From its old self into the angel shape.

THE GIRL OF WILD HORSE RUN

A STORY OF NEW MEXICO.

BY FREDERICK F. THOMPSON.

Did you ever hear the story of the "Girl of Wild Horse Run?" The chances are that you never did unless you have lived in the mountains of lower New Mexico, and there are few even there who can show the little heap of stones which marks her grave or who can tell the story of how she met her death to save the lives of the half starved, Indian besieged prospectors who had taken their last stand on the mountain peak which is now known as Simpson's Rest. But those who do know the story will never forget it, and not one of the cowmen or the miners passes the lonely spot without taking off his hat in mute respect to the memory of the unknown girl.

"I never knowed, and I don't s'pose no one ever knowed, what her name was," said Joe Dunne as he sat in front of his adobe and rolled a cigarette. "I'm 'bout the last of 'em alive as ever knowed her, and I wouldn't be here talkin 'bout her if 'twasn't for what she done. When it was all over, we buried her the best we could. We couldn't get no monniments or fancy stones, such as they have down east, so we just piled rocks over the grave to show where it is and to keep the wild creaturs from diggin it up. Since then some more rocks has been put on, and now the heap's so big I guess it'll last forever. But it'll never get too big for the act she done, which was one mighty few men would 'a' wanted to tackle.

"It was way back in the days when I was a kid. Bein as I was born and brought up along the Rio Grande, I was almost as much Greaser as I was white man, and when them eastern prospectors come along they hired me to go with them as interpreter, even if I was only a kid. In fact, they couldn't get no men to go along with them 'cause the men was mostly all off prospectin on their own account.

"There wan't no railroads down here then. There wan't nothin but Indians and Greasers. If you wanted grub, you had to freight it from Albuquerque, or if you was hard up for it you could get a little from the old stage station in the valley just beyond where Las Cruces is now.

"Wild Horse Run is up in the mountains back of there. It ain't no pretty place—just a little stretch of mesa where there was water and where the wild horses used to come until they had worn the ground all away like a buffalo wallow. The girl and her old man lived there. The old man was nutty on them mountains. He said they was full of gold and silver and pretty much everything else, and I guess he was right, though there ain't much of it been got out yet.

"Well, he settled right there near the run, grubbin round in the foothills and collectin specimens and stakin out dozens of claims which he never worked, but ag'in which nobody made no protest. I never knowed the old man much, though I seed him frequent when I was in the mountains, and I heerd as how he had come from the east to get rich. He was like lots of others, and he ups and dies before he had nothin more than them claims which he had staked out, but which he hadn't never properly entered.

"When he died, he left that there girl alone in the half 'dobe, half dugout, he had made. She was 'bout 18, I guess, and we thought as how she would go up to Albaquerque to live provided she didn't go back east. But instead of that she staid right along, all alone in the place where she had lived with the old man. She had some sort of an idea that by so doin she could hold the claims which he had staked out. Some of the men told her as how she was wrong, but she thought they was only tryin to get her to go so they could jump the claims, and so she stuck it out. She was a good shot, and deer is still thick up that way, so between them and a few vegetables she got along so far as grub was concerned. But it must have been mighty lonesome; for there wan't a white man nearer than the stage station, and that was a good 25 mile away.

"She had been there quite a few years, and the people as knowed of her had got to callin her the 'Girl of Wild Horse Run,' when I goes up that way with them eastern chaps. We stopped to get water at the Run, and we told her what part of the mountains we was headin for, and it was a lucky thing we did, for if she hadn't knowed we would never have got out of the fix we got into.

"We didn't know it when we started, but the Navajoes had gone and got rambunctious again. They was always more or less troublesome, but when we left they had kind of quieted down, and we wan't lookin for no outbreak. Bein up in the mountains, of course, we didn't know what was a-goin on.

"Well, we had done more prospectin, and I was havin a cinch with my job of interpretin. There wan't nothin to interpret, and so I was doin the cookin and lookin after camp. We had pitched it at the foot of the mountain which they calls Simpson's Rest now, after old man Simpson, who is buried there. Things was a-goin nice and satisfactory, when one night, just after grub, there comes a shot, and a bullet upsets the stuff on the fire. None of us stopped to inquire where the bullet come from. We knowed there wan't nothin but Indians doin that sort of business, and so we lit out.

"There was only one place to go, and that was up the mountain, and so we went up there. It ain't a high mountain, but up to the top it's kind of like a fort. The sides, except one of them, run straight up for 50 feet or so, and no one can't climb them. The other side slants down pretty steep, but so you can get up all right. We had all seed the place and had talked about it, casuallike, before, sayin as how it would be just the place to go if the Indians got after us.

"They was after us now, and we was there. The only trouble was that we didn't have nothin with us but our guns. We had lit out so fast that all the grub was left in camp. We knowed that with the shape of the mountain there wan't no danger of the Indians gettin to us, for we could stop them as fast as they tried to come up. But we was worried as to the grub question.

"Indians ain't no fools, even if they act like it sometimes, and them Navajoes soon made up their mind that we had mighty little grub with us. They found that out from the looks of the camp, and, as they knowed that mountain as well as we did, they didn't try to come up it.

"For a couple of days we got along all right. We was hungry, of course, but we amused ourselves poppin at the Indians whenever they showed from cover, and when we hit one, as we did now and then, it was almost as good as a meal. At least we tried to think it was.

"But an empty stomach is a pretty tough thing to forget, and we were beginnin to wonder how long we could hold out, when one mornin we seed the 'Girl of Wild Horse Run.' She was a-comin along our trail at the foot of the mountain. It was evident that she didn't know that the Indians was there, but knowed they was out and was comin to warn us in a general way.

"As soon as we seed her we did our best to let her know that she was ridin into quick trouble. We started a smudge with a blanket and fired a couple of shots to attract her attention. She saw we was on the top of the mountain, and she knowed we was there for our health, so she turned and lit out.

"The Indians seen her about that time, and they took after her. She had a good two mile the start, but her pony had been on the road for some time, and it was gettin tired. Still there is lots of spunk in a good mustang, and we all hoped that she would get away all right. As she went down the valley we could see that she was not headin for the Run, but for the stage station, which was a good 20 mile away. We was doubtful about her pony holdin out ag'in the fresh ones of the Indians for that distance, but there wan't nothin we could do to help her, and so we staid where we was.

"It seemed to make the Indians kind of wrathy to have had her comin round that way, and they began takin chance shots at us. They didn't hit any of us, but they made us lie low where before we had been standin up and movin round pretty much as we pleased.

"All the rest of the day we didn't do much but wonder how that there girl had come out of the fix she was in. It was all done to help us, and we knowed it, and that made us feel like we was responsible for her. Wonderin didn't do no good, but we was still at it when we heard a shot down the valley. It didn't come from where the Indians had camped, and we lighted a fire as a signal like. When the fire blazed up, there was some more shots.

"It was kind of dusky in the mornin then, and we couldn't see well, but we soon made out about 50 men comin up the valley. In a minute we seed they was white men, and then we knowed we was all right.

"We come down from that mountain almost as fast as we went up it, but the Indians was gone. They had vamoosed durin the night. When we come up to the men, we found they was a lot of freighters from the station. The girl was there, they said. She had beat the Indians out in the race, but she was in pretty bad shape, for she had one bullet clean through her, and another had broke her arm.

"We went to the station as fast as we could. When we got there, we seed there was nothin we could do. It was too late for anything but to tell her we knowed we owed our lives to her. She was too weak to say anything in answer when we told her. So we just sat around and wet her lips when they got dry and tried to do what we could to make her easier.

"She seemed to know all that was goin on, and one of the eastern men thought it might make her feel easier if somebody prayed. So he, bein the only one who knowed much about it, tried it, and we all kneeled down. He told us how we all knowed that the girl was dyin because she had give her life to save ourn, and he told the Lord that we hoped that, if it was possible, he would fix it so that she wouldn't die.

"It was a good prayer for a man who ain't in the business professionally, and it seemed to do the girl good, for when he finished and we got up there was a smile on her lips. But it was the last smile that was ever there, for she was dead.

"We buried her under a cottonwood across from the station and not far from the stage road. Then we put the rocks over the grave, for you can't tell what sort of creeturs are round here."

They gave up the old stage line years and years ago, and the old adobe station has fallen down in parts, and the ruins are roofless and forlorn. But the grave is still there, and every freighter who passes along the old trail and knows what the pile of stones means lifts his sombrero to the memory of the "Girl of Wild Horse Run."—Exchange.

FLOWERS OF EASTER.

THE LILY STILL QUEEN—VIOLETS AND ORCHIDS ALSO FAVORED.

European Flower Gardens, Once Supreme, Now Rivaled In the Large Cities of America—Evolution In Floriculture.

"Consider the lilies of the field. They toil not, neither do they spin, but I say unto you that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."

So the Bible in precise and inspired language tells us of the flower which is synonymous with our ideas of Eastertide—the lovely blossom which finds its way at this season into all drawing rooms, churches and even into the humblest rooms where a token of inspiration and a new life are desired.

These lilies certainly deserve all the praise they get, but the people who grow them and buy them and care to have them about as a reminder of Easter and the resurrection have to toil and spin a great deal.

The demand for Easter lilies has grown to such an extent that the propagation of these lovely spring flowers has become a lucrative business to hundreds of greenhouse men and growers. The lily bulb flourishes best in Bermuda in narrow patches often alongside of the wholesome but unsmellable onion and the useful but homely potato. The bulbs are shipped to all the large cities in great quantities during the autumn and winter and placed in greenhouses to be developed into the lovely plant which has become symbolical of Easter.

The soil and climate of Bermuda are especially adapted to the growth of the lily. Our florists have had all kinds of ideas of growing this flower in California, Georgia and Florida, but with no great results as yet. The lily, like many other of the most beautiful flowers, improves on its stem by age. Not until the second year is it now thought advisable to ship bulbs from Bermuda to the United States. Many growers prefer to wait until the fourth year, when the bulb is hearty and strong enough to produce beautiful flowers even with careless treatment. As to the number of these bulbs now produced in Bermuda and shipped to the United States for Easter purposes, it is said that between 10,000,000 and 15,000,000 bulbs were sent here last year.

Whether it has been possible to provide such a large number of bulbs this season depends entirely upon the condition of lily fields in Bermuda during the last year. The Florists' club of New York has over and over again asserted that cutting the leaf bearing stem impairs the vigor of the flower bearing bulb and thus lessens its value. The experience of growers has been that the practice of cutting the lily flowers with long stems and shipping them tends to weaken the bulb. Flowers thus cut are of no substantial value or beauty for more than a day or two, and the bulb is ruined. Last year a combination of Bermuda lily growers was formed for the purpose of preventing this threatened destruction of the lily trade which met with unqualified approval of reputable dealers in the United States, who had gone so far as to have an effort made to introduce a resolution into congress prohibiting the importation of lily bulbs from Bermuda unless guaranteed to be in a perfectly healthy condition.

The committee of the Florist club, to which this matter was referred, expressed an opinion at the time, after consultation with all the lily growers in this country, that it would be impossible to ask for government redress, which would naturally work its own course out in time.

The harrisii lilies continue to be the greatest favorites this year. Their only rival is the L. longiflorum, but the most sincere growers of the lily in Bermuda do not give the preference to the latter flower. Its cost of production as compared with the harrisii has rather deterred growers from exporting it to this country. It may be taken for granted, therefore, that the great majority of Easter lilies shown and bought to be enjoyed today are of the kind known as harrisii.

Easter lilies, however, are not the only flowers of Eastertide. A look through a professional or amateur greenhouse or our lovely flower stalls for the last few weeks has revealed a great wealth of azaleas growing in profusion under the tall and stately lily. The lily must reach a certain height of its own to become beautiful, but the azalea spreads out its wealth of blossoms in a round and compact form. So the clever grower entices his lilies up into the air while he persuades the azaleas to spread their beauty out under their companions. These, though, are but few of the flowers used in commemoration of the awakening of new life and beauty after the dreary period of Lent. But while Easter is symbolical of everything that is white, pure and fresh, one cannot deny the fragrance and beauty of the rose, violet, hydrangea, genesta and lilac, which are always crowding their way to recognition.

Such a multitude of lovely flowers, kept back and withheld in the greenhouse for general presentation at Easter time, has now converted our thoroughfares into veritable bowers of blossoms. The flower gardens of Paris, London and Berlin have been extolled as something quite beyond the possibilities of a newly settled country like this, yet year by year we have been assimilating all the best ideas of floriculture to be obtained in the world, and our florists have been spreading their lovely wares before a pleased and delighted public only too willing to buy.—Selected.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 8—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Christ our missionary model.—John iv, 5-15. (Quarterly missionary meeting.)

Going through Samaria as the most direct route on His way from Jerusalem to Galilee, Jesus, weary and worn from His long day's travel, sits down to rest upon the curb of the historic well of Jacob. A poor, degraded, sinful Samaritan woman comes to the well to draw water. Though belonging to a race despised by His own people, Jesus entered into conversation with her and so directed it that He made for Himself an opportunity to offer her the water of life. In this incident, in a strange land, to the member of a despised and sinful people Jesus preached the gospel, thus leaving us an example of the truest and loftiest kind of a missionary spirit and zeal.

1. Christ as a missionary was sent of God. His mission into the world was a divine mission. He came to seek and to save the lost as the business of His Father. From all eternity it was arranged in heaven that Christ should come to the world to offer salvation to the whole world through His life and death. The true missionary or soul winner at home or abroad needs to feel himself called of God. Love for humanity, enthusiasm for men, will not make us willing to endure and sacrifice all that is necessary to save men. The heathen world in its sinfulness and degradation is not lovable. Man is not attractive for his own sake. Back of our efforts must be the inspiration that it is God's will that we should give and pray and labor to save the whole world. God calls us all to be missionaries; not all to go to the foreign field, but all to have some part in the work of sending the gospel to the whole world.

2. Christ, as a missionary, had the true message, Himself, as the water of life. Heathendom, like the Samaritan woman at the well, is thirsting for water—the water of life. The soul of mankind the world over is longing for God. Men are crying out for the living God, and in the efforts to find Him they are bowing down to the creature rather than the Creator, to the workmanship of their own hands. They need Christ to quench this thirst; they need Christ to show them what and where God is and how they may find Him; they need Christ to give them the water of eternal life. This must be our message to a sin cursed and dying world. Philosophy, philanthropy, humanitarianism cannot satisfy this longing of heathendom. Only Christ can do it.

3. Christ, as a missionary, was successful. He had many difficulties to overcome. There were race difficulties, religious prejudices and social obstacles such as will be found in every mission field. But Christ overcame them all with the simple gospel of Himself as the Messiah and the water of life. Thus by prayer and self denying effort all difficulties in mission work today may be overcome and the world won to Christ.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

The missionary committee should arrange a special programme, having appropriate hymns and prayers and five five minute addresses or papers on Christ's leading characteristics as a missionary, such as (1) Christ's call, (2) Christ's message, (3) Christ's success, (4) Christ overcoming difficulties and (5) Christ's missionary command to his disciples.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. ii, 1-12; Isa. lii, 7; Nah. i, 15; Math. v, 42-48; xxviii, 18-20; Luke xv, 1-10; John iii, 1-16; xvi, 8-10; Rom. x, 14, 15; I Pet. ii, 21-25; I John ii, 1, 2; Rev. xxii, 17.

Sin Is Common.

The Examiner says that there is much of suggestiveness in this story that Dr. Stalker of Glasgow recently told. He was speaking of his early experiences as a minister:

"In Rannoch," he said, "I staid with an old farmer who was a kind of chief man in the congregation. I have been trying to remember his name, but it has escaped me. I remember perfectly his appearance—a grand old highlander, really a remarkable looking man. I think I still have a photograph which he gave me of himself that day. I was preaching of sin, and on the way home the old farmer was talking it all over in the most deeply interested way, and I just caught him saying this: 'Ay!' he said. 'Sin, sin! I wish we had another name for that, because the word has become so common that the thing no longer pierces our conscience.' Now, do you know, that stuck to me? It has come back to me hundreds of times since, and I believe it has helped me more to preach than whole books on the art of preaching, because it warned me to avoid hackneyed religious language and, instead of well worn theological terms, to make use of words more fresh and modern."

The Most Likely Place.

If I desired to put myself in the most likely place for the Lord to meet with me, I should prefer the house of prayer, for it is in preaching that the word is most blessed, but still I think I should equally desire the reading of the Scriptures; for I might pause over every verse and say: "Such a verse was blessed to so many souls; then, why not to me? I am at least in the pool of Bethesda, I am walking among its porches, and who can tell but that the angel will stir the pool of the word, while I lie helplessly by the side of it, waiting for the blessing?"—Spurgeon.

Influence of Duty Upon Others.

In doing our very best to be good ourselves we bring tremendous unconscious influence to bear on every one around us. No one can meet a man who transparently and constantly tries to do his duty without being either spurred or shamed by the encounter.—American Friend.

INSURES LOVE AND A HAPPY HOME.

L. W. KNAPP, M. D.

How any man may quickly cure himself after years of suffering from sexual weakness, lost vitality, night losses, varicocele, etc., and enlarge small weak organs to full size and vigor. Simply send your name and address to Dr. L. W. Knapp, 2389 Hull Bldg., Detroit, Mich., and he will gladly send the free receipt with full directions so that any man may easily cure himself at home. This is certainly a most generous offer and the following extracts taken from his daily mail show what men think of his generosity.

"Dear Sir:—Please accept my sincere thanks for yours of recent date. I have given your treatment a thorough test and the benefit has been extraordinary. It has completely braced me up. I am just as vigorous as when a boy and you cannot realize how happy I am."

"Dear Sir:—Your method worked beautifully. Results were exactly what I needed. Strength and vigor have completely returned and enlargement is entirely satisfactory."

"Dear Sir:—Yours was received and I had no trouble in making use of the receipt as directed and can truthfully say it is a boon to weak men. I am greatly improved in size, strength and vigor."

All correspondence is strictly confidential, mailed in plain, sealed envelope. The receipt is free for the asking and he wants every man to have it.

EASTER FASHIONS.

GOWNS AND HATS FOR THE SPRING PARADE AND COMING DAYS.

No Via Media In Dress—The Elaborate and Much Decorated Tailor Made to the Fore—Pale Hued Costumes With Silver Buttons.

Gowns already completed and many now under way are destined for Easter or the spring stay in the south. As the great holiday comes late this year there is likely to be a better opportunity than usual for the display of modistic triumphs, if that fickle goddess April will but indulge in one of her smiling moods upon the all important occasion.

Easter gowns, it may be confidently asserted, will be more elaborate than ever before. The "dressy" tailor made gown is now de rigueur—the shibboleth of style and elegance. No "middle way" is any longer allowed between this conspicuously handsome confection, with its wealth of added ornament in tunic, laces, embroideries, fringes, etc., and the plain covert coat and skirt adapted from gentlemen's dress. She who is unwise enough to attempt the path of compromise will inevitably arrive in fashion's backwoods. The very plain tailor made is relegated to traveling and business purposes or the severest of morning wear; for all other occasions, trappings and fripperies are to the fore. Two tailor made suits are therefore almost indispensable for stylish dress.

Illustrative of modes that may be expected to blossom fully into being at Eastertide is a very light gray gown with rich decorations of lace and embroidery. In the same cut is shown a summer slip of Spanish lace with baby ribbon ruches, to be worn over a colored silk skirt. The second cut represents a graceful arrangement which can be carried out in lace and silk or any of the mousselines and dainty summer materials.

Little inner fronts and vests in a perfect plethora disport themselves upon the short coats and boleros of spring. It takes quite a serious study to know just where the one begins and the other ends. Save for the perfect manipulation of everything in the new gowns, one might be tempted to murmur, "A thing of shreds and patches," but with a soupcon of this, a piping of that, an application of another, the whole declares itself of the best and most distinguished order.

The very light cloth dresses, the pale blue, the biscuit color and the light gray are all to be much worn presently, and fanciful silver buttons, elaborate machine stitchings and a species of decoration worked in silk around a pattern of holes, like old fashioned Madeira work, will be the best of the embellishments.

Some of the new hats are of that shape that turns up in the front and down at the back on the hair, trimmed with scarfs of soft satin of two contrasting shades, mauve and blue and blue and green being the most sought after combinations. The flower hats for Easter are certain to have recognition again. On these hats stalks and leaves will play the important part.

A Practical Point For the Pianist.

The first and most important thing for the pianist to do is to have the music in good shape for turning. He should turn up the lower corners so that they can be easily grasped, and he should also be careful to look all through the music to see that consecutive pages follow each other and that none of the leaves is lost. Many a bad break has been made by an accompanist's coming to a jumping off place in the music, where page 5 follows page 3 or page 11 is next to page 7. Such breaks are always disconcerting to the performers and annoying to the audience, which is always slow to catch on to what the trouble really is.—Etude.

SHE KNEW HOW TO WRITE.

Asked the Editor For His Opinion and Then Was Not Satisfied.

The average editor experiences a thrill of keen delight when he meets one of those modest, unassuming persons who simply "write a little" themselves. The delight is intensified if these Eliots and Thackerays in embryo impart this information in low voiced confidence, with the further information that they "wouldn't have it known for all the world." In most cases the editor feels quite safe in promising them that the general public will never know anything about it. He wishes that he might be as ignorant of this knowledge as the general public.

My friend Blank is such an editor. He is one of that blunt, straightforward sort of men, much given to telling the truth and abhorring anything that savors of "beating around the bush." He is a terror to those persons who "write a little" and who beg him to tell them "the exact truth" about their productions.

I sat behind a screen in his office the other day when there came a timid little knock on the door, and Blank roared out "Come in!" in a voice that cracked the plastering. A timid, girlish little thing of 44 or 45 years fluttered in.

"Is this Mr. Blank?" she asked.

"Yes'm!"

"Yes? I'm so glad to know you, Mr. Blank. I have long been a subscriber to your paper and really don't know how I could get along without it. And I think your pieces are just splendid. How I envy you your writers! And I—I know it's dreadful bold in me to try, even; but, then, I write a little myself, sometimes."

"Do, eh?"

"Oh, yes; just a very, very little bit. It is all so crude and poor that I hardly dare show it to anybody. Really, it is too foolish in me to try, even; but, somehow, I just can't help it! It just seems to me that I must write. I'd give worlds if I could write as you do. Would you be willing to tell me exactly what you think of some of my poor little scribblings—my brain children, as I love to call them?"

"Got 'em with you?"

"Yes; just one or two foolish little fancies that I have dashed off in an idle hour. I know just how crude and poor they are."

"Let me see them."

"You'll tell me exactly what you think?"

"Exactly."

"Thanks; it is best that I know the truth."

Blank reads the "foolish little fancies." I peep out and see a triumphant smile on the author's face. Blank hands back the verses.

"Are not they too dreadfully, awfully bad?"

"They're pretty bad."

"Sir!"

"It is the exact truth."

"Sir!"

"There is no poetry in them."

"Sir, you shall answer for this!"

"You begged me to tell the truth."

"I did not beg you to vent your petty jealousy and spleen over the verses of which you are manifestly jealous. I pity you. I supposed, sir, that you were incapable of such envy and malice and that you were always ready to do honor to real talent. But I see I am mistaken. Remember, sir, that the verses are not offered for sale. Indeed they are not for sale to such a paper as this. I bid you adieu, sir!"

"The woods are full of 'em," says Blank sententiously as the door bangs behind the woman who "wrote a little."—Punch.

The Endurance of the Moose.

While the peculiar pacing gait of a moose will not carry him over the ground as rapidly as the deer or caribou, his endurance far surpasses that of either of these animals. For a short spurt or in very deep snow the caribou can easily discount the moose, but for an all day's jaunt, where the course is fairly open, the moose has no rival.

Many years ago, when Sir Edmund Head was governor of the province, he owned a tame moose that performed remarkable feats of speed and endurance. On one occasion the governor wagered £500 that his moose could travel from Frederickton to St. John over the ice, a distance of 84 miles, in faster time than any team of horses in the stud of Lord Hill of the Fifty-second regiment. A sledge was attached to the moose and another to the horses. The river ice was covered with about eight inches of snow. The start was made opposite the government house at 8 o'clock in the morning. In seven hours the moose and his driver were in Market square, St. John. Lord Hill's team was distanced, one of his horses expiring at Gagetown and the other reaching St. John three hours behind the moose.—Lewiston Journal.

Nancy Hanks' Loom.

The loom on which Miss Nancy Hanks, the mother of the great emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, did her weaving, is now owned by Dan Smith of Garfield. The story goes that Nancy Hanks used to make regular trips from her home in Larue county to Stephensport. On her route she would stop and weave cloth for people. It seems that one of her customers, John Martin, came into possession of the loom, and at the sale after his death it was bought by old George Bruington. In time he died, and the loom was fallen heir to by Mrs. Patsy Macey. At her death the place was sold to Mr. Smith, and the loom was put in with other property. This loom is made of white oak, and all the parts are decayed except the beam, which is about eight inches in diameter and eight feet long.—Breckinridge (Ky.) News.

RAPID SKI RUNNING.

A RACE WHICH SURPRISED A PARTY OF INDIANS.

Down Hill These Norwegian Skates Will Carry One With a Speed That Outstrips the Birds In Flight—How They Are Made and Used.

It is a very difficult task to explain to one who has never seen ski or ski running what it really means. Ski are really very simple instruments. They consist of two long, narrow strips of wood, pointed and curved upward in front. In Norway the ski are generally about seven or eight feet in length and from three to four inches in breadth. At the center, under the foot, they will be about an inch thick, or a little more, beveling off to about a quarter of an inch at either end. The under surface is flat, often with a groove along the middle, and is made as smooth as possible. They are fastened to the feet by a loop for the toe fixed near the center of the ski, and a band which passes from this round behind the heel of the shoe and which can be tied very tight.

I remember an incident which happened to an acquaintance of mine in America many years ago. He was an engineer and was surveying for a railway far west in the prairies. The winter had set in and deep snow had covered the fields. Being a skillful ski runner, he made himself a pair of ski. The same day he had been out trying these for the first time a group of Indians came upon a track, consisting of two parallel grooves or furrows in the snow, and, having never seen a similar track before, they followed it up to make out what kind of an animal it might originate from. They followed the track straight to the door of the Norwegian's cottage, where they saw two strips of wood leaning against the wall. They measured the track and they measured these wooden things, and they found that they were of exactly the same breadth.

And now followed a very close investigation of these marvelous creatures, which were carefully measured on all sides. When the Norwegian emerged from his cottage, the natives darted away from the ski and looked at something else, pretending not even to have noticed them. The Norwegian showed them, however, the ski and how they were used. They wished now to try them; but, using them as they were accustomed to do their snowshoes, they made slow progress and found them poor and slippery.

The Norwegian then put them on and proposed to race with the Indians, and they were quite willing. But the surprise of these swift Indians on their light snowshoes was great when they discovered that they were only able to keep pace with him for a few hundred yards and then rapidly dropped behind, even though they were racing over their well known prairies. Afterward the Norwegian helped them to make ski, and some of the Indians learned to use them tolerably well, although men who are not trained to use ski from early boyhood very seldom become skillful ski runners.

The motion employed in ski-ing has no resemblance to that employed in skating. While they are moved the ski are always kept strictly parallel and as close together as possible and should not be lifted from the ground, like Canadian snowshoes. On flat ground they should constantly be kept gliding over the surface of the snow while being driven forward by alternate strokes from the hips and thighs, and the body is thrown forward in each stride. The length of the stride may be increased by propulsion of the staff which the ski runner carries in his hand.

Up hill, if the gradient be steep, the ski runner will have to tack from side to side, following a zigzag course, or go sideways, bringing the ski almost to a right angle with the slope. But down hill the ski runner often goes with a tremendous speed, and then it may well be possible that he could "outstrip the birds in flight." The ski now slide readily, and the steeper the slope the greater the speed, the one thing necessary being to maintain the balance and to steer clear of all difficulties such as trees and precipices. The ski runner can go everywhere, over hill and valley, and nothing stops him so long as there is sufficient snow to move over.

A great art in ski running is the jumping upon ski. It is generally done down steep hillsides which in the middle have some natural break in the ground or where a bank of snow is built. Sliding with a great pace from the top of the hill on to this bank, the jumper, owing to the sudden break in the ground, is thrown far into the air, and after a longer or shorter journey through space he alights on the slope below and continues his headlong course at an even greater speed than before. As a rule, he will even very much increase the length of his leap by taking a spring just as he leaves the projecting bank. The length of such jumps is very generally 70 or 80 feet, and in the later years jumps exceeding 100 feet are recorded.—Dr. Fridtjof Nansen in Land and Water.

The Poor Conductor.

A Dorchester inward bound car was recently stopped to allow a woman of middle age and with a severe cast of features to get on board. As the electric started, with the usual jerk, the courteous conductor put his open palm against the woman's back to support her when she abruptly turned round and snapped out: "What are you doing? I can enter this car without your assistance!"

The astonished conductor was nearly staggered, but instantly retorted. "Well, madam, you came mighty near leaving the car without my assist-

ALL ABOUT HOT CROSS BUNS.

Just Who Wanted Them Will Probably Never Be Determined.

Just how and when the hot cross bun came into vogue must remain forever matters of pure conjecture. There are no less than three absolutely authentic stories of its origin current today. Of these the religious story will quite probably be the one more generally believed and recognized.

The Roman Catholic church and the Episcopal church declare that in the early days of the Roman Catholic church it was a custom for those who were strong and healthy to send a little cake marked with the sign of the cross on Good Friday to those of their friends and relatives who had been unable by illness to attend divine service and witness the raising of the host.

In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries these little cakes were regarded with both reverence and awe. It was supposed that they would never grow moldy. In households where there were children they never did.

Bryant, the historian, says that the hot cross buns originated with the Romans. The word bun, he insists, is derived from the name of the sacred cake which the Romans offered every seventh day. The story of Cecrops, another legend of magnanimity, runs like this:

There was a time in Cecrops' career when he thought it would be to the advancement of his general career to curry favor with Jupiter for a bit and just see if he couldn't get some nice, fat little appointment out of him. Jupiter was rather under the weather just then. It was the springtime, and Jupiter had fallen a victim to that tired feeling peculiar to the season.

When Cecrops heard of this, he hurried down to the kitchen of the palace, seized a saucepan and the head cook's apron and proceeded to make a cake. He decided mentally that it was to be a cake which should stand without a rival in the world's annals of culinary art. When it was finished, Cecrops laid it on a golden platter and carried it to Jupiter himself. The cake was not much to look at.

The powers of that cake as set forth by Cecrops in his presentation speech to Jupiter were marvelous in the extreme. Cecrops had made out a catalogue of the ills and accidents which that cake could prevent. Only four of these powers of this original hot cross bun have come down the ages. They are these: This cake would never grow moldy, it would ward away witches, was a sure cure for stomach ache and would protect the house from fire.—New York Sun.

THE PASSOVER AND EASTER.

The Variation Between the Jewish and the Christian Festival.

Since the events of holy week and the resurrection took place during the Jewish passover, it seems strange that the celebration in the synagogues and in Christian churches should not always be at the same time. The explanation is that the Jewish calendar, which dates from the creation of the world, is regulated by the rabbis. Their system is based on the lunar month, which is often nearly two days shorter than the month of the Christian calendar. Corrections are made, but instead of a day such as is in leap year an entire month is added, so that some Jewish years consist of 13 months. As Easter always falls on the first Sunday following the full moon next after March 21, this additional month in certain years causes a variation between the passover and the Christian festival.—Selected.

An Easter Luncheon.

All sorts of funny looking birds and animals as well as chicks and hens are pressed into service as candy receptacles, and these are particularly pretty for dinner favors where there are children present.

A pretty fancy is an egg of pure white candy resting in a nest of spun taffy. A decidedly new idea is that of placing at every corner a basket made of candied rose leaves, filled with tiny sweets in egg shape or some pretty design. As to bonbons, the most seasonable ones are creamed strawberries, each of which is packed in a little fluted paper shell, and so makes a pretty luncheon sweet.

For the tiny tots nothing takes the place of the soul satisfying Easter egg of chocolate or vanilla candy, and if it be further embellished with the youthful owner's name traced in letters of white sugar.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

AN EASTER GOWN OF COLORS GAY.

"What shall I wear?"
said my soul to me,
"To grace this Easter time?
When I leap to meet the face of spring
And my pulses
throb in rhyme?"

Then she opened wide an inner door
And showed me hanging there
The gems she had worn the year before.
"Is any fit to wear?"

"These are too dark for the happy spring,
Which comes to the world and me;
This one of gray is made of gloom
The winter brought to thee.

"This one of black is made of grief,
With a border of despair,
And this is flecked with doubt and fear
On a ground of grayest care.

"None of these shall I wear again;
Let them hang in the background there
Till experience takes them down some day
To make them fit to wear.

"Make for me now an Easter gown
Woven of colors gay,
Which shall harmonize with the outer world
And banish all the gray.

"The groundwork white, of a triple thread
Of patience and hope and trust,
With a golden tinge of serenity
And sympathy broad and just.

"Stripe it then with a line of faith,
The heavens' own color, blue,
And next with the heart blood's glowing red,
Altruistic color true.

"Then bind it around me close and firm
With a girdle of love's fine gold;
Put the shoes of peace on my dancing feet;
Let charity's cape infold.

"Then crown my head with a garland fair,
And thenceforth I will sing,
'All glorious within' must be A Daughter of the King."

—Admiral Dewey has given notice this week that he wants to be the next President—to please his wife. He is a Democrat but will accept any nomination if the people want him; either the Republican, Democratic or Independent. He says, "My platform is the Constitution of the United States." A friend says "He is a gold Democrat." The people are not so enthusiastic for him as at the time he returned from Manila, and it is generally agreed that Republicans and Democrats do not want him.

Otis to Have Leave of Absence.

Washington, April 7.—The statement is made that no order has been given as yet to Major General Otis to relinquish his command in the Philippines and return to the United States. These steps are left, in a measure at least, to the general's discretion, and he is to determine when he feels it proper for him to leave his post of duty on the leave of absence the war department has promised him. He will turn over the command to the next general officer now on duty in the Philippines, General MacArthur.

McClure Now Under $50,000 Bonds.

Rutland, Vt., April 7.—There were no sensational developments Friday at the hearing of Marvin A. McClure, who was arraigned upon the charge of larceny and embezzlement and with aiding and abetting Cashier Muzzey in the wrecking of the Merchants' National bank. Bank Examiner Muir announced that two weeks more would be required to complete his examination of the bank's affairs, and the hearing was continued until April 23, McClure's bail being increased from $25,000 to $50,000.

Compact Between Russia and Korea.

Seoul, April 7.—An agreement has been concluded whereby Russia disavows any design to obtain a port in the island of Quelpart, and Korea promises not to concede the same to any other power.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Edgar A. Smith of Providence, doing business as E. A. Smith & Co., wholesale dealers in lumber, made an assignment.

Timothy O'Brien, 55 years old, died at Somerville, Mass., as a result of injuries received by being thrown from a wagon, March 29. He was unconscious and paralyzed from the time of the accident until death.

Polonius, once a famous stallion, sire of other noted trotters, was disposed of by a raffle at Middletown, N. Y., the winning ticket having been purchased for 14 cents. The horse was 28 years old.

An unknown man, aged about 25 years, committed suicide at New Britain, Conn., by allowing himself to be killed by a freight train. The man was well dressed, but nothing was found on his person that would lead to his identity.

Horace Copeland, aged 50, a carpenter, fell from a ladder at Cambridge, Mass., and broke his neck.

Frederick Swift and Edward F. Lowry, doing business as E. C. Hodges & Co., stock brokers, Boston, have filed a petition in bankruptcy.

Hiram Chase of Belfast, the head of the Maine grand lodge in 1865 and 1869, who was the senior of the living grand masters of Masonry, is dead.

Schooner Jordan L. Mott, wrecked in Provincetown harbor during the November gale, two years ago, has been floated. The vessel's hull is in good order, with the exception of 26 feet of her keel, which is gone off. The upper works and decks are somewhat damaged.

Keith's Theatre.

The current week's entertainment at Keith's was so strong that it seemed almost an impossibility to equal it, to say nothing of excelling it, yet that is just what the management seem to have donc in the programme arranged for presentation the week commencing April 9. The headliner will be Camille D'Arville, the popular comic opera prima donna. She will make a change of selections for the second week of her engagement. Other stars who appear are: Cissie Loftus, the incomparable mimic, Marshal P. Wilder, the famous humorist, Lydia Xeamans Titus, character vocalist; Isabel Urquhart, the talented actress; Mr. and Mrs. Robyns, in "The Counsel for the Defense," and others. There will be new war views in the biograph, and several other specialties of a pleasing character. Bunth and Rudd, the great burlesque magicians and eccentric comedians, who have been in Europe for the past four years, are on their way across the Atlantic, specially engaged for the Keith's circuit, and it is expected they will open at the Boston house a week from Monday.

Castle Square Theatre.

Another notable comedy attraction is announced at the Castle Square Theatre the coming week, this being the English adaption, by Hawtrey, of the German play "Der Bibliothekar" which, under the title "The Private Secretary", has made a laughing success in former seasons throughout England and America. The production of the play in this country, by William Gillette, proved one of the successes of the generation and the cast at the Castle Square Theatre will afford the company a splendid opportunity in a line in which its members have made many successes. The leading characters have been assigned as follows:—Rev. Robert Spalding, John Craig; Mr. Cattermole, J. L. Seeley; Douglas Cattermole, Charles Mackay; Harry Marshland, Tony Cummings; Sydney Gibson, Lindsay Morison; Edith Marshland, Marrian A. Chapman. On Monday, April 16th, the first Boston production of "Quo Vadis" is to be made at the Castle Square Theatre after months of preparation. For this notable event the company will be greatly increased, special professional wrestlers will be engaged, the entire scenic surroundings will be new and original in design, the music has been composed, selected and arranged for this production and the entire resources of the theatre will be drawn upon to make this the crowning triumph of the present season.

The Boston Journal's Latest Offer.

A miniature portrait absolutely free would be a tempting offer to any one. This is what the Boston Journal is now putting before the people of New England. "Absolutely free" means in this case just what it says. There is no charge of any kind, and the offer is meant to include any member of the family. The miniature is about an inch in diameter, just right for a locket ornament, or for the inside of a watch cover. The miniature can be copied from any distinct photograph, even a tintype. Full particulars are given in the Boston Sunday Journal.

The next issue of the Sunday Journal is to be the Easter number, and many special features will be included in it. Beside this, the New England Home Magazine, which is given regularly with the Boston Sunday Journal, will have a special number, a greatly increased number of pages with Easter articles' stories and illustrations.

Will Be Guest of Grand Army.

Chicago, April 7.—Should the Dewey committee finally decide, owing to the admiral's political aspirations, not to welcome him May 1 in Chicago, the Grand Army of the Republic will invite him, as a presidential candidate, to attend the great encampment to be held in Chicago in August.

Juniors Away In the Lead.

Cambridge, Mass., April 7.—The annual interclass track games at Harvard were won by the juniors, who scored 44½ points, the sophomores scoring 31 points, the seniors 25 and the freshmen 7½. Although no records were broken all the performances were very creditable.

Want Indianapolis Scale.

Indianapolis, April 7.—About 1600 coal miners in Hopkins county, Ky., struck yesterday, demanding the Indianapolis scale. This district has been unionized during the past year.

Backache Cured

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to thank you for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. It is the only medicine I have found that helped me. I doctored with one of the best physicians in the city of New York, but received no benefit. I had been ailing for about sixteen years, was so weak and nervous that I could hardly walk; had continued pain in my back and was troubled with leucorrhœa. Menses were irregular and painful. Words cannot express the benefit I have derived from the use of your medicine. I heartily recommend it to all suffering women."—MRS. MARY BARSHINGER, Windsor, Pa.

Worth Reading.

To the Editor:

I think it my duty to inform your readers of a remedy that should be in every household.

I was a martyr to Dyspepsia and Constipation and tried everything in vain. In despair I bought a ten cent package of the U. S. Army & Navy Tablets, 17 East 14th St., New York, and in three days I felt better and afterwards I bought a twenty-five cent package and now I am completely cured. EDUCATIONAL.

"It is curious to note how man's mind has worked toward the same ends in widely different parts of the world. While the rude inhabitants of Europe and Western Asia were spinning the wool of their sheep, the Peruvian on the high Andes was making his llama and alpaca wool into wonderful vestments; the oriental was using his camel's hair, and the mohair and fleece of two species of goats were being wrought into fabrics in Angora of Asia Minor, and among the mountain vales of Kashmir." Trotter.

"The highest outcome, and, I say with the greatest reverence, the divinest outcome, of all the ages of human progress is the common school. Like democracy, it is still an ideal it has not come to its own. The only system of common schools of the world today is that of the United States, and we have it only in part. The common school is the antipodes of isolation, the antipodes of that method so efficiently used by monarchy and hierachy to keep the people from loving each other and helping each other.

The public school in a republic means that in their early life children of all classes, of all nationalities, of all sects, of rich and poor alike, children of both sexes, shall work together under the highest and best conditions in one community from eight to twelve years; that they shall have teachers who are trained in the art of all arts—the art of teaching; that in the school, before prejudice has entered their childish souls, before hate has become fixed, before mistrust has become a habit they shall have influences surrounding them that shall lead to the best work with the best motive of mutual assistance." Francis W. Parker.

Parents may well be asking where their little children who begin school life next term are to be crowded in. The three lowest rooms of the Willard number 48, 57, and 63; the first six of the John Hancock 56 60, 71, 61, and 63; the lowest in the Lincoln 66, and the first four of the Coddington 42, 47, 56, 60. The School Board asked for increased accommodations in February, 1898. Perhaps the Cranch building will be completed January 1, 1901. If this result is possible, one new building will be occupied just four years from the time of the last. Certainly no one can be accused of undue haste.

"To desire to possess without being burdened with the trouble of acquiring, is as much a sign of weakness as to recognize that everything worth having is only to be got by paying its price, is the prime secret of practical strength. Even leisure cannot be enjoyed unless it is won by effort. If it has not been earned by work, the price has not been paid for it."

"Colleges and schools exist for education and not simply for the petty details of instruction. To make of them mere information bureaus is to degrade them. We have no use for them unless they can make men out of boys and women out of girls. This means character. It means that first of all, boys and girls, young men and women, shall know who they are, why they are, and what they live for. They are to know that they are in a world where each lives for all and all for each."

Edward Everett Hale.

"There are greater words than patriotism as usually defined, for instance, justice, civilization and humanity. People should cease thinking of themselves as Americans, but rather as citizens of the world. The larger patriotism of the future will usher in at once peace and order, and militarism will cease to be. "We read of a wave of patriotism in some national Congress over the appropriation of an immense sum of money for military purposes, but we do not read of any wave of patriotism here in Boston when $2,000,000 is passed for the public schools." The world's sentiment, as the "larger patriotism" grows, will be sweepingly democratic."

"The glory of the public system is its fundamental unselfishness. The men who ungrudgingly contribute the largest sums toward its maintenance are not the men who contribute the largest number of children to its membership. From a narrow view of life, the man of wealth would prefer the less expensive method of paying tuition for his own children while the children of his neighbor grew up in ignorance. From a broad and unselfish view of his relation to human society, however, he cheerfully votes in town-meeting for the heavy appropriations toward which, through the medium of public taxation, he must largely contribute. The millennium may indeed be far distant, but one of the lessons taught by the public schools is the brotherhood of man; and when this brotherhood is universally acknowledged and exemplified, the dawn of the millennium will certainly be near at hand."—Walradt.

"Soils are the wreckage of rocks, as they wear down under the action of the air, the rain and frost, the roots of plants, and the stomachs of worms. This wearing has been going on for a very long time in the past, so that the soil now on any country may have gradually settled downwards for thousands of feet, as the rocks slowly rotted away and were carried off by the streams. It is a beautiful fact that the greatest work of the ruin that the world knows—the decay of the continents themselves—should give us the foundations on which to rest all the higher life of the world. All our forests and prairies owe their life to this decay. All the higher animals of the world depend upon this plant life, and man founds himself his life upon the same mass of ruin. Thus it is through all the life of the world: the death of one thing gives life to others; the decay of the physical world is the foundation for the higher life of plant and animal." N. S. Shaler S. D.

"You acknowledge that you cannot sing,—you have no voice; that you cannot play,—you have no ear; that you cannot draw,—you have no eye for form; that you cannot work a problem in partial payments,—you have no head for figures; that you always found geography and history dry, and have left them alone. But how is it about our pronunciation of English words, your spelling in your correspondence, your grammar in your writing and your speech, your use from capitals, your choice of courteous and well-bred diction? Geography, history, music have nothing to do with courtesy, with personal appearance, with agreeableness, with social standing, with the power of self-assertion, with the right to influence in the affairs of church and State. Think how enormously English differs in this respect from all other studies pursued in school. It forms a category all by itself. Every thing else we teach is a specialty. English is not a specialty, but the exact, diametric opposite of specialty. We lack a name for the opposite of a specialty, never having fully recognized in pedagogy the existence of this peculiarity by which the study of the mother tongue is marked off and severed from all other studies. We cannot speak of a generality as the opposite of a specialty in education. When your social duties or your business concerns require you to write a letter do you neglect to write and contentedly explain that you are a little rusty in your English and do not like to take pen in hand? You are asked to join a club to study Shakespeare or Browning: do you aver that you cannot pronounce English and must therefore stand aloof from a pleasant opportunity of literary culture? You never willingly avow these defects in your training, but remain always heartily ashamed of them.—Thurber.

The Masterpiece of Life.

On Thursday, the Quincy Band Literary society and their lady friends enjoyed a very pleasant evening listening to the Rev. W. W. Dornan, on the subject, "The Masterpiece of Life."

Mr. Dornan holds that woman is the materpiece of creation; she is capable of doing all that man can do, besides a great deal more; she should be more honored in the home; her real worth fully recognized in the pursuits which she has entered, and accepted as the most true and loving friend of man.

The large audience gave Mr. Dornan a very cordial reception and unstinted thanks for his splendid lecture.

Next Thursday evening Mr. R. C. Allan will read a paper entitled, "The pursuit of knowledge."

Congressional Delegates.

The Boston wards in the Tenth Congressional district are 12, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20 and 24. In only two of the wards are there rival lists for delegates, Wards 14 and 17, where the list are:

Ward 14 — Richard D. Whitney, Stephen M. Marshall, Timothy Wheater, Jacob P. Power, Ray R. Rideout, George F. Robbins, John Burns, George H. Law.

Second set, Milton C. Paige, Herman Hermel, William T. Eaton, William Stephens, George G. Proctor, Walter W. Frisbee, Joseph J. Wall, Ephraim D. Emerson.

Ward 17—Robert A. Jordan, William E. Barnes, Elmer E. Clarke, Henry S. Lawrence, William M. Humphreys, Charles E. Swan, Charles W. Blanchard.

Second set, John Ballantyne, Frank S. Waterman, Hiram Nash, Joseph M. Wade, Charles J. Kidney, Byram W. Hatch, William H. Ames.

—A jury in the criminal branch on the Supreme court of New York of Thursday decided that "Sapho," which has created so much talk during the past month, is not an immoral play, and acquitted the noted actress, Miss Olga Nethersole, and the three co-defendants. The jury deliberated only ten minutes.

To Interest Boys and Girls.

In January, Adams Chapter entered on its fifth year, having organized in 1896. The Chapter has grown steadily and quietly and now has members from Quincy, Braintree and Randolph, these towns comprising what was originally the old town of Braintree, and whose people all have a common interest in the John Adams birthplace, the headquarters of Adams Chapter.

The meetings this winter have been particularly interesting, three or four ladies taking charge of each meeting, each month and arranging programs of historical papers, vocal and instrumental music, readings, a social hour, refreshments, etc., all contributing to make up a pleasant afternoon. Many of the members look forward to the next meeting and do not hesitate to say that they enjoy the Chapter work more than any club. Besides papers by members, Rev. Edward Anderson, Rev. W. R. Breed and Mrs. David L. Jewell have contributed papers.

The April meeting was held in Monday afternoon with Mrs. Frank Brewer and there was a large attendance. Miss Willis of Braintree sang several solos and Rev. Mr. Breed read a most entertaining paper on Matthew Arnold.

Ices, cake, salted nuts and candy were served by the hostess and the program committee.

A society for girls and boys, under eighteen years is to be formed soon, as sufficient applications have been made. The young people will meet at the Adams house one afternoon each month and will work on the same patriotic lines as Adams Chapter.

This spring and summer the Chapter is to look up the graves of revolutionary soldiers that they may be properly marked, the city having appropriated money or that purpose.

When the weather is more settled the Adams house will be again opened to the public and already dates have been made for patriotic soceties, schools, etc.

Rev. E. A. Horton Assisted.

The funeral of Mr. Silas H. Cobb was held yesterday afternoon from his late residence on Washington street, and was attended by members of Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., a delegation from Shawmut council, R. A., of Boston, and many friends. The Rev. E. N. Hardy of Bethany church officiated and was assisted by Rev. E. A. Horton of Boston, a former pastor of the deceased when at Hingham. Three beautiful songs were contributed by Madam Barratti Morgan of Boston and Dr. C. W. Garey, viz: "The Gathering Homeward" "Beyond the Smiling and the Weeping," and "Only Waiting." Among the floral offerings was a beautiful wreath of double blue violets and ivy leaves, from employes of W. B. White; a mound from the S. of V. and L. A. S.; and a flat bouquet from the W. R. C. The pall bearers were: Mr. Henry Chubbuck, Mr. Joseph White Hayden, Mr. Mark E. Hanson and Lewis Soule. The G. A. R. service was held at the grave at Mt. Wollaston.

REVERSE AND VICTORY.

Boers Capture Five Companies of Troops, After Severe Fighting.

Methuen Reports Capture of Party of Boers at Boshof.

General Mareuil, Chief of Staff of Boer Army, Is Among the Slain.

London, April 7.—Roberts reports that the Boers have captured five companies of British troops at Bethany. This place is on the railroad half way between Bloemfontein and Springfontein, and its possession cannot but mean that Roberts' railroad communications are in imminent danger of being cut by the Boers. As the captured British soldiers were in a position to defend themselves for nearly 24 hours, and were then forced to surrender, the fighting must have been severe.

The Roland for this Oliver comes from Methuen, who reports through his commander-in-chief that he has surrounded and captured, near Boshof, a party of Boers, led by General Count Georges de Villebois Mareuil. None escaped, Villebois Mareuil being killed.

The following is the text of Lord Roberts' dispatch to the war office:

"Bloemfontein, Thursday, April 5.—Another unfortunate occurrence has occurred, resulting, I fear, in the capture of a party of infantry consisting of three companies of the Royal Irish fusiliers and two companies of the Ninth regiment of mounted infantry, near Reddersburg, a little eastward of Bethany railway station, within a few miles of this place. They were surrounded by a stronger force of the enemy with four or five guns.

"The detachment held out from before noon, April 3, until 9 a. m., April 4, and then apparently surrendered, for it is reported that the firing ceased at that time. Immediately after I heard the news, during the afternoon of April 3, I ordered Gatacre to proceed from Springfontein, his present headquarters, to Reddersburg, with all possible speed, and I dispatched the Cameron Highlanders hence to Bethany. He arrived at Reddersburg at 10:30 yesterday morning without opposition, but could get no news of the missing detachment. There can be no doubt the whole party has been made prisoners.

"Methuen telegraphs from Boshof (in the Orange Free state, northeast of Kimberley), as follows: Surrounded General Villebois Mareuil and a body of Boers today. None escaped. Villebois and seven Boers were killed, eight wounded and 50 prisoners. Our losses were: Killed, Captains Boyle and Williams, both of the yeomanry, and two men of the yeomanry. Wounded, about seven men. The attack lasted four hours. The corps behaved very well. Our force was composed of the yeomanry, the Kimberley mounted corps and the Fourth Battery of artillery."

Meanwhile the British public is beginning to realize the immense difficulties to be overcome even before Pretoria is reached, and is revising premature ideas with respect to the time when the war will be over. No one now believes that it will have ended by the beginning of June.

This latest disaster to the British more particularly illustrates the heavy task involved in holding the railway. This body of some 500 British troops without guns, which disappeared so completely within 35 miles of the great British army, had for its business to guard a section of nearly 90 miles of railway between Bloemfontein and Springfontein. If it could thus be spirited away, how is Lord Roberts to ensure his continually extending communications?

Other pertinent questions are being asked as a result of the successive "unfortunate occurrences."

The foremost is, why do not the British troops entrench? It is argued that if this had been done even 500 men might have held out until reinforcements had arrived.

It cannot be concealed that the utmost alarm is beginning to be felt. It is said that the Boers who captured the British at Reddersburg belonged to Olivier's commando, and if so, he has not retired north, and hopes are expressed that he may still be cut off. It is asserted that 4000 rebels surrendered during General Clements' march northward. The Boers will do their utmost to hold Ladybrand and Thaba N'Chu, both being rich grain producing districts.

It is stated that most of the prisoners captured at Boshof are foreigners.

The report that Mr. Steyn has been appointed to the command of the Free Staters and the further report that the Free State has arranged a loan from the Transvaal for war purposes are both confirmed.

Another batch of 1300 Boer prisoners was removed yesterday from the transport Cambridge at Simonstown. The men presented a woe-begone appearance, many of them were sick and their baggage consisted mostly of Kaffir blankets, canvas water bottles and cooking utensils. One of the prisoners died of smallpox, and four other are fatally ill.

Villebois Mareuil was trained in the French military schools, was formerly an officer in the French army, in which he attained the rank of colonel, and from which he resigned in 1896, because promotion to a generalcy came too slow to suit his fancy, and went out to South Africa as soon as war was declared. As the late General Joubert's chief of staff, his brain devised the Boer defense against General Buller's advance to the relief of Ladysmith. He is supposed to have chosen the gun positions and to have laid down the covered trenches. He disposed the Boers at the centers, from which they were sent massed to the defense of any part of a wide area, and had a large share in planning the battle of Colenso. His loss will be keenly felt in Boer war councils.

DEMOCRATS AGAIN WIN.

Kentucky Court of Appeals Decides That Beckham Was Legally Made Governor.

Frankfort, Ky., April 7.—The court of appeals on Friday handed down a decision in the governorship case in favor of the Democrats. The opinion is by six of the judges, four Democrats and two Republicans. One Republican, Durelle, dissented. The opinion holds that the action of the legislature, in seating Governor Beckham, was final, and that the courts have no power to review it; that Governor Taylor exceeded his authority in adjourning the legislature to London, and that the journals of the two houses of the legislature, being regular, cannot be impeached. The Republicans will now try to get a hearing before the United States supreme court. Thirty days must elapse before the mandate of the court of appeals is issued. Meanwhile, no radical change in the relative position of the two state governments is expected.

Governor Taylor gave out the following statement last night:

"Once and for all, I desire to say neither directly nor indirectly had I any connection with the assassination of Senator Goebel. I am a citizen of this state, amenable to its laws. I am not a criminal; neither shall I ever be a fugitive from justice. Whenever indicted, if such an outrage should be committed, I shall appear for trial, conscious of my innocence and of the ultimate triumph of right and justice.

"The whole purpose of this persecution has been and is to deprive me from my post of duty and to punish me for holding the office to which I have fairly been elected. Such surrender I have not made, nor will I make it unless the highest courts of this land should adjudge that I should do so."

Youthful Murderers Hanged.

Baxley, Ga., April 7.—King and Lewis Goesby, negroes, were hanged here yesterday for the murder of Dan Mimms on March 5 last. The Goesby boys, who were aged respectively 14 and 17, called on Mimms at night and while talking with him struck him on the head with an axhandle, knocking him senseless. Mrs. Mimms was also struck down and then Mimms was beaten to death. Mrs. Mimms had one arm broken and several bad cuts on her head, but recovered. Her child was also badly bruised. The negroes barely escaped burning at the stake when apprehended.

Ready to Adjust Grievances.

Chicago, April 7.—The Building Trades council took the first step last night towards ending the industrial war in Chicago. By a unanimous vote, the affiliated organizations were instructed to appoint arbitration committees, if such were not already appointed, and through them to notify the various organizations affiliated with the Building Contractors' council of their readiness to adjust the grievances, which have stood in the way for nearly three months.

Army Officer Arrested.

Newark, N. J., April 7.—Victor Gerin, first sergeant, Fifth artillery, U. S. A., stationed at Fort Wadsworth, was arrested yesterday in this city, where he has been spending a honeymoon with his young bride. He was on a furlough. It is alleged that Gerin for fully a year has been making over $50 a month more than his just pay by falsifying bills for provisions. Gerin is connected with the commissary department.

Experimenting With L Road Cars.

Boston, April 7.—The experimental running of large third-rail electric cars, which will be used on the elevated road, has begun. With the Sprague system four cars make a train, and two cars for the Westinghouse system. The trains were weighted for 600 passengers. The speed greatly exceeded that possible for trolley cars. The experiments are to determine the system to be installed on the elevated road.

Sympathy From New York Schoolboys.

New York, April 7.—At a meeting of the high school boys of New York yesterday, delegates were selected for the convention of high school boys of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, at Philadelphia next Monday. It is said that the convention will select a delegate to present to President Kruger an illuminated address, expressing sympathy with the Transvaal in its struggle with Great Britain.

Another Edict Against "The Degenerates."

Newark, N. J., April 7.—Chief of Police Hopper was instructed yesterday by Mayor Seymour not to permit under any circumstances Mrs. Langtry and "The Degenerates" to appear next week in the Newark theater. The play is billed for the entire week. "I was prompted to such action," says the mayor, "by the numerous protests from reputable citizens against granting a license for the show."

Congregation Stands by Him.

New York, April 7.—In Plymouth church last evening Rev. Dr. Hillis was praised by his congregation for the stand which he has taken against the Presbytery of Chicago. In a recent letter to that body Dr. Hillis said that he did not believe in certain doctrines of the Presbyterian church and sent in a letter of resignation. Dr. Hillis was not present at the prayer meeting last night.

Fatal Accidents at Lowell.

Lowell, Mass., April 7.—Remi Cote, aged 45, was instantly killed by a plank which fell 40 feet and struck him on the head, while he was at work in the Lawrence hosiery. His neck was broken. Harry Clifton, a painter, aged 48, was killed while at work on the roof of a three-story building, by falling from a step ladder to the ground.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Fair weather prevailed Friday throughout the east. The temperature rose and is generally above the seasonal average. A storm of marked strength has moved from Bermuda to Nova Scotia, causing high northwesterly winds on the middle Atlantic and New England coast. Present conditions indicate general unsettled weather and showers in New England. Storm signals are displayed from Hatteras to Eastport.

OUR PRODUCTS AHEAD.

Imported American Goods Preferred In British Colonies.

THEY FETCH HIGHER PRICES.

Liverpool Chamber of Commerce Warned—American Firms Are More Accommodating Than English. Their Manufactures Are More Attractive and Suitable—A Thorough Investigation Proposed.

The Liverpool chamber of commerce has received from a well known English business man the following letter, calling attention to the fact that American manufactures are being accepted by English purchasers in preference to those of home production, reports James Boyle, United States consul at Liverpool:

"I desire to submit for your consideration a summary of the observations which I have made during my close association with colonials for a period of seven years spent in Africa, Australia and Canada and during a brief visit to the States. I have found that American and German manufacturers are gradually ousting us from all these markets. This truth, irrefutable from statistics, is scarcely appreciated at a time of worldwide prosperity, but it will make itself unpleasantly obvious when the inevitable reaction sets in. I find that throughout the countries I have named there is a universal complaint: 'You English will not make your goods to suit our markets. You send your samples and tell us to take them or leave them—you don't care which.' If we ask you to alter things, you either refuse to do it or else you demand prohibitive prices. Germans and Americans, on the other hand, care for and ascertain our requirements and then supply our needs at reasonable prices. Furthermore, we are in closer touch with the actual producers of American and German goods. English goods go through too many hands.'

"In every case I have made much careful inquiry and comparisons, and I find that the German and American goods actually fetch better prices than English goods supplied for similar purposes. The reason is that the former are generally either better or more tastefully finished and are often more appropriate for the purposes for which they are made. I find that even near home similar conditions obtain. Only last week I went into a commercial sample room in Stoke-on-Trent and saw a display of American and German 'Birmingham' ware. The traveler answered my inquiries in words almost identical with the above. Further, gentlemen, I would impress upon you that the relative influence of the foreign element in our markets has most perceptibly increased with each year during the last seven years; but, be it noted, we are not undersold, but only outclassed. From a careful study of the position I am confident that nothing but prompt measures will prevent irreparable damage. And, on the other hand, I am equally confident that by judicious and immediate action not only may the insidious progress of our competitors be staid, but the lost ground may be regained. That this is feasible needs no proof if my hypothesis be accepted. What is chiefly needful is a wise, intimate acquaintance with the needs of our customers and an absolute knowledge of the tactics of our competitors.

"The present is a fitting moment to make thorough investigation of the condition of our trade, and I venture to submit for your consideration a method of inquiry. Let suitable persons be appointed to travel throughout not only the empire, but the world. Equip the men so chosen with ample discretionary powers and with funds with which to purchase samples of every class of goods of foreign manufacture. Let them trace each article to its source and make a concise report under the following heads: (1) Retail price; (2) wholesale price at distributing center; (3) wholesale price at place of manufacture; (4) import duty; (5) cost of shipments and expenses of transit; (6) number of intermediaries or middlemen; (7) suggestions as to suitability or otherwise for the purpose intended and general remarks.

"Let them also purchase similar articles of English manufacture and report likewise. The two samples should then be sent for exhibition to the center of the industries affected. A shrewd man, too, might make most valuable suggestions as to future trade and local requirements. One of the many causes operating to our disadvantage is that English merchants frequently overlook the immense distances from railway communication of many of our colonial markets—so great are they that often the freight exceeds the value of the article. Germans and Americans study this and make their goods lighter, but equally suitable, and consequently more salable."

New Buildings In Khartum.

Thomas Catlin, the editor of Lloyd's Weekly Newspaper, cabled recently, announcing his safe arrival at Khartum. The journey up the Nile from Wady Halfa had been somewhat eventful, the vessel getting stuck on mudbanks, and he was many days later than anticipated. He reports that the wonderful sirdar's palace is nearing completion, but that The Daily Telegraph, which on Jan. 24 announced that the new hotel for tourists was already open, had been somewhat premature. The building was not much beyond the first story, and there will not be any hotel for tourists at any rate this season. The sirdar's palace at Khartum, of which mention has been made, is estimated to cost only £20,000. —Birmingham Post.

SPRING HATS.

What the World of Fashion Will Wear Easter Sunday.

That flowers are to prevail in hat trimming is assured. Some Paris models are made wholly of the smaller blossoms. A Spanish turban, for instance, is all of violets with the stems drawn over the brim to form a facing. The crown is of violet leaves with a drapery of lace around it. The brim is wide in front and narrow at the back.

Ostrich plumes are used in combination with flowers of the larger varieties. A toque of white tulle with crown of creamy Irish lace has lace of the same design twined in the brim, which is caught back at the left front by a knot of dahlia purple panne velvet held by a rhinestone ornament. From under this knot a single white ostrich plume sweeps over the left side of the crown to the back. Under the brim, at the right near the back, is a cluster of crushed velvet roses in dahlia shades.

A pretty hat just from Paris is of white tulle tucked and shirred on the low crown and draped in soft fullness on the brim, which is wide in front. A large rosette of pale pink miroir velvet combined with white tulle is mounted where brim and crown meet in front. This is a reception bonnet, accompanying a silver gray cloth gown with trimming of white cut cloth over pastel pink miroir velvet.

The so called pastel tints retain their popularity, but are mingled with richer, brighter tones. For instance, the new straws will be generally of the pastel shades, and the trimming will combine the same with brighter hues. A novel feature is the use of two or more shades of straw mixed with plain fabrics of harmonious tones, with flowers, ribbons and tulle to complete the delicate chord of color. Ribbons, by the way, are used extensively, mostly extremely wide, and of softest taffeta. Bows should be made of at least three shades. A good effect is obtained by laying the strips in plaits, with the edges turned over, then tying them together in one large bow, afterward drawing them apart. The bow is put at the side, and flowers are arranged below it.

Green is a fashionable color this spring, and charming springlike effects are created by using its varying tones. Even hats are made of green straw.

Other fashionable colors, say Parisian milliners, are a pale old blue called Corot, an old fashioned lavender revived as De Neuville, a deep straw named Roybet and a bluet lighter than the regulation color.—Selected.

THE LEGEND OF THE EASTER EGGS.

Cathedral bells, with their hollow lungs,
Their vibrant lips and their brazen tongues,
Over the roofs of the city pour
Their Easter music with joyous roar,
Till the soaring notes to the sun are rolled
As he swings aloft in his path of gold.

"Dearest papa," says my boy to me
As he merrily climbs his father's knee,
"Why are those eggs that you see me hold
Colored so finely with blue and gold?
And what is the beautiful bird that lays Such beautiful eggs on Easter days?"

Tenderly shine the April skies
Like laughter and tears in my child's blue eyes,
And every face in the street is gay;
Why cloud this youngster by saying nay?
So I cudgel my brain for the story he begs
And tell him the tale of the Easter eggs.

"You have heard, my children, of One who died,
Crowned with keen thorns and crucified;
And how Joseph, the wealthy, whom God reward,
Cared for the corpse of the martyred Lord
And piously tombed it within the rock
And closed the gates with a mighty block.

"Now, close by the gate a fair tree grew,
With pendulous leaves and blossoms of blue,
And deep in the green tree's shadowy breast
A beautiful singing bird sat on her nest,
Which was bordered with mosses like malachite,
And held four eggs of ivory white.

"Now, when the bird from her dim recess
Beheld the Lord in his burial dress
And looked on the heavenly face so pale
And the dear feet pierced with the cruel nail,
Her heart nigh broke with a sudden pang,
And out of the depth of her sorrow she sang.

"All night long till the morn was up
She sat and sang in her moss wreathed cup
A song of sorrow, as wild and shrill
As the homeless wind when it roams the hill,
So full of tears, so loud and long
That the grief of the world was turned to song.

"But soon there came, through the weeping night,
A glimmering angel clothed in white,
And he rolled the stone from the tomb away,
Where the Lord of the earth and heaven lay,
And Christ arose in the cavern's gloom
And in living luster came from the tomb.

"Now the bird that sat in the heart of the tree
Beheld the celestial mystery,
And its heart was filled with a sweet delight,
And it poured a song on the sobbing night;
Notes climbed notes, till higher, higher,
They shoot to heaven like sparks of fire.

"When the glittering white robed angel heard
The sorrowing song of the grieving bird
And heard the following chant of mirth
That hailed Christ risen from the earth,
He said, 'Sweet bird, be forever blest,
Thyself, thy eggs and thy moss wreathed nest.'

"And ever, my child, since that blessed night,
When death bowed down to the Lord of Light,
The eggs of that sweet bird changed their hue
And burn with red and gold and blue,
Reminding mankind, in their simple way,
Of the holy marvel of Easter day."

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

CIVILIANS MUST MOVE.

Roberts Evidently Considers Bloemfontein an Unsafe Place For Them.

News Is Not of a Nature to Encourage England.

Boers In Free State and Natal Show Activity Over the Entire Field.

London, April 9.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Morning Post says: No anxiety need be felt as to the security of Bloemfontein, although the enemy may succeed in destroying telegraphic communication and even in cutting the railway for a brief period. A number of civilians, including Lady Benelnck and Lady Edward Cecil, who arrived here recently from Cape Town, have left, in compliance with a general order issued by the authorities.

The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Nws says: Owing to a lack of horses and to the sufferings of the men from pneumonia, due to thin clothing, Lord Roberts has decided not to make a big movement until the troops are provided with thicker uniforms.

When it is borne in mind that all the dispatches from the front are severely censored, there is little in today's news to bring satisfaction to England. Assurances that nothing need be feared, even if the railways and telegraphs are cut and Bloemfontein isolated, together with the news that the women and other civilians are being ordered away, do not augur well.

There are rumors from Cape Town that the telegraph wires were already cut yesterday, and also that the Hussars who were sent to the relief of the Royal Irish rifles are also missing, although these may be the outcome of Boer exaggerations designed to encourage the burghers.

The attempt of General Colville to catch the Boer leaders in conference at Reitfontein failed probably, as usual, because of the lack of cavalry.

The results of these serious checks to the British arms is that the whole Free State is up again, and that the Boers are full of activity over the entire field.

A belated Boer dispatch says that bayonets were being made for the foreign legion under the late General Mareuil.

The Boers are boasting that the Colesburg and Stormberg commandoes, numbering 6000, with 10 cannon and many wagons, have gotten safely through, thus performing a "magnificent strategic feat."

A Boer account of the Bloemfontein waterworks affair says: "Colonel Broadhead evacuated Thaba N'Chu owing to the advance of Commandant Olivier from the south. The federal troops found the British camp in peaceful slumber, without a sentinel or an outpost to give the alarm. General De Wet immediately placed guns and the commandoes in such positions as to surround the British, who did not have time to recover from their surprise."

The Cape Town correspondent of The Times, discussing the affair, says: All the details only serve to bring out clearly the marvelous cleverness of the Boers, no less than the marvelous carelessness and improvidence of the British officers, whom, it would seem, no series of disasters will ever teach to keep wide awake. The Boers in Colonel Broadwood's rear drove his force into the party at the drift exactly as partridges are driven to a gun. At the drift itself, as each wagon descended the hollow, it was shown which way to drive, so as not to block the convoy. When the guns arrived the trap was all clear again for their reception. As one who was present said, "It was like a cloakroom." The Boers politely took your rifle and asked you kindly to step to one side. There was nothing else for you to do.

The American scout, Burnham, testifies to the terrific pace with which the Boer commandoes cover the ground and the ease with which they move their guns.

The Boers are displaying increased activity in Natal, but there is no sign that General Buller is moving.

Mafeking was still besieged on April 1. The garrison was suffering severely from lack of bread, and a mixture of oats, bran and mealies was doing duty for the article, which is described as "coarse in substance, of the color of gingerbread, and of the consistency of Norwegian pine."

A Boy's Rash Act.

Worcester, Mass., April 9.—John Lane, 11 years old, hanged himself in the cellar of his home. The lad had just returned from Sunday school and went to the cellar to do some chores, as it was supposed. About 20 minutes later his stepmother found him hanging from a rafter in the cellar.

Perhaps Germans Are Jealous.

Berlin, April 9.—The Berlin papers publish a Washington dispatch with reference to the convening of a second Pan-American congress, and comment upon the proposal in rather unfavorable terms.

ACTIVITY OF INSURGENTS

Causing Considerable Trouble For Americans In Many Portions of the Philippines.

Manila, April 9.—Reports of encounters between the American troops and the insurgents continue to arrive from many points. On Friday Captain Sturgis, while reconnoitering, struck an insurgent outpost on the Novaliches road, five miles distant from Manila, killing two and capturing 10 men. All were in full uniform. Captain Sturgis' force was not large enough to pursue the main body.

A detachment of the Forty-second infantry, while scouting in Laguna province, was pursued by the insurgents and obliged to take refuge in a church at Paeto, where the Americans repelled the rebels until reinforcements arrived.

Lieutenant Gordon, with a company of the Sixteenth infantry, while scouting near Aparri, Cagayan province, engaged 250 insurgents. Lieutenant Gordon was wounded. A sergeant and a corporal of company 1, Eighteenth infantry, were killed in a severe fight in Capiz province, island of Panay.

The insurgents made a night attack upon Calbayon, island of Samar. They killed the sentry, swarmed into the town and searched the house of Major Gilmore of the Forty-third infantry, who was absent. They killed his cook. Ultimately the Americans drove them out of the town, killing four and capturing 12.

General Young, commanding in north Luzon, has made several requests for reinforcements, representing that his force is inadequate. He says that the men are exhausted by the necessity of constant vigilance; that he is unable to garrison the towns in his jurisdiction; that the insurgents are returning to the district and killing the amigos, and that it is necessary for him to inflict punishment in several sections before the rainy season begins.

General James Bell, who is in command in southern Luzon, has made similar representations. He says his forces are inadequate, and that he merely holds a few towns, without controlling the territory.

The president of the town of Samal, province of Bataar, Luzon, and other prominent natives have been assassinated because they were known to be friendly to the Americans.

The president of another town has joined the insurgents because they had threatened to kill him if he did not.

Passengers Narrowly Escaped Death.

North Sydney, C. B., April 9.—An accident occurred on the Newfoundland railway at 3 o'clock Saturday morning. A passenger train had just got over a bridge at Bear Pond, when it was struck by a heavy gale, and the cars lifted from the rails and rolled down an embankment. In the car next to the engine were 60 men. The cars took fire, and the occupants had barely time to escape. So fiercely did the cars burn that the men had not time to procure all their clothes. A Pullman car also took fire, and three women and several men had narrow escapes from being burned to death. There was no loss of life, but everyone on board sustained cuts and bruises. All the cars were destroyed.

Victims of "Jamaica Ginger."

East Machias, Me., April 9.—The coroner's jury which investigated the cause of the sudden death of Clinton and Horace Gardner, which occurred on March 19, rendered a verdict that the deaths were caused by over indulgence in so-called Jamaica ginger, manufactured and marketed under a special brand. This fluid was shown by analysis to consist of a large percent of capsicum. It is said that there is but one record of its equal, where the membrane of the stomach, as shown by the examination, had been totally destroyed by an overdose of the drug.

Crowds Honor Queen Victoria.

Dublin, Apri 9.—Queen Victoria attended service in the private chapel of the Vice Regal lodge yesterday. The archbishop of Dublin preached. Only a portion of the household were present. The queen took a country drive in the afternoon. Everywhere she met with an euthusiastic reception. The rain, to some extent, marred the beauty of the drive. It is computed that quite 52,000 children were present at the children's reception Saturday.

Assassin Run Down by Bloodhounds.

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 9.—Ves Steele was shot and killed near Auburn by William Davis. The latter had been attentive to Steele's wife and Steele had threatened to make trouble. Saturday night Steele went to call on a neighbor, and as he was entering the door he was shot through the heart. Bloodhounds were put on the trail and brought up at the door of Davis' house, some miles away. Davis was arrested and confessed the murder.

Ended Troubles by Suicide.

Boston, April 9.—A sequel to an alleged elopement was the suicide Sunday of Miss Mary Gillon, a beautiful young woman of Wilmington, Del., due, the police say, to the refusal of Thomas Dugan, with whom she left home, to have the marriage ceremony performed and to his abusive treatment of her. The young woman took a dose of carbolic acid and died after two hours of intense suffering.

Indianapolis Strike Settled.

Indianapolis, April 9.—At a mass meeting of 600 union carpenters of this city, an agreement was reached with the contractors by which the strike, which has prevailed for a week, was abandoned. The agreed scale includes 30 cents an hour, or 5 cents less than demanded, and the absolute recognition of union labor.

Quaker Evangelist Dead.

Pawtucket, R. I., April 9.—John W. Dean of Washington, the Quaker evangelist, who came here to conduct a series of meetings, died Sunday from pneumonia, following an attack of grip. He was born in Hamburg, N. Y., in 1830, and has been engaged in evangelistic work since 1875.

TEXAS VALLEY FLOOD.

Raging Torrents Cause a Heavy Loss of Life and Property.

Light and Water System of Austin Swept Away.

Hundreds of Heads of Cattle Drowned and Railroads Seriously Crippled.

Austin, April 9.—Last Wednesday night it began to rain very hard at this place, the storm extending north of here along the watersheds of the Colorado river. The precipitation continued until Saturday morning, the downfall aggregating six inches. All this vast quantity of water along the watersheds of the Colorado river rapidly swelled the current until the river, which had been steadily rising, was a raging torrent, having risen 40 feet within 10 hours.

This city was in pitch darkness last night, with the river roaring and surging through all the lower portions of the town, having spread death and destruction in its wake. In addition to the vast loss to property interests it is calculated that between 30 and 40 lives have been sacrificed, and the reports coming in from the tributary country do not tend to improve matters.

A raging river, already swollen far beyond its capacity, bore too heavily upon an immense dam spanning the river here, breaking it and letting loose a reservoir of water 30 miles long, half a mile wide and 60 feet deep to aid in carrying destruction down the valleys of the Colorado river.

The great dam in the Colorado river gave way from the enormous pressure of water and debris and with a roar and crash swept the valleys below the city, wrecking the immense light and power plant and drowning eight workmen.

The breaking of the dam caused wild excitement in the city. The telegraph companies at once wired to places below here to look out for the great wave, and runners were dispatched on horses to notify those living in the valleys below the city. The telegraphic messages served as a timely warning to many, but the rushing waters outstripped the horsemen and many houses were picked up and swept away before the occupants could get together their valuables.

Within a short time all the valleys to the south and west of Austin were filled to overflowing with water, and the southern part of the city tributary to the river was inundated. Large crowds collected on the river banks and several persons were swept into the river when the dam broke, but all were saved by boatmen.

It is estimated that more than 100 houses have been destroyed, and the loss to property will be great.

A south-bound train from St. Louis on the International and Great Northern was wrecked at McNeil as a result of a washout. The engine and cars plunged into a culvert, demolishing the engine, the mail, baggage car, two day coaches and one sleeper. The cars left the track and rolled over on their sides in four feet of water but no lives were lost, nor were any of the passengers badly hurt.

Fully 30,000 people gathered yesterday at the dam and power house stationed north of this city to witness the ruins of the plant, which cost this city $1,75 ,000 a few years ago. The waters of the Colorado river were still plunging and foaming around the wreck, eating away the big pile of granite which once formed the dam as though it was nothing more than chalk rock. So fierce was the current that great boulders were carried half a mile from the dam, being rolled over and over by the turbulent tide.

The power house, which succumbed to the terrific wash of the water at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, lies a mass of wreckage on the edge of the river. The wreck of the plant is complete.

The situation in the city is most serious. The wreckage of the plant means that it will take several weeks to secure even a temporary water and light system if it can be made possible even then. In the meantime the city will be in a bad sanitary condition. All the hotels, private residences, stores and the like are without water, and there is no fire protection. Churches were unable to hold services last night for want of light, and all public meetings were abandoned. The daily newspapers are handicapped in their publication, being deprived of their electric power.

The river is now falling.

Reports from the neighboring country are to the effect that everything is under water. In Williamson county, north of here, railroad bridges and trackage have been laid waste and all trains have stopped running. Hundreds of head of cattle have been drowned and miles of fencing torn down and washed away.

A mass meeting of citizens has been called in order that some steps may be taken to relieve the situation.

Mrs. Dewey Said to Have Changed Faith.

Washington, April 9.—A report was in circulation here last night that Mrs. Dewey had left the Catholic church and had become an Episcopalian, but no verification of the rumor could be obtained. Father Mackin, who married the admiral and his wife, and who is rector of her church, refused to talk concerning the report.

"The Revival of Education."

Good Afternoon.

It is because the solid interests of the country know that Bryanism cannot win this year, that our prosperity continues to increase.

The order of the Czar of Russia for 1,200 improved rapid firing cannon can hardly be taken as an indication of continued peace in Europe.

Many relics of the Revolutionary war, including coins and two English cannon, have been dredged out of the river near Savannah, Ga., recently. How would it do to mount those cannon handsomely and present them to England?

The demand for American steel has increased 100 per cent. during the last year, owing to foreign orders. There isn't a country on earth that is not buying American steel, which we can make better and sell cheaper than the steel makers of any other country.

And now the Republicans claim that the Council's celebrated Quincy depot order was nothing more or less than a campaign document drawn up by a couple of "wicked Democrats," one of whom later on may be a candidate for Mayor, for the avowed purpose of putting Mayor Hall into a hole. There did seem to be a sort of a political odor attached to it. The wonder is that the gentleman who introduced the order did not see through it. The whole thing was cleverly worked. It will probably figure as a campaign argument at the next city election as to why the outs should be in, and the ins out.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ If the present congress passes the shipping bill now under consideration, it will lay the foundation for better commercial relations with the nations south of us. The greatest need is swift steamship communication with South America.—Beverly Times.

☞ John D. Long is a very fortunate man. The anti-expansionists object to him even more strongly than they do to any other man in connection with the vice presidency. Good fortune always seems to attend the genial gentleman from Hingham.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞ Queer performances are those at the preliminary hearing in the Goebel case. The counsel pass the lie and almost come to blows the first thing—they appear to have left their "guns" behind, for a wonder; the court is thrown into a panic and the judge, an illiterate character who uses double negatives and alludes to himself as "Old Dan Moore," stops the tumult by a summary adjournment. Surely a strange breed is bred in old Kentucky. —Waterbury Globe.

☞ To those who have not looked into the matter it may seem strange that a constitutional amendment is desired to prevent a further increase of Boston's debt. Yet it has been found that a mere law is worse than useless in that connection. Only 15 years ago a law was enacted that the debt of Boston should not be in any case greater than 2 per cent. of the assessed valuation of property in the city. According to that limitation, Boston's debt should not now be over $21,000,000. It is actually in excess of $100,000,000, if the "metropolitan" debts are all taken into account. The law of 1885, limiting the debt of Boston, has been utterly without effect to prevent debt increase. Each legislature is a law to itself in this matter, unless some provision of the constitution intervenes. It is precisely for this reason that the friends of economy and good business management in Boston finances are now working for a constitutional amendment to protect the finances and the credit of this city.—Boston Advertiser.

Blue Laws at Braintree.

The sale of newspapers was stopped in Braintree on Sunday. Just why, is not apparent, as the sale is permitted by law. Cigars, tobacco, etc., also came under the ban, and all such places of business were closed. Neither were newspapers delivered or sold on the street.

The person responsible for this sudden reform, says the Journal, was Rev. C. F. Hill Crathern, pastor of the South Congregational church in South Braintree. Ever since Mr. Crathern came to South Braintree, several years ago, he has taken a prominent place in the secular as well as the religious life of the town. He has served on the School Committee, written caustically in the town newspapers and criticised town affairs from his pulpit.

His especial bete noir has been illegal liquor selling, for Braintree is a no-license town, and he has even conducted liquor raids in person. In fact, so strongly did his activity impress the voters of the town that at the last town meeting an appropriation of $700 was voted for "the suppression of vice", and this money was passed over to the minister with the tacit under standing that it be used in stamping out the liquor evil.

But Rev. Mr. Crathern had other things in his mind beside the kitchen barroom. He did not like the way the Sabbath was observed in Braintree for one thing. He objected to the sale of Sunday newspapers, of cigars and of peanuts. The edict went forth that all this sort of thing must cease, and cease it did for one Sunday, at least. There is another side to the affair, however. Many citizens claim that the $700 was not intended to be spent in enforcing blue laws in South Braintree. They say that it is all right to stop the sale of liquor, but that it is altogether another matter to deprive a man of his Sunday paper.

One of these dissenters embodied his objections to the minister, summary action in a resolution, asking that a special town meeting be called for the purpose of revoking the $700 appropriation, and he spent most of his Sunday in circulating it. He found not a few supporters, and succeeded in fixing about 50 signatures to the paper.

Officer Conrad Mischler, who served the orders, is under the employ of Rev. Mr. Crathern, but the latter denies giving him any special orders, other than to enforce the Sunday laws.

The special town meeting will be held April 18.

Rewarded by a Smile.

Prompt action by Officer Barry probably saved a young lady from being killed or seriously injured at the Quincy depot Saturday night. Just as the 5.49 outward train was leaving the depot a carriage drove rapidly to the depot and a young lady dressed in evening costume jumped from the carriage and made a dash for the train.

She caught hold of the railing to the steps but was unable to get aboard. As the train was rapidly gaining headway, the people on the platform expected to see her drawn between the cars.

Officer Barry made a dash for her and catching hold of her clothing held her away from the train to which she still clung. In the meantime the conductor became aware of what was going on, and stopped the train. Officer Barry then released his hold of the young lady who boarded the train. As it moved on she waved her hand, and smiled sweetly at Dave as she shouted, I am all right.

DUNCAN OBJECTS.

To the Agreement of Granite Cutters at Stony Creek.

The executive committee of the New England Granite Manufacturers' Association will hold a meeting in Boston tomorrow. Whether it can do anything toward a settlement in Quincy remains to be seen.

The committee will probably pass upon the settlement at Stony Creek, where the terms of agreement were:

Eight hours for a working day; 33 cents per hour minimum wages, and 34 cents per hour for a competent, skilled cutter; tool sharpeners for cutters, 24 cents per hour for actual time, a sharpener's gang to consist of 12 cutters and 1 driller or 13 cutters; nine hours a day's work when sharpening for quarrymen: wages to be paid once in two weeks; the 1895 bill of prices increased 10 per cent., and, with the exception of "all fine work on beds and joints, to be paid for as fine," all miscellaneous items in 1895 bill not already revised to remain in force; bill to run five years and three months, notice to be given by either party of a desire to change; all questions then to be settled by arbitration; pending arbitration, no strike, lockout or suspension of work to take place, the arbitration cause not to be construed to mean that the workmen shall waive any right of suspension of work where the employer fails to pay the workmen on the pay day, as provided for, unless satisfactory reasons are given; a cutter working by the piece to have the price put upon diagram when taking up stone.

It seems that the settlement is not satisfactory to the Granite Cutters' National Union, but it may be another case like Barre, only a break among cutters rather than among manufacturers.

James Duncan, secretary of the National union in a letter to O. W. Norcross, announces that the union will not sanction the agreement. Speaking of the terms as 33 cents or 34 cents an hour for an eight-hour day, to stand for five years, he says that, while the union does not blame Mr. Norcross for offering such a low rate, it certainly objects to being held responsible for the action of the men in Stony Creek for the rate is at least 2 cents too low, and it would be "simply insanity for the National union to enter into an agreement for that rate for five years." The union, he says, stands for a $3 minimum rate.

"We have taken time by the forelock," says Mr. Duncan, "to acquaint you of the above, so that you would not consider our organization as breaking faith with you in the future in not paying attention to the provisions of the Stony Creek agreement.

The writer concludes by hoping that Mr. Norcross will co-operate with the union in introducing a 35-cent minimum for an eight-hour day, inasmuch as Vermont has seemingly set the pace at that rate.

Birthday Party.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Stuart of Bromfield street was the scene of a very brilliant assembly given in honor of the birthday of their niece, Miss Winnie A. Toal. Gowned in white organdie ornamented with blue sash, she received her friends. The program for the evening consisted of games and music followed by refreshments. Miss Toal was the recipient of many very beautiful and useful gifts. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Hallowell, Mr. and Mrs. Croucher, Mr. E. Sennett of Wollaston, Miss Waynes, Brookline, Miss King, Somerville, Miss R. A. Curry, Roxbury, Mr. E. F. Rogers, Boston, and many others.

DOGS MUST BE LICENSED

On or Before APRIL 30,

Or the Owners or Keepers thereof

LIABLE TO A FINE!

Extracts from the Laws of this Commonwealth.

Every owner or keeper of a dog of three months old or over shall annually on or before the THIRTIETH DAY OF APRIL, cause it to be Registered, Numbered, Described and Licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city or town wherein said dog is kept, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

An owner of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of the ensuing May; and a person becoming the owner or keeper of a dog after the first day of May, not duly licensed, shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided in the preceding section.

The fee for every license shall be two dollars for a MALE and five dollars for a FEMALE dog.

Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit FIFTEEN DOLLARS, five dollars of which shall be paid to the complainant and ten dollars to the treasurer of the county in which the dog is kept.

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number of dogs so kept exceeds five, the fee shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper, under the age of six months.

Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed, which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day in April in any year, shall, whenever it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May, as provided in Sec. 80 of Chap. 102 of the Public Statutes, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

DANCING CLASSES.

Close the Season With a Very Pretty Reception.

The reception given by the pupils of Miss Corlew's dancing classes Saturday evening at High School hall, proved all that was anticipated, and proud parents and friends crowded the hall and enjoyed the scene quite as much as the young misses and masters who participated, many coming considerable distance.

The pupils numbered nearly 100 and it was a pretty sight when they marched into the hall and saluted their teacher and little Ethel Weeks who assisted in receiving. Miss Corlew was gowned in a rich yellow lansdowne trimmed with lavender and rare antique lace.

The matrons occupied the master's platform which was surrounded with plants. Mrs. George H. Hitchcock wore a blue and white silk with rose vest front, Mrs. H. G. Fay a heliotrope with chiffon, Mrs. H. C. Hallowell a mode shade trimmed with white, Mrs. George Badger a pale blue crepe with silk fringe, Mrs. W. G. A. Pattee a black lace over white satin and wore a beautiful scarf, Mrs. H. W. Read a pretty black and white gown, and Mrs. Hinckley a rich black.

Mayor Hall, Henry H. Faxon and other distinguished gentlemen graced the occasion.

It was a very pretty party, the young misses wearing charming muslins and light summer dresses, while many of the young men were in evening dress.

The deportment was excellent, the dancing perfect, and grace and ease were very noticeable.

Excellent music was furnished by Mrs. Binner, who presided at the piano. She wore a rich dark heliotrope crepe with black and white effect.

The pupils presented Miss Corlew with a ring set with pearls and a diamond, and several choice bouquets, and gave Mrs. Binner a stick pin, a pearl set in gold.

A cake walk by two of Miss Corlew's Boston pupils was the hit of the evening. It was given by Miss Pauline and Master William Chamberlain, children of General Manager Chamberlain of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. A variety of steps were introduced and the couple were very coquetish and graceful.

The favors for the German were a surprise to the pupils, and they were very appropriate articles, including little Japanese lanterns, dolls, horns, fans, chains, ornaments, tops, etc.

After the grand march which closed the order, a refreshment table prettily lighted and loaded with ices was brought in and the pupils enjoyed a feast.

The classes included Huntington Hardwick, Thomas Hardwick, Lyndon Hardwick, Charles Hearn, Eric Patch, Grace Spear, Carlton Hallowell, Hazel Mowry, Linnie Mowry, George Hodgkins, Benjamin Hodgkins, Evelyn Newcomb, George Holmes, Margaret Hall, Harry Redding, Allison Marsh, Carl Marsh, Marion Brown, Helen Brown, Leon Brown, Mabel Lovejoy, Edith Lovejoy, Mary Coyle, Ethel Humphrey, Foster Hitchcock, Edith Willard, Penelope Willard, Helen Lincoln, Josephine Lincoln, Kenneth Gay, Catherine Gay, Florence Barker, Bertie Barker, Ruth Parker, Grace Parker.

Edith Chapman, Dorothy Federhen, Marion Tirrell, Estelle Tirrell, Avard Sproul, Martha Jenkins, Horace Jenkins, Gordon Jenkins, Marion Nelson, Winthrop Safford, Louisa Hinkley, Malcolm Hinckley, Mabel Read, Lawrence Pope, Parker Dexter, Harris Dexter, Marion Johnson, Sadie Johnson, Harold Curtis, Roscoe Ricker, Sylvester Brown, Mollie Brown, George Brown, Olive Fay, Elsie Faretier, Majorie Fay, Dorothy Fay, Elizabeth Pattee, Richard Pattee, Ethel Hersey, Miriam Chase, Ethel Weeks, Ethel Swift.

Kenneth Hall, Russell Hall, Viola Hayden, Mary Durgin, Muriel Rodgers, Harriet Spooner, Mila Bates, Miriam Marsh, Hannah Litchfield, Helen King, Carlina Walker, Ethel Kittredge, Marion Howe, Willie Howe, Ambler Welch, Morton Smith, Stanley Ferguson, Muriel Badger, Ava Gilson, Chester Melville, Helen Barnes, Evelyn Cummings, Pauline Chamberlain, William Chamberlain, Minnie Hardwick, Robert Hardwick, Carl Prescott, Albert Prescott and Henry Prescott.

The Playgrounds.

The Park Commissioners visited the Ward Three Playground on Saturday afternoon. They were accompanied by Mayor Hall, Commissioner Knowlton, and Councilman McLennan and Smith. It was decided to build a sidewalk across the playground from Water street to Gilbert street and also to construct a foot bridge across Town brook at that point. Mr. Smith kindly donated enough granite chips and other material to build the walk. Next Saturday the Commissioners will visit the Ward Four playground and the following Saturday the one at Ward Six.

New Name for Peddocks.

The War Department has issued orders giving new names to some of the new fortifications in Boston Harbor.

Peddocks island is named Fort Andrews, in honor of George Leonard Andrews, professor of languages, U.S. military academy, 1861-92, who served throughout the war of 1861-65, and was breveted major general of volunteers for faithful and meritorious service.

Gun battery reservation, Grovers cliff, Fort Heath, in honor of William Heath, a delegate from Massachusetts to the federal constitutional convention, who served faithfully and honorably as a major general in the continental army during the war of the revolution.

Twelve-inch battery reservation, Grovers cliff battery Theodore Winthrop, in honor of the late Maj. Theodore Winthrop, U. S. volunteers, killed in action, June 10, 1861, at Big Bethel, Va.

Lovells island, Fort Standish, in honor of Myles Standish.

Nantasket head reservation, near Hull, Fort Revere, in honor of Paul Revere.

Large Shoe Factory.

It is reported that a large shoe manufacturing firm is seeking a location in Quincy, upon which to build a factory. The firm now have several factories at Lynn and Brockton, but desire a site on the water front. It is also said that they have secured an option of a large tract of land at Atlantic, including the old North Quincy house site and if the city will build a street through the property they will locate there. Should they locate employment would be given to 1000 hands.

Put on More Stamps.

An unusually large number of letters are sent from Quincy to foreign countries, and more care should be exercised. Postal authorities tell us that a very large proportion of the mail matter sent to foreign countries is deficient as to postage. The receivers of such letters are compelled to pay double the ordinary rate, and it has been found that, after receiving a quantity of such short paid matter, the addressees frequently issue orders that all short paid America letters shall not be delivered to them.

Travelers are often annoyed by having their letters, which are ordered sent to some boarding house or other place to await their arrival, refused, by reason of the double postage which must be paid on them.

Another cause of delay and loss of letters is the use by Americans of forms of written characters unfamiliar to French, German and other postal employes. All envelopes should be addressed either with a typewriter or by the pen in imitation of printed letters. Attention is called to the fact that the letter rate is five cents for one-half ounce on foreign mail. A large number of letters are found to bear only a two-cent stamp.

Fined and Sent to Penitentiary.

Chicago, April 9.—George Magill, formerly a prosperous and well-known banker, who has for years fought a charge of receiving deposits after he knew his bank to be insolvent, withdrew his plea of not guilty, and was sentenced to the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $3027. Magill was largely influenced by the action of Robert Berger, a banker, who, convicted of a similar offense, withdrew his prayer for a new trial, and was taken to prison.

Killed the Girl He Loved.

Waverly, N. Y., April 9.—Kate Tobin, 20 years of age, was shot and instantly killed in the street near her home in this city by Fred Krist, aged 30, a married man. Krist had been separated from his wife, and had been attentive to Miss Tobin, although his acquaintance was bitterly opposed by her family. He seemed to be madly infatuated with the girl.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

Costly Fire at Fitchburg.

Fitchburg, Mass., April 9.—A bad fire occurred in the retail center of Main street Sunday. The hardware store of the Damon & Gould company, in a three story wooden building, was cleaned out. The loss on the store's stock will be not less than $80,000, if it does exceed it, and the loss of the building will bring the total up to nearly $90,000.

Californian Towed to Boston.

Boston, April 9.—The Allan line steamer Californian, which grounded in Portland harbor, Feb. 24, and was floated a week ago, was brought here Sunday, in tow of the tugs Underwriter, Storm King, Pallas and Herald, and was docked at the New England docks, where she will be put in condition for being placed in dry dock for a survey.

Children Burned to Death.

Richmond, April 9.—The house of a negro, living at Claremont, was destroyed by fire, and five of his family of seven children perished in the flames.

PLEA FOR THE BOERS.

Webster Davis Says They Should Have Sympathy of All Americans,

Are Fighuing to Throw Off Yoke of Oppression.

Duty of the World's Greatest Republic to Assist the Smallest Ones.

Washington, April 9.—Webster Davis, ex-assistant secretary of the interior, delivered an address here last night on the war in South Africa. Every available bit of standing room in the opera house was filled with auditors, who paid close attention to every word uttered by the speaker.

Mr. Davis was introduced by P. T. Moran, chairman of the executive committee. Mr. Davis delivered his remarks in an off-hand, easy style.

"The Boers of South Africa," said Mr. Davis, "are among the pioneers of freedom—heroes of civil and religious liberty. They were the torch bearers who blazed the pathway for civilization through the primeval forests of the southern part of that great 'dark continent' which has been the marvel of the ages. No country in all the world contains a nobler race of men and women; and no people have endured more hardships in the cause of liberty and equality of rights than they. Indeed, it was and is their unconquerable love for liberty that has caused all their troubles.'

Years ago, Mr. Davis continued the Boers planted the seed of liberty in the fertile valleys of the Cape of Good Hope, where a strong national spirit developed as early as 1806, when the colony passed into the hands of England. Soon thereafter ill feeling arose between Briton and Boer.

Mr. Davis entered upon an exhaustive review of the relations between the Boers and the British government from that time to the present. He described the "great trek" northward after the emancipation of their slaves, the foundation of the republic of Natal and its absorption by England and the rise of the South African republic. England's acquisition of the diamond fields at Kimberley Mr. Davis characterized as a transaction without a parallel "for cupidity, dishonor and injustice."

Mr. Davis spoke of the material growth of the Dutch republics, saying that cities with all the modern improvements sprang up on the veldt and in the valleys as if by magic, and everywhere the church and schoolhouse told the story of the people's progress. Continuing, he said:

"But finally this period of peace and rest was broken by the discovery of gold in the Transvaal. Then it was that the British government determined to seek a pretext for obtaining control of the richest gold fields in the world as it had before secured the richest diamond fields. That this is the real cause for the present war no one can doubt who will but listen to the frequent remark made by Englishmen in South Africa, as well as in England, that 'the gold mines in the Transvaal are worth fighting for and we are going to keep on fighting until we get them.' "

"The simple truth of the matter is that the British government forced President Kruger into a quarrel after he had done everything in his power to avoid it.

"We have seen many charges made by British officers and British newspaper correspondents that the Boers have frequently outraged the white flag and the Red Cross flag. Upon investigation we learned that these charges were absolutely unfounded. On the contrary I defy contradiction that the British soldiers themselves are the parties who violated many of the rules of civilized warfare, and frequently ignored the white flag and also the Red Cross flag." Mr. Davis supported his statement by relating incidents which came under his own observation.

In conclusion, he said: "These men have the same spirit that prompted the farmers to face death for liberty at Lexington; that nerved the arms of Americans at Saratoga, Bunker Hill and Brandywine; that warmed the hearts of Washington and his shivering patriots at Valley Forge; and at New Orleans, where Jackson and his men taught old England that easier were it to hurl the rooted mountain from its base than to force the yoke of slavery upon men determined to be free.

"Then why should we not sympathize with them? Why should not the greatest republic in the world assist the smallest of republics? Is the word 'liberty' to become obsolete in our national lexicon? Must this greatest republic of the world's history chain its destiny to the chariot wheels of the British empire in her mad race for land and gold? Shall the fair name of this great republic, whose prowess on land and sea has been the marvel of the century, be used in Europe, by British officials and the British press, as a menace to other European powers who are anxious to assist the Boers in their brave struggle for freedom and independence?"

At the conclusion of Mr. Davis' address, Mr. Wessels, special commissioner from the South African republics, made a brief address.

Then Chairman Moran offered a series of resolutions. The resolutions met with a cordial reception by the audience, until a final declaration denouncing the British government and its secret allies in this country was read. This was received with a storm of hisses and cries of "No, No." Mr. Moran then asked for a vote on the resolutions as a whole. There were a great number of ayes, and it seemed almost an equal number of noes, and the chairman declared the resolutions carried.

Formal Announcement of Otis' Relief.

Washington, April 9.—General Otis has been formally relieved of the command of the United States forces in the Philippines and of the Eighth Army corps upon his request. General MacArthur will succeed him as military governor.

EXCURSIONISTS ROUGHLY HANDLED.

Rioters Resented Their Visit to Dublin in Honor of Queen Victoria.

Tipperary, April 9.—On the arrival yesterday at Tipperary of a train of excursionists, who had visited Dublin to pay honor to the queen, a large crowd, which had gathered at the railway hotel, hooted the excursionists, many of the girls being roughly handled and pelted with mud. Some had their clothes torn, and others were even struck.

Almost at the same time a rick of hay, the property of a firm who had given their employes a holiday to go to Dublin, was set on fire, and the rioters prevented any attempt to extinguish the flames. When the military brought the fire hose to the scene they found it had been cut in 20 places.

Ministerial Changes at Woonsocket.

Woonsocket, R. I., April 9.—Two local clergymen resigned their pastorates yesterday, and another preached his farewell sermon. Rev. Charles J. White, D. D., resigned from the Universalist church, after serving 30 years. Mr. White gives advancing age and poor health as the reasons for his retirement. Rev. Addison B. Lorimer, pastor of the First Baptist church for six years, also read his resignation. He says this step is taken with the sense of duty which impels him to make personal sacrifice for the good of the church and the unity thereof. He has no other place in prospect. John Metcalf, Friends' minister, preached his farewell sermon, and will locate in Worcester, where he has secured employment as a draughtsman. Mrs. Emmeline Tuttle, prominent in the Friends' denomination, will succeed him. Rev. William H. Eastham, who came here from Pennsylvania a year ago as assistant curate, chorister and organist of St. James' Episcopal church, will retire next Sunday. Rev. S. B. Nelson, D. D., of the Presbyterian church, recently resigned to accept a church at Rondout, N. Y.

Assailant Got the Worst of It.

Hanson, Mass., April 9.—Alfred B. Spear, night watchman in John Foster's box mill, was desperately assaulted with a piece of lead pipe Sunday morning while about his work, and Myron E. Tillson, the engineer of the establishment, is under arrest, charged with the crime. Robbery was the supposed motive for the assault, as Spear was known to always have considerable money with him. Spear fought his assailant desperately and left him in a semi-conscious condition, with four large cuts in his head, while he went for assistance, but on his return the man had fled. Tillson was later arrested, the evidence being strongly against him.

May Be Loss of Nearly $2,000,000.

Pittsburg, April 9.—For the second time in three years, the extensive department store of Joseph Horne & Co. is in ruins. Shortly after midnight a policeman discovered flames issuing from the windows of the eighth floor, and inside of an hour the big eight-story structure was completely gutted, entailing a loss of over $1,000,000. If the building, which was supposed to be fireproof, proves to be so badly warped as to necessitate a new structure, the loss will be nearly $2,000,000.

Nothing For Creditors.

Hartford, April 9.—Another chapter in the Thompsonville bank failure of R. D. & Robert E. Spencer was completed when the appraisers filed their report before the referee in bankruptcy. From the figures presented the depositors will realize absolutely nothing from the personal property or assets of the bankrupt institution, and it is doubtful if the securities held by the creditors will realize enough to pay their claims.

Two Victims of Fire.

Boston, April 9.—A live coal fell upon the dress of Mrs. Ellen McNamara, 40 years old, while she was poking the fire in the kitchen range at her home Sunday and she was so badly burned that she died. A spark from a pipe which she was smoking in bed started a fire which will probably cause the death of Mrs. Susan Trainer, 82 years old, of Roxbury. The woman was terribly burned about the lower limbs.

Pattison For Vice President.

Chicago, April 9.—The Chronicle says: It is learned through the national Democratic headquarters that preparations are being made to boom former Governor Pattison of Pennsylvania as candidate for vice president at the Kansas City convention. Democratic officials here say that Pattison's acceptance would strengthen the ticket.

Great Decline In Lobster Fishery.

Washington, April 9.—Mr. De Ravenel, acting commissioner of fisheries, replying to a communication from Representative Fitzgerald, says that statistics of the catch of lobsters in Massachusetts waters for a series of years show that between 1880 and 1898 the yield decreased more than 2,000,000 pounds, or nearly 70 percent.

Sentence Not Severe Enough.

Berlin, April 9.—On the ground that the punishment is too mild for the offense, Emperor William has refused to confirm the sentence to a short term of imprisonment passed upon Lieutenant Prince Prosper Arenberg, who last year murdered a negro in German Southwest Africa under circumstances of peculiar atrocity.

Fast Traveling.

Boston, April 9.—The newspaper train into Boston Sunday morning, according to the New York, New Haven and Hartford officials, made the run from New York, 215 miles, in four hours and 23 minutes, the quickest time on record between the two cities.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

The area of lower barometer which has persistently occupied the southwestern states since last Monday is now central over Texas, and the barometer is low from that region northward to Manitoba and eastward to the south Atlantic coast. During today fair weather is indicated for the New England states, followed by cloudy tomorrow. Along the New England coast brisk northwesterly winds will prevail.

THIS WEEK IN CONGRESS.

House Will Vote on Puerto Rican Measure on Wednesday—The Senate Program.

Washington, April 9.—The feature of the week in the house will be the closing of the fight on the Puerto Rican tariff bill. The Republican managers will carry out the program agreed upon. On Wednesday a special rule will be presented, which will bring the motion to concur in the senate amendments to a vote, after several hours of debate.

Both sides of the souse are laboring earnestly to poll their full strength, but the Republicans appear to be confident that the motion will carry by a safe margin. They assert that the Republican opposition will not be over seven votes, the number who voted against the original bill. The agricultural appropriation bill will consume today and tomorrow. Friday is private pension day and Saturday is set apart for addresses on the receipt of the statue of Oliver P. Morton of Indiana.

Senator Chandler probably will make an effort today to get the senate to agree upon a day for taking a vote on the resolution concerning the seating of Mr. Quay. The present indications are that for the present he will fail to secure unanimous consent, and in any event the discussion of the resolution will proceed.

The Indian appropriation bill will continue to receive attention until disposed of, but it is not expected to occasion a great deal more debate.

Senator Carter hopes to proceed with the consideration of the Alaskan code bill early in the week, with the hope of securing action at an early day. There are still some differences pertaining to mining rights to be adjusted in this measure, and more or less discussion necessarily will precede their determination. The appropriation bill for the District of Columbia probably will be considered during the week.

Police Authorities at Odds.

Middleboro, Ky., April 9.—Much excitement prevails here over a clash of the authorities Saturday night. Will Moseley, a special policeman, shot Deputy Sheriff Cecil, and was himself later killed by an unknown person. Warrants have been sworn out for the arrest of Chief of Police King, John Moseley, a brother of the man killed, and Will Sullivan. The latter two were extra policemen, who went with Chief King to arrest a negro who had been released by the city judge. The fight is the outcome of the bitter feeling between two factions. The situation is alarming.

Blame Placed Upon Tramps.

Mansfield, Mass., April 9.—A forest fire set by tramps did great damage in West Mansfield Sunday and would have done far more destruction had not more than 200 men, women and children turned out to beat out the flames. The blaze started in a pine woods and quickly spread over hundreds of acres. A vacant house and barn, used oftentimes as a rendezvous by tramps, was completely burned, together with many stacks of cordwood.

Murder by Masked Robbers.

Barnesville, O., April 9.—Two masked men entered the house of Mrs. James Warrack, an aged widow, living near here. Her grandson, Clarence Warrack, ordered them to leave. A scuffle ensued in which Warrack was shot and killed. The burglars then bound the three women in the house and ransacked the premises, but secured only 6 cents in money. Bloodhounds will be placed on the trail of the murderers.

Sentry Attended to Business.

Victoria, B. C., April 9.—The extreme vigilance of Great Britain in protecting the secrets of the Esquimault fortifications and the naval yard was exemplified when Lieutenant Reginald Scott, R. N., was fatally shot by a sentry for failing to answer a challenge. The officer claims he answered the challenge, but was unheard. The sentry fired twice over his head, and then twice to kill.

Sunday "Sport" at Braintree.

Braintree, Mass., April 9.—A scrub cock fight between birds from Quincy, Weymouth and Rockland took place Sunday in the outskirts of the town, being witnessed by a crowd of 250 men. Ten battles were fought, the stakes being $25 a battle, $50 on the main, besides side bets aggregating quite a large amount. Honors were divided between Weymouth and Rockland.

Many Witnesses Yet to Be Heard.

Frankfort, Ky., April 9.—The grand jury will continue the investigation of the Goebel assassination during this week. About 40 witnesses have been examined so far, and it is said that more than that number are on the list of those summoned who have not been heard. No report is expected before the latter part of the week.

Actress Succumbs to Pneumonia.

New York, April 9.—Elizabeth Eily Mara Coghlan, known on the stage as Eily Coghlan, died in Stamford, Conn., yesterday morning. She was born at Peterboro, Eng., in 1864. A short time ago she was taken ill with measles, and her malady developed into pneumonia. Miss Coghlan's name in private life was Mrs. Sydney Battan.

Jurymen Took In the Show.

New York, April 9.—Miss Olga Nethersole reappeared in "Sapho" Saturday night at Wallack's theatre. The house was crowded, and flowers and applause were lavished upon the actress. She made a speech of thanks. Eight of the jurors in the recent trial were present with their wives.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

In response to a petition for the appointment of an assignee for the Keene (N H.) Five Cent Savings bank, Judge Parsons has appointed Treasurer Litchfield of the bank.

At a meeting at Bangor, Me., of the stockholders of the Penobscot Central Railroad company, it was voted to equip the line with electric power, using the trolley system.

Rev. Frank C. Haddock, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, the largest congregation in Akron, O., will permanently exchange pulpits with Rev. Milton B. Pratt of Lynn, Mass., the transfer having been arranged by Bishop Joyce.

THE MAINE'S GOOD WORK.

Major Cabell's Tribute to Efficiency of American Hospital Ship.

Major Julian M. Cabell, former chief surgeon of the American women's hospital ship Maine, is in London on his way back to Columbia hospital, Washington, his leave of absence having expired. In an interview the other day he said:

"Nothing could have exceeded the hospitality and warmth with which the American doctors, nurses and attendants were received in South Africa. The stories of internal dissensions on the Maine are without any basis. Lady Randolph Churchill antagonized no one. On the contrary, it was owing to her tact that several little threatened annoyances were avoided.

"She wished the Maine to stay at the seat of warfare, and I agreed with her, but it had been arranged by the British army authorities that she was to leave after the relief of Ladysmith, and, though Lady Churchill believed this action would diminish the ship's sphere of usefulness, she was too good a disciplinarian and diplomat to question the decision of the commander in chief.

"We were very fortunate on the Maine with cases. Only one man died before I left, and I believe this number has not been increased since. Perhaps our most remarkable case was that of an officer of the Gordon highlanders, who was shot clean through the brain, but completely recovered on board the hospital ship.

"I saw no traces of explosive bullets, and I believe that the reports that the Boers are using such bullets are greatly exaggerated. From my experiences in Manila and South Africa I believe it is almost impossible to distinguish between the explosive bullet and that of the ordinary Mauser when the latter is fired at point blank range.

"Perhaps I should not say it, but the Maine was undoubtedly the best fitted hospital ship down there. Everything that it was possible to provide to make the wounded comfortable had been provided. The British army and navy men were loud in their praises of the ship, and Lord Roberts spoke most highly of her. But perhaps bluff Captain Chichester, formerly of the British cruiser Immortalite, which was at Manila during the troublesome times there, in good humoredly addressing the nurses and saying he found out a few things about Americans in the Philippines, impressed us the most.

"I much regretted leaving the ship, but my leave is up, and I had to come home."

The Maine will return to South Africa immediately after landing her wounded in London.

FASHIONS IN FLOWERS.

Correct Blossoms to Be Worn by Women During Lent.

Now that florists have so regulated the matter that flowers do not have any particular time to bloom fashion and not nature decrees what blossoms shall be popular at different seasons.

In Lent violets again become favorites, although they were but little used during the winter. They are considered particularly appropriate for the penitential season and are extensively used for decoration for Lenten teas. They are the only flower that it is considered "smart" just now to wear on the street, having displaced the costly orchids that were fashion's favorites during the Christmas season, says the New York World. The big Neapolitan violets are considered good form.

With the approach of Easter a cluster of lilies of the valley may adorn the corsage, but no roses or carnations. To wear a flower at the wrong season proclaims you one of the unfashionables just as much as an out of date gown or a last year's bonnet. For boutonnieres a cluster of lilies of the valley or a white rose is correct, but no colors during Lent. Many well dressed men confine themselves to white all the year around, but vary the flowers used. A single white orchid is proper at all times. Orchid wearing is distinctly an English fad. Joe Chamberlain's constant wearing of orchid boutonnieres is famous.

Sometimes corsage bouquets of violets are tied with purple silk cord with tassels, but ribbon is no longer used. It is considered better form to tuck the stems in and for them to have no visible signs of being fastened to the waist. With the advent of the spring it will be a fad to wear a cluster of the same blossoms that are used in the hat. These will be tucked into the belt a little on the left side. No long stems must be used. Even roses must be massed close together in a crush effect and made to simulate a great "chou" of flowers.

Some women in the smart set adopt one flower and never wear any other, but this is always either orchids or purple or white violets. Then they use the same perfume, sachets of that odor and soap.

Studying the Atmosphere.

In Prussia the meteorological institute is about to arrange for the systematic examination of the aeronautical observatory at Tagel, near Berlin. Kites and balloons will be employed at heights from 3,000 to 5,000 meters to ascertain the atmospheric conditions, says the Chicago Record. The registering apparatus is taken up by a kite balloon inflated with hydrogen and can lift 500 meters of wire. To it a second kite is attached and to this latter a third and so on until the balloon reaches a height of 4,000 or more meters.

Medal For Siege at Kimberley.

It is understood, according to a London dispatch to the New York Journal, that the queen will be asked to consent to the granting of a special medal for the siege of Kimberley.

Worth Reading.

To the Editor:

I think it my duty to inform your readers of a remedy that should be in every household.

I was a martyr to Dyspepsia and Constipation and tried everything in vain. In despair I bought a ten cent package of the U. S. Army & Navy Tablets, 17 East 14th St., New York, and in three days I felt better and afterwards I bought a twenty-five cent package and now I am completely cured. Your druggist can and must get it for you.

MANY FLOOD VICTIMS.

River Farms Ruined, Railroads Crippled, and Schooners Blown Ashore.

The Situation at Austin Is Somewhat Improved.

Sanitary Condition, However, Dangerous Because of Lack of Drainage Water.

Austin, April 10.—Reports from Gonzales say that the flood situation there is not much improved. There has been a great loss of cattle in the river bottoms, and it is feared a dozen or more lives have been lost. Reports come in that a number of bodies have been seen caught on snags and barbed wire fences. The river farms are ruined. The Arransas Pass railroad is blocked for five miles. Advices from Corpus Christi are that several large schooners were blown ashore during the fierce storm and are now piled high and dry on the beach.

The situation in Austin is improving somewhat, but the reports from points below indicate that the full effect of the immense volume of water is being felt in Wharton and Lafayette counties, everything being inundated and much loss of property and live stock being reported.

In Bastrop county the flood has caused much damage to property interests, and something like 50 washouts and losses of bridges are reported by the railways. Advices from the area surrounding the county seat of Bastrop county state that there has been some loss of life among the farming class, as their homes were inundated without warning by the tidal wave, but nothing definite can be learned.

In the southern part of this county several people are missing, the number representing a family of six Italians, and two negro families, whose homes have been washed away.

The river is receding rapidly here, and above, notwithstanding that another heavy rise was reported early yesterday on the Concha, 125 miles north.

Reports from La Grange state that while many of the lower portions of the town are under water, the property loss is small. No one is missing.

The International and Great Northern railways and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas have been seriously crippled by the floods. The first-named road has had 500 washouts, and lost bridges from Hearne to the Rio Grande. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas is likewise a heavy loser, having had to abandon much of its track altogether.

It is not believed that the damage to the cotton crop will be of great extent, as the season is yet early and all the crop can be replanted.

The citizens of Austin held a mass meeting yesterday at which the concensus of opinion was that it was not feasible to rebuild the dam power house, although no definite action was taken. A proposition was made to the meeting by the old water commissioners, whose plant had likewise suffered much from the flood, that they would take all the piping and wiring of the city plant and such of their apparatus as could be recovered from the wreckage, pay fair value for the same and rejuvenate their plant here and furnish the city with water and light in two weeks. This proposition was referred to a commission of 20 citizens to be considered.

In the meantime the water and light commission met and instructed its superintendent to at once secure a steam-engine, with which it is hoped that the city can operate one of its big pumps, which remains intact, and furnish the city with water until some more definite arrangement can be made. Much fear is being entertained with regard to the sanitary situation of Austin, as the city is already beginning to show the effects of lack of drainage water.

Governor Sayers yesterday gave the city $500 out of the flood sufferers' fund to be expended in behalf of the poor of the city who have been made homeless. All such are being provided for, and there is no danger of their suffering.

The main flood has reached Wharton. Water is likely to stand in that vicinity for some time, as 13 miles of drift block the river solidly at its mouth.

At Bryan, the Brazos river has spread over the entire bottoms, where farmers had just finished planting corn.

The Navasota river is booming, and joins the Brazos at Navasota. All of that section is under water, but the damage will be confined to crops and bridges. The Brazos is now only five feet below its record of last June, and more water is coming down, but the loss will not be one-tenth as great as expected.

Congressman Boutelle's Condition.

Boston, April 10.—The Post, in referring to the condition of Congressman Boutelle, says: The congressman is still at the sanitarium at Waverly, and his health is not mending to any manifest degree. The fact daily becomes more apparent to his family that the statesman will never again take his place in public life.

IMPORTANT PENSION LEGISLATION.

Changes Urged by Veterans Favorably Passed Upon by House Committee.

Washington, April 10.—The bill revising the pension act of June 27, 1890, and other general pension laws, was passed upon in a tentative manner yesterday by the house committee on invalid pensions, and the sense of the committee was taken on reporting the bill to the house and placing it on the house calendar for early consideration.

The revision has been advocated by delegations of the chief officials of the G. A. R. The committee decided to take the bill of Senator Gallinger as a basis of action, and to make several amendments. The details of the changes are not made public for the present, but it is understood that the most important of those increases the age limit on which pensions are to be allowed, and fixes a sliding scale between the ages of 62 and 70, viz: $6 at 62 years; $8 at 65; $10 at 68; and $12 at 70.

Another important amendment increases from $96 to $250 the amount of annual income which a widow may have without forfeiting the right to a pension. As amended the bill is to be reported, but Chairman Sulloway is given considerable latitude in the matter in order that an opportune time may be chosen to secure practical results in the house.

After some further discussion the senate yesterday rejected the sectarian school amendment to the Indian appropriation bill offered by Mr. Jones (Dem., Ark.) by a vote of 30 to 16. As has been the practice for two or three years, the "free homes" measure was offered as an amendment to the bill, but it was ruled out on the point of order that it was general legislation and therefore not germane to an appropriation bill. Without division the bill was passed. The measure carries about $8,414,000.

During the last two hours of the session the Alaskan civil code bill was under consideration. An amendment offered by Mr. Hansbrough concerning the title to mining claims in the Cape Nome district provoked a warm debate.

An unsuccessful effort was made to agree upon a date for a vote on the resolution relative to the seating of Mr. Quay as a senator from Pennsylvania. The effort will be renewed today.

It was a dull day in the house. The agricultural appropriation bill was under consideration and was made the vehicle of considerable debate on political topics, none of which was pertinent to the bill. Good progress was made with the bill after the close of general debate, 25 of the 37 pages being covered before the adjournment. Several minor amendments were adopted.

Fall River Mills May Consolidate.

Fall River, Mass., April 10.—The directors of the Hargraves and Parker mills of this city have issued a circular proposing the combination of the two corporations into one, with a total capitalization of $1,600,000. The capital stock of the mills is $800,000 each. The Hargraves has 90,000 and the Parker 88,000 spindles, and the stock of both corporations is above par, about $110 per share. It is quite probable that the proposition for consolidation of interests will be favorably looked upon by the stockholders at the next meeting.

Insane From Attack of Grip.

Attleboro, Mass., April 10.—Mrs. Joseph Vetter had been ill with the grip and it had affected her reason. Physicians pronounced her temporarily insane and arrangements were made to remove her to a hospital. She escaped from the attendants, went to the school and called out her 12-year-old son, and then disappeared in the woods. As she had threatened to kill herself, it is feared the boy may receive injury also.

Hanna Conferred With Bliss.

New York, April 10.—The Press says that Senator Hanna had a conference here last Sunday evening with Cornelius N. Bliss. Mr. Bliss when asked last night if the two hours' talk was on the subject of the vice presidency nomination, declined to discuss the matter. "Do you expect to receive the nomination?" was the second question. Again Mr. Bliss refused to discuss the subject.

England's Deal With Portugal.

London, April 10.—The Russian and French papers are still excitedly protesting against Great Britain's use of the Beira route in transporting troops to Rhodesia, but there is nothing to confirm the report that Emperor Nicholas is extremely agitated over the Anglo-Portuguese arrangement and intendes to issue a proclamation protesting against it.

Harshly Treated by Tramps.

Attleboro, Mass., April 10.—Arthur Fuller was help up, beaten and robbed of $50 and a gold watch by two tramps on the road at Shepardsville, at a point sheltered by heavy woods. Fuller was beaten to unconsciousness. There is no clew to the thieves.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

C. H. Brown, Boston cotton broker, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, placing his liabilities at $538,205, with nominal assets at $128,763.

Frank P. Goulding will not be a candidate for congress from the Third Massachusetts district. He states that he appreciates the compliments paid him by his friends, but says that his private affairs require his personal attention.

Morris Rosenberg received the decision over Luther Manuel at Portland, Me., after 15 fast rounds.

Dr. William F. Junkin, D. D., LL. D., died at Montclair, N. J., of pneumonia. Dr. Junkin was born in Philadelphia in 1831. In 1861 he joined the Confederate army, and later became chaplain. He was a brother-in-law of General Stonewall Jackson.

ADVANCE TO PRETORIA.

Evidence That It Will Be Delayed For at Least Two Months.

Roberts to Devote Considerable Attention to Raiders.

Boers Appear to Be Venturing Nearer and Nearer British Headquarters.

London, April 10.—A dispatch from Aliwal North, dated April 9, says: Small bodies of the enemy have been seen across the river, near the town of Odendoalstroom. The ferry has been destroyed.

There is a Boer commando of 60 at Rouxville. A larger one has left Smithfield for Wepener. There are two commandoes around Wepener, but thus far there has been only outpost firing.

A lieutenant of Brabant's horse has been captured at Rouxville by Boers, who had previously surrendered. Many Boers, who had already taken the non-combatants' oath, are rejoining their old commandoes.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Morning Post says: The movement of troops continues with bewildering frequency, brigades and divisions appearing and disappearing at brief intervals. No specific accounts of such movements are permitted. Some remounts were fired on Saturday on the railway while they were on the way here from the south. The enemy are reported to be in considerable numbers to the southeast of the line. The Boers are also apparently feeling their way frequently to the west of the line. A party has been thrown forward and has reoccupied the laager at Paardeberg, probably in search for buried arms and ammunition.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says: The railway and telegraph are working well. Works and trenches have been prepared in suitable positions around Bloemfontein. The greatest vigilance is exercised. Some of the troops sleep in the trenches. Confirmation has been received of the report that the Boers are in laager in considerable force, with guns, at Donkersnort, 18 miles southeast. The British scouts report another body still closer. The Boer patrols have grown very daring, venturing much nearer our tents.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Times says: The captured Boers agree that only 50 men remained unwounded out of the whole British column captured at Reddersburg. General Gatacre and his staff were fired on from enclosures while they temporary occupied Reddersburg. Considerable movements of troops have occurred here with the object of preventing a surprise.

The Times publishes the following from Wepener: The Wepener garrison is practically isolated. However, the lines are enormously strong, and the force is fully provisioned. Desultory firing between outposts continues. A commando estimated at 2000, with four guns, went into laager Saturday night five miles from here, in the direction of De Wets Dorp.

Britons are now beginning, though reluctantly, to realize that Lord Roberts is in for a winter campaign, lasting several months. This is the end, in a few words, of the high hopes based upon Lord Roberts' brilliant dash to Kimberley and Bloemfontein.

Preparations are being made to hold Bloemfontein against surprises. Lord Kitchener has been given an important duty, being responsible for the protection of the railways, while Lord Roberts is waiting for remounts and winter clothing for the troops, whose thin cotton khaki uniforms and boots are worn out.

General Brabant and General Gatacre are both at a standstill. Lord Roberts will probably for some time confine his operations to clearing the Free State behind him of raiders, and to relieveing Mafeking, for which purpose apparently the Eighth division, now arriving at Capetown, has been ordered to Kimberley.

Lady Sarah Wilson and other Mafeking correspondents send diaries of the doing there, showing that the Boers have tried, by abandoning their trenches, to lure the besieged out into a mine ambush. Fortunately, the British engineers discovered the dynamite and war gelatine.

What the changes are for an advance to Pretoria may be judged from the fact that only from 6000 to 10,000 horses are on their way to the Cape, and from the further fact that the military tailoring departments only within the last three weeks began making woolen khaki uniforms. It is said it will take at least two months to provide 200,000 uniforms.

Fifty-two prisoners, who were captured at Boshof, have arrived at Kimberley. Only three are Dutchmen, the others being Frenchmen, Germans and Russians.

Locomotive Partially Wrecked.

Plymouth, N. H., April 10.—The engine attached to a Montreal express left the iron at Wentworth Monday, ran up a siding and into a car house, carrying a mail car with it. The engine turned over and was partially demolished. The engineer and fireman jumped, and were injured slightly. The cause of the accident was a misplaced switch.

Editor Wouldn't Pay a Fine.

Dublin, April 10.—Arthur Griffiths, editor of The United Irishman, which was suppressed last Saturday, was yesterday sentenced to 14 days' imprisonment, or a fine of a sovereign, for assaulting Ramsay Collies, proprietor of The Irish Figaro, in the latter's office yesterday. He decided to take the imprisonment.

Opinions on the Revival of Education.

Good Afternoon.

There is not enough in the Van Wyck Presidential boom to justify its promoters paying the transportation charges to Kansas City.

The person who contributes to the contentment between capital and labor does more for humanity than a whole army of talking politicians.

One lone man held up an entire train in the suburbs of Omaha the other day. This seems to be the fashion in Nebraska. The entire Democratic party is being held up by a lone Nebraska man.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Almost simultaneously with the Admiral discovering where his politics is at comes the surprising announcement that his wife has readjusted her religion. It's a great spring for church and State.—Lynn Item.

☞ Those skeptics who have contemptuously declared that there is nothing in divine healing are mildly reminded that there was $30,000 a week in it for the Boston fraud who is now in limbo.—Kennebec Journal.

☞ The Faxon law as it is now enforced seems to be having a certain amount of effect at least in reducing the amount of liquor that formerly came to town intended for illegal sale. The sporting brotherhood say that it is not quite so easy to get liquor as it was. What a rush there will be to some of the surrounding towns this summer! —Brockton Enterprise.

☞ Who would have dared predict in 1896, when it was alleged that the people of the United States were the powerless prey of the money sharks of London and the continent, that within three years the United States would reverse the position it has held since the beginning of the nation and actually become the creditor of Great Britain, as well as of Russia and of the bankers of Germany? — Concord Monitor.

☞ There are many women to whom trained nursing as a profession would not appeal in the slightest degree, yet to those who are especially fitted for it it is a very desirable calling. The pay is not large compared with the pay of some other much less exacting callings, but it carries with it subsistence, and, so numerous are the sick at all times, especially in the large towns and cities, that no trained nurse of real capacity and tact need ever lack long for employment. Moreover, as all but the most minor of her expenses are paid while she is employed, she need never be without money to keep things going when she is idle.—Milford News.

☞ A Cape Cod canal through Brockton to Taunton was suggested a few weeks ago, and now somebody proposes an elevated road that will take any ship across the country to Boston harbor. The originator claims it could be built cheaper than the canal could, but he doesn't say anything about the expense of operating it. It would be a curious sight to see a big tramp steamer traveling by rail, but it will doubtless be some time before such a sight is seen. The different plans for getting through or over Cape Cod will soon be more than the number of companies that have got, or tried to get, charters to build a canal. — Gardiner, Me., Reporter-Journal.

PLUMBING CHARGES.

Six Were Preferred Against Inspector Keniley.

Board of Health Will Give a Hearing.

Other Business of the Board Last Evening.

The Board of Health held a meeting Monday evening when Gustave B. Bates was given a hearing upon the complaint of Inspector Keniley, for concealing pumbing work before it had been inspected. The complaint was placed on file.

The several bids for collecting garbage were considered, but as they were none of them wholly satisfactory it was decided to continue the collection of garbage as before.

As to the charges against Inspector of Plumbing Keniley, by Gustave B. Bates, the board decided to give Mr. Keniley a hearing. This hearing will probably be public.

As stated in the Ledger last Friday the charges are six in number and in brief are as follows:

First—That he has received application for plumbing work, has issued permits, and has inspected work of a plumber who did not have a master plumber's license to do business in Quincy, and who was not registered at the office of the Board of Health as a master plumber during the past three years.

Second — That he has inspected plumbing work for a party who did not file an application, and who did not have a permit issued to him to perform said work.

Third—That he performed a plumbing job in April 1898, in the stable of Grace L. Whiton without filing an application and without a permit.

Fourth—That he inspected and approved a plumbing job in the house of F. W. Grant performed by A. F. Powers, which was in violation of Sect. 6, viz, a trap at the foot of a stack, said trap not being a running trap but a 1-2 S trap.

Fifth — That he inspected and approved a plumbing job in the house of Alice E. Parker, which was in violation of Sect.'s. 6 and 10, viz: A 1-2 S trap was placed at foot of vertical soil pipe. The soil pipe is too near chamber window. Cup joints were allowed to connect the waste of the basins, bowls and bath room, instead of wiped solder joints as required.

Sixth—That he has inspected and approved of a plumbing job of J. S. Todd, where some of the soil pipe running to the house trap and the running trap as well is concealed from view below the cellar floor, covered over with cement. Also for improper connection with the sewer.

Monday's Fires.

The Atlantic combination engine was called out Monday to extinguish a grass fire at Montclair. The fire had surrounded a house and there was immediate danger of its taking fire. Several women fought the flames until the engine arrived.

The alarm from Box 45 at 4.45 Monday afternoon was rung in by a seven-year-old child for a brush fire on Bates' avenue. The alarm was unnecessary and the recall promptly followed.

SIMMONS--HOLMES.

A Private Wedding Followed by a Pretty Reception.

One of the prettiest home weddings at Wollaston this season was that of Miss Caroline Jordan Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Holmes, and Mr. Walter Everett Simmons, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Simmons of Wollaston.

The ceremony, which was private, took place at the home of the bride's parents on Elm avenue at seven o'clock on Monday evening.

The Rev. Frank Wright Pratt, pastor of the Wollaston Unitarian society officiated.

The bride was attired in a white satin with chiffon trimmings and carried a bouquet of violets. The maid of honor, Miss Kate Burnham Simmons, a sister of the groom, wore white Swiss muslin over pink silk and carried a bouquet of pinks. The little flower girl, Sibel Henry Holmes, of Chelsea, wore white muslin and lace and also carried a bouquet of pinks.

The groom was attended by his best man Mr. Edwin J. Crandon of Chelsea. The ushers were Mr. William H. Mitchell of New Bedford; Mr. James W. White of Newark N. J.; Mr. Jack E. Simmons, a brother of the groom; and Mr. Harry F. Holmes, a brother of the bride. Master George Edward Holmes, Jr., was the little page.

After the ceremony there was a largely attended reception at which Mr. and Mrs. Simmons were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. George E. Holmes, and Mrs. Walter E. Simmons.

The house was beautifully decorated with evergreen, palms and cut flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons left after the reception for a short wedding trip after which they will return to their new home on Kemper street, Wollaston.

Post Office Notes.

A new departure is to be introduced in the local post-office service on April 16, whereby the letter carriers will give receipts for mail tendered them for registration. Or in other words, householders and others are enabled to register mail at their doors, obviating the necessity of going to the post-office. Postage may be paid either in stamps or money, carrier estimating the weight and amount necessary. This is the outcome of a desire of the Third Assistant Postmaster General to extend the advantages of this new system of registration, which is in successful operation in all the large cities. This commendable utility will appeal generally to our citizens, and prove of great value. A liberal patronage is encouraged.

Called to Newport.

Rev. Charles H. Porter, Jr., of Hingham the son of ex-Mayor Porter of Quincy, will receive a call from New port, R. I., The corporation of Channing Memorial church unanimously voted Monday evening to extend him a call.

Since the resignation of Dr. George W. Cutter last November, Channing church has been without a pastor. Numerous candidates have been heard in the pulpit, as Channing church is regarded as one of the most desirable charges in New England. Of all these Mr. Porter was most favored. It is understood that he will accept the call.

Mr. Porter is about 30 years old, and a graduate of Harvard college. He is unmarried, but his engagement was recently announced.

Rev. Mr. Porter, who is pastor of the Unitarian church at Hingham, will preach at the Universalist church in this city tomorrow evening.

DOGS

MUST BE LICENSED

On or Before APRIL 30,

Or the Owners or Keepers thereof

LIABLE TO A FINE!

Extracts from the Laws of this Commonwealth.

Every owner or keeper of a dog of three months old or over shall annually on or before the THIRTIETH DAY OF APRIL, cause it to be Registered, Numbered, Described and Licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city or town wherein said dog is kept, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

An owner of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of the ensuing May; and a person becoming the owner or keeper of a dog after the first day of May, not duly licensed, shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided in the preceding section.

The fee for every license shall be two dollars for a MALE and five dollars for a FEMALE dog.

Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit FIFTEEN DOLLARS, five dollars of which shall be paid to the complainant and ten dollars to the treasurer of the county in which the dog is kept.

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number of dogs so kept exceeds five, the fee shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper, under the age of six months.

Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed, which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day in April in any year, shall, whenever it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May, as provided in Sec. 80 of Chap. 102 of the Public Statutes, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

CLEVELAND'S

Superior Baking Powder

Purest and greatest in strength

Cleveland's Baking Powder improves the flavor and adds to the healthfulness of the food.

CLEVELAND BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK

There are imitation baking powders, sold cheap, by many grocers. They are made from alum, a poisonous drug, which renders the food injurious to health.

Mrs. Charlotte E. Titus.

The funeral service over the remains of Mrs. Charlotte E. Titus was held at her residence on Hancock street, Wollaston Park, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Titus had been a resident of this place for some time and had gained the love and respect of both young and old. About a week ago she was taken ill, but thought she would soon recover. Saturday evening she passed quietly away.

Mrs. Titus was born in 1825. One would scarcely have thought she was so old. There was much pleasure in meeting Mrs. Titus at any time she always carried such a cheerful smile, and had a word to say to everybody.

Private prayers were held at the house, Sunday afternoon, by Rev. C. P. Mills. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. T. Knight, pastor of the Park and Downs Congregational church. The grand nephews and nieces formed a choir and sang "Abide with Me," and "Nearer My God to Thee."

The floral tributes included a large bunch of calla lilies from her grandsons, Harry and Leonard Titus; white pinks from her son James and wife; roses from Miss Gorham and her niece, Vern Fowler; white and purple hyacinths from Mrs. Butler; pinks from Miss Jordan; violets from Mrs. Ross; bouquet from Mrs. Boyden; and other flowers. The remains were borne to relatives in New Brunswick.

War on Cats.

The "cat-killing" epidemic has reached Atlantic in full force, white cats, gray cats, black cats—it makes no difference as to color, the secret death-insurer is laid out on meat, in traps and even in beguiling milk shakes; enough to tempt any cat, one would think. The question is, who does it? It is no lover of the feline pet,—that is certain. It is no uncommon sight to see the cold remains of what was once a credit to a household, lying in some field, alone and uncared for. One does not feel comfortable walking through fields after dusk, for fear of coming in too close a contact with one of these dead felines, which is not a pleasant sensation amid shadows.

It would be well to label the poison, or whatever bait is used to decoy the poor cats to death, and then only such cats as it is intended for will partake thereof. Then there will be fewer lonely hearthstones, and fewer mice in our habitations.

The Dedham Court.

The Superior court came in at Dedham on Monday with Judge Bond on the bench.

Andrew Johnson of Quincy was sentenced to the house of correction for six months for assault and battery on Adams Hendrickoson at Quincy, Jan. 24, 1900.

In the case of Thomas Howley and John Kelly, charged with breaking and entering the poultry houses on the Weymouth poor farm, Dec. 1, 1899, returned a verdict of guilty as to Howley and not guilty as to Kelly. The latter and Elroy C. Baldwin were found guilty of breaking an entering the dwelling of Minot Tirrell at Weymouth, April 18, 1899.

Class Trip to Boston.

The Quincy school children who were received by Mayor Hart of Boston last Friday were the fourth grade of the Gridley Bryant scchool. The class, twenty-four in number, were in charge of Miss Gertrude A. Boyd, Miss A. E. Dell, and Mrs. William Loud. The party left West Quincy at 8 o'clock that morning and put in a day of sight seeing, visiting in turn the Post Office and weather bureau, City Hall, the State House, Mt. Auburn and Harvard college. At the Post Office they were shown the inside workings of the department. When they arrived at City Hall they were taken in charge by City Messenger Leary, Janitor Sheahan and Officer Harding, who did the honors of the occasion and were very kind. Mayor Hart received the children and shook hands with each.

At the State House they also saw all there was to see, including Governor Crane who found time to say a good word to them and shake hands with each. While they were at the State House Representative Mellen of Worcester, who had the honor of acquaintance of one of the teachers took the children to the restaurant where he filled them up with good things. By this act he made twenty-four firm friends who will remember his act of kindness long after the incident has passed his memory. At Mt. Auburn and Harvard college everything of an interesting nature was seen. The party returned to West Quincy at 7 o'clock, tired but having pased a pleasant and enjoyable day.

Half Fare for School Children.

By a new law just passed by the Legislature, street railway companies are required to transport school children at half rates. The act provides that "the rates of fare to be charged by the street or elevated railway companies in this commonwealth for the transportation of scholars of the public schools between any given point necessary for them to ride to and from the school houses in which they attend school, and their homes, whether said school houses are located in the city or town in which said scholars reside or in any other city or town, shall not exceed one-half the regular fare charged by said street or elevated railway company for the transportation of passengers between said points. The tickets or the transportation of said scholars shall be sold in lots of 10 each, and shall be recieved on said street and elevated railways on the days on which said schools are in session.

Quincy Point Sale.

C. H. Johnson, the real estate agent, reports the sale of the Loring estate, (formerly known as Colby estate), on Mill street, consisting of eight room cottage, stable, and about 3 acres of land to Gardner Osgood of Boston. The price is not given, but it is understood in excess of the assessed value. Mr. Osgood will develope the property by erecting four double houses on the land.

Mr. Johnson also reports three other large deals in progress for reality at Quincy.

Revival of Education.

The Parker Anniversary will include a public gathering at the Stone Temple at Quincy, Friday evening, April 20, and a banquet at Hotel Vendome, Boston, Saturday afternoon, April 21. Among the speakers at Quincy will be some very distinguished educators including William T. Harris, Washington, D. C.; Professor Nicholas Murray Butler, Columbia University, New York City; Superintendent Orville T. Bright, Cook County, Illinois; and Supervisor Robert C. Metcalf, Boston. At the banquet, Quincy gentlemen will respond to toasts.

Differences Still Exist.

Chicago, April 10.—The union machinists of Chicago who recently went back to work after a strike extending over several weeks may again walk out. The machinists claim that many of their number have been unable to secure their old positions, which have been filled with non-union men, and that several firms have refused to recognize the agreement whereby the strikers were to be taken back and the differences as to hours and wages were to be settled by arbitration.

Dynamite Created Havoc.

Nyack, N. Y., April 10.—Burning leaves on the mountain side at Rockland lake set fire to a dynamite house. The house was blown to atoms. A small part of the mountain was wrecked, and a stone, weighing nearly 50 pounds, was hurled half a mile and into the Methodist parsonage, falling within two feet of the minister's wife and child. No one was hurt.

Alleged Adulteration of Milk.

Clinton, Mass., April 10.—Warren E. Moore and Charles L. Brigham of Northboro were before Judge Stone Monday, charged with selling adulterated milk. They were held in $100 bail each. The men were arrested at the instance of a milk inspector from Boston. They are large dealers, supplying a considerable quantity of milk to Boston firms.

DOES COFFEE AGREE WITH YOU?

If not, drink Grain-O—made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain O I did not like it but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." It nourishes and feeds the system. The children can drink it freely with great benefit. It is the strengthening substance of pure grains. Get a package today from your grocer, follow the directions in making it and you will have a delicious and healthful table beverage for old and young. 15c. and 25c.

EXECUTIVE IMPULSE.

Without It, Laws Passed by Congress Are Inert and Vain.

President Is Pre-eminently the Peoples' Office.

Every Citizen Within Protection and Restraint of Its Power, Says Cleveland.

Princeton, April 10.—Grover Cleveland last night delivered the first of his two addresses in the new lectureship founded by Stafford Little. He announced as his theme "The Independence of the Executive," saying that he proposed to comment upon the office of President of the United States, and upon some incidents of a public nature made familiar to him by the incumbency of that office.

The speaker was introduced by President Patten. As Mr. Cleveland rose to begin his lecture the audience greeted him with rounds of applause. The lecture throughout was listened to with marked attention, and at its close Mr. Cleveland was greeted with prolonged applause. His treatment of the presidents chair as being pre-eminently the people's office, was most warmly received by his hearers.

Mr. Cleveland began by speaking of the indictment presented by the original 13 colonies against the oppressive exercise of executive power by the king of Great Britain. The colonists dreaded a repetition of these abuses through the powers that might devolve upon an American president. Thus the articles of confederation provided for no executive head, but in the constitutional convention, 10 years later, it was conceded that if the experiment of popular government were to be successful, an executive branch, invested with power and responsibility, must be one of its essential factors.

In the scheme of our national government, as then established, the president is pre-eminently the people's office. The laws passed by congress are inert and vain without executive impulse; and the federal courts pass upon the right of the citizen only when their aid is occasionally invoked; but under the constitutional mandate that the president "shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed," every citizen is constantly within the protection and restraint of the executive power. Furthermore, it is only in the selection of the president that the body of the American people can by any possibility act together and directly in the equipment of their national government. To the wisdom of the men who composed the convention we are indebted for the creation of an executive department, limited against any possible danger of usurpation or tyranny, but, at the same time, strong and independent within its limitations.

Mr. Cleveland then reviewed the debate in the first session of congress in 1789 over the power of the president under the constitution to remove an officer appointed by him by and with the advice of the senate. The outcome of this debate was a legislative construction of the constitution to the effect that the president had the power of removal without the participation or interference of the senate. But the question was again raised in 1886, in a sharp contention between the senate and the president. In order to make clear the nature of this controversy, Mr. Cleveland described the tenure of office act passed in 1867 for the express purpose of preventing removals from office by President Johnson, and compared it with the tenure of office legislation passed in 1869, during President Grant's first administration.

"I fully appreciate the fact," said Mr. Cleveland in closing, "that partisanship follows party organization; that it is apt to be unduly developed in all parties, and that it often hampers the best aspirations and purposes of public life, but I hope I have reached a condition when I can recall such adverse partisanship as may have entered into past conflicts and perplexities without misleading irritation or prejudice—especially on such an occasion as this."

Case of Mistaken Identity.

Boston, April 10.—James Johnson was arraigned yesterday on the charge of larceny and held in $5000 for the grand jury. The police inspectors thought they identified Johnson as a notorious thief, and expected to prove him to be liable to imprisonment as an habitual criminal. A state prison officer who knew the other Johnson maintains that the one under arrest here is not the many time convict.

Demand For Union Shop Refused.

Biddeford, Me., April 10.—The strike of the Saco and Pettee machine shop employes entered upon its fifth week with little prospect of an early settlement. The strikers, Monday, voted against a proposition to return to work on the guarantee of the agent of the shop that he would take them all back provided the demand for a union shop was dropped.

Aged Official Charged With Embezzlement.

Marshall, Mich., April 10.—A. O. Hyde, ex-superintendent of the poor of this county, was yesterday bound over for trial, charged with embezzlement as a public official. His total alleged stealings amounted to $16,000, of which he paid back $4000. He is 84 years old, and had held office for 30 years.

No Time Being Lost.

Kansas City, April 10.—Plans for erecting the new convention hall have practically been completed, and the work of removing the debris from the site is rapidly proceeding. The hall directors have on hand $285,000 available for the new building, which is to cost about $300,000.

Sydney In Grip of Plague.

Sydney, N. S. W., April 10.—Ninety-three cases of the bubonic plague and 29 deaths from the disease have occurred here. Thursday next has been appointed as a day of intercession and prayers for relief from the plague.

BAY STATE COURTS UPHELD.

United States Supreme Court Decides That Embezzler Murphy Must Stay In Prison.

Washington, April 10.—Chief Justice Fuller yesterday delivered an opinion in the case of Clarence Murphy vs. the commonwealth of Massachusetts, which was brought to the supreme court on a writ of error from the superior court of Massachusetts. Murphy was sentenced to from 10 to 15 years' imprisonment, on the charge of embezzment, under the indeterminate sentence statute of the state. After serving two years he complained that the penalty was illegally imposed, because the crime was committed before the law was enacted. This proving to be the case, he was given a sentence of 12½ years. He then demanded to be discharged on the ground that he had twice been put in jeopardy for one offense. The state courts held against him on this plea, and that decision was upheld by yesterday's opinion, on the ground that the fact that there was double jeopardy, was due to Murphy's own act.

Killed Himself on Eve of Wedding.

Chicago, April 10.—A verdict of death by an accidental wound was rendered by the coroner's jury in the case of Captain Louis Ostheim of the First United States artillery, who was found dead Sunday night in his apartments at the Auditorium annex. Captain Ostheim was to have been married yesterday to Mrs. Eva B. Woods, and he secured a marriage license Saturday. Captain Ostheim, it is said, had been in poor health since his return from the Philippines. It is the theory of his friends that the captain awoke in a nightmare and shot himself, not knowing what he was doing.

Against Domination of "Bosses."

Chicago, April 10.—Charges that the Presbyterian general assembly was dominated by a system of bossism and one man power, worse than any parliament machine, and that that great religious body was afflicted with packed committees, were made yesterday at an adjourned meeting of the Chicago Presbytery. After an animated discussion the proposition that the standing committees of the general assembly in the future be elected by the delegates, instead of being appointed by the moderator, was endorsed and sent to the general assembly by a two-thirds vote.

Bay State Legislature.

Boston, April 10.—The house of representatives yesterday refused a third reading on the bill to submit to the people of Lynn the question of abolishing grade crossings there.

One of Speaker Myers' visitors during the session was Alexis Frye, who is interested in education in Cuba, and he was introduced to prominent members of the house before leaving.

The bill to define the power of courts to punish for contempt was under discussion.

Drove In State Through Dublin.

Dublin, April 10.—Queen Victoria drove in state through Dublin yesterday. An escort of the household cavalry lent a picturesque aspect to the royal procession. The stores and houses in the main thoroughfares were plentifully decorated with flags and bunting, and her majesty was received with very great enthusiasm throughout her drive. The weather was splendid and the brilliant sunshine and vari-colored decorations gave the city quite a carnival appearance.

To Buy Property For Revenge.

Denver, April 10.—W. S. Stratton, the multi-millionaire of Colorado Springs, who recently had some difficulty with the management of the Brown Palace hotel of this city, will revenge himself by buying the property and running it to suit himself. The figure named for the Brown property is $1,500,000. Owing to Stratton's grievance against the management he will not patronize the big hotel, but is staying at the Albany.

Natives Against Sale of Islands.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., April 10.—The king's birthday was unusually celebrated at St. Thomas and St. Croix. There was an outburst of loyalty to Denmark and demonstrations against the sale of the islands. Among other features there were day and night processions, the people being costumed in the national colors and cheering the king. The feeling against the sale of the Danish West Indies is strong.

Owner Alleges Fraud In Drawing.

Hartford, April 10.—H. S. Chesebrough won a house for 50 cents at a raffle here. He is employed by a Troy shirt firm, and heard of the raffle while staying at a hotel in this city. After the drawing, Philip S. Barnes, the owner of the house, would not give up the deed, claiming fraud. Barnes had sold 5000 tickets. Chesebrough has caused the arrest of Barnes on the charge of conducting a lottery.

Two Judges Claim One Bench.

Barbourville, Ky., April 10.—Circuit court began yesterday, but it is doubtful whether John H. Wilson or W. S. Brown will act as judge. When the time for opening court came Judge Brown took his seat and a few minutes later Judge Wilson appeared with a certificate from the election commissioners and signed by Beckham. Brown refused to leave the bench. Several murder cases are on the docket.

More Than Half a Million Damage.

New York, April 10.—Fire in Greenpoint yesterday threw between 1200 and 1500 men out of employment and destroyed several factories. The damage is estimated at from $500,000 to $600,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

The barometer continues low in the southwestern states and is relatively low thence eastward to the South Atlantic coast. Over the northern half of the country east of the Rocky mountains high barometer and unseasonably low temperatures prevail. The weather will continue cool and fair over the northern districts during today and will moderate tomorrow. The weather will be fair in New England, with fresh northerly winds.

MESSENGER BOY'S LONG JOURNEY.

Will Travel From Philadelphia to Pretoria to Deliver a Message to Kruger.

Philadelphia, April 10.—One of the greatest demonstrations of sympathy ever shown here for any foreign nation took place last night, when the Academy of Music was jammed with people, who assembled to take part in the Philadelphia schoolboys pro-Boer rally. The primary object of the gathering was to send a message of greeting to President Kruger, signed by 22,000 pupils of the schools of this city. So great was the crush that many thousands were unable to get near the doors.

Judge Ashman of this city presided, and those who addressed the meeting were Webster Davis, Bourke Cochran of New York, ex-District Attorney Graham of this city, P. L. Wessels of Bloemfontein, Orange Free State, and Thomas J. Meek, a pupil of the high school of this city. Edwin Markham, the poet, recited an ode to Lincoln. Three hundred singers of the united singing societies of Philadelphia sang the Transvaal Volksleid and American patriotic songs.

After the speech making was over James F. Smith, a 16-year-old messenger boy of the American District Telegraph company of New York, was called to the stage by means of the regulation call box and was given the message signed by the school boys with instructions to proceed to Pretoria and to hand it personally to President Kruger. The messenger, accompanied by a committee of three high school boys, left for New York last night and today were tendered a reception at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel by the students of the public schools of Greater New York. Tomorrow the messenger will sail on the steamship St. Louis, and before the vessel reaches Southampton he will be taken off by a French tender and landed at Havre in order to avoid English territory. The message to Mr. Kruger is as follows:

"We, the undersigned, students of the public schools of Philadelphia, the city where our own forefathers enlisted in their splendid and successful struggle against English oppression, desire to express to you and to the fighting men of the South African republic their great admiration for the genius and courage that has checked English invasion of the Transvaal, and the undersigned extend their most earnest wishes that in the end the South African republic will triumph over England in a war in which the Boer cause is noble, the English cause unjust."

Delegations of school boys from New York and Boston attended the meeting.

Strike Threatened at Pawtucket.

Pawtucekt, R. I., April 10.—The woolen weavers in the Lorraine mill have notified the company that a strike will be ordered without delay if 34 of their number who were temporarily laid off on Saturday are not restored to their looms. The chief point at issue is whether the company can compel the weavers to run four looms instead of three, as has been the plan in the past. A rearrangement of the work made it possible, the company claims, for weavers to run one extra loom, and this has practically thrown 34 weavers out of work.

Howard Won't Dodge the Law.

Frankfort, Ky., April 10.—The report that it would take 1000 men to arrest Jim Howard of Clay county, who is said to have fired the shot that killed Governor Goebel, is denied by Dr. H. B. Phillips, who announces that Howard told him that whenever a warrant was issued for his arrest, he would gladly go with the officer, and would not attempt to dodge or resist the law in any way. Howard is in Clay county at his home.

Non-Union Men at Work.

Chicago, April 10.—Union workmen were turned away yesterday from the new Marshal Field building, where they had done all the work thus far, and 150 non-union men were put in their places. This action is interpreted as meaning that union men hereafter will be given no opportunity to work until they consent to do so under the contractor rules or withdraw from the Building Trades council.

Towne as Bryan's Running Mate.

Minneapolis, April 10.—The Journal says that former Congressman Charles A. Towne of Duluth is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for vice president. The demand for Towne's nomination is said to come from gold Democrats and Republican anti-imperialists of New England. It is asserted that Bryan would be glad to have Towne for a running mate.

Predicts Peace and Prosperity.

Bombay, April 10.—Viceroy Curzon, replying to an address yesterday, eulogized the loyalty of the Sikh soldiers. He said the Punjab was interested because its people knew that British victory did not mean the extermination of the vanquished, but a new era of peace and prosperity for conquerors and conquered.

Millions In Klondike Clean-Up.

Victoria, B. C., April 10.—A careful inspection of all the dumps on Hunker and Dominion creeks, Klondike, enables a Yukon paper to estimate that these two creeks, with their tributaries, will this spring clean-up $4,500,000. Three individual claims have $500,000 to their credit. The clean-up has commenced.

Pneumonia's Ravages.

New Haven, April 10.—Gustave W. Anderson and wife died at the city hospital of pneumonia within 24 hours of each other. A 15-year-old daughter is also critically ill, and it is doubtful if she will recover. There are also four other children ill with the disease at their West Haven home.

Well Covered by Insurance.

Pittsburg, April 10.—The total amount of insurance placed on the Horne & Co. building and stock, which was destroyed by fire Sunday morning, is $1,327,000. Over 200 companies are represented. The majority of the policies are for $5000 each.

Evidently Have Faith In La Gloria.

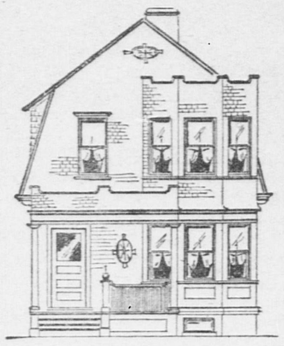

New York, April 10.—Among the passengers who arrived yesterday on a steamer from Cuban ports were 27 colonists returning from La Gloria, Cuba. They refused to talk, further than to say they would all return to Cuba in the fall.

DUTCH COLONIAL STYLE.

Contains Seven Large Rooms and Bath and Costs but $1,500.

This design shows a $1,500 home. It is a comfortable, well arranged and very practical house. It has seven large rooms and a bathroom. This may be termed a Dutch colonial house and is an attractive design. The gables in front and rear and the roof are covered with cedar shingles, and the first floor is covered with white pine bevel siding. The foundation may be either of brick or stone, as desired. Stone is a trifle less expensive and just as durable as brick, but takes up more space. The cellar floor is concreted three inches thick. The chimney is built of hard burned brick. The timbers used in this house are all spruce, with the exception of the filling in studs, which are hemlock. The floors are yellow pine tongue and groove flooring. The veranda across the front is six feet wide.

The dimensions of the house are 20 feet wide by 33 feet deep, including bay window. The parlor is a large room, 12 feet 6 inches wide by 18 feet deep. The dining room is 10 feet wide by 13 feet 6 inches deep. The kitchen is 9 feet wide by 13 feet 6 inches deep and is fitted with two part soapstone tubs, galvanized iron sink and boiler and a No 7 Perfect range, with gas stove attachment.

The second floor has four chambers and a bathroom, with tile floor and imitation tile walls six feet high, an iron enameled bathtub and a No. 3 earthenware washout closet. The main chamber is 10 feet wide by 18 feet deep, and the rear chamber is 10 feet wide by 13 feet 6 inches deep.

The inside trim is cypress throughout, finished natural. All the shingle work is stained sienna except the roof, which is moss green. The siding on the first floor is colonial yellow, with white trimming and dark green blinds.

The Kitchen.

The possible, ideal and already existing kitchen has a hard wood floor and rounded corners, and the walls are white tiled five feet up and either soapstone, plaster finished or enamel painted on up to the ceiling, says the Philadelphia Press. Buff is the best tone to use. The windows of a kitchen should run up almost to the ceiling to allow the hot vapors of cooking to escape.

The best placed range is in an alcove, windowed on each side, and it is "hooded" so that the hood flue draws up all escaping dust, smoke or gas. The dust flue is vitally important, but the success of every range depends upon its being kept properly clean.

Scouring Preparation.

Ordinary marble dust (which may be procured from any marble cutting establishment) and soap make the best preparation for scouring.

The man tangled in the tape from the ticker is the type of the average business man. His business cares wrap him about like the coils of a constrictor and slowly crush out his life. The common sign of the business man's slavery is "weak stomach," the natural consequence of the rapid eating, the indigestible pastry, the coffee and pie or doughnuts, with which many a man stuffs his stomach under the name of "quick lunch." The quickest way back to a strong stomach and sound health is to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medcal Discovery until perfectly cured. It goes to the root of disease. It removes the cause of ill-health. It makes more blood and better blood, and this blood nourishes every organ in the body to the highest point of vigorous health.

"During the summer and fall of 1896," writes Chas. H. Sergeant, Esq., of Plain City, Madison Co., Ohio. "I became all 'run down,' nerves were out of order. I wrote to Dr. Pierce for advice. He said I had general debility, and advised Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and, thanks to you for your advice, I used six bottles; and since I stopped taking it about one year ago, I have not taken any medicine of any kind, and have been able to work every day. My appetite is good, I can eat three square meals a day, and I do not feel that miserable burning in the stomach after eating. My blood and nerves are in good shape, and, I am in good running order."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness.

To the Editor:

I think it my duty to inform your readers of a remedy that should be in every household.

I was a martyr to Dyspepsia and Constipation and tried everything in vain. In despair I bought a ten cent package of the U. S. Army & Navy Tablets, 17 East 14th St., New York, and in three days I felt better and afterwards I bought a twenty-five cent package and now I am completely cured. Your druggist can and must get it for you.

THE BOERS' MOBILITY

One of the Wonderful Features of the Campaign In South Africa.

Boers Report Serious British Disaster at Bradfort.

Six Hundred Men Killed and Wounded and Eight Hundred Taken Prisoners.

London, April 11.—The latest dispatches, if they are to be taken at their face value, illustrate once more the remarkable mobility of the Boer irregular troops. One month ago this week Lord Roberts occupied Bloemfontein practically without opposition. Later he sent out troops to the east and north and cleared the country thereabouts of armed opposition, while Generals Clements, Gatacre and Brabant apparently stamped out the armed opposition south of Bloemfontein. According to all accounts, these generals were close on the heels of the flying Boers. They managed to slip past the British cavalry and concentrating made a descent on Thabanchu, east of Bloemfontein, which was hastily abandoned, the British falling back on their base. At Sannahpost the ambuscade took place where nearly 400 British troops were surprised and taken prisoners, while a large convoy of wagons was lost.

The Boers, elated at their success, sent flying columns all over the Free State, penetrating to Reddersburg on the south, where they sprung another trap on the British and captured 591 men. They now have General Brabant's men bottled up in Wepener, and a late dispatch from Bethulie expresses a fear that the burghers will destroy the bridge over the Orange river. On the extreme west they are at Paardeberg and in the immediate vicinity of Kimberley, while on the extreme east they are attacking the British forces north of Ladysmith. The general situation, it is thus seen, is not very satisfactory from the British point of view.

GENERAL BRABANT.

The Daily News has the following from Pretoria, dated April 9, by way of Delagoa Bay: It is officially announced that a battle has been fought south of Brandfort, in which 600 British troops were killed or wounded, and 800 taken prisoners. Lord Roberts is declared to be finding great difficulty, owing to scarcity of water.

The Daily Mail publishes the following, dated April 11, from Lourenzo Marquez: The Netherlands Railway company professes to have received a telegram reporting a Boer victory near Kroonstad, the Boers capturing 800 British.

Commenting upon this, The Daily Mail remarks: There is a Meerkatfonteln about 8½ miles southeast of Kroonstad, but, if the report be true, this can hardly be the place.

But that the war office has issued no news from Lord Roberts during the last three days, there would be little disposition to place any credence in the Boer reports of another British disaster. The unexpected rallying of the Free State commandoes, however, leaves the public in a nervous condition, fearing everything.

Dispatches from Pretoria, as late as Monday, did not mention any further Boer victory. On the contrary, they said all the commandoes were quiet and, as Lord Roberts has hitherto never failed promptly to report mischances, as well as successes, or to allow the newspaper correspondents to report them, until some confirmation is received, there is justification for regarding the Meerkatsfontein rumor as only an exaggerated account of the Reddersburg affair. At the same time, Boer reports have so often proved correct that the greatest anxiety will be felt.

No further news has been received of fighting either at Wepener or in Natal. Boer reports seem to indicate that Lord Methuen is advancing from Boshof toward Hoopstad. It is a bold and apparently a dangerous move since, although it turns the right flank of the Boers' position at Brandfort, it puts Lord Methuen's force between whatever garrison there may be at Bloemhof, in the Transvaal, and the Brandfort force.

The Boer peace commissioners at Naples do not conceal the fact that they have no hope of obtaining peace with independence for the republics, but they will endeavor to save their amour propre or to secure a truce for further negotiations. Mr. Fischer says the present Boer strength at the front is 38,000.

The Berlin correspondent of The Daily News asserts that the Reichman who is credited with having led the Boers at Korn Spruit is certainly the American military attache, Captain Carl Reichman.

A DISAPPOINTED OFFICE-SEEKER.

Offered the Mayor of Boston a Thousand Dollars to Secure an Appointment.

Boston, April 11.—C. W. Ernst, Mayor Hart's private secretary, is authority for the statement that the mayor received a letter a few days ago from a citizen who asked for appointment to an important office and offered as a reward for the mayor's granting his request the sum of $1000.

Mayor Hart replied to that letter last Monday in a very brief manner and to the point. In the fewest possible words the mayor told the applicant that he had made a grave mistake. He called his attention to the bribery laws, the penalty thereof, and, in order to save the office-seeker from disgrace and punishment, the mayor wrote that he would hold the letter for two or three days in order to allow the correspondent ample time to call in person for the letter, lest it might be recorded against him in criminal annals.

The strangest part of it is that the applicant called promptly yesterday at the mayor's office and expressed his provoked feelings that he could not have the appointment, and, moreover, that he had to withdraw his bribery offer of $1000.

Headless Body Found In a Well.

Granby, Mass., April 11.—The body of Kosmins Kamnisky, a Pole, aged about 30, was found Tuesday in an old well on the farm of Munroe Keith. Kamnisky who was employed on the Keith farm and had been missing since Dec. 29, was thought to have left town, but suspicion arose that there had been foul play, and search resulted in finding the man's body, headless and terribly cut with an axe, in a rough sack in the bottom of a well. A fellow employe, Francisco Umlian, was arrested on suspicion of having committed the crime, and his wife is held as an accessory. It is said Umlian was jealous of Kamnisky.

Charge of Infanticide Not Proven.

Leominster, Mass., April 11.—Mrs. Marla Owens was given a hearing before Justice Carter [illegible] of having caused the death of her infant, and after the taking of testimony her discharge was ordered on the ground that the government had not proven the woman's guilt. The body of a child had been found in a trunk in the cellar of the house in which the woman lived. Chief Lasselle said the defendant had admitted the birth of the child, but told conflicting stories as to its paternity.

Judge Caldwell's Resolution.

Washington, April 11.—Judge Henry C. Caldwell of Arkansas, who has been extensively spoken of as a candidate for vice president, has written a letter to Senator Jones (Ark.), in which he says that he cannot consent to such use of his name, and that his resolution in this matter is absolutely irrevocable. Judge Caldwell was appointed district judge by President Lincoln in 1864 and circuit judge by President Harrison in 1890.

Coal a Scarce Commodity.

Pittsburg, April 11.—With 10,000 miners on strike and many of the mines operating on half time, and with no immediate prospect of a complete resumption, the condition in the coal trade here has assumed alarming proportions. Coal yards in Pittsburg and Alleghany are short of fuel. This condition also exists in most of the important boroughs, which depend on Pittsburg for their supply.

American Champion Falls Before Vardon.

Scarsdale, N. Y., April 11.—In a 36-hole exhibition match at the Scarsdale Golf club, yesterday, Harry Vardon, the English open champion, defeated Willie Dunn, the American open champion in 1894, by 16 up, and added a heavy link to the chain of evidence he has already given of being the best golfer in the world, absolutely unapproachable by any one in this country.

Stopping of Assessments Endorsed.

Dover, N. H., April 11.—At yesterday's session of the convention of the National Federation of Textile Operatives the action of Secretary Whitehead in stopping assessments for Lonsdale strikers was endorsed, and it was unanimously voted that, so far as the federation is concerned, the Lonsdale, R. I., strike be declared off.

Biddeford Strike Ended.

Biddeford, Me., April 11.—The strike of the 600 workmen employed at the Saco and Pettee machine shop ended in a failure by a decision of the men to abandon the strike which they have maintained for four weeks, because the agent of the shop refused their demand that the shop be made a union one.

Young Life Ended by Poison.

New Haven, April 11.—Katie O'Connor, aged 14, employed as a domestic in Westville, died, Tuesday, from the effects of poison taken with suicidal intent. She left a note in which she said she had no desire to live, as her mother had scolded her for staying out late last Sunday night.

Two Lives Lost In Explosion.

Columbia City, Ind., April 11.—The large flouring mill of R. Tuttle & Co. was wrecked by an explosion yesterday, resulting in the death of two men. Several others in the mill were badly injured. It is believed natural gas is responsible for the explosion.

BY UNANIMOUS VOTE.

Decision That Clark Is Not Entitled to His Seat In the Senate.

Report Based on Cumulative Character of Testimony.

Many Expressions Favorable to the Senator From a Personal Point of View.

Washington, April 11.—The committee on privileges and elections has decided unanimously against Senator Clark of Montana. The form of its report will be to declare the seat he now occupies vacant. The decision was reached after a two hours' sitting, at which all the members of the committee were present except one. The absentee was Senator Caffery of Louisiana, and he wired his vote in opposition to Mr. Clark.

The ballot was not taken until all the members present had expressed themselves upon the question, some of them speaking at some length and all expressing different shades of opinion.

Senator Harris of Kansas indicated the most pronounced leaning toward leniency for Mr. Clark. He did not express any doubt that there had been a lavish expenditure of money in Mr. Clark's behalf, and while not condoning this course, he spoke in terms of strong condemnation of the tactics pursued by some of Clark's opponents. Senator Pettus practically agreed with Mr. Harris.

The two senators also expressed some doubt as to the justification of the conclusion drawn by a majority of the committee, that Senator Clark's candidacy for the senate began in August, 1898, when he returned to Butte from New York. The effect of this conclusion was to charge up the entire $139,000, which Senator Clark confessed to having expended to his campaign for the senate, while the contention was made in Senator Clark's behalf that he had not become a candidate until after the state election, thus eliminating from the campaign in his individual behalf the amount spent in the general contest.

Senator McComas was among the senators who expressed himself as convinced that the senatorial seat was in view from the beginning. Mr. McComas, however, united with other senators in condemning the methods pursued in prosecuting the case.

The concensus of opinion of the committee appeared unfavorable to accepting any one especial feature against Mr. Clark as the basis for the report against him, the general opinion being that it was the cumulative character of the testimony that should be considered rather than any one especial detail.

Senators Chandler and Turley were directed to prepare the report. It is expected to be presented at an early day.

There were many expressions in the committee favorable to Senator Clark from a personal point of view, and more than one senator gave utterance to doubts as to whether he had actual personal part in or knowledge of the expenditures. Others expressed the opinion that the senator was in a certain sense the victim of environment and of habit. The outlay of money in past elections in Montana was dwelt upon as one of the explanations of the liberal expenditures in this case.

Senator Turley was among the senators who vigorously dissented from the view that Mr. Clark could have been uninformed of the fact that money was being used to promote his election.

At a conference with ex-Senator Faulkner, Clark's counsel, the determination was reached that Clark should make no statement until the appearance of the committee's report, containing its views on the evidence adduced during the hearing, and the conclusion upon which its report will be based. It is believed that Senator Clark does not contemplate resigning his seat at this time.

The house yesterday passed the agricultural appropriation bill, substantially as reported. An animated discussion arose over a series of amendments offered by Mr. Corliss (Mich.) restricting the distribution of free seeds and free vaccine. Mr. Corliss maintained that the government distributions invaded the field of private enterprise. His various amendments failed, however, after extended debate. An amendment by Mr. Lattimer (S. C.) was adopted, increasing the supply of "farmers' bulletins" issued by the agricultural department and distributed by members of congress.

Without any objection from any source the senate yesterday agreed to take a final vote on the right of M. S. Quay to a seat as senator from Pennsylvania on April 24 at 4 p. m. During its session the senate paid its tribute to the late Richard P. Bland, long a representative from Missouri. The eulogies pronounced on the dead statesman were notable for their earnestness and eloquence.

Good Afternoon.

Representatives Shep ard and Sprague should get on the people's side. Both voted against the bill to define the rights of courts to punish for contempt and were in the minority.

Two consular reports, one from Belgium and one from France, contain hints that should not be lost upon this government if we are to maintain colonies. Belgium has recently established a school for the training of students who intend to seek fortune in the colonies. The instruction includes practical demonstration of the sort of buildings settlers should construct, including proper rules of sanitation; also the cultivation of indigenous plants. [illegible] the best methods of gathering crops and transporting them to market, treatment of native labor, etc. In France, a Colonial Institute is to be established to train young men to all positions in the colonies, which is to send out expeditions of students at national expense, to gather information, which is to be furnished commercial houses in the form of detailed reports.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The postal bill to come before congress will carry about one hundred and fourteen million dollars. If the department gets a dollar's worth for every dollar expended, that is, if the financial end of the postal business is as carefully looked after as it should be, then no money of the government is expended to better purpose than that which brings all parts of the country into closer communication, which encourages letter-writing, and makes easy the circulation of literature. — New Bedford Standard.

☞ At South Braintree Sunday, there was no sale of cigars and soda, the blue laws being enforced with the utmost strictness. At Braintree the same day there was a cockfight. Thus we see how beautifully the laws are "enforced" on Sundays in different parts of what is practically the same town. The stopping of the sale of a few cigars and a little vanilla soda on the Sabbath day is probably a great moral triumph, but the officers so near to the scene of the other festivities ought to have been able to find out something about the cocking main and might readily have stopped that too it would seem.—Brockton Enterprise.

☞ If the school boys of Quincy are the rum-drinking cigarette-smoking vicious lot that Henry Faxon says they are, their condition does not speak well for the work and influence of Henry Faxon. After carrying on the work of reform as he has for several years and then to have the rising generation such a degraded lot, his methods must have very little effect. We, however, believe the boys are not so bad as he has painted them, but in his enthusiasm he has exaggerated matters. One thing, however is certain, that making the statement as he does, Mr. Faxon hurts the reputation of the youth of Quincy far more than he benefits the cause of morality. It is easy to make statements; difficult to disprove them. The reputations of the young are too precious to be injured by such assertions as Faxon makes, for whether true or not some one will believe them.—Nashua Telegraph.

A FEARFUL CHARGE.

Braintree Boy of Ten Years Held for Manslaughter.

John E. Burgess, the 10-year-old Braintree lad, whom special justice Louis A. Cook in his return of an inquest found blameworthy in causing the death of Arthur C. Long at Braintree, July 7, 1899, was arraigned in the district court at Quincy this morning upon the charge of manslaughter.

The two boys were in bathing in a pond at South Braintree at the time, and it is alleged that Burgess, in spite of the protest of the Long boy, took the latter beyond his depth, and during the struggle which followed, the Long boy was drowned.

Judge Cook held an inquest, and on March 3, filed his decision.

Burgess was represented by Phillip H. Sullivan, who waived the reading of complaint and entered a plea of not guilty.

Burgess was held in $500 until April 26, his father furnishing the bonds.

The Rev. Charles H. Porter, Jr.

The following sketch of Rev. Charles H. Porter, Jr., of Hingham, who has received a call to Newport, R. I., will be of interest. It is from the Herald:

The Rev. Charles H. Porter, Jr., is the oldest son of ex-Mayor Charles H. Porter of Quincy, and was born in that city Oct. 4, 1871. He is a graduate of Adams Academy of Quincy and of Harvard College, graduating from the Harvard Divinity school in 1893 and preaching his first sermon in the First Unitarian church at Quincy. During the summer of 1895, he did missionary preaching in West Gouldsboro, Me. His first regular settlement was in Brooklyn, where he was assistant pastor with the Rev. Samuel A. Eliot of the Church of the Saviour, and was also in ministerial charge with the Rev. Mr. Eliot of the Willow place chapel, a mission connected with the church. His work in this connection brought him in contact with the poorer classes of the South ferry district, and his efforts were successful and received the recognition of the city authorities.

He was ordained to the ministery at the Church of the Saviour in 1896, and in May 1897, he accepted a call to assume the charge of the New North church in Hingham and the Unitarian church at South Hingham. He was installed as the pastor of the joint societies in June of that year. He had been in Hingham but a few months when he declined a call to a large society n New Jersey.

Priest--Temple.

A wedding of interest at Neponset Tuesday evening was the marriage of Miss Mary Isabelle Temple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Temple, and Mr. Benjamin S. Priest of Watertown at the residence of the bride's parents, Wood street. The ceremony was witnessed by immediate relatives and friends. The Rev. George E. Littlefield, pastor of the Church of the Unity Neponset, officiated. Mr. Wesley Priest, a brother of the groom, was best man. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Emma F. Temple Mr. and Mrs. Priest will reside in Watertown, where they will be at home Tuesdays in June.

What Quincy Missed.

The Pi Eta show will not be given in Quincy because of the burning of Music hall. The Journal says, the first production of "The Campaigners," the Pi Eta show at Harvard, was given last night at the Pi Eta club house, Cambridge, before a large and merry audience. "Graduates' Night" was the occasion and the production of the two-act comic operetta, the book of which was written by Brent Taylor, '01, and the music by Frederick Gulick, '00, passed off as smoothly as though it had gone through a six months' run before crowded houses. The music is excellent and very catchy throughout.

The Dedham Court.

Two Weymouth criminals were sentenced at the Superior court at Dedham on Tuesday.

John Kelly of Weymouth, for breaking and entering and larceny, not less than four nor more than six years in state prison.

Hugh Campbell of Boston, for breaking and entering, three years in the house of correction.

John F. Shine of Brookline for breaking and entering, three years in the house of correction.

Thomas Howley of Weymouth, for breaking and entering, reformatory prison at Concord.

Andrew C. Remick of Hyde Park, for polygamy, three years in house of correction.

Public Library.

Over 10,000 books were taken from the Thomas Crane Public Library in this city during the month of March. The largest number loaned in any month since it was established. It is one of the largest and best libraries to be found anywhere in the state outside of a few large cities.

DEFEAT AT START.

But Adams Academy May Make Showing Later.

English High School of Boston defeated the Adams Academy base ball team at Merry Mount park, Tuesday afternoon. The visitors won by better fielding, and hitting the ball when hits meant runs. In the third inning Bennett got a base on balls, and scored on hits by Molenaer and Donaher. Donaher, Tate and Weston played best for Adams, and Hendricken, Murphy and Andrews showed up best for High.

Donaher had eleven strike outs to his credit, and Kennedy eight.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget with the News in a Nut Shell.

Miss Annie Lyons of Squantum street has a new wheel.

Governor Crane has appointed Saturday, April 28, as Arbor Day.

The City Council Committee on Streets will meet Friday evening.

Pie supper at the Washington Stree t Congregational church next week.

Herbert W. Beattie, the sculptor, has had his studio connected by telephone.

C. W. Wilder has ben reappointed pastor of the West Quincy Methodist church.

Mrs. Fred Ellis Drake of Upland road is confined to the house with the grip.

The special committee to investigate the price paid for gas in Quincy will meet tonight.

The Atlantic M. E. church will be supplied by Rev. Walter Healy the coming year.

Work will be commenced Thursday rebuilding the Houghs Neck line of the street railway.

Elijah S. Brown, who has been seriouly ill, was removed to a Boston hospital on Tuesday.

The Raymond family of East Weymouth will give an entertainment at the Point church next week.

Mrs. L. E. Lucia of Madison street has for her guest, her mother, Mrs. Joseph Sinclair of Addison, Vt.

The Wollaston M. E. church is fortunate to secure the appointment of Rev. J. E. Waterhouse for another year.

Easter next Sunday. Pastors, organists and choristers are requested to forward programs to the Patriot and Ledger.

The blocks for moving the residence of Dr. Jones back from the street arrived this morning, and work moving the building has been commenced.

The Grand lodge, Knights of Honor, is in session today in Boston. Grand Reporter E. G. Pratt of Quincy reports 115 lodges with 4,591 members.

The prize winners of the "Prominent people hiding" will appear in the Friday Ledger, with the solution as given by the winner of the first prize.

Miss E. M. Freeman of Quincy Point, has bought the estate of the late Everett D. Newcomb. It is reported that she is soon to erect two or three cottages on this estate.

The laying of the large water main on Washington street between Chubbuck street and the bridge has been completed, except connecting the new hydrants.

Mayor Hall will issue invitations today to a reception to officials and members of the city government at the parlors of The Greenleaf on the evening of Patriots' day.

Miss Bliss is having her Easter opening this week, and has some very artistic hats displayed. The colorings are beautiful this year, the pastel shades being particularly popular.

People on Hancock street are able to see their neighbors across the street once more, now that the street sprinkler is at work. For the past few days the clouds of dust have prevented their doing this.

Rev. F. H. Knight, formerly a pastor at Wollaston, has been appointed to the St. John's M. E. church, South Boston. Rev. W. A. Thurston goes to Hopkinton, Rev. J. A. Chadbourne to West Medway, Rev. Charles Paulson to the First Swedish church of Springfield.

It is an old saying that one must wear something new at Easter if he would be lucky the rest of the year, hence the array of new gowns, hats and gloves on Easter Sunday. D. E. Wadsworth & Co., have a window full of pretty things for Easter, and if you would be lucky give them a call.

The Cantata, "Esther" is well under way owing to the perseverence both of Mr. A. Sidelinger, the director from North Weymouth, and the pupils of the singing school at Quincy Point. The prominent parts have been assigned to soloists from Quincy, North and East Weymouth. This cantata will be given at the Washington Street Congregational church the last of April, with a strong chorus of sixty voices and with the well rendered solos surely the attractions will be great enough to fill the church even to the doors.

DOGS
MUST BE LICENSED
On or Before APRIL 30,

Or the Owners or Keepers thereof

LIABLE TO A FINE!

Extracts from the Laws of this Commonwealth.

Every owner or keeper of a dog of three months old or over shall annually on or before the THIRTIETH DAY OF APRIL, cause it to be Registered, Numbered, Described and Licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city or town wherein said dog is kept, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

An owner of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of the ensuing May; and a person becoming the owner or keeper of a dog after the first day of May, not duly licensed, shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided in the preceding section.

The fee for every license shall be two dollars for a MALE and five dollars for a FEMALE dog.

Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit FIFTEEN DOLLARS, five dollars of which shall be paid to the complainant and ten dollars to the treasurer of the county in which the dog is kept.

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number of dogs so kept exceeds five, the fee shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper, under the age of six months.

Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed, which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day in April in any year, shall, whenever it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May, as provided in Sec. 80 of Chap. 102 of the Public Statutes, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

IF YOU ARE GOING TO BUY A HOME

This season, rememember I am offering bargains which can't be matched by any builder or real estate owner in the city. I am going to build a number of first class, stylish, modern Houses, ranging in price from $2,000 to $4,000, and shall offer them at the same low prices which prevailed last season. These houses are to be built on Independence and Federal avenues, and are the best lots in South Quincy. Handy to steam and electrics, good neighbors, and every lot is dry. The first of these at No. 25 Independence avenue is now completed and will be cheerfully shown to all parties, whether intending to purchase or not; 6 rooms and bath, besides finished attic and basement. This is a corner lot. Also another of six rooms and bath, nearly finished, at No. 31 Independence avenue. This lot bounds on two streets. Favorable terms will be made to responsible parties on either of above.

OPINIONS ON THE REVIVAL OF EDUCATION IN QUINCY IN 1875

Will Appear in the Parker Illustrated Edition of the Quincy Patriot, April 21, 1900.

Worth Reading.

To the Editor:

I think it my duty to inform your readers of a remedy that should be in every household.

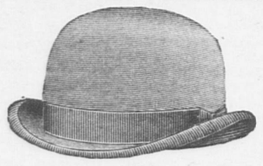

I was a martyr to Dyspepsia and Constipation and tried everything in vain. In despair I bought a ten cent package of the U. S. Army & Navy Tablets, 17 East 14th St., New York, and in three days I felt better and afterwards I bought a twenty-five cent package and now I am completely cured. Your druggist can and must get it for you.

BICYCLE RAILWAY.

The following letter was read by the moderator at the town meeting in Braintree, March 30:

Boston, March 28, 1900.

To the Selectmen of the Town of Braintree, Massachusetts.

Gentlemen:—Under the consel of Mr. Andrew J. Bailey, I have been retained by Mr. E. Moody Boynton as President of the Boston, Quincy & Fall River Bicycle Railway Co., to bring suit to compel your consent that said Company may make a location as filed with you in the application of March 23d A. D. 1898: and as soon as the necessary papers can be prepared a suit will be begun, and I hereby give you notice thereof.

I have examined the Acts of the Massachusetts Legislature, creating the aforesaid Company; namely, Chapter 527 of the Acts of 1897, and the amendments under the Acts of 1899, and the recent extension act, which I am in informed was unanimously passed March 15th, 1900.

Under Section 4, of chaper 527 aforesaid, I find these words:—The Mayor and Aldermen of any city or Selectmen of any town shall within sixty days after application of location has been filed, make a location that will give a reasonably direct route between Boston and Fall River."

Said corporation, the Boston, Quincy, & Fall River Bicycle Railway Co., duly organized, has now been unanimously granted its locations from Dudley and Washington streets in city of Boston where it connects at the Elevated Railway station with that city's street railway system, through the said city of Boston, and through all the intervening cities and towns to and including the city of Fall River—with the single exception of your town of Braintree.

I am told that after three hearings before your town's Board of Selectmen, and after five adjourned town meetings of your town in which there was warrant for the granting of such location, the citizens voted, with but four dissenting votes, to grant the location as requested.

I am informed that the chairman of your Board, before and at that last meeting aforesaid, stated, he would obey said vote; and that he would grant said location as soon as he knew who was to build the railroad.

No town upon the line of the proposed railroad, nor the city of Boston, nor the government of Massachusetts, has asked what would be done, provided some one made —a matter always preliminary to the raising of capital for a railway, since capital does not pledge itself to uncertainties. Consenting to a location does not guarantee the location's acceptance; nor after a location has been granted, does the construction of a railway necessarily follow. But in this instance, the Act creating this corporation is mandatory upon city and town officials having power to grant locations. Your town's Board of Selectmen alone remains disobedient to the laws of the Commonwealth, yet the application and map required have been filed for two years with the proper officials of your town.

The law of the Commonwealth creating this Company, under which I am informed it has legally organized, leaves no discretion to Selectmen as to granting a location—except that it be in a reasonably direct line as shown, upon the map, and survey, and by the application filed as aforeaid; hence it is not improper for me to suggest that further disobedient delay in the premises may be the cause of expense to your town, as well as the cause of personal liabilities on the part of your Board's members, with perhaps also other punishment by the proper tribunal for contumacy of law.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free

Convicted of Polygamy.

Dedham, Mass., April 11.—Andrew C. Remick of Hyde Park was found guilty of polygamy by a jury Tuesday, and Judge Bond sentenced him to the house of correction for three years. Remick married Mary E. Bassett in 1888, and last December married Elizabeth Wallis. Remick pleaded his own case, cross-examined the witnesses, and finally admitted that he had not been divorced from the woman he first married.

Littlefield and Burleigh Renominated.

Lewiston, Me., April 11.—Charles E. Littlefield of Rockland was nominated by acclamation, Tuesday, by the Republicans of the Second Maine congressional district, to succeed himself. At the convention of the Republicans of the Third district, at Waterville, Edwin C. Burleigh of Augusta was nominated as candidate for representative to congress. Both conventions heartily endorsed the national administration.

Strikers Resort to Violence.

Chicago, April 11.—Nearly 200 union men were discharged by the contractors of the Marshall Field building Monday and their places filled by non-union men. Yesterday a union picket gained entrance to the building, and after knocking a non-union plasterer down with a club made his escape. Four laborers employed at the site of the new western electric building were attacked and two of them injured. The others were badly beaten.

Bank Wrecker's Conviction Affirmed.

New Orleans, April 11.—The United States court of appeals yesterday affirmed the conviction of Joseph N. Wolfson, who was tried for his part in the wrecking of the old Union National bank of this city. Wolfson was released on bonds two years ago, pending his appeal, and enlisted in the army. He is now in the Philippines. Wolfson was once a prominent lawyer.

IVORY SOAP PASTE.

In fifteen minutes, with only a cake of Ivory Soap and water, you can make a better cleansing paste than you can buy.

Ivory Soap Paste will take spots from clothing; and will clean carpets, rugs, kid gloves, slippers, patent, enamel, russet leather and canvas shoes, leather belts, painted wood-work and furniture. The special value of Ivory Soap in this form arises from the fact that it can be used with a damp sponge or cloth to cleanse many articles that cannot be washed because they will not stand the free application of water.

DIRECTIONS FOR MAKING.—To one pint of boiling water add one and one-half ounces (one-quarter of the small size cake) of Ivory Soap cut into shavings, boil five minutes after the soap is thoroughly dissolved. Remove from the fire and cool in convenient dishes (not tin). It will keep well in an air-tight glass jar.

Washing Dishes

To wash dishes in half the time, and do it well, follow this recipe: Always use hot water — not warm, but hot. It is best to use mops with china and glass, and, to have a nice lather, instead of using soap use

Gold Dust Washing Powder

Dissolve a tablespoonful in the hot water and wash quickly; have plenty of nice, dry towels to wipe with; have a drainer that will allow the water to run off the dishes into receptacle below, when you will have highly polished glass and china.

A WORD IN DEFENSE

Of Those Who Seek Public Office Under a Change of Administration.

Should Not Be Subject to Indiscriminate Hate.

Mr. Cleveland Has Something to Say on the Question of Suspensions From Office.

Princeton, N. J., April 11.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland delivered his second and last lecture in Alexander hall last night before a large number of students, members of the faculty, their families and many others.

When President Patton and Mr. Cleveland appeared on the rostrum they were greeted with prolonged applause. President Patton in a brief speech expressed the gratification of the university that Stafford Little, '44, of Trenton, founder of the lectureship, was in the audience. Applause again followed. Mr. Cleveland then delivered his lecture.

He began by speaking of the pressure for the removal of public officeholders immediately after the change of administration in 1885, and the substitution of Democrats in their places. "While I claim," he said, "to have earned a position which entitles me to resent the accusation that I either openly or covertly favor swift official decapitation for partisan purposes, I have no sympathy with the intolerant people, who, without the least appreciation of the meaning of party work and service, superciliously affect to despise all those who apply for office as they would those guilty of a flagrant misdemeanor.

"Why should we indiscriminately hate those who seek office? They may not have entirely emancipated themselves from the belief that the office should pass with party victory; but even if this is charged against them, it can surely be said that in all other respects they are in very many instances as honest, as capable and as intelligent as any of us. There may be reasons and considerations which properly defeat their aspirations, but their applications are not always disgraceful. I have an idea that sometimes the greatest difference between them and those who needlessly abuse them and gloat over their discomfiture consists in the fact that the office seakers desire office, and their critics, being more profitably employed, do not."

Mr. Cleveland then passed to a discussion of his controversy with the senate over the question of transmitting the reasons for suspensions from office, and the papers relating thereto. "I could not avoid the conviction, he said, "that a compliance with such requests would defend the constitution, as well as a wrong to the great office I held in trust for the people, and which I was bound to transmit unimpaired to my successor; nor could I be unmindful of a constant tendency in certain quarters to encroach upon executive functions, or of the eagerness with which executive concession would be seized upon as establishing precedent."

Mr. Cleveland then quoted at length from the report of the senate committee on the judiciary, to which the question had been referred, and also from his own message to the senate. After reviewing the debate in the senate upon the questions presented by the report, he commented upon the passage by the senate of the resolution condemning the attorney general for withholding the papers and documents which the senate had demanded.

He then pointed out that in December, 1885, prior to the first request or demand upon an executive department relating to suspensions, and before any controversy upon the subject arose, a bill was introduced in the senate for the repeal of the law of 1869. This bill slumbeerd in the committee on judiciary until June, 1886, nearly three months after the close of the controversy. It was then returned to the senate with a favorable report, and passed both the senate and the house of representatives.

"Thus," declared Mr. Cleveland, "was an unpleasant controversy very happily followed by an expurgation of the last vestige of statutory sanction to an encroachment upon constitutional executive prerogatives, and thus was a time-honored interpretation of the constitution restored to us. The president, freed from the senate's claim of tutelage, became again the independent agent of the people—representing a co-ordinate branch of their government—charged with responsibilities which under his oath he ought not to avoid or share."

Shot Mother and Himself.

Kingston, N. Y., April 11.—J. A. Merritt, aged 46, a dry goods merchant of this city, in a fit of temporary insanity shot his mother and then shot himself, dying instantly. It is thought Mrs. Merritt will die. Mr. Merritt was very wealthy. He had been complaining for several days of nervousness and of being bothered with pains in his head.

Failed to Effect a Settlement.

Accra, West Africa, April 11.—Frederick M. Hodgson, governor of the Gold Coast Colony, sends a dispatch from Kumassie announcing that his efforts to effect a peaceful settlement of the difficulty between the British officials and the Kumassie tribes have not succeeded.

Another For the "Barbados Wonder."

Baltimore, April 11. — Joe Walcott knocked out Dick Moore in four rounds here last night. Moore had to be assisted to his dressing room and several minutes elapsed before he fully recovered his faculties.

Confessed to Seven Burglaries.

New Haven, April 11.—Frederick N. Davis, a street car conductor, pleaded guilty to burglary on seven of 22 counts and was sentenced by Judge Wheeler, Tuesday, to 10 years in state prison.

CHARGED WITH THEFT OF $10,300.

Young Bookkeeper of a Boston Concern Lost Money In Bucket Shops.

Boston, April 11.—Herbert F. Milligan, aged 21, the hitherto trusted bookkeeper of the Union Loan and Trust company, is under arrest on the charge of embezzling $10,300 from that institution. Milligan is married and has a pleasant home at Saugus.

His peculations, it is said, have been going on since last July, and were in sums ranging from $200 to $2000, the irregularities being concealed by falsifying the books. The suspicion of the officials of the company, of which W. E. Barrett is president, were recently aroused, and a quiet investigation of the books and accounts was instituted, and the habits and movements of young Milligan were subjected to close scrutiny. It was ascertained that he was spending money liberally in bucket shops, and it is understood that receipts for money from these places, aggregating nearly the entire amount of the alleged shortage, have been found.

When confronted with the charge of embezzling, Milligan made a full confession, saying that he had an uncontrollable desire for speculation, had lost all the money in bucket shops, and was ready to take the consequences. He further said that while in the employ of the International Trust company, before coming to the Union Loan and Trust company last July, he had stolen $700, but left before the loss was discovered. When at last a demand was made upon him for the amount he took the money from his new employers, made the sum good, and thus saved himself from exposure. Emboldened by his success in that instance, he continued to pilfer different amounts from time to time.

Boom For American Horse Dealers.

New York, April 11.—The Journal and Advertiser says: A contract to buy 30,000 to 35,000 horses for the British government was about completed here yesterday. The horses are for cavalry regiments and the artillery service in South Africa, and they will cost several million dollars. This is the largest single order of the kind ever placed in this country. The horses must conform practically to the United States army's strict requirements in size, breed and soundness. This limits the choice practically to horses reared in the producing centers of Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Iowa.

Bay State Legislature.

Boston, April 11.—The bill providing that in cases of contempt of court in this state the law which governs the United States courts shall apply to the Massachusetts courts, was passed to a third reading in the house yesterday by a yea and nay vote of 98 in favor and 88 against.

The committee on labor has reported against legislation on the hours of labor of women and children; also against eight hours of labor of state and county employes, and against 60 hours a week for employes of county institutions, with the same dissenters.

New York, April 11.—At the Republican convention held at Amityville, L. I., yesterday, for the election of delegates to the state convention, there was a row, during which former State Senator Richard Higbie, the leading Republican of the east end of Long Island, became greatly excited. He was one of those elected as a delegate, and after the convention he returned home and was stricken with heart disease, dying within a few minutes. Mr. Higbie was 42 years old.

Can't Do Business in Ohio.

Columbus, O., April 11.—The supreme court yesterday decided in favor of the state in the cases against the Tontine Security company and the Diamond Contract company, one a Michigan, and the other an Illinois corporation, whose agents were arrested for violation of the state insurance laws. They had failed to deposit the $25,000 required of such concerns. Both of these companies are ousted from the right to do business in Ohio.

Will Not Depend Upon Farmers.

Milwaukee, April 11.—President Sams of the League of American Wheelmen has appointed H. B. Fullerton of Brooklyn as chairman of the committee on highway improvement, to succeed Otto Dorner of this city. While Mr. Dorner's policy was to carry on the work of good roads with the support of the farmers, it is understood that the work in the future will be carried on whether the farmers support it or not.

Greeted by Cheering Crowds.

Dublin, April 11.—The queen yesterday selected the picturesque route along the valley of the Liffey for her afternoon drive, and covered nearly 20 miles before returning to the vice regal lodge. She rode in an open landeau, and was accompanied by Prince and Princess Leopold. The villages traversed were gay with bunting, and crowds of cheering people lined the highways.

Taylor Will Be Renominated.

Louisville, April 11.—The Republican state central committee has issued a call for a state convention to meet here May 17. If, meanwhile, the Republicans are defeated before the supreme court in the contest for state offices, they will renominate Governor Taylor for the November elections.

Denial of Union of Interests.

Philadelphia, April 11.—That negotiations are pending looking to a combination of the Carnegie-Frick interests and the Cramp shipbuilding concern is denied by officials of the latter company. Edwin S. Cramp says that "there is not a word of truth in it."

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

The southwestern disturbance has moved eastward to the Mississippi river, and will continue on an east or north of east course, causing increasing cloudiness, followed by rain, in the New England states. The indications are that the weather will continue unseasonably cold generally east of the Mississippi during the next two days. Along the New England coast northerly winds will shift to northeasterly and increase in force.

HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY.

Great Havoc Wrought In the Lowlands of Texas by the Rising of Rivers.

Austin, April 11.—The waters are receding in the swollen rivers and streams of Texas, and it is believed that the worst is over. The property damage, by reason of the sudden rush of water, will be very large, while many lives have been lost. It is learned that eight persons out of a travelling party of 15, composed of the Queen and Wilson families, were drowned at the junction of the Middle Concho river and Kiowa creek, in Iron county. Of the 11 members of the Queen family, seven were drowned, father, mother and five children. A boy of the Wilson family was also swept away.

The waters, having swept the counties of Travis, Bastrop, Fayette and Guadeloupe and points north of here, are now washing farms in Wharton county as they near the gulf. That section of the lowlands is under water, the river being six or eight miles wide in places. The inhabitants were warned in time to remove live stock and valuables to higher places.

The flood in the Brazos river is now the main point of interest. There was a heavy rain yesterday in the country which the crest of the flood is approaching, and this will add materially to the volume of water which will strike the section between Richmond and the mouth of the river. Every precaution has been taken to prevent loss of life and stock, but the loss in crops will be heavy.

The Guadeloupe is still booming its way toward the gulf, devastating crops and destroying bridges. No loss of life is reported from this section. Train service remains badly crippled.

Two Crooks Sentenced.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 11.—Henry Ogden and James Murphy were sentenced by Judge Roraback, Tuesday, to serve 10 years in state prison, upon pleas of guilty of attempted murder. Ogden, Murphy and Frank Lashaway were arrested in Newark, N. J., some time ago, charged with attempting to blow open the safe in the Eckart brewery here and the shooting of Watchman Morris. Lashaway's case has been continued to the June term of the superior court.

Oklahoma Populists Disagree.

Enid, O. T., April 11.—The Populist territorial convention held yesterday to elect delegates to the Sioux Falls convention resulted in a split. Delegates representing four counties bolted and held separate conventions, at which they nominated delegates to the Cincinnati convention. The bolters took this action after having failed to induce a majority of the delegates to adopt a middle-of-the-road policy. The convention proper endorsed Bryan for president.

Won't Forestall Free Action.

Milwaukee, April 11.—The Democratic state central committee last night unanimously adopted resolutions "that we hereby declare our loyalty to the great Democratic leader and statesman, William J. Bryan, and pledge ourselves to do all in our power to further his nomination and election as the next president of the United States, but without any intention to thereby forestall or influence free action of the Democratic party when in convention assembled."

Large District Threatened by Fire.

Mount Holly, N. J., April 11.—Three days ago boys set fire to some brush near Hanover and Brown's mills. There were several inches of dry pine needles covering the land, and the flames spread with incredible rapidity. They got beyond control, and threatened the whole surrounding country. Hundreds of men are fighting the fire. Persons living in the pine lands have moved out for safety.

Rumors Caused Closing of Bank.

Columbus, O., April 11.—The bank of Reinhard & Co., founded in 1868, suspended business yesterday, and John G. and Henry A. Reinhard filed deeds of assignment. The assignee qualified by giving bonds aggregating $325,000. John G. Reinhard says that the suspension was caused by persistent rumors reflecting on the financial condition of the bank and its owners.

Melba's Husband Gets a Eivorce.

Galveston, April 11.—Charles N. F. Armstrong, son of Sir Andrew Armstrong of Ireland, has obtained a divorce here from his wife, Nellie Armstrong, widely known as Melba, the opera singer. The ground on which the divorce was secured was desertion. The custody of the 16-year-old son is given to the husband.

Dewey Hasn't Withdrawn Candidacy.

Washington, April 11.—Admiral Dewey says that the report published in a New York paper to the effect that he intended to withdraw his candidacy for the presidency was all a mistake, and that he had never given anyone whatever any such information.

Awarded Damages of $9000 and Costs.

Montpelier, Vt., April 11.—A jury returned a verdict of $9000 and costs in favor of Daniel McGovern against the receivers of the Central Vermont railroad for injuries resulting from the plaintiff being struck by an engine at a crossing.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

John Calderwood shot and killed himself at Nashua, N. H. Calderwood had been despondent for some time.

Ambassador and Mrs. Draper are giving elaborate social entertainments in Rome, in celebration of the announcement of the engagement of Miss Alice Colburn, a niece of General Draper's wife, to M. De Halpert, the Russian attache at Rome. The marriage is to take place at Hopedale, Mass., Oct. 1.

The large leaf tobacco factory occupied by W. G. Dunnington & Co. at Petersburg, Va., and containing over 1,000,000 pounds of the finest tobacco, purchased for the Austrian government, was destroyed by fire. Loss, $100,000. Several small houses were also destroyed.

At the New Britain, Conn., city election, Samuel Bassett (Dem.) was elected mayor. A Democratic tax collector was elected, but the rest of the ticket is Republican.

SHOW GREAT ACTIVITY

Boers Likely to Soon Force the British to Make a Determined Move.

Next Few Days Should Bring News of Importance.

May Be Something Serious In the Removal of Gatacre From His Command.

London, April 12.—Following up their successes of the past two weeks, the Boers appear to be forcing the fighting all along the line. In the southeast of the Free State they have concentrated against General Brabant and his colonials, whom they attacked on Monday, renewing the fighting Tuesday morning. While this fight was in progress another force was detached toward Springfontein, the junction of the railways from Colesberg and Burghersdorp, by which Lord Roberts' re-enforcements and supplies have been coming up from Port Elizabeth and East London.

The news from Lord Roberts is vague, but indicates that the Boer activity in the south has compelled him to action. The natural supposition is that he will try to cut off the Boer commandos now south of Bloemfontein, and strike a vigorous blow that may go far to shorten the campaign.

The sudden diversion of General Rundle's division from Kimberley to Springfontein is a sign of the gravity of the situation, both for the British and Boers. The initiative of the fighting reported from Natal seems to have been taken by the Boers, probably with the intention of preventing General Buller giving his attention to the intended movement into the Free State.

Mafeking contributes its quota to the fighting news, but it is of old date and the results do not appear to bring any prospect of immediate relief, Colonel Plumer having been forced to retire. The latest news from there was four days in transit from Mafeking.

The next few days should bring news of importance, for the audacity of the Boer tactics has given Lord Roberts an opportunity of dealing them a crushing blow if he has a sufficiently strong mounted force with which to strike. With the troops at his command he should be able to close the avenues of their return north and render a second evasion of his cordon across the Free State impossible.

Sir William Gatacre's sudden removal is the theme of much speculation. The curt manner in which it is announced causes much comment. The general impression is that it is connected with the Reddersburg affair, although there are many who consider that there must be something much more serious, as General Gatacre is not the only general in South Africa who has been retained in command after formidable blunders.

The war office has received no news of the death of Colonel Baden-Powell and utterly discredits the rumor from Pretoria to that effect.

The operations in Natal have not yet been fully explained. There appears to have been an attempt to outflank the British at Elandslaagte and to sever them from their base at Ladysmith.

The war office has issued a return of the total British casualties up to April 7. It is as follows: Killed in action, 211 officers and 1960 men; died of wounds, 48 officers and 465 men; missing and prisoners, 168 officers and 3722 men; died of disease, 47 officers and 1485 men; accidental deaths, 3 officers and 34 men; repatriated invalids, 283 officers and 4934 men. Total, 13,365, exclusive of the sick and wounded now in the hospitals. To the war office returns of casualties must be added the losses of the last week and the wounded, aggregating about 10,000 men, making a grand total of upwards of 23,000 officers and men out of action.

The correspondent of The Daily Mail at Lourenzo Marquez, telegraphing Wednesday, says: The departure of the Chicago ambulance corps for Pretoria was delayed on suspicion of filibustering. The members left by special train this afternoon, accompanied by a motley following of French and Germans, 100 in all. The departure only occurred after many stormy interviews with the Portuguese authorities. The members have no passports, and no credentials beyond a letter from Miss Clara Barton, to the effect that she knows some of them personally, and believes them to be genuine; but many have openly expressed their intention of fighting. The Boers are paying from £30 to £40 per month for such recruits.

Thirty-five thousand Boers, with 90 guns, are concentrated on the range of hills between Kroonstad and Winburg. The whole line is fortified and is almost impregnable.

A dispatch from Aliwal North, dated April 11, says: Lord Kitchener arrived here today, and left soon afterwards. A big Boer gun was knocked over yesterday at Wepener. The garrison is holding its own. There has been heavy cannonading there again today. Lord Kitchener inspected the positions across Frier bridge with General Brabant and staff, and sent a sympathetic message to the Wepener garrison, hoping for an early change in the circumstances.

The Durban correspondent of The Standard, telegraphing today, says: A brigade is being sent from here to join the main army under Lord Roberts. It is under command of General Hunter.

It is reported from Pretoria that Colonel Baden-Powell, the British commander at Mafeking, is dead.

Weavers of Lorraine Company's Mill, Pawtucket, Almost Unanimously Voted to Strike.

Pawtucket, R. I., April 12.—The weavers employed by the Lorraine Manufacturing company in this city did not report for work this morning because of the refusal by Agent MacColl to allow the operatives to operate three looms instead of four. There are about 500 weavers employed, and a fine quality of cotton and worsted goods is made. The weavers have threatened to strike several times since the new order took effect, but they took no action until last night, when most of them removed their effects from the mills.

A meeting of the operatives was held last evening, and, by a vote of 219 to 7, it was decided that they would not return to work until their demand that no change in the number of looms to be operated should be granted. The committee of 15 appointed to confer with Mr. CacColl made its report, but it held out little hope of concession. Mr. MacColl, however, advised the committee to make a visit of the various mills making similar goods to the output of the Lorraine mills, ascertain the exact facts as to the goods woven and the number of looms operated, and if it were found that the Lorraine mills were operating more looms on similar work he would pay the expense of the investigation. He added that, in the event of any existing injustice as to the number of looms, their demands might be acceded to.

This communication was read to the operatives, who did not look upon it favorably, alleging that it is simply a method of gaining time. A strike committee was organized, and 20 men were selected to act as pickets.

The Lorraine mills employ 550 weavers, and the suspension of this department will cause the entire plant to close unless a settlement is soon made. This will throw 1400 persons out of employment.

To Wait For Big Conventions.

Indianapolis, April 12.—W. D. Eynum has arrived here. He says the gold Democratic organization has not been abandoned. Asked what, in his opinion, would be the course of the gold Democrats in the coming campaign, Mr. Eynum said: "That is a matter that cannot now be determined. The regular silver Democracy will reaffirm the Chicago platform, and as a result I don't believe any gold Democrat will support Bryan. I do not think the gold Democrats will put a national ticket in the field. After the national conventions of the other parties are held the gold Democrats will be able to determine what to do."

Bay State Legislature.

Boston, April 12.—The legislative committee on probate and insolvency yesterday voted to abolish the Gloucester district court, thus legislating out of office Judge Edgar S. Taft, against whom a series of charges were brought by members of the Gloucester bar.

The committee on metropolitan affairs and taxation voted to recommend that the tax rate in Boston be increased to $10.50, and the borrowing capacity of the city from 2 percent to 2½ percent. This increase will add $7,500,000 to the city's resources.

Lack of Conclusive Evidence.

Bucksport, Me., April 12.—Meetings of the citizens of the town were held Wednesday afternoon and evening to see if further investigation can be made in the Sarah Ware murder case. W. T. Treworgy, who once was arrested on the charge of complicity, and who was later discharged from custody, conducted the meetings. It has been asserted that the particulars of the murder are known to many in the village, but the evidence on which to base a charge is not conclusive.

Convicted of Grand Larceny.

New York, April 12.—James B. Kellogg, who was convicted of grand larceny and conspiracy for his connection with the E. S. Dean company, was sentenced yesterday. After a trial of over three weeks, which was remarkable for the conflicting evidence adduced and the contradictory statements made by the different witnesses, the jury pronounced Kellogg responsible for the gigantic steals, aggregating over $1,000,000. Recorder Goff sentenced Kellogg to seven years and six months in state prison.

The Powerful's Great Reception.

London, April 12.—The British first-class cruiser Powerful, whose brigade did such splendid service in the defense of Ladysmith, arrived at Portsmouth yesterday and was received with immense enthusiasm. The whole town appeared to be in the neighborhood of the water side, which was lavishly decorated. The warships in the harbor were ablaze with bunting. The babel of sounds caused by the bands, the cheering and the shrieking of the sirens was deafening.

Disappointed In Search of Fortune.

Takoma, Wash., April 12.—Dawson advices state that W. Watson, a scion of an ancient Irish family, attempted suicide at Dawson by shooting on March 24. He was expected to die. He was a nephew of Viscount Castlemaine, and bore the title of Hon. St. John Watson Beresford of Creaduff Louise, Ireland. He had been in the British army, and resigned to seek a fortune in the Klondike but failed.

LONG STRUGGLE ENDED.

Puerto Rican Tariff Bill Passed by the House by Vote of 161 to 153.

Senate Amendments Were All Concurred In.

Complete Scheme of Civil Government For the Island Attached to the Measure.

Washington, April 12.—Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority in the house, closed the debate on the Puerto Rican bill yesterday with a vigorous speech, in which he said he was ready to submit the issue involved in the bill to the common people of the country. "The proudest act of my life," he said, "is my connection with this bill from start to finish."

At 5 o'clock the house under the terms of the special order proceeded to vote. The roll call was followed with intense interest. When the speaker announced the passage of the bill concurring in all the senate amendments, ayes, 161; noes, 153; present and not voting, 11; the Republicans cheered for several minutes.

The bill now requires only the signatures of the speaker of the house and the president of the senate before going to the president for his approval. These signatures will be attached today, and before nightfall the bill probably will be a law.

As the bill originally passed the house it simply imposed 15 percent of the Dingley rates on goods going into Puerto Rico from the United States and coming from Puerto Rico into the United States. As amended by the senate and agreed to by the house all restrictions on goods coming into the United States from Puerto Rico are eliminated and certain foodstuffs and other articles which heretofore have gone into Puerto Rico free by executive order are excluded from the operation of the 15 percent duty imposed on goods entering the island from the United States. A complete scheme of civil government for the island is also attached to the measure.

Upon the final vote nine Republicans voted against the bill—Messrs. Heatwole (Minn.), Crumpacker (Ind.), Lane (Io.), Littlefield (Me.), McCall (Mass.), H. C. Smith (Mich.), Warner (Ills.), Fletcher (Mo.) and Lorimer (Ills.).

Two Democrats, Messrs. Davey and Meyer of Louisiana, were paired with Democrats in favor of the bill, and one Democrat, Mr. Sibley (Pa.), voted for it outright. Mr. Devries, the other Democrat who voted for the original bill, yesterday voted against concurrence. Mr. Stallings (Dem., Ala.) was the only member on either side absent and unpaired.

The vote came after a very interesting and at times exciting debate of five hours, which covered not only the bill, but the special order under which the house acted.

One of the most dramatic incidents of the debate was the reading of the original opinion of Judge Magoon, solicitor of the insular bureau of the war department.

This was called for some days ago by resolution of the house, but the response did not come from the war department until yesterday afternoon. Mr. Richardson secured the document and amid much excitement and demonstration read parts declaring that the constitution covers Puerto Rico and "no further action by congress is necessary or possible."

Mr. Dolliver answered Mr. Richardson, declaring that the Magoon opinion was that of a "mere law clerk," and was not to overrule the opinion of "the great lawyer at the head of the war department." Mr. Dolliver dismissed as contemptible charges as to campaign funds and arraigned the minority for favoring a free trade sugar resolution which would put $60,000,000 in the pockets of the sugar trust.

With little debate of importance the senate passed the Pacific cable bill, a measure appropriating $3,000,000 for the construction of a cable line between San Francisco and Honolulu. The bill was unanimously reported by the committee on naval affairs, and that it was passed without serious objection is regarded as a compliment to the committee.

During the greater part of the session the District of Columbia appropriation bill was under consideration. As passed it carries nearly $8,000,000.

Backed Up With Cash.

New York, April 12.—Columbia university students held a mass meeting yesterday and definitely decided to have a crew. They backed up their determination with money, subscribing more than $1500. This amount was exclusive of graduate subscriptions which, it was rumored, would be forthcoming on the signification of a real student feeling for a crew.

Rivers Still on the Rampage.

Denison, Tex., April 12.—High water is reported at all points in the Red river territory. The Red river has risen 10 feet within the last 24 hours. The Washita is on a big boom, and an overflow is threatened. The Sulphur river and Little river are also booming, the latter being out of its banks in the lower lands.

Good Afternoon.

Isn't it adding an unnecessary humiliation for the Bryanites to offer second place on their ticket to Dewey?

Civil government, under the new Commission, will supercede military rule in the Philippines on the first of July. The military arm of Uncle Sam will be maintained there for some time thereafter, but, as at home, it will be subordinate to civil authority.

No city is as rich in patriots as Quincy, the "City of Presidents" and of Hancock, Quincy and others. It is proper therefore that the day should be observed by our city officials, who will be given a reception at The Greenleaf by Mayor Hall.

The Quincy end of the Tenth Congressional district should have a delegate or alternate to the National Republican convention. The name of Hon. John Shaw is the only one prominently mentioned, and being worthy of the honor, all the delegates from the city should unite in his support. If Quincy is to be prominent in any movement it should be united, and this is one of the opportunities.

In declining to aid a New York newspaper to advertise itself through a test case before the Supreme Court in connection with the importation of a contract laborer from Porto Rico, Attorney General Griggs showed his usual good sense. Those who are bowling for a Supreme Court [illegible] on the question of whether a decision is constitutionally a matter Porto Rico States will change part of the United decision may change their tune after that [illegible] which will be certain to favor the republican contention that it is not, has been handed down.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The proposed half-cent piece is an indication that we are growing thrifty as well as rich. "Take care of the quarter-pennies; the pounds will take care of themselves."—Richmond Dispatch.

☞ What a difference it makes with some officials as to the character of the news they have to dispense. If it is something that is directly complimentary or inferentially so, they are in a hurry to have it in print. How different it is when the case is the reverse, and yet the public is as much interested in one instance as the other, and has as much right to be informed. —Brockton Times.

☞ Miles and Dewey have been kept uneasy all winter in Washington, trying to get the question of social superiority settled, and now when Dewey has boldly said he was a presidential aspirant and, less boldly, that he was a Democrat, Miles says he is a Democrat, too, and that he also is available as a candidate. Competition is the life of trade, but it doesn't tend to ease in individuals.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ There is ground for hope that the principle of truth and decency in high places is not yet entirely smothered by great wealth. The committee, after a lengthy and searching investigation, has unanimously reported that the Montana multi-millionaire Clark, who bought his seat in the United States Senate, is not entitled to it, and that the seat is vacant.—Milford Journal.

☞ The comparison of Lord Roberts to Grant may be all right, for Roberts is unquestionably a capable soldier. It must be remembered, however that Roberts has met no Albert Sidney Johnson or Lee. The Boers are good fighters and their officers took skilful advantage of their situation, but in wasting their strength against Ladysmith, Kimberly and other fortified positions which they had no chance to capture, and in scattering their forces as in the case of Cronje and Joubert, in such a way that an active enemy could prevent them concentrating, as Roberts did, they made serious mistakes.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

☞ A year in India without a famine in any of the great districts of the country is hardly expected in the present day, even the power of England failing to teach the people the art of helping themselves, so that when the weather interferes with the crops there is nothing but starvation in store for the natives. With the millions of people to be fed, the wisest economy and industry would be required to have enough on hand from full years to make up for lean years, and while the teaching of that lesson to uncivilized people may some day be effective, the idea is slow to take root and there seems no evidence of less want and suffering.—Lowell Courier,

☞ Our hotels and summer resorts have helped to make the American child what he is. Even as an infant he learns to live in a staring crowd. In what other country would the baby daughters of respectable families be exhibited to the public in a contest for prizes for beauty or fine clothes. You may see every summer the poor little winners in such contests marched up and down the street before a shouting crowd to the music of a brass band, trembling with conscious pride in the dimples or plumed hat which won for them the blue ribbon. A child dead in his mother's arms is a sight far less tragic. In what other country would the parlors of hotels be given up to the euchre parties of children in the morning, and the ballroom to their germans at night? The vanities, the jealousies of adults thus reproduced in miniature are not pleasant to look upon. — An American Mother in Ladies' Home Journal.

Unity Club.

Programme for Unity club in the vestry of the Unitarian church, Wollaston, Friday evening, 8 o'clock will be:

A short address on Louis Agassiz by Prof. Alpheus Hyatt, curator of Boston Natural History society.

A paper on "The Toggenburgers" by Miss Jane Pratt.

Piano duet by Mrs. Chandler Smith and Mrs. Moulton.

Vocal solos by Mr. Bullock and Mr. Hahn.

No Quorum.

The meeting of the special committee to investigate the price paid in Quincy for gas, called for Wednesday night, was not held as Councilman De-Normandie was the only member of the committee present. Mayor Hall and Commissioner Knowlton were on hand but as nothing could be done without a quorum it was decided to adjourn the meeting adjourned.

—Steamboats have been put on the Dead Sea for traffic between the villages on the banks.

QUINCY FOR SHAW

Republican Delegates Favorable to Him.

May Have the Solid Support of the City.

No Contests in Any of the Wards Apparently.

Very little interest is taken in the coming Republican caucuses to elect delegates to the State and Congressional conventions, each of which will elect delegates to the National Republican convention.

HON. JOHN SHAW.

While none of the candidates nominated for delegates are pledged, it is thought that a majority of those for Congressional delegates are favorable to Hon. John Shaw of this city as one of the tenth district delegates to the Philadelphia convention.

The delegates to the State convention will be mostly honorary, as there is no contest for delegates to the National convention, and no opposition to the renomination of President McKinley. The Quincy delegation will be headed by Mayor Hall, as he has been nominated in Ward One, and has no opposition.

MAYOR HALL.

The nominations by wards are:

WARD ONE.

To State Convention,—John O. Hall, Eben W. Sheppard, Russell A. Sears and John McKnight.

To Congressional Convention,—William F. Hoehn, Henry P. Kittredge, Henry P. Furnald and John W. Hersey.

WARD TWO.

To State Convention,—Eugene N. Hultman, John R. Graham and Arthur W. Newcomb.

To Congressional Convention,—Thaddeus H. Newcomb, John Shaw and Joseph L. Whiton.

WARD THREE.

To State Convention,—John P. Bigelow, Daniel McLennan, Lester M. Pratt and James W. Pierce.

To Congressional Convention,—Frederick L. Jones, William Elrick, Alexander Clark and James W. Pierce.

WARD FOUR.

To State Convention,—William E. Badger, Michael Owens and John C. Kapples.

To Congressional Convention,—Charles H. Owens, John Heuss and George O'Brien.

WARD FIVE.

To State Convention,—Henry O. Fairbanks, Eugene H. Sprague, Charles G. Lee and Horace M. Willard.

To Congressional Convention,—Walter J. Wellington, Charles M. Bryant, Eugene F. DeNormandie and Richard R. Freeman.

WARD SIX.

THE HAYDEN FAMILY

Genealogy and Notes of an Old Braintree Family.

The following genealogy of the Hayden family is from the Boston Transcript:

*4042. Hardon. I have a very complete genealogy of the first four generations of descendants of John Hayden of Braintree and while I have found the forms of the name Haden, Haiden, Heiden, Hoiden, Hogden, and several of those with the termination "on," I have never met with it under the form of Harding, or any other form having "r" in it. The Hardings were a different family from that of John Hayden of Braintree.

The will of John (2,) who married Hannah Ames, shows that the children of John and Hannah Harding, as recorded in Braintree records, were not his; though he had nine, seven of whom are mentioned in his will. His family was nearly twenty years older than that of John Harding. His wife died in 1690, while John Harding and his wife had children born after that date — one as late as 1698, when Hannah (Ames) Hayden if living would have been fifty-seven years old.

John (3), son of John and Hannah (Ames) Hayden, lost his wife, Elizabeth, in 1694, and immediately thereafter moved to Saybrook, Conn.; he had a large family.

The Mary who died in 1717 was the wife of Samuel Hayden, who married his cousin, Mary Hayden, daughter of Nehemiah. J. H. D

4. Hardon. I think J. B. P. must be in error in supposing that John Hayden and John Hardon are the same man. John Hayden died May 29, 1718; his wife Hannah (Ames) died July 3, 1690; their children were Joseph, John, Josiah, Hannah, Elizabeth, Lydia and Abigail. John and Hannah Harden had children, a daughter born 1679; John, born 1681; Lydia, born 1684; Peter, born 1687; Abigail, born 1689; Nathanel, born 1692; Deborah, born 1694 Samuel, born 1698 the last three born after the death of Hannah (Ames) Hayden.

In 1718 Lydia, daughter of John Hayden, was Lydia Vinton, while Lydia, daughter of John Harden, was the wife of Nathan Bradley of Dorchester.

Elizabeth, wife of John Hayden, Jr., died Nov. 7, 1694; John Harden, Jr., was thirteen years old that time.

I claim both men as ancestors, and have spent much time in looking them up. John Hayden is perfectly clear, but I find nothing certain of John Harden previous to the birth of his daughter, 1679, or after 1700.

C. W. E.

John (3) Hardin, Jr., was born in Braintree June 1, 1681. He married Mary Littlefield Jan. 16, 1704. The family moved to "Little Comfort," Abington, where their daughter Mary married Isaac Hobart, 1724. Hobart was the ancestor of the distinguished families of that name in Abington, Hanson, Bridgewater, Foxboro and Edmunds, Maine. J. W. P.

(*4095.) 1. Spear. Wanted, parentage of Mary Spear, who marrried Nathaniel Mills of Braintree, 1702-03.

2. Reynolds. Wife and parents of Electius Reynolds, Sr., of Middleboro. 1704.

3. Pray. Parentage of Benjamin Pray of Braintree, married, 1733 Susanna Mills and marriages of their children.

4. Seeker. Parentage of Dorothy Seeker of Middleboro married, 1707, Isaac Reynolds.

5. Higgins. Parentage of Elisha Higgins, married in Eastham, 1701.

6. Rich. Parentage of Richard Rich, died in Eastham, 1692 married Sarah, daughter of Governor Thomas Roberts of New Hampshire about 1670.

NOTES.

Note *211. The following memoranda of answers to queries may prove useful. I have lost the numbers of the queries and in some cases the names, but all relate to inquiries which have appeared during the last two years:

1. Hubbard Davis. Abigail Davis, who married Richard Hubbard, was daughter of Elisha Davis and Grace (Shaw). Elisha, born in Haverhill, Aug. 30, 1670, died 1738-39 married in Haverhill, June 14, 1694, Grace (Shaw) Davis, died 1741. Elisha was son of James, who died in Haverhill, July 18, 1694, having married in Haverhill, Dec. 1, 1648, Elizabeth Eaton. James was son of James of Haverhill, possibly emigrant from Marlborough, Eng., born about 1583-88 died in Haverhill, Jan. 29, 1678-79; wife Cicely died in Haverhil, May 28, 1673. Elizabeth Eaton (Davis,) who died in Haverhill, Jan. 21, 1683, was daughter of John of Salisbury and Haverhill, who died Oct. 29, 1668, and his first wife, Ann—, who died in Haverhill, Feb. 5, 1660.

2. Pike Emerson. Hugh Pike who married in Amesbury, Nov. 24, 1715, Hannah Emerson was undoubtedly son of Hugh Pike and Sarah (Brown). Hugh Jr., born in Newbury, May 28, 1686-87; he married first (probably) Hannah Kelley. Hugh, Sr., ancestry unknown was born about 1657; died 1727-28; married in Newbury, June 17, 1685, Sarah Brown, daughter of Francis Brown and Mary (Johnson), who was born in Newbury May 10, 1663, and died about 1691. The Emerson family were not of Amesbury.

3. Bass. Hannah Bass, who married in Braintree, Aug. 28, 1750, Josiah Rawson (David 3, William 2, Edward 1, was born in Braintree, March 12, 1732, daughter of John Bass and Hannah (Neale,) who were married in Braintree, June 21, 1716.

John Bass, 3d, born in Braintree, June 8, 1688, was son of John Bass and Abigail Adams, his second wife. Date and place of marriage I would be glad to learn.

John Bass, 2d, was born in Braintree, Sept. 26, 1658; died in Braintree, Sept. 30, 1724. Son of John Bass and Ruth (Alden), and a grandson of Samuel Bass, emigrant, and also of Hon. John Alden.

4. Adams Baxter. Abigail Adams, born in Braintree, Dec. 27, 1658, died in Braintree, Oct. 26, 1696, daughter of Joseph Adams and Abigail (Baxter), who were married in Braintree, Sept. 2, 1650.

Joseph Adams, born about 1626, died in Braintree, Dec. 6, 1694, age sixty-eight, son of emigrant Henry and wife Ann.

Abigail Baxter, born in Roxbury, September, 1634, died in Braintree, Aug. 27, 1682; daughter of Gregory emigrant, of Roxbury 1630, who died in Braintree, April 21, 1659. His wife was Margaret Paddy, who died in Braintree, Dec. 13, 1661.

5. Neale. Hannah Neale born in Braintree, March 15, 1691-92. This date, given by Thayer, is not verified by Braintree records. Died in Braintree, May 15, 1761 age sixty-nine; daughter of Benjamin Neale and Lydia (Payne) who were married in Braintree, Jan. 20, 1688-89.

Benjamin Neale, born in Braintree, July 1, 1688-89, was son of Henry Neale who died in Braintree, Oct. 16, 1688, and Hannah Pray, second wife. They were married in Braintree, Dec. 14, 1655.

6. Payne. Lydia Payne, born in Braintree, July 20, 1670, was daughter of Steven born in England, died in Braintree, July 21, 1691. His wife was Hannah Bass daughter of Samuel emigrant.

They were married in Braintree, Sept. 15, 1651.

Steven Payne was son of Moses, emigrant, who was buried in Braintree, April 21, 1643. His second wife was Judith, but not mother of his children.

7. Pray, Hayden. Hannah Pray born June 3, 1687, probably in Braintree, was daughter of Ephraim Pray and Elizabeth Hayden.

Ephraim, probably son of John, who married, May 7, 1657, Joanna Dowman, ancestry unknown. To the writers' knowledge, little has been published concerning the Prays, and he would like to have more information regarding this family appear in these columns.

Elizbeth Hayden was daughter of John, born about 1636; died about 1718; who married, April 6, 1660, Hannah Ames. John, son of John, who died about 1684, and wife Susanna.

Hannah Ames, born May 12, 1641, daughter of William Ames and Hannah William, born Oct. 6, 1605, emigrant in 1630, said to be son of Richard of Bruton County, Somerset, England. J. B. P.

EASTER GIFTS.

Including Flowers, Bonbons, Books and Dainty Homemade Trifles.

In the way of gifts Easter is fast becoming a miniature edition of Christmas. Flowers and bonbons in beautiful holders represent the most popular presents, and city florists and confectioners reap an immense harvest from this custom of Eastertide. Any fresh growing thing, from a pot of hyacinths to a stately Easter lily or handsome blooming shrub, may be given and accepted as an appropriate present. It is in bonbon holders, however, to a great extent that the typical Easter gift is most apt to be found, and very costly they are, despite the airy unsubstantiality of some of them.

The display of the shops is bewildering. Great straw eggs are made of colored braids interwoven with gilt and have large straw rings ready for hanging them. When one of these wicker eggs parts in the middle, the interior is seen lined with peachblow satin, so that it may act conveniently as a workbasket when its mission as a candy holder is over.

Eggs of various colors, covered with satin and exquisitely hand painted, open to reveal sweets within. Some are lined and wadded and answer for ring or cuff button cases.

Dainty bonbon cases are made of fine porcelain, decked off with flowers of various hues. Some choice china bonbonnieres have on the closely fitting covers little scenes from farm life, the hen and her progeny having prominent place in each.

Flower trimmed fancy baskets in all sorts of odd shapes and laden with sweets are favorite Easter reminders. Opera bags and workboxes and heart shaped boxes decorated with flowers typical of the season are all in the Easter swim.

Jewelers' small wares come in for a large amount of attention, and not only prayer books, crosses, rosaries, etc., for the devout, but silver trifles, such as glove hooks, envelope openers, pin trays, bonbonnieres, purses, cigarette cases, etc., for the more worldly are in requisition.

Those who manufacture the gifts which they present at Easter are apt to restrict themselves to small and dainty trifles, such as perfumed sachets of various kinds, decorated boxes for ribbons, handkerchiefs, gloves, etc.; bookmarks, photograph frames, opera and waist bags and other personal knickknacks.

One of the many exquisitely bound little books which publishers bring out for the season is a graceful gift provided one understands well the tastes of the recipient.

stitched and relieved by a chemisette and collar of guipure. The second bodice is of cashmere arranged in plaits and open in front, revealing a muslin vest. The revers of white silk are trimmed with braid and buttons. The third, an Eton jacket, is of silk, with rows of lace and velvet galloon worn over a vest of tucked satin and chiffon.

Jewelry Fashions.

In Elsie Bee's fashions in Jewelers' Circular occur the following:

Elegant bits of usefulness for milady's toilet are silk stocking supporters with gold mountings either plain or chased.

One tiny turquoise serving as a button on a gray or tan purse of chamois shows the daintiness which even a touch of this stone can impart.

The heavy chain bracelet is now modified by the addition of gems. Into one attractive bracelet are introduced rings set with pearls.

Ladies' watches seem about equally divided between the important and conspicuous chatelaine and the tiny timepiece attached to a long chain.

Unusual cuttings, such as ovals, heart shapes, etc., occur in the costliest white and [illegible] diamonds, the mount[illegible] nec[illegible]

IF YOU ARE GOING TO BUY A HOME

This season, remember I am offering bargains which can't be matched by any builder or real estate owner in the city. I am going to build a number of first class, stylish, modern Houses, ranging in price from $2,000 to $4,000, and shall offer them at the same low prices which prevailed last season. These houses are to be built on Independence and Federal avenues, and are the best lots in South Quincy. Handy to steam and electrics, good neighbors, and every lot is dry. The first of these at No. 25 Independence avenue is now completed and will be cheerfully shown to all parties, whether intending to purchase or not; 6 rooms and bath, besides finished attic and basement. This is a corner lot. Also another of six rooms and bath, nearly finished, at No. 31 Independence avenue. This lot bounds on two streets. Favorable terms will be made to responsible parties on either of above.

PLEADED NOT GUILTY.

Francister Umilion Is Held For the Murder of Jack Ensuick.

Men Had Quarrelled Just Previous to the Murder.

Water Being Pumped From a Well In Search of the Victim's Head.

Northampton, Mass., April 12.—Francister Umilion, accused of the murder of Jack Ensuick at Granby, Dec. 31 last, was brought to this city yesterday by State Detective McKay and Sheriff Bell and lodged in the county jail. Umilion was arraigned in the district court, where he pleaded "not guilty." The prisoner was not represented by counsel. The date of hearing was fixed at April 17.

Yesterday morning the people began to gather early at the scene of the tragedy. G. E. Montague, a plumber, rigged up a new pump at the well and set two men pumping to clear it out. It was slow work, and the stench rising from the water was terrible and drove nearly everybody some distance away.

There is a greatly divided opinion as to the finding of the head in the well. All this time the naked body lay in the shed 50 feet away, with the door down, and the flesh rapidly turning dark. A Holyoke undertaker arrived later and took charge of the body.

Two pounds of butter may have cost the life of Ensuick. That, too, butter which he was charged with having stolen by Monroe Keith, his employer.

The day Ensuick disappeared, Dec. 31, was Sunday. Ensuick had hitched up the horse for Mr. and Mrs. Keith to go to the village. Mr. Keith had missed two pounds of butter, and suspected Ensuick with having taken it. Ensuick, it is said, had done such things before, selling the butter, as well as eggs, and pocketing the money thus obtained.

"Jack, did you take those two pounds of butter?" asked Mr. Keith.

"No," said Jack.

"Yes you did," charged "Frank," the Pole now under arrest for the murder.

As Mr. and Mrs. Keith drove off the men were disputing over the matter. Their voices were rising high and there was much feeling over the charge. It was about the only time that the two men had quarrelled outwardly, and nothing was seen of the man charged with the larceny of the butter until the headless body was drawn out of the abandoned well Tuesday.

Not Interested In Guerilla Warfare.

Washington, April 12.—Lieutenant Colonel Hayes of the Thirty-first infantry, son of the late President Hayes, has been honorably discharged from the United States army at his own request. He has been serving in the Philippines, but is now on his way to San Francisco. No reason is assigned at the war department for his retirement from the military service, but it is assumed that he does not care to devote his time to the guerilla warfare into which the operations in the Philippines has now degenerated.

For Governor of Empire State.

New York, April 12.—The Press says: Justice George C. Barrett, according to the belief of prominent politicians of both parties, will be the Democratic nominee for governor this year. This information comes from the best official source, and the justice's friends say he probably will not preside in court again this summer. Justice Barrett sailed for Europe yesterday. He will visit Richard Croker. He has been recognized for many years as one of Mr. Croker's closets advisers.

Cuban Departments Amalgamated.

Washington, April 12.—The president has issued an order merging the departments of Havana and Pinar Del Rio, Cuba, under the command of General Fitzhugh Lee, with headquarters at Quemados. The change will take effect May 1. Quemados is the site of the camp where the major part of the American garrison is quartered. The fact that General Lee is to retain his headquarters there indicates that his duties are to be purely military.

Concern Failed to Thrive.

Boston, April 12.—The Wildey Casualty company, a fraternal concern, was petitioned into a receivership by Insurance Commissioner Cutting and Archie N. Frost was appointed to take control of its affairs. The company was organized in 1894 under the title of the Odd Fellows' Mutual Accident association, but thrived for only three years. The reorganization in 1897 was not successful and, it is asserted, it has been steadily going down hill since.

For Benefit of Cuban Teachers.

Boston, April 12.—Superintendent Frye of the Cuban schools has telegraphed to General Wood that Harvard university has voted to guarantee $70,000 to welcome 1450 Cuban teachers. This action on the part of the university places the success of the enterprise beyond a shadow of a doubt. Mr. Frye now goes to Washington to complete arrangements with Secretary Root for the transportation of the great party.

Germany Has Not Yet Decided.

Berlin, April 12.—The German foreign office denies the statement that Germany will participate in an international naval demonstration at Taku. A high official said: "We have not yet decided upon such a step, but it might become necessary. It is true that Great Britain, the United States and Russia have agreed upon such a demonstration."

Nothing Mean About Brookline.

Brookline, April 12.—The town of Brookline, the wealthiest in the country, in annual meeting last night, voted $1,159,000 for expenses during the current year. In addition, $177,110 was appropriated for improvements.

PUGILIST EXERCISED HIS MUSCLE.

Officers Who Tried to Arrest Him Were Used as Punching Bags.

New York, April 12.—John A. McAvitty, 28 years old, giving St. John, N. B., as his address, and who says he is a member of the New York Athletic club, was arrested in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel at 1 o'clock this morning on the charge of disorderly conduct.

Charles M. Roscowitz, with his wife, daughter and some friends, went to the Waldorf-Astoria after the theater for supper. About 1 o'clock they left the dining room. Leaving his party in one of the corridors, Mr. Roscowitz went for their wraps. When he returned the women complained that McAvitty had insulted them.

Roscowitz had McAvitty arrested. McAvitty protested that there was a mistake, but agreed to go to the station. He went as far as the steps, and then declined to go inside. Policeman O'Sullivan attemtped to take him in by force, and McAvitty hit him several times in the face. Other policemen ran to O'Sullivans aid, and two of them got all they wanted. Numbers overwhelmed the athlete finally, and he was locked up. He indignantly protested that Roscowitz had erred.

Call From a Nebraska Institution.

Omaha, April 12.—Professor E. B. Andrews, formerly president of Brown university and since 1898 superintendent of the Chicago public schools, has been chosen chancellor of the University of

E. B. ANDREWS.

Nebraska. The choice was reached on the first ballot by the board of regents, the vote standing 4 to 2 in favor of Mr. Andrews. It is understood Professor Andrews will accept and will enter upon his duties in September.

Macrum Says Hay Lied.

East Liverpool, O., April 12.—Charles E. Macrum, ex-consul to Pretoria, when seen yesterday regarding the statement that Consul Hay has failed to find any evidence of the consular mail being tampered with during Mr. Macrum's stay at Pretoria, said: "This statement is on a par with the malicious misrepresentations which came from the state department before I reached this country. If proofs of all my charges are not on file at the consulate in Pretoria it is because they have been wilfully abstracted therefrom. The statement published today is a lie."

Accused of Killing Fellow Workman.

East Brookfield, Mass., April 12.—Joseph Raymond, a Frenchman, who is unable to speak English, is charged with manslaughter, in causing the death of Adolphus Lemont, a fellow woodchopper, and is locked up pending the result of an autopsy. The two Frenchmen were employed in cutting wood at Podunk, and yesterday became engaged in a quarrel. Both men, it is said, had been drinking, and it is said that Raymond knocked Lemont down, and, after he had fallen, kicked him in the stomach. Lemont died shortly afterward.

Naval Legislation Needed.

Washington, April 12.—The secretary of the navy is urging such a change in the laws relating to appointment to the naval academy as will fill the vacancies in the line of the navy and also immediate enactment of such legislation as will substantially increase the authorized quota. The secretary says the department is absolutely unable to commission another warship "without reducing in some other particular our already meager coast defense."

Belief In Reichman's Discretion.

Washington, April 12.—Inquiry at the state and war departments discloses the absence of any reports connecting Captain Reichman with active participation in the Boer campaign. Therefore the officials are confident that he has done nothing to violate the neutrality to which he was bound by his appointment as an observer of the war in the interests of the United States army.

Lovers' Quarrel Ends In Tragedy.

New York, April 12.—Fred Shore, 29 years old, a Russian, went to the apartments of Isaac Goldstein on Sixth street to call on Fannie Greenbaum, a domestic employed there, 21 years old. He shot her three times, killing her, and then shot himself through the head. He died later. The shooting was the result of a lover's quarrel.

Convicted of Concealing Assets.

Boston, April 12.—The trial of Benjamin S. Chase, a millinery dealer, who filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy last July, on the charge of concealing a portion of his assets from the trustee, ended in the United States district court last evening, with a verdict of guilty. Sentence was withheld.

Fell Under Car Steps.

Canaan, N. H., April 12.—While attempting to board a moving express train at this station, Martin Pier, an Enfield farmer, aged 60, fell under the steps of the car and was dragged 100 feet. His back and one of his legs were broken, and he lived only an hour after the accident.

Winter Lingers In Lap of Spring.

Chicago, April 12.—The whole west and southwest is experiencing a series of rain and snowstorms, accompanied by temperatures ranging from 15 to 30 degrees below normal, with heavy frosts over a large section of the wheat belt.

HAD $10,000 WORTH OF BEER STAMPS.

Brooklyn Bartender Caught With Stolen Government Property In His Possession.

New York, April 12.—Within the past few months two mysterious robberies of beer stamps by which the government lost $16,000 have occurred. One of these thefts occurred while the stamps were in transit between the treasury department and the general postoffice in Washington, and the other between the postoffice and the internal revenue office in Chicago. The stamps stolen in Washington were worth $10,000 and those in Chicago $6000.

Information concerning these thefts was kept from the public, but the internal revenue agents and collectors throughout the country were secretly warned to be on the lookout.

Internal Revenue Agent Thompson of the New York district recently suspected that the stolen beer stamps were hidden in Brooklyn. He learned that the thieves had arranged for the sale of a large quantity of the stamps to a brewer's agent at the Astor House. Late yesterday Thomas Blaney, a bartender employed in P. McCauley's saloon in Brooklyn, was seen to enter the hotel with a paper bundle. He seemingly failed to meet the prospective purchaser, and afterward was arrested by Thompson.

The bundle was found to contain about $10,000 worth of beer stamps. Blaney was taken before United States Commissioner Shields, who held him in $5000 for examination. The charge against him is having stolen government beer stamps in his possession. Agent Thompson says that further arrests of importance may be expected.

Washington, April 12.—The recovery of the stolen stamps is the result of clever work by the officials of the internal revenue. Two weeks ago last Saturday, Blaney called on a brewing firm in Brooklyn and presented them a sheet of stamps which he declared were counterfeit and offered to sell them more. The brewing firm notified the revenue officials. Examination showed that the stamps were genuine, and a meeting was arranged with those who had them for sale for the purpose of arresting them.

A House Emergency Hospital.

Washington, April 12.—Representative Wilson (N. Y.) whose services as a physician have been brought into frequent requisition recently in serving those taken ill about the Capitol, has taken steps to secure an emergency equipment for such cases. A resolution by him was favorably reported by the committee on accounts yesterday, authorizing the sergeant-at-arms of the house to purchase and retain in his care an emergency case of medicine and suitable instruments for minor operations for use in case of illness or accident to persons in attendance at the house.

Five Thousand Miners Quit Work.

Frostburg, Md., April 12.—Five thousand miners of the George's Creek region struck last night, and began what promises to be a protracted struggle for an increase of wages and incidentally the recognition by the operators of the United Mine Workers of America. The operators assert that they will let the mines remain idle until the men return to work. The miners claim that they are prepared to continue the contest indefinitely.

The Gold Coast Disturbance.

London, April 12.—The colonial office has received reassuring news from Governor Hodgson of the Gold Coast, announcing that the situation at Kumassie has much improved. He adds that, apparently, there is now no danger of the trouble spreading, and he is hopeful of a speedy restoration of peace.

Weavers Vote to Remain Out.

Lowell, Mass., April 12.—The striking weavers of the American Woolen company last night voted to remain out until their demands are granted. The state board of arbitration is expected to hold a conference with Treasurer Chapin of the American Woolen company and the strikers.

Overcome by Election News.

Trenton, April 12.—John Dickinson dropped dead yesterday while reading the returns from Tuesday's municipal elections. Dickinson was a Democratic ward worker, and it is believed that the shock of the city's being carried by the Republicans brought on an attack of heart disease.

Cars Wrecked and Track Torn Up.

Newport, Vt., April 12.—An extra freight train from Sherbrooke was wrecked near North Hadley, 14 cars being derailed and badly damaged. About a mile of track was torn up. No one was injured.

Advance In Pulp Wood Duty.

Washington, April 12.—The state department has been informed that the Ottawa government has given notice of an increase from 30 to 40 cents a cord on the dues on pulp wood, beginning May 1.

Montana Populists For Bryan.

Helena, Mont., April 12.—The Populist convention here selected 10 delegates to the national convention at Sioux Falls. The delegates were instructed for Bryan for president.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

H. Alden Gilley, a well-known shipmaster of Bucksport, Me., died at Barre, Vt., of pneumonia.

The members of the new naval policy board have been notified to meet at the navy department next Monday. The board must meet at least once a month thereafter to consider questions of naval policy.

It is announced officially that the tests with the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy between steamers and the lighthouse on the island of Borkum, at the mouth of the Ems, have proved successful, Morse writing being perfectly reproduced at a distance of 18 miles. New tests have been ordered.

Osborn Deignan, who was one of the crew of the Merrimac when that vessel was sunk in the harbor of Santiago, has been appointed an acting boatswain in the navy.

A Young Girl

May be very old in suffering. She is very apt to neglect the earlier symptoms of disease. Often when she takes treatment it is the wrong treatment for her case. Very many young women write to Dr. Pierce and consult him by letter free. All such correspondence is strictly private, and womanly modesty is spared the shock of indelicate examinations, unpleasant questionings and offensive local treatments.

"I suffered with female trouble," writes Miss Agnes McGowne, of 1221 Bank St., Washington, D. C. "I tried various remedies but none seemed to do any permanent good. The doctors said it was the worse case of internal trouble they ever had. I decided to write to Doctor Pierce for help. I received a very encouraging reply and commenced treatment at once. I had not used the "Favorite Prescription" a week before I began to feel better, and, as I continued, my health gradually improved. It is improving every day and I still continue to take the medicine.

Worth Reading.

To the Editor:

I think it my duty to inform your readers of a remedy that should be in every household.

I was a martyr to Dyspepsia and Constipation and tried everything in vain. In despair I bought a ten cent package of the U. S. Army & Navy Tablets, 17 East 14th St., New York, and in three days I felt better and afterwards I bought a twenty-five cent package and now I am completely cured. Your druggist can and must get it for you.

Wife of a Boston Surgeon Is Under the Surveillance of the Police.

Husband Found Dead With Bullet Wound In Mouth.

Dr. Cocke, a Noted Scientist, Married His Third Wife Seven Weeks Ago.

Boston, April 13.—Dr. James R. Cocke, the noted blind physician, whose marital troubles no less than his attainments as a scientist brought him fame, is dead, the result of a bullet wound in the mouth. Whether it is a case of murder or suicide the police, as yet, are unable to determine.

His death was reported at a police station about 8 o'clock last night by two men. Officers who were sent to his residence, 23 Pinckney street, found the doctor lying dead upon the bed, with a bullet wound in the mouth, from which blood was oozing, but no weapon was to be seen anywhere. The medical examiner was notified, and the body was removed to an undertaker's.

His wife, who was not in the house at the time, but came in later, said that about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, after having been at work downstairs, she went up into their living room and found her husband seated in a chair in a stooping posture. She at first thought he was suffering from neuralgia of the heart, to which he had been subject at times, but on further investigation she found that he was bleeding from a wound in the mouth, his face being covered with blood, while a revolver lay upon the floor. She carried her husband to a bed and washed the blood from his face and head, but he only lived a short time. Then she picked up the revolver and put it in one of the bureau drawers, from which place she removed it and gave it to the officers upon their arrival at the house.

In explanation of her absence from the house she said she had been to ask the advice of a physician as to the best thing for her to do.

Meanwhile Dr. Cilley and Dr. Harris, medical examiners, had been summoned and made an examination of the body, which was rigid. The jaws were firmly set and the conditions seemed to bear out the woman's statement that death had occurred several hours previous. The body was taken to an undertaker's and an autopsy will be held.

Meanwhile Mrs. Cocke, although not actually arrested, is kept under close surveillance until the mysterious circumstances which surround the case are cleared up.

Mrs. Cocke told the police that she was a medical student, and that she and her husband had done some business as agents of the Russian government. Mrs. Cocke was the doctor's third wife, was his amanuensis, and had been married to him only about seven weeks. She is 28 years of age, her maiden name being Catherine Harrington.

The doctor formerly lived in an aristocratic locality, and despite the fact that he was blind, has had the reputation of being a skilful surgeon.

Made Negatives For Counterfeits.

Boston, April 13.—Porter N. Bliss, a photographer, aged 62, who made negatives for counterfeit $2 bills of the Dominion of Canada, was sentenced by Judge Lowell to pay a fine of $1 and serve 18 months in the Cambridge jail at hard labor. An appeal was taken to the United States circuit court of appeals. Bliss furnished $2500 bail and will be at liberty until the case is called in the higher court. Judge Lowell said he gave Bliss a nominal sentence because of the man's age and his poor health.

Discouraged Couple Asphyxiated.

New York, April 13.—Carl E. Walstrom and his wife, Nellie, an elderly couple, were found asphyxiated by gas in their room here last night. Walstrom was at one time a prosperous tailor, but he had become poor, and he and his wife depended largely on their 16-year-old son's wages for their living. The son found his parents dead when he returned from work last night. They had plugged the cracks under the door and windows in the room, and had turned on two gas jets. They left no letter.

Serious Plague Riots In India.

Bombay, April 13.—Plague riots have taken place at Cawnpore, where the segregation camp has been destroyed and 10 persons have been killed. The rioters killed five constables and threw their bodies into the burning camp. Order is now restored, but all business is suspended, and the populace are sullen. Troops and volunteers are patrolling the city, guarding the mills and factories.

Wedded by Telegraph.

Kansas City, Kan., April 13.—A marriage service by telegraph with the bride and groom 200 miles apart was carried out between Kansas City and Mulhall, O. T., at noon yesterday. The groom was Andrew M. Candell, an entomologist attached to the department of agriculture at Washington, and the bride was Miss Penelope Cundiff, daughter of a prosperous farmer of Perkins, O. T.

MANY BURIED IN RUINS.

Three Deaths Resulted From the Collapse of a Big Building at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, April 13.—The big double-front, four-story brick building at the corner of Wood street and Second avenue, collapsed today, burying a number of employes, customers and carpenters at work on the building beneath the ruins. Three persons were killed, six were badly hurt and several others slightly injured.

The building was occupied by the Armstrong & McKelvy Lead and Oil company. It was being remodelled by contractors McGovern & Lyttle, who were converting the lower floors of the corner store and that next door into one large room, which was to have been occupied by the lead and oil company. About 48 feet of the middle partition had been removed and steel girders, supported by heavy iron posts, were in place, and the finishing touches were being put on the remodelling work. The firm yesterday began the transfer of their stock from one room to the other, and, apparently, centralized the heavy weight of the lead and oils about the middle of the structure. Up to the present this is the only solution advanced for the collapse, which began by the second floor breaking through, carrying with it the two floors above, making a breach from top to bottom through the centre of the building. The fact that the rear portion of the building on Second avenue did not collapse saved many lives. Those who were in the rear portion of the building heard the crash and ran out of the side door and escaped.

When the accident happened business was being transacted on the first floor as usual. Mrs. Jones was there for some paint, and had evidently just completed her purchase, for when her body and that of Salesman Bernhardt, who waited on her, were found, the man had a $5 bill in his hand, and the woman clutched her pocket book.

Superimposed Turrets Not Favored.

Washington, April 13.—The new battleships will not have superimposed turrets, according to the decision of the naval board of construction. In lieu of the double turretted arrangement, the ships will be given eight 8-inch guns, arranged in four turrets, one at each corner of the square superstructure. Two main turrets, on the main deck, will carry each two 12-inch guns. This will give the ships four more 8-inch guns than would be carried in the two double turrets. This change will cause 350 tons additional weight, but to compensate for this, instead of cutting off that much coal supply, the ships will be lengthened to 440 feet, making them closely approach 15,000 tons displacement.

To Remain With State Body.

Brockton, Mass., April 13.—The meeting of Appomatox command, Union Veterans' Union, held Thursday evening, was out of the ordinary in that the decision which was reached at a previous meeting to support the national rather than the state department, was reversed, and it was decided, by a vote of 38 to 29, to remain with the state department. General French, together with his followers, 29 in number, who support the National society, left the hall.

Constable Had a Poor Memory.

Fishkill, N. Y., April 13.—William Reilly, aged 35, a Boston painter, applied for a night's lodging to Constable Wiltse at Fishkill on Saturday night. He was placed in the jail. On Wednesday afternoon Charles Sparks was passing the jail, and, hearing groans, he investigated, and found Reilly almost dead. The man had been without food or drink for four days and nights. He is in a bad condition. Wiltse simply says he forgot all about the man.

Won't Recognize Union.

Montreal, April 13.—Two hundred cigar makers went on strike yesterday. They were employed by two firms. The issue is purely one of the recognition of the International Cigarmakers' union. The strike will probably spread, for the Canadian Manufacturers' association is behind the firms who have refused to recognize the union.

Invincible Turret Armor.

Washington, April 13.—A test was made at Indian Head of a plate representing 300 tons of the turret armor of the battleship Wisconsin. The 14-inch plate was attacked by a 10-inch gun. The shell was smashed on the face of the plate, which received no substantial injury. The plate was accepted.

Laborer Looking For a Fortune.

New York, April 13.—Jorg Cruz, the Puerto Rican laborer who was field at the barge office as an alien contract laborer on his arrival here via the steamship Caracas on April 3, but was later discharged, has brought suit for $50,000 damages against Thomas Fritchie, commissioner of immigration.

Open to Settlement In October.

Washington, April 13.—The president has signed a proclamation opening to settlement the northern half of the Colville Indian reservation in Washington on Oct. 10 next. The land opened to settlement comprises about 1,500,000 acres. It will be disposed of under the homestead laws at $1.50 an acre.

Another Drive In a Rainstorm.

Dublin, April 13.—Much to the public's surprise, the queen drove out late yesterday afternoon, in a closed landau, accompanied by Princess Henry of Battenberg. The route extended through Castleknock village. In spite of the pouring rain, her majesty expressed pleasure at her outing.

Escaped From Insane Asylum.

Clinton, Mass., April 13.—Thomas McGuinness of this town, aged 18, escaped from the Worcester insane asylum last Saturday, and has not since been found. The Clinton police have an order from the police of the entire country to arrest the man is incapable of caring for himself.

PUERTO RICO'S RULER.

Charles H. Allen of Massachusetts Is to Be the First Governor.

To Leave at Once For New Post to Select a Cabinet.

Will Make Earnest Endeavor to Hold the Confidence of the People.

Washington, April 13.—Assistant Secretary of the Navy Allen is receiving hearty congratulations from Massachusetts men on his selection as the first civil governor of Puerto Rico. Toward the close of yesterday Mr. Allen was summoned to the White House by the president and the formal tender of the post was made. Mr. Allen practically accepted the position. Then the president and the next governor of Puerto Rico spent an hour in close conference respecting the matters to be arranged in the immediate future.

Owing to the fact that little more than two weeks' time intervenes before the civil government must go into operation, according to the terms of the act of congress, it was decided that it would not be practicable to complete the cabinet of the governor in that time. Therefore Mr. Allen will go alone to San Juan at the earliest possible moment after Secretary Long's return to Washington, which should be Saturday next. He will not be accompanied by Mrs. Allen on his first trip to his new post.

Arriving in Puerto Rico, Mr. Allen, who will carry his commission as governor with him, will put himself in touch with General Davis, now military governor of the island, and spend a short time in acquainting himself with the insular affairs and in studying the character of the men who present themselves to his notice as proper material for members of the new cabinet.

As soon as he shall have established himself and gained the knowledge he seeks, Governor Allen will return to the United States. It may be that he will leave General Davis in charge during his absence, but in case it shall have been found possible to complete the formation of the cabinet, or even if any member shall have been appointed, then that person will act as temporary governor.

As to his intentions respecting the administration of the island's affairs, Mr. Allen disclosed these during a short interview, in the course of which he said:

"My effort will be to administer the government provided by congress in such a manner as to command and hold the confidence of the people; to help them so far as I may, to realize the best there is in them and to assist them in the development of the island, along the lines which have made us such a prosperous nation. My deep regret is leaving the navy department; my service there has been of the happiest sort, and the attachments formed there will always remain a pleasant memory."

An effort was made in the senate yesterday by Mr. Morgan to displace the present unfinished business—the Spooner Philippine bill—by the substitution in its stead of the Nicaraguan canal bill. While Mr. Morgan's motion failed, 15 to 33, the Philippine measure had a narrow escape from being displaced by the Alaskan civil code bill on motion of Mr. Carter, the motion being defeated on a rollcall, 22 to 24.

The feature of the day's proceedings was an exhaustive discussion of the Quay case by Mr. Burrows of Michigan. Senators on both sides of the chamber gave him most careful hearing, and at the conclusion of his speech warmly congratulated him.

The senate adjourned over until Saturday.

The house, after a spirited debate, adopted the resolution reported from the insular affairs committee, to authorize the secretary of the treasury to designate depositories in Puerto Rico, Cuba and the Philippines for the deposit of government funds. By the terms of the resolution it applies to Cuba only so long as the island shall be occupied by the United States. An amendment to include the Philippines in this provision as to Cuba, offered, as stated, to emphasize the desire of the opposition to retain the islands, was defeated party vote.

A senate bill, which will provide dependent mothers of soldiers of the Spanish war, even those married Confederate soldiers, to receive the benefit of the general law, was passed.

Good Afternoon.

President McKinley doubtless thought of the saying, "He laughs best who laughs last," as he affixed his signature to the Porto Rico bill.

The Republican managers will show Admiral Dewey that they bear him no ill-will by giving him a good place in the McKinley inaugural parade, next March.

Admiral Dewey's ambition to be the Democratic candidate for President, but it looks now as though he would not get beyond being the pink tea candidate.

As Bryan got his first nomination by stampeding a convention, Admiral Dewey thought he might utilize the same means to deprive him of this nomination.

Y. M. C. A. Banquet.

The second annual banquet of the physical departmnt of the Y. M. C. A. was held Thursday evening. There were about forty present and an enjoyable evening was passed. The menu provided was a tempting one, and was served by Mrs. Hoehn assisted by members of the Ladies' Auxilary a corps of young ladies from Bethany church officiating as waiters.

Postprandial exercises followed the banquet. W. A. Smith presided and introduced W. F. Hoehn as toastmaster. The following toasts were responded to by members: The Quincy Adams Basket ball team, the Quincy Basket ball team, Our girls and our boys. Addresses were also made by President Delcevare King and R. N. Van Buskirk.

An adjournment was then made to the parlors, where there were songs, etc.

Women Quarrel.

Anges C. Mitchell, Annie S. Porter and Lucy E. Porter got into a discussion on Cottage street on Thursday. Whether the cause of the discussion was on the latest style of Easter hat or the British-Boer war is not known. As the argument waxed warm it is said the hair began to fly, and it is alleged by Annie and Lucy that Agnes assaulted them, while Agnes claims she was assaulted by Annie. Warrants for asault were sworn out by all three, who lined up before Judge Humphrey in the district court this morning. The cases were continued until Saturday morning when the case will be aired.

Spanish War Veterans.

John A. Boyd camp Legion of Spanish War Veterans, held an open meeting and smoke talk Thursday evening, which was quite largely attended and proved very enjoyable. Capt. Clark, senior vice commander in Chief was present and gave an interesting talk. Brief remarks were also made by members of John A. Boyd camp. The object of the meeting was to renew interest in the camp and to encourage eligible persons to join with the boys.

Music and Whist.

The City Band held a very successful promenade concert and whist party Wednesday evening, at their rooms on School street. The City Band orchestra gave the following programme:

Overture, "Orpheus" Offenback
Characteristic March, "Cunning Coons" Hans S. Line
Selection, "Bohemian Girl" Balfe
Waltz, "Consolation" Hans S. Line
Selection, "Carmen" Biset
March, "A Little bit off the Top" Asher

After the concert whist was enjoyed, the following winning prizes: Mrs. J. Robinson, Mrs. A. Raleigh, Mr. R. R. Smith and Mr. A. Hall. The next entertainment will be held April 25.

CIGARETTE HABIT.

Causes Discharge of Those Addicted to It.

The following self explanatory letter has been received by Henry H. Faxon, from the office of the chief of the Weather Bureau, United States Department of Agriculture, and young men should take warning:

Mr. Henry H. Faxon, 36 Bromfield, street, Room 34, Boston, Mass.

My dear sir:—I am in receipt of your letter of the 7th instant, referring to the recent order issued in the Weather Bureau prohibiting the smoking of cigarettes by its employes during office hours, and commending my action in the premises. In reply I have to say that the order referred to was prompted by the fact that in testing messenger boys during their probationary period we have been compelled to drop a considerable number of those taken on trial because of the listless manner in which they performed their duties, and their lack of mental concentration. In each case I found these boys to be addicted to an immoderate use of cigarettes. In several cases we have been compelled to take action for the reduction or removal of observers in charge of station, for indolence, forgetfulness and failure to render reports promptly, where I was satisfied that shattered physical condition and mental impairment were due to the excessive use of cigarettes.

The habits and moral character of the employes of this service are matters in which we feel concern, and several officials have been recommended to the Honorable Secretary of Agriculture for discharge purely on the ground that their moral character was such as to bring discredit upon the Weather service. In each case my position has been sustained, although at first there was a disposition to contest our right to inquire into the morals of a man, provided he possessed the ability to properly perform his duties and did properly perform them. I have never knowingly nominated for advancement to charge of an office in the Weather service any man who was not of clean character as well as a competent official. The result is that today we take pride in the personnel of the service.

Since our cigarette order was issued the Chicago press says that many business concerns in Chicago have taken the same course as that taken by the Weather Bureau; that cigarette smoking is not permitted in the office of the Board of Education; that Montgomery Ward & Co. have refused to employ boys addicted to the cigarette habit; that Marshall Field & Co. now provide bi-monthly lectures on the evils of the practice, for the benefit of their employes, believing that the physical energy and mental acuteness of their working force are injured by the use of the cigarette; that the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, on some of its lines, has prohibited the use of the cigarette, and that large down-town business establishments have admitted the lecturers of the Anti-Cigarette League.

Several hundred newspaper comments have been received at this office. Some of them refer to the order as a "boycott on coffin nails." Many have treated the regulation facetiously, but in the main the press of the country appreciates the fact that the inhaling of cigarette smoke is enervating to the employe and that it dulls the mental faculties.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) Willis L. Moore,
Chief U. S. Weather Bureau.

ALL WERE FOUND.

Bright Eyes of the Children Find All the People in Hiding.

It was a difficult puzzle which the Daily Ledger gave its little readers last week, more difficult of solution than the Puzzle Editor thought, but it is impossible to put anything out of the reach of the pupils of the Quincy public schools. They not only found the names of the prominent people in hiding, but they knew for what they were prominent. No one unacquainted with some of these gentlemen would have been able to find the names.

The first solution received, and also the best, was from Miss Bessie Hallowell, daughter of Dr. Henry C. Hallowell of the School Committee, and she is awarded the first prize. Her writing was excellent, and the style ditto; all the answers were correct, and are given below as received:

1. Francis W. Parker, first Superintendent of Schools, 1875-1880.
2. John Adams, second President of the United States, 1797-1801.
3. Charles H. Porter, first Mayor of Quincy, 1889-1890.
4. Herbert W. Lull, present Superintendent of Schools, 1892.
5. John Hancock, president of the Continental Congress and first Governor of Massachusetts.
6. Henry O. Fairbanks, second Mayor of Quincy, 1891-93.
7. John Quincy Adams, sixth President of the United States, 1825-29.
8. Henry H. Faxon, prominent temperance reformer.
9. Sylvester Brown, second Superintendent of Schools, 1880-83.
10. Ebenezer Woodward, founder of Woodward Institute.
11. William B. Rice, founder of the City Hospital.
12. John O. Hall, present Mayor of Quincy, 1900—
13. Charles Francis Adams, Minister to England during the Civil War.
14. William A. Hodges, third Mayor of Quincy, 1894-95.
15. Josiah Quincy, formerly Mayor of Boston.
16. Harrison A. Keith, sixth Mayor of Quincy, 1899-1900.
17. Edward Norton, formerly pastor of Bethany church.
18. Russell A. Sears, fifth Mayor of Quincy, 1898-99.
19. Solomon Willard, designer of Bunker Hill monument.
20. Ellery C. Butler, pastor of the Unitarian church.
21. George I. Aldrich, third Superintendent of Schools, 1883-1892.
22. Francis A. Frigunlietti, pastor of St. John's Catholic church.
23. C. F. Adams, 2d, fourth Mayor of Quincy, 1896-97.
24. George I. Aldrich third Superintendent of Schools, 1883-1892.
25. Gridley Bryant, builder of the first railroad in America.

The second prize awarded to Jessie D. Gardner of 9 Spear street, whose solution was nearly equal to Miss Hallowell's.

The editor congratulates all others who sent answers upon their discernment, their knowledge and their writing.

Prize winners will please call at the Ledger office for their prizes.

Lawyer Lund Dead.

Lawyer Lund, a summer resident of Wollaston beach for over 30 years, died suddenly at his office in the Devonshire building, 194 Washington street, Boston, Thursday afternoon. He only complained of being slightly ill previous to his death.

Rodney Lund was law partner with Charles H. Welsh on the fifth floor of the Devonshire building. He was 69 years old, and had been practising law in Boston for at least a score of years, coming here from Vermont. He was one of the oldest members of the bar. He was considered a good and able lawyer, and the law books abound in many cases in which he appeared as counsel. He was frequently called in as senior counsel for his knowledge and judgment of the law.

Mr. Lund lived at 2B Holden place, Dorchester, and leaves a widow and two children.

Barges to Houghs Neck.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

JEWEL LACE.

A Time Saving Device In Attractive Fancy Work.

The woman who "hasn't time to crochet" can easily make this dainty lace in a mere fraction of the time required for ordinary crochet work. The secret lies in the fact that the lace is made by crocheting together strips of "crochet braid," says a correspondent of The Ladies' World. This braid is inexpensive and comes in two forms, as shown in the illustration.

Cut a strip of the straight braid the desired length. Cut a strip of scalloped braid measuring ten inches to every nine of the straight braid. * In first loop of first scallop put a single. Chain 2; in third loop put (2 doubles, 4 chain, 2 doubles). Chain 5; in fourth loop put ( ). Chain 2, single in sixth loop. Chain 2. Repeat from * in case of each scallop. Break thread. Now fasten these loops of chain work to the straight braid as follows:

Single in a loop half an inch from end of straight braid. * Chain 3, single in first chain loop of first scallop.

LACE OF BRAID AND CROCHET.

Chain 2, skip 1 loop of straight braid, single in next. Chain 2, single in second chain loop of scallop. Chain 3, skip 1 loop of straight braid, single in next. Chain 3, single in third chain loop. Chain 3, skip 2 loops of straight braid, single in next. Repeat from * in case of each scallop. Break thread. Note that the number of loops skipped is one, one, two; one, one, two, etc. Crochet on lower edge of scalloped braid as on upper. Break thread. Cut a second strip of straight braid measuring seven inches to every six inches of the first strip. Fasten lower row of chain work to this, as in first instance, with this exception: Skip two, two, one; two, two, one, etc., loops on the straight braid. Break thread.

Finishing Edge.—If the piece of lace is to be continuous, pare the ends evenly and join them. Put on the finishing edge as follows:

1. Crochet on lower edge of scalloped braid as on upper.

2. In each chain loop put (3 doubles, picot, 3 doubles, picot).

If a straight piece of lace is desired, hem the ends of the braid and put the finishing edge, described above, along the lower edge and also on the ends.

For a foundation on the ends, in place of the third and fourth loops of the scalloped braid, use the hemmed ends of the four strips of braid. In place of the first and sixth loops use chain work between the strips. (See right hand end of lace in illustration.)

Easter Flowers.

New York, it is said, spends $1,000,000 for flowers during Holy Week. The lily is the emblem of the close of the Lenten season.

There are floral fashions, however, just as there are fashions in millinery, and the lily does not by any means have the field to itself even in church decorations. The azalea is sharing the honors of the day with the lily. If properly cared for, it will last several weeks before its petals fall. Many thousands are used as decorations for windows, for which purpose they are unsurpassed on account of their attractive and enduring blossoms.

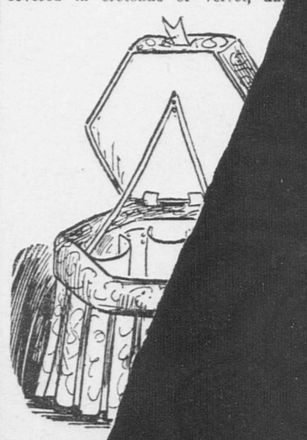

Violets easily hold the third place in popular estimation. Millions of them are sold at Easter, and by far the larger portion of them are used for purposes of personal adornment.

Roses in great variety, with white or sumptuous colored blooms, come next, and many tons of them are disposed of in the Easter market.

Carnations, hydrangeas, tulips, primroses, forsythia, jonquils, lilies of the valley and the cineraria are also used in large quantities, together with smilax, palms and ferns in great profusion, for decorative purposes.

A Hint to the Home Worker.

Before starting on a "run" a refreshing wash with Ivory Soap gives new energy. It lathers quickly in any kind of water and does not cost more than common soap. The luxury of being clean is not realized without using Ivory Soap. You need not fear alkali, or other injurious ingredients found in many soaps. Ivory Soap is nothing but pure materials, combined to make a soap that will clean and rinse quickly, thoroughly, satisfactorily.

Not Afraid of the Rain.

Dublin, April 12.—In spite of the almost continuous rain, the queen, accompanied by the Princess Victoria of Battenberg, surprised the spectators in Phoenix park by driving out yesterday afternoon. Her destination was the Duke of Connaught's residence. The ordinary roads were deserted, rain and wind prevailed and thoroughfares were in a horrible condition. Though the carriage was open the queen contented herself with the shelter of an umbrella.

Want to Know Where They Stand.

Frankfort, Ky., April 12.—The attorneys in the contest cases for the minor state offices have prepared an agreement which will be signed at once. Under its terms an agreed upon case is to be made up and advanced through the state courts. The intention is to hurry this case through in time for it to be taken up by the United States supreme court, with the case involving the title to the office of governor and lieutenant governor.

President Ignored Silver Question.

Columbus, O., April 12.—The state convention of the League of Democratic clubs met here yesterday, with a rather small attendance. The sentiment of the convention is said to be for Bryan, although President Buchtel, in his annual address, referred only indirectly to the Nebraskan and ignored silver entirely. It is expected that there will be a fight in the committee on resolutions over the silver question.

ATTITUDE OF ENGLAND.

Must Be No Compromise or Patchwork In Settlement of War.

Boers Still Held Off by Colonials at Wepener.

Seiges of Kimberley and Ladysmith Spoiled the Original Design of Boers.

London, April 13.—Th work of the Boer peace commissioners has begun. Mr. Fischer has asked Italy to intervene, and the Italian minister of foreign affairs, the Marquis di Visconti-Venosta, has replied that, while he would receive the envoys, the best he could do would be to transmit their proposals to London, thus following the course of the United States.

Sir Alfred Milner, when replying to a deputation of clergymen in Cape Town Thursday, said: "Never again must be the motto of all thinking and humane men; but not from lust of conquest or a desire to tramule on the gallant, if misguided. There must be no compromise or patchwork in the settlement, and no opportunity for misunderstanding intrigue, the revival of impossible ambitions or the accumulation of enormous armaments. The British will no longer tolerate dissimilar and antagonistic political systems in a country which nature and history have declared to be one."

In these obsolute utterances of Sir Alfred Milner, he speaks for the imperial government.

Quiet assurances are passed around among military men that Lord Roberts is employing his great army effectively and that the adventurous Boer commandoes are likely to be enmeshed. Scraps of news—a detail here and another there—have reached England over comparatively idle cables, but they do not illuminate the situation.

The colonials at Wepener still hold off the Boers. Lord Methuen has worked eastward, until he is within 80 miles of Kroonstad. Boer scouts have gone around Ladysmith, and have appeared at Dewdrop and other places on General Buller's flanks and rear. The officers of General Buller's irregular horse estimate the Boers in Natal at 18,000, but these figures are probably excessive, 10,000 being regarded as the outside number.

After General Hart's brigade leaves him, General Buller will still have close upon 35,000 men. It is generally assumed that this brigade is going to join Roberts, but its destination is really unknown.

The Boer note to Portugal regarding the use by the British of the Beira route for the transportation of troops to Rhodesia may, if the Boers act against Portugal, lead Great Britain to land troops at Lourenzo Marquez. This possibility has been seriously discussed, and is referred to at length in the morning papers today.

It is calculated that Lord Roberts now has 214,000 effective troops, with 12,000 more afloat or under orders. The war office has instructed officers not to take any more expanding bullets to Africa for revolvers.

Hilyard Steyn, brother of President Steyn, in the course of an interview at Bloemfontein, said: "The original war plan of the Boers was to overrun all Cape Colony, but, on becoming involved in the sieges of Kimberley and Ladysmith, the burghers found the design spoiled. To this I attribute the Boer failure to conquer the British. I expect the war to last until Christmas."

The seventh month of the war is beginning with Eastertide, and the morning paper editorials expatiate upon the need of soberness.

There is no confirmation of the Boer report of a British disaster near De Wetsdorp, and it may probably be assumed baseless. It is likely that another report from Pretoria to the effect that Colonel Baden-Powell, the defender of Mafeking, has been killed, is also untrue. Public imagination has made Colonel Baden-Powell the object of romantic hero worship, which has grown in intensity with every day that Mafeking has been beleaguered, and his death would cause a great shock in England.

Head Showed Three Wounds.

Granby, Mass., April 13.—The head of Jack Eunsick, the murdered Pole, was found yesterday buried underneath the barn of Munroe Keith, the farmer for whom he worked, it being unearthed a short distance beneath the surface. It was in an advanced stage of decomposition. Three wounds were apparent, one on top near the forehead, and two near the back of the head. They had apparently been inflicted with some sharp instrument, like an ax.

PUERTO RICAN MEASURE SIGNED.

"Insurgents" Appear to Have No Apprehension as to Its Political Effect.

Washington, April 13.—At 1 o'clock yesterday Speaker Henderson signed the Puerto Rico tariff bill, and it was then sent to the senate for the signature of President-pro-tem Frye, who announced his signature at 1:05 p. m. It was signed by President McKinley at 7 o'clock last night.

The main topic of conversation at the Capitol is the political effect of the bill. Many Republican observers fear that it will greatly injure the party, while others believe the friction will disappear in a short time. Comparisons are made between the dissensions among the Democrats at the time of the passage of the Wilson-Gorman tariff bill and the present situation, but the general belief is that in the former case the party disintegration was much deeper.

Even the insurgent Republicans do not appear to feel any apprehensions over the result. Representative Crumpacker of Indiana, one of these, said: "I think the Republicans of my district will vote for me and will vote for McKinley, and that McKinley will carry Indiana by a substantial majority. Although many Republicans are disappointed in the Puerto Rican bill, they will bear in mind the splendid record of this administration in the fulfillment of its pledges and the great prosperity of the country, and these considerations will outweigh all others."

A typical Republican view is that of Representative Overstreet of the same state. He says: "The matter will adjust itself in a short time, when the measure is fully understood, and will speedily disappear as a dividing issue among Republicans."

Williams For Vice President.

Boston, April 13.—George Fred Williams of Massachusetts was formally named as a vice presidential possibility by the Bryan club of Massachusetts at a banquet here Thursday night, and his sponsor was George F. Washburn, member of the Populist national committee. Mr. Williams, in response to Mr. Washburn's announcement, expressed his surprise, and said he had no comment to make.

Bay State Legislature.

Boston, April 13.—By a vote of 14 to 15, with five pairs, President Smith voting to break a tie, the senate yesterday killed the bill giving additional privileges to the Boston, Cape Cod and New York Canal company, and thereby practically legislated another Cape Cod canal bill out of existence.

The Chinaman, the Sunday law, and a reduction in fares for suburban patrons were the three topics which the house discussed yesterday.

The bill relating to Chinamen was the old-time laundry measure, which provides that no person shall sleep where he does his washing. The bill was defeated by almost a unanimous vote.

Mr. Mills made an effort to reconsider the Sunday concert bill, and had a tilt with Mr. Saunders of Boston on the matter, with the result that reconsideration was refused.

The suburban fares bill was thoroughly discussed, but no decision was reached.

Bids Far In Excess of Appropriation.

Washington, April 13.—Eight bids were opened at the department of justice yesterday for the construction of the new department of justice building, for which an appropriation of $1,000,000 was made at the last session of congress. The bids ranged from $419,000 to $674,000 in excess of the appropriation. The attorney general will ask for an additional appropriation to meet the increase in the prices of building materials as indicated by the bids.

A Gigantic Mining Scheme.

Spokane, Wash., April 13.—The Chronicle says: The formation of the biggest mining company operated in the west is made public. The King Solomon Mining company has been capitalized for $30,000,000, and has secured hundreds of claims for 2½ miles along Lake Kootenay, near Ainsworth, B. C.

Concealed Property From Creditors.

Boston, April 13.—In the United States district court yesterday, Judge Lowell sentenced Albert C. Fowler of Haverhill to three months in the Lawrence jail for concealing property while a bankrupt. Clemency was shown by the court, as Folwer made restitution of all he had taken.

Perjurer Sent to Prison.

Boston, April 13.—John Payne, a builder of Medford, was sentenced to state prison for six years yesterday, for perjury. He got into trouble for furnishing bogus bail in four criminal cases and two civil cases.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Showers occurred yesterday along the Atlantic coast from Maine to Florida and from the north Pacific coast over the northern plateau region, and light rains or snow flurries were noted over the great lakes. The temperature is moderating slowly generally throughout the country. Fair weather in New England will be preceded by showers along the immediate coast. Along the New ... winds will be fresh to ...y.

A DISEASE-INFECTED SHIP.

Many Excursionists Who Went Abroad on the New England Stricken With Smallpox.

Boston, April 13.—Letters received in this city containing information to the effect that many members of an excursion party to the Orient had been left at Naples through the unexpected departure of the steamship New England, which carried them from this port, is supplemented by a cablegram from Liverpool to The Globe stating that smallpox had broken out among those excursionists who had been stranded, as it were, in Italy. The cablegram follows:

"Liverpool, April 12.—After a thorough fumigation the steamship New England sailed this afternoon for Boston with a clean bill of health. She carried 1100 passengers, including in that number about 150 Clark excursionists. When the ship arrived here from Naples, March 30, she had on board 20 cases of smallpox among the crew and three convalescent cases of passengers. On the voyage from Naples to this port there had been one death, the boatswain. Three of the New England's excursionists had been sick with smallpox on board the ship, but have fully recovered. Several cases of the disease have been reported among the Clark excursionists left behind at Rome and elsewhere. The disease is supposed to have been contracted in Jerusalem. While the ship has been here she has been entirely overhauled, refitted and repainted, under the direction of the sanitary authorities, who declare her free from all disease."

The Globe also says that one death from smallpox is known to have taken place among the Clark excursionists in Rome. The victim is Rev. G. F. Love, pastor of the West Baptist church at Oswego, N. Y.

From meager information now at hand the steamship officers, while at Naples, suddenly landed all the baggage and without previous notification to the excursionists sailed for Liverpool, skipping Nice, which was in the itinerary of the excursion.

The Globe also says that a cablegram received in New York announces the death of Miss Anne Senotein of Winona, Minn., from smallpox. A special to The Globe from Worcester says that in a letter received there from Rev. D. F. McGillicuddy, the deaths of nine persons are mentioned. Of these Mrs. A. S. Lowell of Worcester died of pneumonia. A letter from Mrs. Hovey, an excursionist, mentioned the death of a banker of Genesee Falls, N. Y., and that eight persons had been left ill in Rome.

Strike of Railway Telegraphers.

Atlanta, April 13.—The threatened strike of the telegraphers and other station employes of the Southern railway and Alabama Great Southern railway, which has been pending for several months, came to a head here yesterday, when President Powell of the Order of Railway Telegraphers called on the telegraphers to quit work. The trouble commenced early last fall when the telegraphers of each division appointed a committee to go before the division superintendents and ask a settlement of certain grievances. Hearings, they say, were refused them. Reports received at strike headquarters are said to be very satisfactory. Railroad officials say the strike has caused them no inconvenience and has not interfered with traffic.

Strength of Troops In Philippines

Washington, April 13.—Adjutant General Corbin has prepared a statement showing that the strength of the troops in the Philippines on April 1 was 63,585 officers and men, being an increase of 308 since March 1. This increase was due to the arrival of recruits.

For Use of Naval Militia.

Washington, April 13.—The auxiliary cruiser Prairie is now being put in shape for use as a training ship for the naval militia during the coming summer. She has been ordered to sail from New York for New Orleans to take the Louisiana naval militia aboard.

Hall Will Be Ready For Convention.

Kansas City, April 13.—The sub-committee of the national Democratic committee has formally decided to let Kansas City retain the national convention in July, the local committees having made satisfactory promises of a hall.

Extensive Japanese Immigration.

Victoria, B. C., April 13.—Five Oriental steamers are due here within three weeks. They are bringing more than 2000 Japanese immigrants, while 2000 have landed during the past 30 days.

Profits Go to Patriotic Fund.

St. John's, April 13.—The steamer Esquimaux arrived yesterday from the seal fishery with 22,000 seals. Her owner, Barclay Walker of Liverpool, will give the profits of the voyage to the British patriotic fund.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

George Motley, treasurer of the Appleton mills of Lowell, Mass., from 1867 to 1874, died in that city, aged 91. He was a native of Portland, Me., and had attained some prominence as a literateur.

The navy department has practically decided to put out of commission in the harbor of Manila, the monitors Monterey and Monadnock, releasing the crews for service on other vessels, where they are badly needed.

The amount of bonds so far exchanged for the new 2-percents is $234,000,850, of which $32,410,650 were from individuals and institutions other than national banks.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller announce the engagement of their daughter, Alta, to E. P. Prentice of Chicago.

The Spanish government has offered to sell the floating steel drydock at Havana for the sum of $200,000.

A statement issued by the postoffice department shows that there has been an increase of $2,759,415 in the value of postage stamps, postal cards, etc., issued during the three months ending March 31, as compared with a similar period of last year.

Oliver Tobin and Gilbert Browning, students at Phillips Andover academy, who were taken into custody at Andover, Mass., on suspicion of having rung in false alarms of fire, were found not guilty.

Worth Reading.

To the Editor:

I think it my duty to inform your readers of a remedy that should be in every household.

I was a martyr to Dyspepsia and Constipation and tried everything in vain. In despair I bought a ten cent package of the U. S. Army & Navy Tablets, 17 East 14th St., New York, and in three days I felt better and afterwards I bought a twenty-five cent package and now I am completely cured. Your druggist can and must get it for you.

THE LIFE OF COL. PARKER.

He Gave Quincy Renown for Her Public Schools.

Superintendent of Schools from April 1875 to April 1880.

Quincy Teachers Association to Observe the 25th Anniversary Next Week.

The Quincy Teachers Association will next week have a two days celebration of the 25th anniversary of the election of Col. Parker as Superintendent of Schools of Quincy, as noted elsewhere in this issue. A sketch of his life and achievements will be of interest:

Francis Wayland Parker was born in the village of Piscataquog, town of Bedford, New Hampshire, on the 9th of October, 1837. The little, brown, unpainted house in which he was born, stood opposite the mansion of General Frederick Stark, grandson of General John Stark, the Revolutionary hero. Squog, as the little village is familiarly called, was absorbed by the neighboring city of Manchester, the date of whose beginning is the same as that of Colonel Parker's birth.

Colonel Parker's ancestry is traced back into the early Colonial and Revolutionary periods of our history. His great-great grandfather, Major John Goff, was an officer in the Revolutionary War. The famous Colonel John Goff, the father of Major John Goff, was the earliest settler in Manchester. Goff's Falls and Goffstown were named for him. He was a famous hunter, and an officer in the Siege of Louisburg. He took an active part in the French and Indian War. Although too old to take an active part in the Revolution, Colonel John Goff trained General John Stark and General Sullivan in military tactics and prepared them for their duties as officers. The family of Goff is supposed to be closely allied to the family of Goff the Regicide, whom Walter Scott has made famous.

Col. Parker's grandfather, William Parker, was the founder of the village of Squog, which owes its origin to rafting and boating upon the Merrimac river, the mouth of the river Piscataquog furnishing good building places for rafts and landing places for boats. William Parker was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He was a drummer under General John Stark, at Bunker Hill.

In every strain of Colonel Parker's heredity, there are ministers and teachers. Three of his ancestors, a Rand, and a Goff, and a Parker, lie buried on Copp's Hill, Boston, the graveyard of the Old North Church. They were all members of Cotton Mather's Church. His maternal grandfather, Jonathan Rand, was the first recorded teacher of Old Derryfield, former name of the present city of Manchester. His mother, Milly Rand, was a teacher, and it was said of her that she teacher. His material great-grandfather was a graduate of Harvard College, a class-mate of John Hancock, and for years Librarian of Harvard College. His uncle John Rand was a famous portrait painter, and inventor of the metallic tube for holding paints and oils, now in general use.

Colonel Parker owes his name, Francis Wayland, to the fact that his family were steadfast adherents to the Baptist faith, of which the celebrated President of Brown University was an exponent.

Francis attended the village school of Squog at three years of age; he could read before he entered school. He steadily worked his way up to a place in the Academy in his native village at the age of seven years. When eight years of age he studied Smith's Arithmetic, Roswell Smith's

THE LIFE OF COL. PARKER.

Geography, had been through Colburn's Arithmetic, and read in Porter's Rhetorical Reader.

His father, Robert Parker, a cabinet maker, noted in all the country round for his excellent work, died when his little boy was but six years of age. At eight years of age, Francis was taken from school and bound out to William Moore of Goffstown, where he spent five years working upon the farm and attending school only some eight or nine weeks each winter. Colonel Parker, in his lectures, describes this life upon the farm as the best part of his education. He has often said that it was extremely fortunate that he was taken from school and placed upon a farm where he had an opportunity to study geography and all the sciences, in a very practical way. He did not know that he was studying these sciences, but found it out after twenty years of experience in teaching.

After working five years upon the farm, his became so strong that he left the farm, when thirteen years of age, with little or no money at his command, and attended the Academy at Mt. Vernon, N. H. There he sawed wood, varnished boxes, and did chores, to gain money enough to pay his board. Like many New England boys, he worked in summer on a farm and with the money earned attended school in winter.

When he was sixteen years of age, he attended the Hopkinton Academy, which was then under the direction of Dyer H. Sanborn, and that winter, 1854-5, taught school at Corser Hill, Boscawan, N. H., now called Webster. Here, the youthful teacher, at a salary of fifteen dollars a month, had a school of some seventy-five pupils, many of them older than himself, and quite a number of them better educated. The following winter he taught school near his home, in Auburn, N. H. His success in Auburn was so great that he was employed to teach in this town for several winters. His salary the first winter was eighteen dollars, including board, and he had the experience of "boarding 'round."

He continued to teach school, work on the farm, and attend academies, until he was twenty-one years of age. When twenty-one, he taught in the village of Hinsdale, N. H., and from that place he was called to the head of the Grammar School of his native village, Piscataquog. From there, in 1858, he went to Carrollton, Green Co., Illinois, where he took the principalship of the only school of the place, high grammar and primary. His experiences in the Carrollton School are very interesting. He had in one room some one hundred and twenty-five pupils, ranging in age from twelve to twenty-five years, with one assistant. Although two of his predecessors had been driven from the school, by the violence of the pupils, Colonel Parker remained in this school two years and

DID NOT STRIKE A BLOW.

The great Civil War broke out while he was at Carrollton. His desire to enter the service was so strong that he resigned his position, and after trying to enter service in Illinois, returned to New Hampshire and joined, as a private, the 4th New Hampshire Regiment, at Manchester. Before the regiment was mustered, he was made First-Lieutenant of Company E. In the following winter he was made Captain. The first three years of the war he spent on the South Atlantic coast at Hilton Head, Florida, Morris Island, Florida and Georgia. He was in the long Siege of Charleston.

In 1864, his Regiment was ordered North, and placed under General Butler at Bermuda Hundred. Colonel Parker was in several great battles during the long campaign of 1864. He lost twenty-eight men out of forty-two, at Drewry's bluff. His regiment joined General Grant at Cold Harbor, then returned and was in the Siege of Petersburg. After the Crater Fight, in which his Regiment lost fifty men, Captain Parker was put in command of his Regiment. At Deep Bottom, north of the James river, August 16, 1864, he was suddenly put in command of a brigade, and while engaged in repelling the fierce attacks of the enemy during a second charge, he was severely wounded in the chin and neck. This brought him near to death's door; for weeks he lay suffering in the hospital from a crushed windpipe. In the spring of 1864, his regiment counted one thousand men; at the last charge in the fall only forty men could be mustered.

In October 1864, he left the hospital and came home on furlough. He took part in the second Lincoln Campaign, and stumped the State of New Hampshire for the great President. He was married in December to Phene E. Hall, Bennington, N. H. He was promoted to the position of Lieutenant-Colonel and rejoined his regiment after the battle of Ft. Fisher, taking the place of Colonel Bell, who was killed in the first attack upon the stronghold.

His Regiment marched with the Army of the Ohio, under General Schofield, across North Carolina, meeting Sherman at Cox's Bridge. He was taken prisoner a little later in the spring and marched with General Johnston's Army to Greensburg, N. C., where he heard the glories news of the surrender of General Lee, and witnessed the collapsed of the Rebellion. He was afterward made Brevet-Colonel for bravery at Deep Bottom.

Colonel Parker left the Army when his Regiment was mustered out, August, 1865. When he returned home, to Manchester, N. H., he was received with open arms by the citizens, and avenues of success, political and financial, were open to him; but he had made

TEACHING HIS CHOSEN PROFESSION.

In fact, he says that he does not remember the day when he did not believe that he should be a teacher, and putting aside all offers of political preferment, he asked for and obtained the position of principal of the Grammar school of Manchester. He held this position for three years at a salary of eleven hundred dollars per year. Notwithstanding his strenuous efforts he was drawn into politics. He made up his mind that he could not be a politician and at the same time be an efficient teacher.

He applied to Governor Fred Smith, a particular friend of his, and through his influence obtained the position of principal of a District school in Dayton, Ohio, in 1868. Here he began some work in the direction of reform in education; he studied the principles and methods of primary teaching. He was strongly opposed by the people and the teachers, but the Board of Education had faith enough in him to appoint him principal of the first Normal Training school of Dayton, Ohio, and in 1871 he was made assistant superintendent.

Colonel Parker's wife died in Minneapolis, in 1871. He resigned his position as assistant superintendent of schools, and went to Europe for the purpose of studying the science of education. Colonel Parker found himself, as has already been stated, very strongly opposed by the teachers of the city of Dayton, and the State of Ohio,—so much so indeed, that he had great doubts as to whether he was right or not. He decided to find out, if possible, whether his line of advance was the right one. With this in view, he gave up his position and went to Europe to ascertain, by close study, whether there is a science of education, and what great thinkers had done in this direction. In 1872 he entered King William's University at Berlin, where he spent two and one-half years in the study of Psychology, Philosophy, History and Pedagogics. Under a private teacher he took a two years' course in the Hegelian philosophy. During his vacations he travel over the continent, visiting schools and studying the art, geography and history of the various nations visited. He returned to America in 1875. He was of Schools of Quincy, Massachusetts, and began his work April 20th, 1875. Colonel Parker was exceedingly fortunate in his position in Quincy; the town had never before had a superintendent of schools, but had one of the best and strongest of school boards that was ever elected. John Quincy Adams, Charles Francis Adams, and James H. Slade were the principal members. They put the schools and teachers entirely under Colonel Parker's direction and supported him in a very hearty and earnest way.

In entering upon his work in Quincy, Colonel Parker had no notion of making any particular changes or of opposing in any way the general work done in the New England States. He simply tried to apply well-known principles, and to train his teachers. The result is well known: during the period of three years of 1878-9-80, over thirty thousand visitors inspected the schools of Quincy. Charles Francis Adams wrote two pamphlets in regard to the work done. Colonel Parker has always asserted that he was introducing nothing new, no new principles or methods; he was simply applying, carrying out, the recommendations of the great educators of the past,—Comenius, Pestalozzi and Froebel.

In 1880 he was made one of the Supervisors of Schools of Boston, and was placed in charge of the primary schools of the North End of South Boston. His work in then "Athens of America" met with fierce and prolonged opposition of the teachers, especially of the principals of the schools; but notwithstanding this opposition, he was re-elected for a second term. The position of Supervisor was not, to say the least, what he wanted. He wanted to come in closer contact with the schools, that he might verify the suspicions of better things which he thought were in store for the children.

He was offered the superintendency of schools of Philadelphia, but declined to accept it. He was then offered the position of Principal of the Cook County Normal School at a salary of five thousand dollars a year. The Cook County Normal School had had a struggling existence for fifteen years; it was born in the travail of a bitter fight, and lived only by the persistent energy of and indomitable love of its Principal, Dr. D. S. Wentworth. Colonel Parker's friends, especially Charles Francis Adams, opposed very strongly his acceptance of this position; but he looked upon Chicago as the "storm centre" of our civilization; he could be brought close to children in the Practice School; and he could enter upon that which he believed to be the greatest need of the country,—the education and TRAINING OF TEACHERS.

Just before entering on his new work in Chicago, he married Mrs. M. Frank Stuart, a former pupil and assistant of Lewis Monroe, and the first assistant in the Boston School of Oratory. Mrs. Parker was one of the leading exponents of the Delsarte System of Expression. She has been in deep sympathy with her husband and has contributed not a little to the Doctrine of Concentration that is now working out in the methods of the Cook County Normal School.

Colonel Parker began his duties in the Cook County Normal School, January 1st, 1883. The opposition begun with his predecessor, has been continued throughout the thirteen years of his principalship of the Cook County Normal School. He has been bitterly opposed by the conservatism of good and honest citizens in his new and scientific methods of teaching; he has also been more bitterly opposed by the malice of a few miserable politicians whose chief duty seems to be to wreck and destroy all effects of educational progress,—men who make teachers cowards. The County School Board who engaged Colonel Parker, of which Washington Hesing, the present postmaster of Chicago, Colonel Henry Donovan, and Dr. Champlin were members, heartily supported him in his work.

It would exceed the limits of this short article to give any account of the struggle for the training of teachers in the Cook County Normal School. Some five years ago, supported by a thoughtful Board of Education, Colonel Parker secured an excellent corps of teachers and began to develop a theory of education, which has now received the name of Theory of Concentration.

Colonel Parker is the author of "Talks on Teaching," "Practical Teacher," "How to Study Geography," "Outlines in Geography," Tract on "Spelling," and "Talks on Pedagogics." He has visited every state in the Union, and lectured before institutes and conventions in most of them. A few of his lectures may here be mentioned: "The Child and Nature," "The Child and Man," "Artist or Artisan,—Which?" "Home and School," "The Ideal School," "Education and Democracy." He is also the editor of an unique publication called the "Cook County Normal School Envelope," which shows the development of Concentration in the Cook County Normal School, month by month.

Colonel Parker disclaims utterly all pretensions to having found any new methods or principles of education. His only claim has been and is that he is trying himself to study the great subject of education and its application in the common schools, and to lead other teachers to study this great subject. He has a firm and unalterable faith in the common school system; he believes that the common schools will be brought to a point of efficiency equal to the demands of this great Republic; that the salvation and perpetuity of the Republic depend upon the proper education of the children

Will Appear in the Parker Illustrated Edition of the Quincy Patriot April 21, 1900

Worth Reading.

To the Editor:

I think it my duty to inform your readers of a remedy that should be in every household.

I was a martyr to Dyspepsia and Constipation and tried everything in vain. In despair I bought a ten cent package of the U. S. Army & Navy Tablets, 17 East 14th St., New York, and in three days I felt better and afterwards I bought a twenty-five cent package and now I am completely cured. Your druggist can and must get it for you.

EDUCATIONAL.

"The riches of the Commonwealth
Are free, strong minds, and hearts of health
And more to her than gold or grain,
The cunning hand and cultured brain."

The celebration at Quincy on April 20 is to be more than a remembrance of the fact that Colonel Parker was elected superintendent of the Quincy schools twenty-five years ago, it is to be the recognition of the way in which he has been led into the ability to meet the great professional opportunity of the country at the Chicago Institute, which opens on July 2, with a grand summer session.—Transcript.

If children are daily surrounded by those influences that elevate them, that make them clean and well ordered, that make them love flowers and pictures, and proper decorations, they at least reach that degree of culture where nothing else will please them. When they grow up and have homes of their own, they must have them clean, neat, bright with pictures, and fringed with shade trees and flowers, for they have been brought up to be happy in no other environment.

—Henry T. Bailey.

Mr. Emerson's remark that the appearance of a building or a house without shrubs, trees, or flowers made him suspicious of its inmates, holds good in this case. A person looking for a home or place to bring up his family ought to have every good reason to be not only suspicious of, but very likely to avoid, a neighborhood that possesses such indifferent school accommodations. Make your school buildings and school yards attractive and beautiful, treat them as you do the best house and grounds in the village, and see what the future will do for your village or community — Ross Turner.

"It is not long since the population of this country was a rural population bringing to its tasks bodies and minds strengthened by the sturdy discipline of the farm; life to the pupils of that generation was one steady round of labor from early morn until the close of day, the monotony of which was relieved only by the few months each year devoted to school tasks; home life was simple, healthful, its recreations few. Today we live in cities, and for most children the tasks assigned by the school constitute their only labor; to most pupils school has come to mean work rather than play, business rather than recreation, and interest therein is not as spontaneous as before. Moreover a score of outside attractions unite with the school in claiming a part of the pupil's time and effort; he must take music lessons, he must learn to dance, he must go to the theatre and to parties; should disaster overtake the child who thus meets the requirements of present day life the school is held solely responsible for all the evil consequences.—C. A. Brodeur.

"The indoor work," says Col. Parker of the Chicago Institute, "will be principally in the forenoon. The afternoon will be occupied chiefly with outdoor sports and exercises under the supervision of the teachers." This statement is noteworthy. There is too much book work still required of children, and the book work required is generally beyond the years of the average child. In every country town as many afternoons as possible in the favorable seasons of the year should be spent out of doors in nature's great play-ground. Here the boy on the farm and the girl in the country home find the influences that give to their natures — moral, mental, physical—a force and robustness too often lacking in their city cousins. Refinement, alas! is not always synonymous with strength. Anything, therefore, that will give the city boy or girl into the hands of Mother Nature a few hours every day is a desideratum. This is a thought that we respectfully throw out for the consideration of our supervisors of instruction. -- Popular Educator.

It is not the amount of study that worries the school children. It is the kind of study, 8.45 A. M., the school atmosphere, and I regret to say that it is too often the fault of the teacher. The teacher who is cordially disliked by the majority of her pupils from term to term should leave the profession. She is doing more harm than good. The pupil to do good work must be happy. The child who loves his school, who is interested in his studies, never complains of too much work. If a boy could tackle the multiplication table or a geography lesson with the same zeal and earnestness in which he learns to ride a wheel he would accomplish his eight years of school work in one-third the time and with no worry. The teacher who has the ability to inspire in her pupils a love of study, a desire to learn; to imbue him with high ideals, so that he will study and learn his subject, not merely for the purpose of reciting, is the true teacher. Even high educational qualifications, professional pedagogics and professional training sink into insignificance before this God-like attribute; those teachers, like precious gems, are rare. — San Jose Report.

A good solid common-school education will in the career of every man and woman, in all that they do, and whatever they do, keep alive that intellectual life so indispensable to the citizens of a republic. In a monarchy, it is not so much matter, if there be no intellectual life among its artisans and laboring classes; but inasmuch as a republic contains within itself the elements of its own destruction, unless its citizens be virtuous, it is all important to consider that a well-balanced education greatly helps a person to react against the conditions in which he may be placed, to assert his personality, and to act on principle. It is not enough, by no means enough in our free land, to enable him merely to exploit these conditions for his own benefit. The danger is imminent, lest at this stage in America's development, we may be too much influenced by those who would set a commercial value upon the studies pursued in the common schools, hand rank them according to their bread-and-butter results merely.

It is not sufficient then that we preserve our public schools, but that we preserve them from their own zealous friends who would make out of them either embryonic academies, finishing schools, trade schools, or something else than the place for all young citizens to be drilled and well grounded in those fundamentals that alone can line at the bottom of all success in life, and which from that necessary intellectual basis upon which all the citizens must stand, whatever be the way that they spend their time or earn their living.—W. L. Perrin.

BY VOTE OF PEOPLE.

House Favors Constitutional Amendment Regarding Election of Senators.

Burton Objects to Consideration of the Canal Bill.

Does It Upon His Own Responsibility, and Gives His Reasons Therefor.

Washington, April 14.—The house yesterday took up the Corliss bill providing for a constitutional amendment for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. The majority resolution left it optional with the states whether their senators should be elected directly or by the legislatures. The minority resolution made it incumbent that each state elect by direct vote. The minority resolution, which was offered as a substitute, was voted upon first, and was carried by an overwhelming vote—ayes 135, noes 30. Mr. Corliss tried unavailingly to get an aye and no vote, but only nine members seconded the demand. The vote was then taken upon the adoption of the amendment, the whole house rising in support of the demand. The resolution was adopted—240 to 15.

By the terms of the resolution the amendment to be submitted to the legislatures is as follows:

"The senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each state who shall be elected by a direct vote of the people thereof for a term of six years, and each senator shall have one vote. A plurality of the votes cast for candidates for senator shall be sufficient to elect. The electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislatures, respectively.

"When a vacancy happens, by death, resignation or otherwise, in the representation of any state in the senate, the same shall be filled for the unexpired term thereof in the same manner as is provided for the election of senators in paragraph one; provided, that the executive thereof may make temporary appointment until the next general or special election, in accordance with the statutes or constitution of such state."

Immediately after this vote was announced, Representative Hepburn asked unanimous consent to take up the Nicaraguan canal bill on May 1. Representative Burton (Rep.) of Ohio objected, and the request was refused. Mr. Burton's objection to the consideration of the bill attracted much attention, and he explained his course in the following authorized statement:

"I wish it distinctly understood the objection is made upon my own responsibility. Objection to the pending bill was made because:

"First, it abrogates a treaty solemnly entered into, and now in full force. While its abrogation could be accomplished by the passage of this bill, such action is without precedent in our relations with foreign powers; it is also unnecessary, because the same result could be obtained by the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, a measure which though much misunderstood is, nevertheless, a triumph of diplomacy.

"Second, it commits us to a fortified canal, instead of a neutral canal. A neutral canal is not only in accordance with the general tenor of our policy, but would best subserve our own interests.

"Third, there are also serious objections to the present consideration of this bill, which might not exist at a later time. (1.) It is desirable that the present commission, the first which has given comprehensive and complete consideration to the subject of the construction of an international canal, should complete its work before a route is selected. (2) In the same line, it is desirable that provisional treaties be made with the countries controlling each of the proposed routes, viz:

"Costa Rica and Nicaragua on the one hand, and Colombia on the other hand. To pass a bill committing the United States to either of these routes would prevent us from obtaining as favorable terms for right of way and control as could readily be obtained in case the question of the route should be postponed.

"No loss could result from a postponement until the next session, because extended examination will be required before a definite route can be safely and judiciously selected, even if the general route should be chosen. Some 500 men are now at work making examinations and explorations. This work, which is absolutely essential before the canal is commenced, will require considerable time.

"There is no desire on the part of those who are opposing the present consideration of this bill to oppose the construction of a canal. The administration and both political parties are committed to the early beginning of the work. But it is desirable that all necessary preliminaries in the way of examinations and engineer features, settlements of diplomatic questions and securing the most favorable privileges shall be thoroughly attended to. It has been proposed that an early date in the next session be fixed for the consideration of the bill. To this I do not believe any objection would be made."

Following Mr. Burton's notice of objection, Mr. Hepburn took steps to overcome this opposition. A petition to the committee on rules was prepared, requesting that body to fix a time for taking up the canal bill. Mr. Hepburn circulated the petition on the Republican side and Mr. Adamson circulated the petition on the Democratic side.

Candidates to Meet at Chicago.

Chicago, April 14.—Admiral Dewey and William J. Bryan will meet on May 1 for the first time since Dewey announced he was a presidential candidate, Bryan having cancelled previous engagements in order to be present. Both the guests of the Lakeside club said the meeting would give them great pleasure.

SCULLY APPEALS FROM DECREE.

Man Who Eloped With Heiress Thinks Court's Decision Was Unwarranted.

Fall River, Mass., April 14.—Another step was taken in the famous Scully case yesterday, when F. A. Pease, acting for Philip Scully, the separated husband of Mrs. Jessie Barnard Scully, filed a demurrer and appeal from the decision of the probate court six weeks ago, granting Mrs. Scully the right to live apart from her husband and the custody of her three children. Scully claims that at the time of the granting of the decree he and his wife were living together; that the decree was not warranted by the evidence, and that he did not commit the offenses alleged against him in the petition of his wife for separation.

Scully is now very ill in the Rhode Island hospital at Providence, having been taken there from the Barnard mansion here a few weeks since, where his wife had him taken in after the court had granted the decree. The case will come to trial at the next term of the superior court if Scully recovers, and is likely to develop some sensational testimony.

Scully was formerly coachman for Mrs. Scully's grandmother, a very wealthy and eccentric lady, and eloped with her grandchild 10 years ago. Upon Mrs. Barnard's death Mrs. Scully became heiress to a large fortune.

For Bryan and Sixteen to One.

Portland, Ore., April 14.—The state conventions of the Democrats and Populists, after being in session for two days, effected a fusion of the two parties and adjourned last evening. The silver Republicans also joined in the fusion movement, though they held no convention. Both the Democrats and the Populists endorsed Bryan for the presidential nomination. The fusion platform as adopted reaffirms in its entirety the Chicago platform of 1896, and the money plank adopted by the fusionists of Oregon in 1898, which declares for free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

Bay State Legislature.

Boston, April 14.—The senate yesterday voted, 15 to 8, with 8 pairs, to reconsider the vote whereby the Cape Cod canal bill was refused engrossment Thursday. All the senators are thus placed on record for or against the bill.

The following matters were passed to be engrossed: Bills relative to the employment of children; relative to the watering of streets in towns; to authorize the Boston Baptist Social union to hold additional real and personal estate; relative to construction of sewers in Revere; relative to places in which co-operative banking business shall be conducted.

Council Overruled It's Executive.

Indianapolis, April 14.—The members of the International Typographical union have had a narrow escape from being embroiled in the lockouts and strikes so general in the other trades throughout the country. President Donnelly, having learned that the Typothetae, the employing printers' organization, was giving aid to its Kansas City membership in their fight with the Kansas City unions, advocated the calling out of the job printers employed by members of the Typothetae in all the large cities. The executive council repudiated his proposition by a vote of 4 to 1.

Verdict of $50.000 In Breach of Promise.

Colorado Springs, Col., April 14.—In the breach of promise suit brought by Miss Nellie Lewis against President Sam Strong of the Free Coinage and other Cripple Creek gold mining companies, the jury yesterday awarded the plaintiff $50,000 damages. Strong was married Feb. 8 to Miss Regina Neville of Altman. Miss Lewis' suit was No. 2. No. 1 was brought by Miss Vance of Goldfield for $250,000 on the day of the marriage, papers being served immediately following the ceremony. It is to be tried soon.

Carelessly Handled a Revolver.

Brookline, Mass., April 14.—Roger Cutler, 10 years old, was accidentally shot by a companion, William F. Stanford, about the same age, while the boys were trying to remove the cylinder from a loaded revolver, yesterday, in Brookline. The bullet entered the neck, making a large wound near a vital spot. The victim is in a dangerous condition.

Strike of Tug Firemen Threatened.

Cleveland, April 14.—Unless the tug companies grant the demands of the firemen for more pay and shorter hours before Monday next, the men declare they will go on strike and tie up all the harbor tugs at all lower lake ports. They ask for $50 per month, and also that two firemen be employed on each tug, instead of one as at present.

Stabbed In the Abdomen.

Boston, April 14.—Peter J. Dolan, 36 years old, was taken to the city hospital Friday night, suffering from a stab wound in the abdomen, and is in a very critical condition. He was found in a doorway in South Boston, but there is nothing known as to his assailant, as the injured man is in no condition to tell his story.

Canadian Operators' Demands Granted.

Ottawa, April 14.—The demands of the telegraph operators on the Intercolonial railway for recognition of the Order of Railway Telegraphers and the granting of 15 holidays to each operator during the year have been conceded by the minister of railways and endorsed by the government.

A Warning to "Heavy" Smokers.

New York, April 14.—Thomas McCoy, at one time reputed to have $500,000, died yesterday, penniless, a victim of cigars. In the latter years of his life he smoked from 50 to 100 Havana cigars daily. This resulted in cancer of the tongue and throat, which caused his death.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

There have been showers in the Atlantic states and upper Ohio valley, snow and rain in the lake regions, and showers in the extreme west. Temperatures have risen gradually, and, as a rule, decidedly, east of the Rocky mountains, except near the Atlantic coast. It will be fair and warmer in New England. On the Atlantic coast westerly winds will shift to fresh southerly.

Good Afternoon.

The more clearly the Porto Rico bill is understood the plainer it becomes that the republicans in Congress did the proper thing in passing it.

Just why Hon. R. E. Pattison, of Pennsylvania, should be boomed for the second place on the Bryan ticket is not apparent: he has no barrel, and his State will go against Bryan by a majority of six figures.

We are very much obliged to those who send us news and sign their names. News sent unsigned we know not who to thank, and do not care to print.

The anniversary of the election of Col. Francis W. Parker as superintendent of the public schools of Quincy promises to bring Quincy into National prominence quite as much as did the "revival of education in 1875." Then the town became famous because of the Quincy system and visitors came to the number of 10,000 in one year to see for themselves what the new education really was.

Col. Parker has sought new fields and continued prominent in educational matters in the country, and Quincy still has the inspiration which he gave us, and has continued to progress. In 1875-80 Quincy almost took first rank in the country for its public schools; while today they are better than they then were, other cities and towns have been inspired, and with our methods and many teachers trained in Quincy they have overtaken us. But Quincy, is proud of the part it has taken in the advancement of education in the United States, and proposes to continue near the top.

The 25th anniversary of the election of Col. Parker in Quincy will be celebrated by the Quincy Teachers' Association on Friday and Saturday of next week, April 20 and 21.

Friday evening there will be a meeting in the historic old First church, at which educators of National reputation will speak. It will open at 8 o'clock, when Mr. R. S. Atkins, the president of the association, will introduce as the president of the evening, the Hon. Charles H. Porter, chairman of the School Committee. Mayor Hall will extend a greeting from the city. Twenty minute addresses will follow, Dr. William T. Harris, Washington, D. C.; Professor Nicholas Murray Butler, Columbia University, New York City; Superintendent Orville T. Bright, Cook County, Illinois; and Supervisor Robert C. Metcalf, Boston, speaking of Col. Parker's work from a pedagogical point of view, as influencing the education of the United States, the State of Massachusetts, and the great West. Remarks by Col. Parker will close the meeting.

There will be no reserved seats at this meeting, except for a few out of town guests who will arrive by the train just before 8 o'clock. Everybody is invited and welcomed. There will be no tickets and no admission fee.

On Saturday, at 2 P. M., a complimentary banquet will be given Col. Parker at the Vendome, Boson. In addition to the speakers at Quincy, the following have been invited to respond to toasts: Edwin W. Marsh and James H. Slade of Quincy, I. Freeman Hall of North Adams, George Walton of Newton and others. Supt. Lull will preside and introduce ex-Supt. George I. Aldrich as toastmaster.

The next issue of the Quincy Patriot will be a double number, and a souvenir of the anniversary. Four whole pages will be devoted to the occasion. There will be a sketch of Col. Parker, about twenty opinions of educators in different parts of the country on his work, and historical matter. The issue will be profusely illustrated with half tones of all the Quincy Superintendents, members of the School Committee, principals of our schools, teachers long in service, and others. Any wishing large numbers of this edition should place orders on Monday or Tuesday next week.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ The revival of "Sapho" in New York indicates that the play draws because the actress depicts the wanton, and not because it is good drama. Notwithstanding the verdict of the jury, "Sapho" is clearly enough not a play which does credit to the stage.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ Score one for a condemnation of the buying of a senatorial election. The result should be salutary, and it should have an influence on future elections. But it does not cover the entire ground. There are many suspicious cases which never have been attacked, and which if probed, would make some senators uneasy. The millionaire business has been altogeher too prominent in our highest legislative branch. The Clark case displays a "cautionary signal."—Lowell Courier.

QUINCY'S CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.

Hon. John Shaw Who Secured Protection for Quincy Granite May Run in Tenth District.

An excellent half tone of another Quincy gentleman adorns the first page of the Boston Home Journal today, a smaller production of which accompanies this sketch.

Hon. John Shaw of this city was born in 1841 at London, England. Mr. Shaw disavows all responsibility for the selection of his birthplace; his Americanism is of the sturdiest type. He came to this country with his parents at the tender age of seven and was educated in the public schools of Boston.

His first employment, as a mere lad, was in the jewelry business and he remained long enough in it to master the watch-making trade. In 1864 he first became connected with his present business—the wholesale chemical and dyestuff trade, entering the employment of Messrs. D. R. Whitney & Co.

In 1879 Mr. Shaw formed a partnership with Dr. H. M. Johnson and purchased the Bayside Chemical Works. When, some five years ago, Dr. Johnson's failing health warned him that he must retire from the partnership, after sixteen years of successful business the present firm of John Shaw & Co. was established. Mr. George E. Pfaffmann, Mr. Shaw's son-in-law, a Park Commissioner of Quincy, is the junior member of the firm. The office and warehouse are at 40 India Wharf and the works at South Boston. Their business extends throughout the country and in building it up during the past twenty years, Mr. Shaw has developed an unusually large acquaintance.

Mr. Shaw resides in Quincy, where he has lived for more than thirty years, is a member of the First Unitarian Parish, and is widely known as a public spirited citizen. He was a member of the first Board of Aldermen in 1879. From 1889 to 1892 he was Commodore of the Quincy Yacht club and during that time became owner of the championship winner Mab," built for him by the Herreshoffs. This yacht was a pioneer in its class, being the first "light weight construction" sailing yacht which came to these waters. Subsequently Mr. Shaw was made an honorary member of the club and presented with an engrossed and illuminated series of appreciative resolutions.

In 19892 Mr. Shaw was an alternate delegate to the Republican National Convention at Minnseapolis.

In the campaign that followed, he was again signally honored, being chosen as a presidential elector on the Harrison and Reid ticket. His vote was the largest polled in the state and was a flattering evidence of his wide spread popularlity. The present Secretary of the Navy, Hon. John D. Long, presided over the electoral college in this state and Mr. Shaw was asked by his associates to designate the messenger to take the ballots to Washington. He named one of his neighbors, Col. C. H. Porter of Quincy.

Protection is sometimes said to be enlightened selfishness. Mr. Shaw is an ardent protectionist, but his interest in the policy is not confined to securing a favorable tariff for his own business. Col. Albert Clarke, Secretary of the Home Market club, no mean critic of tariff matters, says that Mr. Shaw did more for the granite industry when the present tariff act was before Congress than any other man with the possible exception of Mr. Dingley himself. Mr. Shaw was repeatedly in Washington during the pendency of the tariff legislation and his efforts to secure a more favorable granite schedule were unremitting and finally successful. Apparently the Granite Asscciation of Quincy indorse Col. Clarke's views, for they elected Mr. Shaw an honorary member of their Association and presented him with an engrossed series of resolutions expressing their thanks for his efficient service. Mr. Shaw also served for some time with conspicuous success as Chairman of the Tariff Committee of the New England Drysalters club, which is the organization of the dyestuff and chemical trade. On the eve of his departure for Europe last year the club presented him with a Knights Templar watch charm, set with diamonds, in token of their high regard and appreciation of his services. He is now president of the club.

Mr. Shaw is a member of the Home Market club and one of the Board of Directors, also holds membership in Aleppo Temple, the Massachusetts club, Norfolk club, Massachusetts Republican club, Hull-Mass. Yacht club, the Victorian club, and is a life member in the Veteran Odd Fellows Association.

It is hardly surprising that a man so widely and favorably known in business and political circles should be mentioned in connection with the Republican nomination for Congress in the tenth district this year. The suggestion has already met with gratifying response in many quarters where the paramount importance of a new candidate with an unassailable record is recognized. Thus far he has been nothing more than acquiescent but if he should finally conclude to inject some of his splendid energy into this canvass, it is safe to say that even the "fighting tenth," always debatable ground, would be guaranteed one of the most interesting and memorable campaigns in its history. Should the nomination be tendered to him, the chances of Republican success would be very bright.

Mr. Shaw is a man of superb physique and untiring energy, generous to a fault and intensely loyal to his friends. It is generally conceded that Mr. Shaw's training would make him a particularly well equipped representative at Washington, where he would start with the immense advantage of the personal and political friendship of many leaders of the Republican party in state and nation.

DOGS MUST BE LICENSED

On or Before APRIL 30,

Or the Owners or Keepers thereof

LIABLE TO A FINE!

Extracts from the Laws of this Commonwealth.

Every owner or keeper of a dog of three months old or over shall annually on or before the THIRTIETH DAY OF APRIL, cause it to be Registered, Numbered, Described and Licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city or town wherein said dog is kept, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

An owner of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of the ensuing May; and any person becoming the owner or keeper of a dog after the first day of May, not duly licensed, shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided in the preceding section.

The fee for every license shall be two dollars for a MALE and five dollars for a FEMALE dog.

Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit FIFTEEN DOLLARS, five dollars of which shall be paid to the complainant and ten dollars to the treasurer of the county in which the dog is kept.

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number of dogs so kept exceeds five, the fee shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper, under the age of six months.

Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed, which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day in April in any year, shall, whenever it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May, as provided in Sec. 80 of Chap. 102 of the Public Statutes, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

A SETTLEMENT.

Cutters Said to be Anxious fo One.

Regard It Useless to Hol Out Longer.

Expect to Bring About Agree ment Next Week.

There are rumors that the granit cutters are now ready for a settlemen of the labor trouble existing in thi city since the first of March.

They are said to realize that it i useless to hold out for 35 cents pe hour, and they realize the injury to th city and the folly of continuing th strike longer.

It is said the members of the Union will make an effort to bring about settlement next week, and all Quinc hopes they may be successful.

Today was pay day, and the me received their dollar a day strike pay but this does not satisfy them, and they are not anxious to prolong the vaca tion.

Good feeling has existed all through the differences; too good, some ou says, for if one side or the other ha got mad a settlement might have bee reached before.

It will be good Easter news, the pros pects of a settlement of the strike.

ROYAL
Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure

Makes hot breakfast-breads wholesome—no yeast germs, no alum. Makes cake, biscuit and pastry of superior fineness, flavor and delicacy. Makes food that will keep moist and sweet. Is most economical, because it is the purest and greatest in leavening strength. In the easy, expeditious preparation of the finer cakes and pastries appropriate to the season, Royal is indispensable.

Care must be taken to avoid baking powders made from alum. Such powders are sold cheap, because they cost but a few cents per pound. Not only will they spoil the cake, but alum is a corrosive acid, which taken in food means injury to health.

A SETTLEMENT.

Cutters Said to be Anxious for One.

Regard It Useless to Hold Out Longer.

Expect to Bring About Agreement Next Week.

There are rumors that the granite cutters are now ready for a settlement of the labor trouble existing in this city since the first of March.

They are said to realize that it is useless to hold out for 35 cents per hour, and they realize the injury to the city and the folly of continuing the strike longer.

It is said the members of the Union will make an effort to bring about a settlement next week, and all Quincy hopes they may be successful.

Today was pay day, and the men received their dollar a day strike pay, but this does not satisfy them, and they are not anxious to prolong the vacation.

Good feeling has existed all through the differences; too good, some one says, for if one side or the other had got mad a settlement might have been reached before.

It will be good Easter news, the prospects of a settlement of the strike.

Thayer Academy A. A.

What should be one of the prettiest base-ball games of the coming season in this town, will be played on French's common next Wednesday afternoon, April 18, between the Harvard freshman and the Thayer academy base-ball team.

The Thayer management is particularly fortunate in securing this game, and while the local boys of course have no hopes of winning, it is somewhat of an honor in itself to meet such opponents.

Thayer will have arrayed against her one of the best, if not the best, college pitchers in the country at the present time. Walter Clarkson, who unfortunately is not eligible for the Harvard varsity team this year, inasmuch as he is a special student.

What kind of a team Thayer will have this year cannot be ascertained as yet, but it undoubtedly will be on the average of last year's team.

Capt. Uniac is in fine form this year, and if he is able to pitch all of the games the outlook for the team will be very bright. He is, however, the only pitcher on the team.

W. W. Gallagher, L. W. Newell, E. T. Brigham, and M'Mahon, all members of last year's team, will undoubtedly regain their old positions this year. A hot fight is being made for the remaining four positions by about 15 candidates, the work of Buchstead, R. M. Gallagher, Borden, Carr, N. Hammond and Orcutt being most noticeable.

Thayer will meet Boston Latin school on the local grounds next Saturday, April 21.

The Parsuit of Knowledge.

On Thursday evening Mr. R. C. Allan delivered his lecture to the Quincy Band Literary society on the The subject, "The pursuit of knowledge."

Mr. Allan in a lengthy and thoughtful paper said, that in the whole scope of human activity there is no more satisfying pleasure than that to be found in the pursuit of useful knowledge. It clothes the aspirant with character and distinction, and its power for good is incalculable.

All kinds of knowledge are distinctly useful but perhaps to the average man, history and biograhy are the most fruitful and elevating. They show as in a mirror the gradual development of the better nature and qualities in man, and the process of organizing into the higher national life.

Genius and ability are much talked of as being superior mental endowments, possessed only by the few. Mediocrity and inferior mental qualities being the heritage of the many, without doubt there are exceptions, but the higher attainments along any line of pursuit is not so much the results of superior intellect as of persistent application.

Minute observation in our every-day walk in life is very essential to a true estimate of our surroundings, and should be sedulously practised and noted, for if our environments have much to do with the formation and quality of our character, we are in a measure responsible for these conditions around us.

The pursuit, however, is not enough. The organizing of knowledge with a view to its practical application in the affairs of life is of a paramount importance and should not be lost sight of during the process of assimmilation.

In pursuing the various paths that lead to a fullness of human knowledge, Mr. Allan contended that it is easily within the powers of the finite to discover the infinite, indeed; all knowledge is but as nothing if this object is not attained, and the most illustrious and masterful minds of the past are those who through the labor of acquiring all that is worth knowing here, have had a glimpse into that more glorious life that is to come.

Pursue the shining goddess in the paths that lead to righteous honor, but shun the devious ways that end where the bliss of ignorance is preferable to the folly of being wise.

An animated discussion followed the reading of the paper, and though Mr. Allan was largely sustained in his view, and handsomely complimented for his effort, he did not quite escape adverse criticism.

Next Thursday evening will be voluntary night, and there is much speculation as to what will turn up.

Commissioner Knowlton has commenced work rebuilding Furnace avenue. He also has a gang at work on the Milton end of Squantum street.

F. C. Perry, the artist, has been making some interior sketches of the First church for a Boston paper, to be used in connection with the Parker anniversary.

Rev. Edward Anderson preached at the East Milton Congregational church on Wednesday evening. The sermon was a strong one enjoyed by his audience.

Webster Davis paused in one of his pro-Boer lectures to say to an interrupter who asked him to attack the administration: "You let the administration alone and you will find that it is patriotic and will do its full duty".

Hazen E. Ricker has recently purchased the 21-foot Cape cat Goblin, from Harrison Square parties. He will use her as a pleasure boat, although she may enter some of the Quincy Yacht club races.

The City Council Committee on Finance met Friday evening and considered the Mayor's budget. Several of the department officials were before them to tell why they desired the amounts asked for.

The indications are that there will be considerable building at Houghs Neck this spring. Several new houses are already underway and others are talked of. Alterations will also be made to several of the cottages.

For the accommodation of those desiring to visit Nantasket beach and vicinity on Thursday, April 19, special trains will be run. Trains from Boston will leave Quincy at 9.35 A. M. for Pemberton and way stations. Returning leave Pemberton at 4.45 P. M., Nantasket at 5.00 and stopping at all way stations.

THE LORD OF LIFE.

Most glorious Lord of Life, that on this day
Didst make thy triumph over death and sin
And, having harrowed hell, didst bring away
Captivity thence captive, us to win;
This joyous day, dear Lord, with joy begin,
And that we, for whom thou didst sin,
May live forever in felicity!
And that thy love, we, weighing worthily,
May likewise love thee for the same again;
And for thy sake, that all like dear didst buy,
With love may one another entertain.
So let us love, dear love, like as we ought;
Love is the lesson which the Lord us taught.

XERXES.

AN EASTER SKETCH
BY ELSIE REASONER

Xerxes was tired. Xerxes was hungry. Stopping for a moment to rest, he sat down on the lower step of a brownstone front. It was a bright Easter morning, and Xerxes, despite his shabby attire, looked about him with keen appreciation.

Who was he? A "vag," a "hobo," a "deadbeat," you might have called him, but, according to his own story, a "gentleman of limited income and uncertain locality," only a poor devil who during his youth had known the finer things of life, but for whom from the glass of Fate had been poured only disappointment and misfortune. The old story of an indulgent father and a reckless, improvident son; of business reverses and heavy losses, which worried the old man into his grave; of the son, now grown, blase and profligate, having no vocation to call his own, no experiences in his life save those of a youth with wealth at his command and Bohemia his favorite stamping ground. Not much upon which to base the foundation for a practical livelihood. For years he had drifted aimlessly around, till, failing to find his niche in life, he had, as he expressed it, "tried to fill the next easiest one," and here, on the lower step of a prosperous looking mansion, a fashionable church on the corner opposite, with the glorious sunlight of the perfect Easter morning lighting up with unpitying accuracy every detail of his shabby attire, we find Xerxes, a gentleman of leisure—otherwise a tramp.

* * * * * * *

Down the steps of the house next door, overwhelming him with their daintiness and their fresh, young womanhood, came two girls clad in all the fluttering laces and ribbons that go to make up the fin de siecle demoiselle. They were talking too earnestly to notice Xerxes, who drew humbly back that their perfumed skirts might not brush his soiled garments, and little did they realize that to the half starved soul of the poor fellow on the lower step the sight of them was like a burst of spring, filling his heart with radiant warmth and the memory of happier days so long ago.

"WILL YOU TAKE THIS WITH THE HOPE THAT YOU WILL DO BETTER?"

"Look, Nell," said one, blushing and holding out a tiny hand for inspection.

"Ah, how lovely!" and Nell bent over a glistening jewel on the little finger. "From Jack?"

A shy nod gave assent, and as they passed on their eager young voices came back to him like sweet music.

"And I once had a sweetheart," he mused with a sigh, "and I gave her a ring too. I remember that I kissed her little hand when I placed it on that night. Ah, that night—the sweetness of it! Where is the little ring now, I wonder, and—where is she?"

A woman's voice floated out to him from an open window softly humming the refrain from that old serenade:

Good night, ladies,
We're going to leave you now.

"So long ago," he murmured, staring with eyes that saw not at the pavement beneath his feet—"so long ago! I sang that beneath her window once."

* * * * * * *

The sweet strains of the closing anthem floated across to him like a benediction. Involuntarily he bowed his head. The ushers threw open the doors of the church, and the worshipers poured into the street. As they hurried past they glanced at Xerxes, some with curiosity, some with pity, some disdainfully. "All sorts and conditions of men," he mused as they went by—old men, young men, self important youths and earnest students; mischievous boys and grandsires in their dotage; matrons, maids and spinsters, all giving a glance, but rarely one of kindness, to the shabby figure on the lower step.

* * * * * * *

A deacon with unsmiling face and sanctimonious mien went gravely on his reverend way, benignly letting fall on our tattered friend a superior glance, which prompted him ironically to quote: "Verily, Lord! I thank thee that I am not as other men!"

Then a rotund little business man, whose faultless broadcloth and pompous air bespoke the successful financier, stopped before Xerxes and patronizingly inquired:

"Why don't you go where you belong, my good man?"

"Because," tranquilly, "I'm trying to be a better man and knew I could profit by the example of a good, charitable, kind hearted Christian like you!"

* * * * * * *

A gentle voice made him turn, and a sweet faced old woman with silver hair pressed a coin into his hand as she said: "You are in need, my poor fellow. Will you take this with the hope that you may do better?"

"Heaven bless you, lady," he said, as he stood before her and bared his head. "Heaven bless you always for a kindly word to a poor ne're-do-well and for recalling the face of his dear mother."

There were a misty look in his eye and a thrill of happiness in his heart long after she had gone.

"Bless her," he said. "If there were more like her, the new woman would never have been born."

* * * * * * *

"Hello, there! Is you tired?" And a radiant little vision with the bluest of eyes and the sunniest tangle of flying curls, a world of mischief in the roguish laugh and a wealth of love for everybody in the sweet little face, came flying toward him. Xerxes almost held his breath as the little figure came up and held out to him a flower no fairer than herself. How many years was it since he had been so near to such a dainty, well cared for bit of humanity?

"Thank you, little one," was all he said, but his voice was very gentle, and the child, looking up into his eyes, read, with the instinct which, alas, we all outgrow so soon, the sweetness and patience of a soul that knew not much joy.

* * * * * * *

"Didn't I tell you not to talk to strange men?" and an irate mamma swooped down on the little woman and gave her a vigorous shake. "Are you never going to mind me, miss?" The blue eyes filled with tears, but she bravely nodded farewell and tripped away. "Oh," sighed Xerxes with a pang in his heart, "the Christ of whom you have just been learning would never have said that. He who called the little ones unto him, who said, 'You must become like them,' would never have wounded a childish heart when it had done no wrong," and the fragrant flower from the tiny hand and the silver coin from the withered one were long cherished, recalling the "one touch of nature" that makes us all akin.

* * * * * * *

A Thespian of the old school crossed the street and sauntered down the avenue. His well worn Prince Albert, with shiny seams, was buttoned tightly up to his chin. His silk hat was of antiquated pattern and showed the traces of many brushings. He wore no cuffs, but swung a cane in one hand, while the other was thrust between the top buttons of his coat. About his eyes were traces of make up, and his whole bearing bespoke the actor long in the profession, but unsuccessful. "Life is but a play, after all," mused Xerxes, "but how we all scramble for the leading parts, forgetting that the low comedy and eccentric characters must be played by some one. How we fail to learn our lines and neglect to take up our cues and hinder better actors from playing their parts successfully, and when the curtain falls on the last act how bitter comes the realization that our part in the drama of life has marred what might have been a perfect performance, that the play would have been better had we never been cast. Well, come now, Xerxes, don't rail at Fate. This isn't your cue to make a scene."

* * * * * * *

"Mornin Hurald, Jurn'l an Tribune!" sounded a cheery voice, and little Tad, a newsboy, his ragged cap on the back of his head and a few unsold papers under his arm, stepped jauntily around the corner. His clothes were poor and his hands were grimy, but his face was blithe and his laugh the essence of happy good nature.

"W'y, hello, Xerxie, old boy! Wot you doin here? Watchin the swell peoples go home from church? Say, wot d'you tink? I met a rich bloke down de street wot gimme two tickets to a charity dinner down on de sout' side! Wot d'you tink of him? Wasn't he all right? Can you beat 'im? Come on, and we won't do a ting to de spread, oh, no! Just de-molish it, that's all! If we eat there today dey'll have to feed de rest of the push tomorrow. Have a cigarette? Nit? Say, wot's de matter wid you today, Xerxie? Ain't you square wid de world?"

"Yes, Tad," replied Xerxes quietly, putting his arm about the boy's shoulders as they strolled off together toward "de sout' side" and the promised dinner. "I guess I'm square enough with the world, for I wouldn't change places with any man in it today. Yes, I'll take dinner with you, Tad, but next time it will be your turn, because you see I'm getting tired of being utterly worthless, and tomorrow—well, tomorrow I'm going to look for work!"

Tad looked up, his eyes round with astonishment. "Gee!" he said.—Omaha Bee.

The Day For Spring Rejoicings.

Easter the world over means, first of all, the coming of light and the going of darkness. It means, too, happiness, a holiday, flowers, springtime gladness, the putting away of the old and the putting on of the new. It means comfort, confidence, rejoicing, the fulfillment of a promise, the death of old doubts and the birth of new certainties. Indeed it means so many things and so much that if any of us really understood them all life would never seem a bother or a burden any more. We would all be better men and women, and the world itself would be so much better a place in every way that the kingdom of heaven at last would certainly be found among mortals.

And there are so many ways of proving that these things about Easter are true, so many reasons to give for them, that you or I might easily spend all our life in talking of nothing else and still leave much to say to those who came after.

Suppose, for instance, we made the meaning of one fact about Easter our own, what a load of misery, of doubt, misunderstanding, rebellion, wild questionings and despair would disappear all at once out of our way. We celebrate Easter, as you know, because on that day Christ, who had been crucified, rose again from the dead. Now, among people where the name of Christ was never known this same time of year was kept with celebrations and rejoicings to commemorate the idea of deliverance, the coming of light, the resurrection of the flowers and all green things which had seemed to die with the darkness and cold of winter months.—New York World.

An Easter Lily.

An Easter lily by the altar rail,
Pure, golden throated, bent with fragrance sweet;
Like to an unstained soul its petals pale,
Purest of blossoms for the altar meet.

A little child that knelt beside my knee,
Whispering a baby prayer at Easter time,
A year ago—no longer here by me—
Though lilies bloom and Easter church bells chime.

—Judge.

A NOVEL DEPARTURE.

EVERY SIZE EGG FOR EASTER SUNDAY CELEBRATIONS.

A Simple Means of Making Them as Small or as Large as You Please. Sweet Easter Eggs, Chocolate Roosters and Candy Rabbits.

To vary the monotony of the time honored Easter eggs dyed red, green and blue and all piled together in gaudy array, here is a suggestion which a mother or a big sister may follow to the delight of the smaller persons in the family.

The hen's egg has come to be such a common affair that even cookbooks use it as a butter measure. How delightful it would be if one might add real birds' eggs to the Easter collection! This of course is out of the question at such a time of year. The only way to vary the size of an egg is to take it out of the shell.

This done, you can make it as small as you please. The yolks and white must be separated for this process of making artificial birds' eggs. Then one needs a number of tiny cotton or flannel bags, the smallest no larger than the yolk of a bird's egg and the others growing larger until they reach nearly the size of a hen's egg. These are for the yolks, and into each is dropped enough of the yolk of the original hen's egg to fill it. All the bags are carefully fastened up and put into boiling water for about ten minutes. The whites are then put into bags correspondingly larger than those which hold the yolks, and into each is put the tiny yolk which belongs to it after its removal from the bag in which it was boiled. The new eggs are then tied and put into boiling water for 15 minutes. When these are done, they will represent all sizes of eggs, from a tiny canary's egg to that of a big, old hen. They may not be oval in shape, but even round or poorly formed ones will delight the children from pure novelty.

Those who understand making French candy may make a delightful collection of sweet Easter eggs. Once the fondant is made the task is easy and the possible variety infinite.

Here is the recipe for making fondant: Take a cup of sugar and half a cup of water. Boil together till it "hairs" and set out to cool. Then wash your hands thoroughly and work the sirup until it becomes white and soft. This will keep almost indefinitely, but it is better when fresh.

For the yolk of an egg use grated lemon rind, working it into the fondant with the fingers. Then cover this with white and smooth it down into an oval shape, and there you have the first candy egg.

To make a brown egg melt some chocolate and roll the white in it. Imitation speckled birds' eggs may be made by sprinkling a little spice on the outside of a tiny white egg. These also may be graduated in size like the real eggs first described, and they are much less trouble.

The beauties of the chocolate Easter egg may be greatly enhanced by the addition of decoration done in white after such patterns as the imagination can suggest and the ingenuity execute. It may be done with ordinary cake frosting, but the white fondant is the best. Some of those in the stores have hens and little chickens done in white over the chocolate. Rabbits are not hard to imitate, because their long ears go a great way in producing the general effect, and if the rest is not perfect at least the attempt is recognizable.

One of the great attractions of the Easter counter is a monstrous chocolate rooster which it would take weeks even for the boarding school girl to eat. It is more than life size and sells—that is, if anybody buys him—for the enormous price of $15.—Denver News.

Newest Styles In Easter Gloves.

The spring glove differs somewhat from those of last season, but it is only in trifling points, not in general essentials.

To conform to the new sleeves the gloves for the street are of two button length and are fastened with large pearl buttons. The tiny glove button is a thing of the past so far as the immediate fashion is concerned, and the larger, more convenient button obtains. It is the size of those worn on the Russian gloves of the winter.

The newest gloves are stitched in black and are bound with a piping of black kid around the wrists.

Evening gloves also show the large buttons, and they are stitched in black, white or self color.

The colors most used for day are deep tan, bordering on yellow; the ox blood red, dark electric blue, stone gray, and other shades of gray and tan which have been so long popular.

For evening wear there are all the delicate shades to match dresses—pink, blue, nile green, pearl, lavender, primrose, buff, cream and white. The lengths are the same as usual, to the elbow for the elbow sleeve and the extra long for the sleeve that does not come to the elbow.

Dressed kid seems to obtain for the street and suede for evening wear, although the order may be reversed for those who prefer it.

Black suede gloves will be a great deal worn this spring, especially with gowns that have much black in the trimming.—New York Telegram.

Emblems of the Resurrection.

With the egg and the chrysalis all are familiar, but in olden times kernels of grain were also used. In England a tiny cross, together with grains of barley and wheat, have been found in the center block of oaken mantelpieces. The custom had long been forgotten, when it was recalled by the discovery of three such emblems in the mantel of the room in which Shakespeare was born. The house was being restored, and one of the commissioners in charge took a block of the old wood for a souvenir. He gave it to a friend, a Shakespearean scholar, who, wishing to share it with another, tried to split it and found it hollow. It contained a cross, three grains of barley and a piece of tow. To his honor, be it said, he restored the relic to the house at Stratford-upon-Avon, where it is now on exhibition. A great sculptor once said of the three processes used in making a statue, "The clay is this life, the plaster is death, but the marble is the glorious resurrection."—Brooklyn Eagle.

A Gift For Easter.

The wrists of old gloves of delicate shades are utilized for cute little souvenirs. Thus a penwiper is made of a circle of violet suede, with three circles of chamois attached to the underside. The edges are notched with the scissors, and the decoration may consist of a painted lily, an appliqued butterfly or an Easter greeting in fancy lettering.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 15—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—The bread of life.—John vi, 24-40. (Easter meeting.)

Easter speaks of life, and not only so, but of new life. This is true in both the natural and ecclesiastical worlds. Nature is at this season putting on forms of life, after a condition, typical of death. The season in the church calendar speaks of the new life of Christ, His resurrection after being three days in the tomb. How appropriate at such a time that our thoughts should rise to the possible new life of the soul in Christ—eternal life!

Bread feeds and supports the physical life. Christ gives life to the soul. Therefore, in a marvelous metaphor, Christ likens Himself to bread. In this chapter He speaks of Himself as bread in four different ways, which it will profit us to consider.

1. Christ, "the true bread," verse 32. "My Father giveth you the true bread." Christ is the true, the real, bread. There is no pretense or hollow mockery in the gift which God offers the soul as its support and life. This bread is able to accomplish that which is desired. Assimilated, it will convey both the consciousness and reality of eternal blessedness. God created the soul. He knows what will satisfy its desires and cravings, and therefore the spiritual sustenance that He offers is the true bread.

2. Christ, "the bread of God," verse 33. Christ, the bread, is the gift of God. "God * * * gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." God has made abundant provision in nature for the sustenance of the body. Is it not natural therefore that He would make ample provision for the soul? It would have been most unnatural if He had not done so. Being from God, this bread is free to all. It is offered "without money and without price."

3. Christ, "the bread of life," verse 35. "I am the bread of life." Christ is Himself the bread of life. In Him the cravings of the soul are satisfied and its eternal life made secure and certain. "The veritable life, eternal bread, which Christ as the steward of divine bounty gives, is Himself. His divine humanity." This bread is appropriated by faith. "He that cometh to Me shall never hunger, and he that believeth in Me shall never thirst." He who comes in faith to Christ shall never hunger and never thirst again. Bread satisfies for a time. Christ satisfies forever. He is the bread of eternal life.

4. Christ "the bread * * * from heaven," verse 50. "This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof and not die." Christ is the bread from heaven. From heaven alone can come the gift of eternal life. Christ as the bread from heaven was foreshadowed in the manna. Moses gave not this gift to the people, but God sent the manna from heaven to satisfy the hunger of His people. From the same source the soul hunger of the world is to be satisfied. Let us accept this bread of life from heaven that we, like Him, may rise from the dead and enjoy ever after, with Him, eternal life.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

The United society's special Easter programme should be used, or a special programme arranged, with appropriate Easter music as the principal feature.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ex. xvi, 11-15; Ps. lxxviii, 23-25; cxxxiii, 1-3; Isa. lv, 1-3; Math. iv, 1-4; Luke xi, 1-3; xii, 13-21; John i, 4; iv, 5-15; vi, 47-58; Rom. xii, 1, 2; II Tim. i, 8-19; iv, 7, 8; Heb. x, 5-10; Rev. xxii, 17.

Christian Discipleship.

The acceptance of Christian power from the Lord and the exercise of it in the practical relations of home, of the church, of society and business, will take away the hardness of life, the wear and friction and pain. In the home it will make heaven; in the church it will increase the power of worship and usefulness a hundredfold; in business it will relieve the weariness and burden. The hard things of life will be softened; the evil things and unkind things will lose their power to hurt. In every relation of life love will bring peace.

This is the crowning privilege of a Christian disciple. It is given to him to be a power in the world for good and to live in love and peace through the grace and mercy of the Lord. This more than all else must be felt by the world at large; it must be felt by the stranger and the children, and all will know the blessedness of Christian discipleship. The light will so shine that it cannot be hid.—Rev. William L. Worcester in Helper.

The Master's Touch.

It is said that once Mendelssohn came to see the great Freiburg organ. The old custodian refused him permission to play upon the instrument, not knowing who he was. At length, however, he reluctantly granted him leave to play a few notes. Mendelssohn took his seat, and soon the most wonderful music was breaking forth from the organ. The custodian was spellbound. He came up beside the great musician and asked his name. Learning it, he stood humiliated, self condemned, saying, "And I refused you permission to play upon my organ!" There comes one to us and desires to take our lives and play upon them. But we withhold ourselves from Him. He would bring from our souls heavenly music.—Christian Index.

Noontide.

The high stars, over at night,
Are under at noon,
And a young soul's vision of heaven
Passes how soon!

He climbs, and the clear seen goal
Is gone—ah, where?
Whispers a voice from the infinite:
Climb! I am there!

INSURES LOVE AND A HAPPY HOME.

L. W. KNAPP, M. D.

How any man may quickly cure himself after years of suffering from sexual weakness, lost vitality, night losses, varicocele, etc., and enlarge small weak organs to full size and vigor. Simply send your name and address to Dr. L. W. Knapp, 2389 Hull Bldg., Detroit, Mich., and he will gladly send the free receipt with full directions so that any man may easily cure himself at home. This is certainly a most generous offer and the following extracts taken from his daily mail show what men think of his generosity.

"Dear Sir:—Please accept my sincere thanks for yours of recent date. I have given your treatment a thorough test and the benefit has been extraordinary. It has completely braced me up. I am just as vigorous as when a boy and you cannot realize how happy I am."

"Dear Sir:—Your method worked beautifully. Results were exactly what I needed. Strength and vigor have completely returned and enlargement is entirely satisfactory."

"Dear Sir:—Yours was received and I had no trouble in making use of the receipt as directed and can truthfully say it is a boon to weak men. I am greatly improved in size, strength and vigor."

All correspondence is strictly confidential, mailed in plain, sealed envelope. The receipt is free for the asking and he wants every man to have it.

A CASE OF SUICIDE.

Decision of Medical Examiner as to the Death of Dr. Cocke.

Second Wife Holds His Life Insurance Policies.

First Wife Is His Widow and the Third Marriage Is Said to Be Void.

Boston, April 14.—Mourning such as only women know, permeated the house at 23 Pinckney street yesterday, where Dr. James R. Cocke ended his agony by his own hands Thursday afternoon.

Down in Tinkham's undertaking rooms Dr. Frank A. Harris, the medical examiner, performed the autopsy on the body, and rendered a verdict of suicide. No other view of the case was possible, in Dr. Harris' opinion.

Many friends of Dr. Cocke called on his wife at 23 Pinckney street, but she denied herself to all except her most intimate friends. Her mother, Mrs. Harrington, came down from her home in Worcester, and spent the day and night with her.

Miss Ellie M. Townsend, who became Dr. Cocke's second wife, under a misunderstanding that he was freed by divorce from his first wife, came to Boston yesterday from Hartford, where she resides.

Miss Townsend was not desirous of talking about the affair. She seemed to be deeply moved by the tragic occurrence.

"The news of Dr. Cocke's death," said Miss Townsend, "is a severe shock to me, despite all I have gone through. Any woman can readily conceive my position, but hardly have the ability to gauge my feelings. This means more to me than any one will ever know.

"From what I knew of the doctor's life, of his manner of living, his many peculiarities, desires and cravings, I feared that he might have a sad ending."

Miss Townsend's face betrayed much feeling as she spoke, and the discussion of the subject seemed to cause her much mental pain. "I feared some such ending of it all," she said.

Through the death of Dr. Cocke Miss Townsend receives a considerable sum of money on life insurance policies taken out in her favor by the doctor during the time that they lived together. She is in Boston to complete the transactions involving the payment of the money to her.

Dr. Cocke's first wife was granted a decree nisi on Oct. 12 last. The six months' limitation that the decision carried with it before absolute divorce could be procured expired yesterday. The doctor's death occurred on the anniversary of the day on which the decree against him was handed down.

The reason why Dr. Cocke's first wife did not apply earlier for a divorce was one that involved the possession of nearly $1,000,000. She dared not let her father know of her marriage to Dr. Cocke. He would have disinherited her. Later, when her father died, proceedings were instituted for divorce. Mrs. Cocke knew that in the event of her death the vast fortune she possessed would go to the doctor. That, she determined, would never be.

In marrying, without divorce, Dr. Cocke became a bigamist. His marriage to Miss Harrington, under the conditions that apparently exist, make their marriage void, and his death before the expiration of the necessary six months, fails to release his wife, the first of the women to take the doctor's name.

Dr. Cocke suffered from angina pectoris, and, according to Dr. Harris, death might have resulted from shock much more probable than from the bullet. It is asserted by people who knew him well that Dr. Cocke was an inveterate morphine fiend. He craved the drug with a fiend's appetite, while his paralysis contributed to the wreck of his nervous system.

Republicans Enter a Protest.

Boston, April 14.—The Republican members of the William E. Russell Debating club of the school of law, Boston university, have protested against the action of the club in indorsing Mr. Bryan as its candidate for president at the mock presidential convention to be held in May. They maintain that the club as a whole has not right to pledge the delegation to the convention to vote as a unit, and make the club a Democratic organization to be known as such in the coming presidential campaign.

Would Set Aside Confession of Faith.

Chicago, April 14.—The Interior, the Presbyterian organ, contains a strong editorial advocating the setting aside of the confession of faith, and the adoption of a short evangelical creed. Dr. Gray, the editor, declares that three-fourths of the ministers and nine-tenths of the members of the Presbyterian church reject the clause in the confession which Dr. Hillis attacked, and for which he was denounced by certain theologians and religious newspapers.

Westerner Slated For Vice President.

Colorado Springs, Col., April 14.—In its leading editorial of this morning, the Colorado Springs Gazette strongly endorses Senator Wolcott for the vice presidency. The Gazette is the only daily paper in Colorado that supported McKinley in 1896. It says that Wolcott would take away from Bryan the vote of the real bimetallists of the country.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

Drop In Prices of Agricultural Staples—Slight Upward Swing In Cotton.

New York, April 14.—Bradstreet's says: Backward spring weather conditions have figured considerably in distributive trade this week, and, in connection with some weakness in prices of leading staples, have imparted an appearance of irregularity to the general situation. Another one of these downward swings in the prices of agricultural staples is exhibited this week in slightly lowered prices for the cereals. The crop outlook, as a whole, favors the expectation of large yields of wheat, corn and cotton.

Reports as to railway earnings and export trade are, on the whole, very favorable, and these features partly neutralize the effects of the slight lowering of the general level of staple values in April, caused by recessions in a few articles.

Evidences accumulate that active missionary work in favor of lower prices for iron and steel is at last bearing fruit.

A slight upward swing in cotton is to be noted this week, and southern yarn mills have officially advanced prices. On the other hand, while the mills were active on old orders, new business is reported on smaller volume.

Some more inquiry is noted in raw wool, without, however, affecting values appreciably.

Among articles showing increased strength might be mentioned all classes of breadstuffs, live stock, hog products, fruits, leather and copper, while smaller gains are noted in coal and coke, vegetable oils and naval stores. Textiles are lower, mainly because of decreases in the price of raw wool, hemp, silk and flax. The only weakness in iron and steel was that noticed in eastern pig iron.

Business failures for the week number 152, as compared with 243 in this week a year ago, and 215 in 1898.

Sentenced For the Second Time.

Camden, N. J., April 14.—Francis Abbato, who murdered Gerano de Feo, was yesterday sentenced to be hanged May 10. Abbato lived with De Foe at Blue Anchor, and became infatuated with Mrs. De Foe. He induced De Foe to accompany him to the woods, where he beheaded him. After securing some insurance money on his victim's life, he went with Mrs. De Foe to New York. On their return he was arrested and convicted on Mrs. De Foe's testimony. He was sentenced to death, but an appeal was taken which prevented the hanging on the date fixed. The appeal being later dismissed, Abbato was re-sentenced.

Becomes Operative on May 1.

Washington, April 14.—Secretary of the Treasury Gage has decided that the customs feature of the Puerto Rican tariff and governmental bill goes into operation on May 1, 1900. This decision was made necessary in view of a discrepancy in the bill as to the time the act should become operative. The conclusion arrived at applies to all of the affairs of the island, and the war department will retain complete control and direction there until May 1. It is expected that Governor Allen will assume his office on the date named.

A Remarkable Deadlock.

Wellington, O., April 14.—The convention to nominate a candidate for congress to succeed Representative W. S. Kerr met last Tuesday morning, and it was in session day and night, with short intermissions, for nearly four days. At noon yesterday a conference committee was appointed and the report of the committee that the convention adjourn to meet in Norwalk on May 17 was adopted. There was no change in the vote from the 759th to the 1352nd ballot. This deadlock is a record breaker, so far as Ohio is concerned.

The Montana Senatorship.

Butte, Mont., April 14.—The Inter-Mountain, upon advices from the east, says: It is now certain that Senator Clark will not resign. The pressure from his Montana friends and legal advisers is in favor of contesting to a finish. Senators Clay, Mason, Bacon and Heitfeld will make a fight on the floor of the senate, claiming that a two-thirds vote is necessary to unseat him. They claim that the report of the committee does not sustain the direct charge of bribery against him.

Captain Deserted His Ship.

New York, April 14.—At the bottom of the sea, outside of Santo Domingo harbor, the wreck of the French steamer Georges Croise has lain for more than two weeks. Enveloped in her wreckage are the bodies of two passengers and two sailors. Her captain, Francisco Cathrien, is alive, but no one knows his whereabouts. He is said to have deserted his doomed ship and nearly three score people that were aboard of her. Steamship New York brought the story of the wreck.

"Divine Healer" Still Under Bonds.

Boston, April 14.—Divine healing, as practiced by Francis Truth up to the time of his arrest, was probed by lawyers yesterday in the United States district court room, before Commissioner Fiske. At the conclusion of the testimony Commissioner Fiske held the defendant for the May term of the United States district court in $5000 bonds, which were furnished by his present bondsman.

One Engine Is Too Swift.

Washington, April 14.—The navy department has been notified that the torpedo boat destroyer Stringham was put in the Norfolk dry dock yesterday to ascertain just the nature of her fault. One engine insists on running much faster than the other, tending to run the boat in a circle if given a free helm.

HAMPERED BY THE PRESS.

One Reason Why Some Public Officials of Cuba Fail In Their Duties.

Havana, April 14.—General Ludlow, the retiring military governor of the department of Havana, when interviewed yesterday, called special attention to the recent order by which the police court is empowered to try libel and blackmailing cases and to treat them on the same footing as other misdemeanors. This addition was made in consequence of the numerous mis-statements made by the local papers.

"The Cubans are very desirous of figuring as a well ordered and civilized people; and I do not believe they will cause any trouble, as they realize that to do so would be fatal to the hopes of Cuba to become a sovereign and independent state. Possibly, however, there may be some trouble in the province of Santiago, where the people are wild, turbulant and somewhat different in racial origin and customs from the rest of the Cubans.

"The Cuban press has much influence over public officials, who, though well intentioned, sometimes lack sufficient independence of character to persevere in a course they have adopted when the press is hostile. I believe the recent order of the governor general, by increasing the prerogatives of the police court and enabling it to prosecute on the complaint of any one who considers himself blackmailed or likely to be injured by the false and malicious statements of newspapers, will tend to protect Cuban officials from unjust criticisms. To this extent it will prove a great public benefit.

"The Cuban is timid, he does not lack judgment or common sense, but he does lack the moral courage to display these qualities."

General Ludlow left for the United States today.

Sheriff Thinks He Has Mueller.

Naugatuck, Conn., April 14.—A man who gives the name of Gustav Hubba is under detention here nominally charged with breach of the peace, but, according to the opinion of Deputy Sheriff Booth, the man is the much-wanted Mueller who murdered the Newton family at Brookfield, Mass., Jan. 7, 1898. Sheriff Booth feels reasonably confident that the man locked up is Mueller. Hubba has been occupying a hut in a lonesome place near Straitsville, about three miles from here, and has been employed as a farmhand and woodchopper at different intervals in this vicinity.

Melbourne McDowell Breaks Down.

Sioux City, Ia., April 14.—Melbourne McDowell and Blanche Walsh, as costars, appeared here Thursday night in "Cleopatra," and all went smoothly. Last night, while in the midst of his lines, in the third act of "Fedora," McDowell hesitated and stopped. He paid no attention to the prompter nor to Miss Walsh, but said: "Ladies and gentlemen—" Miss Walsh called him back, and the curtain was rung down. The management says McDowell was physically unable to proceed. No further statement is vouchsafed.

Ousted From Social Democracy.

Brockton, Mass., April 14.—Alderman Elihu R. Perry was expelled from membership in the Social Democrat party last night by what was declared by the chair to be an unanimous vote. Prominent members of the party refused to vote on the question of expulsion. The investigating committee had made a report that Alderman Perry, contrary to instruction to work and vote against it, voted in favor of granting a franchise to a new telephone and telegraph company which desired to enter the city.

First of Its Kind In This Country.

New York, April 14.—Articles of agreement have been signed for a one-hour motor tricycle race between C. G. Wridgeway of London and Kenneth Skinner of Boston, the contest to take place if possible at Woodside park, Philadelphia, April 21. There will be a $200 side bet and the winner will receive two-thirds of the gate receipts and the loser one-third. The start will be a flying one. This will be the first race of this kind in America.

Considered New Administration.

Washington, April 14.—The cabinet meeting yesterday was occupied largely in a discussion of Puerto Rican affairs, and particularly the Puerto Rican bill. The provisions of the bill were carefully gone over, and suggestions were made as to the personnel of the new administration of the island. Secretary Gage has already taken steps to assume charge of the collection of the customs duties.

Colorado River Still Rising.

Houston, Tex., April 14.—The Colorado river flood has now reached Wharton and half the town is under water. The people all got out of the bottoms and flocked to the town, driving their cattle before them. There will be some suffering because of the large number to be cared for. The loss to crops is very heavy. The situation at Eagle lake is also very serious.

Practically a Dismissal.

Manchester, N. H., April 14.—The trustees of the normal school at Plymouth have voted the principalship of the school a vacancy at the close of the season. Dr. A. H. Campbell is the present principal, and the trustees have been dissatisfied with him. Dr. Campbell claims that the promise of a hearing was not kept.

GERMANY IMPLICATED.

She Urged Transvaal to Wage War, According to Report From Rome.

British Reported In a Bad Fix at Jammersberg.

Burghers Who Had Returned to Farms Said to Be Joining Boer Forces.

London, April 14.—A Bloemfontein dispatch says that Lord Roberts' preparations for the advance are retarded by the scarcity of rolling stock, but the whole length of the railway is strongly held and the Boers have not yet made any attempt on the British communications.

The Boer peace envoys have documents, the Rome correspondent of The Daily News says, showing that urgent advances to the Transvaal to wage war were originally made by Germany. This correspondent also asserts that Count Von Buelow, the German foreign minister, who was said to have gone on a visit to a sick brother, really went to Milan for the express purpose of conferring with the delegates.

"The forward movement of the Boers is checked," says Lord Roberts. This is taken to mean not by fighting, but by dispositions to head off their advance and bar their way to vulnerable points in the line of British communication.

Relief is on the way to Wepener. The Boers in Natal appear incapable of developing an aggressive movement at Elandslaagte.

Lord Methuen is at Zwartkopfontein, 12 miles east of Boshof, and is sending small, swift columns through the adjacent country. Lord Chesham, commanding one of these, encountered a small commando about 10 miles southeast of Zwartkopfontein. He found most of the farms occupied by women and children only.

An editorial note in The Daily Mail avers that Mafeking is in a very bad way, and that the hope of relief is far off, as no force is advancing from the south.

The Times has the following from Jammersberg, dated April 14: "Colonel Dalgety's force has been surrounded by some thousands of Boers, with eight guns, two "pom-poms and two Maxims, since Monday morning. They have gallantly withstood a heavy attack on Monday, and again a night attack on Tuesday, and on Thursday there was a continuous shell and rifle fire. We are confident of being able to repulse any attack. Food is plentiful. Our casualties, in the circumstances, are small. The brunt of the fighting, as also of the loss, has been borne by Cape mounted riflemen.

The war office announces that 499 horses will arrive at Cape Town this week. It is well understood that the animals are not fit for work until about 10 days after the voyage. Two thousand more are due at the Cape next week.

The war office has called out the reserve companies of several infantry battalions, which will be sent to South Africa forthwith.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Morning Post, telegraphing Thursday, says: The enemy have evidently determined to adopt entirely new tactics. Two columns are known to be moving to the south of Bloemfontein. They are relying on Cape carts for transport and are carrying scarcely any forage and only sufficient food to meet the requirements of the convoy, with ox transport following at a secure distance. The Boer columns are thus enabled to move almost as quickly as cavalry. It is reported that there are 9000 Boers to the south of De Wets dorp, the force extending from that point to Odendahl. The burghers who had returned to their farms are undoubtedly rejoining the enemy.

Guns Not Mounted Properly.

New York, April 14.—Owing to a mistake by an assistant to Naval Constructor Bowles of the Brooklyn navy yard, heavy guns were misplaced aboard the converted cruiser Prairie. They consisted of eight 6-inch rifled guns, each weighing 1900 pounds. The guns were placed on the wrong mounts, and it was discovered that they could not be worked. This error has caused much inconvenience.

Lorraine Mill Help Laid Off.

Pawtucket, R. I., April 14.—As a result of the strike of weavers of the Lorraine Manufacturing company, which was inaugurated Thursday morning, 25 loom-fixers and 15 pattern weavers were told last night that their services would not be required further until the settlement of the troubles. There is a feeling, however, that there will be an early settlement of the strike.

BRAINTREE.

Mrs. Elmer E. Abercrombie who has been quite ill, is improving.

Col. A. C. Drinkwater arrived from his western trip Wednesday.

The Socialists of East Braintree, who have been holding preliminary meetings at A. O. H. hall, met last Wednesday night and perfected a permanent organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Bond of River street are happy over the arrival of a baby girl at their home on Cedar street.

The grand forest fair which was held in the Town hall, under the auspices of South Parish church, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, was very well attended.

Mrs. Joshua Wilkins is sick with the grip.

Miss Clara J. West is enjoying a two weeks' vacation with her parents on Commercial street.

Miss Edith Lawson is substituting in Grade 4 of the J. P. school, awaiting the arrival of the new teacher, Miss Alice Perry, of Sterling, who will assume charge the first of next week.

The pupils of the Jonas Perkins school are jubilant over the re-opening of the Sloyd department in Grades 8, 7, and 6, Wednesdays and Fridays, under the charge of Miss Sellman, a graduate of the Naas Swede school, Sweden, and Boston Sloyd Training school.

The Thirty Associates held a merry dancing party in the Town Hall last evening. There were forty couple present. Cuff's orchestra of five pieces furnished music behind an elegant display of potted plants and ferns.

The Standing Committee of the First church have called a special meeting of the church members for Wednesday, April 18, at 7.30 P. M., to act upon the resignation of the pastor, Rev. A. A. Ellsworth.

The Observer-Reporter job printing office in South Braintree has come to stay; low prices and the best of work are guaranteed.

Palm Sunday was appropriately observed at St. Francis church Sunday. There was a large congregation present. At high mass Rev. Father Francis officiated. Music was carried out by the church choir. Special services will be held tomorrow, Easter Sunday.

A stranger to Braintree would imagine in reading the Boston papers of last Monday and Tuesday, that this town was, or is, unfit to live in. There is not a town in New England which is more desirable for a home. Our citizens are law abiding, prosperous, congenial people opposed to the sale of liquor, Sabbath breaking and rowdyism.

Died in Braintree, Friday morning, April 13, Walter S. Woodward at his late home on Washington street, from a wound received on his right hand on Dec. 29th, 1899, the wound causing several abscesses from which he suffered intense pain. He had been quite a sufferer from that dreadful disease diabetes, which hastened his death.

At a recent meeting of Puritan Lodge I. O. O. F., the lodge was presented with a beautiful landscape picture by Miss Fidelia L. Randall of South Braintree. The picture is a work of art, it being painted by the giver. The lodge has occupied their present quarters owned by Miss Randall for nearly a quarter of a century

The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad officials are pluming themselves on the run made by the east bound newspaper train last Sunday morning. This train left New York at 2.35 and reached Boston at 6.58, having come via Middletown and Willimantic. From Willimantic, the train, consisting of four cars, was drawn by locomotive 902. One car was left at Putnan, and the run from that point to Boston, 61 miles, was made in 62 minutes. The entire distance, 215 miles, was covered in four hours and 23 minutes, which is probably the quickest time ever made between the two cities.

The Literary club of Braintree met with Miss Norris with very full attendance. Two very noteworthy papers upon Kipling were read by Miss Stacy and Mrs. C. A. Belcher. A pleasing feature was the singing of three of Kipling pieces: "The Recessional," "Mandalay," and "Dawny Deeri," by Mrs. Haskell, Mr. Field and Mr. Gallagher. The next meeting will be Monday evening April sixteenth with Mrs. C. A. Belcher.

Friday Club.

As the season of the Friday club draws near its close the members are realizing more clearly than ever how helpful and how pleasant the gatherings have been.

The session of March 30, with Mrs. John O. Hall, Jr., had to do with the controversial literature and the history of the period of James II, the committee being Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Wadsworth.

The various papers and readings were thoughtful and instructive, the program being enlivened by vocal and instrumental music.

Yesterday the club met with Mrs. Alden at the Langham Hotel, Boston. The afternoon was in charge of Miss Small and the topic considered was England as portrayed in the diaries of Pepys and Evelyn.

The occasion was one of quite exceptional interest, as may well be supposed when one reflects upon the richness of the mine of combined wit, satire hand information which is constituted by the writings of the two most celebrated diarists in the English language.

First Church, Braintree.

Next Sunday morning the services will be appropriate to Easter, and the concert by the Sunday School will be be held at 7 P. M. Strangers in town are especially invited to be present at both services.

Special music has been arranged for Easter Sunday and the choir will be assisted by Miss Chapman, violinist from the New England Conservatory of music. She will play at the morning and evening services. Mrs. Haskell and Mr. Kohler will have special solos. The Easter concert Sunday evening will be furnished by the Sunday School, assisted by the choir.

Castle Square Theatre.

The management of the Castle Square Theatre make the interesting announcement that "Quo Vadis," in its dramatic form, will make the attraction at this popular play house the coming week. In the production of this great romantic drama, the story of which has made the name of Sienkiewicz a household word on both sides of the Atlantic, the Castle Square Theatre management will surpass all former efforts at this house and make the performances of the play memorable in every way. The music has been composed, selected and arranged by Mr. Max Heindl and a double quartet of mixed voices will take part under the direction of Mr. T. B. Dillaway. Fully 100 people will take part in this production, the company being added to by special engagements to fill the great cast, the principal characters being assigned as follows: Marcus, John Craig; Caius, J. L. Seeley; Nero, Louis Thill; Chilo, N. H. Fowler; a Roman slave, William J. Hasson; Greco-Roman wrestlers, Harvey Parker and John J. Little; Lygia, Lillian Lawrence; Acte, Leonora Gnito; Pomponia, Leonora Bradley; Eunice, Marian A. Chapman; Iras, Mary Young; Little Aulus, Ada Rose. The great scene showing the Public Garden in Rome, with its grand fountain of real water, the scene of the feast in Nero's palace and that of the Arena, where the Greco-Roman wrestling match occurs, will be notably realistic. This production is announced for two weeks and the usual distribution of chocolate bon bons will be continued at the Monday matinees.

Keith's Theatre.

The entertainment being offered weekly at Keith's Boston Theatre is becoming the "talk of the country" among the managers who are astonished at the strength of the bills presented. For the week commencing April 16 [Easter Monday], an even bigger programme than that of the last two weeks has been prepared, as follows. The Great Lafayette, mimetic comedian and conjurer, in his remarkable impersonation of Bandmaster Soca and his burlesque of the Chinese conjurer, Ching Ling Foo, which is said to be greater than the original; Suth and Rudd, eccentric comedians and burlesque illusionists, who have been absent in Europe since 1896, and are the greatest in their line in the world; Cissie Loftus, the noted mimic, in new impersonations of actors and actresses; Lydia Yeamans-Titus, character vocalist, etc. The biograph will have its usual complement of interesting new motion pictures.

Civil Trial List.

The following cases are marked for trial at the civil session of the district court next Tuesday:

His Terrible Cough.

Few things are so depressing and weakening as a constant cough. Few things are as discouraging as a cough that will not yield to treatment. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures coughs when all other medicines fail, because it is more than a cough medicine. The cough is but a symptom. "Discovery" makes new and pure blood, heals the lacerated tissues, and gives the body the needed strength to throw off disease. It cures the cough by curing the cause of the cough. There is no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor other narcotic in the "Discovery."

"I had a terrible cough something over a year ago and could find nothing to stop it, or even to do me a particle of good," writes Mr. I. M. Farr, of Cameron, Screven Co., Ga. "I chanced to see an advertisement of yours, and forthwith bought a bottle of your invaluable 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Before I had taken half a bottle I was entirely well."

TELEGRAPHIC.

3 O'CLOCK.

REMOUNTS ARE NEEDED

To Give the British Cavalry a New Lease of Life and Strength.

Unconfirmed Report of a Victory For Brabant.

Roberts Protests to Kruger Regarding Alleged Harsh Treatment of Prisoners.

London, April 16.—Winston Churchill telegraphs The Morning Post from Bloemfontein, under Saturday's date, reiterating his opinion that the war is bound to prove an extremely expensive business. He says:

"Two hundred and fifty thousand men will be needed before the end is attained. The question of remounts will continue one of vital importance. Great numbers are now arriving, but, owing to the fact that they have to be put to work before time is given them to recover from the effects of the voyage, their condition is low and the death rate among them high.

"Thousands, therefore, will be wanted in addition to those now here or on the way, and great resting depots must be formed, together with an ample staff to nurse and exercise them. If that is done, then, about four or five months hence, you will be able to give your cavalry a new lease of life and strength."

There is practically no fresh news this morning. All the Bloemfontein dispatches, however, breathe a confident tone. There seems to be a heavy demand on the railway; for so large an army leaves the populace bare of everything save the absolute necessities of life.

The fact that the censors allowed Winston Churchill's dispatch on the subject of remounts to pass speaks volumes for the condition of that question and concerning the prospect of any immediate advance toward Pretoria. The utmost Lord Roberts will be able to do for some time to come will be in the direction of clearing the Boers from the southern part of the Free State.

The dispatches announce the approach of winter. The first pinch of frost has been felt at Bloemfontein, where considerable rain has fallen.

It is said that President Kruger visited the Boer camp at Kroonstad, as well as Brandfort.

It is officially reported that the British losses at Wepener in four days' fighting were 18 men killed and 132 wounded.

The Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, telegraphing Sunday, says: An unconfirmed report is in circulation here that General Brabant has inflicted a crushing defeat upon the Boers at Wepener, capturing guns and taking prisoners.

Lord Roberts, in a telegram of protest to President Kruger regarding the treatment to which the colonial officers and troops who are now prisoners at Pretoria have been subjected, complains that the Boers have treated them like criminals, confined in jail. He points out that there are 90 cases of enteric fever and dysentery in the prisoners' camp at Waterval; that the Transvaal government failed to supply, on demand of the doctor, the necessary medicines and medical comforts; that the prisoners were forced to bivouac on the open veldt; that the sick were placed in an open shed, with an iron roof, and that it was only when the new doctor threatened to resign that medicines and mattresses were supplied. He invites President Kruger to remedy this state of things, and contrasts it with the treatment the British give the Boer prisoners, sick and wounded who, as Lord Roberts says, "receive the same treatment as our own soldiers."

Four farmers who had taken the oath to abstain from further co-operation with the queen's enemies, were found signalling to the Boers at Kagree Siding and have been brought here.

Heavy Mortality In Nutmeg State.

New Haven, April 16.—According to figures received by Dr. Lindsley, secretary of the state board of health, the mortality in the state during the month of March was unprecedented in any one month since January, 1892, when the total deaths numbered 1953, the highest that ever occurred in the state. The grip, which was followed by pneumonia, is accountable for the many fatal results.

Exhibits Not All In Place.

Paris, April 16.—The exposition of 1900 has been opened, but, with the exception of buildings, it will be at least a month before there will be much for the general public to see. The ceremonies on Saturday were a peculiar mixture of sumptuous splendor in the Salle des Fetes and widespread confusion and unreadiness elsewhere.

East and West Recognized.

New York, April 16.—A special to The Press from Washington says: Senator Walcott of Colorado is to be temporary chairman of the national Republican convention in Philadelphia. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts will be the permanent chairman. The extreme east and west thus will be recognized.

Governor Taylor at Washington.

Washington, April 16.—Governor Taylor of Kentucky is in the city, and will remain here until Wednesday to look after his interests in the contest before the supreme court for the office of governor of Kentucky.

WILLING TO BE VICE PRESIDENT.

Secretary Long's Announcement Has Upset the Calculations of Slate-Makers.

Washington, April 16.—Secretary Long's implied willingness to accept the Republican nomination for the vice presidency, as inferred from the statements made by him on that subject, is a matter of general comment in Washington. It has set the Republican slate makers to thinking, and, for the time being, has seriously upset the calculations of those who believed that the honor would go to one of a half dozen others mentioned for the vice presidency. Secretary Long has been called upon by a number of persons and has been importuned for an exact statement of his attitude on the question. He seems disinclined to enter into any general discussion of the matter, however, preferring to let it rest with what he has already said on the subject, believing that "the vice presidency is an honor of such a character that no man could well refuse to accept it." The secretary, however, is not an avowed candidate seeking the place, but the belief is general that if the nomination is offered to him he will accept.

Secretary Long was asked last night for an expression of opinion regarding Admiral Dewey's candidacy for the presidency. In a good-natured way he evaded making a reply, but laughingly remarked that Dewey "was the honored man of our navy."

Strike Assuming Serious Phase.

New York, April 16.—General Roe has received a formal demand from Sheriff Molloy of Westchester county to call out 500 troops to go immediately to the scene of the Italian laborers' strike at the Croton dam. General Roe has ordered out the Fourth separate company of Yonkers, the Eleventh separate company of Mount Vernon, squadron A of New York and troop C of Brooklyn. General Roe gave as his reason for ordering so many cavalry and so few infantry that there were over six miles of territory to be covered, and that it was necessary to have troops which could move quickly and be scattered. General Roe thinks that the 500 men will be sufficient to quell the strike.

To Become a Congregationalist.

Augusta, Me., April 16.—Rev. E. S. Stackpole of the Methodist church, this city, yesterday preached his farewell sermon to the parish and the Methodist faith. He gave a short history of the growth of the Methodist church, speaking of its being especially adapted to the evangelization of the world. While that kind of work is needed in less thickly settled places, he said, yet there has been such a change he did not think the policy is best adapted to New England. He said he had the conviction that he could be of more service in building up the kingdom of God by working in the Congregational church.

Predicts Dewey's Disappointment.

Detroit, April 16.—"I think Admiral Dewey has made a grave mistake in announcing his candidacy for the presidency," said General Alger in the course of an interview last night. "It looks as though the wealth of praise showered on the admiral since his return from the east has turned his head. I feel sorry for him, for his ambitions will certainly be unfulfilled. His action is ill advised. I predict for him in his presidential aspiration a melancholy disappointment."

Chicago Tailors' Strike Ended.

Chicago, April 16.—As the result of a conference between the president of the Tailors' and Drapers' exchange and the executive committee of the Journeymen Tailors' union, the 400 men who have been on a strike for several weeks will go back to work. The wages will remain the same for three years. At the end of two years, if the majority of the men in a shop ask for a free shop the request is to be granted. The arrangement is considered satisfactory to both parties.

"Prophet of Bear Mountain" Is Dead.

Lee, Mass., April 16.—Levi Beebe, aged 82, died Sunday in his lonely habitation on the summit of Beartown mountain. Beebe was known throughout western Massachusetts as a strangely accurate weather prophet. His second wife died 14 years ago and since then he had lived alone on the mountain. He leaves a son and three daughters. Beebe owned considerable property in Berkshire.

American Missionaries' Good Offices.

Berlin, April 16.—According to official reports from the Cameroons, the revolt there is dying out, and orderly conditions are being resumed. This is understood to be due largely to the good offices of American missionaries, who have acted as intermediaries in negotiations for a peaceful settlement with the Buli chiefs.

Mule Caused Wreck and Death.

Chattanooga, April 16.—A through freight train on the Southern railway struck a mule and was wrecked while running at full speed near Huntsville, Ala. The engineer and the fireman were killed and five of the train crew were seriously injured.

Chelsea Boy Killed.

Chelsea, Mass., April 16.—While playing on Everett avenue Sunday, Charles Goldstein, 6 years old, ran in front of an electrice car of the Lynn and Boston railroad and was almost instantly killed. The motorman, George H. Scott, was arrested.

Killed Himself In Woods.

Newton, Mass., April 16.—The body of an unknown man, aged about 60, was found Sunday in the woods at Riverside. The throat had been cut, while a razor close at hand and the position of the body left no doubt as to its being suicide.

HE FAILED TO RETURN.

Teller of Bank at Waterbury, Vt., Was to Examine Books With Cashier.

Latter Had Discovered an Apparent Shortage.

Farrar Left Bank to Go to Supper, but He Has Not Been Seen Since.

Waterbury, Vt., April 16.—John C. Farrar, teller of the Waterbury National bank, is missing and there is a defalcation of $25,000 of the bank's funds. The community is greatly shocked by the news, as Farrar was considered a model young man. The young man had been speculating in stocks, and it is generally believed that he used the money in that way.

Besides his position as teller, Farrar was town treasurer, but the latter's funds do not exceed $3000 or $4000. Being an unusually bright young man and of a highly respectable family, the disclosures seemed almost incredible to his friends, and proved a terrible blow to his young wife and his parents. His friends believes that it was simply a case of borrowing to make good speculations in the stock market.

Farrar was working at his desk Saturday afternoon, when Cashier Wells asked him about some apparent error in figures. Farrar at once began what seemed to be a thorough investigation, the two working for some hours trying to unravel the tangle in the figures. At 6 o'clock Farrar suggested that the work be suspended for an hour in order to get supper. He told the cashier that he would come back and find the mistake if possible. Cashier Wells readily assented to the adjournment, but his trusted teller has not yet made good either his engagement or what the bank now claims is a shortage of at least $25,000. Farrar could have left town within half an hour after his departure from the bank. A train for the north left at 6 o'clock, while another went south at 6:30, but no one, so far as is known, saw Farrar take either.

Mr. Wells returned to the bank according to agreement and after waiting half an hour began an investigation on his own account, with the result that the bank officials were notified of the situation and of Farrar's disappearance.

As the capital of the bank is $100,000 and its surplus over $35,000, the bank officials state that the loss can be readily borne, and that the capital of the bank will not be impaired. This of course is provided that no further shortage is discovered.

No warrant has been issued for the arrest of the missing teller, and so far as learned the bank examiner has not been notified. In fact the bank officials do not appear greatly exercised over the loss.

Farrar was born here 24 years ago, and has has spent his whole life among his fellow townspeople, becoming an almost universal favorite. He has been employed in the bank six or seven years, gaining during that time the confidence of all the officials, who naturally trusted him implicitly.

During the past few years he has handled all the funds of the village of Waterbury, and there should be a balance in the bank in the town's favor of nearly $4000. Whether this amount has followed the funds of the bank is not yet known.

Shooting In Cold Blood.

Chicago, April 16.—Patrick Carey, a local politician, was fatally shot Saturday night by William Maxwell, a saloon keeper, when Carey was offering to shake hands with the man who shot him. Maxwell provoked a quarrel with Carey and ordered him out of the place. Carey treated the matter as a joke, and when he refused to go Maxwell began to threaten him. Carey was trying to calm the excited saloonkeeper when the latter shot him down. Carey died in five minutes.

Dastardly Work of Tramps.

Toledo, April 16.—Two tramps, with handkerchiefs tied over their faces, called at the house of Kate and Johanna Sullivan, living four miles from West Toledo, and as Johanna opened the door one of the men struck her across the head with a club. Kate sprang to the assistance of her sister, when a second tramp felled her with an ax helve. Johanna died in a short time, and Kate is a raving maniac as the result of her injuries. The tramps escaped with $200 in money.

Their Statements Don't Agree.

Atlanta, April 14.—Little change has occurred in the situation of the telegraphers' strike on the Southern railway. Officials of the road say that they have been given little inconvenience by the strike, and that the trains are moving on schedule time, with no congestion of travel or freight at any point. President Powell of the telegraphers says that traffic on the Southern is almost totally demoralized, and that the Alabama Great Southern is unable to run freight trains, while only its principal passenger trains are moving.

Good Afternoon.

Massachusetts is pleased to know that ex-Governor Long is willing to be a candidate for Vice President. As Governor and Secretary he has been a great success, and always popular.

How many copies of the Parker Anniversary Patriot a double number will you want this week? It would be an excellent advertisement for Quincy if 10,000 copies were distributed, but the publishers cannot afford to send out as many. We propose to send out several hundred sample copies, and would suggest that those interested in Quincy in her public schools, and in education generally send Patriots all over the country. Four pages will be devoted to the Parker movement, and will be illustrated with forty or more half tones of our different Superintendents, the School Committee of 1875, several members of the School Committees 1875-1900, all the principals of our schools today, the anniversary speakers, buildings and other pictures of interest. Early orders should be placed for ten or more copies.

While responding to the alarm of fire Sunday afternoon the fire department was bothered a great deal by bicycle riders getting in front of the apparatus. Many of the riders keep just ahead of the apparatus and are a constant worry to the drivers. Should one of the riders get thrown nothing but a miracle would prevent the apparatus from running over them. Chief Williams came near running over two girls Sunday who rode ahead of him, taking up the larger part of the street. He rang his gong for them to get out of the way but they kept on. Finally, he shouted to them. This frightened the girls and over they went. It took a quick turn to prevent his running over them. There should be some way to teach the fool bicycle rider the necessity of keeping out of the way of the fire department when responding to an alarm.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ According to the latest definition, an egotist is a man who tells you those things about himself which you intended to tell him about yourself.—Beverly Times.

☞ After South Africa is conquered, Great Britain is going to offer to each of her soldiers whose time has expired, 240 acres of land there, provided they will occupy it for ten years, says the Chicago Chronicle. All very nice but England must first catch its hare before it cooks it.—Milford Journal.

☞ Senator Clark's son is responsible for the statement that his father will not resign. Well, the gentleman from Montana will simply be told that he has no right to a seat in the senate and will be invited to "git." His resignation would let him down more easily.—Brockton Times.

☞ Against $4,000 we have contributed to help British soldiers, not one cent have we applied to needy homes of our soldiers absent in the Philippines. Will some one carry this fact to London, and give a tea, and while one band plays "Dixie" and another the "Star Spangled Banner," will a few American ladies pass the hat for several thousand "boys in blue?"—Harper's Bazar.

GLORIOUS EASTER.

Very Large Congregations Reported at the Churches.

FIRST CHURCH.

The Easter services at the First church, Sunday, were largely attended, especially at the vesper service, at which there were few vacant seats. The decorations were simple, consisting of pots of Easter lilies arranged in front of the desk. A special musical program was beautifully rendered. The pastor, Rev. Ellery C. Butler gave an Easter address.

At 12 noon the Sunday school gave an Easter service under the charge of the Superintendent, Miss Edith Randall.

BETHANY CHURCH.

There was an overflow meeting at Bethany Congregational church Sunday morning, it being necessary to open the gallery to accommodate the 600 to 700 worshippers. On the platform there was a large floral harp inscribed "He is Risen," and along the front several Easter plants in bloom. The regular church quartette was assisted by Mr. E. E. Bullock, 1st tenor of the Temple Quartette, and a chorus of twelve voices, and the musical program of anthems and solos was excellent and a feature of the service. Rev. E. N. Hardy, the pastor took his text from Rev. 4:3, and spoke on "The Rainbow encircled Throne."

The Y. P. S. C. E. had an Easter meeting at 6.15, and at 7.30 there was an interesting Easter concert by the Bible school, under the direction of Mr. E. W. Branch, superintendent.

The exercises included. "The 24th Psalm," "Life of Christ," and "Resurrection and Appearances," interspersed with choruses, etc. Each of the children of the school was presented with two packages of seeds, one where the kind was named and one a "wonder package." The children were requested to plant and watch the seeds, that the Flower Mission, the church and the home may have flowers this summer.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

The Easter services at the Universalist church at 2.30 P. M. were very largely attended. The pulpit was artistically decorated with Easter lilies and ferns. A very able sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Ward.

The music was exceptionally good, solos being sung by Mrs. Laura Tirrell, Miss Lulu Phelan, and Mr. Frank Randall, also several anthems by the entire chorus. At the close of the services Mrs. B. N. Adams and Miss Adeline G. Holton were received into church membership.

CALVARY BAPTIST.

Both services at Calvary Baptist church Sunday were appropriated to Easter. Rev. David Kerr's subject in the evening was "The newest fashion Easter Dress." During the service Mrs. Henderson sang a solo and Mr. Kerr and Miss Alice Jones a duet.

CHRIST CHURCH.

Large congregations attended the services at Christ church on Easter day, and joyous music was sung at each. A feature of the Sunday School festival in the afternoon was the presentation of a potted plant to each child. The church was presented with a beautiful silver chalice, the gift of Solomon Fuller. The chalice is made by the Gorham Manufacturing Co., of New York, and is of sterling silver, the bowl being gold lined. On the base are the emblems of the four Evangelists, the cross and the stork protecting her brood. Circling the bowl is the following inscription: "Solomon Fuller to Christ church, Quincy, Mass. In loving remembrance of his wife, Almira Cushing. Easter, 1900. Drink ye all of this."

SWEDISH LUTHERAN.

All of the Easter services at the Swedish Lutheran church were very largely attended. The music was a good display of lilies and cut flowers, and the services were very impressive. At the morning service at 10.30 the pastor, Rev. John A. Bernhard, preached from Matthew, 28:1-8 and special music was rendered by the male choir. At the evening service special music was by the mixed choir.

SCHOOLS CROWDED.

Four Lowest Grades of John Hancock Have 72 Each.

Two of the Quincy schools are crowded today as they never were before, as many new pupils entered this morning on the opening of the new term. This is particularly true of the John Hancock and Lincoln the former having 72 in each of the four lowest rooms.

Fourteen new pupils entered the lowest primary at the Washington school this morning.

The new pupils at the John Hancock are:

Coddington,—Richard Larkin, Allen Miller, Granville Pratt, Arthur Bavin, William Mullen, Henry Nelson, Bartlet Spooner, Osborn Rogers, Margaret Hunt, Russell Pitts, Isabelle Nadeau, Mary Tracy, Bertha Hill, Michael Hughes, Abbott Johnson, Kendall Doble, Lillie Carlson, Eddie Lincoln.

John Hancock—Frank Allen, Olive Barnicoat, Carl Harry Broberg, Eva Bouchard, Elvira Colbert, Walter Colbert, Nellie Cremens, John Curtin, Thomas Curtin, Gordon Emslie, Albin Forsberg, Ruth Fedora Gullicksen, Mary Higgins, Enock Johnson, Mary E. Leblenc, Maggie Kilman, Annie Lawson, Loyd Lovel Lewis, Alvin Linguest, Henrietta Litchman, Archie Martell, John Morrissey, Kate McDonald Annie Nelson, Salvester Nicol, Fred Nightingale, Walfred Nordquest, Ralph Olsen, Ethel Irene Prout, William Reaigh Tinney, Mildred Smith.

A New President,

The Granite City club held its annual meeting Saturday evening, and officers were elected by the use of the Australian ballot, the successful candidates being:

President,—James H. Penniman.
Vice President,—Henry McGrath.
Clerk—E. W. H. Bass.
Treasurer,—E. W. H. Bass.
Finance Committee,—W. W. Ewell, Clarence Burgin, and Henry F. Tilden.
House Committee,—James H. Penniman, Henry McGrath and E. W. H. Bass.
Membership Committee,—Eben W. Sheppard, W. W. Mitchell and John Curtis.
Entertainment Committee,—George O. Langley, John Q. Cudworth and W. W. Ewell.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Dexter E. Wadsworth, the retiring president, under whom the club has had a very prosperous year.

James H. Penniman, the new president, resides at Wollaston. He is Quincy born, and always popular, and the club will continue to prosper.

New Voters.

The Registrars of Voters met Saturday night and added seven names to the voting list as follows:

Ward One,—Peter N. Carlson, 24 Cranch street; Neil A. Carlson, 58 Whitwell street.

Ward Three, Precinct One,—Oscar Frisk, off Verchild.

Ward Four, Precinct One,—John M. Clements, 17 Douglas street; Emile Bianchi, off Bates avenue; Guiseppi Bianchi, off Bates avenue.

Ward Four, Precinct Two,—Oscar A. Swanson, 12 Arthur street.

An Injustice.

The reference in the Ledger of Friday to counter court cases probably did an injustice to Mrs. Annie S. Porter and her daughter. The trouble arose over a quarrel among children of two neigboring families in which Mrs. Porter did not take the agressive, and she regrets very much the whole occurrence, but especially the publicity. She endeavors to bring up her children to be good boys and girls, and it is her desire to be peaceful with all.

A Nonagenarian.

Mrs. L. G. Horton, familiarly known by the young people as "Auntie Horton" passed her 90th birthday at her residence, Hancock street, Sunday. Many friends called, and Easter lilies, flowers and plants were sent by kind friends. Mrs. Horton still retains a lively interest in the affairs of life.

A Card.

We the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

—Did you ever count the number of strokes which a barber takes when he is shaving you? If you never did try it some day when you are in a speculative state of mind, and it may surprise you. The writer counted the strokes in being shaved twice over a few days ago. He said nothing to the barber about it until the latter had completed his work. It required just 438 to make the reporter presentable. There are some barbers who take more than others, of course, but it is said that 350 to 400 is a fairly low average.—Brockton Enterprise.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget with the News in a Nut Shell.

When the bells of Easter ring,
We to life the closer cling;
We enjoy the gracious thought,
In the grass and blossom brought;
We discern with sense divine,
Souls should thus to growth incline:
There are stirrings in the heart,
That thro' nature's province dart;
Signs of freedom from dull care,
Meet and greet us everywhere;
There's renewal of our hope,
All the world has larger scope;
We have come to life's sweet spring,
When the bells of Easter ring!

DOGS

MUST BE LICENSED

On or Before APRIL 30,

Or the Owners or Keepers thereof

LIABLE TO A FINE!

Extracts from the Laws of this Commonwealth.

Every owner or keeper of a dog of three months old or over shall annually on or before the THIRTIETH DAY OF APRIL, cause it to be Registered, Numbered, Described and Licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city or town wherein said dog is kept, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

An owner of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of the ensuing May; and a person becoming the owner or keeper of a dog after the first day of May, not duly licensed, shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided in the preceding section.

The fee for every license shall be two dollars for a MALE and five dollars for a FEMALE dog.

Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit FIFTEEN DOLLARS, five dollars of which shall be paid to the complainant and ten dollars to the treasurer of the county in which the dog is kept.

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number of dogs so kept exceeds five, the fee shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper, under the age of six months.

Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed, which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day in April in any year, shall, whenever it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May, as provided in Sec. 80 of Chap. 102 of the Public Statutes, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

"Housework is hard work without Gold Dust"

WASHING WOOLEN BLANKETS

The theory now is, that blankets must be washed instead of dry-cleaned to be healthy. To have your blankets as soft as new, make a soapy suds in half a tub of warm water by using one-half cup of and soak a blanket in it for half an hour; then simply move it around and rub the soiled spots; rinse in warm water of the same temperature as the one in which you wash it, hang up in a warm place or sunshiny outdoor air and see what a soft, white blanket you will have.

Gold Dust Washing Powder

WERE PUT TO-TEST.

Quincy Schools Above the Average in 1879.

The Parker Movement Affected the Whole State.

It Made Supervision by Superintendents Universal.

Among the many letters which will appear in the Parker-Patriot this week is the following complimentary one:

West Newton, Mass.
March 26, 1900.

Mr. H. W. Lull, for the Quincy Teachers' Association.

My dear Mr. Lull:—Accept my thanks for your kind invitation to the twenty-fifth anniversary of the beginning of the "revival of education" in Quincy under Colonel Parker. I hope to be present.

Please also accept the following as an expression of my "appreciation of Colonel Parker's contribution to the cause of education."

As preliminary, however, let me say, not in the least to derogate from the great service Colonel Parker has rendered and is rendering to the cause of education, but in justice to cooperating influences, that the occasion which brought him to Quincy made an important contribution to his immediate success. The schools of Quincy had continued the same men upon the school board for many successive years; they were highly intelligent, very discerning and keenly alive to the practical ends the schools ought to produce. They were pained with the repeated exhibitions of their failure to produce these ends. Moreover, they had become fully convinced of their inability to make the schools do what they conceived they ought to do. These convictions they candidly expressed to their fellow townsmen together with what they proposed as the remedy, which was the employment of a superintendent of schools who should be made responsible for results, and hence, who should have full power in directing the instruction.

The town adopted the committee's plan, made the necessary appropriation, and Colonel Parker was the person chosen by the committee as superintendent. His characteristics fitted him to fill the position; added to his native qualities of mind and heart, were his years of successful teaching at home and of critical observation and study of teaching and supervision abroad. The immediate results in the schools of Quincy were, that traditional methods of teaching disappeared, these giving place to more rational methods; instead of the formalities and routine of the old time school, which reduced the pupil to an automaton, the school became at once self-governing. Not only the forms of work, but the whole school atmosphere was changed. The school gave pleasure surpassing, in many instances, that of the home. Teachers and taught rejoiced together, as it were, in newly discovered faculties.

The methods had zealous and enthusiastic adherents at home, and the results were soon heralded abroad. Visitors to the schools came from far and near. Some "who came to scoff remained to pray." All went away the wiser. Here at last the methods that had been taught by Horace Mann and by our normal schools as theories, with some things never dreamed of by these authorities, were in daily practice in the schools of Quincy. This was more than a "revival," the schools were revolutionized. My tests applied to fifty thousand children in the schools of Norfolk County in 1879 gave to Quincy a rank twenty per cent. in the grammar grades and twenty-five per cent. in the primary grades higher than the average for the county, while Quincy's average rank was higher than that of the most favored of the other towns by nearly twelve per cent.

But not alone was Quincy affected; the "new departure" had the sympathy of every progressive teacher in the State and more or less affected every school for good. As I look back through this period of twenty-five years, I believe it is not too much to say that it caused throughout the entire country, a more liberal spirit to prevail in all that pertains to school administration, in school government, in courses of study and in methods of teaching. Of this, I am sure, the success of the Quincy experiment went far towards making school supervision by superintendents universal in Massachusetts In 1877, there were in the state but twenty-three full time superintendents, today there are one hundred and thirty-five. Over ninety-three per cent. of the Massachusetts public schools, and over ninety-five per cent. of the children in them have now this form of supervision.

As a means for increasing the efficiency of teachers and so of the schools, the introduction of expert superintendence ranks in importance with the establishment of normal schools. Our superintendents are not all Colonel Parkers, but they are devoted, enthusiastic persons ready to follow in the path made luminous by those who have gone before, and like their exemplar, diligent seekers after better ways wherever such may be found. Many are today filling places of eminence with marked ability and distinction as teachers, authors and superintendents, who got their inspiration from Colonel Parker while teaching in the schools of Quincy. We rejoice to know that the source of that inspiration is not limited to the narrow field favored by its early operations, but that its influence is broadened to the continent and beyond, that it has not only a happy past and present but a hopeful and glorious future.

Most cordially yours,
GEORGE A. WALTON.

OPINIONS ON THE REVIVAL OF EDUCATION IN QUINCY IN 1875

Will Appear in the Parker Illustrated Edition of the Quincy Patriot, April 21, 1900.

Calendar of City Council.

Considerable business will come before the meeting of the City Council tonight. There will be public hearings on the extension of Walker street, and the widening of Prospect street; widening Granite street between Quarry and Copeland streets, and laying out Morton street.

The Committee on Ordinances will report a new ordinance governing junk dealers, and will also report on the Wollaston hose house order.

The Committee on Licenses will report upon several petitions.

The Committee on Fire Department will report on the communication of the Mayor, relative to reorganization of the fire department, and also on petitions for fire alarm boxes.

The Committee on Public Buildings will report on the heating and ventilating of the Wollaston school, on the order for $2,000 for grading the John Hancock school yard, and on the plant of the United Shoe Machine Company.

The Committee on Streets will report on petitions for street lights, on the order for $2,000 for Beale street, on the petition to widen Quincy avenue, on petition of the Massachusetts Telephone Co. for a location for poles, and orders for public hearing on the new street from Howard to South street, and the acceptance of Blake street.

The Sunday Fire.

The alarm form Box 153 at 4.10 Sunday afternoon called the department to a slight fire in the stable of Carey Keith, near the National Sailors' Home. The blaze was caused by a boy setting fire to a pair of greasy overhauls. The fire worked up the side of the building, but was extinguished before it had gained much headway. The loss will not be over $5.

New Stores at Atlantic.

J. B. Sutherland, who has a shoe store at the corner of Franklin and Water streets, has opened a branch store in the new block, Atlantic. Mr. Sutherland will make no formal opening, the lights in his store on Saturday evening, speaking for themselves. He has come to stay, so he says, and thinks where there are three churches in a town, its inhabitants ought to wear out enough shoe leather to support a boot and shoe store.

Mr. George S. Burr, of Atlantic, opened his new store in the block at the corner of Sagamore and Prospect streets, on Saturday evening. The store was well lighted, and made itself at once noticed by its artistic display in the windows. One by one, people ventured inside, until at eight o'clock, Mr. Burr found himself holding a lively reception. A dry goods store has been a long-standing need in Atlantic, and Mr. Burr, being perfectly acquainted with the business, intends to keep in stock all needs in the line of dry goods, at Boston prices. The question of lighting the store has not been settled as yet, but there is a possibility of having electric lights throughout the entire block.

TODAY'S COURT.

Miniature Tornado In Kansas.

Wichita, Kan., April 16.—A storm approaching a tornado in proportion is reported in the vicinity west of Clearwater. Two deaths are reported and four people are said to have been injured by overturned houses. Wires are down and names and particulars are unobtainable.

Boat Capsized by Breakers.

Newburyport, Mass., April 16.—Two fishermen, Charles Bagley and William Wright, set out from Salisbury Beach Sunday to tend their trawls, and in attempting to go through breakers, their boat was capsized and Bagley was drowned. Wright managed to swim ashore.

Missing Man Found Drowned.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 16.—The body of John E. Nooney, aged 42, was found under a dock on the east side of the harbor. A week ago Nooney left the home of relatives and since then nothing had been heard of him. How he came to be drowned is a mystery.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Fair and warmer weather prevailed Sunday generally east of the Mississippi. A western disturbance will move northeastward toward the lake regions, carrying the rain area to the middle and south Atlantic states today. By Tuesday the rain area will extend over New England. Along the New England coast variable winds will shift to easterly, and increase in for.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

Priest Driven Out of Town.

City of Mexico, April 16.—The new order of the archbishop of Mexico regarding the passion play, customary on Good Friday, was observed in the valley of Mexico, although the masses resented the prohibition of the spectacle, which has been a feature of holy week for centuries. At Yautepec the people assembled at the parish priest's home, demanding that he distribute, as usual, the costumes for the Passion Play. This he refused to do, and he was driven out of town.

DOES COFFEE AGREE WITH YOU?

If not, drink Grain-O—made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain O I did not like it but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." It nourishes and feeds the system. The children can drink it freely with great benefit. It is the strengthening substance of pure grains. Get a package today from your grocer, follow the directions in making it and you will have a delicious and healthful table beverage for old and young. 15c. and 25c.

BULLET IN HIS NECK

Ends the Life of Rufus Wright, Millionaire Manufacturer of Tires.

Scuffled With a Woman In Her Apartments.

Claimed to Be Result of Accident, After Much Wine Drinking.

Chicago, April 16.—Rufus Wright, of the firm of Morgan & Wright, manufacturers of rubber tires, who was shot through the neck during a scuffle for the possession of a revolver in the apartments of Mrs. Louisa Lottridge, at the Leland hotel, died yesterday from the effects of the wound. The body of the millionaire is now at undertaking rooms, where an inquest will be held.

Mr. Wright's son-in-law and partner, Fred Morgan, was at his side at death. Mr. Morgan held that his father-in-law was on an errand to help a friend who had become entangled with the woman, when he received his death wound.

The police were not apprised of the tragedy until two hours after it had occurred. Mrs. Lottridge and a friend, Mrs. Koss, who had spent several hours with her previous to the shooting, were arrested.

Much mystery attaches to the shooting. Both the victim and Mrs. Lottridge persisted in saying it was accidental.

The woman registered at the hotel April 11, when she arrived in company with Mrs. Ida Koss, who was arrested after the shooting. Mrs. Koss spent every night with her friend and left her Saturday only a few minutes before Wright arrived at the hotel in answer to a summons from Mrs. Lottridge.

Mrs. Lottridge, in a statement made at the police station, said: "I cannot remember what led up to the production of the revolver. I was talking to Mr. Wright when he asked me to show him a revolver of which he had spoken previously. I refused to do so, and we talked on other matters for a while. I remember that I finally went to my valise and took out my weapon, and when he saw it, Mr. Wright begged me to throw it away. As I remember he tried to take the weapon from my hand, and we scuffled. I stood up and he was sitting on the couch. I had hold of the weapon, when with a sudden effort he tore the revolver from my grasp. He fell backward, and I followed him. I managed to get hold of the butt of the weapon, he holding to the guard.

"As we struggled the weapon was discharged, and bad as I felt from the liquor I had drunk, I could not help crying out in horror when I saw he was wounded. He fell back on the sofa and gasped that he was shot. I laughed hysterically, and told him he was all right. He insisted he had been wounded, and begged me to call a doctor.

"I told him he was dreaming, and then set about caring for him. I took a handkerchief from his pocket and attempted to stop the flow of blood from his neck where the ball had entered. I saw at a glance that the revolver had done deadly work, but I could not bring myself to tell anyone of the occurrence. I waited on Mr. Wright for two hours possibly before I summoned a doctor. I was so overcome that I could not talk and may have said things I ought not to have said, but the pressure I was laboring under was the cause for my actions. The story that Mr. Wright came to my room in the interest of a friend is false. He came to see me at my request. He had known me long enough to come at my least call. He was in good spirits when he entered the room. We drank together and talked of matters which concerned ourselves. We had a pleasant conversation until the revolver was introduced by chance and the struggle which ended in his death."

Although he admits he can offer no evidence, Chief of Detectives Colleran strongly believes that the weapon was not in the hand of Wright when it was discharged. A careful examination of the wound, he says, will show that it would be impossible for Wright to have held the weapon in his hand. Captain Colleran says also that Mrs. Lottridge said she could not remember whether the weapon was in her hand or in Wright's. He also cites the fact that Wright's beard is not singed, as it would have been if a weapon had been discharged close to his head; his face is not marked with powder; in fact, Captain Colleran says, there is nothing to show that he held a revolver close to his face.

Racers Dashed Into Crowd.

Paris, April 16.—The Paris-Roubaix autocar race yesterday led to a serious accident. Two competitors on motor-tricycles collided and dashed at the speed of an express train into a crowd of 2000 who had assembled at a cross roads to witness their passing. Twenty persons were knocked down, some having bones broken and many others being bruised.

Dory Capsized.

Gloucester, Mass., April 16.—Schooner Herald arrived from La Have bank with her flag at half-mast for the loss of Samuel Swim, one of the crew, who was drowned by the capsizing of his dory while hauling trawls. His dory mate, Bradford Low, was rescued in an exhausted condition.

Many Factories May Close.

Montreal, April 16.—The trouble between the cigar manufacturers and their employes is spreading, and now threatens the closing of almost all the factories in Canada. The trouble originated over non-adherence to the union rules regarding the employment of apprentices.

Hardships of Gold Seekers.

Victoria, B. C., April 16.—Advices from Nome state that during the winter typhoid fever has raged there. There have been 30 deaths from the disease and 300 cases. It is also stated that many persons perished on the way from Dawson to Nome.

THIS WEEK IN CONGRESS.

Struggle Over Naval Appropriation Bill Promised In House—Work Before the Senate.

Washington, April 16.—This week in the house will be largely taken up with the consideration of the naval appropriation bill, over which there promises to be a protracted struggle. The whole question of armor plate, except that for the Maine, Wisconsin and Missouri, will be fought out.

The minority members of the committee, led by Mr. Wheeler of Kentucky, will make a strong fight for the establishment of a government armor plate factory as the best solution of the vexed problem. An attempt will also be made by the minority of the committee for the building of ships in government yards. Before the naval bill is taken up Chairman Marsh of the committee on militia will be recognized to move the passage, under suspension of the rules, of the bill to appropriate $1,000,000 for the militia of the several states.

Friday will be given up to the committee on war claims, under the rules, and Saturday has been set aside for paying tribute to the memory of the late Representative Evan P. Settle of Kentucky.

The senate will continue during the week to devote its attention to the Alaskan code bill, the Quay resolution and the bill providing for the temporary government of the Philippine islands. There also will be more or less sparring for place on the part of the friends of the Nicaragua canal.

Senator Carter will try to get a day fixed for a vote on the Alaskan bill. There are only two amendments of importance remaining to be acted upon in connection with that measure, and it is thought these could be disposed of at a very early date if the friends of the Alaskan bill would agree to assist in the taking up of other legislation when it is out of the way. Senator Morgan seems at present to hold up the code measure until he can receive some assurance on the canal bill, but so far has apparently not been successful in that direction.

There also is a noticeable disposition to use the Alaskan bill and the Philippine bill to delay the taking up of the subsidy bill. The Democrats in the senate are practically united in opposition to the subsidy proposition. Senator Lodge, in charge of the Philippine bill, announces it to be his purpose to ask for a vote on it whenever the Democrats make an opening for such suggestion. Apparently, however, he is not very sanguine of success.

Senator Hoar has given notice of a speech on the Philippine question, and he is expected then to fully outline his views on the question of expansion.

Miners Reject Arbitration.

Piedmont, W. Va., April 16.—Seven hundred miners employed by the Davis Coal and Coke company in this section of the Elk Garden mining region have voted unanimously to strike. Like their brothers of the Georges Creek region the miners demanded 60 cents per long ton. Officials of the company urged the men to arbitrate their differences, and offered to pay the men whatever the operators of the Georges Creek region decided upon as the scale to prevail in that region for the current year.

Celebrated 105th Birthday.

Boston, April 16.—At the home for aged colored women Sunday, Mrs. Nancy Washington received the greetings of friends upon the occasion of her 105th birthday. Mrs. Washington was born in Boston, her father being a full-blooded Indian and her mother an African. She has been married six times. She retains her faculties to a remarkable degree.

Charged With Child Poisoning.

Boston, April 16.—Josie Schmidt and Sophie Goluenbeska, Russian Poles, are under arrest on suspicion of causing the death of a 4 months old babe, said to be the child of the Goluenbeska woman, by poisoning. Each woman charges the crime upon the other, and the responsibility will have to be settled by the court.

Child Killed by Cavein.

South Braintree, Mass., April 16.—A cavein at a sand pit resulted in the death of Cora B. Hollis, 4 years old. Cora, with two other children, was engaged in building a house of moist sand, beneath a treacherous embankment, which toppled over, burying her to the depth of about two feet.

Discouraged by Sickness.

Greenfield, Mass., April 16.—A sufferer from bronchial asthma, aggravated by an attack of the grip, Nathaniel Vickary, aged 73, a retired taxidermist, committed suicide by shooting.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Abial Fisher, a prominent business man of Clinton, Mass., dropped dead while waiting for an electric car. He was an Odd Fellow and a member of the G. A. R.

John Hannigan, aged 63, one of the best known horse trainers in the country, died at his home at Milldale, Ky. He was once a trainer for Bismarck in Germany.

Miss Mary Field French, aged 75, a cousin of the late Eugene Field, and for a number of years his guardian, died suddenly at her home at Amherst, Mass.

Rev. E. H. Prescott read his resignation from the pastorate of the Jefferson Street Free Baptist church, Biddeford, Me. He will accept a call to Estherville, Ia.

John Ryan, aged 22, son of Dennis Ryan, a farmer, hanged himself in his father's barn at Belmont, Mass. No motive for the act is known.

Alfred F. Young was struck by cars at Lowell, Mass., and killed.

Thomas McGinnis, who escaped from the Worcester insane asylum, was located in a small village 10 miles from Pawtucket, R. I. He had suffered none during his wanderings.

Murat Halstead has accepted the presidency of the new college of journalism, an institution devoted to teaching practical newspaper work, and which has opened its offices at Cincinnati.

Seven horses, valued at $1000, were burned to death in the stable fire of Griffin & McCarthy, Somerville, Mass. The property loss was $2500.

Samuel Brierly, a cook, was instantly killed on the Fitchburg railroad at Worcester, Mass.

COLE ADMITS HIS GUILT.

Former President of Globe National Bank Acknowledges Truth of Indictment.

Boston, April 16.—Six months ago Charles H. Cole was regarded as one of Boston's most prominent business men. He was president of the Globe National bank, interested in several large business ventures, and was reputed to be worth about $2,000,000. On Saturday, broken in health, in spirit and in purse, he pleaded guilty to three counts in an indictment charging him with embezzling funds from the banking institution of which he was the head.

The counts to which Cole pleaded guilty were the fifth, 16th and 19th. The fifth count charges Cole with the wilful misapplication on the 10th of May of a stock certificate of the United States Mining company of the value of $400,000. The 16th count charges him with the wilful misapplication of 252 bonds issued by the Niagara Mining and Smelting company, each of the value of $500. The 19th count charges Cole with the misapplication on Aug. 21, 1899, of a check and order for money for the payment of $290,000 and another check for the payment of $8604.70, the whole aggregating $824,604.70.

Cole has evidently made up his mind to take his sentence, appealing to the mercy of the court.

If disposed to do so, the judge could sentence Cole for 30 years on the counts, so it is said at the federal building; but few look for such a sentence.

Naval Department Handicapped.

Washington, April 15.—The navy department has ordered the cruiser Detroit to go out of commission. Orders have been prepared to put the Marblehead out of commission, and orders have been sent Admiral Watson to send the gunboats Bennington and Concord, now at Manila, home to San Francisco, where they also will be put out of commission. The big battleships Indiana and Massachusetts are to be laid up in ordinary instead of being commissioned. This remarkable reduction of the number of ships in commission is ascribed at the navy department to the lack of a sufficient number of officers to furnish complements for the ships absolutely required for naval purposes.

Strikers Adopt Boycott Plan.

Atlanta, April 16.—The order of Railway Telegraphers has declared a boycott on the Southern railway, and hope to make it effective through the ticket agents of the United States and the Federation of Labor. Telegrams have been sent to the 20,000 ticket and freight agents in the United States, asking them to route passengers and freight via other lines than the Southern pending the present trouble. A message was also sent President Gompers of the Federation of Labor requesting him to boycott the road.

Mind Unbalanced by Good Fortune.

New York, April 16.—The body of Julius Koster, a bricklayer, was found swinging from a rope in the empty water tank on the roof of his house. Koster had recently recovered from a long spell of sickness. He was still weak in mind and body when his brother in Germany died, leaving him a fortune of $300,000. The sudden change from poverty to riches left his mind permanently affected. On Saturday he disappeared and yesterday his body was found hanging in the tank.

Killed by Excitement.

Boston, April 16.—The murder theory in connection with the case of Philip Sullivan, a veteran of the Togus (Me.) soldiers' home, who was found dead on the Charlesbank playgrounds Saturday, was dispelled by the report of the medical examiner, who finds no evidence that Sullivan had been struck. That he was robbed of $200 is indisputable, and the opinion is that death was due to heart trouble, aggravated by the excitement attending the robbery.

Five Thousand Men Laid Off.

New York, April 16.—Five thousand cigarmakers employed by six of the largest firms in that trade in this city have been notified that there will be no more work for them until further notice. No reason is assigned for the shutdown, but the cigarmakers believe that they have been locked out to prevent them from contributing to the support of the 2200 strikers in Kerbs, Wertheim & Schiffer's factory, who have been out six weeks.

Brothers Struck by a Train.

Gardner, Mass., April 16.—A freight train on the Fitchburg railroad struck and killed Patrick and William Fitzgerald, brothers, aged 27 and 29, about two miles west of South Royalston, early Sunday morning. The Fitzgeralds, with their brother, James, and another man, had been to Athol and were walking to their home in South Royalston. James and the fourth man jumped to the inward-bound track and escaped injury.

Officer Used His Gun.

Brockton, Mass., April 16.—A body of Americans and Polanders got into a fight Sunday, and Officer Gray, in attempting to quell the disturbance, was so severely used by the crowd that he was forced to use his revolver. One of the Poles was struck in the abdomen by a bullet, but his friends carried him away almost immediately, so that his name could not be ascertained. Two of the Poles were locked up.

Childish Quarrel Ends In Murder.

Lexington, April 15.—In a fight with revolvers here, Dr. Joseph N. Parker shot and killed Veto A. Antonelli. The fight took place in front of a grocery store, in which the men became involved in a quarrel shortly before. When Antonelli declared in the grocery that, excepting the grocery keeper, not a man would tell the truth, Dr. Parker took exceptions to the remark. Dr. Parker is in jail.

Proved to Be a Farce.

Braintree, Mass., April 16.—The Jaws of the "close season" for the Sunday sale of soda, cigars, tobacco and such articles, were not enforced here yesterday. The street-car waiting-rooms, which were affected a week ago, were open, and the proprietors were not molested in their sales.

CAPTURED AT BOSTON.

Teller Farrar Will Return to Vermont Without Requisition Papers.

Had Been In Consultation With a Stock Broker.

Examination of Books Shows Embezzlement to Be Less Than $25.000.

Waterbury, Vt., April 17.—Teller J. C. Farrar, the missing officer of the Waterbury National bank, is under arrest at Boston. It was known early Monday morning that Farrar was in Boston, through a message received by Edward Farrar, father of the teller, and later a telephone message to Mr. Moody was understood to be from the same individual.

Farrar arrived at Boston Sunday and sought out the broker with whom he had had dealings in the stock market and the two went together to the Quincy House, where Farrar registered under an assumed name. Monday afternoon was spent at one of the local theaters, and when shortly before 8 o'clock Deputy Sheriff Tracy of Montpelier arrived Farrar was in his room taking a bath.

During the day he had communicated with Montpelier by telephone and had requested George E. Moody, a local lumber dealer, to come to Boston. In the meantime President Dillingham had notified District Attorney Morton of Montpelier and word had been sent to Boston to detain Farrar until the arrival of the Vermont officers. The Boston police located him late in the afternoon, but the Vermont officers were the first to see him, and it was only when Farrar came down from his room to the dining room that Inspector Robertson of Boston headquarters put in an appearance and informed him of his arrest.

There at once arose a spirited conflict between the local officer and those from Vermont as to who had custody of the young man, but an adjournment was made to headquarters, where Deputy Hanscom settled matters by showing his instructions from President Dillingham, and after being booked Farrar was sent to the city prison about 11:30 last night. Before going he expressed his willingness to return to Waterbury without requisition papers from the governor of Vermont.

Farrar acknowledged to the officers that he was short in his accounts at the bank, and that he had spent all the money in the stock market. He seemed very much surprised and considerably cast down at being sent to prison, but nevertheless was much relieved by the prospect of returning soon and seemed to feel that the matter might be adjusted.

All day Monday President Dillingham and several directors of the bank looked over the books and securities, and it was given out last night that Teller Farrar's reported embezzlements were not so large as earlier stated, the figures having a total of less than $25,000. It has not been determined how far back the misuse of funds began.

A cursory look through the books would seem to indicate that a very easy method was adopted to balance the cash accounts. The itemized accounts were correct, but the footings were wrong, and it is thought that the latter figures were changed to agree with the cash balances. The town accounts are understood to be all right.

Mrs. Lottridge Sent to Jail.

Chicago, April 17.—Mrs. Louise Lottridge was committed to jail yesterday, charged with the murder of Rufus Wright. Hearing of the case was continued until April 24. When taken to jail she was considered temporarily insane and was turned over to the care of the jail physician. On the way to the jail she insisted that the officer was taking her to her execution. Mrs. Ida Koss, Mrs. Lottridge's friend, was arrested on the charge of being an accessory to the alleged murder. Bail was fixed at $2500.

Church Must Keep Out of Politics.

Paris, April 17.—The Rome correspondent of The Temps, in a dispatch that has almost official significance, says: A papal decision prohibiting the Assumptionists from continuing the editorial management of La Croix was arrived at after a solemn conclave of bishops and cardinals. Hereafter no religious congregation will be permitted to take any part in politics. This decision is binding upon Catholics all over the world, including the American Paulists.

Indulged In Unparliamentary Language.

Boston, April 17.—The remarkable feature of the meeting of the board of aldermen yesterday was the language used by some of the members during a debate, some of the epithets exchanged being "renegades," "traitors" and "traders," and the responses being "pothouse language," "corner politics" and "gutter arguments." These terms were used over small political matters, and fully half the board membership was included in the debate.

Run Down by Coal Schooner.

Boston, April 17.—The small sand carrying schooner Carl Schurz was run into by the coal laden schooner William Norman Roberts off Magnolia and so badly damaged that she went down in half an hour. Schooner G. H. Hopkins sent a boat to the Schurz and took off the master and two men. The Roberts continued her course.

WITH ELABORATE CEREMONY

Mr. Allen Will Be Inaugurated Governor of Puerto Rico on May 1.

Washington, April 17.—Mr. Allen, the newly chosen governor of Puerto Rico, is arranging to leave Washington for San Juan toward the end of the present week. It is Governor Allen's intention to make this a flying visit. He will set up the new civil government, and inside of three weeks will return to the United States to arrange his private affairs.

The president and Secretary Long have determined that the inauguration of the civil government in Puerto Rico shall be marked with as much pomp as is befitting an event of that magnitude. Therefore, the United States will see to it that there is at San Juan on the occasion of the inauguration of the first American governor a dignified and impressive ceremony that will fix the event in the minds of the people.

The Dolphin, which will carry Mr. Allen to San Juan, will enter the harbor there escorted by the entire North Atlantic squadron, under command of Rear Admiral Farquhar. The squadron is now at Bermuda, and will time its movements so as to arrive off the north coast of Puerto Rico about the time the Dolphin is sighted.

Governor Allen will be inaugurated at San Juan on May 1, and General Davis, the military governor, will turn out all of the United States troops under his command in honor of the occasion. The ships of the squadron will fire salutes, which will be answered by the shore batteries. There will be speeches, and at night the fleet will use its electric lights, and there will be general illuminations.

After setting up a civil government and conferring with General Davis, Mr. Allen will return to the United States to arrange his private affairs, returning to Puerto Rico on the Mayflower.

Bay State Legislature.

Boston, April 17.—The legislative committee on agriculture reported unanimously an appropriation of $200,000 to be expended under the direction of the state board of agriculture for continuing the work of exterminating the gypsy moth. The special committee chosen to investigate the moth recommended only $40,000 and the towns to assume a portion of the expense. The ways and means committee is now considering the bill and recommendations of the special committee. When the matter reaches the house the three committees will clash and a lively legislative row is promised.

The bill abolishing dark cells in prisons was ordered to a third reading in the house.

Mr. Odlin moved, in place of an adverse report on the petition of the Catholic Total Abstinence union of the Springfield diocese, an act to prevent the sale of malt liquors by grocers. The adverse report was accepted, however, and passed to be engrossed.

Golden Riches In Philippines.

San Francisco, April 17.—The transport Tartar, which arrived Saturday from Manila, was released from quarantine yesterday. The Tartar brought advices from the Philippines up to March 6. One of the reports from Manila is that William Odun, spoken of as a miner of large experience, has returned from a prospecting trip to the distant coast of Vigan. He showed rich specimens of gold, and declared that he located a ledge of quartz as rich as anything in Colorado or California. He is organizing a company of ex-soldiers and will go into the mountain districts of Vigan to secure claims.

Aged Man Slays His Son.

New York, April 17.—In a dispute in Brooklyn over a dog, August Brogus, 77 years old, last night stabbed and killed his son, Charles, 31 years old. Young Brogus brought the animal into his home, sat down to dinner and started to feed most of his meal to the dog. The father, who, it is said, had been drinking, objected to his son's action and drew a knife. The son attempted to take the knife from his father, but the latter stabbed him to the heart. The father was arrested.

Preacher Violated the Law.

Livingston, Mon., April 17.—Rev. Robert Livingstone was arrested by an officer of the United States government, the charge being illegally marrying a couple in the Yellowstone National park. A couple persuaded Mr. Livingstone to marry them without a license. The minister is now confined in the guard house at Fort Yellowstone, where he will be held until his trial.

Clergyman Killed by Lightning.

Tuscaloosa, Fla., April 17.—Rev. O. B. Wilson, superintendent of the Stillman institute, was killed by lightning yesterday, while using a telephone. He was a Virginian, and at the time of his death was employed in the work of educating negroes, under the direction of the Southern Presbyterian church.

Victim of Savage Assault.

Attleboro, Mass., April 17.—Danetti Bassette, living in North Attleboro, reports having been attacked by two men and being struck across the head with the butt of a revolver. Bassette's injuries are severe, the blow having broken an ear drum and caused concussion of the brain.

Dispute Wound Up With Shooting.

Providence, April 17. — Harry Edwards was shot in the thigh during a dispute with Ferdinando Caldarene, an Italian cobbler, over the price of a pair of shoes. Another bullet grazed his abdomen, but his condition is not serious. Both men are under arrest.

NO SIGN OF RELIEF.

Boers Return to Siege of Mafeking and Bombardment Is Renewed.

Roberts Has a Net Out For Adventurous Commandoes.

Concentration Tactics Said to Be Causing Boers to Think of Retreat.

London, April 17.—The Daily Mail has the following from Lady Sarah Wilson, dated Mafeking, April 5:

"The pinch of hunger is beginning to be felt, and relief seems more distant than ever. Since March 31 there has been no shelling, until today, Commandant Snyman having taken his burghers to bar Colonel Plumer's road. Yesterday, however, he returned, and the bombardment was renewed today with splendid high-velocity guns, firing 14-pound shells, such as had not been used since the first day of the siege. The military authorities say the British artillery has nothing to compare with these guns."

Lord Roberts has spread his net far and wide to catch the adventurous commandoes that have been making mischief in the southeastern part of the state. The net has not yet been drawn in, but, at the headquarters of Lord Roberts, the impression exists that the power of the Boers is decreasing. A Daily News correspondent has them fleeing to the southeast; a Standard correspondent reports them fleeing northward; a Daily Telegraph correspondent says that some are going north and others south; while a Morning Post report says it is not known what the Boers are doing.

Evidently the feeling at Bloemfontein is that the dispositions of Lord Roberts are such as to enable him to concentrate a large force rapidly at any point. The Boers, being aware of this, are presumed to be thinking now chiefly of retreat.

The investment of Wepener, according to a special dispatch from Bloemfontein, has absolutely been abandoned. According to a Bethany dispatch the Boers are unable to retreat northward, because the British strongly hold all roads.

Diverse reports come from Natal, one asserting that the Boers have retired beyond the Biggarsburg range and another saying that some of them are close to Ladysmith.

London waits confidently for almost immediate announcement of news favorable to the British. Distrust exists, however, as to any rapid, continuous advance toward Pretoria, chiefly on account of the lack of horses, many of which die in the case of long voyages. Letters from the Cape say that the three days' journey by rail is made in open trucks; that the arrangements for feeding and watering are inadequate, and that the unfortunate animals break down rapidly in consequence of these hardships. Despite the energy of its buyers abroad, the war office forsees much difficulty in supplying the enormous number of horses required.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Morning Post says: Small bodies of Boers are prowling around, and are even coming within eight or ten miles of Bloemfontein. Three actually entered the town one night, and escaped without being discovered. The Boer demonstration Sunday at Karee Siding was designed to cover the withdrawal of an immense convoy of provisions. There is no doubt that the Boers' incursion into the southeastern part of the Free State was largely due to the need of replenishing victuals in the most fertile part of the country. This explains why the enemy marched south with empty wagons.

The Lourenzo Marquez correspondent of The Daily Mail says: The tone of The Standard and Digger's News shows that the Transvaal government is relying strongly upon American intervention. Great results are expected from the campaign of Mr. Webster Davis and from the presidential contest. While the semi-blockade of Delagoa Bay has not done the slightest harm to the Transvaal, it has enriched foreign firms at the expense of ruined Britishers.

A Kentucky Excursion Episode.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 17.—Morgan Boone, colored, and some companions in the second-class car of an excursion train, had been drinking heavily. As the train approached Slaughtersville, Boone started back through the coaches, brandishing a revolver. One of the male excursionists was about to rise from his seat when Boone felled him with a coupling pin. A dozen white men rushed at the negro and shot him to death. His body was thrown off into a brook beside the track.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Sun rises—4:59; sets, 6:29.
Moon rises—10:24 p. m.
High Water—1:15 a. m.; 1:45 p. m.

Since Sunday night the center of disturbance of considerable strength has moved slowly northeastward over Kansas, attended by rain generally in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys, the lake and gulf districts and thence over the middle Rocky mountain region. During today the western storm will continue a slow advance toward the lake regions and the rain area will extend over the Atlantic coast states. Rain, with increasing easterly winds, will prevail in New England.

GEO. W. PRESCOTT & SON.

Good Afternoon.

Miss Julia E. Underwood began Monday her 46th year as a teacher of the Coddington school. There should be a grand reunion pupils in 1905, her semi-centennial.

May 1 is likely to become a red letter day in Porto Rican history, as that is the date upon which the island will be turned over to the new civil government. The new tariff will also go into effect on that day. Congressional sentiment commends the President's selection of Hon. Charles H. Allen of Massachusetts now Assistant Secretary of the Navy, to be civil governor of the island. Mr. Allen has proven himself a capable man and is likely to become popular in Porto Rico.

The Boston Journal heartily endorses our townsman in the following editorial: "Frank, positive, loyal to his friends and loyal to his party, Mr. John Shaw of Quincy, who talked to the Journal of his candidacy for Congress in the tenth District, is a good example of the stalwart Massachusetts Republican. Mr. Shaw is a great believer in protection to all American interests, including the American ship. He is a personal friend of President McKinley, a champion of his Administration, and an advocate of the onward policy in the Philippines. Men like a public man who defines his position with the emphasis of the Journal interview, and does not stop with words, either, but puts his whole energy into everything he undertakes."

Drift of Opinion.

☞ England's colonial system is generally regarded as something to be admired, yet how comes it that famines are of such frequent occurrence in her dependencies if her rule be as beneficent as some people say it is?—Haverhill Gazette.

☞ Our railroad material will wear just as well on Italian roads as in Russia and various other countries across the water, and orders that have come from there recently indicate that the Italians are learning where they can do the best strokes of business in this kind of equipment. A few more years and the United States will be recognized as indespensible to the remainder of the world, and it is almost so now for some countries.—Lowell Courier.

Vardon at Wollaston.

The Wollaston Golf club has arranged with Harry Vardon, the British open champion, for an exhibition on its links tomorrow, when he will play a match against the best ball of two professional golfers, whose names will be announced later. If the weather is stormy the match will be postponed to some day next week.

Vardon with Charles S. Cox of New York as a partner played a preliminary match with Alexander H. Finlay and Robert Stronvar at Wollaston yesterday.

☞ Furniture reupholstered, mattresses made over. Window Shades to order. Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

CITY COUNCIL.

Mayor Hall Recommends City Hall Remodelling.

Reorganization of Fire Department Reported.

An Appointment of the Mayor Held Up.

Councilmen Nicol and Gassett were the only absentees at Monday night's meeting of the City Council.

JURORS DRAWN.

Assisted by Councilman Poland and City Clerk Cleaves, Mayor Hall drew the following jurors: Charles F. Pettengill, John S. Gay, Delcevare King, Robert J. Teasdale, Fitzhugh Crane, Charles H. Burgess, John Russell, Eugene F. DeNormandie, John H. Rooney, John F. Fox, Jonas Shackley and Joseph W. Newcomb.

TOWN RIVER.

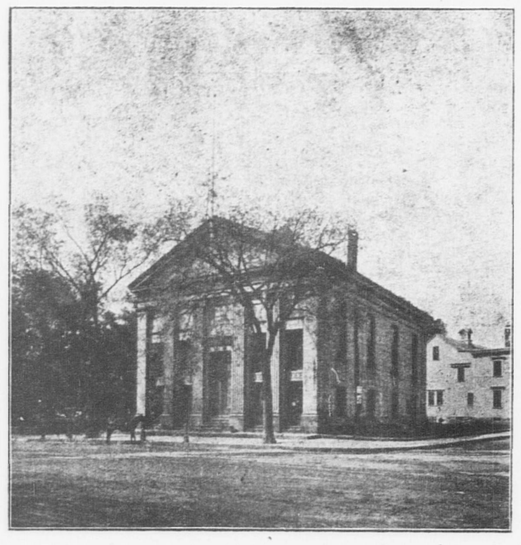

The Mayor, in a communication, said it would be for the benefit of the bill before Congress for Town river, if the Council would take favorable action in regard to the matter. Referred to Committee on Legislative Matters.

STATE HIGHWAY.

The Mayor, in a communication, said that the city had signed a contract to build the State road on Washington street, and requested authority to use money from the highway appropriation, the amount when received from the State to be credited to that appropriation. Referred to Committee on Finance.

REGISTRAR OF VOTERS.

The Mayor announced the appointment of Matthew F. O'Brien of Ward Four for Registrar of Voters for three years. As there was some question as to the correctness of the name, it was laid on the table until later, then the Mayor in a second letter stated the name should be Michael F. O'Brien.

CITY HALL.

Councilman Hogan objected to the confirmation of the appointment as he was not a recognized Democrat, and moved to lay on the table. Voted.

CITY HALL REMODELLING.

The Mayor in a communication said he believed City Hall should be remodelled at an early date. From plans made he believed changes could be made and all departments provided for at a cost of from $25,000 to $30,000. Referred to Committee on Public Buildings.

MORE LADDERS.

The Mayor in a communication said the Fire department was in need of more ladders and he recommended the old Hook & Ladder be put into commission with a driver and small company. Referred to Committee on Fire Department.

PUBLIC BATH.

The Mayor in a communication said it had been found that the Park Commissioners could not use any of the playground fund for a bathhouse, and he requested an appropriation of $1800 for that purpose.

STATE AID.

The Mayor returned without his approval, the order granting State aid to Luther Parrott, as it could not be paid him under the chapter it was charged to. The order was reconsidered, and the matter recommitted.

SEWER EXTENSIONS.

The Mayor returned without his signature the order requesting the Mayor to petition the Legislature for use of the sewer assessments for construction of the sewer, as it should have read assessments and receipts. As the time for introducing bills was short he had introduced the proper bills and requested the Council's endorsement.

Laid on the table until later, when the veto was sustained and an order endorsing the Mayor's action passed.

PETITIONS.

Petitions were received as follows:

For numerous minor licenses.

For the acceptance of Upland street.

For a fire alarm box at the corner of Water street and Brook road.

From the Electric Light Co. for location of poles on South street.

For the laying out of a new street from near the corner of Chubbuck and South streets, across private land to the new street between Howard and South streets.

All of which were referred to committees.

WALKER STREET EXTENSION.

A public hearing was given on the petition to extend Walker street and widen Prospect street.

Henry B. Blackwell favored. If the new street was built it would bring a large amount of property within five minutes of the depot. It would add $100,000 of taxable property to the city within a few years. It would be the most direct route to the depot from the east of Billings street. Five out of the seven lot owners were in favor. He would give his land and the estimated cost would not exceed $350.

Ex-Councilman Theodore C. Parker also favored. The lots now were 200 feet deep and in such shape that they could not readily be sold.

Mr. Blackwell read a petition in favor. As the street was to be done under the betterment act it would not cost the city a cent.

President Bryant read a letter in opposition, from the heirs of the Moody estate. Hearing closed and order recommitted.

GRANITE STREET.

A public hearing on the widening of Granite street between Quarry and Copeland streets was next in order.

A recess was taken to permit interested parties to examine the plans.

No one appeared in favor and only one against, Mr. Griffiths.

The order was then recommitted.

MORTON STREET.

At the public hearing on the acceptance of Morton street, no one appeared for or against, and the order was recommitted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEES.

The Committee on Streets reported on order granting the Massachusetts Telephone Co. a location of poles from Neponset to the Braintree line. Ordered to a second reading.

The Committee on Streets reported orders for public hearings, May 7, on the laying out of a new street from South to Howard streets, and laying out Blake street.

The Committee on Streets reported an order appropriating $1,000 for widening the east side of Quincy avenue, and building a sidewalk.

Referred to Committee on Finance.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget with the News in a Nut Shell.

Showery.

Mayflowers from the Cape have arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hearn returned Monday from their trip to New York.

Over 40 illustrations, most of them new appear in the Parker-Patriot eight-page edition this week.

George Richards, manager of A. J. Richard's business in Quincy, is seriously ill at his home in Weymouth.

The Kitson Light Co. put up one of their lights on Depot street, Monday for a sample to show what it was. It certainly gave a fine light.

There seems to be but little interest in the Republican caucuses to be held tonight, and they will doubtless be slimly attended.

The Meadow Brook Ice Co. delivery teams are provided with ice saws this year. By their use the drivers are enabled to cut the cakes to fit any ice chest. Heretofore the cakes were broken apart with axes which were often unsatisfactory.

Invitations are out for an "open house" to be given by the North Quincy club at their club house in Norfolk Downs on Patriots' day, April 19. The rooms will be open at 1 o'clock and in the evening an entertainment will be given. Members can invite friends.

A whist party was given by Manet Council, R. A., Monday evening. The first ladies' prize was won by Mrs. Harry Nichol, the booby by Mrs. Mitchell. The first gentlemen's by George Elcock, the booby by David Drummond. Miss Robie rendered several piano selections, Mr. Kingsley and David Drummond sang solos and refreshments were served.

Q. Y. C. Cup Races.

The Hostess will again defend the Q. Y. C. cup, and will be sailed by her owner, Henry M. Faxon. She should be faster than last year. The Globe says, Mr. Higginson's challenger the Lookout, is avowedly an attempt to improve on the Hostess by going the latter a bit better in the matter of beam and sail. The Lookout is of the same "scow" type as Hostess, but is a foot wider, and has easier bilges. Her sail plan is much larger than that of the Quincy boat, and will measure over 1200 square feet. Mr. Higginson frankly avows the experimental nature of such a design in beam and sail, but nevertheless thinks it worth trying. More power and more sail have hitherto been winning factors for new over old boats, so why not in this case?

☞ Glenwood Ranges for people who want the best $22.00 to $38.00. Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

The Monday Evening Club.

The Atlantic Monday Evening club had a most enjoyable meeting this week. Mrs. E. R. Wade read a paper on "The Revival of the Olympian Games, and Mrs. Charles R. Safford a paper on "Amusements of the Nineteenth Century.

Mr. Carl Scranton entertained with a number of humorous character sketches, songs and recitations, among them: "When the Band Goes By," "Gone with a Handsomer Man," "Little Boy Blue," "The Night Lunch Car," "The Beautiful Sea," and "The Train That Goes Tomorrow." There was no mistaking the genuine fun of the humorist and its appreciation by the large audience.

The musical program was exceedingly fine and included:

Piano duet, "Waltz," Carl Bohn
Mrs. Drury and Miss Lord,
Tenor solo, "Mattinata," Tosti
Mr. Coghlan.
Solo, "And God shall wipe away all tears," Sullivan
Mrs. King.
Song, "Spring Song," Mackenzie
Miss Isaac.
Song, "Lullaby," Josely
Song, "O Loving Heart Trust On," Gottschalk
Mr. Colghan.
Group of Songs, "If I but knew"—Smith,
'My Little love,"—Hawley, Miss Isaac.
Group of Songs, "Daisies"—Holly,
"Slumber Boat"—Gayner, Miss Bessie Drew.

Miss Florence Gray and Mr. Charles R. Safford were the literary committee for the evening and Miss Annie P. Hall and Mr. William Gassett the music committee.

☞ Eddy Refrigerators, the old New England reliable. They save the ice, and your food is always sweet. Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

LARGE SCHOOL ARMY

Quincy now has 4,741 children in its public schools, the number having been augmented Monday by 187 new pupils in the lowest grade. The number by buildings is as follows:

	Total.	New Pupils	Proper Limit.
Adams	410	7	466
Coddington	475	18	390
Gridley Bryant	232	19	426
John Hancock	519	33	450
Lincoln	415	23	396
Mass. Fields	286	15	426
Quincy	371	15	288
Washington	307	14	304
Willard	884	35	891
Wollaston	319	8	330
High	423		400
Grand Total,	4741	187

It will be seen that 6 buildings are above the capacity or proper limit, the Coddington, John Hancock, Lincoln, Quincy, Washington and High. The first three will be relieved when the Cranch school is completed, and there is urgent need of the building being rushed.

The Coddington has 110 pupils in the lowest grade, enough for three rooms instead of four, and Grade VI has 72 pupils, part of whom are accommodated in the cellar.

The John Hancock has from 60 to 72 in each of the six lowest rooms, and is the most crowded of all.

With one exception none of the Adams rooms have over 46, Grade IV having 59.

The lowest room in the Gridley Bryant has 64 and it must soon be divided, but there is fortunately one vacant room in this building.

The Lincoln has the largest number of pupils in one room, 89 in the lowest grade, and it is a problem what to do with them, as all the other primaries are crowded.

The Massachusetts Fields is reaching the limit only in the lowest grade where there are 62 children.

The Washington school has 56 in Grade I, then 44, 46, 39, 34, 34, 31, and 23.

Nineteen rooms are occupied at the Willard and none have less than 30, while 14 have over 40, and 4 of these over 50. The largest number in one room is 63.

The Wollaston grades have 54, 49, 39, 44, 37, 31, 35 and 50.

New Five-Year-Old Pupils.

Washington—Alice Allison, Esther Beckford, William Corbin, Walter Delory Clara Delory, Esther Dasha, Frank Dorley, Eva Frazier, Elizabeth Gutro, Joseph Gutro, Harold Hayden, Tony Palmer, Le Roy Sweeney, Frank Stone.

Massachusetts Fields,—Harry Andrew Borkman, Grace Louise Humphry, Helen Louise Croucher, Eleanor Irene Carney, Ralph Wilbert Card, Stanley Doring, William Nelson Moore, John Raymond Halliwell, Remi Langelier, Arthur Stevens, Grace Hazel Hunter, Dorothy Alice Leake, James Elliott McCarty, Ethel Loretta Raiche, May Critchley.

Wollaston,—Fanny Cain, Alta Beatrice Grant, Felix Thomas Favorite, Arthur Harold Simpson Mary Thompson, Charles Gerard Murphy, Margaret Ross Hirtle, Henry Wesley Walter, Gladys Orena Brown.

IF YOU ARE GOING TO BUY A HOME

This season, remember I am offering bargains which can't be matched by any builder or real estate owner in the city. I am going to build a number of first class, stylish, modern Houses, ranging in price from $2,000 to $4,000, and shall offer them at the same low prices which prevailed last season. These houses are to be built on Independence and Federal avenues, and are the best lots in South Quincy. Handy to steam and electrics, good neighbors, and every lot is dry. The first of these at No. 25 Independence avenue is now completed and will be cheerfully shown to all parties, whether intending to purchase or not; 6 rooms and bath, besides finished attic and basement. This is a corner lot. Also another of six rooms and bath, nearly finished, at No. 31 Independence avenue. This lot bounds on two streets. Favorable terms will be made to responsible parties on either of above.
J. W. PRATT, Builder,

OUR MARKETS.

According to Secretary Wilson, the "roast beef of old England" is now shipped from Chicago. America feeds the world.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The sale of American steel in England for $2 a ton less than the English price has aroused the German steelmakers to the possibilities of American competition. There is no doubt about our ability to capture the markets of the world.—Cleveland Leader.

THE NURSERY.

Babies should be carried alternately on either arm. If always carried on one arm, they may grow crooked.

No child suffering from eczema should ever be washed with soap, as it is too irritating. Use instead oatmeal gruel.

Give children all the fruit and vegetables you can afford and arrange that they be eaten in the early part of the day.

CITY COUNCIL.

orders for street lights on the corner of Canal and Field streets, on Glover avenue, Crescent, South Walnut, River and Squantum streets.

The Committee on Streets reported an order for $2,000 for rebuilding a portion of Beale street. Referred to Committee on Finance.

The Committee on Finance reported ought to pass on the order assessing abutters for sidewalks built in 1898 and 1899. Referred to Committee on Ordinances.

The Committee on Finance reported an order placing the $1,100 received from the A. W. Bryne Construction Co. to the credit of Sewer construction.

The Committee on Finance reported ought to pass on the order for $6,300 for street improvement orders. Rules suspended and order passed. The Committee on Finance reported favorably on the order locating and establishing street lights.

The Committee on Public Buildings on the communication relative to the establishing of the business plant of the United Shoe Machinery Co. reported an order that the Mayor extend a welcome to the company, and pledging all support the Council could legally give. Adopted.

The Committee of Public Buildings reported ought to pass on order for $2,000 for grading the John Hancock schoolyard. Referred to Committee on Finance.

The Committee on Public Buildings reported an order for $4,000 for installing a heating and ventilating plant at the Wollaston school building. Referred to Committee on Finance.

The Committee on Licenses reported upon a number of petitions for minor licenses, which were adopted.

The Committee on Ordinances reported ought not to pass on the proposed amendment to the ordinance relative to junk dealers. Adopted.

The same committee also reported an ordinance concerning junk shops license, and an ordinance concerning drivers and wagons used for the collection of junk, etc. Read once.

WOLLASTON HOSE HOUSE.

The Committee on Ordinances reported as correctly engrossed the order for $15,000 for a new hose house at Wollaston.

Councilman Poland hoped final action would be postponed until complete specifications were furnished. He moved the matter be laid on the table. Voted.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Committee on Fire Department reported an order authorizing the Mayor to petition the Legislature to amend the City Charter relative to Fire department, so as to provide for one chief, a deputy chief, and assistant deputy, and such other officers and men as may be required.

Councilman Packard did not see any particular need of putting this matter through. He had rather see it laid on the table until the next meeting and he so moved.

Councilman Hultman saw no reason for delay. The matter was considered thoroughly by the Committee.

Councilman Hogan said the Mayor and chief were before the Committee. He believed the reducing of the number of engineers was a good thing. It was a step in the right direction.

Councilman Newcomb wanted time to look into the matter.

The Committee on Fire Department reported an order locating fire alarm boxes on Quincy avenue near the residence of Peter Williams, and on the corner of Wilson and Station streets.

TELEPHONE SUPERVISION.

Councilman Hill offered an order that the Mayor and Legislative Committee be requested to appear before the Legislature in opposition to a bill to create a Telegraph and Telephone Commission.

He spoke in favor, saying it proposed to take rights from City Councils as to locations.

Councilman Badger understood it the same.

Councilman Newcomb said the committee of the Legislature had reported, and it was out of the hands of the committee.

Upon motion of Councilman Faxon the Mayor and Quincy representatives were requested to oppose any legislation which will abridge the rights of City Councils as to locations.

STREET SPRINKLING.

Councilman Poland offered an order determining where the $6,000 for street sprinkling shall be expended. Read and referred to Committee on Streets.

Councilman DeNormandie offered an order appropriating $1800 for bath house on the Ward Two playground. To Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds.

Councilman Packard offered an amendment to the ordinance concerning Fire Department, making it unlawful to obstruct or impede fire apparatus and firemen when responding to an alarm. To Committee on Fire Department.

Councilman DeNormandie offered an order appropriating $1,200 from playground appropriation for playground improvement in Wards Two, Three, Four and Six.

Councilman Nichols offered an order for the renaming of that portion of Central avenue north of Beale street, to Hutchinson avenue. To Committee on Streets.

Upon motion of Councilman Newcomb, E. G. Hall was granted an auctioneer's license.

Councilman Packard offered an order for the rearrangment of the seats in the Council chamber. Adopted.

Also an order for a hydrant on Canal street near Newcomb or Brackett street. To Committee.

The order granting the Telephone company a location on Water street was passed.

Adjourned at 9.30 until April 23.

How many copies of the Parker Anniversary Patriot a double number will you want this week? It would be an excellent advertisement for Quincy if 10,000 copies were distributed, but the publishers cannot afford to send out as many. We propose to send out several hundred sample copies, and would suggest that those interested in Quincy in her public schools, and in education generally send Patriots all over the country. Four pages will be devoted to the Parker movement, and will be illustrated with forty or more half tones of our different Superintendents, the School Committee of 1875, several members of the School Committees 1875-1900, all the principals of our schools today, the anniversary speakers, buildings and other pictures of interest. Early orders should be placed for ten or more copies.

JAPS ARE POURING IN.

Large Numbers Are Aboard Steamers Arriving at Pacific Ports.

Authorities Closely Watching Immigration Figures.

Violation of Contract Labor Laws Will Be Followed by Congressional Action.

Washington, April 17.—Advices from Victoria, B. C., say that Japanese are still pouring in there. The steamer Rio Jun Maru brought 800 and the big liner Goodwin 1100. The Jun Maru discharged 650 Japanese steerage passengers at Seattle. The steamer Milos is due with 800 more and the Bremer with over 700. The Canadian labor leaders are agitating against the great influx of Orientals, but it is said that the provincial and Dominion parliaments are powerless to enact legislation to keep out the Japanese, for the imperial government refuses to allow the passage of legislation which will affect its friendly relation with Japan.

Up to this point nothing has been done by the Washington authorities looking toward the restriction of the immigration of Japanese into this country beyond the application of the contract labor law.

The enforcement of these laws is entrusted to the officials of the treasury department, and so far as is known they have not discovered any formidable movement toward the bringing into the United States of Japanese coolies under labor contracts. They are not, however, authorized to interfere with the in-coming of any Japanese who can satisfy the requirements of the immigration laws in the matter of freedom from contract obligations and ability to maintain themselves. It is believed that, unlike other Orientals, few Japanese, even of the laboring classes, fail to make a sufficient showing on these points to pass muster, and secure admission at the Golden Gate.

If, however, the tide of Japanese immigration now setting toward the British northwestern possessions should include Japanese coolies under contract to labor in the United States, there will be necessity for a considerable reinforcement of the number of treasury employes charged with the policing of the boundary line between Washington and British Columbia, in order to prevent their entrance into the United States. There is no formal obligation upon the British colonial authorities to prevent such Japanese from crossing the line, beyond that of mere neighborly interests, a consideration not always sufficient to stop the illicit dumping of undesirable immigrants into the United States.

Although the recent reports from San Francisco of the arrival at the port of San Francisco of considerable numbers of Japanese laborers, taken in connection with the steady increase of the Japanese population of the Hawaiian islands, has attracted the attention of the executive branch of the government, it is said that, even supposing the presence of the Japanese within our territorial limits should be regarded as undesirable, the subject of restriction is one enterely beyond executive reach at present, being one for the consideration of congress.

Some of the officials have been, and many still are, of the opinion that the steady growth of industries in Japan, attendant upon the phenomenal development of that nation in other lines, with the need for raw material out of which to make soldiers and sailors for the Japanese army and navy, would create a sufficient home demand to remove any menace to the United States from Japanese immigration. The figures of the immigration bureau on the Pacific coast are, however, being closely watched, for upon their showing may depend important restrictions upon this subject.

Market Greatly Overstocked.

Chicago, April 17.—Labor troubles in the building trades are stated by President Lambert of the American Steel and Wire company as the reasons for closing down of 12 plants of the concern. Thousands of skilled workmen are temporarily suspended by the action of the wire magnates. President Lambert said: "Labor troubles are at the bottom of it. Our market has been destroyed by the stopping of building, and we have had to shut down until the accumulated stocks are sold."

Entertained by Loubet.

Paris, April 17.—The first of the series of official fetes to be given in connection with the exposition took place last night at the Elysee palace. President Loubet entertained 260 guests at dinner, the largest number ever seated at an Elysee banquet. The decorations were very elaborate. Following the banquet a reception was held, to which 6000 invitations were issued.

Two Straights For Lyon.

New York, April 17.—W. D. Lyon proved himself in a class by himself in the final set for the championship hand tennis singles, by winning two straight games from L. C. Hebberd, the score being 25 to 7 and 25 to 3. Hebberd had just succeeded in lowering the colors of former Champion James H. Haslet by defeating him in the best of three games.

Short Creed Proposition Tabled.

New York, April 17.—At a meeting of the Brooklyn Presbytery yesterday a resolution was offered asking the general assembly of the church to "formulate a short, simple, pointed and practical creed, that will emphasize the essential faith centers of the Christian life." The resolution was tabled, 24 to 16.

Mob Vengeance in Mississippi.

Tunica, Miss., April 17.—Moses York, a negro, was taken from an officer by a mob yesterday and hanged. His body was then riddled with bullets. York murdered Joe Castello, a fruit peddler. York confessed to the killing, and also to having murdered a man in Arkansas.

BLOODSHED AT CROTON LANDING.

Shot Fired by Unknown Assassin Kills a Sergeant While Relieving Guard.

Croton Landing, N. Y., April 17.—At about 10:30 o'clock last night the deputy sheriffs guarding the cable house on the east side of the river saw three figures lurking near the place and fired their revolvers at them. The figures disappeared quickly in the darkness. A few minutes later three shots rang out from the direction of Little Italy, but the sheriff's men were not injured.

Sergeant Robert Douglass of the Eleventh separate company of Mount Vernon was shot dead by an unknown assassin while he was relieving guard at 9 o'clock last night. The wildest excitement prevailed throughout the camp as soon as the news of the assassination spread to the different tents, and the soldiers are frantic over the cowardly crime.

The point where the sergeant fell is known as post 10, which was in charge of Corporal McDowell. It is situated on top of a hill near Little Italy, where armed strikers were seen drilling or marching about early Monday morning brandishing rifles and shotguns. The spot is high over the huge pile of masonry, and from it one can command a view of the country for miles on each side up and down the Croton valley.

Douglass was talking to Corporal McDowell and the other members of the guard when he suddenly clapped his hands to his stomach and said: "Load, boys, I'm shot," and then fell to the ground. It was pitch dark at the time, but McDowell and the others fired a volley into a clump of bushes nearby without hitting anyone. No one saw the flash or heard the sound of the shot which killed Douglass, and it was a most mysterious affair.

Meanwhile the men picked up the fallen sergeant and carried him down the hill on a stretcher, but as soon as they reached Douglass' tent he died without saying a word other than what he said as he fell. Lieutenant Glover, with a squad of men, went up to the hilltop and made a thorough search, but failed to find any person up there. Then the guards were called in and concentrated in the valley with the exception of those placed at the cable station, where the shooting took place.

Gave Up Twenty Thousand Dollars.

Chicago, April 17.—Twenty thousand dollars was yesterday paid to State Attorney Dineen by William F. Mahoney and Michael McNamara, the bondsmen for Daniel Coughlin and William Armstrong. Coughlin was indicted on a charge of attempted jury bribing, and Armstrong, who was his bartender, was charged with the same offense. Both men fled while out on bail. Armstrong was arrested in the state of Washington, but the governor of that state refused extradition. Coughlin is thought to be in Central America.

Crops Under Water.

Memphis, April 17.—Reports from many points in Mississippi state that one of the heaviest rainfalls experienced in recent years has visited the cotton delta, and there is no indication of a cessation of the precipitation. Rivers and creeks are over their banks in many instances, and crops in the lowlands are being flooded, and it is feared much loss to planters and farmers will result. The railroads traversing the state are also heavy sufferers, many washouts having occurred.

Proceedings Will Be Kept Secret.

Washington, April 17.—The new naval policy board held its first meeting at the navy department yesterday, and an organization was effected. This was about all that could be accomplished at the first session. The board decided that the character of the work to be undertaken renders it absolutely necessary that secrecy shall surround every proceeding. The press has been given to understand that the work of the board will not furnish matter for current news.

Had a Long Siege of Sickness.

New York, April 17.—Richard K. Oskison, a rough rider, and who was believed to be the only soldier wounded in the Spanish war still in a hospital, was discharged from Roosevelt hospital yesterday. He had undergone six operations since he received a bullet wound in his thigh at San Juan.

Jury Acquits Mrs. Ross.

Boston, April 17.—Mrs. Mary E. Ross, who has been on trial at Dedham for several days, charged with manslaughter in shooting her husband, John P. Ross, was found not guilty by the jury, which returned a verdict Saturday. The verdict was announced Monday.

Drifts Sixteen Feet Deep.

Denver, April 17.—No trains have been run on any road between Denver and Colorado Springs since Sunday. About 20 trains are stuck in the snow on the division between the two points named. In some places the drifts are 16 feet deep. The storm has now subsided.

Lake City Has a Postoffice.

Washington, April 17.—The postoffice at Lake City, S. C., has been re-established and Mrs. Della D. Carter (white) appointed postmaster. There has been no postoffice at Lake City since the colored postmaster there was killed by a mob two years ago.

Anti-Lynching Law Upheld.

Columbus, O., April 17.—The supreme court has declared the anti-lynching law constitutional. The law provides that the heirs of any person who is lynched may collect $5000 from the commissioners in the county in which the affair occurred.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Mrs. Sarah Pollard, the oldest army nurse in the country, died at Indianapolis, aged 93. She was born in Virginia.

The comptroller of the currency has declared a 10 percent dividend in favor of the creditors of the insolvent Globe National bank of Boston.

Hoke Smith has sold his interest in the Atlanta Journal to H. M. Atkinson, Morris Brandon and J. R. Gray of Atlanta for $159,000. The minority stockholders also disposed of their holdings. The amount involved in the entire transaction is $276,500.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

House Begins What Promises to Be Long Contest Over Naval Appropriation Bill.

Washington, April 17.—Consideration of the naval appropriation bill was begun in the house yesterday, with the prospect of a severe struggle ahead over the question of armor plate, building ships in government yards and the provision in the bill for the coast and geodetic survey. The bill carries $13,000,000 more than any previous naval bill. No arrangement could be reached to limit general debate.

Mr. Foss, the acting chairman of the committee, made a general defense of the bill, which was defended also by Mr. Cummings, the ranking minority member of the committee. The latter declared himself in favor of paying $545 for Krupp armor, at least until all the ships authorized were built, and said that the committee had information, the source of which he was not at liberty to reveal, showing that we could obtain Krupp armor at a price lower than any other country in the world.

Mr. Kitchin (N. C.), one of the members who signed the minority report, criticised what he termed the general extravagance of the bill and advocated the establishment of a government armor plate factory to protect the government against extortion. He also advocated the building of warships in government yards. Mr. Barber (Pa.) opposed the establishment of a government armor plate factory.

During almost the entire session the senate had under consideration the Alaskan civil code bill. The amendment providing for the mining of gold along the beach in the district was perfected after a discussion lasting nearly four hours.

Sensational Tragedy at Troy.

Troy, N. Y., April 17.—James Lennon and Mary McCracken came to Troy from Lowell, Mass., and soon after their arrival the woman transferred her affections to Charles Warnock. This aroused the ire of Lennon, who lay in wait for her last night. When the woman arrived at her door, Lennon jumped upon her, and bending her head backwards inflicted two terrible gashes in her throat. Then he coolly turned the razor and attempted his own life. The woman will probably die, but it is believed that Lennon may recover.

"Syndicate" Miller Convicted.

New York, April 17.—William F. Miller, of Franklin syndicate fame, was found guilty by a jury at Brooklyn last night of larceny in the first degree, for taking from Mrs. Katherine Moeser $1000, which she invested in his 520-percent scheme to "get rich quick." The prisoner was remanded for sentence a week from next Friday. His counsel stated that the case would be appealed. The verdict was a surprise to the spectators, who for several days had listened to the testimony, and also to the lawyers and the prisoner.

Grasped a Live Wire.

Boston, April 17.—John Ronan, an employe of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company, was instantly killed Monday in Somerville. Ronan and three other linemen were engaged in taking down an old cable. The guard wire became entangled in the limbs of a tree and Ronan climbed up into the tree for the purpose of relieving the wire. While thus engaged he unwittingly grasped for support with his left hand an alternating circuit wire. The shock undoubtedly caused instant death.

Big Fire at Burlington, Vt.

Burlington, Vt., April 17.—At 2 o'clock Monday morning fire started in an old barn in the rear of Spaulding & Kimball's large wholesale grocery warehouse and spread rapidly to the warehouse of the Burlington Grocery company. The fire completely destroyed the buildings and contents. The loss is estimated at nearly $60,000. It is thought that the cause of the blaze was a lighted cigaret carelessly dropped in the barn.

"Under Heel of United States."

Havana, April 17.—General Maximo Gomez, while on his way to San Domingo, stopped at Nuevitas. In replying to an address of welcome he said: "Cuba fought against the dominion of Spain only to find herself under the heel of the United States. Nevertheless, I have confidence enough in the American people to believe that they will carry out the promises of the joint resolution of congress."

Poisoned by Pennyroyal.

Boston, April 17.—As the result of an autopsy held by Medical Examiner Harris, it was learned that the Goldenberoska child, which died late Saturday night, came to its death as the result of pennyroyal poisoning. The mother of the child and a half sister of the mother will be charged with having caused the child's death.

Weavers Leaving Pawtucket.

Pawtucket, R. I., April 17.—Every effort made thus far to adjust the differences between the weavers at the Lorraine mill has proved unsuccessful, and nearly 150 of the men out of the total number of 500 have left the city. The officials of the union still hope that the matter may be settled by arbitration.

Anti-Boxing Law to Be Enforced.

New York, April 17.—The board of police commissioners yesterday refused the application of the Coney Island Sporting club for a permit from May 1 to Sept. 1, when the anti-boxing law goes into effect. The board's action is taken as an indication that all similar applications will be refused.

Both Sides Express Satisfaction.

Atlanta, April 17.—The Southern railway telegraphers' strike situation in this vicinity seems to be satisfactory to both sides. President Powell claims that the situation is encouraging and the railway officials say they are suffering no inconvenience or appreciable delays in the operation of trains.

Seals Have Been Plentiful.

St. John's, April 17.—Sealing steamer Panther returned yesterday with 12,700 seals. The aggregate returns show this year's seal hunt to have been the most profitable known for a generation.

DR. PIERCE'S Favorite Prescription

"I am so grateful to you for your advice," says Mrs. Sidney B. Oakes, of Whitmell, Pittsylvania Co., Va. "When I commenced your medicines I had been treated by different doctors for three months or more, but would only receive partial relief for a short while and then would be worse than before. Was confined to my bed most of the time. At the time I commenced your treatment my left side was completely paralyzed. Had no desire to eat anything; bowels costive all the time. Nerves were all unstrung, so I could not bear the least noise. I also suffered from diseased ovaries and female weakness. But thanks to my Maker and you, after following your advice, I am able to do all my washing, sewing and house work in general. I haven't had a spasm in two months. Left off medicines about one month ago. Didn't think it necessary to continue them longer. I have taken about seven bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, seven of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and two vials of 'Pleasant Pellets.' I heartily recommend those medicines to all suffering as I was."

Worth Reading.

To the Editor:

I think it my duty to inform your readers of a remedy that should be in every household.

I was a martyr to Dyspepsia and Constipation and tried everything in vain. In despair I bought a ten cent package of the U. S. Army & Navy Tablets, 17 East 14th St., New York, and in three days I felt better and afterwards I bought a twenty-five cent package and now I am completely cured. Your druggist can and must get it for you.

Yours truly,

GENERALS CENSURED.

The Incapacity of Buller and Warren Is Revealed by Roberts.

Report Has a Disheartening Effect In London.

Public Equanimity Greatly Disturbed by Roberts' Wait at Bloemfontein.

London, April 18.—In the absence of any decisive news from South Africa the publication of Lord Roberts' dispatches describing the Spion kop and other operations, from Jan. 17 to Jan. 24, is the main subject of comment here.

This dispatch, written Feb. 13, has been in the hands of the war department for five weeks. Just why it is published now, in the middle of the campaign, is not understood, unless it is expected that General Buller and General Warren will ask to be relieved of their commands.

In this report Lord Roberts fairly flays General Warren, who was in charge of the ill-fated movement upon Spion kop, and sharply criticises General Buller himself as knowing the conditions which led to the headless and disorganized retreat.

The effect of the report is distinctly depressing to those who have believed strongly in General Buller's ability as a leader, and there is a tendency to resent Lord Roberts' strong words as untimely, in view of General Buller's present position in Natal.

The revelation of their incapacity must tend to undermine the confidence of the troops under their leadership.

Lord Roberts' dispatch, with the enclosure, is the great feature of the London press this morning. In a long editorial The Daily News speaks of the "somewhat appalling language" of the dispatch, and then goes on to say: Upon the whole these dispatches are disquieting and disheartening in no ordinary degree. Following immediately upon the recall of General Gatacre, they will create a widespread feeling of uneasiness and anxiety.

The Standard, which is supposed to be in the confidence of the government, says: "It is scarcely likely that the publication of Lord Roberts' dispatch is without a purpose. It irresistibly suggests whether it is not to be followed by further important changes in the South African commands. Painful as such measures may be, there must be no hesitation in carrying them out if they are required in the public interest.

Whether the government has any special purpose or not in publishing the dispatch, the way in which it has been received will make it most difficult to retain the censured commanders in active service.

Lord Roberts' long wait and the Boer activity have seriously disturbed public equanimity. He is still 300 miles from Pretoria. No one doubts the ultimate success of British arms; but, behind the British army that crushes the Boer armies, an army of occupation will have to be installed. From various sources come hints that more men than are already provided for will have to be sent out.

Lord Roberts indicates that at least 10,000 men are advancing to cut off the Boers who are investing Wepener. As there are reports from the Basuto border that firing has been heard in the direction of the hills towards De Wets Dorp, it is possible General Chermside's advanced troops are already in contact with the Boers.

Lord Roberts wires that he expected to clear the southeastern section of the Free State, east of the railway, and then to swing round to the north and to turn one after another the positions held by the Boers north of Bloemfontein. General Buller's prohibition of all press telegrams in Natal until further notice is taken to indicate that a movement is about to begin there.

Recluse of Johnnycake Hollow Is Dead.

Springfield, Mass., April 18.—Nathan C. Snow, the recluse of Johnnycake Hollow, in Chicopee, noted as one of the most eccentric men in western Massachusetts, is dead. He was 66 years old, and had lived in the house where he died all his life. The house is over 200 years old. A great source of income to him was the fees he charged for showing hundreds of visitors over the place and reciting its interesting history. He was a veteran of the Civil war.

Puerto Rican Affairs Discussed.

Washington, April 18.—The cabinet meeting yesterday was occupied almost entirely in a discussion of Puerto Rican affairs. The election to select members to the popular branch of the government, it is expected, will be held some time next fall. Governor Allen will not receive any special instructions as to the administration of the island until after his return from there early in May.

An Expression of Regret.

Madrid, April 18.—United States Minister Storer visited Premier Silvela yesterday and apologized for the action of Mayor Harrison of Chicago, in sending an invitation to the Duke of Arcos, the Spanish minister at Washington, to attend the Dewey day celebration there. Mr. Storer said the United States government regretted the incident.

FOUND BULLET IN TROUSERS LEG.

Lewis Leonard Received a Slight Wound and a Bad Scare From a "Masked" Man.

Avon, Mass., April 18.—A somewhat mysterious shooting incident, in which Lewis D. Leonard got his skin scraped by a bullet and a bad scare, was reported to the police by the victim last night. According to his story, the man with the revolver made a deliberate attempt at assassination, but poor aim or a light charge in the revolver cartridge made the result not serious. Leonard recently bought a farm on Page street, and after the purchase trouble arose between the buyer and seller, and the matter having gone into court the shooting is thought to have had some connection.

Leonard says he was at work on the farm near a thick growth of trees, when his attention was attracted by a sudden appearance of a man, having a white cloth wrapped around his head, as if for disguise. Leonard claims that he recognized the man as Cornelius Doherty, aged about 30, with whom he had had trouble over the farm. The man pointed a revolver at Leonard and said: "I'm going to shoot you now!" firing twice.

After the first shot Leonard thought he had been hit in the abdomen, an placing his hand over the supposed wound he started on the run for the street. As he ran the disguised man discharged his revolver a second time, without effect, and then ran for the woods. Leonard shouted for help, and those who reached him thought he had been seriously wounded, and so took him home in a carriage. The bullet had scraped the flesh of the abdomen, and struck Leonerd's watch and stopped. Leonard later found the missile in the leg of his trousers. The wound is a slight one.

Non-Union Men Assaulted.

Chicago, April 18.—A band of strikers, led by men who claimed to represent the Carpenters' union, attacked a force of non-union workmen yesterday at 176 Madison street, in full view of hundreds of pedestrians. Six non-union carpenters were driven from the building, and two of them were seriously injured. The strikers were not interferred with by the police or passers-by. Union pickets seriously assaulted an Italian in charge of non-union workmen at the Western Electric building yesterday. The police immediately charged on 150 union pickets gathered around the building, and, after freely using their clubs, scattered them.

Other Companies Likely to Yield.

Gloucester, Mass., April 18.—The Cape Ann Granite company and the Stone Cutters' union of Cape Ann have come to an agreement regarding wages and the hours of work. The agreement is for 35 cents an hour minimum wages and eight hours for a day's work. This is an increase of 16 2-3 percent over the schedule of wages of 1898. The granite cutters of the Cape Ann company have been out since March 1. There is nothing known as to what settlement will be made by the other local companies. It is believed, however, that as the Cape Ann company has set the example the other companies will soon follow suit.

Old Home Week In Maine.

Portland, Me., April 18.—There was a large gathering of Maine people at city hall Tuesday for the purpose of formulating plans and fixing a date for the proposed "Old Home Week" celebration. After a long debate it was voted to hold the celebration the week beginning Aug. 6. A committee was appointed to select officers for a permanent organization.

Heavy Snow Favored the Maples.

Chester, Vt., April 18.—The sugar season is broken except in the orchards on the highlands. Much more sugar has been made in this vicinity this year than for three years past and the quality has been far superior. It is thought that the deep snow at the foot of the maples the past winter was very helpful towards the good flow of sap.

Big Sugar Refineries Reopen.

New York, April 18.—The American Sugar Refining company's refineries in Williamsburg reopened yesterday. Five hundred men were put to work. It is expected that 300 additional laborers will be taken on today. The refineries shut down six weeks ago.

Will Preserve Neutrality.

Berlin, April 18.—A high official of the German foreign office says: "Germany sees no reason why the Boer special commission should come to Berlin, as, in all the circumstances, Germany will adhere to her policy of neutrality and non-interference.

Broke His Neck During Performance.

New York, April 18.—In the presence of a large number of spectators at the Dewey theatre, Frank Nicholl, one of a trio of athletes, fell and broke his neck yesterday, while endeavoring to throw a somersault from the shoulders of another acrobat. He was taken to a hospital, where it is said his chances of recovery are slight.

Carpet Weavers Quit Work.

Lowell, Mass., April 18.—Three hundred weavers of the Bigelow Carpet company went on strike Tuesday because of the refusal of one of the weavers to comply with the union rules. The strikers demanded that the offending weaver be discharged. This the company refused to do until further investigation.

Many Victims of Italian's Stiletto.

Johnstown, Pa., April 18.—The dead, as a result of an unknown Italian's skilful wielding of a stiletto at Windber Sunday night, now number five. Thomas Kipling, the fifth victim, died yesterday. Buckwater and George, two others who received injuries, are doing well. The murderer has not been captured.

PATIENCE EXHAUSTED.

Diplomacy Has Failed to Make "Unspeakable Turk" Keep His Word.

Sultan Failed to Pay Indemnity Claims of $90,000.

Minister at Washington May Get His Passport From Secretary Hay.

Washington, April 18.—The diplomatic relations between the United States and Turkey are in a critical state, growing out of the sultan's bad faith. He promised to pay the indemnity claims of the American missionaries for the destruction of eight buildings of the Euphrates college at Harpoot and several buildings belonging to the American missionaries at Marash during the Armenian massacres of 1895.

Mr. Straus, United States minister to Turkey, is at present here on leave of absence. As has already been announced, he presented his resignation, but the president, regarding the services of Mr. Straus as indispensable, indefinitely extended his leave, subject to the call of the secretary of state, whenever circumstances may necessitate his return.

Diplomacy appears to have exhausted itself at Constantinople, the sultan having promised to pay the indemnity claims, amounting to some $90,000, which promise was again renewed prior to Mr. Straus' departure, and although 16 months have elapsed since the promise was first made, that promise still remains unfulfilled. What action the government will now take to enforce the sultan's promise is not definitely known, but as the situation is critical, it may result in Secretary Hay sending the Turkish minister at Washington his passport.

The question involved between the two countries is no longer one resting upon disputed points of international law, but upon the sultan's broken faith. This is not his only promise, he having stated to our minister that he would give his permit for the reconstruction of the American college and school buildings, yet up to the present the official permit, upon one excuse and another, has been withheld.

When Dr. Angell resigned in 1898 the relations between the two countries were critical by reason of the inaction of the Turkish government, and its refusal to entertain the indemnity claims. Mr. Straus, by reason of his successful previous mission and his past experience, was summoned by the president to take up the mission as best qualified to adjust the pending questions in a manner satisfactory to both countries. Shortly after his arrival at Constantinople, In September, 1898, several matters yielded to negotiation.

He then addressed himself to the main questions, the compensation for missionary buildings destroyed, and for property looted, and for the permit for their rebuilding. The Turkish government, shortly before the departure of Dr. Angell, sent a reply denying all liability for the buildings and property destroyed. A similar reply was sent to the ambassadors of England, France and Italy, having like claims.

Mr. Straus took up the question anew, basing his argument upon the well-recognized principles of international law, with the result that at an audience with the sultan on Dec. 8, 1898, the sultan promised to pay the claims. The claims were examined with great care, based upon the principle of indemnity for the actual value of the property destroyed. The sultan also stated that he had given permission for the reconstruction of the destroyed buildings. Neither of these promises have been kept.

The situation is practically this: Our minister has succeeded in obtaining judgment by confession upon the claims, which confession was made by the sultan himself, but the execution remains unsatisfied. Mr. Straus has, under the guidance of Secretary Hay, done everything diplomacy could accomplish to bring to the sultan's attention the seriousness of the situation. Our minister, as well as our government, hoped that the sultan's promise, though delayed, would be fulfilled.

During the continuation of Minister Straus' leave of absence the legation is in charge of Lloyd C. Griscom, the secretary of legation, who is fully conversant with the business.

Man and Money Missing.

Malden, Mass., April 18.—The disappearance of William F. Adams, aged 22, employed as a collector for the Malden and Melrose Gaslight company, together with the sum of $917, belonging to the company, has been reported to the police. Adams left the office of the company Tuesday morning and went to Medford on a collecting trip. The $917 represents the amount he collected in Medford.

Adjourned For a Month.

Washington, April 18.—The naval policy board concluded its first session yesterday, and adjourned for a month. The session was preliminary in character, looking to the work of collecting the great mass of data on which will be framed the plans for offense and defense in case of war. The rule imposing strict secrecy as to the proceedings upon the members has so far been observed.

Good Afternoon.

If the Wollaston hose house order can be put through in time to have the building ready for occupancy by cold weather the city will be saved fifteen tons of coal in attempting to heat the top of one of Wollaston's hills in winter. Fifteen tons was the amount of coal consumed in a couple of stoves in the old hose house last winter in attempting to keep two rooms above the freezing point.

Mayor Hall's step to improve the efficiency of the fire department, by lopping off the top-heavy oragnization of six assistant engineers and substituting therefor a deputy chief and assistant deputy, is warmly commended by many citizens. In theory the allotment of one engineer to each ward and that man to be acting chief of the department should a fire occur in the ward during the sickness or absence of the chief was one of those gems of an ideal city government which one notices in studying our city charter. In practice it has prove a huge failure. The time now seems to be ripe for the change, which the Mayor has presented to the Council for its consideration.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Those who cannot go to the Paris exposition can have almost as much fun in reckoning the expenses of those who do go. — New Bedford Standard.

☞Life would lose half its delights if we could not freely help one another. All men love to do a kindness. The heart of the race still beats in unison with the heart of God.—Zion's Herald.

☞Keep your eye on that Colby boy who earned $21 during the spring recess by sawing wood at 60 cents per cord. He is likely to be president, if he does not fall so in love with the saw buck that he decides to stick to it.—Kennebec Journal.

☞After South Africa is conquered, Great Britain is going to offer to each of her soldiers whose time has expired, 240 acres of land there, provided they will occupy it for ten years, says the Chicago Chronicle. All very nice but England must first catch its hare before it cooks it.—Milford Journal.

☞The socialists of Brockton have shown that their discipline means something more than an empty threat by expelling Alderman Elihu R. Perry from membership in the local branch because he voted contrary to instructions. The fealty of officials to party principles is made good and binding when there is no option but to "pony up or git," and the members cannot be long in ascertaining exactly how loyally their representatives stand.—Lynn Item.

☞If anything else had been needed to puncture the Dewey bubble, his shifty and otherwise dubious public record in connection with the Philippine question ought to be enough; and if that were not, his weakness in connection with the presidential nomination would be. Admiral Dewey is too much like a phonograph to make a good president. His record depends upon who talks into him. And it is painfully evident that the person who now talks into him is his pluto-Democratic brother-in-law, John R. McLean. —The Public, Chicago.

☞Hundreds of men and women who sympathize with the Boers can only deprecate the Philadelphia school boy performance and the fuss which is being made over it. There is a good deal to say in favor of encouraging generous sympathies in the youth of this nation, and of training in patriotism and in the American ideals of government and all that. But this manifestation is simply one of youthful bumptiousness, aided and abetted by grown men who ought to know better. —New Bedford Standard.

☞The Republicans promised prosperity with the gold standard and it has come. The Democrats predicted disaster with that standard and it has not come. The Republicans are a million votes stronger now on the financial issue than they were four years ago and Colonel Bryan has insisted on forcing the financial issue to the front. On that issue the next campaign will be made and while it is at the front the Democratic party, so called, will not be able to use any "magnificent opportunities, no matter how magnificent they might be in their circumstances.—Greenville, S. C. News.

☞"Have a drink?" "Well, I don't if care I do." Such is the American treating habit in a nutshell. The American spirit of generosity while prompting our unselfish spirit often has caused the downfall, unintentional at first, of many a strong man. This habit is famous in America and strikes a foreign visitor forcibly on first call at our institutions. For generations we are told has this habit been a part of American life and we will not at this late day attempt to point out the apparent evils. The treaters themselves should know the evils and profit thereby.—Lawrence American.

☞Twenty-six thousand arrests for drunkenness a year and 8,000 imprisonments is the appalling record of one of the most enlightened American cities. For that city it means one arrest for every four families. What it means to the taxpayers may be reckoned from the fact that, while the fines collected amounted to less than $25,000 the cost of maintaining the prisoners took from the public more than $125,000. The net cost to the city was, therefore, more than $100,000. Were it proposed to appropriate that sum for a library, or any beneficent public institution, the matter would be carefully considered, lest the city be guilty of extravagance. A remedy for this early tribute to the city's shame and curse is much more worthy of consideration.—Municipal and Railway Record.

Republican Caucuses Small But All One Way.

Representative Citizens Sent to Both Conventions.

Delegates to Congressional Favorable to John Shaw.

Possibly 200, probably not 100, voted at the Republican caucuses held last evening. There were no contests in any of the wards, and they were very tame affairs.

WARD ONE.

The Quincy ward got out about the smallest votes of the city and Chairman Dolliver and Secretary Westland had no difficulty in doing all the work of distibuting and counting the ballots.

These delegates were elected:

To State Convention,—John O. Hall, Eben W. Sheppard, Russell A. Sears and John McKnight.

To Congressional Convention,—William F. Hoehn, Henry P. Kittredge, Henry P. Furnald and John W. Hersey.

WARD TWO.

Sixteen were all who voted at the Ward Two Republican caucus. T. H. Newcomb presided and the votes were counted by Arthur W. Newcomb and Edwin W. Newcomb, these were elected:

To State Convention,—Eugene N. Hultman, John R. Graham and Arthur W. Newcomb.

To Congressional Convention,—Thaddeus H. Newcomb, John Shaw and Joseph L. Whiton.

WARD THREE.

The South Quincy caucus was slimly attended seventeen being the total number that took interest enough to attend. William T. Spargo presided an James W. Young was clerk.

The delegates:

To State Convention,—John P. Bigelow, Daniel McLennan, Lester M. Pratt and James W. Pierce.

To Congressional Convention,—Frederick L. Jones, William Etrick, Alexander Clark and James W. Pierce.

WARD FOUR.

The West Quincy Republicans did not succeed any better in getting a large attendance at its caucus than did the other wards of the city. W. E. Badger presided and Charles H. Owens was secretary.

The delegates are:

To State Convention,—William E. Badger, Michael Owens and John C. Kapples.

To Congressional Convention,—Charles H. Owens, John Heuss and George O'Brien.

WARD FIVE.

The Wollaston caucus was held at the hose house. There was a small attendance. E. E. Jameson was chairman and E. F. DeNormandie, secretary. These delegates were elected:

To State Convention,—Henry O. Fairbanks, Eugene H. Sprague, Charles G. Lee and Horace M. Willard.

To Congressional Convention,—Walter J. Wellington, Charles M. Bryant, Eugene F. DeNormandie and Richard R. Freeman.

WARD SIX.

Ex-Councilman Roger H. Wilde was chairman and Charles A. Hall secretary. Less than 50 votes were cast, which were counted by Daniel McGrath, Ralph W. Hobbs and Alfred A. Bradshaw. There was no contest and these delegates were elected:

To State Convention,—George H. Sherwin, Henry W. Reed and Sanford Small.

To Congressional Convention,—Ralph W. Hobbs, Daniel McGrath and Roger H. Wilde.

GEORGE J. RICHARDS.

Popular Young Business Man Passes Away Suddenly.

Mr. George J. Richards, manager of the Quincy store of Augustus J. Richards & Son, died this morning at his home in Weymouth after a brief illness of typhoid pneumonia.

Mr. Richards several days ago had an attack of the grip. He apparently recovered from this, and last Friday went to Milford. On this trip he took cold and upon his return home was taken sick again, the illness developing rapidly into typhoid pneumonia. He failed rapidly until he passed away.

Mr. Richards was born in Weymouth and was a son of Augustus J. Richards. He received his education at the public schools of his native place and at college. Several years ago he took charge of his father's grain and hay business in Quincy. He was possessed of a genial disposition and made many friends in Quincy, who deeply mourn their loss. Mr. Richard's engagement to a Kansas City young lady was recently announced, and the wedding was to have taken place in June.

When his illness took a dangerous turn she was wired, and immediately started for Weymouth and is expected today. Mr. Richards was about 32 years of age.

VICTORY FOR ADAMS

Academy Boys Defeat Hingham High in an Interesting Game.

In spite of the showers, a long but interesting game was played at the Park Tuesday afternoon between the Adams Academy Nine and the Hingham High School Nine. The game abounded in good plays and good batting on both sides. The home nine showed great improvement in base-running and batted freely. Their fielding was in every way superior to that of their opponents. Three pitchers were tried and the result was that the visitors were in a continual state of uncertainty as to the kind of ball to expect. Two-base-hits by Bennett and Weston came at just the right time for the Academy boys, each sending in runs. Bennett made a splendid catch of a hot liner to third base. For the visitors the best fielding was done by Copithorne, Wall and Zahn.

The game was finished in a most interesting and skilful manner by Donaher, the captain of the Adams Academy nine. He went in to pitch and struck out two men, and after getting two strikes on the third man caught him out on a short fly. His pitching was very swift. The whole team played a much steadier game than they did against English High.

Clark—North.

Many from Quincy were present, Tuesday evening at the wedding reception of Miss Grace Carolyn North, formerly of Quincy and Mr. Edmond Foster Clark of Somerville.

The ceremony was performed in the Venetian room at The Brunswick, Boston by Rev. R. Perry Bush of Chelsea, and was witnessed only by the immediate family friends. The room was a veritable booth of foliage, plants and flowers, which almost obscured the walls.

The couple stood beneath a thick arch of Easter lilies and between two huge bunches of field daisies with a monster bouquet, three feet in hight, of Jack roses, and a great bank of Easter lilies near by.

From a bower of rhododendrons of delicate hues, in an adjoining room, an orchestra discoursed the marches as well as the subsequent selections.

The progress of the little party to the presence of the minister as simple, the bride being accompanied by her father and preceded by the ushers, Robert Warren Fuller of New York, William Abemathy Holt of New London, Conn., Harold Adams Gale of Chicago and Charles Edward North, Harry Adams Clapp, C. William Leonard Shearer, all of this city.

Between them and the bride walked the maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Adams, who was as pretty as her name, her gown a lovely creation of white silk muslin over pink silk, with a liberal garniture of duchess lace, her bouquet was of pink roses.

The bride's rich gown was of ivory white satin, with chiffon yoke and trimming and a duchess bertha. She had a veil that enveloped her like a filmy cloud and a wreath of the ever-appropriate orange blossoms, and her bouquet was of lilies of the valley.

The best man was Howard Manning North.

The state banquet hall of the hotel, where the collation was served, was a most inviting place, with its liberal floral decorations, in which huge vases of bride roses and white carnations were a conspicuous feature. Little side rooms furnished most attractive cozy corners for the guests.

The couple, after their wedding tour, will spend the summer at North Scituate, returning for a permanent residence in Boston in the fall.

Open House.

Invitations are out for "open house" of the North Quincy club tomorrow, Patriots' day. Members and their friends will formally initiate the club into existence from one o'clock until late into the evening. Vocal and instrumental selections will form a part of the afternoon entertainment, and instrumental concert from 7 to 8 o'clock, with dancing from 8 until 12 o'clock, will close the festivities of the day. Light refreshments will be served during the day and evening. The pool, billiard and card rooms will be placed at the disposal of the visitors. An invitation has been given to the Merrymount club and it is expected that its members will attend "en masse."

—France won't get into any rows this year if she can help it. The exposition is on show now, and the Frenchman is chasing the dollars.

A Well Lighted Street.

For a time, at least, Depot street will be well lighted. Previous to this week a dim arc light illuminated the square near City Hall while a little insignificant oil lamp shed its dim rays from a post near the westerly end of Penniman's stable.

Monday the Kitson light company put up one of its exhibition lights at the easterly end of Penniman's stable, and its brilliant light was favorably commented upon. Not to be outdone the Electric Light Co. changed its light near City Hall to one of the more modern lights, and quite an improvement was noted that night.

Today the Electric Light Co. put up another light, locating it at the westerly end of Penniman's stable directly over the little oil light. Tonight, therefore, Depot street, will be the best lighted street in Quincy.

NEVER BEFORE IN PRINT.

Our old friends Mr. Edwin W. Marsh and Miss Julia E. Underwood will smile upon us for the first time in print in the PARKER ANNIVERSARY PATRIOT next week, April 21.

There will also be half-tones of Col. F. W. Parker, Sylvester Brown, George I. Aldrich, Herbert W. Lull, Charles Francis Adams, Charles L. Badger, members of the School Committee, principals of Quincy schools, and other illustrations.

Tonight, Harvey Byants famous ventriloquist and humorist, assisted by the choirs of St. Chrysostom's and Christ church in two glees.

Thursday (Patriots day) at 4 P. M. children's entertainment. Mr. H. L. LeRoy, the well known musician, with his palace of magic, will give an entertainment of fun, wonder and mystery. Miss Helen Rhines will dance. In the evening the same artists will appear in a different program.

Sectarian Legislation.

In the House Tuesday, Representative Sprague of Quincy moved to substitute for the adverse report of the Committee on Constitutional Amendments the bill to prohibit sectarian legislation and the support of sectarian institutions from public funds. He said that church and State should be separated: we have no right to compel a man who believes in one form of religion to support another.

The House voted 14 to 63 against substitution, and the report was accepted.

TODAY'S COURT.

Michael Dunican was found guilty of drunkenness at Quincy and had his case placed on file.

FROM A BEATEN PATH.

Hear Says the Republicans Have Strayed on the Imperialism Issue.

Would Have the Philippine Independence Assured.

Has Praise For Aguinaldo and Calls Upon Shades of Departed Statesmen.

Washington, April 18.—For more than three hours yesterday Mr. Hoar occupied the attention of the senate with a speech in opposition to the policy of "imperialism" on which, he maintained, this government has embarked. As prepared, the address was 50,000 words in length, but Mr. Hoar omitted much of it owing to an incipient attack of the grip from which he was suffering. While the speech was a tremendous strain on him the more important passages of the argument were delivered with force and vigor.

The speech was brilliantly written, was illuminated with splendid rhetorical figures and was rich with citations from history. One of the notable parts of the address was the eulogy of Aguinaldo. Mr. Hoar did not liken the insurgent leader to Washington, as has been done heretofore, but to Kossuth, Oom Paul, Joubert, Nathan Hale and other builders of the church of liberty. In statecraft he likened Aguinaldo and his associates in the leadership of the Filipinos to the best minds ever produced in the Asiatic race—a race which handed down to us the scriptures of the Old and New Testaments, the poetry of David, the eloquence of Isaiah, the wisdom of Solomon and the profound philosophy of Paul.

Senator Hoar started by sketching the nation as on a pinnacle of prosperity and international influence at the time of the beginning of the Spanish war, then worked into his subject by stating that he saw no prospect of relief except through the Republican party, which he hoped to see in time draw back to the old, beaten path from which it had strayed. He felt that the election of Bryan would give no assurance of a better settlement of the question of imperialism, while it would bring in other evils which were to be avoided at all hazards. In speaking of the Republican party's departure from its beaten path on the imperialism issue, he drew a warning from the experience of the old Whig party, which fell, he said, when it appeared to be in the height of its influence.

He then urged that under the principles on which American greatness had come into being, the acquisition of new territory could only be for a constitutional end, and that in every case of American expansion, heretofore, territory had been acquired only with the intention of ultimately making new states. He held that no territory had been acquired in the Philippines outside of Manila. Territory, not a people, may be conveyed, he said, but only when the title is unquestioned. And if a people like the Filipinos rise against a tyrant and gain possession, have they not this title? he asked. He argued that the Philippine republic was a nation, as far advanced as Cuba, and worthy of the same treatment by this country.

The whole difficulty with the Filipinos, he urged, could have been avoided if the islands could have had the same treatment as Cuba. He quoted from official documents to show that pledges along this line were given, and that the American generals recognized in Aguinaldo ability and power and fitness to govern.

Then after his detailed review of the experiences of the United States with this leader, in working toward his peroration he instanced the great cost of keeping the islands, the loss of this nation's standing in the movement for universal peace, not neglecting to recall the experience at home with 10,000,000 negroes. What a triumph it would have been if the Philippines had been accorded the same treatment accorded to Cuba! he exclaimed.

He suggested aid in setting up an independent government as the right attitude for this country toward the Philippines, and eloquently declared that he was willing to trust the American people if they were enabled to judge fairly in the matter. He deplored the fact that the uniforms and drums, and the waving flags, and "somebody shooting at somebody somewhere," were clouding the real issue, and eloquently defended the flag as a symbol of freedom and liberty, rather than as a sign of power and might.

With spirited language he called in question the statement that the new ideas have the sympathy of the American people, and closed by calling up the shades of departed statesmen, and in fancy, calling the roll and getting from each, from Washington to Sumner, a negation of the portending policy. He added McKinley to the rest, each in a sentence giving the reason for his vote. Every vote was in the negative, except that of Aaron Burr, who voted "yes" and explained: "You are repeating my buccaneering expedition down the Mississippi. I am to be vindicated at last.'

When the name of William McKinley was called, he replied: "There has been a cloud before my vision for a moment, but I see clearly now; I go back to what I said two years ago: 'Forcible annexation is criminal aggression; governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed; not of some of them, but of all of them.' I will stand with the fathers of the republic. I will stand with the founders of the Republican party. No."

The effect was dramatic. As Mr. Hoar pronounced his peroration the stillness in the chamber was intense. Applause swept over the galleries, but it was hushed quickly by the president pro tempore.

Fishing Schooner Wrecked.

Arichat, C. B., April 18.—American fishing schooner Quickstep struck on a hidden rock while endeavoring to enter the harbor yesterday, and will probably prove a total loss.

A DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDE.

Full State Ticket, Headed by Heard, Wins In Louisiana State Election.

New Orleans, April 18.—The first state election under the new legislation disfranchising the negro was held yesterday, and the battle at the polls was fought almost exclusively by the whites.

Three tickets were in the field, the Democratic headed by W. W. Heard, the present state auditor; the Republican headed by E. S. Reams of New Orleans, and the fusion, embracing sugar planters, independents, Democrats and Populists, headed by Don Caffery, Jr., son of Senator Caffery. The Reams ticket cut no figure in the fight. The Democratic majority in the state will exceed 25,000, based on returns already in, and may reach 50,000. The fusionists polled a smaller vote than expected. The Caffery ticket is beaten by from 12,000 to 15,000. In Senator Caffrey's district, which four years ago went strongly Republican, the Democrats were successful. The opposition to the Democrats has elected very few members of the legislature.

The result insures the return of Senator McEnery and the election of Governor Murphy J. Foster to succeed Senator Caffery. The state ticket elected is as follows:

Governor, W. W. Heard; lieutenant governor, Albert Estopinal; secretary of state, John T. Michael; attorney general, Walter Gulen; treasurer, W. S. Frase; superintendent of education, J. V. Calhoun.

Long's Candidacy Endorsed.

Boston, April 18.—Throughout a greater portion of Massachusetts Tuesday Republican caucuses were held in cities and towns for the purpose of choosing delegates to conventions which will name the delegates to the Philadelphia convention. These caucuses, as usual, were in the main perfunctory affairs, but in Boston and vicinity the voters showed their interest in national politics to the extent of endorsing John D. Long as the party's vice presidential candidate. In no instance, however, was any reference made to the head of the ticket.

Six Rounds to a Draw.

Chicago, April 18.—Tommy White of Chicago went six fast rounds with Terry McGovern of Brooklyn last night, finishing strong, and had the better of the last round. The fight was at 130 pounds, both men being below that, although the exact weights were not given out. No decision was rendered, as both men were on their feet at the end of the sixth round. McGovern would probably have received the decision if one had been rendered. The btting bfore the fight was 10 to 8 that White would not stay six rounds.

Said to Have Quarrelled Over Money.

Chicago, April 18.—The detectives who have been working on the case of Rufus Wright, who died Sunday from the effects of a bullet wound received while in the apartments of Mrs. Louise Lottridge, announce that evidence collected by them leads to the theory that the shot was fired by the woman during a quarrel over the millionaire's refusal to give her a large sum of money. Mrs. Foss, who was arrested in connection with the death of Mr. Wright, has been released.

Alleged Violation of Civil Service Rules.

Boston, April 18.—The inquiry by the civil service commissioners into some recent appointments by Superintendent Wheeler of the street department is said to promise further developments and possibly a request to the attorney general to bring action for alleged violation of the civil service law. The friction between the commissioners and Superintendent Wheeler developed by reason of the latter's transfer of city employes from one department to another.

Cocheco River Flooded.

Rochester, N. H., April 18.—The rapid rise of the tributary streams to the Cocheco river at New Durham has caused the river to overflow its banks, the water taking with it the dam which holds a large amount of back water in check. Farther down the bridges and property along the river suffered damage. The Coburn knife factory will be obliged to suspend operations for a considerable period. The actual damage is about $1500.

Miners to Return to Work.

Pittsburg, April 18.—Resolutions calling for immediate resumption of work by all of the striking coal miners in the Pittsburg district were passed last evening by a unanimous vote of the delegates to a convention held here. All the differences have been amicably arranged, except the outside day wage scale. This feature is left for settlement to a committee to be aided by the miners' officials.

Chilton Gives It Up.

Austin, April 18.—Political circles here are greatly surprised by the announcement that Senator Chilton has withdrawn from the United States senatorial race, leaving Congressman Bailey a clear field. Senator Chilton's withdrawal is based upon ill health and an inability to make a canvass of the state. Primaries held in about a dozen counties have given Bailey a lead in the race.

Won't Comply With Strikers' Demands.

Crompton, R. I., April 18.—The Crompton company has presented a written statement to its striking weavers in which it refuses to comply with the demand for higher wages or to concede that the complaints against the overseer of the weaving room are well founded. The strikers considered the company's statement and voted to continue the strike.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Almanac, Thursday, April 19.
Sun rises—4:58; sets, 6:30.
Moon rises—11:16 p. m.
High water—2 a. m.; 2:30 p. m.

The rain area has extended to the Atlantic coast. In the lake regions and thence to the New England coast showers will continue today. During Thursday fair and warmer weather may be expected. Along the Atlantic coast brisk to high southerly winds will shift to southwesterly. Storm signals are displayed on the Atlantic coast from Delaware breakwater to Eastport.

INDICTMENTS IN GOEBEL MURDER.

Prominent Officials Included Among Those Who Will Be Brought to Trial.

Frankfort, Ky., April 18.—The grand jury yesterday reported indictments against Caleb Powers, John Powers, Charles Finley, Wharton Golden and W. H. Cullen, as accessories, and against Henry E. Youtzy, Berry Howard, Jim Howard, Harland Whittaker and Dick Combs, charged with wilful murder of Mr. Goebel.

In the indictment relating to the alleged accessories three other men are indirectly referred to as accessories, though no indictments were reported against them. They are Governor W. S. Taylor, Green Golden and Captain John Davis.

Henry E. Youtsey, mentioned as the first principal, was a clerk in the office of State Auditor Sweeney. James and Berry Howard are cousins and mountaineers of note in connection with the old Howard feud. They were with the men alleged to have been brought here by the Powers brothers, Finley and others on the "excursion of mountaineers." Harland Whittaker lived in Butler, Governor Taylor's home county, and is alleged to have been in the room in the executive building from which the shot was fired. Dick Combs lived at Beattyville, and also came here with the mountain men.

Caleb Powers is the Republican contestee for secretary of state, and John T. Powers is his brother. Charles Finley was secretary of state when W. O. Bradley was governor. He is now in Indianapolis. W. H. Culton was a clerk in the office of Auditor Sweeney. Wharton Golden was a member of the Taylor state guard, and claimed to turn state's evidence in the examining trial of Caleb Powers when he recited what he claimed to be the inside facts relating to the alleged conspiracy to murder Goebel and enough Democratic members of the legislature to give the Republicans a majority.

It is stated that the commonwealth will at once nolle the indictment against Golden in consideration of his testimony.

Minds Not Quite Made Up.

New York, April 18.—The Republican state convention here chose United States Senators Platt and Depew, Governor Roosevelt and State Committee Chairman O'Dell as delegates at large, and Edward H. Butler of Buffalo and F. M. Mitchell of Rochester as electors at large to the national Republican convention. The convention demonstrated that it was not quite decided as to whether Roosevelt should be a candidate for governor or for vice president, or whether Woodruff was wanted for lieutenant governor or vice president. It is believed, however, that the general trend is towards the renomination of Governor Roosevelt and the pushing of Woodruff for second place on the national ticket.

Farrar In Charge of Marshal.

Waterbury, Vt., April 18.—J. C. Farrar, late teller of the Waterbury National bank, arrived here from Boston Tuesday evening, under escort of Sheriff Graves. Farrar took supper with his wife, and immediately after it Sheriff Graves turned him over to United States Marshal Harris, who will have him in charge until a definite plan regarding the bank's affairs is agreed upon. Farrar went to the bank during the evening and, with the directors, worked on the accounts until midnight. It is understood that he will not be formally arrested and locked up, but will remain in custody of the marsnal until after a hearing.

Testimonial of Heroic Deeds.

Washington, April 18.—A beautiful and unique souvenir autograph album was yesterday presented to Admiral Dewey by the New York Commercial. The book is a large leather-bound volume with an illuminated, illustrated title page, setting forth in detail the service he rendered to his country by the destruction of the Spanish fleet. The first sheet contains the signatures of President McKinley and each member of his cabinet. Then follow the autographs of several hundred of the most distinguished and influential men in New York city.

Crook's Pal Probably Aided Escape.

New Haven, April 18.—Mary Briggs and Steven Moran are detained by the police, and it is thought they are suspected of complicity in the sensational escape from jail early Tuesday morning of Martin Lynch. Moran was Lynch's pal, and it is thought that the saw with which Lynch cut away the iron bars of the cell was passed in to him in a bunch of bananas which Moran brought him on Sunday.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

AT HISTORIC CONCORD.

Deeds Commemorative of Nation's Birth Are Brought to Mind.

Men Fought For Rights Consecrated by Antiquity.

Parade, Banquet, Fireworks and Decoration of British Soldiers' Graves.

Concord, Mass., April 20.—This town yesterday celebrated the anniversary of the day when her sons fought the British red coats. Not an accident or unpleasant incident occurred to mar the pleasure of the occasion.

'Twas a great day for Concord, this 125th celebration of the fight where was fired the shot that was "heard around the world."

At dawn the town was astir. Every house of size, every store of the slightest pretension had its voluminous drapery fluttering in the ind. Red, white and blue made into all sorts of fantastic designs, with glitter and color, transformed old Concord.

The guests were escorted to the Trinitarian church, where the literary exercises of the day were held. Rev. Loren B. Macdonald offered prayer. Samuel Hoar presided and made the introductory address. Charles J. Bonaparte of Baltimore, the orator of the day, was then introduced.

The history of the great fight at the bridge, the fight which made the name of Concord known throughout the world, was reviewed and many details dwelt upon that served to picture vividly to the large audience those events which they were then engaged in commemorating.

"Those men who congregated on the green in this town just 125 years ago today," said the orator, "were fighting for rights consecrated by antiquity. The Revolution was one of taxpayers, who objected to the king putting his hand into their pockets. There is no doubt but that in this war these men spent a pound for every shilling for which the king asked, and yet, after a seven years' war, their resources were by no means crippled. 'Twas no war of money kings, syndicates, trusts or other fungus growth of modern commerce. They fought for sacred rights—and won. The minute man is the type of true American, and let those who are sickened by the swinish scu e, the cant, hypocrisy and deceit of today look to the minute man, the true and noble figure that stands for real liberty."

Shortly after 12 o'clock the parade, one of the great features of the celebration, formed in the square. Quickly the order to march was given, and Governor Crane and invited guests were escorted to the battlefield, and thence to the fair grounds, where the banquet was served in the agricultural building.

Charles H. Boneparte sat at the centre of the table reserved for the speakers and guests. Surrounding him were Speaker Myers of the house, Justice Putnam of the United States court of appeals, Judge Lowell, Rear Admiral Belknap, Samuel Hoar, Captain Walker of the Concord, Major Charles Morris, commandant of Fort Warren; Edward Waldo Emerson and members of the governor's staff. Speeches commemorating of the day were made by many of the guests.

At 4 o'clock a battalion drill, parade and band concert were held on the Common, and at 7 o'clock an exhibition of fireworks on the playground. At 9 o'clock a reception, promenade and dance. The attendance at all these functions was extremely large.

The graves of the British soldiers who fell in the memorable fight were not forgotten, and British flags marked the sput where they lie. Without a hitch the program as laid out by the committee passed off, and its close marked the most notable of any commemorating the celebration of the Concord fight.

Perjury For His Father's Sake.

New Haven, April 20.—A motion has been filed in the superior court, asking for a new trial for William Russell of Wallingford, who was sentenced Wednesday to nearly nine years in state prison. He states that he perjured himself to save his father. Russell was charged with robbery, accompanied with personal violence and attempt to murder, and was found guilty. The father is 56 years old, and the son has scarcely reached his majority.

Material For an Agrarian Kick.

Berlin, April 20.—The agrarian newspapers reproduce a letter from a German employe of the Chicago stock yards, in which the Armour, Morris and Swift concerns are charged with conducting meat inspection in a farcial fashion. A number of alleged facts are cited in corroboration, and the writer says the adoption of the German meat-inspection bill would be a blessing to both countries. The journals which publish the letter comment editorially upon it.

Five Hundred Royal[illegible] Slain.

Accra, West Africa, April 20.—Governor Hodgson wires from Kumassi that the other tribes are rising again, and he asks for assistance. The loyal Bekuis have been attacked by the Ashantis and 500 have been killed. It is feared that this will compel them to join the rebellion. Evidently the matter is extremely serious and was minimized until it was too late.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

Hub Enthusiasts See Home Team Beaten by Men From Philadelphia.

Boston, April 20.—In the opening game of the National league here, the visitors were on top with a great lead until the ninth through the steadiness and effective pitching of Orth, but then came a streak of batting and Boston tied the score. The batting rally was really the feature. Freeman was sent in to bat for Clarke and hit the third pitched ball over the right-field fence. This surprised Orth very much, and before he had recovered Boston had batted in nine runs, eight being earned. A rank error by Lowe in the first half of the ninth inning gave Philadelphia life. Then with two men on bases, McFarland drove the ball to deep center, scoring two runs. Bernhardt retired the Bostons with ease in their half and the game was won.

Patton Says Agitation Is Unnecessary.

Princeton, N. J., April 20.—President Patton has given out for publication the following statement: "If the Presbyterian church ceases to be a Calvinistic church, it will not need the Calvinistic creed. If the Presbyterian church is a Calvinistic church, as I believe it to be, then there is no need of revising the confession of faith. The creed needs no revision. No church member is required to sign the creed in ipsissimis verbis. The confession of faith is a very good expression of the Calvanistic system of belef. Agitation on this subject is entirely unnecessary, in my judgment."

Murder as Religious Ceremony.

Berlin, April 20.—The local authorities at Konitz, Prussia, have summoned 200 reservists to preserve the peace of the district, which is threatened by a suspicion that the death of a boy named Winter, who was murdered just before Easter, is attributable to the Jews of the district. In popular superstition at Konitz the Jews are suspected of ritual murders; and there are some circumstances tending to explain the death of the boy in this way. Various small riots have occurred and the authorities have ordered all saloons closed at sundown.

Canal Boat Captain Murdered.

New York, April 20.—William Beddlecum, aged 73, captain of the canal boat Iby, was found murdered in the cabin of his canal boat at Jersey City yesterday. His head had been crushed in with an ax. It is believed the murder was committed Monday night. Robbery was also committed. A young man who had been employed by the captain was discharged Monday and has been missing since. The police are trying to locate him.

Manchester Strike Settled.

Manchester, N. H., April 20.—The strikers of the R. G. Sullivan cigar factory, who have been out for 10 days, went to work this morning. A foreman who was obnoxious to the cigarmakers was responsible for the trouble. Pending final settlement Mr. Piller, the foreman to whom the men objected, will work as a cigarmaker, his place as foreman being supplied by another union man.

Sentences Reduced by Otis.

Manila, April 20.—The military commission which tried three Filipinos at Leallamban for guerilla warfare has found all three guilty, and sentenced two of them to life imprisonment and one to 30 years' imprisonment. General Otis has approved the findings, but has reduced the sentences to 15 years. Two Ladrones, convicted of murder, have been sentenced to be hanged at Odonnel.

Friendship Not Forgotten.

Washington, April 20.—Secretary Long has undertaken to have a bronze tablet cast and erected in Santiago in commemoration of the services of the late Frederick W. Ramsden, who, while British consul at Santiago during the Spanish-American war, rendered valuable services to the United States in protecting American interests there, and who died while at his post of duty.

In Memory of Lafayette.

New York, April 20.—The statue of Washington and Lafayette, the gift of Charles B. Rouss, to the city, was unveiled with fitting ceremonies yesterday in Lafayette square. General King made the presentation speech. President Gugenheimer accepted the statue in behalf of the city.

Fraudulent Bonds In Circulation.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 20.—The officers of the Leavenworth Light and Heating company have information of a fradulent issue of 140 bonds for $1000 each, now in circulation and offered for sale in Chicago. They are not positive as to who is back of the scheme to sell the bonds.

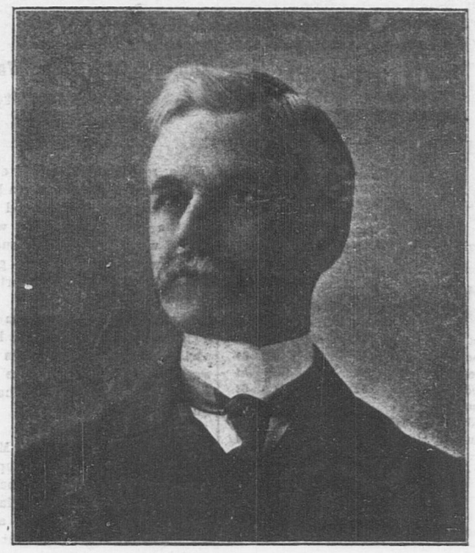

Never to Awaken.

New York, April 20.—Katie Nepper, aged 3, whose sleep of more than a week has puzzled physicians, died Thursday without awakening. A little more than a week ago the child complained of a headache and fell asleep. Every effort to awaken her was in vain.

A PROUD DAY FOR QUINCY.

The 25th Anniversary of the Revival or Birth of Education.

Speakers of National Reputation to Speak on the Parker Movement.

With such a notable array of speakers of National reputation, from Washington, Chicago, New York, Worcester, and Boston, the anniversary of the revival of education in Quincy, which began 25 years ago today, is more than a local event. The speakers are:

Dr. William T. Harris,
Washington, D. C.

Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler,
Columbia University, N. Y.

Orville T. Bright,
Superintendent, Cook County, Ill.

G. Stanley Hall,
Clark University, Worcester.

Col. Francis W. Parker,
Quincy's First Superintendent.

Mr. Robert S. Atkins president of the Quincy Teachers' Association will introduce the presiding officer, Hon. Charles H. Porter, chairman of the School Committee. Mayor Hall will extend the greeting of the city.

The Quincy Patriot (double number), out tonight, will be a souvenir of the anniversary. It is illustrated with 43 half tones of the speakers, the Quincy superintendents, gentlemen who have served on the School Committee, principals of our schools, etc. It also contains 15 letters from educational experts on the Quincy movement, including three by Quincy people, and others from Boston, New York, Harvard College, Newton, Brookline, Worcester, State Board of Education, North Adams, Chicago, Honolulu, and elsewhere.

The School Committee in 1875, the year Col. Francis W. Parker was elected Superintendent of Schools in Quincy, was composed of John Quincy Adams, Charles F. Adams, Jr., James H. Slade, Edwin W. Marsh, William B. Duggan and Charles L. Badger.

Mr. Marsh had served on the board as early as 1855 and is today a prominent citizen, being our local historian; he is a director of the National Granite Bank and also the Quincy Savings Bank.

John Quincy Adams, the chairman, was a direct descendant of the Presidents Adams, and prominent in town and state affairs. For many years he was moderator of the town meetings, and also served as road commissioner, Representative to the General Court, and in other offices. He died a few years ago.

Charles F. Adams, Jr., was also of the Presidential family. He has been prominent in railroads, being at one time president of the Union Pacific. He is an author of note, and also a historian.

James H. Slade, another member, has continued prominent in Quincy affairs, as moderator of town meetings and recently as a Councilman.

William B. Duggan died several years ago. He was a well-known doctor of a generation ago, residing in North Quincy.

Charles L. Badger is of the well-known firm of Badger Bros., machinists, granite quarrymen, polishers and dealers, and now resides in West Quincy.

Since 1875 the following gentlemen and ladies have served on the School Committees:

John Q. Adams, 1876,7,8,9,80,1.
Edwin W. Marsh, 1876,7,8,9,80,1,2,3.
James H. Slade, 1876,7,8,9,84.
Charles L. Badger, 1876,7,8.
C. F. Adams, Jr., 1876,7,8,9,80.
William B. Duggan, 1876.
Jason G. Witham, 1877,8,9,80,1,2,3,4,5.
Geo. L. Miller, 1879,80,1,2,3,4.
Alfred Sampson, 1880,1,2,3,4.
William G. Sheen, 1880,1,2,3.
Sigourney Butler, 1881,2,3,4,5,6.
Mrs. Adelaide A. Claflin, 1884,5,6.
Sylvester Brown, 1884,5,6,7,8.
John A. Gordon, 1884,5,6,7,8.
Francis L. Hayes, 1885,6,7,8.
Joseph M. Sheahan, 1886,7,8.
Thomas Gurney, 1887,8.
Rupert F. Claflin, 1887,8.

Since the incorporation of Quincy as a city in 1888, the following have served on the School Committee, the boards being composed of nine:

Sylvester Brown, 1889,90.
Rupert F. Claflin, 1889,90,1.
John F. Cole, 1889,90.
John A. Gordon, 1889,90,1,2,3,4.
H. Evan Cotton, 1889,90,1,2.
Francis L. Hayes, 1889,90.
Joseph M. Sheahan, 1889,90,1,2,3,4-5.
Eben Muse, 1889.
Thomas Gurney, 1889,90,4,5,6.
Emery L. Crane, 1890,1,2,3,4,5.
Wendell G. Corthell, 1891,2,3,4.
Harrison A. Keith, 1891,2,3.
Ambrose F. Roche, 1891,2,3.
Elijah G. Hall, 1891,2,3.
Charles H. Porter, 1892,3,4,5,6,7,8,9,1900.
James F. Harlow, 1893,4,5.

A Good Advertisement for Quincy.

Good Afternoon.

Councilman Nichol's order for the changing of the circuitous Central avenue of Wollaston at the north of Beale street is a much-desired move in that locality, and at the same time it perpetuates the name of a historical personage in the name of Hutchinson. Anne Hutchinson, whom the name of this street proposes to commemorate, was one of the strongest character of early colonial history. Her husband, William, and son, Edward, were also prominent in colonial affairs.

Much of the time and energy of the editors and the whole force of the office of the Ledger and Patriot has been put into the Parker-Patriot for two weeks, and we feel it is an edition of which Quincy may be proud. If any news items have been overlooked or curtailed, or any job printing delayed, there was good reason for it. We have endeavored to do one thing well, and we feel that the double number of the Patriot will be a surprise to many, and a credit and a good advertisement to the city. If any of the readers see anything to commend, the publisher would be pleased to hear from them.

The revenue received from the sales of space and papers will not pay the publishers for the expense incurred, unless thousands of extra copies are wanted.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Senator Hanna has the grip, and it remains to be seen how it will escape.—Lynn Item.

☞One of the most recent of Boston bank defaulters is represented as being in "a penitential attitude." That is well; nevertheless punishment should be swift and severe.—New Bedford Standard.

☞Gov. Crane recently gave a reception to notable people at which there was not a drop of anything that could intoxicate served. Glad to hear it; very glad. There is nothing but a headache, a disordered stomach and vain regret in the cup that inebriates, and the Lord above knows, that is too much.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞When Charles H. Cole, the aristocratic "good fellow" former president of the Globe national bank, was arrested a few week ago in California, he effected great surprise and laughingly remarked that the arrest would amount to nothing, etc. etc. But he seems to have changed his mind very materially, for he now admits "borrowing" $1,000,000 of the bank's funds thereby plunging it into the vortex of ruin. He is also sorry. They all are—when they are caught. It is to be hoped that no mawkish sympathy with his penitence will avail to save him from the severe punishment which his outrageous crime so richly merits.—Milford Journal.

MAYOR RECEIVES.

At the Parlors of The Greenleaf Last Night.

Invited City Officials and their Ladies.

And the Invitation Was Very Generally Accepted.

The reception Thursday evening at The Greenleaf parlors, given by Mayor Hall to the City Officials and members of the City government with their ladies, was a pronounced success, and withal was a very pleasant gathering, more like a large family party than a reception.

The reception was from 8 to 10 o'clock, and between those hours the parlor, and adjoining rooms and hall were thronged with those who administer the affairs of the city of Quincy with their ladies.

Aside from giving the ladies an opportunity to meet the Mayor and Mrs. Hall, it also affords an opportunity to the ladies to meet and become acquainted with the City Officials and to meet their wives, and many a pleasant chat and exchange of thought was had.

Mayor and Mrs. Hall received in the easterly end of the large parlor, and were assisted by President Bryant of the City Council and Mrs. Bryant, and the guests were presented by City Messenger Harry W. Tirrell and Mr. John O. Hall, Jr.

Mrs. Hall was gowned in a black silk crepon, with yoke of white silk trimmed with a rich spangled black lace. Her bouquet was a choice bunch of long stemmed American Beauty roses, the gift of President Bryant.

Mrs. Bryant was charming in a gray crepe de chine over pink, with white and black trimmings. She carried a bouquet of pinks.

The decorations were patriotic—red, white, and blue, and there were several choice bouquet of flowers in the rooms.

During the reception the Lord family discoursed enhancing music from behind a bank of potted plants in the hall. Refreshments consisting of ices, cake, olives and coffee were served continuously in the dining room.

By far the larger part of the members of the city government and administrative boards were present, also Representatives Sheppard and Sprague, and others more or less identified with the city in an official capacity. It was a happy thought of Mayor Hall to hold this reception and it will doubtless become an annual affair in the future.

Happy Gathering.

On Monday evening, April 16, a happy gathering of fifty met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Brown, 14 Farrington street, Wollaston, comprising members of the Union club and their friends. At seven o'clock, the call came from the dining room, where prettily spread tables and a bountiful turkey supper greeted them as they entered.

After an hour spent in this pleasing way they retired to the parlor and their the fun began. Songs, stories, piano solos, and readings, by different members of the company were enjoyed. After a social evening spent in this way they left for their homes with many expressions of pleasure and all hoping that the visit may not be their last.

Entertainment.

The Ladies' Aid Society gave another supper at the Washington street Congregational Church Tuesday evening. It was one of the best ones given this year. The people at 8 o'clock listened to a long and pleasing entertainment given by the Raymond Family of East Weymouth. Although the programme presented was of unusual length each number was strongly encored. Mr. Ford's selections on the flute were well rendered. Miss Burrell was praised by all as her singing was exceptionally good. Many hope to have the pleasure of hearing all again in the future.

How many copies of the Parker Anniversary Patriot a double number will you want this week? It would be an excellent advertisement for Quincy if 10,000 copies were distributed, but the publishers cannot afford to send out as many. We propose to send out several hundred sample copies, and would suggest that those interested in Quincy in her public schools, and in education generally send Patriots all over the country. Four pages will be devoted to the Parker movement, and will be illustrated with forty or more half tones of our different Superintendents, the School Committee of 1875, several members of the School Committees 1875-1900, all the principals of our schools today, the anniversary speakers, buildings and other pictures of interest. Early orders should be placed for ten or more copies.

MILTON.

William Graham, the ten-year-old son of Christopher Graham received a bad cut in the head last Saturday. He was watching the ball game when some one threw a rock which cut a gash that required several stitches. His head has also troubled him considerable since then.

The Unquity club held a social dance at the Town Hall Monday evening.

The Thursday Evening club are negotiating for a club house. The regular ladies night of the Unquity club will be held next Wednesday evening.

The Republican caucuses were held Wednesday evening. There was no contest.

An entertainment in aid of the Public Library building fund will be held in Associates hall, April 28.

The fire department was called out twice Sunday for brush fires on Edge Hill road.

A. H. Winship gave his lecture on "Saints and Sinners" at the East Milton school building this week.

At the services at the Mission of Our Saviour Sunday the rector announced that a friend of the mission had presented it with a $600 organ.

The Thursday Evening club has been presented with a new piano.

The East Milton branch of the Milton Woman's club has elected these officers:

President Mrs. W. D. Parsons; Vice president, Mrs. B. J. Fuller; Secretary, Mrs. Joseph Pierce.

The funeral of Mrs. Richard Drew, who died last week, was held Monday from her late residence on Mechanic street. Rev. Mr. Rogers and Rev. Mr. Mulnix officiated.

First Church Supper.

The last of the socials and suppers which have been enjoyed so much this winter by the people of First church, was held in the chapel on Wednesday night.

There was a large attendance all the seats at the tables being occupied. It was a salad supper and was delicious, the ladies of this church being experts in concocting this ever popular dish also every kind ever heard of. Rev. A. A. Ellsworth of Braintree was a guest and asked divine blessing.

The new chairs were much appreciated as one could sit as near or as far from the table as desired, without discommoding his next neighbor as was the case with the attached opera chairs. After supper the young people enjoyed games and the older ones gathered in little groups for social chat until after eight. It is hoped the mothly suppers will be continued next winter.

Rebekahs Celebrate.

George L. Gill lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, celebrated its second anniversary, and also the anniversary of Odd Fellowship, Thursday evening, at Odd Fellows' hall. About one hundred were present. Noble Grand Kate A. Hayden presided, and brief remarks were made by District Deputy Grand Master Miss Grace W. Mitchell, Vice Grand Susie A. Furnald and others.

A pleasing entertainment was given consisting of a piano solo, by Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt; reading, by Ellis B. Gay; banjo solo, Mr. Gragg; and fancy dancing by little Miss Mabel McClusky. Refreshments were served.

Among the many present were members of the order from Maine, Vermont, East Weymouth, Wollaston and Dorchester.

School House Bids.

Commissioner Knowlton opened bids Wednesday for building the new school building on Cranch hill. Twelve were received as follows:

Charles F. Marr & Co.,	$41,707
C. B. Huston & Co.,	40,349
Angus M. McDonald,	39,887
Lord Bros,	39,570
Charles H. Dodge, Sons & Co.,	38,274
G. M. Pratt,	36,028
Isaac Weaver,	35,673
Frank G. Coburn & Co.,	33,900
Hartwell, Williams & Kingston,	32,875
W. L. Clark & Co.,	32,207
F. W. Grant,	31,719
George Howard,	30,960

The bids were taken under advisement. Mr. Howard, the lowest bidder is the same gentleman who built the Massachusetts Fields and Gridley Bryant buildings, and gave good satisfaction.

—The National Educational association, through the National Council of Education, has offered $1,200 in prizes for the best essays on seating, lighting, heating and ventilating public school buildings—$200 as a first prize and $100 as a second prize for essay on each of the four subjects named. Competition is open to the world. Dr. Irwin Sheppard, secretary of the National Educational association, and Dr. William T. Harris, United States commissioner of education, have charge of the matter.

Several from the Universalist society attended the meeting of the Old Colony Association at Abington, Wednesday.

The holiday was almost pleasant, more so than many dared to expect the night before or even in the early morning.

The services at the West Quincy Methodist church was disturbed last evening by boys throwing pebbles at the windows.

Work was commenced this morning laying the twelve-inch water main on Coddington street between City Square and Valley street.

James Bonner of this city was correspondent for the Hamilton, Ont. papers at the B. A. A. Marathon run held in Boston Patriots day.

Several young people enjoyed a sunlight dance at Colonial hall on the afternoon of Patriots' day. Mrs. C. C. Hearn and Mrs. H. T. Rodgers were matrons. Mrs. Rhines presided at the piano.

Mr. G. Stanley Hall, of the Clark University of Worcester, will also be one of the speakers this evening at the Parker anniversary, making with Messrs. Harris, Bright, Metcalf, and Butler a notable quintette of speakers. The admission is without tickets and everybody is invited.

The Fragment society connected with First church is to give a Hurdy Gurdy party Saturday afternoon at Faxon hall. There will be dancing for the children at two o'clock and later in the afternoon for the older people until eight. A good time is expected.

Galvin's black gelding Lightfoot won his match with Cavanagh's bay mare Emerine at South Weymouth Patriots' day in two straight. His time was 1.27 and 1.20. Oakleaf [Baker] won the free for all wagon race, 3 out of 4; and Hall Brown [Richards] won the third race.

A number of Italians on Penn and Liberty street got into a wrangle Wednesday afternoon, during which Alfonso Sullo got a cut on the face, which he claims was inflicted by Carmini Fedesco and Ferdenando Lotorello. The assault grew out of a children's quarrel. Warrants were sworn out against the two defendants and they were placed under arrest.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

Two Days Easter Sale.

The annual Easter sale of the Guilds of Christ church was held Wednesday and Thursday afternoon and evening, at Faxon hall. The sale was largely attended on both days and was a success from every point of view. The entertainment on Wednesday evening was supplied by Harry Byant, a well known ventriloquist. The entertainment on Thursday afternoon and evening consisted of a sleight of hand performance by Prof. LeRoy, and fancy dancing by Miss Helen Rhines.

The tables for the sale of useful and fancy articles were arranged on the sides of the hall and were in charge of the following:

Woman's Guild—Mrs. Walter R. Breed, Mrs. George H. Brown, Mrs. Frederick L. Jones, Mrs. Christopher A. Spear, Mrs. Gregg.

Candy table — Mrs. Frank Brewer, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Miss Fannie Wilson.

Reapers Circle, King's Daughter—Miss Helen Waldron, Miss Lizzie Newcomb, Mrs. Walter Randall, Miss Nadeau, Miss Helen Taylor, Miss Flora Bown.

Pitcher table—Mrs. George Fuller, Miss Harriet Bell, Miss Elizabeth Gibson.

Grab bag—Miss Sadie Thomas, Miss Lena Ballou.

Burnt Wood—Mr. C. C. Bradford.

St. Margaret's Guild, —Mrs. Silas Duffield, Mrs. Bartlett, Miss Gertie Jones, Miss Randall.

Ice cream and cake—Mrs. Mary Emey, Mrs. Samuel Oxford, Mrs. Amos Litchfield, Miss M. J. Gibson.

Flower Table—Mrs. Eliza Howes, Miss Mildred Rice.

Died at College.

Malcolm Graham, son of Mr. John R. Graham of Quincy, died at Amherst, Thursday afternoon, the result of an operation for appendicitis. Malcolm and his twin brother, Harold, were attending college at Amherst. On Wednesday Malcolm was taken ill, and the only hope was an operation, which was performed that afternoon. Mr. Graham was telephoned and immediately started with Mrs. Graham for Amherst, but did not arrive until after the operation had been performed. The young man lived until Thursday afternoon. This death is a particularly sad one, being the first break in a large family of children. The body was brought to Quincy this noon.

HIGH IDEALS.

Thousands of Teachers Inspired by Those Ideals.

Harvard University,
Cambridge, Mass., 17 Mar., 1900.

DEAR MR. LULL:

I am heartily glad that the Quincy Teachers' Association is preparing to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of Colonel Parker's "revival of education" in Quincy in an appropriate manner, and that you have given me an opportunity to pay my respects to him in these few words. I hope to be present at the celebration, but I shall be away from home and may not return in time.

No man in the country has more consistently held high ideals of elementary education, or been more successful in inspiring thousands of teachers with those ideals and exerted a wider influence in having them embodied in practice,—and all this, as usual, often in the face of strong and stubborn opposition. His career offers inspiration and encouragement to every younger worker in the same field. Like every strong man, he has emerged from the attacks of his opponents, stronger than ever. No better proof of the appreciation of his ability, industry, and success as an educational leader, can be found than his selection for the new and magnificent opportunity for the training of teachers to which he has recently been called in Chicago. I congratulate him most heartily on the career of distinguished usefulness already behind him. But especially I congratulate him on the prospect of a long career of increased usefulness to come, now that in the fulness of his powers and the wisdom of his experience, he may hope to bring to fruition the aims of a lifetime.

Very truly yours,
PAUL H. HANUS,
Professor of Pedegogy.

IS THE BEST GIFT.

The Presentation of "New Education" to the New Century.

Public School Board,
Toronto, Can., April 14th., 1900.

To H. W. Lull, Dear Sir: —

I regret exceedingly that it will be impossible for me to attend the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the beginning of Col. Parker's educational work in Quincy. My reverent affection for Col. Parker as a man, and my deep gratitude to him as a teacher make absence especially hard to bear when he is to be so justly honored.

High honors are worthily bestowed on Col. Parker. His has been a noble work, done under many difficulties, and in spite of much opposition. But difficulties and opposition stimulate the man who has a clear revelation for his fellows, and surely no man ever worked more steadfastly towards the light than Col. Parker has during the twenty-five years of his progressive educational life. Momentous have been the changes in educational thought and pratice in the closing quarter of greatest century, and Col. Parker has led, or stood among the leaders, in the most important of these educational evolutions. It must be specially gratifying to him to realize that among his warmest friends of today are many of those who at first regarded his principle as visionary and impractical.

Col. Parker is entitled to special recognition for his early and comprehensive appreciation of the kindergarten; for his logical and persistent demand for freedom for the child and for the teacher; for his intelligent efforts in the department of practical child study for his earnest pleadings for a broad psychological training as the basis of a teacher's true preparation for his work: and for his able advocacy of nature study, art, music, manual training, physical culture, the correlation of school work, self-expression by the child, the development of individual character, and community as the highest ideal of all training.

The "new education" is the best gift the nineteenth century has prepared for the twentieth. My earnest hope is that Col. Parker may live yet many years to help to reveal to the new century the full value of the educational reforms to which his life has been so enthusiastically and so heroically devoted.

JAMES L. HUGHES,
Inspector of Schools,
Toronto, Canada.

BETTER TEACHERS.

Schools of America Advanced by Work in Quincy.

Chicago Normal School,
Formerly Cook County
Chicago, March 19, 1900.

H. W. Lull, Esq., Superintendent of Schools, Quincy, Massachusetts.

My dear sir: — I regret very much that I cannot be with you at the twenty-fifth anniversary of Col. Parker's revival of education in your city.

For ten years I was associated with Col. F. W. Parker in the Cook County Normal School. I know my work is broader, higher, more for the children than it would have been had I not been with him. It has been his to enthuse and to make better teachers of all who come under the influence of his child-loving heart. The schools of America are far in advance of what they would have been had it not been for his pioneer work. Because of him, it is the child, not the text-book, that is the center from which the teachers of today are working.

Yours very cordially,
WILLIAM M. GIFFIN,
Principal.

NEW CLUB LAUNCHED

The North Quincy Club Has an Opening.

Poland's Building Makes Admirable Quarters.

Many Enjoy the Hospitality of the Members.

At its room in Poland's hall, Norfolk Downs, Patriots' day, afternoon and evening, the North Quincy club was officially ushered into a most promising existence. Promptly at one o'clock members and officers of the club were present to extend the courtesies of the organization to the invited guests. Many were present and enjoyed the full privileges of the club, throughout the day and evening.

At 3 o'clock a delegation from the Merrymount club arrived and were entertained until late in the afternoon. Phonographic recitals and selections on the guitar formed a part of the entertainment of the afternoon.

Early in the evening the ladies began to assemble, and at 8 o'clock all present inspected the various rooms of the club. The billiard and pool room was a revelation to the feminine portion and they were initiated into the mysteries of "spot ball," "scratches," etc.

A pleasing entertainment by the blind entertainer, Mr. Cole of Dorchester, followed. At ten the floor in the main reading room was cleared, and dancing was indulged in until the wee hours of the morning. Lemonade and frappe were in evidence all day and evening.

The club house is an ideal one in every way, and its central location is only one of the convenient features.

At the head of the main stairway one enters the reception room and from thence into the main reading room. Here are kept the leading magazines and daily papers. Appropriate pictures adorn the walls, and the floor is covered with two large smyrna rugs. Two large oak directors tables, colonial chairs, rockers and smaller oak table; a leather covered couch, and an oak piano, are a part of the luxurious furnishings of the room.

Opposite the entrance is the stage, which is very tastefully arranged with an oak seat in centre, backed by Japanese curtains. Draperies and Smryna rugs and several screens and two palms in china jardinieres aid in producing a most exquisite effect.

The card room is quite spacious and is entered from the main reading room. An oak pool and billiard table grace the billiard room, up one flight which can be entered from the main reading room or the reception hall.

Arrangements have been made for the installation of a pair of the best Narragansett bowling alleys, and when these are in, the North Quincy club will possess a club house which will certainly be a credit to the city.

Barre Satisfied.

A Barre dispatch to the Globe says: President William A. Mitchell of Quincy, Mass., Isaac Woodbury of Milford, N.H. and S. W. Jones of Boston, all of the New England granite manufacturers association, were in consultation here today with the Barre association. The principal business was to see if Barre concerns would stand by the New England association if an agreement could be reached, but it is understood that Barre dealers are satisfied with their own position toward the cutters, and will refuse to join the association in its plan.

TODAY'S COURT.

Carmini Tedesco and Ferdenande Lotorelly were arraigned for assault and battery on Alfonso Sullo at Quincy. Sullo acknowledged satisfaction and the two defendants were discharged on payment of costs.

Amos P. Sprague was arraigned for non-support at Weymouth. Case continued until May 17.

Everybody wants a Quincy Patriot this week not one, but how many.

Several from Quincy attended the annual dinner of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery at the Quincy House, Boston, Thursday night.

The funeral of George J. Richards of Weymouth was held this afternoon. The services were attended by a number of Quincy business men. They also sent a large floral piece.

At the handicap match on the Wollaston Golf club links Thursday the gross prize was won by C. L. Bremer, who made 18 holes in 85. The net prize was won by G. E. Atherton who made a score of 92.

The prizes were awarded to the most successful players in the whist tournament for the past three months, at the Granite City club, on Wednesday evening, as follows: The first, a handsome silver cigar box, to Jesse P. Sears; the second, fifty-trip tickets to Boston, to Herbert M. Federhen; the third, a nice umbrella, to E. W. Henry Bass.

IF YOU ARE GOING TO BUY A HOME

This season, rememember I am offering bargains which can't be matched by any builder or real estate owner in the city. I am going to build a number of first class, stylish, modern Houses, ranging in price from $2,000 to $4,000, and shall offer them at the same low prices which prevailed last season. These houses are to be built on Independence and Federal avenues, and are the best lots in South Quincy. Handy to steam and electrics, good neighbors, and every lot is dry. The first of these at No. 25 Independence avenue is now completed and will be cheerfully shown to all parties, whether intending to purchase or not; 6 rooms and bath, besides finished attic and basement. This is a corner lot. Also another of six rooms and bath, nearly finished, at No. 31 Independence avenue. This lot bounds on two streets. Favorable terms will be made to responsible parties on either of above.

"Housework is hard work without Gold Dust"

TO WASH COLORED TABLE CLOTHS

A great many persons who live on farms and have to do their own washing, used colored table linen to save washing. To keep them looking new and from fading use a little in the wash water, and dry in the shade. It is wonderful how long a pretty red table cloth will keep its freshness washed this way. Wash red or colored napkins the same way.

Gold Dust Washing Powder

NO NEWS FROM FRONT,

Only Matters of Minor Note Are Allowed to Pass the Press Censor.

Investment of Wepener Probably Still Continues.

All Doubt as to Sufficiency of Water Dispelled by Heavy Rains.

London, April 20.—Extended reports of the Bloemfontein concert for the benefit of the widows and orphans have been cabled. No less than seven separate accounts are published in London today.

The concert, the weather and the bare statement that Lord Roberts is ready to move, are about the only things that the censor has allowed to pass, and the correspondent who announces that Lord Roberts is ready to move does not specify the direction in which he is going.

A deluge of rain, lasting 10 days, has brought operations in the southeastern part of the Free State almost to a standstill. The creeks have become roaring rivers, and the roads are streams of mud.

A Bloemfontein dispatch says that these conditions, although extremely uncomfortable, so far as the soldiers are concerned, have had their advantages, for every dam in the country round about is filled, and the question of water, which, hitherto, during the march of the army, has been one of great difficulty, is now practically solved. The troops will be able to move in any direction, with a certainty of finding a sufficiency of water.

A singular message, dated Bloemfontein, April 19, and beginning: Via press censor, Bloemfontein, reports an exchange of shots in the direction of De Wets Dorp, where the Boers are said to be concentrating "after their withdrawal from Wepener."

There is nothing else to indicate that the investment of Wepener has been abandoned by the Boers. Notwithstanding the rain, however, the British have made some progress, as De Wets Dorp has been occupied by them, probably by the advance of General Rundles' division. De Wets Dorp is about 24 miles from Wepener.

An obscure message from Aliwal North, dated April 19, says that General Brabant has arrived there, but whether he returned alone or with his troops is not clear.

Boer reports from Aliwal North aver that from 8000 to 10,000 Boers are at Wepener.

Extended reports of the Bloemfontein concert for the benefit of the widows and orphans have been cabled. No less than seven separate accounts are published in London today.

General Hunter, from Natal, commanding the newly formed division, arrived at Bloemfontein Thursday, and left immediately after, conferring with Lord Roberts. To what point he proceeded is not mentioned, but it is understood that he will operate west of Bloemfontein.

The Ladysmith correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says: The news of the nature of the dispatch of Lord Roberts to the war office regarding the Spion kop operations has created much comment locally; but no resignations are mentioned.

A dispatch to The Daily News from Pretoria says: Prince Baratrion Morgaff, a Russian nobleman, was killed at the same time with General De Villebois Mareuil.

In consequence of Mr. Milner's dispatch to Mr. Chamberlain, urging a cessation in the stream of tourist travel to South Africa, the various tourist companies have withdrawn their prospectuses of trips to the South African battlefields. The Daily News says: On the urgent request of Lord Wolseley, implicit instructions have been issued by the government for the restriction of travel to South African ports.

A dispatch to The Morning Post from Kimberley, dated Wednesday, says: Lord Methuen has issued a proclamation forbidding civilians to carry arms without military permit, and ordering rebels to surrender all serviceable modern arms by May 6. At present the military here are mainly occupied in collecting arms and arresting rebels, but everything points to an early resumption of activity.

Thieving Collector Surrenders.

Malden, Mass., April 20.—William F. Adams, the former collector for the Malden and Melrose Gaslight company, who disappeared Tuesday with about $900, which he had collected during the day, returned to this city Thursday and surrendered. The sum of $583 was found upon him when searched at the police station. Adams said that he had been to New York, where he lost about $200, and that he had spent $100 for clothing and in other purchases.

Postoffice Officials Will Investigate.

Providence, April 20.—William B. Curtis of Boston, who was given an opportunity to explain to the detective bureau his business conducted here, went to Boston last evening. Curtis was doing business as the Colonial Scientific society, and was sending out "three-star ring good luck boxes." He is to explain his methods to the postoffice inspectors.

Train Service Still Crippled.

Jackson, Miss., April 20.—Train service on the roads running out of Jackson is still badly crippled as the result of the recent flood, and it is not likely that regular schedules will be in operation for several days. A passenger train with 35 persons aboard, which has been waterbound since Monday at Quitman, Miss., has not yet been released.

Wilhelm Calls on Albert Edward.

Altona, Prussia, April 20.—Emperor William arrived here unexpectedly yesterday and cordially greeted the Prince of Wales, with whom he conversed for a considerable time while the prince was waiting to continue his journey homeward.

BULLET IN HIS HEAD.

Railroad Laborer Instantly Killed By Shot Fired by Man Practicing With Firearms.

Lawrence, Mass., April 20.—Three Lawrence men who were practicing with firearms accidentally shot and killed John Moynihan, a Boston and Maine section hand, in North Andover Thursday afternoon. The three men are held responsible for the man's death. They are Fred Gay, Arthur D. Morehouse and Gustave S. Trott. They gave themselves up and were subsequently released on bail, Judge Stone fixing sureties at $2000 in each case.

The three men went down the river bank to do some shooting. Trott carried a 32-calibre Winchester rifle, and the others had revolvers. They threw a number of tin cans into the river, and when the cans had floated down about 100 feet they all opened fire. Trott, who carried the rifle, discharged the weapon a second time. Almost simultaneously they saw a gang of railroad men on the tracks across the river fleeing to cover. The young men became alarmed, and their worst fears were realized when they saw one of the men being taken away on the shoulders of his comrades. They hastened to the gas works, and telephoned to North Andover depot, where they learned the result of the accident.

Moynihan, the victim of the accident, was in the middle of a group of 25 workmen, engaged in repairing the roadbed. Patrick Nash, who was nearest Moynihan, was grazed by the ball, which passed through his cap. Moynihan was struck in the head, and died instantly.

The victim was 37 years old, and leaves four children.

The Population of Cuba.

Washington, April 20.—General Sanger has made public the results of the Cuban census taken under his direction. The figures, in the opinion of the war department officials, justify the decision of the administration to allow municipal suffrage in Cuba at this early stage. The total population of Cuba is 1,572,797. The negroes constitute only 32 percent of the population. The native whites constitute 58 percent of the population. Of the total population 443,426 can read and write. There will be at least 140,000 qualified native voters under the proposed basis of suffrage.

Village Population Decimated.

Bristol, Conn., April 20.—The mysterious epidemic which has been prevailing in Forestville for several days is assuming alarming proportions and grave fears are entertained that the village will have to be quarantined. Five new cases developed Thursday, making 27 in all. Three deaths occurred Thursday and 10 cases are considered most critical. The medical authorities are in a quandary and seem to be unable to stop the spread of the strange disease.

Vanished With Employer's Property.

Stoughton, Mass., April 20.—The police of this town have notified the surrounding cities and towns to be on the lookout for Benjamin W. Myers and wife, who, they claim, have left town with a team and about $1000 worth of other property belonging to E. W. Carpenter. Mr. Carpenter lives about one mile from this village, and for several months Myers and his wife have been in his employ about the premises.

Short In His Accounts.

Toronto, April 20.—George M. Wilson, paying teller in the Merchants' bank, reported that $10,000 had been stolen from his compartment. Wilson's books were examined last night, and he was found to be $2000 short. He then confessed that he had been stealing since last November. He is believed to have handed the $10,000 to a confederate.

Peace Delegates at the Hague.

The Hague, April 20.—The Boer peace commissioners, headed by Dr. Leyds, had an audience of Queen Wilhelmina yesterday, lasting a quarter of an hour. The delegates, apparently, were much gratified by the affability of her majesty. Subsequently, they were received in private audience by the queen's mother.

Strikes In Three Spanish Cities.

Madrid, April 20.—The tramway employes in Barcelona, Bilbao and Valencia have gone on strike. The local authorities are taking precautions for the maintenance of order.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Asserting that he owes $845,000 and has not a dollar in the world, James R. Willard, a broker, filed a petition in bankruptcy at Chicago. The liabilities were incurred by a firm which did business under Willard's name by his permission.

Professor Theodore Lipps of the University of Munich, who recently publicly expressed a doubt as to the fairness and impeccability of the German judiciary, has now repeated this statement in a more vigorous form and will be disciplined.

Captain Stephen O'Connor, Twenty-third infantry, has been placed on the retired list of the army on his own application, after 30 years' service.

The will of the late United States Senator Philetus Sawyer was filed for probate at Oshkosh, Ind. The estate is estimated to be worth over $3,000,000, and all goes to the family with the exception of $10,000 left to the Ladies' Benevolent society of Oshkosh.

Frederic B. Whitney, for years the business manager of the Boston Transcript, died of the grip. Mr. Whitney was about 50 years of age, and since he was 13 he had worked in The Transcript office.

The navy department has secured a 5000-ton steamer to carry the wheat and other food supplies collected by charitable organizations in New York to the plague and famine sufferers in India.

Dr. Emil Hannover, the Danish art historian, charges Professor Richard Mueher of the University of Breslau with gross plagiarism in his latest book, "The History of Painting." The charges have caused considerable excitement among Berlin scientists.

Enthusiasm in the cause of temperance was general at the banquet of the Massachusetts Prohibition state committee at Boston. Fully 200 persons listened to the post-prandial speeches, vociferously applauding as the utterances of the speakers met their approbation.

A Peculiar Accident.

Lynn, Mass., April 20.—Mrs. Margaret Cotter, 70 years old, and her daughter, Elizabeth, a school teacher, went to the beach Thursday for an outing. They were walking on the top of the breakwater, when the high wind blew the old lady toward the edge. To save herself she caught hold of her daughter, and both were thrown from the terrace. Mrs. Cotter's leg was broken, but it is thought she will fully recover. Miss Cotter's jaw was fractured, and she sustained severe injuries to her back, from which she may never fully recover.

DOGS MUST BE LICENSED On or Before APRIL 30,

Or the Owners or Keepers thereof

LIABLE TO A FINE!

Extracts from the Laws of this Commonwealth.

Every owner or keeper of a dog of three months old or over shall annually on or before the THIRTIETH DAY OF APRIL, cause it to be Registered, Numbered, Described and Licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city or town wherein said dog is kept, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

An owner of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of the ensuing May; and a person becoming the owner or keeper of a dog after the first day of May, not duly licensed, shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided in the preceding section.

The fee for every license shall be two dollars for a MALE and five dollars for a FEMALE dog.

Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit FIFTEEN DOLLARS, five dollars of which shall be paid to the complainant and ten dollars to the treasurer of the county in which the dog is kept.

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number of dogs so kept exceeds five, the fee shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper, under the age of six months.

Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed, which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day in April in any year, shall, whenever it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May, as provided in Sec. 80 of Chap. 102 of the Public Statutes, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

Worth Reading..

To the Editor:

I think it my duty to inform your readers of a remedy that should be in every household.

I was a martyr to Dyspepsia and Constipation and tried everything in vain. In despair I bought a ten cent package of the U. S. Army & Navy Tablets, 17 East 14th St., New York, and in three days I felt better and afterwards I bought a twenty-five cent package and now I am completely cured. MOVE AROUND FREELY.

Boers Investing Wepener on the Look-out For British Relief Columns.

Latter Greatly Handicapped by Rainy Weather.

Reason For Publication of Roberts' Spion Kop Dispatches Is Explained.

London, April 21.—A dispatch from Maseru, Basutoland, dated April 20, says: The Boers continue to move freely around Wepener, going in all directions from which relief columns are expected. Desultory cannon fire and sniping have been going on all day, with scarcely any reply from Colonel Dalgety's force.

The Caledon river rose considerably during the night. This made the Boers uneasy, as they fear separation. Some reinforcements have arrived for them, coming apparently from Thaba N'Chu, or that direction.

Our casualties up to date are believed to have been 25 killed and 110 wounded.

Owing to the heavy rain and clouds, heliographing has been impossible for the last two days.

The Boers who lately surrendered in the Wepener district have been forced again with violence to fight. Ten of their leaders have been arrested.

President Steyn has issued orders to the Boer forces to hold tight to the grain districts of Wepener, Ladybrand and Ficksburg, from which they draw their supplies, and also to prevent the British forces from getting the rich supplies now in those districts.

General Chermside and General Rundle are moving over the sodden roads. Rain was still falling when they went into camp Thursday afternoon, 18 miles west of De Wets Dorp. They hold the railway and the southern frontier of the Free State with 20,000 men.

How many are going with the generals who will engage the Boers at Wepener is not mentioned in the latest dispatch from Corlogspoort, where the British bivouacked Wednesday night. The field telegraph ends there.

The Boers still have Colonel Dalgoty closely penned.

The government's reason for publishing Lord Roberts' Spion kop dispatches was explained last evening at Hull by Walter H. Long, president of the board of agriculture, who said that the country was entitled to receive all the information the government could give.

"The government is told," continued Mr. Long, "that having published the dispatches, it is bound to deal immediately with the generals affected; but, in following such a course, the government might have to dismiss every general the moment he made a mistake. Had such a policy been pursued in the past many most glorious deeds would not have been performed.

"The government used its discretion in publishing the dispatches. From the beginning of the campaign her majesty's ministers have not swerved from the rule of leaving the conduct of the operations to the discretion and judgment of the commander-in-chief."

General White, if not required in South Africa, will go as governor of Gibraltar toward the end of May.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Times says: Major General Pretyman has been appointed military governor of the whole territory which hitherto belonged to the Free State. This extension of our authority has become necessary to preserve law and order.

The Ladysmith correspondent of The Daily News says: The Boers in Natal are already commencing a guerilla warfare. Both the Transvaalers and the Free Staters are compelling the natives to bear arms. General Buller has ordered all the farmers between Ladysmith and the Drakensberg range to retire to Estcourt.

The Carpet Weavers' Strike.

Lowell, Mass., April 21.—The strike situation at the Bigelow Carpet company remains the same. Only 17 looms are running. Mrs. Derrick, who is the center of the trouble, denies that she has taken off her loom more cloth than any other weaver. Some of the strikers said to Superintendent Lyon that they would return to work if Mrs. Derrick was discharged, and would agree to reinstate her in the union, after which the company could hire her again.

Authoress Rives Very Sick.

Richmond, April 21.—The Princess Troubetskoy, who was before her marriage Amelie Rives, the authoress, is very ill at her father's residence, Castle Hill. Before she became a princess Amelie Rives was Mrs. John Astor Chanler. She obtained a divorce. Her first husband is now in a sanitarium. The princess made her fame in the literary world by her book, "The Quick or the Dead."

Possible Strike at Boston.

Boston, April 21.—Painters' union, No. 11, has notified the master painters that on and after next Monday the wages of union painters shall be $2.75 for a day of eight hours. The minimum rate heretofore has been $2.50 a day. Whether a strike will be ordered on Monday is not decided, but the painters are prepared to strike.

Who is it will not dare himself to trust?
Who is it has not strength to stand alone?
Who is it thwarts and bilks the inward Must?
He and his works, like sand, from earth are blown.
— James Russell Lowell.

Christ church, Quincy, was presented last Sunday with a beautiful silver chalice, the gift of Solomon Fuller, of Middle street, Braintree. The chalice was made in New York and is of sterling silver, the bowl being gilt-lined. On the base are the emblems of the four evangelists, the cross and the stork protecting her brood. Circling the bowl is the following inscription: "Solomon Fuller to Christ church, Quincy, Mass., in living remembrance of his wife, Almira Cushing, Easter, 1900. Drink ye all of this." The chalice was accepted by the vestry and a vote of thanks extended.

The funeral of George J. Richards was held Friday from his late residence on Commercial street, Weymouth, and was very largely attended many being present from Quincy. The services were conducted by Rev. William Hyde, Jr., of the Trinity church, assisted by Rev. Henry S. Snyder of the Unity church. Music was by the Addison quartette. There were many floral tributes. The interment was at Weymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. McGregor entertained a number of their friends at a game of whist last evening, at their residence on 31 Jackson street. Mr. John G. McGregor received the first gentlemen's prize, and Miss Mamie Kennedy was successful in winning the first ladies. The bcobies were captured by Mr. A. McGregor, Jr., and Mrs. W. Harlie Smith. After the game was over there was vocal and instrumental music which was followed by refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake and fruit. In all there was a most enjoyable evening spent.

Rev. Mr. Butler will occupy his pulpit on Sunday, instead of Rev. Mr Noyes.

Will Be a Notable Occasion.

Boston, April 21.—It is definitely announced that at the banquet of the Manufacturers' association, next Thursday, the speakers will include Secretaries Gage, Long, Root and Wilson of President McKinley's cabinet, and probably Secretary Hay, Governor Roosevelt and Lieutenant Governor Woodruff of New York. The Chinese minister, Wu Ting Fang, will speak at the banquet.

Troops May Soon Withdraw.

Croton Dam, N. Y., April 21.—In all 320 men went to work yesterday. This is about half the number at work before the strike. The places of the strikers not filled on Monday will be filled on Tuesday by men from New York. General Roe says that from the present indications the troops will not have to stay here much longer.

Barns and Live Stock Burned.

Lyme, N. H., April 21.—A lantern overturned in one of the barns of Carlos Hobbs and set fire to the building, which, together with two other large barns adjoining, were completely destroyed. All the live stock of the farm was burned to death. The farming implements in the barns were destroyed. The loss is heavy.

Too Friendly Toward British.

Berlin, April 21.—The German foreign office and a number of German papers have received detailed complaints from Germans in Cape Town respecting the alleged subserviency to English prejudices displayed by the German consul there, Dr. Eocke.

THE REVIVAL OF EDUCATION.

The Quincy Movement of 1875 Endorsed by Educational Experts.

The Enthusiasm, Self Reliance and Courage of Col. Parker Praised.

By Messrs. Butler, Harris, Hall, Bright, Metcalf and Other Speakers.

The gathering at the First church last evening to observe the twenty-fifth anniversary of the "revival of education" in Quincy was a notable one. The attendance perhaps was not as large as expected, yet when it is considered that the edifice seats over one thousand people and that the main body of the church and the galleries were nearly filled, it will be seen that there was a large audience. This number contained many educators of note from all over the country, as well as nearly all of the teachers employed in the Quincy schools and surrounding towns. Long before the doors opened at 7.15 a large number assembled.

Mr. C. F. Harper of the Quincy High was head usher and he was assisted by the other principals Charles E. Finch, Jr., Albert Candlin, Thomas B. Pollard, Charles Sampson, Chester H. Wilbar, Austin W. Greene and James M. Nowland; sub. masters Walter E. Severance, Charles P. Slade and Arthur F. Campbell, also John O. Hall, Jr., of Adams academy.

Mr. Frank C. Gilbert presided at the organ and played while the people were arriving.

Robert S. Atkins, chairman of the Quincy Teachers' Association opened the exercises, and after giving one or two announcements and recounting how it happened that the advent of Col. Parker's coming was being celebrated, introduced Hon. Charles H. Porter, Chairman of the School Committee, as presiding officer.

President Porter said it was always a great pleasure to welcome Col. Parker to Quincy. His fame is world wide. He then said a good word for the School Committee of twenty-five years ago, for their sturdy, honest and straight forward support of Col. Parker's work.

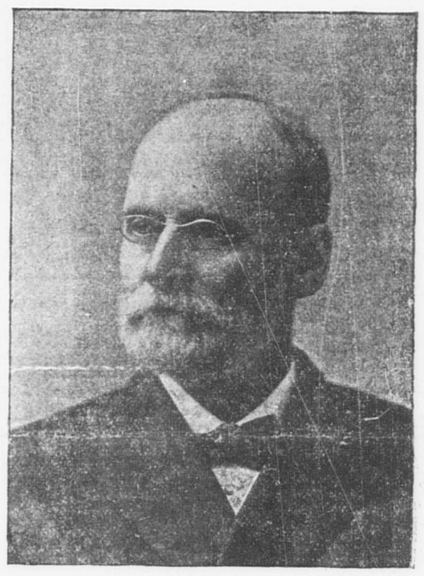

MAYOR HALL.

His Honor John O. Hall, Mayor of Quincy was introduced, and said in part:

It is my great privilege to bid you welcome to our city and to express to you the great pleasure it is to us to bid you greeting again after the lapse of so many years.

We regret that in former times our work here was not large enough

THE PARKER ANNIVERSARY.

WHAT HAS HE DONE?

I. Freeman Hall, a Former Quincy Principal Answers,

Editors of the Quincy Patriot:

The question I propose to answer is not what have been Col. Parker's contributions to the science of education but what has he done for the cause? His most striking contribution to the cause of education it seems to me has been—

(1) A Manly Enthusiasm which was needed very much in Massachusetts about the time that Colonel Parker came to Quincy. There was in many minds a desire for progress but its expression was cold and formal. That ardent, passionate earnestness and fervor of the imagination which we generally associate with the word enthusiasm was not present in any high degree among teachers or educators. Indeed these qualities were not only uncommon but unfashionable—almost under the ban in educational circles—and so when Col. Parker leaped into the arena at a teachers' institute or visited the schools to examine or commend he almost frightened us by his eager, animated, importunate manner. But this was simply the expression of a positive, intense, vigorous nature; he was full of enthusiasm and it did us good to have such a man among us. His enthusiasm was contagious and we were stimulated, inspired and uplifted by it.

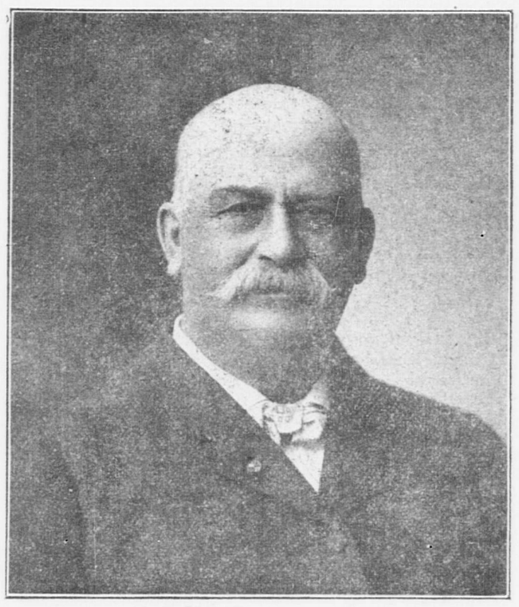

Colonel Parker has always been remarkable for—

(2) His Childlikeness and it appaers to me that this is his second contribution to the cause of education. He has always been "a big boy" (I use these words in their strongest and best sense) and this has been the secret of his power as a teacher. We have been gradually learning from him that the best teacher is not always the one who has the most logical or scholarly mind but the one who is most in touch with children; who can not only come to children but become one of them. It will take us a long time to measure adequately how much has been contributed to the cause of education by the boy in the man whom we call Col. Parker.

(3) His Audacity was a startling contribution at the outset but it has been doing its work. There were many people prominent in educational affairs in Massachusetts in 1875 who needed to be disturbed by Col. Parker's exaggerations and over-statements. No man less audacious than he would have said "burn all the spelling books." But was such advice entirely out of place when we needed to begin to teach this subject from an entirely new standpoint? The more I study the educational situation as I knew it in 1875 and as I view it now, the more thoroughly am I convinced that the remedy proposed fitted the disease and might have effected a more permanent cure if it had been taken occasionally in larger doses. There are times, when in the evolution of education as in the struggle of life, audacity is not only commendable but necessary. I am glad that audacity was one of Col. Parker's prominent personal characteristics for by it he contributed in no small degree to the improvements which have taken place in methods and text books during the last twenty five years. Colonel Parker's audacity was exceeded only by—much this contributed to the success of the Quincy Movement no man can imagine who was not in it. Persistency is still one of the Colonel's traits, and increases in spite of the fact that many other educators have caught a great deal of it from him. In him and his disciples it continues to be a valuable contribution to the cause of education.

(4) His Dogged Persistency. How

(5) Col. Parker's peculiar epigrammatic style of speaking and writing has contributed much to educational progress. It is difficult for us sometimes to understand exactly what he means, for his style is confused and confusing if not abstruse, yet whatever he says sets us to thinking. Frequently it irritates and annoys, but this only makes the thoughts stick, and stirs to action. The following experience illustrates what I mean. Several years ago I employed a teacher who used to spend her Saturdays at home in a town where all the teachers pretended to be bitterly opposed to the Quincy Movement and especially to its leader. This teacher told me that nearly every Saturday one or more of the teachers in the town where she resided would call upon her and question her carefully concerning her methods. They would object to them all and scoff at some unmercifully, yet she soon learned that they were practicing all these methods vigorously in the schools where they taught. They had been exasperated by some of Col. Parker's statements, disturbed by some of his doctrines, and provoked to anger by his criticisms but they had been roused to action and could no longer be at ease while plodding along in the old-fashioned way.

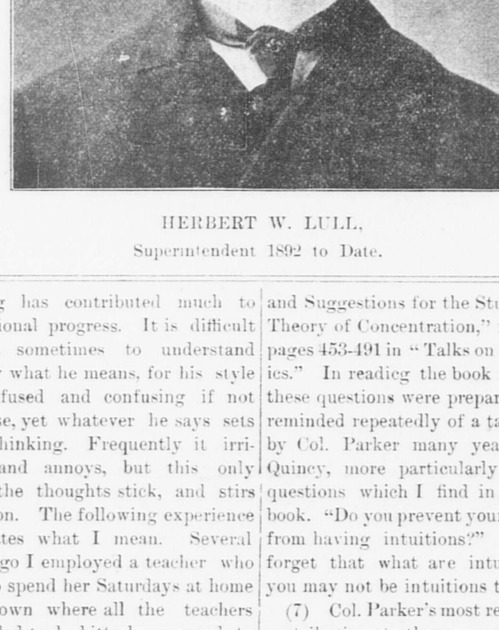

HERBERT W. LULL,
Superintendent 1892 to Date.

contributed in no slight degree to higher educational aims. One of our most prominent educators, who knows the man well, said not long ago "Col. Parker's courses of reasoning are hard to follow; sometimes they are undiscoverable. He jumps at conclusions but he is generally right. His intuitions carry him safely across every yawning chasm." This criticism (or appreciation) is strikingly illustrated in "Questions and Suggestions for the Study of the Theory of Concentration," found on pages 453-491 in "Talks on Pedagogics." In readieg the book for which these questions were prepared I was reminded repeatedly of a talk given by Col. Parker many years ago in Quincy, more particularly of two questions which I find in my note book. "Do you prevent your children from having intuitions?" Do you forget that what are intuitions to you may not be intuitions to them?"

(7) Col. Parker's most remarkable contributions to the cause of education have come, it seems to me, from that peculiar power which he has of making others seek after and find the fundamental underlying principles of every method of instruction employed by them. An intimate friend of Lincoln's, when he was told that Lincoln was a radical replied "he is more than radical for he not only goes to the root of the matter, he digs up the root and analyzes it." In my opinion Col. Parker not has been so successful in digging up the root for purposes of analysis as he has in making others dig and analyze. This is a wonderful power— the ability to get others to do what you are unable to do yourself or, to put it pedagogi-

Headache may be called a woman's ailment. Some men suffer from it. But almost all women have to endure its pain with each recurring month. This fact points at once to the intimate relation between the health of the delicate womanly organs, and the general health of the whole body. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription banishes headache by banishing its cause. It cures the diseases which irritate the delicate womanly organs, fret the nerves and waste the strength. It increases the vitality and builds up the nervous system. "Favorite Prescription" contains no opium, cocaine or other narcotic.

"I want to praise your medicine," writes Mrs. Sarah J. Burney, of Cresent City, Putnam Co., Fla. "I have been sick for twenty years, and have been almost in bed five years, and now I am able to work all day. I have taken eight bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and four of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one vial of 'Pellets.' I praise your medicine to all. I had the headache but it is gone. My throat is well and cough gone, and all my old troubles are better. I tried many other kinds of medicine and four doctors."

PROF. BUTLER.

Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University, N. Y., was then introduced as one who would speak of Col. Parker from a pedagogical point of view.

Prof. Butler said this was educational ground and among others, here Col. Parker first came to fame. False ideas have often made education an process. There was a tendancy of teaching to become routine. From this there was only one possible escape: a tonic for new knowledge. His work is human; a constant inspiration. It is the surest clue to his life and influence. He has seen and felt that education can not be bolstered up by false supports. It must spring pure from the hearts of the people. He has labored to reach the people, to bring them to a realization of what education means. He has appealed to teachers in the same spirit. Not in the name of any thing but in the name of childhood. He began his work at Dayton and the town of Quincy reaped the benefit of the revelations. The change in children was startling; they went to school without being dragged; they were happier there than at home. The simple comprehensive processes of nature was applied. It was these principles that have saved him from worshipping principles.

Of Washington, D. C., spoke on "A National Review of Col. Parker's Work."

He said it was not often a hero in education hears his praises sung. He looked upon his work as a reform rather than a revolution. A method of authority had prevailed; such a method is stultifying. The true method is of enlightenment. He then spoke of the old authorative dead method and contrasted it with the more enlightened Parker movement. The Quincy system has proclaimed that schools shall be a temple of freedom. What is preferred and technical can never be taught orally. To change people from ear-mindness to eye-mindness has been the great aim of American schools. Educational reform is needed, nowhere as much as where the printed page is so much in use. All of Col. Parker's energy is to prevent spiritual death in teaching. To this is due the fact that excellent teachers have graduated from his training schools. The best thing that can be said of the Quincy system is that it tends to create a healthy individualism among our schools.

DR. G. STANLEY HALL

Of Clark University spoke of "the soul and spirit of the Quincy movement."

There is no value of anything higher than its educational value. The Quincy method deserves to be compared with the great political movement that originated with Adam. There are teachers who have a self-satisfaction that they have it all, others that want everything. Col. Parker never knows what the right method is, but is always progressive. If he had come here with a complete system, he did not believe the success of the movement would have been as great as it has been. It was exceedingly stimulating for people to be criticised. Col. Parker did not believe in things that most people did. He was glad to come here and pay his tribute, because he was one of the first to say we must have a physiology of education. In closing, he said a spirit like yours, Col. Parker, will never grow old, your best work is yet to be done.

ROBERT C. METCALF,
Boston, Mass.

ORVILLE T. BRIGHT,

Of Cook County, Ill., gave "A tribute from Chicago and the west." He gave an interesting review of the work of the Cook County Normal school and its early struggles. Col. Parker was appointed in 1883 and he accepted the responsibility. He then told of the conditions of the school at that time and of the hostile press, and the many difficulties he encountered. The struggle to keep Col. Parker was decisive, depending on one vote and we always got that vote. In 1896 the school and entire faculty was adopted by the city

MY LADY'S GOWN.

My lady's gown is gray and soft,
So like her eyes
That from its silken folds there comes
A hint of paradise.
I hold it close against my heart—
My lady's gown.

The while she hummed a little song
I saw her lay
This bit of lace around her throat;
Dear eyes of gray
So serious in fashioning
My lady's gown.

My lady's gown is folded now;
The knot of blue
Upon her breast is passing sweet
With lavender and rue;
It brings me dreams of bygone days—
My lady's gown.

Today I see the little gown
With brimming eyes,
For out beneath the grass grown hill
My lady lies,
And with despairing sobs I kiss
My lady's gown.

THE SECOND ACT.

The Delusion of a Student of Egyptian Antiquities.

BY OWEN OLIVER.

"Dr. Strange has told you of my delusion," he said, with an unmirthful smile. "Let us start from the delusion. I cannot very well tell my story in any other way."

He pushed his papers aside, leaned back in the cozy reading chair and folded his hands. This is the story:

Four thousand years ago, when men worshiped God under the name of Osiris and Isis, I was Amenemhat IV, king in Kem, which you call Egypt. My conquests and learning are graven upon the great tablets, but the scribes left unsaid what should be unsaid. Therefore you will seek in vain for mention of Numidea, the slave.

Felix, the trader, brought her from over the Mediterranean. When she stood before me, with flushed cheeks and with tears in her pale blue eyes, "Kill me, if thou wilt, O king," she said tauntingly, "for in truth I love thee not at all!" A whole month I wooed her, disdaining force, and she said no more. Then she cast her eyes upon Kales, the captain of the guard, and cared less than ever for me.

"Take her to the deathsmen," I commanded. "In the morning she shall die." Lest I should break a king's word I rode to the great temple far away. But I could not sleep for the thought of her great blue eyes, wide with fear. So I rose and bade them harness the swiftest horses to the lightest chariot, and Charmicles drove for me, whose hand was lightest upon the reins. All the night we sped in the moonlight, with the sand flying in long clouds behind us and the great pyramid scowling upon us from afar.

"If thou lovedst a slave, Charmicles," I asked, "and she loved not thee?"

"If I loved her a little," he said, "haply she would perish, O lord."

"And if thou lovedst her much?" He looked at the moon fleeting through the clouds for a long time, and his face grew sad.

"If I loved her enough, O King, perchance I should set her free."

I covered my head in my robe and said nothing. Was I not racing the flying hours to open her prison doors?

Ra, the sun god, sprang up and laughed upon the land, and Charmicles wiped the sweat from his brow and ceased to strike the horses as they panted and struggled to the base of the great pyramid, where the prison was.

And, behold, they had tortured her, and she had died in the night!

So I went back to the temple and dwelt alone. Presently I made a spell, from my arts, that I might be reborn when she was reborn, and another spell that I died and none knew why. So I fell asleep and slept 4,000 years. * * *

When I was newborn a child, I knew none of these things, but one by one they came back to me.

One evening my father held me upon his knee and showed me a quaint picture book, and I trembled with vague remembrance.

"This is how people drew in Egypt thousands of yesterdays ago," he said. "The lines are all straight, because they were cut upon stone. See, these are archers, and these are horses, and this looks like a big bull."

I touched the figure of Apis reverently with my hand.

"This," I said, "is a god."

After leaving school I devoted myself to Egyptian antiquities. They seemed to present no difficulty to me, and I soon made a great name.

Then I met Nerissa, and for awhile I studied no more. There was no one, nothing else in all the world that mattered the least to me. I became her accepted lover, and for a few months I lived in paradise.

After this I had a strong fever. In the dreams and delirium the past came back to me, and when I was well again I remembered. I was Amenemhat and she was Numidea, the blue eyed slave. As I had ordered by the spell, I was reborn to live with her again. Kales, her lover, had known no spells, I told myself. So he was in the future or the past, perhaps by 1,000 years, as the gods had ordered, and she was not for him, but for me. The thought of her wrong in the past made me wondrously tender of her, and she was always gentle. Yet I tortured myself that she did not love me as I loved her. "When we are married, it will come," I told myself. "It shall come."

One day in the spring we were sitting together. Rupert had come home on a furlough from his regiment in India and came first to see me. They looked at one another for a long time. There was remembrance in their eyes. Fool that I had been to think myself wiser than the gods! He was Kales.

After that they seemed always meeting. The light leaped into their faces when they saw each other. They looked wistfully backward when they parted. I entreated Nerissa to hasten our wedding day, but she tearfully refused.

"Suppose," she said, "that we had made a mistake after all. Sometimes I think"— She paused here, and when I questioned her she was silent.

One evening I went slowly into her boudoir and heard them talking passionately. I lingered behind a great screen. It was an unworthy thing to do, but I would have done worse, far worse, for love of her.

"You love me!" he said triumphantly. "You love me! You are mine by right, Nerissa, my dear."

"Hush!" she sobbed. "Hush! I am his—your friend's! I promised!"

"You do not love him! You cannot love him!"

"Oh, I have tried!" she cried. Then he took her in his arms and comforted her—he who had been my friend.

I went stealthily away. But when her lover was gone I returned, intending to bury my dagger in her heart.

Then the words of Charmicles, the charioteer, came back to me—"If I loved her enough, O king, perchance I should set her free."

I snapped the dagger before her and threw the pieces away.

"I—I came to kill you!" I said. Then I fled into the street. People leaped aside from my path as I sped along to my old friend, Dr. Strange.

"Put me away," I demanded, "or some day I shall kill her! I am mad!" So they put me away.

That is ten years ago. I have staid here since, except twice, when they have taken me to Egypt for some researches. I am seeking for the spell. Soon I shall find it. Then I shall sleep—to wake again. This time she loved me a little. There will be a third act, and—who knows?

He dropped his head in his hands and was silent. I left him thus.

"A sad case," said the doctor; "a very sad case—homicidal mania, complicated with the delusion that he is an ancient king. It is a thousand pities. He is the authority of the century on Egyptian antiquities, you know, and on most points as sane as you or I."

I said nothing. I was thinking of his dark, wise face and the things he had said. A month later he sent me a note to announce that he had recovered the spell. The next day I heard that he was mysteriously dead. The second act was closed, and the curtain would not ring up for another 4,000 years.—Madame.

This Rooster Wore a Scarfpin.

The crack chicken story comes from the kitchen of the Golden Eagle hotel at Reading. It concerns an energetic young rooster that crowed and grew fat while carrying in its gizzard a stickpin nearly two inches in length, the sharp point of which had worked through the muscular second stomach of the fowl and protruded a quarter of an inch on the outside.

Josiah Barnes, the second cook at the Golden Eagle, was engaged in cleaning a lot of fowls preparatory to cooking them for the Sunday dinner. While handling a particularly fine, fat, young rooster something pricked his hand. He made an investigation and found a sharp pointed instrument protruding through the gizzard. He cut open the organ and was surprised to find a stickpin therein. The pin was mounted with a diamond shaped piece of pearl on which was a gold letter "W."

The young rooster had probably observed the piece of pearl and, believing it to be an extra fine pebble with which to digest its food, had made the mistake of swallowing it.—Reading Searchlight.

Mistook Her Object.

The average drug clerk is proof against sudden excitement. But in one of the prominent down town drug stores one day a clerk had a sudden and serious fright that set him ahead about ten years.

A young woman, decidedly pretty and charmingly gowned, rushed into the store breathless and in a great state of agitation. She called for a bottle of chloroform and wanted it quick.

The young man behind the counter turned pale and declared with great firmness, "You can't have it."

"But I must," declared the young woman, "or my dress will be spoiled."

"Your dress?"

"Yes, my dress! While crossing the street just now a lot of mud was splashed on to my dress by some passing horses."

"Ah!" exclaimed the drug clerk, with a smile of relief. "That's different. I thought that—er—possibly you were tired of living, don't you know."—Chicago News.

Consolatory.

One day Bunsen sat with another shining light of Heidelberg university, who, like him, had had the highest honors bestowed upon him that could be gained in a scientific career. Bunsen was cool and taciturn, while his colleague never ceased to chatter of his financial losses suffered through the great fall in Turkish bonds. Bunsen remained silent while the other went on to console himself in this wise:

"I can get a certain amount of consolation for my bad investments out of the fact that the great Helmholtz himself invested pretty heavily in Turkish bonds and has lost a lot of money too."

Then, at last, Bunsen broke the silence with the laconic words, "I didn't think Helmholtz was so big a fool."—San Francisco Argonaut.

HE ADVISES PAYMENT

Turkish Minister Urges Sultan to Ke
His Promise to Minister Straus.

His Action May Delay Send ing Formal Ultimatum.

War Might Affect Advantages of Peculi Importance to Missionaries.

Washington, April 21.—The Turkis minister, Ali Ferrouh Bey, called upo Acting Secretary Hill at the state de partment, and learned, it is stated, tha our government was in earnest respect ing the collection of the $90,000 indem nity promised Minister Straus by th sultan. It is stated that he has cable his government that it is advisable t pay the indemnity, if practicable. Upon this understanding the state departmen will delay in sending a formal ultimatum to the Turkish government, in the hope that Turkey will pay up, and thus render it unnecessary.

Both the state department and the war department deny the report that our government agreed with the Sultan of Turkey, that, in consideration of his good offices, exerted to secure the amicable acceptance of our sovereignty by the Sultan of Sulu, he would not be pressed for the payment of the missionary indemnity. The fact that no such understanding existed is shown by Minister Straus' statement that he pressed the claim upon the sultan continuously, and that the sultan three times promised to pay it, the third time shortly before Mr. Straus left Constantinople.

The intimations in the foreign press that there will be no European interference with the United States in any measure we may take to collect the indemnity are very encouraging to the state department, and will, it is thought, have an equally great effect upon Turkey, which will hasten the settlement.

The announcement that friction has arisen with the Turkish government on account of the unpaid claims for the destruction of the American missionary buildings at Harpoot and Marash during the Armenian massacres of 1895 is not a surprise to those familiar with the motives which led Minister Straus to return to this country. Mr. Straus has been reticent about his mission, but the state department, after hearing his explanation of the situation, felt that the time had come for action.

Mr. Straus won an important diplomatic triumph soon after reaching Constantinople in obtaining an admission from the Turkish government that they were liable for the injury to American property in Armenia. Their previous position was a denial of all liability. It only remained to obtain the payment of the money after the liability was acknowledged. This is the most difficult feature of a claim against such a government as that of Turkey.

It is significant of the ramifications of American interests under present conditions that actual trouble with Turkey might cause uneasiness in the Sulu islands. Minister Straus rendered a clever service to the government when the question first arose of dealing with the Sultan of Sulu. The Sultan of Turkey is the head of the Mohammedan church. It was in this capacity that he was approached by Minister Straus and led him to use his good offices in the Sulu islands. The result was an arrangement with the sultan which has kept those islands peaceful and obedient while insurrection and bloodshed have reigned in the northern islands, where the Mohammedan church is not paramount.

It is not probable that the United States will go to war with Turkey in any serious manner, but if it should happen strong garrisons might be required in the Sulu islands, owing to the sympathy which the natives would feel for the parent church at Constantinople. The sultan might also renounce certain treaties between the United States and the Ottoman empire. One of these, concluded shortly after Commodore Decatur punished the Tripoli pirates, guarantees that any American accused of a crime or misdemeanor within the Turkish empire shall be tried only by a United States consular court and be punished only according to American laws. This is a privilege not granted to the subjects of any other power, and its advantages are of peculiar importance to the missionaries of Turkey.

After that they seemed always meeting. The light leaped into their faces when they saw each other. They looked wistfully backward when they parted. I entreated Nerissa to hasten our wedding day, but she tearfully refused.

"Suppose," she said, "that we had made a mistake after all. Sometimes I think"— She paused here, and when I questioned her she was silent.

"You do not love him! You cannot love him!"

"Oh, I have tried!" she cried. Then he took her in his arms and comforted her—he who had been my friend.

I went stealthily away. But when her lover was gone I returned, intending to bury my dagger in her heart. Then the words of Charmicles, the charioteer, came back to me—"If I love her enough, O king, perchance I would set her free."

I snapped the dagger before her and threw the pieces away.

"I—I came to kill you!" I said. Then I fled into the street. People leaped aside from my path as I sped along to my old friend, Dr. Strange.

"Put me away," I demanded, "or some day I shall kill her! I am mad!" "Yes, they put me away.

That is ten years ago. I have staid there since, except twice, when they have taken me to Egypt for some researches. I am seeking for the spell. And I shall find it. Then I shall sleep and wake again. This time she loved me a little. There will be a third act, Ah!—who knows?

He dropped his head in his hands and was silent. I left him thus.

"A sad case," said the doctor; "a very sad case—homicidal mania, complicated with the delusion that he is an ancient king. It is a thousand pities. He is an authority of the century on Egyptian antiquities, you know, and on most points as sane as you or I."

I said nothing. I was thinking of his strong, wise face and the things he had told me.

A month later he sent me a note announce that he had recovered the

The next day I heard that he mysteriously dead. The second was closed, and the curtain would rise again up for another 4,000 years.—

This Rooster Wore a Scarfpin.

The crack chicken story comes from the kitchen of the Golden Eagle hotel Reading. It concerns an energetic young rooster that crowed and grew fat and, carrying in its gizzard a stickpin nearly two inches in length, the sharp end of which had worked through the muscular second stomach of the fowl and protruded a quarter of an inch on the outside.

Josiah Barnes, the second cook at the Golden Eagle, was engaged in cleaning a brace of fowls preparatory to cooking them for the Sunday dinner. While handling a particularly fine, fat, young bird something pricked his hand. He made an investigation and found a small pointed instrument protruding through the gizzard. He cut open the bird and was surprised to find a stickpin therein. The pin was mounted with a diamond shaped piece of pearl on which was a gold letter "W."

The young rooster had probably obtained the piece of pearl and, believing it to be an extra fine pebble with which to digest its food, had made the mistake of swallowing it.—Reading Search-

Mistook Her Object.

The average drug clerk is proof against sudden excitement. But in one of the prominent down town drug stores one day a clerk had a sudden and serious fright that set him ahead ten years.

A young woman, decidedly pretty and charmingly gowned, rushed into the store breathless and in a great state of agitation. She called for a bottle of chloroform and wanted it

The young man behind the counter grew pale and declared with great emphasis. "You can't have it."

"I must," declared the young woman, "or my dress will be spoiled."

"Your dress?"

"Yes, my dress! While crossing the street just now a lot of mud was splashed on to my dress by some passing vehicles."

"Oh," exclaimed the drug clerk, with a sigh of relief. "That's different. I thought that—er—possibly you were tired living, don't you know."—Chicago News.

Consolatory.

Baby Bunsen sat with another shining light of Heidelberg university, and while him, had had the highest honors bestowed upon him that could be won in a scientific career. Bunsen was old and taciturn, while his colleagues never ceased to chatter of his financial losses suffered through the failure of all in Turkish bonds. Bunsen remained silent while the other went on to console himself in this wise:

"I only get a certain amount of consolation for my bad investments out of the fact that the great Helmholtz himself invested pretty heavily in Turkish bonds and has lost a lot of money too."

At last, Bunsen broke the silence with the laconic words, "I didn't think Helmholtz was so big a fool."—San Francisco Argonaut.

HE ADVISES PAYMENT.

Turkish Minister Urges Sultan to Keep His Promise to Minister Straus.

His Action May Delay Sending Formal Ultimatum.

War Might Affect Advantages of Peculiar Importance to Missionaries.

Washington, April 21.—The Turkish minister, Ali Ferrouh Bey, called upon Acting Secretary Hill at the state department, and learned, it is stated, that our government was in earnest respecting the collection of the $90,000 indemnity promised Minister Straus by the sultan. It is stated that he has cabled his government that it is advisable to pay the indemnity, if practicable. Upon this understanding the state department will delay in sending a formal ultimatum to the Turkish government, in the hope that Turkey will pay up, and thus render it unnecessary.

Both the state department and the war department deny the report that our government agreed with the Sultan of Turkey, that, in consideration of his good offices, exerted to secure the amicable acceptance of our sovereignty by the Sultan of Sulu, he would not be pressed for the payment of the missionary indemnity. The fact that no such understanding existed is shown by Minister Straus' statement that he pressed the claim upon the sultan continuously, and that the sultan three times promised to pay it, the third time shortly before Mr. Straus left Constantinople.

The intimations in the foreign press that there will be no European interference with the United States in any measure we may take to collect the indemnity are very encouraging to the state department, and will, it is thought, have an equally great effect upon Turkey, which will hasten the settlement.

The announcement that friction has arisen with the Turkish government on account of the unpaid claims for the destruction of the American missionary buildings at Harpoot and Marash during the Armenian massacres of 1895 is not a surprise to those familiar with the motives which led Minister Straus to return to this country. Mr. Straus has been reticent about his mission, but the state department, after hearing his explanation of the situation, felt that the time had come for action.

Mr. Straus won an important diplomatic triumph soon after reaching Constantinople in obtaining an admission from the Turkish government that they were liable for the injury to American property in Armenia. Their previous position was a denial of all liability. It only remained to obtain the payment of the money after the liability was acknowledged. This is the most difficult feature of a claim against such a government as that of Turkey.

It is significant of the ramifications of American interests under present conditions that actual trouble with Turkey might cause uneasiness in the Sulu islands. Minister Straus rendered a clever service to the government when the question first arose of dealing with the Sultan of Sulu. The Sultan of Turkey is the head of the Mohammedan church. It was in this capacity that he was approached by Minister Straus and led him to use his good offices in the Sulu islands. The result was an arrangement with the sultan which has kept those islands peaceful and obedient while insurrection and bloodshed have reigned in the northern islands, where the Mohammedan church is not paramount.

It is not probable that the United States will go to war with Turkey in any serious manner, but if it should happen strong garrisons might be required in the Sulu islands, owing to the sympathy which the natives would feel for the parent church at Constantinople. The sultan might also renounce certain treaties between the United States and the Ottoman empire. One of these, concluded shortly after Commodore Decatur punished the Tripoli pirates, guarantees that any American accused of a crime or misdemeanor within the Turkish empire shall be tried only by a United States consular court and be punished only according to American laws. This is a privilege not granted to the subjects of any other power, and its advantages are of peculiar importance to the missionaries of Turkey.

A BATTLE OF PITCHERS.

Nichols Did Good Work For Boston, but His Opponent Had Better Support.

Philadelphia, April 21.—The opening game of the season in this city was a pitchers' battle, and Nichols appeared to have the better of it, but his support was not equal to that of Fraser. Boston's defeat was the result of two consecutive errors by Lowe in the 11th inning. Attendance, 13,744.

"Embarrassing and Humiliating."

Nashville, April 21.—Tennessee will have two Republican tickets in the field in the coming state campaign. Likewise two sets of delegates will go to the national convention. The Republican state convention split here yesterday, the Evans contingent walking out and holding a separate convention. The situation is the outcome of a bitter factional fight. Mr. Evans last night sent the following message to General H. V. Boynton at Washington: "Situation most embarrassing and humiliating. No box stuffing and perjury ever equalled what we have here. Decency thoroughly disgusted."

Exposed by Doctors' Discovery.

New York, April 21.—In the guise of a wounded soldier invalided from the Philippines, Thomas A. Nelson, said to be a burglar, gained admittance to the Red Cross hospital, and for the last two weeks has been receiving treatment on account of wounds in his hip and abdomen. Nelson, the police assert, was shot while escaping from the home of Albert Taussig in this city on the morning of April 2. It occurred to the doctors yesterday for the first time that Nelson's wound was too fresh to have been received in the Philippines. They then called in the police. Taussig has identified the man.

Damage Amounts to Millions.

New Orleans, April 21.—The floods which commenced the early part of the week have already caused, at a conservative estimate, fully $3,000,000 damage in central and southern Mississippi, to say nothing of the damage sustained by the railroads. The extent of the losses has not yet been fully realized, and it may be some days yet before an accurate total can be reached, for mail communication has been totally cut off between those localities which have suffered most. In Louisiana, too, the damage done by the unprecedented rains was great.

Second Corps Going to Africa.

Chicago, April 21.—Irish-Americans in Chicago are continuing the formation and fitting out of ambulance corps for service in the British-Boer war. It is stated that a second corps of 50 men will probably be equipped and started for South Africa within a month. It will travel under the Red Cross. The report that many of the members of the first corps from Chicago tore off the Red Cross at Pretoria and accepted Mauser rifles is generally discredited by those associated with the ambulance organization.

Japan and the United States.

London, April 21.—The Daily Mail publishes a letter from Yokohama, describing the "growth of the anti-American feeling" in Japan. The writer says: "This development is due to the harsh treatment the Japanese have received in Hawaii and to the belief that the United States will stop Japanese immigration to Hawaii. The feeling is calculated to lead to a deplorable war of tariffs and to retaliatory restrictions."

Must Undergo an Operation.

Springfield, Ills., April 21.—It is the belief of many that Governor Tanner may not recover from his present illness. Gallstones are the cause of the severe attacks of gastritis with which Governor Tanner has suffered for some time, and physicians say that an operation will be necessary in the near future. The operation, though a delicate one, is usually successful.

Town Swept by Fire.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 21.—Edenburg was almost wiped out by fire yesterday. Two lives were lost, and much property was destroyed. The fire started in a drug store in the business portion of the town. Twenty buildings and two elevators were destroyed. Not even food enough was left to feed the inhabitants and those who assisted in the rescue work.

RAILWAY TIES.

Work has been begun on the Canso and Louisburg railway in Nova Scotia.

A syndicate has been formed to build a single rail high speed electric railway between Liverpool and Manchester.

Two Glasgow firms have received orders for upward of 100 locomotives for South Africa, to be dispatched when the present war ends.

As now surveyed from New York to Buenos Ayres, the intended Pan-American railroad would be 10,221 miles long. To finish and equip it would cost at least $200,000,000.

Postal Athorities Will Return Money.

Boston, April 21.—Twelve sacks of mail addressed to Francis Truth, the "divine healer," who is charged with fraud, have been impounded by the United States government under a "fraud order." The amount of money contained in the letters is very large, and it will be returned with the letters to the writers.

Illegal Sale of Liquor Charged.

Clinton, Mass., April 21.—In the district court yesterday Origio Galasso, an Italian boss employed by Nawn & Brock, contractors on the metropolitan reservoir, was charged with the illegal sale of liquor at the commissary. He was adjudged guilty and was fined $75, from which he appealed to the superior court.

Steam Gives Way to Electricity.

Chicago, April 21.—Electricity supplanted steam in the operation of the big packing houses of Armour & Co. at the Union stock yards yesterday. The new plant, which cost more than $1,000,000, constitutes the largest individual set of electrical power giving machinery ever put into service.

Jumped From Brooklyn Bridge.

New York, April 21.—Miss Marie Dinse jumped from the Brooklyn bridge yesterday, and apparently sustained no serious injury. She is now in a hospital. Miss Dinse is about 32 years old, and was formerly a part owner in a boarding house. She was melancholy.

Friendly Bout With Fatal Ending.

Hamilton, O., April 21.—Elmer Harris, aged 17, fell dead Thursday night at the end of a friendly boxing bout with George James and Charles Greenbach. Coroner McHenry held an autopsy yesterday and found that death was due to a hemorrhage of the brain, caused by a blow. James and Greenbach are exculpatel, however, by the coroner's verdict.

Another Chelsea Child Killed.

Chelsea, Mass., April 21.—The second trolley car accident in this city within a week, in which a child's life was sacrificed, occurred when Jennie Linderbaum, 5 years, was struck by a car and injured so that she soon died. The child was playing in the street, and, in dodging a wagon, ran directly in front of the car.

because the people would not have it otherwise. He closed by speaking of the new institute which would not be hampered by political pull.

ROBERT C. METCALF.

Supervisor of Schools in Boston, gave "A tribute from Boston to Col. Parker!"

The Quincy movement was a protest against methods of the teaching of schools in this section of the country. A plea for better method of teaching. He claimed much of the work done by the children and teacher was poor. The effect of these criticisms was that all demanded the change and began to mend our ways so it came about a great revival in education was begun. Much had been done by way of organization, but little in the way of organization, but little in the way of school method, as produced upon pedigogical lines. Quincy schools twenty-five years ago were not much different from other schools. He had a School Committee simple, or wise enough to see that there were some things that could be left in the hands of one who knew. So it came about that the schools were placed in charge of Col. Parker. It was a great awakening of methods of teaching children. To the Quincy school committee of twenty-five years ago and to Col. Parker whose work here has done so much to carry sunshine into our schools.

COL. PARKER.

Received an ovation when introduced.

After alluding to the pleasure it gave him to meet his old friends Col. Parker said:

There was an opportunity, a sensible School Board, a Board that conducted its affairs upon sound business principles, upon a plan that has always, in all times, brought success, a plan that the entire business world unqualifiedly endorses. No other plan has or will ever succeed. To appreciate this famous Board, it must be compared with other Boards of the same functions. To have been for forty-six years a teacher of the common schools gives one a fair basis for comparison.

One of the profound mysteries in this world is the marvelous psychological change that comes over respectable, intelligent, and otherwise wise laymen when they are elected by their fellow-citizens to serve on school committees. Persons who would never dream of superintending an electric plant, managing a railroad, building a bridge over Niagara, leading an army, or commanding a ship, enter upon the duties of a school committee with the astonishing presumption that they can with safety minister directly to the welfare of chidlren, mold society into right living, and shape the destinies of a nation by means of common education; that they can make courses of study, select teachers, examine pupils, and manage the internal and pedagogical affairs of a school system. This prevailing state of affairs would be ridiculous were it not so awfully solemn. The presumption of school boards is the acute distress of the nation; it is the culmination of bad politics, the very worst by-product of democratic evolution. For this presumption millions in money are wasted every year, countless children suffer, and free government is imperiled.

The members of the Quincy Board of Education made up their minds, after the most careful and thorough consideration, that they were not equal to the task of managing the schools which the good citizens of the town had entrusted to their care.

It is often said that when a school board gives up its authority to an expert its duties are ended, that indeed it has nothing further to do. This was by no means true of the Quincy Committee. The Superintendent was given full power to conduct the schools as he thought best. There was, however, one absolute requirement—he must succeed; and the Committee was the judge of success or failure. Previous to 1875 the Committee had examined yearly the schools in order to ascertain the progress of the pupil; now they proposed to inspect the schools to find out the efficiency or the inefficiency of the Superintendent; and well they did their work. What criterion they had, or upon what basis they estimated efficiency is not known. Probably they estimated the real life of the school, the happiness and earnestness of the children, rather than technical details and quantity of book work done.

The School Boards most important task was to defend the schools and the changes in the work of the teachers.

Good people do not easily alter their ideals of education. I have sometimes thought that theology had the deepest and strongest hold upon the human mind, especially in New England; but that is not true; educational ideas are by far the slowest to change. Noah Webster is mightier than Jonathan Edwards, technical grammar, than predestination. It is useless for any one who attempts to improve education to complain; the right way is to recognize the situation and make the best of it. Human progress is measured by the time it takes for a good idea to get into life.

The Board of Education fought many battles, and fought them all with great earnestness and wisdom. One battle stands out above all others. The battle ground was the old Town Hall, which was packed with eager voters. Latecomers were obliged to stay outside, although it was a rainy day. Two thousand dollars a year seemed an immense sum for the tax payers to spend for a man who walked or rode around from school to school. The leader in the campaign against extravagance moved a reduction of the appropriation that would cut off the man who amused himself by supervising the schools. The motion was carried with a rush. The second town meeting succeeding the first by a few days was extremely interesting. I shall not attempt to describe it—the memory of it always gives me a thrill. It was a battle royal for the little ones. I thought of the old days of Otis and Patrick Henry. At this meeting a motion was made to reconsider, backed by eloquence rarely heard in these days. Only the leader voted against the motion, and the original appropriation was carried without a dissenting voice.

The battle for the common schools is the battle for human liberty, and Quincy was fortunate in the defenders of that which lies at the basis of our Republic.

Permit me to interpolate a personal statement. I have been accused of fighting battles. It is not true, I never fought a battle, unless trying to teach school is fighting. The School Committee did all the work of defense, and each member was a host in himself. The Superintendent was granted the entire supervision of the town schools. The choice of teachers and their dismisal, the making of the course of study, the examinations, indeed everything that pertains to pedagogy, he relegated to his Principals, and they in turn to their teachers. The tyranny of the Superintendent consisted in demanding that every teacher should become free through self-effort.

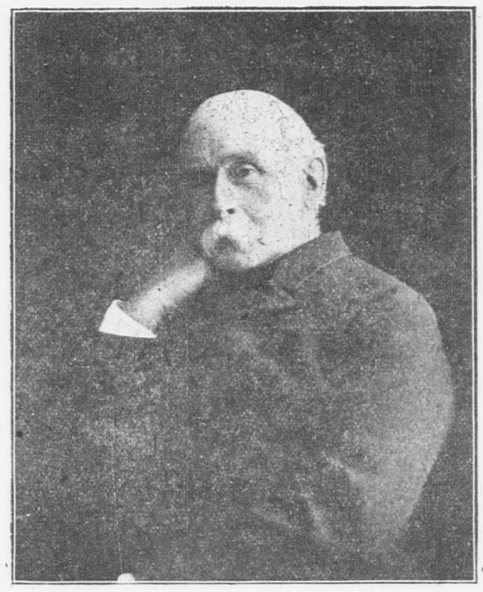

The onus of all things disagreeable, such as the dismissal of teachers, the Board took upon itself, merely asking the Superintendent to make suggestions, which were sufficient for action. It gave generously an efficient support at all times; it did not hesitate to criticise, advise or suggest. The first annual report was written under the frank and wise criticism of the Committee; it was re-written several times. The command was, "Make the people understand what you are doing. Through forty-six years I have never found another such efficient school committee.

The new Superintendent had an immense faith in the possibilities of human growth by means of education, a faith which has grown with his years and is now stronger than ever. He had also great faith in free government, brought about by educating children into freedom through self-activity. The battle for freedom, he thought, is not to be fought out in cruel, bloody wars, not by armies and navies, but in the common school room, the camp and training ground for citizenship. The lessons of the Civil War were to him lessons that taught how such awful horrors may be prevented by education.

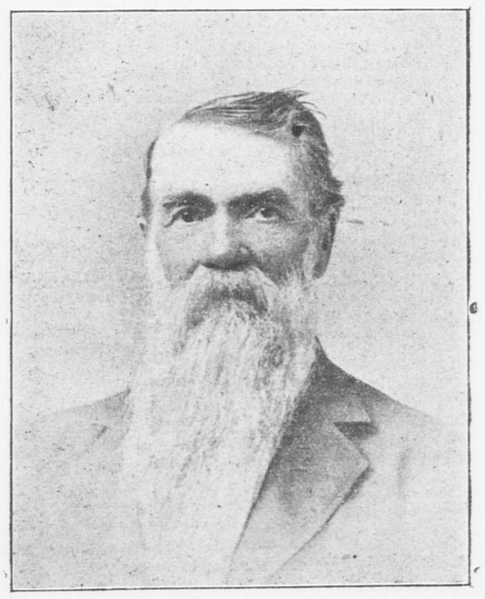

Such faith led naturally to a spirit of work, of struggle, of research, of open-mindedness, for the truth had instinctively an all controlling love for children and a strong desire to help them to good lives. Twenty-one years in the common schools as a teacher, including three years in country schools and three as principal of a normal school, had taught him very thoroughly the fact that he knew very little about the art of all arts. Every book upon education, printed in English, was on his shelves, but in them was scant knowledge of how to teach an American school.

I will not attempt to describe the educational situation in New England. One fact illustrates it fully: A diligent search was made on the rich and loaded shelves of Boston booksellers. One educational work, and one only, was found, a second-hand copy of Currie's Grammar School Education. Do not misunderstand. Very much had been done in building up the common school. Most school systems were thoroughly organized. That of Boston has furnished the pattern of organization for all time. There were ex-

Castle Square Theatre.

The production of the great romantic story of Nero's time, "Quo Vadis," in dramatic form at the Castle Square theatre has created such widespread interest that the management has decided to continue this attraction throughout the coming week. The opportunities offered in this production for grand stage pictures have been fully improved by the scenic and mechanical departments of the Castle Square theatre and it is seldom that more strikingly effective stage settings are shown than those of the scenes in the banquet hall of Nero's palace, the great Roman area where the Greco-Roman wrestling occurs, and the garden in Rome with its beautiful fountains of real water. Fully one hundred people appear in this production, a large number of special engagements having been made to strengthen the cast of the principal characters, and the incidental vocal and instrumental music makes an important feature of the production. The members of the regular stock company have added still further evidence of their abilities in this production. The usual distribution of chocolate bon bons will be continued at the Monday matinees until further notice.

cally, to develop power in others to accomplish what would remain unaccomplished but for you. Akin to this is—

(8) Col. Parker's ability to make others discover and state clearly what he generally fails to bring into view, the unifying and organizing elements in the varied and miscellaneous methods which he employs. Many thinkers in the educational field have elaborated, epitomized, and put into logical form by his assistance truths and principles which never would have found expressions but for him. Col. Parker's theory of concentration seems to me to be more stimulating and suggestive for future elaboration than complete as a theory in itself.

(9) His Extraordinary Open-mindedness, has been a valuable contribution to the cause of education because like his audacity it has been exceedingly contagious. As a rule it is difficult for one who has been a teacher many years to open his eyes much less his mind to large vistas of truth and stand where he can see her various manifestations. The routine of school work seems to restrict the teacher's vision. It develops the habit of deciding quickly, and abiding by that decision, even unto the end. What is right now, always will be; changing conditions can never change my view of truth,"—this in brief is the status of a mind open to one inspiring view of life's verities but closed securely afterwards to all new views. Blessed is the man whose mind is open day by day to new revelations of the old, old story. When such a one is a teacher he is thrice blessed for he has not only a fresh, beautiful world to enjoy each day for himself but he has the opportunity and the power to open the eyes of the blind so that they become able to see. Such work lives to bless and it is education in the highest sense. Akin to this is Col. Parker's most valuable contribution to the cause of education.

(10) His Hopefulness. The man's nature is full of contradictions. He is often discouraged, yet never loses courage; frequently without hope, yet always full of hope. It seems to me that with all his praise and his fault-finding, his iconoclastic theories and uplifting practices, the one element which dominates his administrative work in the cause of education is the element of hopefulness. It may make him appear visionary, but no more than Longfellow was when he wrote,

"Out of the Shadows of night,
The world rolls into light.
It is daybreak everywhere."

A NEW SOCIAL ORDER

In Which the School Will Lead the Way.

Office of Superintendent of Public Schools.
Worcester, Mass., March 19, 1900.

Mr. H. W. Lull, Quincy, Mass.

Dear Sir:—It gives me very sincere pleasure to be asked to give some expression of my appreciation of Colonel Parker's contribution to the cause of education.

First:—My sense of obligation is of a personal character. For several years I was a teacher of the old order, regarding military discipline as the highest accomplishment of a school principal or of a school teacher. Under this order I attained a certain comfortable degree of success, but eventually found myself utterly weary of the business. On a casual visit to Boston, I fell in with Colonel Parker and accompanied him on his daily round. While, at the present time, I do not recall in detail the circumstances of this visit, I am certain that it changed my impressions in regard to teaching as a profession. It is not too much for me to say that the influence of that day not only changed my entire impressions of the possibilities of the profession of teaching, but has also changed my entire history and enabled me to cheerfully devote the energies of my life to educational work.

Second:—In my judgment, my own experience represents the experience of thousands of other teachers who may be all unconscious of the acting force. Nowhere, in all the history of education, have there been witnessed such events as occurred at Quincy. The pilgrims to that city included hosts of visitors from every part of the country. These visits and written reports affected, almost instantaneously, systems of education in every town and city of America. It is perfectly true that the time was ripe for this movement. It is true that many forces operated to insure its success. Changes in our civilization called for changes in our schoools. Investigators, discoverers, humanitarians, in a thousand directions, were unconsciously looking for a better day. But Colonel Parker was the prophet of the hour and led the way. Any effort to minimize his influence or the theories into which he has for many years thrown his whole soul are pitiful and contemptible. The magnitude of his work and influence will be appreciated only after the lapse of another half century. It will remain for the critical and fair-minded writer upon education both to finally formulate facts and to estimate results.

But today, we are to speak freely our impressions, and I shall briefly and somewhat at random attempt to summarize these impressions as they lie in my own mind. Above all things, Colonel Parker's word and work have had to do with the soul of childhood. His sympathy with the teacher and the pupil has been to him both text and vision. The old traditions of the school-room were stronger than those that bound the Scribes and Pharisees. Colonel Parker's plea for freedom was like to the cry of the old prophet in the wilderness.

I am aware that this is high praise, but I have not yet spoken the strongest word for the merit of these early utterances of Colonel Parker. His boldness and zeal appear when we remember that he was frowned upon and ridiculed by the teaching profession at large. His earnestness gained a hearing only when the schools under his charge began to illustrate in the concrete the sentiments that moved him.

In the third place: Colonel Parker's crusade, by implication, called for a better discipline. The sarcastic, the stern, and the severe, were driven out by the new relations called for between the teacher and the pupil. Colonel Parker himself has repudiated the notion that the idea of method has no place in the new education, but at least there is a new relation established, a new attitude inevitable on the part of teachers and pupils, which brings them together almost as members of a family. The new condition in education, as illustrated by Colonel Parker, is a condition of the school-room itself. His greatest work was done when this relationship was established.

Fourth: the changes in the subject matter dealt with in the school-room have been at least largely hastened by Colonel Parker's influence. In our civilization, we find a new spirit in the home, a new social atmosphere, a closer walk and conversation between parents and children. This same spirit of co-operation and sympathy prevades all walks in life. We have a new juvenile literature, a new interest in God's world of nature, a new interest in things of beauty reproduced in drawing and art in a thousand other forms. The spirit of humanity reaches out with a new interest to uplift the fallen and to save little children.

All of these elements, operating as they do in every community, must eventually be fully represented in the school. Colonel Parker has helped to make this possible and hastened its realization. All this points to a new social order in which the school, leads the way. A wider knowledge of nature, a larger appreciation of the refinements of life, a complete industrial training to meet every phase and stage of development, a knowledge of books and a love for books, will, I imagine, be the requirements in the

SUFFERING AND RELIEF

Three Letters from Mrs. Johnson, Showing that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures the Ills of Women

Wrote for Mrs. Pinkham's Advice November, 1897

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am a great sufferer, have much trouble through the lower part of my bowels, and I am writing to you for advice. Menses are irregular and scanty, am troubled with leucorrhœa, and I ache so through my back and down through my loins. I have spells of bloating very badly, sometimes will be very large and other times very much reduced."—MRS. CHAS. E. JOHNSON, Box 33, Rumford Center, Maine, Nov. 20, 1897.

Improvement Reported December, 1897

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to tell you that I am improving in health. I am ever so much better than when I wrote before. The trouble through the lower part of bowels is better and I am not bloated so badly. I was very much swollen through the abdomen before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I still have a feeling of fulness across my chest. I have used three bottles of it and am on the fourth."—MRS. CHAS. E. JOHNSON, Box 33, Rumford Center, Maine, Dec. 13, 1897.

Enjoying Good Health June, 1899

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Since a year ago I have been taking your medicine, and am now strong and enjoying good health. I have not been so well for three years, and feel very thankful to you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I would advise all who suffer with female troubles to try your medicine."—MRS. CHAS. E. JOHNSON, Box 33, Rumford Center, Maine, June 1, 1899.

IF YOU ARE GOING TO BUY A HOME

This season, rememember I am offering bargains which can't be matched by any builder or real estate owner in the city. I am going to build a number of first class, stylish, modern Houses, ranging in price from $2,000 to $4,000, and shall offer them at the same low prices which prevailed last season. These houses are to be built on Independence and Federal avenues, and are the best lots in South Quincy. Handy to steam and electrics, good neighbors, and every lot is dry. The first of these at No. 25 Independence avenue is now completed and will be cheerfully shown to all parties, whether intending to purchase or not; 6 rooms and bath, besides finished attic and basement. This is a corner lot. Also another of six rooms and bath, nearly finished, at No. 31 Independence avenue. This lot bounds on two streets. Favorable terms will be made to responsible parties on either of above.

new curriculum. All this will not prevent a man from becoming better trained as a wage worker nor interfere with severe application.

But this harmony and completeness, this unity between the new and the old, is still to be wrought out more perfectly. At best, we are only bungling at education, and yet, relatively, we have advanced indefinitely in twenty-five years. We should speak with humility, and yet selves that success has been assured where failure seemed probable. Older teachers too, touched by his enthusiasm, are no longer content to work under the bonds of habit and tradition, but, breaking away from these, seek to relate their teaching to higher ideals.

And of these higher ideals Colonel Parker has had many to set before them and before the people; where, again, his enkindling enthusiasm moves the masses to renewed interest in the education of their children.

HON. JOHN O. HALL, MAYOR,
Who Extends Greetings of City.

constructively and with confidence, of this movement, as of any other of its magnitude and importance, and believe in the future and in the new laborers that must enter into the vineyard. Our business, today, is to look both backward and forward, and in our hopes for better things, we fearlessly and cheerfully honor the author of good to the race and recognize the untiring, the successful, and the brilliant labors of our friend and the friend of children, Colonel Parker, the honored guest of this hour.

Very cordially yours,
CLARENCE F. CARROLL,
Superintendent of Schools,
Worcester, Mass.

It is fortunate, therefore, that when Colonel Parker left his work in the East for a new field in the West he chose to place himself in a normal school, where his influence could be brought most directly to bear upon great numbers of young teachers, in whom chiefly rests the hope of progress and reform.

He has made Cook County Normal School famous as he would have made any other scene of his labors famous by putting so much of himself into his work.

As a matter of course a man of Colonel Parker's positive convictions and impulsive energy in acting upon them meets with opposition the most formidable. His life for more than a quarter of a century has been a realization of what the German poet wrote:

Leben heist ein Kampfer sein.

HON. CHARLES H. PORTER,
Chairman School Committee.

NOW VICTORIOUS.

Masses Moved to Renewed Interest in Education.

Boston, April 17, 1900.

H. W. Lull, Superintendent of Quincy Schools:

Dear Sir: What I most admire and commend in Colonel Parker's character as an educational leader are his abounding enthusiasm, his self-reliance, and his indomitable courage. His enthusiasm is contagious. No one associated with him in educational work, even for a brief time, can help feeling it and being moved by it. This is the source of his power over teachers. Few men have ever shown the degree of power which he has always possessed of inspiring young teachers with such confidence in themselves that success has been assured where failure seemed probable. Older teachers too, touched by his enthusiasm, are no longer content to work under the bonds of habit and tradition, but, breaking away from these, seek to relate their teaching to higher ideals.

And of these higher ideals Colonel Parker has had many to set before them and before the people; where, again, his enkindling enthusiasm moves the masses to renewed interest in the education of their children.

But through all his contests his self reliance and his courage have brought him victorious. We give him a triumph not as the men of old to conquerors in war, but as becomes men of modern time celebrating the victories of peace.

Yours very truly,
Edwin P. Seaver,
Superintendent Schools.

WORK OF A PIONEER

Col. Parker an Apostle of Freedom and Light.

Offices of
Board of Education
Newark, N. J., March 21st, 1900.

Mr. H. W. Lull, Supt. of Schools, Quincy, Mass.

Dear Sir:—I beg leave to acknowledge the receipt of your esteemed favor of March 20th, inviting me to attend the Silver Wedding of Colonel Parker and the Quincy Schools.

All friends of education rejoice that the people of Quincy have sufficient appreciation of the great educational work begun in their city a quarter of a century ago to celebrate in a public and impressive way this anniversary. Colonel Parker has always been an apostle of freedom and light. He has done more during the period of his educational career than any other man and perhaps than all other men in this country to shake up the dry bones of formalism, to restore to the teacher freedom and faith and to give to the child his birthright of joy in the environment of nature. His was the work of a pioneer, to remove obstacles and to blaze a way. Such work required the vigor and fearlessness of a man like Colonel Parker who, disregarding small things and in some cases even neglecting minor excellencies, always saw from the beginning the great end and labored toward it unmindful of obstacles.

Yours truly,
C. B. GIBERT,
City Superintendent.

WRITERS AND PAINTERS.

Phillip Laszlo, the Hungarian artist, has been commissioned to paint a full length portrait of Pope Leo as he appears seated on the papal throne.

Sienkiewicz, the Polish novelist, when asked to sign an appeal for intervention in the South African war, declined on the ground that Russia's treatment of the Poles called more loudly for intervention.

A picture by Sisley, "The Flood," which was sold by the artist in 1876 for $8 and resold at a public sale in Bordeaux in 1880 for $18, was sold once more in Paris recently for $8,600. It is needless to say that Sisley is dead.

Emile Fouget, the new member of the French academy, is rather a Bohemian, with little of an immortal's dignity. Daily he walks down the Boulevard St. Michel, balancing his cane and whistling loudly the latest popular song.

Holme Lee is dead at the age of 72. How many novel readers remember her name? Few or none, we imagine, and yet there was a time when "everybody" was reading "Sylvan Holt's Daughter." The author's real name was Harriet Parr, and she lived in the Isle of Wight.

PERT PERSONALS.

Kipling will have to add a verse to "Bobs." He has begun to advertise, "'Aven't yer, Bobs?"—New York World.

"Depew awn Choate may be jokers," said the janitor philosopher, "but it's lucky fer thim that they don't hove to irn thor livin at joke wroitin."—Chicago News.

Still, if Mr. Harrison should become president again, he might by shoveling ginger into our foreign policy manage to collect that fee from Venezuela.—Kansas City Journal.

Old "Pop" Anson, formerly the hero of the baseball diamond, has been on the down grade for several years and seems to have reached the lowest level at last. He has been nominated for alderman in Chicago.—San Francisco Chronicle.

TODAY'S COURT.

The continued case of Bernard Rodern of Randolph was called. He was defaulted. John J. Phelan of Quincy was also defaulted.

George Oglar was fined $15 for assault of Joseph Lafountain at Quincy.

Joseph T. Shaw and Philip M. Shaw were fined $5 each for playing a game at Milton on the Lord's day.

William T. Hope was arraigned for breaking and entering at Weymouth and the larceny of eggs. Case continued until Monday.

THE REVIVAL OF EDUCATION.

cellent teachers, noble, disinterested men and women; but naturally tradition controlled, and there was a general, though unconscious, belief that most things in education were fixed and finished. Among thoughtful people, however, there were grave doubts as to the profitable expenditure of school moneys.

The Superintendent had an overwhelming desire to find out what was true and what false, what should be eliminated and what brought into the lives of the children. He longed for an opportunity to study with thoughtful teachers, to study children in order to ascertain that which was best adapted to them. There was not one question of progress about which he was fully decided, except to study education with the right attitude towards genuine development. He found thoughtful teachers, some of whom had been doubting and studying for years, others who were ready to put themselves into the work with hearty zeal. The teachers, forty-two, I think, in number, formed a faculty for the study of education. The Superintendent led them as best he could, getting from them far more than he gave. The authority he had received he relegated to them, and in return demanded close study, original thought, creation, observation, reformation and independence. The teachers' meetings were the central means of movement. The Superintendent trudged from school to school, watching the teachers, criticising them personally, holding conferences, and discussing questions. He taught in every class, over and over again, not by any means because he was a model, but because he wished to learn how to teach. It was exhilirating, delighful work, though filled with errors and doubts, crude, unformed, experimental, but withal progressive. He found genius among the teachers. One among the best has gone to her reward; she was a native of Quincy and a child of truth. There were very few teachers who failed of re-election. They tried, they struggled with the problems; some failed, but most succeeded. They were ever ready to take and use criticism, ever ready to acknowledge failure and to look for better things. I shall never forget them, that little band of heroes. I see them now, facing the children and the eternal questions.

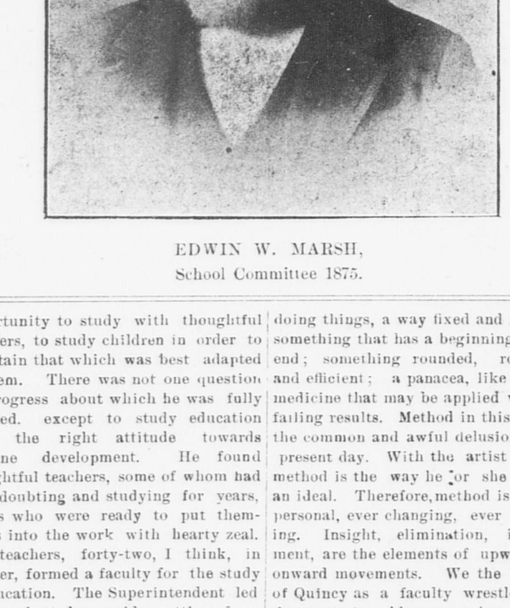

What has been accomplished? I should be most happy this day to clear up some common errors that have crept into the general judgment. There never was a Quincy method or a Quincy system, unless we agree to call the Quincy method a spirit of study, and the Quincy system one of everlasting change. A method in teaching means to most people a certain way of doing things, a way fixed and finished; something that has a beginning and an end; something rounded, routinish, and efficient; a panacea, like a patent medicine that may be applied with unfailing results. Method in this sense is the common and awful delusion of the present day. With the artist teacher method is the way he or she reaches an ideal. Therefore, method is entirely personal, ever changing, ever improving. Insight, elimination, improvement, are the elements of upward and onward movements. We the teachers of Quincy as a faculty wrestled with the greatest problem ever given to man. The faculty and its meetings brought inspiration, enthusiasm, help, and each teacher applied the things found in his or her own way, developing personality and, therefore, personal ability.

Those who seek for some special and peculiar method or device in the Quincy Movement will never find it. Faith, ideal spirit, explain all that pertains to our success, whatever that success may be. The outcome was what may always be expected under similar circumstances—progressive movement. If you ask me to name the best of all in results, I should say, the more humane treatment of little folks. We tried to teach them, "not as children or as pupils, but as human beings." Each child has his own individuality his stream of thought, his desires, his hopes and fears, his griefs and joys. In school the child was too often a separate stream of thought, or a stagnant pool, totally separate from his real life. A child should have one life, wholesome and complete, and the home life and school life should each supplement the other. However loving a teacher may be, the method of teaching rarely discloses a deep sympathy, which is the best there is in any teacher. We tried to make the children happy, so happy that they should love to go to school. The rod was well-nigh banished. The doctrine of total depravity will have much to answer for in the day of judgment. Flogging is the direct result of the belief that the child is innately bad, and must be whipped into goodness.

EDWIN W. MARSH,
School Committee 1875.

The late JOHN QUINCY ADAMS,
Chairman School Committee 1875.

Colonel Parker received the following telegrams last evening.

"Greeting from Montana. Even these distant mountain schools show the influence of the movement you celebrate to-night.

Belle Thomas, Dillon, Montana."

"Hearty congratulations on the twenty-five years of noble work. Good wishes for continued health and strength.

Henry Barnard, Hartford, Conn."

Col. Parker held an informal reception at the close of the meeting.

Today a complimentary banquet is given in his honor at the Vendome, Boston, which will be reported in Monday's Ledger.

FAVORABLE TRADE CONDITIONS.

Iron and Steel Shutdown Has an Unsettling Effect—Improvement in Shoe Trade.

New York, April 21.—Bradstreet's says: More, rather than less, regularity in trade and price situation is to be noted this week, partly the result of weather conditions, but partly, as in the case of the iron and steel trade, because of the continuance of the efforts in the direction of lower prices. That the basic conditions of trade remain on the whole favorable is, however, evidenced by a number of features. Railroad earnings continue heavy and the decrease noted in bank clearings is chargeable largely to religious and other holiday observances and to restricted stock speculation.

The bear campaign in iron and steel took on a new phase this week, when a number of wire mills were shut down, as alleged because of an over-supply of these goods. Criticism of the action of the wire people has not been confined to the stock market, upon which, however, the chief effect has been exercised. The claim is made that large stocks of wire exists mainly in producers' hands, and that jobbers' and retailers' stocks have been kept low by abnormally high prices. The announcement, however, has had an unsettling effect upon general demand, and new domestic business is interfered with. The strength of the raw materials, particularly coal, coke and ore, and the recent advances in wages, are expected to prevent anything like a perpendicular drop in values.

It has been a weather market for the cereals and most agricultural products, these advancing early in the week, but weakening toward the close.

The quietness in dry goods and the weakness noted in cotton yarns have been discouraging features. A heavy increase in the spindle capacity of the country, particularly at the south, is a feature bearing upon the outlook in this business. Wool is weak, but there is rather more inquiry, and relatively highest prices rule at points of production.

A favorable feature is the improvement noted in some branches of the boot and shoe trade, in sympathy with which leather is strong and at some markets slightly higher.

Relatively the best trade reports this week come from the Pacific coast, where general business has improved and Alaskan and Asiatic business is increasing.

Business failures for the week number 161, as compared with 187 in this week a year ago, and 224 in 1898.

No Great Honor For McGovern.

New York, April 21.—At the Broadway Athletic club last night Terry McGovern, the feather weight champion, was awarded the decision over Tommy Warren, after the bout had lasted one round. The men had been scheduled to go 25 rounds. Warren is 40 years old, and weighed at least 140 pounds. He displayed absolutely no knowledge of the game, and was knocked down twice, and when the round ended he staggered to his corner. The crowd began hissing and hooting, and the bout was declared off.

Alleged Burning to Obtain Insurance.

Cincinnati, April 21.—The grand jury yesterday indicted W. W. Thomas "for burning property which was insured," and Harry Watters, principal of the Watters business college; Mary Stone, confidential bookkeeper for Thomas, and his brother, Isiah Thomas, "as accessories to the burning of Thomas' wholesale grocery house," last November. The insurance companies resisted the payment of $60,000 and offered $5000 reward. They allege that they paid former losses of Thomas' under protest.

A Jury's Queer Conclusion.

Charleston, April 21.—At Rockville, Bud Jenkins stabbed Sylvester Jones to death, both of them being about 12 years old. Jones charged Jenkins with "gossiping about him" to a negro girl. They went to her house, and there the fatal quarrel ensued. Evidence of murder against Jenkins was complete, but the jury acquitted him because of "infancy."

Jury Doubted Blackmail Story.

Lima, O., April 21.—An indictment was returned by the grand jury yesterday against N. L. Michael, ex-vice president of the American National bank, which was mysteriously robbed here two years ago of $18,000. Michael declared some time ago that the efforts to connect him with looting the now defunct bank were being made for the purpose of blackmail.

THE DRESSY WOMAN.

Tailor made silk coats, jackets and basque bodices are highly fashionable both here and abroad.

Ribbon entre deux of lace and clusters of fine tucking form some of the pretty dress sleeves seen on evening toilets for debutantes.

The natty Eton and bolero jacket styles rival the belted, round waisted models among spring tailor costumes being made ready for Easter and post Easter wear.

The handsomest of the new lace flouncings in duchess point, renaissance, venise, honiton or other choice or fancy pattern are shaped in circular form for both skirt and bodice garniture.

The stylish fancy belt girdle and expensive chatelaine accessories keep the round waist very prominent among favored modes. They are youthful looking when worn by graceful and slender women.

A transparent black hat is trimmed with large black ostrich plumes and an expensive gold buckle dotted with faceted onyx stones. Round the crown is a roll of folded heliotrope tulle delicately veiled with black point de gaze lace.

Light colored gloves are introduced this season, which in a great degree will supersede the pure white ones which have so long enjoyed the stamp of universal approval. Biscuit, doe color, sage gray, nickel, a pretty shade of tan, a light tint of sable brown and one of lilac are among the new colors.

The newest ornamental buttons for silk, satin or chiffon draped waists are those of French brilliants of various small sizes. They are either surrounded with a mere threadlike line of black enamel or else with no setting whatever. They fasten to the bodice by means of gold shanks and rings.—New York Post.

THE CENSOR.

Soda water and baseball men are beginning to get gay.—Atchison Globe.

The Paris exposition seems to have done more to avert war between the great powers than has The Hague conference.—Houston Post.

Several firms are very busy enameling bicycles the popular khaki color. It is an excellent shade to hide splashes of mud.—London Chronicle.

The pension for Liliuokalani didn't go. She has no vote, and a discarded queen does not count in the national game.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

After 26 years of always honest and always earnest endeavor Maud S is dead. She deserved her great fame and her fortunate life and her peaceful and speedy death.—New York World.

Dr. Malbran advises people not to shake hands, as it might spread the plague. Shaking hands is a more or less unnecessary and dirty custom at all times and especially in hot weather.—Buenos Ayres Herald.

The German sense of humor is not of abnormal development, but Germans can scarcely repress their smiles when the agrarian measures looking to the exclusion of foreign meats is called a sanitary measure without selfish significance.—Boston Herald.

TOWN TOPICS.

"Screened water" is the latest in Chicago. St. Louis is to have the screenings.—St. Louis Star.

Emporia is a good prohibition town, but a man can make a living by picking up empty bottles in the alleys.—Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

It would be an improvement at least if the officials would just try to run New York for a week "the way Parkhurst would do."—Chicago Record.

The establishment of a home for nice, respectable old horses that have been worn out by faithful service is the most respectable thing that has happened in New York for years.—Kansas City Star.

It may be true that Kansas City is deficient in sleeping accommodations, but there is more to keep delegates awake there than in any eastern city that aspires to convention honors.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

One of the results of the present crusade in Uniontown, Pa., against swearing is that any one heard using profane language is fined 60 cents. And this at the very approach of spring housecleaning time.—Oil City (Pa.) Blizzard.

Keith's Theatre.

Layfayette and Bunth and Rudd will remain the leading features of the Keith show for the week of April 23, but they will have much excellent company. Lafayette is certainly the best conjurer who has ever appeared in vaudville and his tricks are much superior to those of Ching Ling Foo, the Chinese magician whom he is supposed to burlesque. The coming week Lafayette will add some new features producing two little coon children instead of one, and several more animal and birds. Bunth and Rudd, who have made a big hit, will also have some new business in their amusing act. Among the newcomers are James J. Morton, who has developed into one of the cleverest monologue entertainers in the country. The biograph will have its usual compliment of new motion pictures, including views from South Africa, and on the whole the show will probably be as good as those which have been exciting so much comment on the part of amusement-seekers the past month.

Keith's Theatre.

Layfayette and Bunth and Rudd will remain the leading features of the Keith show for the week of April 23, but they will have much excellent company. Lafayette is certainly the best conjurer who has ever appeared in vaudville and his tricks are much superior to those o Ching Ling Foo, the Chinese magician whom he is supposed to burlesque. The coming week Lafayette will add some new features producing two little coon children instead of one, and several more animal and birds. Bunth and Rudd, who have made a big hit, will also have some new business in their amusing act. Among the newcomers are James J. Morton, who has developed into one of the cleverest monologue entertainers in the country. The biograph will have its usual compliment of new motion pictures, including views from South Africa, and on the whole the show will probably be as good as those which have been exciting so much comment on the part of amusement-seekers the past month.

ON THE AGGRESSIVE.

General Pilar, Who Had Been Reported Killed, Has Reappeared.

Insurgents Active In Nearly Every Luzon Province.

Lost About a Thousand Men Last Week, While Americans Had Twenty-Five Casualties.

Manila, April 23.—The insurgents have been aggressive in almost every province of Luzon. General Pio Del Pilar's band, numbering 300, which was out of sight for three months, the leader being reported killed, reappeared in its old field about San Miguel. Pilar is supposed to be in command.

GENERAL DEL PILAR.

He gave the American garrison at San Miguel, consisting of three companies of the Thirty-fifth infantry, with a gatling, a three hours' fight during a night attack. The loss of the insurgents in this engagement is not known, as they removed their dead and wounded; but presumably it was considerable.

Twenty Filipinos in the province of Batangas attacked Lieutenant Wonde, who, with eight men, was scouting near San Jose. The lieutenant and five men were wounded, and one private was killed.

Sergeant Ledoius of the Thirty-fifth infantry was badly wounded in an ambush near Baliuang. Lieutenant Balch of the Thirty-seventh infantry, with 70 men, had a five hours' fight with 400 insurgents in the Nueva Caceres district. Twenty of the insurgents were killed.

Colonel Smith's command captured 180 officers and men with Montenegro. The officers were brought to Manila. Montenegro, who was formerly one of the most dapper officers in the Filipino army, looks worn and haggard. He says he had led a terrible life for months and has offered to return to the north with Colonel Smith to endeavor to persuade his former comrades of the uselessness of opposing the Americans.

Taken altogether, last week was one of the bloodiest of the war since the first days of fighting around Manila. Authentic reports, mostly official, show a total of 378 Filipinos killed, 12 officers and 244 men captured and many more wounded. The number wounded is hardly guessable.

Considering that the Filipinos entirely lack hospital facilities, a great majority of the wounded will die. Probably the week's work finished 1000 insurgents. The American's loss was nine killed, 16 wounded. Two sergeants and one private were killed in ambush while escorting provision trains.

Painters Demand $2.75 a Day.

Boston, April, 23.—The Painters' union has ordered that every member of the union should strike today if the master painters do not agree to pay $2.75 a day. Just how many painters will be forced to obey the order is uncertain, as several larger master painters have already agreed to pay the increase demanded. It is expected that fully 1000 men will refuse to work until their wages are advanced. It is understood, however, that several of the employers who have given no reply will grant the increase today.

Worst of Freshet Is Over.

Augusta, Me., April 23.—The water in the Kennebec has fallen seven inches since Saturday and it is thought the worst of the freshet is over. Should rain come with the southeast wind a further rise would be certain, as the storm would reach the Sandy River region and melt the 20 inches of snow in the woods. So far no damage has been done.

Taking Heed of Warning.

POLITICAL STRIFE IN CUBA.

Party In Favor of Giving United States Full Swing In Gaining the Ascendancy.

Havana, April 23.—Members of the cabinet are still considering where they stand with respect to the recently expressed views of the secretary of agriculture, General Rius Rivera, who has demanded that the United States government should set a time limit for the occupation of the island. Most of them feel that, if they do not resign, they will be looked upon by the Cuban voters as being neglectful of the interests of the island, while, on the other hand, they feel that, if they should resign, they would not only lose their salaries, which to a majority of them are important items, but also that their places would be occupied by members of the Democratic Union party, which is gaining strength every day, and which represents the conservative element, together with all the autonomist organizations.

Four Cuban generals now belong to the Democratic Union party—Rodriguez, Collazo, Hernandez and Garcia—while Nunez and Pierra, with other prominent members of the revolutionary party, have joined the new movement.

With the exception of Senor Villalon, the members of the present cabinet are members of the national party, and they would dread the effect of a new party coming into office; for with the patronage at the disposal of the new party it would unquestionably become predominant.

As a matter of fact the Democratic Union party is fast gaining the ascendancy. Its leaders believe in giving the United States full swing. Their policy is that, while the intervention lasts, they should devote themselves to preparing the country for eventual self-government; and they would favor an elected advisory board instead of the present appointed cabinet.

Stern Measures Caused Death.

New York, April 23.—Dick, a vicious elephant belonging to the Sells & Forepaugh circus, was strangled to death in Madison Square garden yesterday, in a futile attempt to subdue his belligerent disposition. Dick was one of the eight original Forepaugh dancing elephants, and was trained by Adam Forepaugh, Jr., nearly 20 years ago. He was one of the most consistent performers in the circus, but a few weeks ago he bagen showing a rebellious disposition. When the circus reached this city Dick was taken out of the "quadrille dance" as he became dangerous. While preparations were being made yesterday to move the circus from the garden, Dick began to trumpet. Fearing a stampede of the 14 elephants, huge ropes were fastened around the giants body and about his neck; a dozen men seized the ends and began to pull, the idea being to choke him into submission. Finding the the men made no impression on him, Mr. Sells had elephants attached to the ropes. They pulled with such vigor that the ropes tightened about Dick's neck and choked him to death.

Woburn Men Want the Field.

Woburn, Mass., April 23.—There are no new developments in the strike of the employes of the Russell Counter company. The cutters ask that the cutters from Salem and Lynn be discharged and only Woburn men given employment. They say that there are plenty of good cutters in Woburn, but there has seemed to have been a disposition on the part of one of the foremen, who came from Salem, to gradually replace Woburn men from Salem and vicinity. It was the fear of this, the cutters say, that led them to form their union, and that they struck on Friday.

Fishermen Found Dead In Boat.

St. John, April 23.—Three of the sturdiest fishermen of this port sailed from Carleton Saturday afternoon for the local fishing grounds in a 14-foot boat. They were Peter Mangan, Charles Moore and Charles Scammell. Scammell was landed on the harbor breakwater, as two men form the crew of a boat, and returned to the city. The two others went on fishing during the afternoon, were spoken in the evening and Sunday morning were found dead in their boat. Many theories are current as to how they died.

General Charged With Perjury.

New York, April 23.—Charges have been preferred against Major General Roe, commanding the national guard of New York, by Major Smith of the Seventy-first regiment, who was relieved from duty in December, 1898, at the time the state court of inquiry was ordered to inquire into the conduct of the regiment in the Cuban campaign. The principal charge against General Roe is perjury. Major Smith alleges conspiracy on the part of General Roe, and also charges oppression.

Resignation Followed Reprimand.

Berlin, April 23.—When Emperor William arrived at Altona the other day to salute the Prince of Wales, returning from Copenhagen to London, he was struck with the lack of suitable arrangements on the part of Lieutenant General Von Sichleinitz, commander at Altona. After his return to Berlin the emperor issued orders giving General Von Sichleinitz six months leave of absence. The general has tendered his resignation and left the army.

Hospital Enriched by $200,000.

New York, April 23.—At a meeting of the directors of Mount Sinai hospital yesterday the formal acceptance of a donation of $200,000 to be used in the erection of a hospital building in the new group under the supervision of the hospital was announced. The money is the gift of Meyer Guggenheim and his seven sons, who thus desire to establish a perpetual memorial to Barbara Guggenheim, the late wife of Meyer Guggenheim.

THE PARKER--QUINCY FAMILY.

Anniversary Banquet at Hotel Vendome Complimentary to Col. Parker.

An Informal Reception and Interesting Post Prandial Exercises.

GEORGE I. ALDRICH,
Superintendent 1883—01.

The banquet of the Quincy Teachers' Association at The Vendome, Boston, Saturday afternoon, complimentary to Col. Francis Wayland Parker, fittingly closed the meetings in honor of the 25th anniversary of Col. Parker's election as Superintendent of Quincy schools. The attendance was larger than expected. Quincy was largely represented, and in addition to several distinguished educational experts, there were many former teachers of Quincy with whom it was a pleasure to renew old acquaintance.

The reception in the parlors from 1.30 to 2 P. M. was very informal, there being no receiving party and no ushers. But everybody was anxious to greet Col. Parker, and introduced themselves by recalling old-time memories.

When the adjournment was made to the dining hall, the blessing was asked by Col. Edward Anderson, pastor of the Washington street church at Quincy Point. The menu was as follows:

Bluepoints.
Consomme, Calvani Potage, Palestine
Chicken Halibut Pondusberry
Sliced Cucumbers, New Potatoes Natural
Spring Lamb, Mint Sauce
Philadelphia Capon, Chipolata
Spinach Potatoes, Viennoise
Orange Sherbet
Sweetbread Croquettes, with Peas
Lobster, a la Newburg
Banana Fritters, au Kirsch
Chocolate Charlottes
Assorted Cakes Panachee Ice Cream
Fancy Water Ices.
Fruit
Cheese Crackers Olives
Coffee

In opening the post prandial exercises, Supt. H. W. Lull, the president, said Col. Parker had come to Quincy in 1875 as a kind of educational Paul Revere in order to sound a new alarm in the interests of teaching. Their guest, he continued had proclaimed life to the teacher and freedom to the pupil—death to the alphabet, and life to the reader—death to the single text book and its infallibility and life to all nature—death to "keeping school, and life to teaching it. Happily, there were giants in those days in Quincy—strong men, who upheld Col. Parker's hands in the carrying out of his reform. The president added that of the teachers formerly in service with Col. Parker, seven were still in service, and were all present at the meeting. One of them Miss Julia E. Underwood had kept school 20 years before the colonel's advent. She had taught school 25 years since, and last Monday began her 46th year of service.

Congratulatory telegrams were read from Belle Thomas Montana; Henry Bernard, Hartford, Ct., and E. W. Krackowizer of Cook county, N. Y.

George I. Aldrich, the third superintendent of Quincy schools was introduced as toastmaster, and alluded to the banquet as a family party, and briefly introduced the leading members.

Dr. William T. Harris, U. S. Commissioner of Education, was asked to speak on "The Quincy Influence." He said it had wrought much good. That educational prophets were a necessity. In closing, he said: Without educational reform the art of teaching must continue to degenerate the spirit for the letter."

Mary E. Dearborn, principal of the Coddington school at Quincy, was introduced as "the eldest, daughter and asked to respond to the sentiment "The Country Schoolmaster." Miss Dearborn read reminiscenes of her school girl life when Col. Parker was the master. The paper was replete with humor, and we make a few extracts:

A few years ago—very few—there was a young girl up in New Hampshire, wading through the brooks, climbing trees and tumbling over the clover—half fairy and half gypsy—with no thought except of nature as she saw it. But there came a time when she must learn about things. She was sent to school on Bunker hill, Auburn, N. H., and there she learned a-b ab, to intone the rhyming geography, and to say the multiplication table up and down, cross-way and corner-way. In those days King Solomon's rule for bringing up a child was fully adhered to.

"By-and-by a young man came to the school to teach. He was handsome, with long, straight hair, tall and slim, and received for his labor the devotion of his pupils, the gratitude of parents, $3 a week and his board, no small item in this case.

"Presently sense was discovered in the studies which before had been nonsense to the pupils. To rouse and develop the mind seemed to be the aim of his life, and has been ever since, and enthusiasm was the rule of the school.

"He loved natural history, and many were the class walks in the study of nature. We felt that the master was feeling his way to the better of what was in him. This was Col. Francis W. Parker, and I bring to him not simply a tribute from Quincy, but from the sons and daughters of the old Granite State."

James H. Slade of the School Committee of 1875 was asked to respond to the sentiment: "The finding of the Colonel." He relating considerable unpublished history of the labors of the committee in selecting a superin-

City Council Tonight.

An adjourned meeting of the City Council will be held tonight.

The Committee on Streets will report on orders for electric lights.

The Committee on Finance may also report upon some of the matters before them.

In the calendar are the orders granting the Massachusetts Telephone Co. a location for poles from Neponset to the Braintree line. The transfer of $1,100 received from the A. W. Bryne Construction Co. to the Sewer department; the location of fire alarm boxes, and the ordinances concerning junk shops and dealers.

On the table is the Wollaston Hose house order.

Wages Not Everything.

Quite a number of Quincy stone cutters arrived home this morning from Virginia, where they had secured work. They report making good wages, but they were starved out. The bill of fare consisted of six eggs for a gang of seventeen men. They report having to draw lots to see who would get the eggs for breakfast. They complained to the mistress of the boarding house and Saturday night they were all discharged. As soon as a new gang makes its appearance the old gang is discharged.

Death of P. H. Prior.

The announcement of the death of P. H. Prior, the wholesale fish dealer of T Wharf, Boston, which occurred at his home in Charlestown last Thursday, came as a great shock to his friends and fellow business men. He was widely, and most favorably known, throughout the country wherever the fish interests reach, and his name is familiar to every fisherman along the Atlantic coast from Cape Cod to Newfoundland. He was respected for his strict integrity, and was honored by associates with many positions of trust and importance. At the time of his death he was president of the Union Ice Co., which office he had held during the past fifteen years, a director in the T Wharf Association since its oragnization and president of the T Wharf Herring Company since 1888. He was a man of generous impulses, sympathetic and quick to respond to every worthy appeal, and he will be long remembered by all who knew him for his large heartedness and many kindly deeds.

Mr. Prior was always the friend and champion of the fishermen, and some years ago during the labor troubles, when the crews of the fishing vessels went on strike, it was mainly through his efforts, and willingness to grant them the concessions they asked, that matters were settled satisfactorily between them and the vessel owners. His death has cast a gloom over T Wharf, and the flags at half mast on stores and vessels testify to the great esteem in which he was held by all alike. His loss will be keenly felt by the dealers who recognized his business ability, and appreciated his sound judgment, and the sincerity of his motives in their councils.

The funeral took place at his late residence, 17 Monument square, Charlestown, on Sunday, and was largely attended. The interment was in the family lot at Mt. Wollaston cemetery, Quincy. A beautiful poem was read by request entitled "He will be remembered by what he has done."

Popular with Young People.

Funeral services of Malcolm Graham, twin son of Mr. John R. Graham, were held Sunday afternoon from his father's residence on Washington street. The services were very largely attended, including many young people and his classmates at Amherst school. Rev. Walter Russell Breed, rector of Christ church, conducted the services, and music was by the choir of that church. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston where the commital service was also rendered by Rev. Mr. Breed. There was a very large and handsome display of flowers, including several set pieces.

S. of V., and L. A. S. Notes.

The flag drill and dance to be given by the Sons of Veterans and Ladies' Aid, promises to be highly successful.

The drill is under the personal direction of Miss Gertrude Boyd and will include 50 children from the schools of West Quincy.

At the G. A. R. Camp Fire held in Mechanics' hall, Boston, on April 19, Camp 27 was represented by Captain H. R. Holmes, 1st Sergt. W. I. Holmes and Sergt. of the Gd., M. C. Holmes.

Early in May, Camp 27 of Quincy, 36 of East Weymouth, and members of Reynolds Post, G. A. R. of Weymouth, will take a trip to Scituate, and will be the guests of the Camp in that town. [illegible]

Several new recruits are to be mustered into the ranks of Camp 27 of Quincy next month.

Many Consecrated.

The consecration of the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Mary's church took place Sunday evening in the presence of a large gathering. The consecration of the 150 young ladies was by Rev. A. F. Roche, music being furnished by the choir of the Hingham church. Vespers were sung by Rev. Edward Fagan of Natick, assisted by Rev. Fr. Foley of Quincy, and Rev. Fr. Lynch of East Weymouth. The sermon was by Rev. Mortimer Tooney of Malden. At the close of the services the Hingham choir was entertained by Rev. Fr. Roche.

Dr. Cutting Dead.

Dr. James M. Cutting, Quincy's oldest veterinary, died Sunday, at his residence on Franklin street, after an lingering illness. Dr. Cutting was born in Vermont and came to Quincy a number of years ago and has made this city his home ever since. During the Civil war he served in the Fifth Mass. Cavalry. He was a member of Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R. and Rural lodge of Masons. He leaves a widow, a son and a daughter.

The Illustrated Patriot.

The regular edition of the Quincy Patriot was exhausted before Saturday night, although over 1,000 extra copies were printed. The publishers still have a few [just 147] copies of the "Illustrated Section," which teachers in all parts of the country, and former residents of Quincy would be pleased to receive. They should be ordered promptly before it is too late.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget with the News in a Nut Shell.

It was rather a disagreeable Sunday.

The Milton H. S. nine was defeated Saturday 13 to 8 by the Clover A. C. nine.

The sale of the Yacht Don to a member of the Winthrop yacht club is reported.

Thayer academy defeated Boston Latin at base ball at Braintree Saturday 15 to 2.

Col. F. W. Parker is the guest of his daughter at 135 Addington road, Brookline.

The new steam roller recently purchased by the city arrived at South Quincy Saturday night.

Talbot & Emerson have dissolved copartnership and Henry E. Emerson will continue the business.

The Quincy Granite Quarries Co. meet Wednesday evening to decide whether they will join the Granite Manufacturers' Association.

The Republican State Convention will be held in Boston, Music hall, Thursday at 11 A. M., and the Tenth District convention at Wesleyan hall, Thursday, May 3, at 8 P. M.

J. B. Stewart, superintendent of the Boys' Intsitute, Boston, conducted both serivces, at Calvary Baptist church, Sunday. In the evening he gave a very instructive chalk talk.

Frederick L. Hewitt of Wollaston of the class of 1900 at Boston University will be one of the three representatives of the University in the joint debate with Brown University April 24.

The Lincoln school being overcrowded two classes will be started in two rooms of Malnati's new block. They are airy and close to the school, and again the new block is appreciated

The Old South chapter, D. A. R., will have its May field day at Quincy, and will visit the birthplaces of the Presidents and other historic places. They will be the guests of John Adams Chapter.

Auctioneer Johnson sold at Auction on Saturday the estate of Mrs. Mary Murphy, consisting of a cottage house and about one acre of land on Copeland street, West Quincy, to Peter Fallon for $1,540.

William T. Shea one of the delegates to the National Democratic convention, attended a meeting of the Massachusetts delegates in Boston on Saturday to make arrangements for going to Kansas City.

While the Quincy Teachers' Association was honoring Col. Parker the Eastern Kindergarden association was celebrating the birthday of Froebel, the founder of the kindergarten, with a festival at the Somerset.

Lloyd Jones, of Verchild street, is a lucky man these days. One day last week while cleaning out his cellar he found a very rare Spanish coin dated 1714. Mr. Jones was offered $50 for the coin but refused the offer.

The alarm from Box 45 at 10.28 this morning was for a slight fire in the house of Charles Riley on Hall place, in the tenement occupied by Charles Geddes. The fire started in a closet upstairs among some clothing. The loss was slight.

Co. K will go into camp with the Second brigade July 14 to 20 at South Framingham. All troops will perform duty in campaign uniform, and strict compliance with bill of dress will be required; fatigue cap may be worn when so ordered by regimental commanders.

All efforts this morning to learn the result of the meeting of the Granite Manufacturers in Barre, Vt., Saturday night, to take action on the proposition of the New England Association, were without result. None of the granite men seemed to know anything of the meeting.

Quincy is well represented on the committees arranging for the annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers in Boston tomorrow: John C. Randall on the Entertainment committee, William B. Rice on the Reception committee, and John Shaw on the Finance committee.

TRY GRAIN-O! TRY GRAIN-O!

Ask your Grocer today to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. 1-4 the price of coffee. 15c. and 25 cts. per package. Sold by all grocers.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

NOTICE is hereby given that the partnership lately subsisting between us, the undersigned, RICHARD S. TALBOT and HENRY E. EMERSON, carrying on business at Quincy, under the firm name and style of Talbot and Emerson, was on the twentieth day of April, A. D., 1900, dissolved by mutual consent, and that the business in the future will be carried on by the said Henry E. Emerson alone, who will pay and discharge all debts and liabilities and receive all moneys payable to the said late firm.

RICHARD S. TALBOT.

Quincy, April 23. 2t

THIS WEEK IN CONGRESS.

Questions of Privilege Involving Three Senate Seats Will Recieve Attention.

Washington, April 23.—Under the unanimous consent agreement reached on the 19th inst., the resolution declaring Senator Quay not to be entitled to a seat in the senate probably will be voted on at 4 o'clock tomorrow, and in the meantime several speeches will be made. An intimation has been given of a possible effort to postpone the case further, but if a movement is made in that direction it will be stoutly resisted. It would be an exceptional occurrence if the unanimous consent agreement should be set aside.

After the Quay vote is taken Senator McComas, who has charge of the protest against Senator Scott's continuing to occupy his seat as a senator from West Virginia, will call up the resolution in the senate in that senator's behalf, and ask for immediate consideration. The prospect is that there will be little or no debate on this resolution. The report of the committee on elections on Clark will be made today, and it is the intention of the committee to ask that it be taken up as soon as the Quay and Scott cases are disposed of.

It is expected that a vote will be reached on the Alaskan code bill during the week, an agreement having been practically reached to withdraw the contested amendments and otherwise amend the bill so as to extend the provisions of the mining laws of the United States to Alaska.

The Philippine bill will continue to hold its place as "unfinished business" on the calendar, but it is likely to receive little attention during the week. The army appropriation bill will be taken up as soon as the election cases are disposed of.

The major portion of the time of the house this week probably will be consumed in the consideration of the post-office appropriation bill. The bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the militia of the several states may come up during the week.

The animated controversy in the house over the naval appropriation bill, which began Friday, was not resumed Saturday, and after comparatively brief consideration this important bill was passed, without a record vote. As finally adopted the measure provides two battleships, three armored cruisers and three protected cruisers, and the $545 figure on armor is stricken out.

Shot by Unknown Man.

Woonsocket, R. I., April 23.—Elwin E. Southwick, a carriage maker and wheelwright, was shot by an unknown man at North Smithfield Sunday night, and his condition is considered serious. Just before 10 o'clock Mr. Southwick was called from his house by an unknown man, who said his wagon had broken down and he wished to have repairs made so he could proceed on his journey. When Mr. Southwick had gone some 500 feet from the house, the stranger fired a revolver, the bullet entering Mr. Southwick's stomach just below the right lung. The man then started toward the house, and Mr. Southwick ran after him. Noticing Mr. Southwick in pursuit, the stranger turned and disappeared in the darkness. It is believed that robbery was intended.

The Ecumenical Conference.

New York, April 23.—Nearly every nation in the world is represented at the Ecumenical conference on foreign missions, which has begun its sessions here. Former President Benjamin Harrison occupied the chair as honorary president at the opening sesssion, and the delegates were addressed by President McKinley and Governor Roosevelt. At the opening of the conference there were representatives from every branch of the Christian church, except the Roman Catholic, the Greek and that branch of the Anglican church known as the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel.

Deadly Work With a Knife.

Chicago, April 23.—Laboring under the hallucination that his friends had entered into a conspiracy to kill him, and crazed with liquor, William Aylward, a fisherman, yesterday slashed with a pocket knife the throat of William Larkins, severing the jugular vein and causing Larkins' death within 10 minutes. Then turning on four other occupants of his fishing smack, he lunged at them, cutting Thomas Morris, 18 years old, in the head, and in his frenzy gashing his own hand. Aylward then went to a police station and gave himself up.

One Was Drowned.

Portland, Me., April 23.—A boat containing six young men capsized in the harbor Sunday and Albert W. Jackson, aged 22, was drowned. The others were rescued by seamen from nearby vessels. A sad coincidence was an accident two years ago when the same boat capsized and five men were drowned.

Bullets For His Sweetheart.

New York, April 23.—Because she would not be his wife, Max Golb put four bullets into Gussie Sachs Sunday at her home. A howling crowd chased him for blocks, caught him and dragged him, badly battered, to the police station. The girl, it is believed, cannot recover.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

An unknown bicyclist, riding at a furious pace, ran into Mrs. James S. Benson at Waltham, Mass., knocking her down and fracturing her spine. Mrs. Benson's injuries may prove fatal.

Mrs. Caroline E. Haskell, well known because of her gifts to the University of Chicago and to various charitable institutions of Chicago, died at Michigan City, Ind., where she was visiting friends.

Henry S. Cook, a retired tailor, died at Norwich, Conn., from disease incidental to old age. He was 80 years old. He had been given much newspaper publicity from the fact that he had a beard that reached to the ground.

David Walker, aged 27, while delirious from pneumonia, jumped from a second-story window at Bristol, R. I., striking the ground upon his shoulder. No bones were broken, but it is thought internal injuries will cause death.

Right Rev. William Paret, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Maryland, was married at Baltimore to Sarah H. Haskell of Baltimore. Bishop Paret is 73 years of age, and his bride is 48.

A GOOD WORD FOR THE SULTAN.

General Wallace, Who Had Dealings With Him, Thinks Him a Much Abused Man.

Washington, April 23.—General Lew Wallace, who was minister to Constantinople during the Garfield administration, is in the city. In discussing the present controversy respecting indemnity for the destruction of missionary buildings, General Wallace said to a Post reporter:

"I think I am better acquainted with the Sultan of Turkey than possibly any other American, and I know that he is an honest man, and I never knew him to break a promise. Abdul Hamid is no more to be blamed for the gross atrocities committed and the property destroyed by the Khurds than William McKinley would be if the Apache Indians should go upon the war path and slay the white settlers as they have done in times past. These acts were perpetrated upon the Armenians, but two Americans suffered the loss of a hair.

"The Christians in Turkey are there under the patronage of the sultan, and without his protection they could not remain. There are some 3,000,000 of Greeks and perhaps 4,000,000 of Armenians, who are Christians, and the sultan regards them as his subjects. Without them the Turkish government would fall, for they are the trades people. The Turk is a warrior. Not a Christian church is burned or a mission destroyed, but the sultan is the first man to subscribe to rebuild. I know this to be so.

"Abdul Hamid is a distinguished scholar and a diplomat; if it were not so the Ottoman empire would have been crushed out long ago, for the hand of every ruler in Europe is against him. He prevents them from acting together and thus preserves his throne. He was educated in Paris, and though a Mussulman he has Christian ideas and sentiments. All that Khurds, who are the perpetrators of these crimes against the Christians, have in common with the sultan and the Turks, is that they, too, are followers of Mohammed. They are numerous on the eastern border of the empire and have never been fully conquered by the government."

Requisition Not Asked For.

Frankfort, Ky., April 23.—While the Franklin county grand jury has not adjourned, it is understood that the investigation of the Goebel assassination has been completed. The indictment against Republican Governor Taylor, charging him with being an accessory to the murder, will be held up till after the argument of the governorship contest case, which is docketed for hearing before the supreme court at Washington April 30, and it is said by persons in the councils of the prosecution that no steps will be taken in the case till after that time. The rumor that Governor Beckham had been applied to for a requisition is without foundation.

N. C. A. Adopts New Rules.

Buffalo, April 23.—An adjourned meeting of the board of control of the National Cycling association was held yesterday. Rules were adopted that no motor machine shall be used for pace that shall be more than 20 inches in width excepting handles, except by special permission of the board of control; that all competition records must be made at a continuous race; that dead heats in a professional championship must be ridden off and not decided by lot, and that after July 5 all riders must appear in trunks, the body of which shall be black, on entering competitions.

Highways Under Water.

Bangor, Me., April 23.—The Penobscot is still rising, having reached a higher point than for years. The lowlands along the river are in many places overflowed so as to make the highways impassable, and at the Red Bridge, just above Bangor, the roadway is two feet under water. The reports from up river indicate rather a threatening condition of affairs, although as yet no damage has been done. Should rain fall now the effect would probably be serious.

Sentiment In Favor of Williams.

Boston, April 23.—At a meeting of the delegates from this state to the national Democratic convention, the details of their trip to Kansas City were arranged. George F. Williams of Dedham was elected permanent chairman of the delegation. The mention of Mr. Williams as a possibility for vice president provoked intense applause, but no formal resolutions endorsing any candidate for any office were adopted.

Nobleman Charged With Forgery.

Chicago, April 23.—Comte de Coulouse Lautrec was arrested yesterday at the Auditorium hotel on a charge of forgery. It is charged that the count visited Quebec two weeks ago and forged papers to secure money. The amount of the alleged forgery is not given, but it is said to be large. The prisoner denies that he is guilty of any charge. The police know very little about the case.

Ready For Another Nap.

Montreal, April 23.—Eva Roche, the French-Canadian sleeping girl, who slept for two months, beginning Christmas, is apparently about to go into another of her long sleeps, and at the request of her doctors has consented to be taken to the Hotel Dieu hospital, where electrical and all other treatments will be resorted to to prevent her from going into a trance.

Placed Where He Can't Do Harm.

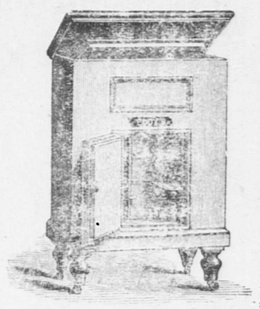

Macon, Ga., April 23.—P. A. Summey, an old Confederate soldier, was sent to the state insane asylum today. In the course of an investigation into his condition it was ascertained that his mind had been wrong for two years, and that his mania was to kill somebody of prominence. At one time he had planned to kill Admiral Dewey.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Almanac, Tuesday, April 24.
Sun rises—4:50; sets, 6:36.
Moon rises—1:53 a. m.
High water—6:30 a. m.; 7 p. m.

Showers have occurred in New England and the lake regions and heavy rainfalls are reported in the southwestern states. The indications are that it will be fair in the interior of New England, with showers on the coast, followed by fair and warmer, with fresh northeasterly winds, becoming variable.

PARKER-QUINCY FAMILY.

tendent, which was replete with humor.

I. Freeman Hall, formerly Principal at Quincy Point and now superintendent at North Adams, was introduced as "One of the Boys of the Family," and responded to the sentiment—"Before, During and After." He claimed that the teachers were still inspired by the work of Col. Parker.

Dr. N. M. Butler responded to the sentiment — "The Family's Country Cousins." He characterized the whole country from the Berkshires to the Philippines as the "wild and woolly West," and spoke facetiously of the good fight put up by Col. Parker, and paid him an eloquent tribute.

MISS MARY E. DEARBORN,
Principal Coddington School.

George A. Walton, Esq., told of the Norfolk County examination of 1879, and the discovery of the fact that the grammar schools of Quincy were 20 per cent. above the average, and the primary schools 27 per cent. The general results had greatly benefited the progress of education.

Col. Parker was introduced as the "Head of the House" and received an ovation. He spoke briefly of his enjoyment of the meetings, which he regarded as entirely impersonal. He was also pleased at the informality. He acknowledged that when he came to Quincy he was the greenest boy that ever lived. To his chagrin he learned that the teachers were not studying education. He had a desire to do something and he pushed ahead. Because of these anniversary meetings he felt his future work would be more careful, more thoughtful and better. They were an experience to him.

Delightful music was furnished during the banquet by the Highland Orchestra of Woburn, which has appeared in Quincy several times under the direction of Miss Minnie Jameson. It was after six o'clock before the banquet came to a close.

THOSE PRESENT.

The speech of Col. Parker at the anniversary meeting in the First church, Friday evening, started in Saturday's Ledger, is concluded below:

We know that the child is good, if he has a chance, an environment of goodness. This knowledge came to us from actual experience. One beautiful incident threw a flood of light upon the child's soul. Little Bumpus, who was blind, entered Mrs. Follett's class of six-year-olds. Without suggestion, the dear little folk put their arms around him and said, "We'll help you." Humanity begets humanity. Children long for something to do, and they love right-doing far more than they love wrong-doing.

The systematic cultivation of selfishness by bribery-per cents. material rewards and prizes—were banished. The dark clouds were cleared away, and a higher motive, a nobler ideal, came into view. The humane treatment of children cannot be brought about by any particular method. It must spring from a deep sympathy, backed by courage and skill. The old-fashioned, stiff, unnatural order was broken up. The torture of sitting perfectly still with nothing to do was ruled out, and in came an order of work, with all the whispering and noise compatible with the best results. The child began to feel that he had something to do for himself, that he was a member of society, with the responsibilities that accompany such an important position.

I might end this description here, for I have told all that is essential. But there are mistaken opinions to correct, opinions that have done much harm. For one thing, we did not banish textbooks; we added to them; change, not banishment, was the order. It was the custom for pupils to read through in a year one little book that a bright, well-taught child can read from end to end in a few hours, providing always that he is not disgusted with the contents. They learned the book, often, by heart from their older brothers and sisters; they would say every word, chant it, sing it, repeat it in their sleep, behold it in nightmares. It did not require much wisdom or even common sense to furnish the children with all the best literature then published. The Committee appropriated $500 for children's reading, and I spent it as best I could. I packed the precious freight of new books into an express wagon and drove from school to school, taking up books and furnishing fresh sets. The flood of literature for schools we have now is not twenty-five years old. The introduction of so-called supplementary reading, now well-nigh universal, and then exceptional.

The spelling book was laid upon the shelf. Spelling was learned by the Quincy children in the same way that the human race learns to talk, by writing correctly and continually. Language was learned as it always must be learned, by using it correctly. Technical rules came in where needed. The alphabetic method was consigned to oblivion in obedience to commands from the highest educational authorities The outcry against this defiance of nature had gone up for hundreds of years.

Learning by heart condensed and desiccated statements in geography and history was to some extent eliminated. Geography began with the real earth, and "mud pies" were introduced. I remember an old beehive-stand just back of the Coddington school. The stand furnished tolerably good legs and frame work. The top had been taken off and a molding table put thereon. With sand and images of continents we imitated the bees.

The Committee said, "Three R's only," and I echoed it, with the mental reservation that some day, please God, the children should have better nutrition than formal teaching. They should have the great book of the Creator, and learn from it that "day into day uttereth speech, and night unto night showeth knowledge." A naturalist took the principalship of the Willard school. He brought specimens of stuffed birds. One day Charles Francis Adams and G. Stanley Hall were visiting the school. On request, the principal brought in a stuffed duck which the pupils had never seen. I asked the children (it was the third grade) to write about the duck. They went at it with a will, and their slates were soon filled with good writing, correct spelling, and withal excellent thought. The visitor watched the work with interest. Mr. Adams turned to me and said, "You are teaching natural history." "No, I replied, "this is language. So it was, with a bit of thought behind it.

The criticism was made on all sides: "The children are amused and happy; they love to go to school; but do they learn? Can they spell? And so on." Many of you may recall the Norfolk County Examination. George A. Walton (no better man could be found), under the direction of the Norfolk County School Committee, examined the schools of the county town by town. The examination was in the so-called essentials, the three R's, geography and history. John Quincy Adams gave $500 to have specimens of penmanship, number work, and composition lithographed. The results were published in a pamphlet. Figures gave the per cents. town by town. The towns were lettered A, B, C, etc., so that no one knew the particular towns so lettered. The pamphlet created a sensation. Many declared that the examination was not fair. They were astonished at the results. Later on an edition of the report came out, with the names of the towns given in full. Quincy had by far the highest per cent, and led in everything except mental arithmetic, and in that it stood third or fourth. This is the first time, so far as I know, that the foregoing statement has ever been made in public.

We learned that children may be happy, may love to go to school, may never have a prize, reward or per cent., and still learn. In fact, the reason why students manage to escape knowledge is that knowledge and skill are made the sole aims and bribery the means of learning.

I might fill hours recalling the memories of Quincy and its schools, but to what end? The apparent success of the movement is easily explained. There was the opportunity, a faith, a spirit of work, an enthusiasm to find better things for God's little ones. The outcome cannot be explained by methods, devices and systems, by tricks of the trade, or by particular ways of doing things. What we did in Quincy was nothing new; it came directly from the great authorities on education. What we did is now well-nigh universal; but the mere following of authority however good, does not always count for progress, repetition of devices does not necessarily bring improvement.

We stand today at the beginning of an educational movement that means the salvation of the world, and its elements are faith, spirit, open-mindedness, and work. The teachers are not reponsible for what wrong ideas may exist, nor can school committees be justly blamed. The common school was born of the people, it is supported by the people, and its faults are found in the people. The people must demand, and they will receive; they must knock, and it shall be opened unto them. We are bound by tradition, by mediæval ways and deeply rooted prejudice. The good that has been done is simply a foretaste of what is to come. Our ideals are low. The future demands an education into free government, a strictly American education, an education to meet the demands of these times, with their world-problems that are weighing us down and the ever increasing duties of citizenship.

I repeat not by the guns of a Dewey or the battalions of Roberts or Kruger must these problems be worked out, but in the common school, where the quiet, devoted, studious, skilful teacher works out the nature and laws of life, complete living, and the rightousness that is to be.

At the conclusion of the speeches, Hon. John Shaw moved three cheers for Col. Parker, and led in the demonstration.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

Rebels Apparently Gaining Ground.

Kingston, Jam., April 23.—Advices from Colombia say that Bocas Del Toro, Panama, is in possession of the rebels. Last Friday the government chartered a British steamer at Colon to take troops to Bocas Del Toro, where an important battle is expected. With Bocas Del Toro in the hands of the rebels, Colon is practically threatened. There are good grounds for believing that Baranquilla will soon be taken.

HERE AND THERE.

Local Brevities of the City of Presidents.

Miss Viola King has been the guest of Mrs. Charles Safford of Clive street, the past week.

Miss Marion MacLeod of Wollaston returned Saturday from a visit in Marlow, N. H.

Quite an item appeared in the Sunday Post about the haunted house on Myrtle street, Atlantic.

Another break in the Yacht Racing Association of Massachusetts seems probable, as the four Hanley boats now building at Quincy have been ruled out of the 25-foot class. Trouble is with the cabins.

Mr. R. D. Gordon of Washington, street, who went to the Bamudas for his health several months ago, returned this morning much improved. He is looking finely and his many friends will be pleased to know that his trip was a success.

The water department is laying a pipe from Hancock street to the ball ground at Merrymount park. A supply of water to drink on the grounds will be appreciated by ball players as well as by the owners of pumps in the neighborhood, from which the supply of drinking water has heretofor been obtained.

At the men's meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon, Dr. J. H. Banks, late, U. S. Counsel at Bagdad, gave an address on the "Excavation of Babylon." It was a fine address and was largely attended. Dr. Bank exhibited a book 6,000 years old, and a clay plug, with an inscription on it, taken from one of the early temples.

TODAY'S COURT.

The continued case of William T. Hope of Weymouth for breaking and entering and the larceny of eggs was called.

Hope was also arraigned for breaking and entering the building of S. D. Shapleigh at Weymouth, and the larceny of goods valued at $3, and for entering the building of Howard F. Shaw and the larceny of an axe valued at $1.50. He waived examination in the lower court and was held in $900 for the grand jury.

John Coyle and Arthur Blanchard of Weymouth were fined $10 each for unlawfully having smelts in their possession.

Patrick Smith and Kog Hendrickson were fined $5 each for drunkenness at Quincy.

Cora Orpins was fined $5 for drunkenness at Braintree.

J. Harvey Dudley was arraigned for violation of the town by-laws at Milton. Case continued next Saturday.

William Grant was fined $5 for disturbing the peace at Quincy.

☞If that report of the joint legislative committee on the judiciary abolishing capital punishment in this commonwealth meets with favorable consideration, there will indeed have been furnished cause for rejoicing. As a crime deterrent capital punishment has signally failed.—Haverhill Gazette.

"Housework is hard work without Gold Dust"

To Clean Matting

Few things can be used to clean matting; salt and soda have been used, but experience has taught that the best way is to have the matting thoroughly swept, and then go over it with a solution of warm water with dissolved in it; it is best to use a woolen cloth; a tablespoonful of Gold Dust Washing Powder to a quart of water is the proportion; wring the cloth almost dry and rub quickly, but the moment the water gets dirty, change it for fresh; then follow the wet cloth with a dry one. This will clean it perfectly.

Gold Dust Washing Powder

HEMMED IN BY FIRE.

Lumbermen and Settlers In Manitoba Are In a Most Perilous Position.

Five Hundred Persons Believed to Be Entrapped.

Relief Train Which Started to Break Through Flames Has Not Been Heard From.

Winnipeg, Man., April 23.—Many lives may have been lost in forest fires that are burning for miles along the Southeastern railway tracks. A delayed regular Southeastern mixed train reached this city with about 25 passengers, mostly lumbermen, who have been working in the different camps. They confirmed all reports as to the serious nature of the fire.

The fire started Tuesday last, but for several days it burned slowly. Thursday evening the wind rose and the flames gained headway at an astounding rate. Before many hours the fire was sweeping a strip three miles wide and destroyed everything before it. Some idea of the fierceness of the flames may be gathered from the fact that the water tank at Vassar siding was destroyed, though it was of metal and was filled with water.

The country from La Broquerie, 50 miles down the line to Warren, Minn., a distance of 75 miles, is known to be in the grasp of the fire, which is sweeping the forest in all directions, fanned by a strong easterly wind, and the number of human beings entrapped is estimated at fully 500, composed chiefly of scattered settlers and men employed in the lumber camps. No messages have been received since 9 o'clock Saturday, when the operator at Wood Ridge, 10 miles this side of Vassar, reported that the special train bearing Buchanan and Keith's men and railway officials had been within four miles of Vassar, and was driven back by flames.

From stragglers who have escaped they learned that 100 teams, with all camping outfits, had been abandoned, and that the men have scattered for their lives in all directions. One hundred thousand ties and 10,000 cords of wood were burned, and the camps were completely encircled by the raging flames. The special train had just left on another trial to try to break through the flames and attempt additional rescues.

Since that time no word has been received, and the officials conclude that Wood Ridge is burned and the train entrapped. The forest along the track is dense, and retreat is impossible.

A rescue train with a strong force of men, doctors and supplies was despatched at noon, and reached La Broquerie safely. Beyond that the whole forest is a mass of flames, and advance is impossible, as the track is burned and the retreat of the special train is cut off. All wires are down, and no news whatever can be obtained.

A settler from Vassar reached this city last evening, having left home Friday morning, abandoning his belongings and managing to escape through the woods on foot. He reports the whole country for miles in flames, and it is almost certain that many lives are being sacrificed, but the gravest fears are entertained that loss of life among the lumbermen will be severe, and the railway officials do not deny that the special train is probably doomed.

Rescue parties are being organized, and will start at once in wagons for the scene, to attempt to rescue the settlers and stragglers. The fires have been burning for some days in various quarters, but were not considered serious until the strong wind of Thursday night fanned the flames and united detached fires within one tremendous circle of destruction.

Disturbers Have Departed.

Croton Landing, N. Y., April 23.—So far as the strikers were concerned Sunday was an exceedingly quiet day in Camp Roosevelt. It was feared that Saturday night would be a lively one because the contractors had on Saturday paid to the strikers nearly $30,000 due for wages, but there was not an incident of an exciting nature. Nearly all of the men who gave any trouble and incited their fellows to disorder have either gone away or are under arrest.

Frenchmen Can't Get Bait.

St. John's, April 23.—The season for taking bait fish opened Thursday, several American schooners securing supplies of herring. The French fishermen of St. Pierre are making desperate efforts to obtain supplies of bait that would enable them to open the spring fishery on the Grand Banks, but the colonial cruiser Fiona is patrolling the bait grounds to prevent this. The French are bitterly indignant.

Murdered by Footpads.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 23.—While Joseph Hildner and his mother were on their way home last night they were halted by two men, who ordered them to throw up their hands. The mother started to run across the street, her son following, but when he reached the middle of the street two shots were fired and he fell dead with a bullet through his heart.

Many Sufferers From Strike.

Chicago, April 23.—Starvation has become a factor in the building strike. Prsident Carroll of the Building Trades Consul estimates that 1000 workmen are in actual want, and that, with their families, 4500 persons are now in the acute stage of suffering as victims of the strike. The labor leaders are making plans for relief.

No Sign of Settlement.

Piedmont, W. Va., April 23.—On the surface the strike of the coal miners of the Piedmont district seems no nearer a settlement than it was a week ago. The labor leaders are making strenuous efforts to hold the strikers in line and with apparently fair success.

EIGHTY THOUSAND MEN

Estimated Strength of the Fighting Force of South African Republics.

Probable That Rundle Has Fought a Decisive Battle.

Boers Are Said to Have Half Encircled Bloemfontein to the Eastward.

London, April 23.—Dispatches arriving from the seat of war, though meagre and unsatisfactory, clearly indicate renewed activity at all points where the British and Boer forces are within striking distance of each other.

The Lorenzo Marquez correspondent of The Times, under Saturday's date, says: Information received from respohsible sources shows that at one time the two republics had 105,000 men in the field, including the colonial rebels. According to the same informant, they can still muster 80,000, of whom 50,000 are in the Free State, 10,000 in the Biggarsberg district, and 15,000 in the districts of Fourteen Streams and Klerk's Dorp. It is now believed that, before the war, the burgher lists were deliberately falsified, in order to deceive the British intelligence department.

Without attaching undue importance to the stories from Lorenzo Marquez concerning the strength of the Boer forces, it would almost seem that the former estimates of 60,000 were rather low.

It is quite probable that by this time General Rundle has fought a decisive battle with the Boers. He entrenched himself Saturday, to await the arrival of General Campbell with the Sixteenth brigade. That commander arrived Saturday evening, and news may, therefore, be expected at any moment.

It is still impossible to ascertain the position of affairs at Bloemfontein, or to learn when the long-expected advance northward will begin. The dispatches conflict regarding the state of the preparations. For instance, the Bloemfontein correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says that the troops have been supplied with winter clothing, and that the Modder river has fallen sufficiently to permit cavalry to cross. The Standard's representative says almost the exact opposite. Present indications, however, point to still further delay.

During the last few days there has been a renewal of Boer activity in all parts of the theater of war. The tenacity of the enemy around Colonel Dalgoty proves that considerable forces are still there. Lord Roberts has ordered Lord Methuen to retire from Bostof, probably for the same reason. The presence of a Boer force at Frankfort looks like an intention to endeavor to cut off Methuen, who may be heard of as retiring upon Kimberley.

The Boers are said to half encircle Bloemfontein to the eastward, in a crescent formation. There have been several outpost affairs in that vicinity.

The 11th division, under General Pole-Carew, and the Fourth cavalry brigade are operating toward Sanna's post.

In Natal there is no diminution of Boer activity.

The Boer peace commissioners are understood to have been disappointed by their visit to The Hague, but to be determined to visit Berlin and Paris before going to Washington.

A dispatch to The Times from Jammersberg, dated Saturday, says: The Boers are displaying renewed activity. Five guns were used freely today from four new positions against ours. Rifle fire from the south and west was heavy and continuous. Officers and men are on duty day and night in the trenches; and the heavy rains of late have made their task a great feat of endurance and pluck.

Safely Towed Into Port.

Halifax, April 23.—One of the most successful tows of the list of disabled steamers, or "lame ducks," which are annually assisted into this port, was completed yesterday, when the crew of the British steamer Sir Garnet Wolsley gave three cheers for Captain Evans of the steamer Runo, whose ship had towed the Wolseley 850 miles, occupying nine days, to Halifax. The tailend shaft of the Wolsley broke in the middle of the Atlantic at 9:30 p. m., Thursday, April 12, rendering her entirely helpless. Heavy weather was encountered by the two ships.

On the Diamond.

Philadelphia, April 23.—Errors by the Bostons and opportune hitting by the Philadelphias won Saturday's game for the home team. The contest was devoid of sensational features.

Logs Broke Loose.

Biddeford, Me., April 23.—The breaking of the main boom in the Saco river, a short distance above this city, Saturday night, set free over 3,000,000 feet of logs and seriously endangered the bridges below. A big jam has formed, but it has been made fairly secure with hawsers. The river is at freshet height.

He Killed Two Men.

Frankfort, Ky., April 23.—Ex-Congressman David G. Colson, who has been on trial here for four days for the murder of Lieutenant Ethelbert Scott and Luther W. Demaree, was acquitted Saturday evening. The jury was out only 18 minutes. The verdict was received with cheers.

A New Gold District.

Victoria, B. C., April 23.—Australian advices chronicle the discovery of rich placer ground at Wedderburn, Victoria. John Boyd, the first man to stake ground, unearthed a 61-ounce nugget at 22 feet deep.

STRATEGY OF BOERS

Enables Them to Generally Have Guns Where They Want Them.

Strong Body Resisting the Relief of Wepener.

British Advance and Seize Leeuw Kop, After Some Heavy Fighting.

London, April 24.—The British forces under General Rundle and General Brabant are gradually converging on Wepener. From the few particulars that are published concerning General Rundle's engagement on Saturday, however, it does not seem that he was able to do much more than maintain the position from which the Boers had been driven on the previous day.

The strong body of reinforcements which Lord Roberts sent to assist the relief of Wepener and to endeavor to envelop and cut off the Boers from a retreat northward furnishes further evidence that the Boers are assembled in much larger forces around Wepener than had hitherto been supposed; and, as The Times in an editorial this morning remarks, whatever may be the difficulties of roads and rains, the Boers always appear to have guns, and sometimes big one, where they want them.

A Boer dispatch, dated Thabe N'Chu, April 20, says that a fresh supply of cannon and ammunition has reached General De Wet at Jammereburg drift. It also asserts that one of Colonel Dalgety's guns has been smashed.

Apparently the British captured Paarde kraal Sunday night. The Boers evacuated Leeuw kop during the night, removing the guns, and the British occupied the kop in the morning.

Although the Boers appear to be offering stout resistance to the British advance, their position is dangerous. They can scarcely delay further their retreat northward, without incurring the risk of being cut off. Usually they have been well informed regarding the British plans, and they are not likely to run such a risk, especially as they have partially accomplished their object in drawing large forces from Bloemfontein on long marches, and have delayed the advance on Pretoria.

The war office late last evening issued the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfontein, Monday, April 23, 2:50 p. m.:

"Yesterday I dispatched the 11th division under General Pole-Carew and two brigades of cavalry under General French from this point to assist General Rundle. The force reached Karriefontein without much opposition.

"Casualties reported: Welsh regiment, private killed, Captain Frothero mortally wounded and seven men; Yorkshires, eight wounded; Eighth Hussars, one killed, one wounded; Fourteenth Hussars, one wounded; Royal artillery, two wounded; Seventh Dragoons, Lieutenant Jenkins and 10 men missing. Captain Rotten, Royal artillery, broke an arm by a fall.

"General Pole-Carew's mounted infantry seized Leeuw kop, a high hill a few miles north of their last night's position. The enemy evacuated hurriedly, leaving some rifles and ammunition.

"General Rundle reports that 25 men of the First Worcesters are missing. Fifty-three were sent out with wood to an outpost after dark, and only 18 returned. Their numbers and names will be reported today, as well as four wounded yesterday."

The war office has given no explanation of the apparent discrepancy in the figures as to the men from the Worcester regiment.

A Bloemfontein dispatch says that Colonel Alderson's corps of mounted infantry, consisting of the first battalions of the First and Second Canadian regiments and Strathcona's horse, was engaged in the operations of General Pole-Carew and General French. Alderson had undertaken to drive the Boers from their line of defense south of the waterworks. The Canadians sustained a heavy fire. The Boers shelled Alderson, who made a marching movement around Leeuw kop, on the extreme left of the Boer position. When the British battery opened fire the Boers removed the gun. Leeuw kop was found exacuated this morning. General Dickson's cavalry brigade, which made a wide detour to the left, found its further progress barred by a strong Boer position.

St. Petersburg papers announce the departure for South Africa of a body of aeronauts, to organize a military balloon service for the Transvaal. They took the necessary balloon and accessories with them.

General Sir Charles Warren has been appointed administrator of Bechuanaland. He sailed yesterday for Cape Town.

Railroad Tracks Under Water.

Colebrook, N. H., April 24.—The water has not been so high in this section since 1876. The Maine Central railroad track from Colebrook to Beecher's Falls is partially submerged, and no trains have been running for a week. The bridge across the Connecticut river between Lancaster and Guildhall, Vt., has settled so as to be partly under water, and no logs can run until it is repaired. The water is still rising.

MILLIONS ARE DYING.

A Large Portion of India Is Without Food For Man or Beast.

Calcutta, April 24.—In some parts of India the natives are in revolt. They are crazed by hunger. Millions are dead or dying. Natives have begun to attack Europeans, and it is feared that if they ever break loose a reign of terror will follow.

There is a plague among the cattle as well as among the people. There is food for neither man nor beast. The dying cattle are unfit for food, for they are simply diseased skeletons when they die.

The latest official reports from the famine districts say that the misery existing there is indescribable and unparalleled, and that the present relief is quite inadequate. They add that the mortality among the cattle is also so severe that the authorities are trying to adapt farm implements so that human power can replace that of bullocks. Such a drastic measure has never before been necessary, even in the greatest scarcity of animals.

It is also announced that the natives are developing ugly feelings and are attacking Europeans.

A great crowd murderously attacked a party of soldiers at Shahpur, the military center of the northwest provinces. The soldiers were rescued with difficulty and in an unconscious condition.

One district lost 1,000,000 cattle out of 1,300,000 head, and almost numberless human beings were found dead from starvation.

In addition, children were found wandering in all directions, homeless, naked and emaciated, and cases were reported of children being sold.

The official reports fully confirm the worst stories of the terrible nature of the distress.

Referee's Decision Caused a Row.

New Haven, April 24.—"Professor" Frank of Philadelphia, who refereed boxing bouts at the rink Monday night, was mobbed at the close of the final bout when he gave Joe Bernstein of New York the decision over "Kid" Conroy of this city. The men put up 15 rounds of fast fighting and a draw was looked for. When the referee made his announcement more than 50 of the spectators jumped into the ring and were venting their displeasure on Frank in a most emphatic manner when the police interfered. The referee and Bernstein were taken to the railway station under police protection.

Appeal Dismissed by Supreme Court.

Washington, April 24.—Chief Justice Fuller yesterday handed down the opinion of the supreme court in the case of Captain Oberlin M. Carter, dismissing his appeal from the decision of the circuit court for the southern district of New York. The effect of the decision is to leave in force the decision of the circuit court refusing to interfere in the sentence of the court-martial, which sentenced Carter to five years' imprisonment. Carter is now at Governor's island awaiting the result of this proceeding.

The Strongest American Student.

New Haven, April 24.—The records made by Charles Carver of Chicago, a Yale sophomore, in the intercollegiate strength test competition are the highest ever made at Yale and probably at any American college. He scored a total of 1754 kilograms in the gymnasium Monday, following out the regulation tests of the intercollegiate competition. Carver weighs 175 pounds and stands a trifle taller than six feet. He has just attained his majority.

Remembered His Native Town.

Boston, April 24.—It is announced that Patrolman Isaiah S. Robinson of division 2 of the police deportment, who died Sunday, leaving a fortune estimated at about $55,000, has bequeathed $40,000 to Gilmanton, N. H., his native town. It is to be used for good roads, the income to be expended each year for this purpose. The remainder of the fortune is divided among his friends and relatives.

Millionaire In Sheriff's Custody.

New York, April 24.—George W. Hull, said to be a millionaire mine owner of Arizona, who is wanted by the Rhode Island authorities for alleged perjury in connection with the suit of his wife for divorce, was remanded to the custody of a detective yesterday. He will be taken to Albany, where the matter of his extradiction will come up before Governor Roosevelt.

Count Lautrec's Troubles.

Chicago, April 24.—The Bank of Nova Scotia has brought suit in the superior court against Count Toulouse de Lautrec, who was arrested here, charged with having sold forged bonds in Canada, for the recovery of $1500, alleged to be due the bank. Bail was fixed at $5000. Not forthcoming, the count was locked up.

Remey Relieves Watson.

Washington, April 24.—According to cable advices to the navy department, Rear Admiral Remey assumed formal command of the Asiatic station at Yokohama last Friday. He hoisted his flag on the Brooklyn and relieved Rear Admiral Watson of the command of the naval forces on the Asiatic station.

St. John's Mystery.

St. John, April 24.—The inquiry into the manner in which Charles Moore and Peter Managan, the two fishermen who were found drowned in their boat Sunday morning, was started last night. The autopsy showed that the lungs of both men contained water, and they were undoubtedly drowned.

A LOSS OF MILLIONS,

Hundreds of Farms In Louisiana and Mississippi Devastated by Floods.

Bridges and Railroad Tracks Are Swept Away.

Many People In Waterbound Towns Reported on the Brink of Starvation.

New Orleans, April 24.—The flood situation in Mississippi and Louisiana is growing worse, for heavy rains have fallen continuously in many sections. Every railroad in eastern and northern Louisiana has been tied up for days, and in Mississippi the tracks and bridges have been washed away to such an extent that there have been no through trains on any of the main lines for a week. With this state of affairs staring the people in the face, additional rains have fallen in the last two days, resulting in many more track slides along the Illinois Central and other roads. The property loss amounts to millions of dollars, for the farms have been devastated all over the storm-swept district.

Hundreds of farms have been devastated. Five hundred bridges have been swept away, and it is estimated that at least 2500 miles of fencing are down.

Late reports to the weather bureau show that heavy precipitation has been general within the last 12 hours throughout the flooded district. It was estimated last Saturday that $3,000,000 worth of private property had already been destroyed, and it is now thought probable that this damage will be heavily increased. Mail and telegraphic communication has been destroyed between the smaller towns in Mississippi and Alabama south of Jackson, the northern limit of the flood. Many farmhouses have been swept away, the occupants barely escaping with their lives, and the drowning of a family of seven negroes is reported from Jackson, Miss.

Around Columbia, Miss., every railroad and wagon bridge is reported washed away and first crops are a total loss. At Enterprise, Miss., the water stands five feet in the houses and stores. At Meridian, Miss., the water is reported at six feet in the streets and still rising. Timber and buildings are reported destroyed at Ellisville, Meridian, De Soto and through the bayou Pierre district in Mississippi, and numerous small points in Alabama report great damage.

Trains on railroads into New Orleans which have not been abandoned entirely are running only in the daylight, owing to the dangerous condition of the tracks. The Louisville and Nashville, New Orleans line, which was in fair condition until Sunday evening, is now cut in two by the destruction of a four-span bridge over the West Pascagoula river, near Scranton. Arrangements have been made to ferry passengers across the break. Many people in the small waterbound towns of Mississippi are reported on the brink of starvation.

Part of City Under Water.

New Orleans, April 24.—One of the heaviest rain storms of the season occurred here during Sunday night and New Orleans was flooded. In some sections of the city water covered streets and sidewalks, and rafts had to be used to reach street cars. The city is suffering commercially as a result of the Mississippi floods and the crippled condition of four railroad lines entering New Orleans.

Floods Cause Desperate Situation.

Meridian, Miss., April 24.—Additional rains have added gravity to the flood situation in the surrounding country. The situation in several towns which are water bound is growing desperate. Food supplies are running short and relief is nowhere in sight. Reports from the interior begin to come in, showing the devastation. Farmers are abandoning farms as worthless.

Family Perished In Flood.

Jackson, Miss., April 24.—John Horton, a negro, his wife and five children were drowned in the backwaters of Pearl river while trying to escape from the flood. Their cabin had been inundated and the family was endeavoring to escape in a wagon when the vehicle fell through a broken bridge.

Of Interest to Manufacturers.

Boston, April 24.—The national convention of manufacturers begun its sessions in this city today. The convention is more or less technical in its nature, and the subjects it will consider are more or less abstruse to the public who are consumers and not manufacturers.

Gift of $150,000 For Library Building.

Brunswick, Me., April 24.—At a meeting of the faculty of Bowdoin college, President Hyde announced that General Thomas H. Hubbard of New York, Bowdoin, '57, had presented the college with $150,000, to be used for the construction of a new library building.

Jumped From Hospital Window.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 24.—Samuel B. Ferguson, 73 years old, jumped from a window of the Bridgeport hospital, Monday evening, about 24 feet from the ground. He died almost immediately. Mr. Ferguson's wife was burned to death last Friday night.

A New Cure For Diphtheria.

Good Afternoon.

Ex-Gov. Altgeld and ex-Senator Dave Hill have been holding secret conferences. Verily, there are breakers ahead of the Bryan boat.

Senators do not appear to regard the idea of electing Senators by direct vote, which has for the second time been approved by the House, as a good thing.

Secretary Long, who was recently as far west as Colorado, says he found plenty of enthusiasm for Admiral Dewey as the hero of Manila Bay, but absolutely none for him as a Presidential candidate.

We see nothing amiss in the Democratic demand that Dewey pledge himself to support the nominee of the Kansas City Convention, and its platform, before his name is presented to that convention as a candidate. If he objects to making that pledge, he should not go before that convention.

That leaders do not always control in Congress is well known to close observers. The latest proof that they do not is the announcement that the House will take up the Nicaragua Canal Bill May 1, and vote upon it the next day. In this case the leaders were wise enough to accede to the polite request of 250 members of the House and change their plan of postponing the Canal Bill until next winter. They knew that it was in the power of those 250 members to force compliance with their wishes at any time they might see fit to do so. The passage of the bill is a foregone.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ It is dangerous for heroes to live too long. They are almost sure to prove themselves only common clay if they do.—Beverly Times.

☞ Lord Roberts makes complaint that the Boers abuse British prisoners, but how about the transportation of Gen. Cronje to St. Helena, and the setting to watch over him a regiment of blacks? Is that the usage which should be given a distinguished prisoner of war. After all it makes a vast difference whose ox is gored.—Haverhill Gazette.

☞ With our friendship for Japan and the way our trade with that country is developing, it will be difficult to arrange a treaty so as to prevent Japanese immigration to this country without wounding the sensibilities of the country of the mikado, and possibly setting back materially our commercial interest there. Nevertheless, it looks as though something will have to be done to shut out such immigration, just as the Chinese are shut out.—Brockton Times.

☞ There can be no doubt that the rapid increase now in process in these industrial amalgamation is having its effect upon the otherwise hopeful influences that are enhancing the value of legitimate investments. The surpising magnitude of these new creations causes conservative men to halt and ask what is to be the outcome of the wave of speculative organization that is spreading over our industrial system? Their eye is upon this cloud in the horizon, and not a few cautious men are disposed to stand still until they are more satisfied with the industrial outlook.—Henry Clews.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

The Electric Street Lights to Burn until 1 A. M.

Some Timely Communications from Mayor Hall.

Would Protect City Against Metropolitan Sewage.

What little business there was to come before the City Council Monday night was transacted with dispatch. Councilmen Johnson and Elcock were the only absentees.

JURORS DRAWN.

Assisted by City Clerk Cleaves and Councilman Gassett the Mayor drew the following jurors: Alfred L. Meade, Stephen E. Wilson, Edward Hardwick.

SEWER OUTLET.

The Mayor suggested the appointment of a committee to act with the executive in protecting the city's interest in relation to the outlet of the Metropolitan High Level Sewer in Quincy. Referred to the Committee on Sewers and Drains.

P. O. BUILDING.

The Mayor in a communication stated that Congressman Naphen had informed him that a vote of the City Council would be of great service in obtaining a government building in Quincy. Referred to Committee on Public Buildings.

GAS RATES.

The Mayor suggested the employment of assistant counsel in his efforts to get lower gas rates. Referred to Committee on Finance.

TO SELL STOCK.

The Mayor requested authority of the City Council to sell the shares of the Old Colony railroad held by the town of Quincy. Laid on the table until later when an order was passed giving the Mayor and City Treasurer authority to transfer or sell 148 shares of the above stock.

PETITIONS.

Several petitions for minor licenses and State aid were received and referred.

CENTRAL AVENUE.

A petition was received from Wollaston, asking that Central avenue between Propect avenue and Belmont street be laid out for public travel. Referred to Committee on Street.

WATER STREET SIDEWALK.

A petition was received from South Quincy asking for a concrete sidewalk on Water street, between Franklin and Quincy street.

Laid on the table until later when the original order was taken from the table and recommitted with the petition.

INTERVALE STREET.

A petition was received asking that Intervale street be laid out as a public way. Referred to Committee on Streets.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE.

Several reports of the Committee on License were received and adopted.

The Committee on Ordinances reported favorably on the order assessing abutters for permanent sidewalk. Passed to be ordained.

The same committee reported favorably on the location of street lights. Passed to be ordained.

The Committee on Streets reported an order apportioning the sidewalk assessment of Annie McGowan on Franklin street. As there was some question whether the time for such request had expired the order was recommitted.

The Committee on Streets reported an order granting the Electric Light Co. locations for poles on Grand View avenue, Taylor street and Lincoln avenue. Ordered to a second reading.

ELECTRIC LIGHT CONTRACT.

The Committee on Finance reported an order authorizing the Mayor to renew the contract with the Electric Light Co. for three years, with the amendment that lights shall burn until 1 o'clock and shall be turned on in case of fire in the district of said fire. The price of arc lights to be $75 per year, and of incandescent lights $18.50 per year. Adopted.

MOTIONS, ORDERS, ETC.

Councilman Gasset offered an order appropriating $1,800 for the construction of gravel sidewalks under the betterment act, on Botolph and Clive streets. Referred to Committee on Streets.

Upon motion of Councilman Hultman the order relating to the reorganization of the Fire Department was taken from the table and referred to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

COMMITTEE CHANGE.

Councilman Cleverly offered an order amending Rule 23 of the rules of the City Council, changing the Committee on Public Buildings from five to six members: That of Fire Department from five to six and that on Ordinances from three to four; that the Committee on Legislative Matters be abolished and the members of that Committee assigned to some other Committee. Referred to a special Committee, consisting of President Bryant, Councilman Cleverley, Freeman and Faxon.

CALENDAR.

The order transfering the $1,100 received from the A. W. Bryne Construction Co. to the appropriation for construction of Sewers and Drains was passed.

The order locating fire alarm boxes on Quincy avenue and Station street took its second reading and was passed.

The ordinances relating to junk shops and drivers of junk wagons and wagons used for the collection of junk took their second reading and were passed.

Councilman Nicol moved the Mayor's appointment of a Registrar of Voters be taken from the table.

Councilman Hogan hoped the matter would lay over another meeting.

The motion to take from the table was lost.

Adjourned 8.15.

A Magnificent Plant.

A rare and beautiful plant may be seen at one of the Quincy conservatories. The Globe says in its department of plants and flowers: The plumieria is a magnificent house plant, introduced from the West Indies, and yet but rarely seen this side of the National botanical garden in Washington. In the private conservatory of Mrs. A. B. Packard at Quincy the writer saw it in all its glory. It is the famous frangipani of the West Indies, from the flowers of which are produced the world renowned perfume introduced by Lubin. Charles Kingsley writes of the plant: "Then we admired the frangipani, a tall and almost leafless shrub, with thick fleshy shoots, bearing in this species white flowers, which have the fragrance peculiar to certain white flowers—to the jessamine, the tuberose, the orange, the gardenia, the night blooming cereus." The flowers are borne in masses like the oleander. There is a variety (rubra) with flowers of a dark pink.

Southworth—Van Duyn.

Mr. E. Frank Southworth formerly of Quincy and Miss Gertrude Van Duyn were married on Thursday, April 19, in Syracuse, N. Y., at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. Southworth has a responsible position in that city as the representative of Ginn & Co., the publishers. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Southworth, of Greenleaf street, and they attended the wedding accompanied by Messrs. Stacey Southworth, Delcevare King, Herbert Barker and R. S. Atkins.

Blaze at West Quincy.

The alarm from Box 46 at 5.55 this morning was for a fire in a building on Copeland street near the West Quincy depot, occupied by James McDonnell as a billiard room. The fire which started from some unknown cause, had worked up through the partitions and did $200 damage before it was extinguished.

TWELVE TO THREE

Powder Point Nine Started in Well but Adams Won Easily.

The strong batting of the Adams Academy boys was the feature of the base ball game at the Park, Saturday, with the club from the Powder Point school at Duxbury; hits were bunched, and Bennett and Boyd made splendid catches. The full score:

Ice Rates.

The Boston Ice Company, the largest distributers of ice in Boston, have just issued their price card for the coming season. The family or retail rate is as follows,—100 pounds for 25 cents, 50 pounds for 15 cents. Wholesale rate by carload,—12 1-2 cents per 100 pounds. Every pound of this ice comes to Boston by railroad, either from North Chelmsford or New Hamphire. It is understood that the ice dealers of Quincy will charge 60 cents per 100 pounds the coming season.

TODAY'S COURT.

Felix Camboria was arraigned for the larceny of a piece of water conductor from Peter McIntyre at Milton. He was found not guilty and was discharged.

Martin Bigelow was arraigned for disturbing the peace at Quincy. Case continued until May 1.

The continued case of Charles Moor for breaking and entering and the larceny of an awning and peanut roaster from Jessie Milton at Quincy was heard and he was discharged.

The last week of April.

Next Tuesday will be May day.

Mr. Young and family formerly of Billings street, have moved to Roxbury.

Miss Mary E. Geer of Portland, Me., has been visiting friends in West Quincy.

Sherman I. Gould of Portland, Me., has been visiting friends in West Quincy.

Miss Lena Berry of Charles street, entertained Boston friends Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bassett of Lexington spent Sunday with friends at West Quincy.

Mrs. E. C. Chase of Appleton street gave a lunch Friday in honor of the Botolph street whist club.

A second edition of 2,500 copies of the illustrated section of last week's Quincy Patriot is being printed.

Col. A. B. Packard and wife, Mrs. M. J. Whittemore and Hon. W. N. Eaton left Monday for Washington, D. C.

Solemn high mass for the late Mrs. Patrick Garrity will be celebrated at St. John's church, Thursday at 8.30 A. M.

Councilman McLennon observed his 42d birthday Monday, and also the twentieth anniversary of his arrival in Quincy.

The scraper is doing good work on the streets of Atlantic, as they were in a bad condition and needed a spring cleaning.

The Whomsoever Mission Band of Wollaston will give an entertainment in the vestry of the Congregational church one evening this week.

Mr. P. Cogan and family of Boston formerly of Atlantic, buried their eldest child of four year Tuesday. They are soon to move to New York state.

Thomas Hurley one of the young men who was drowned in Dorchester bay Monday night was once a resident of Atlantic, and known to many Quincy people.

The hearing on the charges made against J. E. Keniley, Inspector of Plumbing, by G. B. Bates, will open to night before the Board of Health in the City Council chamber.

Charlotte M. Frost of Boston, who claims to have been the first new teacher engaged by Col. Parker after he came to Quincy, was among those at the anniversary meeting, April 20. She taught in the South Quincy district in the old Stone school house on School street.

The Squantum Yacht club had a busy day Sunday despite the April showers. There were boats being painted, boats being scraped for varnish, boats being cleaned, boats being launched. Happy is the man who can hear the organ voluntary in the rap-tap-tap of the hammer and the paint brush.

Bay View, L. O. L., paid a fraternal visit Monday evening to Brockton L. O. L., to witness the work of the second degree, performed by Brockton Staff. The barge left Brockton at 12 o'clock arriving at Quincy at 2 o'clock, and in spite of the disagreeableness of the weather the members all felt well paid, owing to the proficiency of the degree work.

The estate, formerly belonging to J. E. Drew of Atlantic, has been sold and extensive repairs will be made upon the house shortly. This looks encouraging for Walker street, as Mr. Henry Kolseth, who owns the adjoining lot, is making preparations for an excellent lawn, on a spot where last year, rank grass and uncared for trees gave the land a rusticity which is not becoming to a highly civilized community.

Brooks—Damon.

Mr. Charles Hartwell Brooks, one of Quincy's well known business men, and Miss Fannie Alice, daughter of Mr. Amos E. Damon, were united in marriage Monday evening at the residence of the bride's parents on Edward street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward Norton. The wedding was a quiet affair, only the immediate families being present. The bride, who was unattended, was gowned in a mouve travelling dress.

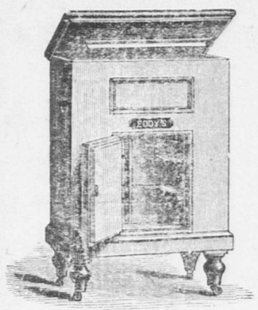

After the ceremony, the wedding party drove to the Adams house, Boston, where a wedding supper, was served. The bridal party left for a brief trip. Upon their return, they will reside at 102 Washington street, where they will be at home after July 1.

THE OLD AND NEW.

A Quincy Pupil Writes in Appreciation of Col. Parker.

Quincy, April 6th, 1900.

My dear Mr. Lull:

You want to know how it seemed to the pupils when Col. Parker was here among us, whether we realized that we were specimens in a pedagogical labratory or not, and what we learned? It is a pleasant task you assign. The memory of those days is very vivid. Three years of unmitigated monotony under the old regime made me keenly appreciative of the new.

If any one word can accurately describe a pupil's life in the Quincy schools from 1875 to 1880 that word is happy all the time. School was one long joy. It was the alertness of the life that made it so joyful. Every moment was full of doing and thinking. Bossuet somewhere speaks of Athens as "A city in which mind, in which liberty —— —— give new spectacles each day," and that is what school was to us who were pupils then.

Were we to learn about peninsulas and islands in our geography lesson? Who of us had ever gone to Nut Island at dead low tide, and stayed too long—and what had happened? Immediately, linked to what we already knew, made interesting alike by its newness and its oldness, a lesson unfolded itself which in its discoveries and its conclusion was to be ours forever after. I can remember as though it were yesterday, the delight we each felt in adding, bit after bit, from our own experience to some lesson, and then when the summing up came, in finding that we knew something we had never known before. Elders used to cross-examine us as to how we learned without books. We could not explain how we did it, but we were all very sure that we did and that every day added to our knowledge.

The arithmetic was the pride of our school. Two or three years of the multiplication table and the old primary arithmetic had brought us to the grammar school counting upon our fingers and utterly incapable of applying the rules which we had learned. Judicious drill upon the combinations and an appeal to our reason, however, worked wonders in a few months and the time devoted to arithmetic was always eagerly anticipated. Our "committee-man" was (and is) an accomplished mathematician, the Colonel was not above puzzle-problems himself, in those days (however he may feel about them now) and excitement during the arithmetic hour ran high. We never learned a rule, but I can truthfully say that in a life which has had much contact with business, the arithmetic of those days has always served me well, and the lack of formal rules has never once been an inconvenience to me. Looking back I can see that it was the fashion of conducting the lesson which made it so pleasurable. Everyone worked, everyone thought, everyone contributed something toward the success of the lesson, the laggard of yesterday felt power within him today, the failure of today had a chance for tomorrow. No one was neglected; it was everybody's lesson.

Language was a new thing in those days. We wrote a good deal, usually about experiences of our own, or a subject connected with some lesson, and we had constant opportunities to hear each others productions read aloud. Day after day the unexpected happened and some pupil developed power in some new direction, power which was always respected and fostered. Perhaps the ever present sense of accomplishment was the most marked element in our language work. We learned no grammar until we reached the High School but we had systematic instruction in the correct use of English, instruction which has served us well in the after time.

Col. Parker himself was very closely related to our whole school-life. He knew us all by name, and just what each of us could do best. Sometimes, into the orderly strife and the happy excitement of a lesson he suddenly entered, and his entrance was always the signal for the sharpening of wits, for questions which set us thinking, often for days, were sure to follow. We always had a sense that everything we were doing was done for him. Often we wrote in answer to his special request, and often he spoke to us about papers of ours which he had seen.

The spirit of our teachers must have been ideal because, although I can remember many disputes concerning knotty points in the lesson, between superintendent and teacher, and many occasions when a five minute visit from the Colonel changed the program for a day or a week, I cannot remember one look or word in all those years which hinted to one watchful pupil that either superintendent or teacher deemed the other less than perfect. We never felt that our teacher was subject to criticism, but only that Col. Parker wanted to urge us forward to something yet more difficult.

Ceaseless mental activity, the joy of doing constantly, unbounded admiration for and faith in our teachers, and a feeling that the superintendent could do no wrong and was the personal friend of each of us; all these together make up a memory which gives to those of us who are teachers an ideal to strive for though seldom to attain. Compayre says "One often becomes a teacher through recollection of his personal education" —— one often tries to!

Hoping that these few fragmentary memories may serve your purpose, I remain,

Yours most cordially,
MABEL ELLERY ADAMS.

MR. BIPIN CHANDRA PAL.

A lecture will be given in the Universalist church on Friday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, by Mr. Pal.

He is a very fluent and eloquent speaker, and although an Hindo his pronounciation of English is remarkable for its purity, and being a man of great culture his addresses are full of instruction, as well as being interesting from a literary point of view.

He is a thoroughly educated gentleman, and is having a wonderful success in this country. Hon. W. S. of Caine, England, say: "He is one the most eloquent men I ever heard on the temperance platform, drawing and charming enormous audiences. He is a man about 35 years of age, of fine prepossessing appearance and of high culture and attainments.

The lecture is free, but a collection will be taken for benefit of the speaker.

Worsted Making Resumed.

Pawtucket, R. I., April 24.—The worsted department of the Lorraine mills resumed operation Monday, after a shutdown of three days, as the mill was making yarn faster than it could be sold. The striking weavers secured the balance of the money due them, and they are gradually leaving town, at least 150 having already secured employment elsewhere.

Bombarded a Hotel.

Plattsburg, N. Y., April 24.—Enraged by jealousy, Corporal Harry Matthews, stationed at the barracks here, proceeded to the Lake View hotel and fired 125 shots with an army rifle at the building. Stella Hamilton was shot in the arm. Matthews then shot himself through the head, killing himself instantly. He had been infatuated with Miss Hamilton for some time.

But Two Vessels Unsuccessful.

St. John's, April 24.—The last three ships of the sealing fleet arrived last night, the Diana with 11,000 seals, the Nimrod with 4000 and the Kite with 500. The latter two are the only ones of the entire fleet whose takings will not pay their expenses. On the whole the fishery has been unusually successful.

Officers Couldn't Find Him.

Middleboro, Ky., April 24.—County officials who went to the home of Berry Howard with a warrant for his arrest on the indictment for the assassination of William Goebel failed to find him at his usual place of residence in the mountains.

The Magazines.

The coming total eclipse of the sun, due in the United States on the morning of the 28th of May next, will very probably materialy advance our scientific knowledge of this strange phenomenon. An article directly in this line—giving a general account, of the history of eclipses; what has been discovered by their aid, and what yet remains to be elucidated; how they may best be observed by one not equipped with a telescope; the features of special interest to be watched for, and the various times and places where the totality may be seen—is published in Appleton's Popular Science Monthly for May. A number of maps and diagrams add very much to the clearness and interest of the article, which is written by Prof. F. H. Bigelow of the United States Weather Bureau.

Amicable Settlement Probable.

Washington, April 23.—Ali Ferrough Bey, the Turkish minister, had another conference with Secretary Hay Saturday, which, in his opinion, tended still further to enhance the prospect of a complete and amicable settlement of the disputed American claims upon Turkey. The minister expressed the belief that the negotiations respecting the American claims were fast nearing a satisfactory conclusion.

CORRUPT PRACTICES

Render Clark's Election Null and Void, According to Senate Committee.

Vote on Quay Case to Be Taken This Afternoon.

Appointments of Treasurer and Auditor of Porto Rico Have Been Decided Upon.

Washington, April 24.—Senator Chandler, from the senate committee on privileges and elections, yesterday submitted to the senate the report of that committee, in the case of Senator Clark of Montana. The report is comparatively brief. It does not rehearse the testimony, but simply presents the findings of the committee and its reasons for its course. The finding of the committee is stated as follows:

"The finding of the committee is that the election to the senate of William A. Clark of Montana is null and void on account of briberies, attempted briberies and corrupt practices by his agents, and of violations of the laws of Montana defining and punishing crimes against the elective franchise."

In view of this finding the committee reports and unanimously recommends the adoption by the senate of the following resolution:

"Resolved, That William A. Clark was not duly and legally elected to a seat in the senate of the United States by the legislature of the state of Montana."

The committee states that its finding is made in view of certain admitted or undisputed facts, with their attendant circumstances, appearing in the testimony taken by the committee.

A two days' debate on the right of M. S. Quay to a seat as a senator was begun almost immediately after the senate convened yesterday. For months the case has been pending in the senate, and from time to time senators have discussed it, but until yesterday the debate has been desultory in character. Today, at 4 p. m., under a special order, the case is to be disposed of. Under the special order all subsidiary motions will be in order at and after the time of the expiration of the debate. A direct vote on the proposition to seat Mr. Quay may not be taken immediately after the close of the debate. How the senate will vote on any of them is a matter of speculation.

The house yesterday entered upon a consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill, and the general debate, which closed with the adjournment, was devoted largely to discussion of pertinent matters.

A meeting of the cabinet was held yesterday, the president having returned from New York for that purpose. The Porto Rican civil government occupied most of the two hours taken up by the meeting. The president, with the aid of his cabinet officers, is trying to secure men of prominence for the positions in the island. If the bill pending in congress to allow army officers to continue their positions is passed, the president will be in no haste about the appointments, but if this bill threatens to hang fire he will have to make the appointments by May 1.

At least two of the appointments are to be made now. These are treasurer and auditor for the island. Secretary Gage and Secretary Root have, it is said, decided on men for these positions. A native Porto Rican is to be nominated as treasurer, while an American who has been serving in the island is to be made auditor. He is understood to be an attache of the treasury, who has demonstrated ability and cleverness in his work in the island.

The president had a careful canvass made of the Americans living in the island with a view of considering the wisdom of appointing a number of them to places. It is likely that a good many of these will be honored when the appointments are all made.

Attorney General Griggs is endeavoring to find for the president some prominent lawyers in this country who will accept judicial places under the new bill. The salaries are so small that few lawyers of note can be found to consider the positions.

The effort to collect from Turkey the claims of the United States was brought up by Secretary Hay, who told of the negotiations to this time. His statement made the cabinet hopeful that a settlement can be secured at an early date, although the members realize it is a hard problem to solve.

Another matter briefly discussed was that of additional pay allowed a few army officers in Cuba. Attorney General Griggs had been asked if any law had been violated. He reported that there was no violation of law, and that the action taken was warranted.

Two Boston Men Drowned.

Boston, April 24.—Thomas Hurley, aged 20, and Frank Halloran, 24, were drowned in Dorchester bay Monday by the overturning of a boat. Cries for help were heard by some members of the Old Colony Yacht club, and assistance was at once sent. Edward McDonald was found clinging to the overturned boat, and he was taken ashore. He was taken to the city hospital and has not recovered consciousness. His chances of recovery are slight.

Looking For Smuggled Chinamen.

Worcester, Mass., April 24.—George Lee, a government employe, was in this city yesterday searching for smuggled Chinamen. Lee is trying to locate five Chinamen, alleged to have entered the United States from Canada. A tour of the local laundries did not result in any capture.

On a Trip to Canton.

Washington, April 24.—President and Mrs. McKinley left here last night for a visit of several days at Canton, O. They will inspect the work which has been in progress on their Canton home, and return to Washington, probably Friday.

FINE PITCHING BY WILLIS

Enabled the Bostons to Capture Final Game of the Series With Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, April 24.—Willis and Orth were the opposing pitchers in the final game of the series with Boston, and it was mainly the effective work of the visiting twirler, with men on bases, that was responsible for the defeat of the home club. Ten hits were made by the locals, and seven of them were scattered through the first eight innings. In the ninth, singles by Thomas and Flyck, and a lucky three-bagger by Slagle gave the Philadelphias two runs, but when they had men on bases in the earlier innings Willis had them at his mercy.

Bay State Legislature.

Boston, April 24.—The house of representatives, by vote of 74 to 49, yesterday declared in favor of extending to the veterans of the Spanish-American war the exemptions from the restrictions of the civil service regulations, which are now accorded to veterans of the Civil war, and for giving the former preference after the latter in the making of appointments.

A bill to permit Ipswich to pay $3000 to Postmaster George P. Smith, injured while assisting an officer in making an arrest, was passed to be enacted. A singular coincidence was the death of Smith at about the time the governor affixed his signature to the bill.

Taylor Returns to Washington.

Washington, April 24.—Governor Taylor of Kentucky, who has been for several days in New York, returned to this city yesterday. He admitted that he had conferred in New York with Republican leaders about his case. He prefered, however, not to go into any details regarding the conferences. From intimate friends of the governor it is ascertained that he has not received any information regarding the indictment charging him with being an accessory to the murder of Mr. Goebel, which it is rumored had been brought against him by the Frankfort grand jury.

Man and Wife In Hospital.

Philadelphia, April 24.—Mrs. Lillie Kuhn, wife of former State Senator Kuhn of Richmond, Va., was found in the side yard of a boarding house shortly after midnight this morning with her head and face badly lacerated, one leg broken and her body badly bruised. She was removed to a hospital, where her husband, with his throat badly cut, was also sent under the guard of two policemen. He is under surveillance on suspicion to await the result of his wife's injuries. The affair is wrapped in mystery.

Sultan Shows Signs of Yielding.

Washington, April 24.—The state department has no official confirmation of Associated Press dispatches from Constantinople announcing the sultan's irade permitting the rebuilding of the American mission property at Kharput. The news was received with considerable satisfaction, however, being regarded by officials as a friendly act on the part of the sultan and possibly an earnest of full and final settlement of the indemnity claim.

Foreigners' Lives In Danger.

Paris, April 24.—A special dispatch from Pekin says: Chinese opposition to the "open door" policy is growing, endangering foreign capital and the lives of foreigners. Russia is most feared, and America is least disliked, because least aggressive. The Manchus are losing military power. They are now only 3,000,000 out of 350,000,000, and they only retain their ascendancy by keeping the people in ignorance.

Creditors Left to Mourn.

Albany, April 24.—An army of creditors, among them proprietors of some of the largest shoe houses in Massachusetts, are here to try and save something from the wreck of Adam J. Burke's shoe business, which is in the hands of the sheriff. Burke, whose liabilities are estimated at $60,000 in excess of the value of stock in the store, is missing and cannot be found.

Died From Fractured Neck.

New York, April 24.—Frank Nicholi, the acrobat, who sustained a fracture of the neck while attempting to do a triple somersault act in the Dewey theatre last Thursday, died in Belleveue hospital last night. Nicholi had been operated on by several physicians.

Two Thousand People Homeless.

Tampico, Mex., April 24.—Telegraphic advices state that Panuco, the most important trading post on the river of that name, was destroyed by fire. Two thousand people are homeless. The majority of them are coming to Tampico for shelter. The property loss is heavy.

Grieved Over Mother's Death.

Milford, Mass., April 24.—Miss Elizabeth Roche, 23 years old, took her life by drowning in a small pond near the entrance to Vernon Grove cemetery. Monday. Miss Roche had mourned the death of her mother some years ago.

Victories For Mexican Troops.

Oxaca, Mex., April 24.—General Bravo's Mexican troops have had several severe engagements recently with the Maya Indians in Yucatan and the rebels have suffered a heavy loss in killed and wounded.

Despondent Hatter Kills Himself.

Danbury, Conn., April 24.—William Welby, a hatter, 40 years old and unmarried, killed himself in his father's barn, by shooting through the heart with a shotgun. Welby had been despondent.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Almanac, Wednesday, April 25.
Sun rises—4:48; sets, 6:37.
Moon rises—2:24 a. m.
High water—7:30 a. m.; 8 p. m.

In the middle and east gulf states rains have been followed by clearing weather. In the New England states fair weather will prevail, with fresh northerly winds.

CUBAN CABINET WILL NOT RESIGN.

General Rivera's Colleagues Consider His Action Unwise and Insulting.

Havana, April 24.—The members of the cabinet called upon Governor General Wood yesterday and informed him that, after long consideration, they had decided not to resign because of the recent declaration of the secretary of agriculture, General Rivera, that Cubans of all political classes should join in a demand upon the United States government to fix a time limit for the American occupation. The secretaries assured General Wood that they regarded the remarks of their colleague as unwise and as insulting to the American government, adding that when a man in the position of General Rivera adopted such an attitude he was doing great harm to the cause of Cuba.

General Wood has not yet received General Rivera's resignation, but, according to General Rivera's assertions, the letter of resignation has been written and will be delivered at once.

Senor Tamayo, secretary of government, commenting upon the situation, said: "The action of General Rivera has greatly embarrassed the other secretaries. He had no right, as a member of the cabinet, to issue such a letter. Had he expressed his views to the representative of a newspaper there might have been some room for doubt; but, having clearly and categorically declared his position there was no way of undoing things. In my own opinion the present time is most unfavorable for the raising of any governmental issues, especially as the elections are just coming on."

Rivers Running Through Highways.

Hanover, N. H., April 24.—The streams hereabouts are rising rapidly and rain and warm weather north of here for the next two or three days will cause a good sized freshet. Already the water in the Connecticut is within about one foot of the height reached by the big freshet three years ago. In many places the freshet has overflowed and covered miles of meadow, and in other places the highways are rushing rivers. The current is already undermining the banks and walls of houses, and boat houses, sheds and barns have been carried away.

Kid Was Willing to Make a Sacrifice.

New York, April 24.—The patrons of the Hercules Athletic club of Brooklyn were treated to a disappointment last night. Kid McPartland and Dal Hawkins were billed to box 25 rounds at 135 pounds, but Hawkins refused to go on, as McPartland was overweight. McPartland weighed in at 138 pounds, while Hawkins made the required weight. The kid was anxious to go on and said he would be satisfied in case he won to take the loser's end of the money, but Hawkins would not consent.

To Appear Before Grand Jury.

Rutland, Vt., April 24.—Marvin A. McClure, who is said to be mixed up in the embezzlement of Cashier Mussey of the Merchants' National bank, was given a hearing on Monday before United States Commissioner Johnson. The charges against McClure are larceny and embezzlement and aiding and abetting Mussey in his misuse of the bank funds. McClure was held for the federal grand jury, which will come in May 15. He was remanded to the custody of the United States marshal.

Disastrous Forest Fires Feared.

Minneapolis, April 24.—Unless a heavy rain speedily visits the Cass Lake region, the fires now raging in the "toppings" will extend to the standing timber, inflict losses which will run into the tens of millions of dollars. The fire is confined to the stumpage and boughs, the old cutting of the past two winters. Log owners are greatly alarmed. Everything is as dry as tinder. The streams have dried up, and everything favors a most disastrous forest fire.

Thought to Be a Case of Smallpox.

Worcester, Mass., April 24.—Norah Donohue, 23 years old, a native of Ireland, was taken to the pest house Monday, under suspicion of having smallpox. Miss Donohue was a steerage passenger on the Dominion line steamer New England, which arrived in Boston last Friday. She sailed from Queenstown April 13, and immediately after landing came to Worcester.

No Place For Agriculturists.

New York, April 24.—About a dozen colonists from the Cuban land and steamships' colony at La Gloria, Cuba, arrived here yesterday on the steamship Olinda. They gave expression to bitter feelings against those who had induced them to go to the colony, where they had suffered continual hardship. The place, they declared, is not suitable for an agricultural settlement.

Gunboat Explosion and Loss of Life.

Constantinople, April 24.—News has been received here from Beyrout, Syria, to the effect that the Turkish torpedo boat Schamyl blew up in that harbor April 21, resulting in the loss of 23 lives.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

James T. Beauregard's drug store at Holyoke, Mass., was gutted by fire of suspicious origin. The loss is estimated at $3000.

A stubborn fire of unknown origin broke out in the Opera House block at Burlington, Vt., and the dry goods stores of N. L. Chamberlain and E. E. Clarkson, with the carpet department of L. P. Wood, were considerably damaged. The loss is $30,000.

Rev. George J. Bloomfield, for nine years pastor of the Weedon Street Congregational church of Pawtucket, R. I., has resigned to accept a call to the First Congregational church of Machias, Me.

The Marcy House, one of the historical landmarks of Amesbury, Mass., will be placed under the supervision of the Daughters of the Revolution, who will preserve the antique furniture and other relics in the house.

The total exports of saltpetre from Chili during the last three months has exceeded 6,000,000 quintals.

Professor Rene de Poyen-Bellisle, instructor in romance philology at the University of Chicago, was found dead in his apartments. Death was the result of heart disease.

Plague-infected rats have been found at the Brisbane, Auckland and Melbourne wharves.

A Spotless Skin

And a clear complexion are desired by every woman and admired by every man.

Eruptions, pimples and similar blemishes are caused by an impure condition of the blood. These skin blemishes are permanently removed by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which thoroughly purifies the blood and cures the cause of the disease.

"For about one year and a half my face was badly broken out," writes Miss Carrie Adams, of 116 West Main St., Battlecreek, Mich. "I spent a great deal of money with doctors and for different kinds of medicine, but received no benefit. At last I read one of your advertisements in a paper, and obtained a bottle of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Before I had taken one bottle of this medicine I noticed a change, and after takiug three bottles I was entirely cured.

DOGS MUST BE LICENSED On or Before APRIL 30,

Or the Owners or Keepers thereof

LIABLE TO A FINE!

Extracts from the Laws of this Commonwealth.

Every owner or keeper of a dog of three months old or over shall annually on or before the THIRTIETH DAY OF APRIL, cause it to be Registered, Numbered, Described and Licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city or town wherein said dog is kept, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

An owner of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of the ensuing May; and a person becoming the owner or keeper of a dog after the first day of May, not duly licensed, shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided in the preceding section.

The fee for every license shall be two dollars for a MALE and five dollars for a FEMALE dog.

Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit FIFTEEN DOLLARS, five dollars of which shall be paid to the complainant and ten dollars to the treasurer of the county in which the dog is kept.

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number of dogs so kept exceeds five, the fee shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper, under the age of six months.

Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed, which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day in April in any year, shall, whenever it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May, as provided in Sec. 80 of Chap. 102 of the Pubic Statutes, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

NET AROUND WEPENER.

But One Loophole Through Which the Boers May Advance to Ladybrand.

Intimation That They Will Again Escape Capture.

Reports From Mafeking Show the Garrison to Be In Desperate Straits.

London, April 25.—Lord Roberts has now spread a net with some 40,000 or more men, and 150 guns, covering the whole western semi-circle around Wepener; while General Hamilton has occupied the waterworks, practically without opposition.

The reports that the siege of Wepener had been practically raised were apparently premature. The Boer attack upon Colonel Dalgety's northern position, as described from Maseru, was probably a final attempt to rush the garrison before securing a safe retreat; and as Colonel Dalgety successfully repulsed the attack little further anxiety is felt on his account.

Lord Roberts has now spread a net with some 40,000 or more men, and 150 guns, covering the whole western semi-circle around Wepener; while General Hamilton has occupied the waterworks, practically without opposition.

The seventh division, under General Tucker, assisted by naval guns, has made a demonstration from Karree Siding, the Boers showing some opposition. At the same time a brigade moved out from Glen to take up a position on a range of hills at Gennaadenale, north of the Modder. The waterworks were found undamaged, with the exception of the removal of the striding valves of the pumping engines.

The Boers can only escape, without risking an encounter, northward to Ladybrand; and the chance of a successful outcome of the plans of Lord Roberts depends on whether the British troops can reach Thaba N'Chu and Ladybrand before the retreating commandoes from De Wets Dorp and Wepener.

All the correspondents report that the roads are in a terrible condition, which accounts for the slow progress of the British columns; and, if the Boers are as well informed of the British plans as they have hitherto been, they are likely again to escape.

It is now within three weeks of the date predicted for the British occupation of Pretoria; and, although the present operations, as suggested in some quarters, may be the beginning of the main advance, it is not certain that they will not entail a further halt at Bloemfontein.

The Cape Town authorities have already listed the names of 12,000 alleged rebels in Cape Colony and Natal.

The Daily News has the following from Lourenzo Marquez, dated Monday, April 23: The American ambulance returned here Saturday night with the flags, on the way to New York, being dissatisfied with its treatment.

Lady Sarah Wilson, in a dispatch to The Daily Mail from Mafeking, dated April 8, says: Our bread is now made entirely of oats and is full of husks. This causes much illness. There are many cases of nervous prostration and malarial typhoid among the garrison. The news of the check to the relieving column is a terrible disappointment. Last Friday 33 natives issued forth to recover some cattle which had been looted by the Boers. They were betrayed by unfriendly natives to the Boers, who surrounded them while they were sleeping and shot them all but one, giving no quarter. One escaped to tell the tale. The natives are now mad for revenge, and it will be very difficult to control them. The bombardment continues. Our casualties to combatants up to the end of March aggregated 368 in killed and wounded.

The Mafeking correspondent of The Times, telegraphing April 9, gives a gloomy account of the depression due to the probability of the siege lasting until the end of May, and says that it is hard to accept Colonel Baden-Powell's efforts to cheer the people by optimistic predictions.

PHILIP SCULLY'S TROUBLES.

Warrants Out For Two Men Who, He Claims, Seriously Injured Him.

Fall River, Mass., April 25.—Philip Scully arrived here yesterday from Providence, and, after consultation with his counsel, F. A. Peace, they swore out warrants against Deputy Sheriff Charles A. Graham and Borden Manchester on the charge of assault. The alleged assault was committed last Saturday at the Scully mansion in Fall River, when Scully claims that he was forcibly ejected from the house and received serious injuries.

Graham says that he is in no way responsible for any act of Manchester's, as the latter was not employed by him, as has been stated. Manchester had been hired by Mrs. Scully, and he had called in Graham, as deputy sheriff, to assist in installing Mrs. Scully in her house, she having vacated it and hired her hostler's house, while her husband was being cared for in the mansion after his return from the west. Graham says he did not lay hands on Scully, other than to take a revolver from him while he was being held down by Manchester.

The warrants still remain in the office of the clerk of the district court, not having been served, but both men have been notified to appear in court.

Mrs. Scully still refuses to be interviewed. It is understood that Sheriff Hadfield has served a writ on Dr. Nathaniel B. Borden, on behalf of Scully, claiming $50,000 damages for alleged alienation of his wife's affections.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Almanac, Thursday, April 26.
Sun rises—4:47; sets, 6:38.
Moon rises—2:55 a. m.
High water—8:30 a. m.; 9 p. m.

The barometer continues low over the western states from the Rio Grande valley to the British Northwest territory, and local rains have occurred from the Mississippi valley over the middle and northern Rocky mountain districts. Showers have also occurred in the South Atlantic states. The temperature changes have been unimportant. The weather will continue fair during Wednesday in the middle Atlantic and New England states, with fresh northerly winds.

Hardy Roses,

CLEMATIS, JAPAN IRIS!

The best varieties of Hardy Roses, of exquisite texture and color and fine fragrance, blooming throughout the summer; the Japanese Rosa Rugosa in white and red; Crimson and Yellow Ramblers, climbing roses of remarkably rapid growth and great beauty; Clematis in many varities: Clematis Jackmanni with striking purple flowers of long bloom, C. Mme Andre with flowers a dark red, C. Paniculata, covering the front of the house in a few years with fragrant blossoms; the Japan Iris, the most brilliant of all flowers, with blossoms 10 inches across in varied hues; the Japanese Snowball, superior to the common snowball, the dark glossy green foliage forming a fine contrast to the white flower balls; Spiraeas of many kinds, notably the Spiraea Van Houttei, a mass of white bloom in June, the foliage becoming brilliant in fall; Hydrangeas, so effective in groups; the Paeonia, that old favorite grown popular again—found in new colors, pink and white masses with fine fragrance; Rhododendrons. Good Afternoon.

While wage-earners are on strike and receive small pay the salary of the labor leader and agitator continues.

An excess of $50,000,000 a month in exports over imports is a pretty good fovorable trade balance to carry on our national ledger.

The next measure to be taken up for consideration in the Senate is the Frye shipping bill. Its passage by a large majority seems assured whenever a vote can be reached.

It is worthy of note that all the meetings of the City Council of Quincy are called to order promptly at the time designated. This is in marked contrast with some other cities. In Brockton Monday evening the board of aldermen were called to order forty minutes late.

Representative Sprague appeared before the Committee on Street Railways of the Legislature in advocacy of the general bill relative to the joint use of tracks. By a plan exhibited it was shown that the cars from Brockton, Quincy and Hyde Park could run to the Dudley street station at the south end of the Boston Elevated Company's overhead service.

Drift of Opinion.

☞The most creditable candidate for vice president yet mentioned by republicans is Secretary Long. He has had an extended and always honorable connection with public affairs. He has character, capacity, experience. He would make a respectable president in the event of his succession to the office.—New York World.

☞Spain has installed a new cabinet without creating any ruction but the names of Duputy De Lome an Polo Y. Bernabe do not appear in the list of those awarded portfolios. And, by the way, that is a reminder that the American public hasn't been informed recently as to where those two worthies are picking their teeth nowadays.—Lynn Item.

Lost Boy Found.

The young son of Commissioner of Public Works Knowlton wandered away from his home on Spear street Tuesday afternoon. He was not missed until 3.30 o'clock, and a search in the neighborhood failing to find him, the police were notified, and officers were sent out to look for him. Shortly before 5 o'clock, Chief Engineer Williams found the boy near L. M. Pratt & Co.'s store on School street, and took him in his carriage to City Hall.

☞At the Universalist vestry this evening, April 25, a supper will be served by the ladies at 6.30; to be followed by an entertainment with the following talent: The Ladies' Schuman Quartette; Mrs. A. H. Hall, reader; Mr. John Green, baritone; Mr. Alfred Bowker, tenor; Miss Emma Bates, mandolin; Miss Bates, piano.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Outside Room Rented in Lincoln District.

Coddington and John Hancock Over Crowded.

Lunches to be Served at the High School.

At the meeting of the School Committee Tuesday night Messrs. Hallowell, Merrick, Smith, Dion, Hunting and Miss Adams were present.

Dr. Hallowell was elected chairman pro tem.

BUILDINGS CROWDED.

Dr. Hunting spoke of the crowded condition of the Lincoln school, and said that relief had been obtained by renting a store in the Malnati block, the price for which would be $20 per month. There were thirty-five children accommodated there.

Miss Adams reported the teachers' room at the Adams building completed and that it filled a long-felt want.

Dr. Hallowell spoke of the crowded condition of the John Hancock and Coddington schools, but it had not been considered absolutely necessary to go out of the building, although some of the rooms had 72 pupils.

Dr. Dion reported what had been done at the Willard to relieve that school.

The matter of extra compensation for janitor Shirley of the Lincoln school was referred to the Finance Committee.

Several applications were received for the position as janitor of the Cranch school.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Mary L. Wade was granted permission to serve lunches at the High school, under the direction of the Superintendent. Upon report of the sub-committee on text books, several English text books were adopted for the High school.

TRANSPORTATION.

The matter of additional transportation for the pupils of Houghs Neck and Germantown was referred to the sub-committee.

DIPHTHERIA.

During the session, the Board of Health entered the room and informed the School Committee in relation to diphtheria at West Quincy, and that they had decided to close the school until May 7.

The financial report showed the expenditures to date to be as follows:

Salaries,	$23,175 88
Fuel,	69 50
Janitors,	1,599 45
Transportation,	269 70
Books, supplies, Sundries,	2,521 57
Evening Schools,	433 64
	$28,060 74

RANDOLPH MURDER.

Two Quincy Men on the Jury Trying W. J. Young.

Quincy has two representatives on the jury at Dedham which is trying W. J. Young for the murder of Benjamin F. Coolbrath at Randolph Sept. 9, 1899, as will be seen by this panel: Robert J. Teasdale of Quincy, David Wood of Hyde Park, W. H. Wales of Franklin, John Russell of Quincy, Arthur A. Pond of Franklin, Charles F. Crooks of Bellingham, Charles G. Brackett of Millis, Silas P. Blodgett of Hyde Park, Charles L. Haskell of Needham, G. Lester Hollis of Weymouth, John E. Hartshorn of Norwood, and Arthur L. Ide of Norwood.

Mr. Wales was appointed foreman.

District attorney Harris addressed the jury on their duty in the case. In a concise manner he related the facts of the alleged crime.

The case is tried by Judges Bond and Aiken. A. P. Worthen, Esq., appears for the defence. The witnesses are admitted to the court only while testifying.

Flag Drill.

A flag drill and dance under auspices of Francis L. Souther camp, Sons of Veterans, and the Ladies' Aid, was held Tuesday evening at Hancock hall. The flag drill was performed by twenty school children under the direction of Miss Gertrude A. Boyd. The children were dressed in white and each carried a small American flag. At the close of the drill each child repeated the oath of allegiance to the flag. Following this there was a dance, the floor being in charge of Herbert A Holmes.

WILLARD CLOSED.

Because of the Prevalence of Diphtheria at West Quincy.

The Willard school was closed this morning for two weeks upon the order of the Board of Health, on account of the prevalence of diphtheria among the children of West Quincy. There have been a number of cases of diphtheria among pupils of that school but instead of decreasing the disease seems to be spreading, several new cases being reported Tuesday.

According to the Board of Health there are now twenty cases at West Quincy, among the pupils of the Willard school, as well as one of the assistant teachers. Scores of others have also been exposed, so, as a matter of precaution, it was decided by the Board of Health Tuesday night to close the school, which seems to be a wise move considering that there are nearly 900 pupils in this building.

They do not consider that the building is the origin of the disease but consider it as a cause of infection, and by closing the school hope to check its spread. The building will be thoroughly fumigated, and it is believed this will prevent further spread.

PORTO RICAN BILL.

Nearly All Necessities of Life Admitted Free of Duty.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, April 24, 1900.

The following is a summary of the principal provisions of the Porto Rican act, which goes into effect May 1st:

From date of the passage of the act the same custom duties are levied on all good entering Porto Rico from foreign countries as are levied on the same goods entering the United States, save that coffee, which has free entry into the United States, is to pay a duty of 5 cents per pound on entering Porto Rico. Scientific, literary and artistic works and books and pamphlets printed in the English language may enter Porto Rico free of duty.

All merchandise coming into the United States from Porto Rico and coming into Porto Rico from the United States shall pay 15 per cent. o the present Dingley tariff rates; articles of the class which pay an internal revenue tax in the United States must also pay a sum equal to this internal revenue duty, while articles from the United States going into Porto Rico must also be subjected to any internal revenue rates of taxation there collected on that class of articles.

One feature of the act, which heretofore seems to have attracted little attention, is extremely important to the Porto Ricans, because it will permit them to import free of any duty nearly all of the necessities of life. Under the orders which the Secretary of War had issued, flour, bacon, codfish, fresh beef, pork, mutton, rice, bags for sugar, coopers wares and wood cut for making casks for sugar or molasses, machinery and apparatus for making and refining sugar, or for other agricultural purposes, plows, hoes, hatchets, machetes and other agricultural implements not machinery, rough lumber and modern school furniture, crude petroleum, lime, asphalt, bitumen, tree, plant and mosses in natural or fresh state, mineral, carbonated and seltzer waters, either natural or artificial, root beer, ginger ale, and similar non-aloholic beverages and numerous other articles are admitted free of duty, and will continue to be so admitted under the act which says specifically that "all merchandise and articles entered in Porto Rico free of duty under orders heretofore made by Secretary of War shall be admitted into the several ports thereof when imported from the United States free of duty, all laws or parts of laws to the contrary notwithstanding."

It thus appears that the Porto Ricans will, under the new act, receive from the United States free of any duty all of the above important articles in addition to those regularly upon the free list under the Dingley law, while on other articles they will pay but 15 per cent or three-twentieths of the regular Dingley tariff rates, and what is equally important, they may put an end to the payment of even this small duty at any time they may desire, since the law specifically provides that these duties shall cease as soon as the Porto Rican legislature shall have provided the necessary revenue for the expenses of the government of the island.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget with the News in a Nut Shell.

Mrs. A. S. Porter of Cottage street is confined to the house with illness.

Work laying the new drain on Coddington street is about completed.

The last whist party of the season at Odd Fellows' hall will be held Thursday night.

The bathhouse bill for Quincy was passed to be engrossed by the House Tuesday.

Work was commenced Tuesday excavating for the new Cranch school building.

The residence of J. Henry Emery on Hancock street has been connected with the sewer.

Mayor Hall will be one of the vice presidents of the Republican State Convention tomorrow.

The tools and shed to be used by the workmen in excavating for the new depot at Atlantic have arrived upon the scene.

The members of the Merrymount club of Wollaston will be the guests of the North Quincy club of Norfolk Downs tonight.

Copies of the Parker-Patriot will go to every State in the Union, advertising Quincy and her famous public schools.

The Dewey Reds defeated the Young Eagles in a game of baseball at South Quincy, Tuesday afternoon. The score was 28 to 9.

Miss Corina Nye of Atlantic street, has so far recovered from her recent illness, that she is once more able to be at home and among her friends.

The hearing on the charges of G. B. Bates aganist Inspector of Plumbing Keniley to have been held Tuesday night was postponed until Friday evening.

The Massachusetts House refused on Tuesday by a vote of 66 to 83 to engross the bill to compel railroads to assume the entire cost of the abolition of grade crossings.

The spring weather has incited Atlantic's road overseer to fix the long, neglected streets. Which fact will without doubt give many the desire to "tinker up" their lawns a bit.

Mt. Wollaston Lodge, No. 80, . O. O. F., will celebrate the 81st anniversary of the Order, also the 16th anniversary of the lodge, in Faxon Hall, this evening. The entertainment will be followed by a a supper and dancing.

The dispatch in the telegraphic news in Tuesday's Ledger from Plattsburg, N. Y., in relation to Corporal Harry Matthews was not our Corporal Harry Matthews of Co. K., but the boys are onto him just the same.

The City Council Committee on Finance will hold another meeting next Monday evening, at which they will complete their work upon the budget, so as to be able to report at the next meeting of the City Council.

It is expected that work will be commenced this week making ready for the new Quincy depot. The depot in use at present is to be moved to the south near the cemetery for temporary use until the new depot is completed.

The regular meeting of the Hospital Aid Association will be held Thursday next, April 26th, at three o'clock in the Unitarian chapel. All interested women are cordially invited to attend. Directors' meeting at half past two.

Mrs. Herbert Barker of Hancock street has planned a delightful entertainment for the Botolph Street whist club, the weather being too warm for whist. She has invited the club to see Quo Vadis at the Castle Square theatre, on Wednesday afternoon.

The reporters who cover the City Council were enabled to hear much better than usual at this weeks meeting of that body and they unite in extending Councilman Packard a vote of thanks for his efforts to have their table changed.

Commencing tomorrow, the entire stock of the Quincy Department store will be offered at receiver's sale. Some of the bargains are quoted in a half-page "ad" on the first page today. It includes dry goods, groceries and drugs.

Mr. Harris the popular station agent of the "Downs" is out again, after a severe illness of several weeks. Some of the patrons of the station are giving him quite a jolly as it was his intention to enter into the holy bonds of matrimony, early this month, but the event is indefinitely postponed on account of sickness they say.

Surprise In Confectionary Trade.

Boston, April 25.—Considerable surprise came to the members of the manufacturing confectionary trade Tuesday in the announcement that the old-time firm of B. P. Clark & Co., manufacturers in Cambridgeport, had assigned. Owing to the death within the past few years of three members of this firm, and the consequent withdrawal of their capital, as well as from various other causes, the present firm has found itself unable to meet its obligations at maturity.

Reward Offered by Governor.

Woonsocket, R. I., April 25.—Governor Dyer has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the man who murderously assaulted Elwin E. Southwick, a blacksmith and carriage maker, near his home in North Smithfield, Sunday night. Southwick was lured 500 feet from his home by a stranger, who fired at Southwick with a revolver, the bullet entering the stomach and lodging in the back. Physicians state that the wound is not necessarily fatal.

Bryan Sticks to Silver.

Chicago, April 25.—A special from Wichita, Kas., to The Times-Herald, says: "Neither Editor Morse nor anyone else can succeed in getting me to abandon free silver. I favor it as much as I did in 1896. While free silver will not be the leading issue in this campaign, it will be one of the issues." William J. Bryan made this flat-footed statement during an interview here.

Count Still In Durance Vile.

Chicago, April 25.—Count Levine de Toulouse Lautrec, charged by the Montreal authorities with having disposed of forged bonds under the name of V. Castano, was released from custody here yesterday by the county authorities, but was soon after arrested by federal officers and taken before Commissioner Humphrey on new warrants issued on the old charges.

Ohio Judge Barred From Practice.

Columbus, O., April 25.—In the supreme court yesterday an opinion was handed down affirming the decision of the lower courts in the case of Judge Frank Dennenbaugh of Cleveland, and he stands disbarred from practicing in the courts of Ohio. The ground of the disbarment was that Judge Dennenbaugh shared a fee with an attorney in a case which came before him.

CUP CHALLENGE.

Another Received by the Quincy Yacht Club.

John S. Lawrence of the Harvard yacht club has sent a challenge for the $500 cup of the Quincy Yacht club, which will be considered at a meeting of the committee on Friday evening.

If accepted it will be the second challenge for 1900, one having already been accepted from A. Henry Higginson of the Manchester yacht club, who is president of the Yacht Racing Association of Massachusetts.

Mr. Lawrence's challenger is being built by Besanson of Beverly, says the Globe and like last year's defender, the Hostess, and like the Lookout, she is of the extreme 'scow'' type into which strictly racing boats have developed under a simple waterline rule of measurement. The features of these boats are their extemely long and low overhanging, their great beam, their shallow hulls and the carrying of their floors well into the bilges.

In actual sailing the results of such a model is that as the boat heels she increases her waterline length and decreases her beam until she is about ''rail down,'' when she is sailing on about half her actual beam. The increase in speed due to the lengthening and narrowing of the boat is something wonderful as compared with the speed when the boat is upright.

Mr. Lawrence's boat is from his own design and is 41 feet over all, 21 feet on the waterline, 13 feet beam and 5 inches draft. Her hull is two feet in depth.

The deck plan shows but little narrowing of the beam fore and aft from the extreme of 13 feet amidships, and the boat is 10 1-2 feet broad at the bow and 12 feet at the stern.

Her floor is flat and her topsides straight. The turn of the bilge connecting them is very sharp and hard. In fact it is only made a turn instead of an angle for convenience in planking and construction. The topsides carry their straightness clear to the bow, but flare somewhat toward the stern so as to give the water an easier passage aft.

A novel feature of her design is that she will carry a leeboard on either side instead of the usual centerboard. The leeboards are pivoted to the sides of the boat and can be raised and lowered after the manner of a centerboard. Only one is used at a time, the leeward one, and the designer believes that leeway will be better prevented than by the use of the centreboard. The boards are about five feet long by two feet wide.

The rudder is narrow, deep and balanced, and is set well under the boat. A jib-and-mainsail rig will be carried that will contain about 1300 square feet of sail.

An essential feature that has kept pace with the model in the development of the ''scow'' type has been that of light construction, and the boats ''play the limit'' in this respect. The Lawrence boat is to be of extremely light build with quarter inch planking covered with canvas, but is to be strengthened and stiffened by five longitudinal trusses of light lattice work, and by several transverse trusses of the same style.

The boat will be delivered to her owner the latter part of May, and, with Mr. Higginson's boat, which will be delivered about the same time, will be taken to Hull bay and there 'tuned up' for the races by constant practice sailing.

Adams Drops a Game.

Adams Academy was defeated by Chauncy Hall School yesterday at the Park in a loosely played game. The high wind and the cold made clean playing impossible, and both sides made errors at critical times. The wind, from the east, helped the batting and two and three-base hits were numerous. Donaher pitched a good game, and was ably supported by Readon In the field, Bennett and Weston did the best work. Bennett and Tate did the heaviest batting.

For the visitors Dean and Morrill excelled at the bat. Morrill's home run was a feature of the game, the ball rolling into Hancock street.

Barnes, at second base and Manta at third gave good exhitions of fielding.

Below is the score:

Brown Won.

Brown University won in the debate with Boston University Tuesday evening, they taking the negative on the question ''it is the plain duty of the United States to accord full and complete independence to inhabitants of the Philippine islands at the earliest moment consistent with their permanent welfare''

The Globe reports the Quincy man as follows: The last speaker for the affirmative was Mr. Hewitt, who suggested the danger of continual warfare induced by the retention of the archipelgao, showing the tendency of the natives to struggle for independence, and also the fact that such desire would be strengthened by the fact that their welfare demands such independence. He showed also the liability of our being involved in complications with China, and if such troubles arose the lands are so far from home in a tropical climate, it would be difficult to protect them.

The Sampson-Schley Controversy.

Washington, April 25.—Secretary Long is no longer seeking to advance either Rear Admiral Sampson or Rear Admiral Schley. The navy department's plan of reward is to obtain legislation by congress authorizing it to confer medals upon the officers and men who participated in the battle of Santiago. Each medal would be inscribed with the position of the officers receiving it during the battle. Thus, the medal awarded to Admiral Sampson will be inscribed "commander-in-chief," and that of Admiral Schley "second in command."

MOST SATISFACTORY CONDITIONS.

Every Indication That Troubles With Ottoman Empire Will Be Amicably Adjusted.

Washington, April 25.—The state department has received from Mr. Griscom, the United States charge at Constantinople, a cablegram announcing that the porte has undertaken to meet all of the arrangements made with the United States minister respecting the payment of the claims set up on account of the destruction of American missionary property in Turkey. It is not stated when the payments will be made, and it is surmised that, owing to the many obligations of greater magnitude, pressing upon the porte, some time may elapse before the money is actually in hand.

The charge also confirmed the press reports as to the publication by the porte of an irade authorizing the rebuilding of the destroyed missions at Harpoot and Harsan, and the construction of an annex to the Roberts college, the great American theological school in Constantinople. This action of the Turkish authorities is regarded as of an importance far exceeding the mere payment of $90,000 on account of property destroyed by a mob. It amounts to a recognition of the right of our missionaries to build their schools in Turkey and ensures them against what they regarded as a gradual but absolute exclusion from the domains of the sultan. Under the Turkish law, buildings destroyed under the conditions surrounding those at Harpoot can be reconstructed only by special permission of the porte.

On the whole the officials here regard Mr. Griscom's cable as marking the safe passing of what might have been regarded as a critical point in the negotiations and feel confident that in addition to this notable concession the United States will secure all of its just claims.

Fatal Accident on Race Track.

New York, April 25.—Jockey Frank O'Leary was fatally injured at the Aqueduct race track yesterday. The horses got away in good order and when they had gone about 1-16th of a mile G. E. Wightman, McJoynt up, stumbled and fell, the jockey escaping with slight bruises. Pettifogger bumped into Wightman as the latter was falling and went up into the air, turning a somersault and landing on his back. Hewitt was thrown some distance, but he, too, was out of the way of the other horses and was even less hurt than McJoynt, Randy, which O'Leary was riding, stumbled into the pair of horses on the ground and threw O'Leary among them. He was kicked in the head by one of them and his head crushed in. O'Leary died shortly after reaching a hospital. The three horses escaped with severe injuries.

A Dozen Ecumenical Meetings.

New York, April 25.—About a dozen meetings of the ecumenical conference were held in different churches and halls yesterday and much enthusiasm was displayed. The principal meeting last night was held in Carnegie hall, which was crowded to its capacity. Bishop Hendrix, recently returned from Africa, presided. The subject was "The translation of the Bible and its distribution among the nations of the earth."

'Twas a Needless Scare.

Boston, April 25.—The reported case of smallpox at Worcester, because of the illness of a passenger of the steamer New England, has been decided otherwise by Dr. Carson, the port physician, and Dr. Shea of the board of health, who visited Worcester yesterday. Miss Donahue, the patient, is suffering from skin rash, following inoculation of vaccine virus.

Alleged Murderer In Custody.

New York, April 25.—The police of Newton, borough of Queens, last night arrested Casper Teresnick, 18 years old, on suspicion of being the murderer of canal boat Captain William Biddlecom, who was slaughtered in the cabin of his boat on the night of Easter Sunday. Teresnick does not deny committing the crime.

Forgery of Sugar Stock Charged.

Chicago, April 25.—What may be an extensive forgery of sugar trust stock came to light yesterday, when S. W. Jacobs, president of the Chicago Loan and Trust company was arrested on a charge of being implicated in a confidence game. The alleged perpetrator of the forgery, Samuel Fuller, is missing.

Big Tank For Railroads.

Meridian, Miss., April 25.—No further rise of waters in the flooded districts is expected and the railway officials are now endeavoring to open communication after nearly a week's suspension. It is thought probable that full traffic cannot be resumed before Monday or Tuesday of next week.

Pawtucket Woman Killed.

Pawtucket, R. I., April 25.—Mrs. Etta Ricketson was struck Tuesday by an electric car, and had one leg broken, her side crushed and her hip and pelvis bone broken. She died soon afterward. It is generally believed that no blame can be attached to John McLaughlin, the motorman.

A Solar Plexus Knockout.

Troy, N. Y., April 25.—Jack O'Brien of New York knocked out Billy Moore of Syracuse in the 16th round of what was to have been a 20-round bout at the lightweight limit, here last night. The contest was a swift one up to the knockout, which was a solar plexus blow.

"Mary, how do you like the Ivory Soap?"

"Best we have ever had, ma'am. The starched clothes are whiter and the flannels are softer than when washed with common soaps. It saves my hands; they used to be very sore after a wash."

"Well, Mary, I am told that it saves the clothes, too, and you shall have only Ivory Soap after this."

Those who have tried both common soap and Ivory Soap, say that it takes only two-thirds as much of the Ivory for a wash.

Sweeney Made Riley Sprint.

Boston, April 25.—Patsey Sweeney, the clever lightweight of Manchester, N. H., fought a six-round draw with Martin Riley of Fall River at the Faneuil Hall Athletic club last night. The police practically announced the decision because the boisterous behavior of some of the club members, in the fifth round, compelled the close of the fight in the sixth, when 15 rounds were looked for. The bout was a lively one, Sweeney doing all the fighting and Riley the sprinting.

Great Increase In Smallpox.

Chicago, April 25.—According to the latest public health reports of the United States marine hospital service there were 7648 cases and 402 deaths from smallpox in this country during the first 3½ months of the present year, and 5267 cases and 272 deaths during the corresponding period of 1899. This is an increase this year of 44 percent in the number of cases of smallpox, and 48 percent in the number of smallpox deaths.

Bicyclist Ran Into a Woman.

Athol, Mass., April 25.—Dana S. King and Robert Brady, aged about 19 and 25, respectively, are under arrest, charged with manslaughter. The young men were returning on a tandem bicycle from a ride to Orange. They were following an electric car and ran into Mrs. Homer G. Sedgwick, knocking her down. She died 48 hours later.

For Distribution Among Porto Ricans.

New York, April 25.—The United States transport Macpherson sailed today for Porto Rico with between $400,000 and $500,000 in subsidiary coin. This is the first instalment of the $2,000,000 voted by congress to be distributed among the inhabitants of that island.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

"Housework is hard work without Gold Dust"

Care of Lamps

Many housekeepers think there is nothing to learn about the care of lamps, but if the little details here mentioned are adhered to there will be a great difference in the light. First, a lamp must be cleaned and filled every morning; the burners should be cleaned once a week, and the best way is to boil them in water to which has been added. Put a teaspoonful into a quart of water and boil ten minutes. The flues should be put into a pan of cold water and heated slowly until they boil, then take off and allow to cool gradually; this toughens the glass.

BY VOTE OF 33 TO 32,

Matthew S. Quay Is Refused a Seat In the United States Senate.

Was a Question of Power of His Personality.

Vest of Missouri, His Long Time Personal Friend, Voted Against Him.

Washington, April 25.—The senate has gone on record on one of the most interesting questions in its history. That question was the power of Mr. Quay's personality. The constitutional question ostensibly involved has long ago been settled in the Corbett case, that of latest occurrence, by a vote of 50 to 19, except that there was something to be said in behalf of Corbett's claim, as the legislature of Oregon had never organized, while Quay's case was believed by many to be as devoid of circumstances in its favor as any hypothetical case that could be constructed.

Yesterday was devoted entirely to debate upon the question of seating Mr. Quay, many of the greatest lawyers and orators in the body delivering speeches. As the session wore on and the hour for the final vote approached, the galleries gradually were filled, until they were thronged with multitudes, while other multitudes were unable to gain admission. On the floor of the senate every member of the body now in the city, and scores of members from the house of represestatives, were present.

The great throng listened with deep attention to the brilliant argument of Mr. Spooner in favor of the seating of the former Pennsylvania senator, and to the dramatic and fiery eloquence of Mr. Daniel (Va.), who appealed to his colleagues to do what, on his oath as a senator, he deemed right, and vote to do justice to him who was knocking at the senate doors.

As the big clock opposite the president pro tempore indicated 4 o'clock there was a hush in the chamber. Mr. Frye, in the chair, announced that the hour for the final vote had arrived, and that the question was the pending motion of Mr. Chandler to strike out of the resolution declaring Mr. Quay not to be entitled to a seat the word "not."

Senators eagerly followed the call, for all knew the vote would be close. The first sensation was caused by the failure of Mr. Pettigrew of South Dakota to answer to his name, although he was in his seat. When Mr. Vest's name was called he voted "No" in a clear, distinct voice, thus dashing the last hope of the friends of Mr. Quay, who had expected confidently that the distinguished Missourian would vote for his long time personal friend. In perfect silence it was announced that the senate had denied to Mr. Quay the seat which he has sought for some months past.

The vote on Mr. Chandler's motion was as follows:

Yeas—Allison, Baker, Carter, Chandler, Clark of Wyoming, Cullom, Daniel, Davis, Deboe, Foraker, Frye, Gear, Hansbrough, Jones of Nevada, McComas, McLaurin, Mason, Morgan, Nelson, Penrose, Perkins, Platt of New York, Scott, Sewell, Shoup, Spooner, Stewart, Sullivan, Taliferro, Warren, Wetmore, Wolcott—32.

Nays—Allen, Bacon, Bart, Bate, Berry, Burrows, Butler, Clay, Cockrell, Culberson, Hale, Harris, Heitfield, Hawley, Jones of Arkansas, Lindsay, McBride, McCumber, McEnery, McMillan, Martin, Money, Platt of Connecticut, Proctor, Quarles, Ross, Simon, Teller, Tillman, Turley, Turner, Vest, Wellington—33.

Pairs were announced as follows, the first named in each instance being favorable to Mr. Quay and the second opposed to him: Pritchard with Gallinger, Depew with Hanna, Foster with Kean, Lodge with Thurston, Kenney with Caffery, Elkins with Chilton, Fairbanks with Mallory, Hoar with Pettus, Kyle with Rawlins.

The following senators were unpaired: Aldrich, Beveridge, Clark (Mont.) and Pettigrew.

The house yesterday adopted the Foraker emergency resolution, to continue the present officers in Porto Rico in office until the appointments are made under the civil government act, as amended by the committee on insular affairs. The amendments require that all franchises shall be approved by the president before they become operative and place certain restrictions upon chartered corporations such as the issuing of stock or bonds, except for cash, and inhibiting real estate corporations or the holding of real estate by corporations, except such as is necessary to carry out the purpose for which they are created. The house, with the exception of Mr. Hill (Conn.) seemed to be in favor of the amendments. Mr. Hill sought to have them ruled out on a point of order, on the ground that they were not germane. The speaker held that they were not germane, but overruled the point of order on the parliamentary objection that the point came too late.

About 20 pages of the postoffice appropriation bill were disposed of, the only substantial amendment adopted being one to give extra compensation to letter carriers who work in excess of 48 hours.

Famous Army Nurse Dead.

Concord, N. H., April 25.—Harriet P. Dame, the war nurse from New Hampshire, known by nearly every Union and Confederate soldier, died in this city Tuesday night. She was born in Barnstead, this state, in 1815. She joined the Union army as a matron in 1861, and remained in service under the flag until December, 1865. She was with the Second New Hampshire regiment at Fair Oaks, Bull Run, Cold Harbor and Fredericksburg, and at many other historical points. Miss Dame was a United States pensioner, but gave her entire income from that source, as well as a great deal besides, to charitable objects which appealed to her.

WAS A HOT CONTEST.

Giants' Timely Batting In the Seventh Finally Took the Game From Boston.

New York, April 25.—Bill Carrick never pitched a better game, and "Kid" Nichols never did either. It was a pitchers' battle, with odds about even.

The game was a hair-raiser. The Giants gained a good lead in the first inning by catching Nichols a little off his balance. When the "kid' settled down to business he had the Giants at his mercy. The Bostons found also that they were up against a much stiffer game than they anticipated, and they plugged away to overcome the lead, but timely batting in the seventh inning enabled the New York team to win.

Work For Unemployed at Dawson.

Victoria, B. C., April 25.—Arthur P. Curtis and two partners have just arrived from Dawson, which point they left April 8. They say water is running in all the creeks, and will, owing to the last winter's light snow, be exhausted before the clean-up is fairly commenced. In consequence of the water shortage many claim owners are pumping from the Bonanza, while the majority will make their wash-up by rockers, instead of sluicing. This will give employment at good wages to all the unemployed in Dawson, until the lower river breaks and the exodus to Nome sets in.

Vardon Still Plays Winning Game.

New York, April 25.—Harry Vardon, the English professional golf champion, yesterday defeated the best ball of Walter J. Travis and James Douglas, a professional player, over the links of the Oakland Golf club near Bayside, L. I., by 6 up in a match of 36 holes. Probably no match which has been played in this country was ever watched by such a congregation of expert men and women golfers. Travis was a little off his game, and Douglas, while at times playing brilliantly, was very erratic.

To Avoid Further Labor Troubles.

Woburn, Mass., April 25.—It is announced that the Russell Counter company, where a strike is in progress, has leased a factory in Lynn, with the intention of removing its business to that city. The reason given for the proposed change is that the firm desires to avoid labor trouble and can find the desired freedom in Lynn. The firm employes 200 operatives. The strike was started because the company refused to employ Woburn help when places were vacant.

The Manufacturers' Convention.

Boston, April 25.—The annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers was formally opened in Tremont Temple yesterday. The address of President Search was a comprehensive statement of results accomplished during the year by the association and its individual members in extending trade abroad and of the legislative and other work accomplished at home, and showed that much good work had been accomplished in expanding trade.

Liberal Congress of Religion Meets.

Boston, April 25.—The sixth annual session of the Liberal Congress of Religion began in the First church last evening. This congress is a perpetuation of the World's Parliament of Religion, which formed one of the features of the World's fair in Chicago in 1893. There was a large gathering present last evening, composed of representative men and women of New England, who listened to the addresses that were delivered.

Turkey Strengthening Her Armaments.

London, April 25.—The Vienna correspondent of The Times says: Considering the scale upon which the Turkish armaments are being extended, it is scarcely surprising that a pressing necessity for all available funds is experienced. It is asserted that the first installment for the current year consists of a quantity of smokeless powder, 240,000 rifles, 16 batteries of artillery and 96 quick-firers.

Immigration Officials Investigating.

Washington, April 25.—The treasury department has ordered a special agent to proceed to the Pacific coast to investigate the matter of the large influx of Japanese coolies to this country within the last few months. The immigration of Japanese to the United States has become so heavy as to excite suspicion that the men are coming here as contract laborers.

Mandate Issued In Carter Case.

Washington, April 25.—The supreme court has issued its mandate in the case of Captain Oberlin M. Carter. The writ was directed to the circuit court for the southern New York district, and unless Captain Carter's counsel should find some other means of delay, the result will be his early departure for the prison at Leavenworth, Kas.

Granite Cutters at Concord Win.

Concord, N. H., April 25.—The strike of the granite cutters in this neighborhood has reached a settlement and the cutters are victorious in the fight. The terms agreed upon are practically the same as prevented a strike of any consequence at Barre, Vt., namely, 35 cents an hour as the minimum for the eight-hour day.

To Be Patterned After the Iowa.

Washington, April 25.—The naval board of construction yesterday approved the plans for the three battleships authorized by the last congress, and ordered specifications prepared at once preliminary to calling for bids from shipbuilders. The ships will be enlarged Iowas in type.

One Woman's Letter SAYS

"I doctored with two of the best doctors in the city for two years and had no relief until I used the Pinkham remedies.

"My trouble was ulceration of the uterus. I suffered terribly, could not sleep nights and thought sometimes that death would be such a relief.

"To-day I am a well woman, able to do my own work, and have not a pain.

"I used four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and three packages of Sanative Wash and cannot praise the medicines enough."—MRS. ELIZA THOMAS, 634 Pine St., Easton, Pa.

DOGS
MUST BE LICENSED
On or Before APRIL 30,
Or the Owners or Keepers thereof
LIABLE TO A FINE!
Extracts from the Laws of this Commonwealth.

Every owner or keeper of a dog of three months old or over shall annually on or before the THIRTIETH DAY OF APRIL, cause it to be Registered, Numbered, Described and Licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city or town wherein said dog is kept, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

An owner of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of the ensuing May; and a person becoming the owner or keeper of a dog after the first day of May, not duly licensed, shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided in the preceding section.

The fee for every license shall be two dollars for a MALE and five dollars for a FEMALE dog.

Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit FIFTEEN DOLLARS, five dollars of which shall be paid to the complainant and ten dollars to the treasurer of the county in which the dog is kept.

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number of dogs so kept exceeds five, the fee shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper, under the age of six months.

Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed, which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day in April in any year, shall, whenever it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May, as provided in Sec. 80 of Chap. 102 of the Public Statutes, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

Mortgagee's Sale.

BY Virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Georgie A. Rich of Quincy to George H. Field dated January 28, 1899, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, lib. 834, fol. 464 for breach of conditions contained in said mortgage and for the purpose of forclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on MONDAY, May 14, 1900, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon. The premises to be sold are bounded and described as follows, viz.

A certain lot of land, together with the buildings thereon, situated in said Quincy on the westerly side of Bennington street, being lot numbered twenty-nine (29) on a plan of land of George H. Field, made by H. T. Whitman, surveyor, and duly recorded in Norfolk County Registry and dated May 4, 1892. Said lot numbered twenty-nine is bounded and described as follows: viz. Commencing at a point on the westerly line of Bennington street and running southeasterly fifty feet, thence turning at an angle of ninety degrees and running southwesterly one hundred and twenty-five feet, thence running at a right angle northwesterly fifty feet, thence running northwesterly one hundred and twenty-five feet to the point of beginning, containing 6250 square feet. Being the same conveyed by deed from Wilmot V. Everson, dated December 1897 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, lib. 804, fol. 429. Said property will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes and assessments if any there be. Terms at sale or from the auctioneer.

A RETREAT OF BOERS.

The Relief of Wepener Is Accomplished by Forces Under Brabant.

But Little Chance of Roberts' Cutting Off the Enemy.

Depends Upon Progress of French's Cavalry Entering a Difficult Country.

London, April 26.—It is officially announced that Wepener has been relieved.

The war office has issued the following from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfontein, April 25, 3:25 p. m.:

"The enemy retired from in front of Wepener last night and this morning fled northeastward along the Ladybrand road.

"Their number was between 4000 and 5000."

A dispatch from Cape Town says: "The relief of Colonel Dalgety was accomplished by General Brabant."

The Times has the following from a special correspondent, dated Mafeting, Basutoland, April 25: I rode from Jammersburg here, skirting Wepener, and met General Brabant's advance guard four miles south of Wepener. They report three successful fights, Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday, with 22 casualties. The siege was raised and 5000 of the enemy retired along the Ladybrand road within our sight and unpursued. Colonel Dalgety's casualties are 33 killed and 132 wounded.

A dispatch to The Times from De Wets Dorp, late Wednesday, says General Rundle arrived there that morning.

A special dispatch from Pretoria, dated Tuesday, says that the Boers have reoccupied Boshof, the British retiring.

It is now apparent that the chances of Lord Roberts' catching the retreating Boers in a net are very slender. The Boers have everywhere retired at the first pressure of the British advance, and the hope that General Rundle would be able to induce them to remain at De Wets Dorp until they had been forced to fight or to surrender has been disappointed.

No attempt was made to pursue the commandoes retiring from Wepener. Everything now depends upon the progress of General French's cavalry brigades, but they are entering a very difficult, hilly and practically unknown country.

The cavalry have already had a long march over heavy and sandy roads; and nothing is known regarding the condition of the horses. In any case it is now a race between the federals and the forces of General French and General Hamilton.

The slowness of the recent movements of the British infantry and previous experience of the ability of the Boers to move rapidly with guns and baggage over their own country, lead to a belief that Lord Roberts' enveloping operations will fail and will have to be repeated further north.

At the most he will perhaps capture some Boer guns and baggage and harry the retreating burghers.

Considerable results have been attained in the relief of Wepener and in the clearing of the so theastern corner of the Free State of Boers; but the Boer army, whatever its strength, has still to be dealt with.

Besides the casualties among the men, the Boer bombardment of Colonel Dalgety's position wrought great havoc among the cattle and horses. The garrison could have held out for another fortnight, but it is in no condition to render much assistance in pursuing the Boers.

There is little news from other quarters. The inhabitants of Mafeking are now on a daily ration of two pints of soup and two quarts of "skilly."

There are persistent rumors in circulation at Cape Town of dissension in the Cape cabinet. It is said that Premier Schreiner and Attorney General Solomon favor the annexation of the Transvaal and the Free State; that Commissioner of Public Works Sauer and Dr. T. Water, minister without portfolio, advocate the independence of the republics, and that Treasurer Herriman is neutral.

Mr. Innes, former leader of the opposition in the assembly, is frequently mentioned in connection of the formation of a coalition ministry.

Carter Says He Is Innocent.

New York, April 26.—"I am innocent. I am guiltless of wrongdoing. Time, I am convinced, will right everything." Oberlin H. Carter, once a captain in the United States corps of engineers, said this last night a few seconds before a train started with him and an armed guard, which is to escort him to the military prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., where he will serve out what remains of his sentence of five years' imprisonment for embezzlement.

Constable Manchester's Turn.

Fall River, Mass., April 26.—A charge of assault with a weapon was lodged against Philip Scully by Constable Manchester yesterday. This is a counter charge, arising from the recent evicting episode at the Scully mansion, Scully having preferred charges of assault against Constable Manchester and Deputy Sheriff Graham.

Newfoundland Is Prospering.

St. John's, April 26.—The budget presented yesterday to the colonial legislature showed the largest revenue in the history of the colony. The surplus is $100,000, and the estimated surplus for the next fiscal year, $40,000. The government will set apart $20,000 from the surplus toward the British patriotic fund.

Offered an Important Post.

Havana, April 26.—Governor General Weed yesterday offered the post of secretary of agriculture, industry and commerce to Perfecto La Coste. Senor La Coste asked to be given a day or two before making his final answer.

Three Murderers Hanged.

McMinnville, Tenn., April 26.—John Watson and William Brown, both white, and Sonnie Crain, colored, were hanged here yesterday. Watson was convicted of having shot James Hillis in December, 1898. Brown was charged with complicity in the murder of his wife. Crain was convicted of having killed another negro and he killed John Brown, a fellow prisoner, in jail here.

Exciting Game With the Giants Wound Up In Favor of the Bostons.

New York, April 26.—There was not much in the baseball line that was not crowded into the game here between the Giants and Bostons. There was heavy batting, brilliant fielding, yellow errors and exciting stages.

The most exciting stage and the one that caused the roof of the grandstand to do stunts, occurred in the ninth inning. The Bostons had been retired in their half of the inning and had taken their places in the field most complacently and with an air of confidence that a lead of over five runs entails.

Then it was that the Giants showed themselves strong finishers. They piled up four runs and threw a scare into the Beaneaters.

Doyle took a rather daring chance in running from second to third on a wild throw by Sullivan, and was nailed at third by Hamilton's great throw to Collins. This wound up the game, with the score 9 to 8 in Boston's favor.

The Bostons won by their superb batting. Doheny pitched great ball for six innings. His speed gave out then and his slants were pasted for fair after that.

Texans Worrying Over Rain.

Houston, Tex., April 26.—Heavy rains have fallen again throughout central Texas and the situation has become one of much gravity. The corn crop is half ruined. Cotton panting is already three weeks late and will not be under good headway for another week. Some sections report heavy hailstorms and much damage to fruit trees and grain.

Good Afternoon.

But for the strike Quincy would be on the top wave of prosperity.

The change in public sentiment regarding the Porto Rican act, now that its principles and underlying motives are understood, has been remarkable. People who a month ago were clamoring for immediate free trade with Porto Rico say frankly now that the act as passed is vastly better and for very important reasons. To have established immediate free trade with Potto Rico would have taken away the easiest method of raising revenue which that island must have, and which it could otherwise only have had by an internal revenue act tax which would have been—extremely burdensome—or by direct contribution from the Treasury of the United States. This absolutely necessary revenue will now be supplied from the collections under the Porto Rican act on all dutiable goods imported into the United States from Porto Rico or into Porto Rico from the United States. If this system of raising money is unsatisfactory to Porto Ricans they can put an end to it within a few months if them desire, since the act authorizes they to elect a legislature and specifically provides that all tariff between the United States and Porto Rico shall cease when that legislature shall provide the necessary funds for sustaining the government of Porto Rico.

An equally important result, however, of the enactment of this law, which retains a mere shadow of tariff duties between Porto Rico and the United States, lies in the fact that the right to determine matters of this character as they are reached is retained by Congress, and thus no precedent is established by which anybody could claim that free trade with the Philippines or other possessions of that character must or would logically follow. It is only justice to the workingmen of the United States, whether on the farm, in the factory, the mines, or elsewhere, that Congress should retain in its hand the absolute power to determine these matters one by one, as they may offer themselves for determination.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ But few authorities pick the Bostons to win the pennant, those in the west being praticularly in favor of the Brooklyns. The manner in which the team has opened, however, cannot be taken as a criterion, as history tells. —Brockton Times.

☞ If President McKinley was as old as William Henry Harrison at the time when the latter took office there would be a scramble among statesmen and politicians, to accept the vice presidential nomination, as it would be an almost certain case of waiting for dead men's shoes. Harrison was 68. He died less than two months after inauguration. Taylor was another old chap with a short lease of life going in at 64 and dying at 65. McKinley's shoes are very warm and comfortable yet. He is just past 57, and according to the actuaries' table, has a reasonable expectation of 15 1-2 years of life. His health is excellent. By the American experience table he will live over 16 years. It does not appear to an ambitious man that there is any likelihood of the president dropping off in the next four years, therefore the vice presidency goes begging.

—Gov. Crane has appointed Saturday, April 28, as Arbor Day.

STREET WATERING.

The Proposed Order Leaves Out Streets It Should Not.

Although the appropriation proposed for street watering has been largely increased, the service proposed has not been greatly extended, and streets which should be watered are still neglected. Here is the list included in the order:

Washington street.
Adams street from Hancock street to the Milton line.
Chestnut street from Hancock to Foster.
Foster street.
Temple street.
Granite street from Hancock to Quarry.
Hancock street from School to Neponset bridge.
School street from Hancock to Franklin.
Franklin street from School to Independence avenue.
Independence avenue from Franklin to 200 feet beyond Bennington street.
Copeland street from Brewer's corner to Willard.
Elm street.
Water street from Franklin to Copeland.
Crescent street.
Willard street from depot to Milton line.
Quincy avenue from Elm to New road.
Newport avenue between a point 150 feet South of Beale street and Brook street.
Brook street from Newport avenue to Sanford.
Coddington street from Washington street to Newcomb street.
Beale street from Newport avenue to Belmont street.
Farrington street between Beale and Elmwood.
From the corner of Hancock and Old Colony streets, thence along Sagamore street, Newbury avenue, Billings and Squantum streets to a point on Squantum street known as McClure's corner.

Coddington street should be sprinkled its whole length, not one-half its length as proposed. It usually is done each year, as the carts have to pass over it in going to and from the stable, but the abutters, escape assessment. This is a much travelled street, and leads to Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Another singular stop is on Chestnut street. Why should only one-half be sprinkled. The other half needs sprinking more than Foster street. Revere road is a newly built street and a throughfare between South Quincy and Houghs Neck and should be included; also Bigelow street and Miller Stile road.

When rebuilt the boulevard to Houghs Neck should be watered its entire length. Then there are Greenleaf street, Beale street and others where the abutters would be willing to pay all the cost if the city would do the work.

Republican State Convention.

Besides a vice president of the Republican State convention today in Mayor Hall, Quincy had a member at large on the Committee on Credentials, Hon. Henry O. Fairbanks; and a member of the Committee on Permanent Organization, Councilman William E. Badger.

The Committee on Resolutions were: Chairman, Hon. Hosea M. Knowlton of New Bedford; members-at-large, Eben S. Draper of Hopedale; David T. Dickinson of Cambridge; David I. Robinson of Gloucester; Benjamin C. Dean of Brookline; members by congressional district—first, Hon. William Whitney of Holyoke; second, Hon. Elisha Moyan of Springfield; third, George Cook of Barre; fourth, Louis P. Howe of Marlboro; fifth, James P. Ramsey of Lowell; sixth, Benjamin F. Stanley of Newburyport; seventh, Onslow Gilmore of Stoneham; eighth, Arthur E. Burr of Boston; ninth, William Berwin of Boston; tenth, Benjamin P. S. Bullard of Boston; eleventh, E. C. Benton of Belmont; twelfth, John J. Whipple of Brockton; thirteenth, Walter O. Luscomb of Falmouth.

Speeches that met with the approbation of the delegates were made by Chairman Goetting of the State Committee; Congressman Gillett, the presiding officer; A. E. Winship, Esq., who nominated the delegates, and Representative Schofield who nominated the alternates. The platform endorses the administration, and the delegates were for McKinley and Long.

Murder Trial Postponed.

The case against John E. Burgess the ten-year-old boy who is charged with the alleged killing of Arthur C. Long at Braintree, which was to come before the juvneile session of district court this morning, was continued at the request of counsel until Saturday, April 28. Hon. Everett C. Bumpus appears for the government and Hon. Henry F. Naphen and Philip H. Sullivan for the defense.

Ladies' Whist.

At the Ladies' whist party at rooms of the Granite City club, Wednesday afternoon, prizes were awarded as follows: Silver and cut glass candlestick, to Mrs. James Nightingale; silver and pearl handled cheese scoop to Mrs. E. W. H. Bass; silver spoon to Mrs. Arthur Harris; silver spoon to Miss Edith Crane; box of candy to Mrs. Charles H. Burgess.

—A very successful minstrel show was given at the Braintree Town hall Wednesday evening under the auspices of the King's daughters.

Bath House Act.

The bill reported by the Committee on Cities of the legislature, relative to the Erection of Buildings in the Parks and Playgrounds of the City of Quincy, reads as follows:

Section 1. The Park Commissioners of the city of Quincy may erect and maintain in the parks or playgrounds of said city, that now are or hereafter maybe under their control, structures for the shelter and refreshment of persons frequenting such parks or playgrounds, and may erect and maintain thereon public bath houses along the shore and within the bounds of any such parks or playgrounds. Such structures or buildings shall be erected in such places as in the opinion of the chief of the fire department of said city do not endanger buildings beyond the limits of such parks.

Section 2. Section sixteen of chapter fifty-four of the Public statutes and chapter seventy-five of the acts of 1893 shall not apply to such structures or buildings.

Section 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Yachting Carnival.

South Boston will have a yachting carnival during the week of July 2, features of the celebration will be an illuminated yacht parade around Dorchester Bay when the yacht clubs and other houses along the shore will also be illuminated and there will be a fireworks display. It is intended, if possible, to have three or more band concerts during the week and as other events may be proposed from time to time they will be added to the program. The yachtsmen of the City Point are taking a great interest in the carnival week. Arrangements will be completed at future meetings. The association adjourned to meet Sunday evening, May 6, at the South Boston Yacht Club.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget with the News in a Nut Shell.

High school prize speaking tomorrow evening.

Granite street is having its gutters cleaned today.

The granite cutters on a strike are catching many flounders.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Van Buskirk have removed from town.

The alarm for 138 at 8.15 Wednesday night was a false alarm.

Mr. Howard C. Barnes of Wollaston will pass the summer in Europe.

James Freeborn of Hancock street has returned from a trip to Europe.

Miss Marion Peck of Taunton is the guest of Mrs. W. S. Russell of Billings street.

Paul Revere Post, G. A. R., will entertain the ladies tonight at Grand Army hall.

J. C. Morse and George Wendell secured the prizes at the Granite City club, Wednesday evening.

The annual appropriation order of the city is behind this year, and many bills are held up by the City Auditor.

Combination 1 was called out Wednesday afternoon to extinguish a fire in the woods of Independence avenue.

Hose 2 was called out on a still alarm Wednesday afternoon for a chimney fire on the house of Timothy J. Reardon on Bates avenue.

St. Andrews Brotherhood held a meeting and were entertained at the residence of W. F. Hoehn on President Hill, Tuesday evening.

Work has at last started on the new Atlantic depot. The tools have arrived and yesterday the site selected was all cleaned away and staked out.

The city is now receiving crushed stone by cars at the Quincy depot, but it does not come far, being supplied by the Old Colony Broken Stone Co.

Mr. George Briggs of Appleton street left Tuesday for a trip to England, Ireland and then to Paris to the World's fair. He will be gone ten weeks.

At the annual meeting of the Drysalters Club of New England held at the Parker House Wednesday evening, John Shaw was reelected president.

The extension of free delivery to the Downs and Park will be appreciated by the residents especially of the former place. It is expected that we will be indulging in this luxury by July if not before.

In the house Wednesday, the Committee on Counties reported a bill on petition of DeWitt C. Bates and others, that the County Commissioners of Norfolk and Plymouth be constituted a board of trustees for the maintenance of certain bridges.

H. T. Whitman, agent, has sold 10 acres of land on the line of the proposed parkway, in ward 4, to Daniel Clark and others, who have prepared plans for the subdivision of the tract into lot for the market and for improvement. The price paid was $7000.

The Spring Convention of the Norfolk County W. C. T. U. will be held in the Temple of Honor Hall, East Weymouth Wednesday, May 2. Opening exercises at 10 A. M. A full attendance is earnestly desired. Electrics leave Quincy for East Weymouth at 20 and 50 minutes past the hour.

Strong ideas, subtle irony and keen wit all combined to make the address of Col. Francis W. Parker upon "The Purpose of Education" before the 20th Century club Wednesday evening an unusually interesting one. The address was followed by an animated discussion, in which some of the best known educators of Boston and vicinity participated.—Herald.

The Whomsoever Mission Band gave an entertainment in the vestry of the Wollaston Congregational church on Wednesday evening, which was largely attended. The band was assisted by outside talent, including singing by Master Gerald Lambert, and an address on India by Mrs. G. H. Getterson. A pleasing feature was "the lullaby songs of different nations by ten little girls of the band.

Leonard—Hannah.

A pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. Warren G. Comey, Greenleaf street, Wednesday evening. The contracting parties were Miss Margaret J. Hannah, niece of Mrs. Richard Talbot, and Mr. George W. Leonard. The service was performed by Rev. Edward Norton in the presence of immediate friends and relatives.

The bride, becomingly attired in pastel blue poplin, was given away by her brother, Mr. William Hannah. The maid of honor was Miss Minnie McIntire of Somerville, and the best man, Mr. William Leslie.

Refreshments were served and the usual interest accompanied the distribution of the bride's cake. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard left for a short trip, after which they will reside on Farrington street, Wollaston.

MILTON.

A. A. Brackett is building several houses on Buntin place.

Joseph H. Pearce is to build a house on Granite avenue.

The town of Milton and the Highway Commission are rebuilding Granite avenue from Squantum street to the bridge.

J. B. Newcomb is quite ill at his home on Adams street.

The Episcopal Mission of East Milton will hold its annual entertainment and sale next Wednesday evening.

The Union club has leased a house on Mechanics street, which will be remodelled for club purposes.

Ladies' night of the Unquity club was observed this week Wednesday. There was an entertainment and refreshments.

J. J. Reed has moved from Bryant avenue to Granite avenue.

Henry E. Sheldon and son, Percy, returned last week from Europe on the New England.

Lyman Canny has gone to New Hampshire on a brief trip. He drove over the road.

Joseph Davidson has purchased one of the new houses on Huntington road.

Odd Fellows' Anniversary.

Mt. Wollaston lodge observed the 81st anniversary Wednesday evening by an entertainment, supper and dance at Faxon hall. Over two hundred were present and the evening proved one of keen enjoyment. The meeting was opened by John McKnight who gave an address on the statistics of the order. He was followed by Col. Edward Anderson who commended the work of secret orders, including that of Odd Fellowship.

Rev. Merrill C. Ward greeted those present as brothers and sisters. He was interested in Odd Fellowship and its work and congratulated the order.

Aside from the addresses there were readings by Mrs. Henry P. Furnald and Ellis B. Gay; vocal solos by Mr. Gay and John Knight; banjo solo by William Gragg; harmonica solo by Charles Barron, who accompanied himself on a banjo. The entertainment closed with a selection by Hunt's orchestra. The banquet followed and the evening closed with dancing until midnight.

Our Possibilities.

The Hon. William B. Rice spoke at length at the Manufacturers' convention in Boston, Wednesday, on "The Possibilities of Foreign Trade in American Shoes." In conclusion he said: There should be established in every great business centre of the world American houses to introduce American merchandise. The shoe and leather industry alone should be thus represented everywhere. It may not be practicable for a single manufacturer to make this attempt, but it can be done by a combination of manufacturers.

In our new dependencies and possessions we may look for a steadily increasing demand. Although our Cuban trade is considerable we have sent them the past year only about 25 per cent. of their footwear. Spain by reason of greater knowledge of Cuban wants, and the intricacies of the tariff has controlled about three-quarters of the trade. With the assistance of a committee of the New Enlgand Shoe and Leather Association, the United States government is revising and simplifying the tariff, and our manufacturers may be relied upon to do the rest.

Altogether, the foreign trade thus far has been experimental; it is rapidly passing through that stage and solidifying into a gratifying success. While results thus far are only moderate, the possibilities are tremendous.

Excursion Rates to the West.

At the annual meeting of the Trans-Missouri Committee of the Western Passenger Association, held in Chicago recently, John Sebastian, General Passenger Agent, sprung a surprise on the Committee. He announced that about June 20, the Rock Island road will run four excursions from Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha to Colorado common points, making a rate of one fare plus $2 for the round trip and return limit of October 31st on the tickets. These excursions will be run as special excursions train and about the same dates return excursions will be run from Denver, Colorado, Springs and Pueblo to the Eastern points, the same rate prevailing, thus enabling Colorado people desiring to do so to make tourist trips East during the summer, with the same advantages granted Eastern tourists to go West.

Verdict In Stabbing Case.

Providence, April 26.—Joseph Mooney became involved in a quarrel in a lodging house and was stabbed with a pocket knife in the hands of a man named Shaw. He died four days later. Coroner Lincoln reports that death was caused by the act of Shaw.

Ended Career by Cutting His Throat.

Gardner, Mass., April 26.—Charles Doffner, itinerant clock repairer, 70 years old, died at the Gardner town farm as the result of an attempt at suicide, he having cut his throat. He was somewhat eccentric, and was well known to the residents of this and neighboring towns.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McNiel of 7 Wharf street, Quincy Point, entertained Mr. T. B. Sawther from India on Sunday, he being here on a brief visit.

Representative Sprague went on record in favor of a change in civil service rules, while Representative Sheppard voted in the negative. The vote against substitution was 88 to 84.

The high wind this noon resulted in sending blinding clouds of dust through the streets. Although the streets are kept sprinkled, the wind dried the water almost as fast it was put on.

It is reported that a syndicate has an option on the large tract of land owned by the Adams Real Estate Trust, lying east of Goffe street. This parcel is likely to be sub-divided and improved within the year.

The funeral of James M. Cutting was held Wednesday afternoon from his late residence on Franklin street, and was largely attended, representative being present from the Masons and Grand Army. Rev. Mr. Crathern of Braintree conducted the services. Music was furnished by the Apollo quartette. There were many flowers.

A very enjoyable supper and entertainment took place in the Universalist vestry Wednesday evening; about 100 enjoying the supper. After a social hour a short entertainment was given, consisting of selections by the Ladies' Schuman quartette, composed of Miss Alice Litchfield, Mrs. Laura Tirrell, Mrs. Walter Packard and Miss Mary Gardner; readings by Mrs. A. H. Hall, and solos by Mr. John Green. It was an excellent entertainment and enjoyed by all.

New Milk Inspector.

There is evidently a self appointed inspector of milk in Norfolk Downs, who is working over time, judging by the numerous complaints made by various families. This person is evidently making a collection of milk bottles, for they are never returned, and furthermore it matters not whether there is any milk in the bottles when he happens around or not. This person must be a kleptomaniac for one case is known where a bicycle was within two feet of a milk jar which was stolen, and remained out doors over night, through forgetfulness of the owner, but was not taken; probably owing to the thief's aversion to adding two more "wheels" to his present stock.

Remove Such a Man.

Editors of the Daily Ledger:

How long will the police in Quincy assist in bringing charges against honorable young men. Do they ever think the social position of a young man can be ruined by bringing groundless charges; having an officious policeman go to Boston and dangle handcuffs in a public office, beside circulating to the daily papers, the news of the arrest of the young man?

Is that what Quincy police officers are for? If so, God forbid it to continue longer.

I have supposed that their duty was to hunt up criminals, and surely there is plenty of work for them at Houghs Neck, as several houses have been broken into, and no one ever heard of any arrest. I have lived in Houghs Neck for about three years, and have never heard of one.

But when a young man like Mr. Charles M. Moore, whose honesty and integrity have never been questioned, comes to Quincy to do an unpleasant but legal duty, he is arrested, and brought before the Court, on the charge of breaking and entering and larceny (this sounds well doesn't it?) only to be promptly discharged by the Judge immediately upon hearing the evidence.

The fact that he was not convicted was not for want of zeal on the part of the officer having the case in charge. I say remove such a man, if he has no more judgment, he is unfit for the position. Send him out with a pick and shovel. A little hard work will teach him to respect the rights of innocent and honorable citizens.

NO PNEUMATIC TUBES.

Appropriation For Service Stricken Out of Postoffice Appropriation Bill.

Tube Company Attacked by Representative Moody.

His Revelations Thoroughly Transformed the Sentiment of the House.

Washington, April 26.—At the close of the debate in the house yesterday on the pneumatic mail tube service, a motion to strike out the entire section which provides for the pneumatic tube was carried by a vote of 87 to 50, and unless this should be changed in the full vote of the house, when the bill is reported from the committee of the whole, which is unlikely, the pneumatic postal service will be discontinued, providing, of course, that the senate does not inject such a provision and insist on it in conference.

The postoffice committee had recommended an increase of the appropriation for this service from $225,000 to $725,000. The proposed increase was attacked by the appropriations committee under the leadership of Mr. Moody (Mass.) with such vigor and success that in the end the house voted, 87 to 50, to strike the entire appropriation from the bill.

Mr. Moody created a sensation by the manner in which he assailed the methods of the Pneumatic Tube company and the direct charge that a former member of congress, who was a member of the appropriation committee, has been a holder of the stock and bonds of the company. He declined to disclose the man's name. He added to the scandal by charging that a block of stock had been sent as a New Year's gift to a near relative of another member of congress, but, to the credit of the member, he said, the dishonoring gift had been returned to the sender by the next mail.

Although the tube service was highly commended by other members, these revelations transformed the sentiment of the house, which has several times voted for the service, into a decisive majority against its continuance in any form.

Mr. Tawney (Minn.) moved his bill to re-classify railway mail clerks, but it went out on a point of order.

Chairman Loud, in his speech shortly after, adverted to Mr. Moody's charges, saying: "So far as his remarks apply to the service in New York he is correct. I said on this floor a year ago that the service in New York was conceived in sin and born in iniquity. To that extent I agree with him, but I have for three years told this house that we must either strangle this service or carry it farther. The house committee cannot resist the pressure from so many directions, when the members insist upon having a thing. I know when I am hit with a club, as well as anybody else, but we are not going about this tube business right. Neither are we right in the rural free delivery service, which is costing $1 per capita for every man, woman and child accommodated."

After a brief debate yesterday the senate agreed to the conference report on the Hawaiian civil government bill, the provision relating to the right of franchise and imprisonment for debt having been amended to conform to the ideas of the senate.

The agricultural appropriation bill was passed, carrying over $3,000,000.

The resolution declaring Nathan B. Scott to be entitled to his seat as a member from West Virginia was discussed, but its consideration was not concluded. The Alaskan civil government bill was under consideration for an hour, but no progress was made.

Railway Superintendent Killed.

Northampton, Mass., April 26.—Fred C. Crosby, superintendent of the Northampton and Amherst street railway, was run over on Wednesday. In attempting to jump on the front of a heavy carriage used in transferring passengers across the Connecticut river bridge, he fell under the wheels, which passed over his abdomen. He lived only half an hour after the accident. Mr. Crosby was about 30 years old, and was married only two weeks ago.

A Decoration For Meiklejohn.

Washington, April 26.—The King of Sweden and Norway has tendered to George D. Meiklejohn, assistant secretary of war, the decoration of "chevalier of the sword" on account of courtesies extended to Swedish officers who visited the United States during the war with Spain, and the senate committee on foreign relations yesterday agreed to report a resolution authorizing Mr. Meiklejohn to accept.

Lowell Strike Ended.

Lowell, Mass., April 26.—The strike of the weavers and spinners in the local branch of the Bigelow Carpet company is at an end, and the mill will resume operations on Monday morning. The settlement was brought about by the strikers voting to rescind the rule limiting the amount of work per operator, which was the cause of the trouble.

Prevented Negroes From Voting.

Louisville, April 26.—W. F. Crites, J. J. O'Neill and Robert Locke were sentenced to three years in the Nashville penitentiary and fined $1000 by Judge Evans, in the federal court yesterday for conspiracy to prevent negro voters from exercising their rights of suffrage at an election in this city.

Aged Colored Man Takes Poison.

New Haven, April 26.—George Green, colored, 77 years old, committed suicide by taking "rough-on-rats" and oil of mustard. The body was found in a grove in the northern part of the city.

Carthagena In Rebels' Hands.

Caracas, April 26.—A German steamer which has arrived at La Guayra reports that the Colombian revolutionists are masters at Carthagena, the most important Colombian harbor.

MRS. PLANT WITHDRAWS.

Felt Announced Candidate For Vice President Pays Respects to Admiral and Mrs. Dewey.

Boston, April 26.—A special to The Globe from Bellows Falls, Vt., says that Mrs. Laura M. Plant of Putney, whose self-announced candidacy for the vice presidency on the Dewey ticket has given her national notoriety, has reconsidered her decision and will not run. She says in her letter:

"I am a Republican, and when I announced my name as a candidate for the vice presidency I had hopes that the grand old admiral would eventually find out that he was a Republican. But I have come to the conclusion that he is like all other sailor boys, who are almost sure to get wobbly, somehow, when on dry land.

"And now that he has been trained to say that he is a Democrat, and his wife and ambitious brother-in-law have got his nose on the presidential grindstone, and are turning the crank to shape it to their liking, I will withdraw by name in favor of Mrs. Dewey, for I can see how likely it will be for husband and wife to sit in their chairs of state with nothing to do but to administer the laws of congress and receive the plaudits of a satisfied nation. Mrs. Dewey will keep the admiral's mind in poise."

Shooting In a Labor Riot.

Chicago, April 26.—In a labor riot which occurred at Racine and Wellington avenues last night one man was killed, another severely wounded and six others sustained slight injuries. Peter Miller was shot through the head by H. C. Baster and instantly killed. There were no other participants in the riot save those that were injured, and all were arrested with the exception of James Gibbons, who escaped. H. C. Baster, who fired the fatal shot and the bullets which struck McGuire, is a superintendent employed by the Baker-Vawter Printing company. The firm employes non-union labor, and three months ago several pressmen and feeders were discharged because they joined the union. The assaulting party, with the exception of Miller, are former employes of the firm.

"Open Door" Policy Endorsed.

Boston, April 26.—A large amount of business was transacted at yesterday's sessions of the National Association of Manufacturers. Resolutions were adopted, congratulating the administration upon the success of their efforts to establish the system of "open door" trade in China; favoring reciprocity between the United States and Canada; favoring the construction of competing cable lines between the United States and Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, and the continuance of the association's work of collecting data and information for an extension of American commerce. There were three speeches in advocacy of a commercial education for the young men of today.

Progressing Satisfactorily.

Washington, April 26.—For diplomatic reasons the text of the last note from Mr. Griscom, the United States charge at Constantinople, is withheld from publication. But state department officials are willing to state that generally the negotiations are progressing; that the action of the Turkish government in conceding the right to rebuild the destroyed missionary schools is eminently satisfactory, and that regarding the claims for a money indemnity, these are still being pressed with every reason to hope for a successful conclusion.

Sioux Indians Talking of Fight.

Fort Yates, N. D., April 26.—The Sioux Indians here claim that suddenly and without explanation their rations have been cut in half by the Indian bureau and money from the sale of hides and the annual interest money has not been paid them. They hold this to be directly in violation of the treaty. Pine Ridge Sioux are urging that if peaceable means fail to secure treaty rights, there is nothing left but to fight for them.

Obstreperous Students Locked Up.

Princeton, N. J., April 26.—Twenty Princeton students were arrested last night for creating a disturbance at the Oriental dance hall. Several of the boys were under the influence of liquor and wanted to clean the place out. The manager of the hall finally called the police. Two patrol wagons carried the youths to the central station, where they spent the night in cells.

Were Dynamiting For Fish.

Buffalo, April 26.—A special to The News from Niagara Falls, Ont., says: It is now positively stated here that the men charged with dynamiting the canal locks at Welland were on one of the Islands in the river and were using dynamite for fishing purposes, and while under the influence of liquor decided to try the same method for fish in the canal.

Queen's Visit to Ireland Ended.

Dublin, April 26.—Queen Victoria left the vice royal lodge at noon today, and after the short train journey to Kingstown, embarked on board the royal yacht, and, escorted by the channel fleet, sailed for England. It is expected the queen will arrive at Windsor tomorrow morning.

Despondency and Suicide.

Newport, R. I., April 26.—Captain Nathan M. Russell, aged 73, a retired sea captain, committed suicide by shooting in the head. He died almost immediately. He had been captain on the Morgan line of steamers between Newport and Wickford. He was despondent from sickness.

Rope Skipping May Cause Death.

Springfield, Mass., April 26.—Little Bertha Drum, 12 years old, probably will die from the effects of too much rope skipping. She is afflicted with spinal menengitis and shows symptoms of paralysis. She had the reputation of being the best rope skipper at the Hooker school.

Trains Collided In Fog.

Halifax, April 26.—Two special trains collided near Sydney, C. B., yesterday, wrecking both engines. One was a coal train, and the other a freight. The cause of the accident was foggy weather. There were no passengers. The crews jumped and escaped with slight injuries.

The Magnanimous Rivera.

Havana, April 25.—General Rius Rivera has resigned the post of secretary of agriculture, industry and commerce in the governor general's cabinet. He has also announced to the citizens of Havana that he is a candidate for the mayoralty. General Rivera made the following statement to The Associated Press: "Although I have left the cabinet, I shall not identify myself with any particular party. I have confidence in the American people. It is, however, possible that the administration at Washington may not be so honest as the people at large. Cuba is not conquered. If the United States government wishes to annex Cuba it will have to do so by force of arms. The Cubans will not consent to slide into annexation without resistance. Eventually Cuba would probably ask for annexation, but she must first pass through a stage of independence. During this period the Cubans would not object to the Americans quartering their troops on the island."

Large Seizure of "Wet Goods."

Portland, Me., April 26.—Several liquor seizures have been made daily, and on Wednesday the largest confiscation of liquor up to date occurred. The bottling shops of Ingalls Bros. and Murdock & Freeman were visited and several jigger loads of hard stuff and beer were carted to the station.

To Give Up Horse Racing.

New York, April 26.—Jimmy Michael has decided to abandon horse racing and go back to the wheel. He called on Manager Kennedy of the American Cycle Racing association yesterday and signed a contract to race for the coming season under his management. He will go at once in training.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Almanac, Friday, April 27.

Sun rises—4:46; sets, 6:39.

Moon rises—2:26 a. m.

High water—9:30 a. m.; 9:45 p. m.

Fair weather has prevailed east of the Mississippi except over southern Florida. At Baker City, Ore., snow is reported, with temperatures of 28 degrees. Fair weather will continue in the New England states. The temperature will continue about normal. Along the New England coast the winds will be fresh from northerly.

To Strike or Not to Strike?

Fall River, Mass., April 26.—The outcome of a meeting which is to be held in this city tonight is awaited with much interest, as the action will probably decide whether or not there will be a general strike among the journeymen of all trades in Fall River. A meeting of the master builders to consider the eight-hour question was held last night, all of the different trades being represented. The meeting adopted a resolution in which the members pledged themselves to oppose the shortening of hours of labor or the increase of wages during the year 1900. This resolution will be signed by all the master builders in the city.

Homeless and Friendless.

Rochester, N. Y., April 26.—Patrick Hoey, a former well-known baseball player, and his wife, Ellen Hoey, were found homeless and nearly starved to death in a hovel on the bank of the canal basin. Hoey is about 60 years old. He and his wife had been ejected from a tenement, the proprietor claiming he wanted to repair the building. Hoey is a Civil war veteran, and receives $6 a month pension. Mrs. Hoey may die from exposure. Hoey will recover.

Shooting Was Accidental.

Chicago, April 26.—Mrs. Lottridge was freed from custody and exonerated from all blame for the death of Millionaire Rufus Wright by the coroner's jury yesterday. Mrs. Lottridge refused to testify at the inquest on the ground that she might incriminate herself, but the testimony of all other witnesses who spoke with Mr. Wright before he died in the room where he was shot agreed that Mr. Wright had repeatedly stated that the shooting was accidental.

Former Sea Captain Kills Himself.

Chatham, Mass., April 26.—Captain Joseph C. Atkin, a much respected resident of Chatham and a former ship captain, committed suicide Wednesday by shooting. For three years past he had been engaged as a merchant here, and had also been employed in building government breakwaters, having only recently patented a valuable dumping scow. No cause is known for the act.

Unwilling to Try New Plan.

Pawtucket, R. I., April 26.—The striking weavers of the Lorraine mills have unanimously voted to reject the proposition for settlement which was offered by Treasurer MacColl. This proposition was that the weavers operate 15 sets of looms under the four-loom system, the looms to be operated for one year in order to demonstrate the truth or error of Mr. MacColl's contention that it is possible to make $1.50 to $2 a week more in this way than with the three loom system in use previous to the strike.

DOES COFFEE AGREE WITH YOU?

If not, drink Grain-O—made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain O I did not like it but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." It nourishes and feeds the system. The children can drink it freely with great benefit. It is the strengthening substance of pure grains. Get a package today from your grocer, follow the directions in making it and you will have a delicious and healthful table beverage for old and young. 15c. and 25c.

Mother's Love

Is boundless. Yet it is utterly helpless to give strength to the child born with a low vitality. The time to give strength to the child is before birth and to impart this gift the mother herself must be strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives strength to mothers. It preserves them in robust health in the months before baby comes. It practically does away with the pains of motherhood, and enables the mother to endow her child with a healthy body and a happy disposition. "Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol and is absolutely free from opium and cocaine.

"I consider Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the best medicine made," writes Mrs. Mary Murdock, of 220 Taylor St., Topeka, Kansas. "I know it has no equal. I am the mother of ten children and only one living—the tenth one. She is one year old and is as well and hearty as can be. She is a beauty. Of my other babies, some were born at right time, but dead, others were premature births; one lived to be one year old but she was always feeble. I tried different doctors but none of them could tell what my trouble was. I was examined by surgeons but they found nothing wrong. I did not know what to do, so I thought this last time I would try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took it the entire nine months and now have a fine baby girl, and I can not praise your medicine enough for the good it did me."

DOGS MUST BE LICENSED On or Before APRIL 30,

Or the Owners or Keepers thereof

LIABLE TO A FINE!

Extracts from the Laws of this Commonwealth.

Every owner or keeper of a dog of three months old or over shall annually on or before the THIRTIETH DAY OF APRIL, cause it to be Registered, Numbered, Described and Licensed for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city or town wherein said dog is kept, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

An owner of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of the ensuing May; and a person becoming the owner or keeper of a dog after the first day of May, not duly licensed, shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided in the preceding section.

The fee for every license shall be two dollars for a MALE and five dollars for a FEMALE dog.

Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit FIFTEEN DOLLARS, five dollars of which shall be paid to the complainant and ten dollars to the treasurer of the county in which the dog is kept.

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number of dogs so kept exceeds five, the fee shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper, under the age of six months.

Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed, which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day in April in any year, shall, whenever it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May, as provided in Sec. 80 of Chap. 102 of the Pubic Statutes, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

HAMILTON ADVANCES.

His Forces Occupy a Strong Position Dominating Ladybrand District.

Roberts Delayed by Blockade of the East London Line.

Boers Think That Blowing Up of Arsenal at Johannesburg Was a Plot.

London, April 27.—General Ian Hamilton, with mounted infantry, naval guns and a howitzer battery, advanced from the waterworks in the direction of Thaba N'Chu. A large force of infantry supported him. He met with no opposition, and the mounted infantry occupied a strong position at Israel's Poort, dominating the Ladybrand district.

The Boer forces at Thaba N'Chu are not unlikely to make a stand to cover the escape of the convoys from the southward. They have laagers eight miles apart, stretching from Brandfort to Thaba N'Chu, with a base camp at Sammaldel station.

A report comes that a small force of British mounted infantry had a brush 10 miles east of Karee Siding with a party of Boers who were trying to establish a connection between Brandfort and the Boer forces to the southward.

Otherwise there is no news beyond the official dispatches of Lord Roberts, except belated details of recent operations. It appears that General Brabant in the fight with the Boers at Wepener had a narrow escape. General Pole-Carew's advance was much hampered by the tardy arrival of artillery, which prevented him from capturing Leeuw kop before darkness set in and enabled the Boers to secure their retreat.

Although the large scheme of operations worked successfully several cases of unaccountable delay in the advance are remarked by the correspondents. Taken on the whole, however, there has been no bungling, and apparently Lord Roberts, with the commands in the hands of younger generals, now has an exceedingly efficient army.

The report that the Boers had reoccupied Boshof proves to be untrue. Lord Methuen is still there, and General Hunter's division from Natal, which was supposed to be going to Bloemfontein, is arriving at Kimberley.

This is evidence that some important operations are afoot in that district.

It is understood that the reason the Boers did not destroy the Bloemfontein waterworks was that there are many Boers among the shareholders.

The Boers are showing more activity in Natal. They are placing some heavy guns four miles north of Elandslaagte.

Mr. Wyndham's explanation in the house of commons yesterday has aroused considerable comment, especially his statement that Lord Roberts has been delayed by the necessity of defeating detached forces of the enemy which threatened his communications from Cape Town and Port Elizabeth, and which blocked them from East London. The only intimation hitherto received that the East London line was blocked had been discredited. This was the Boer report that the bridge at Bethulie had been blown up.

A second body of Boer prisoners has been landed at St. Helena.

All discussion of the Spion kop dispatches has been postponed until May 22 by a blocking motion introduced in the commons yesterday.

The Netherlands minister of foreign affairs yesterday received the Boer peace commissioners. It is alleged that they will time their arrival in the United States so that it will occur at the most exciting period in the presidential campaign.

An explosion occurred in a magazine containing smokeless powder on the opposite side of the street from the Begbie works, Johannesburg, used by the government as an arsenal, Wednesday night. Thirteen of the occupants of the latter building were blown to pieces and 50 were injured, including Herr Grunberg, the manager of the works. The walls of the building were destroyed and the structures in the neighborhood were a mass of flames. The shrieks of women and children in the adjoining streets added to the ghastliness of the scene. The most important of the machinery was saved. The works employed 200 persons, mostly French and Italians. The Red Cross ambulance did good work in helping the wounded.

The Pretoria correspondent of The Daily Mail says: The government inquiry suggests that the explosion was a planned outrage. The explosion occurred in a house quite separate from the works, and required a much larger quantity of nitro glycerine than could have been found on the premises. The factory will be working again in a fortnight.

School Closed on Account of Disease.

Waltham, Mass., April 27.—St. Joseph's parochial school has been closed on account of the prevalence of diphtheria. There were about 800 pupils attending the school. The board of health will now take charge of the school and thoroughly disinfect it. The board of health is taking active measures to prevent the spread of the disease, and is at a loss to account for the prevalence of the epidemic.

"THE NEXT VICE PRESIDENT."

Cheers For Secretary Long at the Big Banquet of Manufacturers at Boston.

Boston, April 27.—The sessions of the National Association of Manufacturers came to a close last night with a banquet of huge proportions. To this feast of good things was added the flow of oratory from men of national reputation.

The banquet brought together nearly a thousand people at the tables, while twice that number came into the hall afterwards, and listened to the speeches. Interest in the speeches centerd in that of Wu Ting-Fang, the Chinese minister to this country, who had favored the convention with his presence. His words encouraging American manufacturers to display their goods in China provoked the greatest enthusiasm. Perhaps hardly less interesting were the words of Secretaries Root, Gage and Long of President McKinley's cabinet, who devoted themselves entirely to a discussion of national affairs, in which they strongly upheld the course of the administration. What proved to be one of the events of the evening came when the chairman introduced Secretary Long, and the cheers which followed his rising to speak reached a climax in three long hurrahs for the "next vice president of the United States."

Uncontrollable Appetite For Drink.

Fishkill Landing, N. Y., April 27.—The police here arrested a man for being drunk. Officers searched him and underneath his clothing they discovered $4000 in bills. The man said that his name was William D. Ashley, and that relatives had had him confined in an inebriate asylum at Foxboro, Mass. They were instituting proceedings to have a guardian appointed to gain possession of his property. He had escaped from the institution last Monday and was making his way across the Canadian border. His love for drink had caused him to take too much and he became helplessly drunk. Relatives arrived yesterday to take him back. He refused to go and retained a lawyer to look after his interest.

Won't Hear Agnostic's Testimony.

Philadelphia, April 27.—Professor Frazer, the handwriting expert who figured in the trial in New York of Roland B. Molineux, has been notified by Magistrate Eisenbrown that he will not be permitted to testify in a case on trial because of agnostic views in relation to a God. Mrs. Millie J. Masson brought proceedings to have the will of her father-in-law, Charles H. Masson, set aside, charging the executors with forgery. Mr. Masson left about $70,000. Professor Frazer was her principal witness.

Matters at a Standstill.

Fall River, Mass., April 27.—The meeting of the Builders' Trades council was held Thursday night, at which delegates representing the journeymen builders, steam fitters, tinsmiths, carpenters and masons were present. The eight-hour question was before the meeting for consideration, but on account of the inability of the masons to conclude their conference with the master masons, no conclusion was reached. Matters are practically at a stand-still, each side waiting for the other to show its hand.

Birth of an Agricultural Trust.

Abilene, Kan., April 27.—The first lodge in Kansas of a new farmers' organization, to be known as the "Knights of the Soil," was organized here yesterday. Similar lodges are to be started throughout the state, and it is intended that the whole shall finally form a farmers' trust that will endeavor to influence the price of grain by regulating the acreage and controlling the quantity placed on the market at any one time.

LONG BOOM LAUNCHED.

Bay State Republicans Favor His Candidacy For Vice Presidency.

McKinley Is Endorsed by Harmonious Convention.

Colonel Durbin, Who Never Held Public Office, Named For Governor of Indiana.

Boston, April 27.—It was not expected that the Republican convention would exhibit features of unexpected note. As far as outward expression goes, the party is in admirable harmony in this state. The platform had been prepared, the delegates selected and the officers named without a word of dissent; and even upon the extremely delicate question of the conduct of affairs in the Philippines and the establishment of a remunerative system of government for Porto Rico, upon which the senior senator from Massachusetts and also one of the ablest Republican representatives from the Bay State had openly opposed the majority policy of their party in the halls of congress, the committee on resolutions had agreed to report a platform unwavering in its support of the national administration, yet so broadly framed as to avoid giving offense to any element of the party in Massachusetts. The boom of John D. Long for the vice presidential nomination was formally launched.

The following were elected delegates-at-large to the Republican national convention to be held in Philadelphia on June 19 next: Senator Henry C. Lodge, Congressman Samuel W. McCall, William B. Plunkett and Walter Clifford, and the alternates-at-large selected are Samuel E. Courtney of Boston, George R. Jewett of Salem, Henry P. Field of Northampton and Alfred E. Rose of Lowell.

It was a quiet gathering, and all business was transacted with speed and harmony, in accordance with the slate previously arranged.

The platform indorses President McKinley and his administration and pledges him the continued hearty support and fealty of the Massachusetts Republicans.

It indorses Secretary John D. Long's administration of the navy department, and recommends him most strongly as the associate of the president on the national ticket.

Inasmuch as the Massachusetts delegation has never before been pledged to any candidate, so it is now left free to act within its discretion, but has this expression of the convention.

There is a financial plank which declares for gold as the stable monetary basis, but for a flexible currency.

There is a strong plank upon our insular possessions. Without naming Porto Rico or the Philippines it declares strongly for the retention of all of our insular possessions, and favors the development of local self-government within the islands.

In this connection there is a civil service plank as an adjunct to the preceding, advocating the extension of the civil service laws to protect our new possessions and to increase the efficiency of the government.

There is a plank favoring the construction of an isthmian canal and emphasizing the necessity of a Pacific cable controlled by this government, in communication with our insular possessions.

Another plank declares strongly for the upbuilding and encouragement of our merchant marine and pledging the support of the Republicans of Massachusetts in its behalf.

There is a strong anti-trust plank renewing the position taken by the party last year.

In the framing of the platform the committee on resolutions has tried to avoid doing anything which would cause a division in our delegation between our two senators or any of our congressmen.

No reference was made to the Porto Rico tariff.

Indiana Republicans' Choice.

Indianapolis, April 27.—Colonel Winfield Taylor Durbin was yesterday nominated by the Republicans for governor. He has never held public office, but has been a prominent factor in both state and national politics for many years. He is a member of the national executive committee. During the war with Spain he was colonel of the One Hundred and Sixth-first Indiana volunteers. He also passed through the Civil war as a private.

Instructed For McKinley.

Jackson, Miss., April 27.—The Republican state convention named four delegates-at-large to the national convention. They were instructed to vote for McKinley.

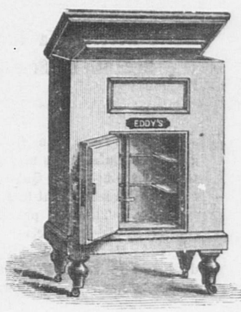

Governorship Suits Roosevelt.

Chicago, April 27.—Governor Theodore Roosevelt, who arrived here yesterday, declared he would rather be in private life than be vice president of the United States. He said that his position in regard to the Republican nomination for this office was absolutely unalterable. He said he would be glad if the Republicans of New York should renominate him for governor, and expressed the belief that he could be of more service in his party and the public in that position than as vice president.

Good Afternoon.

Dr. Parkhurst has switched off New York municipal affairs to make a determined attack upon the creed of the Presbyterian church, of which he is a minister.

The overwhelming triumph of Senator Morgan, who is an expansionists, in the Alabama Democratic primary election, ought to be a useful hint to the Democratic platform-makers.

There are portions of Kentucky where it isn't safe to quote from the Bible. A man was killed in Lexington, just because he, doubtless thinking of Job's observation,—"All men are liar,"—walked into a corner grocery and remarked that none of those present, excepting the storekeeper, were capable of telling the truth.

Drift of Opinion.

☞Dorchester bay starts in early with a boating fatality, and will possibly complete the usual lamentable record before the season closes.—Brockton Times.

☞The dear girls at Wellesley are to learn horseback riding in which they promise to become as efficient as they now are in rowing. If this sort of thing continues Harvard will be obliged to look to its laurels as an athletic educational institution. — Milford Journal.

☞The German naval general staff is drawing up plans for a possible mighty struggle with England, as Moltke did years before 1870 regarding France and it is not overlooked in their calculations that while Germany must in this coming war simply stand guard before her coasts and fight the enemy, England can only spare part of her fleet for such purposes as she cannot strip her colonies and her India empire of all ships. One thing is certain, while Germany will not provoke such a war, she will not avoid it when the time comes. She continues to look upon England as her great commercial rival, and as the great stumbling block to Germany's colonial ambitions, and in 1900 more than she did in 1899. The world will hereafter have to reckon with the possibility of a terrible struggle on the seas between England and Germany.—Berlin letter to New York Evening Post.

☞Combinations may thrive if they really effect an economy of production and share the reduction of cost with the consumer, but the combination that uses its temporary power to squeeze undue profits out of its trade will ultimately fall a victim of its own cupidity, the inevitable result is disaster. While the big flurry and slump in the steel trust stock this week were due in a large measure to stock gambling, yet there is evidence the steel trust is nearing its Waterloo. It leaks out that the wire, rod and nail trust is booked for lively competition. The independent rod mills have grown until they are a factor in the situation. Those now in operation and in course of construction will have a capacity of 750,000 tons, as compared with 1,200,000 tons output of the combination. This is a retelling of the old story. The combination was made with the idea that it would effect important economy in operation, but its management promptly yielded to the temptation to absorb all of that advantage and at the same time to add to their profits all the traffic could be made to bear.—Scranton Times.

THE QUINCY FOLLY.

Barre So Regards the Granite Strike.

Says It Is Upholding Autocratic Builders.

Barre Receiving a Great Boom Because of Settlement.

There are rumors in Barre that the granite manufacturers may give support to the associations in Quincy and Concord, that a settlement may be reached generally. This is probably due to the recent visit of officers of the New England Granite Association, who doubtless desired to bring about some such arrangement. But Barre evidently intends to go it alone, as the following clipping from one of its live daily papers show:

With reference to this matter a Telegram reporter had an interview with a prominent manufacturer and one who has the knowledge of all things pertaining to the present misunderstanding and reports him as follows:

"Deny everything; especially all reports of the nature that Barre is going to support any other place or places just because they do not wish to come to an agreement.

"Barre is just at present on its best footing in fact on better footing than it ever has been, so that the association here cannot see its way clear to support anything like a strike outside of its own territory. Of course you understand this does not only include Barre, but also Montpelier, Hardwick, St. Albans, Northfield, W. Berlin, and many other places which comprise the membership of the Granite Manufacturers' Association.

"You may state so far as we are concerned there will be no strike on May 1 or any time thereafter so far as we are concerned.

"It is folly to think that the Association will go back on their agreement with the cutters as just at present we are enjoying the best of health and which in accordance thereto, much more business than we ever anticipated considering the many stock jobs which were placed in anticipation of a strike.

"The delegates from the New England Association were met with the utmost kindness and business ability, but we could not give them a decided answer; inasmuch as we are now dealing between ourselves and could not conscientiously support any folly of other places."

UNION VIEW.

Ernest Lemmon secretary of the Granite Cutters' National Union was seen in reference to the same matter and he said: "So far as the Barre branch is concerned I cannot see how it could go back on its agreement of March 1, 1900, even in a sympathetic strike as it certainly would be in the light with the Barre branch as they have been aggressors, and if there was any sympathy to be had for the outsiders then they should take care of their own end.

"We have made a good settlement and are perfectly satisfied with it and so long as the manufacturers stick to their part of the agreement, just so long will we stick to ours.

"We had a meeting on Tuesday night, but there were so few there that it was decided to postpone it until Friday, April 27th, when circulars will be issued and the newspapers notified, and all the members asked to be present.

"This meeting is one of the most important ever held, as it is for the purpose of voting on the suspension of the article which calls for $3.00 and eight hours, and making the suspension of the article indefinite.

"In doing this the article is suspended for just so long as the manufacturers stick to their agreement, but it will not hold good unless upheld by them. But if it is so upheld, then the suspension stands indefinitely or until such time as the constitution is revised to meet the new state of affairs."

THE TELEGRAM SAYS:

"In the face of these facts, as stated by these two gentlemen, it is possible that any person interested in the welfare of Barre can put into circulation reports that everything has not been settled with this city?

"Of course, the cutters of this city are being assessed daily for the folly of the other granite centers but just as soon as the firms doing a monumental business in Concord and Quincy will stop upholding the large autocratic builders then the more quickly will they have things running in shape to accept contracts which are now coming to Barre.

"In making their settlement so promptly this city has placed itself more prominently before the people of the United States and as a consequence we shall gain remarkably in population and prosperity within the next three years."

TO VOTE ON SUSPENSION.

A dispatch of Thursday from Barre to the Globe says:

The widespread granite cutters' strike which is now practically ended because the compromise of Barre cutters was generally followed, is likely to be definitely settled for some time to come this week.

The Barre branch of the Cutters' national union has been called to meet tomorrow to act upon the question of suspending from the constitution that article which declared for a $3 eight-hour day. The polls will be open three hours on Saturday, and a majority for or against what is practically an elimination of the article will count.

More important still, the National union has agreed that the Barre scale is satisfactory. No change in the schedule could be made at this time in any event, owing to the great rush of work in all the yards.

The harmony between the cutters and the emloyers has done great good to Barre. The population has increased 500 in 30 days, and is still increasing. Italians, and Scotch men are sending for their friends, and manufacturers from Concord and Quincy have asked for shed room.

Many new sheds will be built, one large Quincy firm being ready to construct buildings at once. Several other out-of-town manufacturers are trying to obtain options on plants here.

Gustafson—Menhinick.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the First United Presbyterian church, Fort Square, Wednesday evening, when Miss Isabella Maria Menhinick only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pannenas Menhinick, and Mr. George Theodore Gustafson of South Quincy, were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. W. W. Dornan.

The church was beautifully decorated with potted plants ferns and evergreens. While the guests were assembling, Miss Jennie McLeod presided at the organ. At 8 o'clock the ushers entered the church, followed by the bridesmaids. Then the bride appeared leaning on the arm of her father, meeting the groom at the altar.

The bride was prettily attirred in white lansdonne, with trimmings of white satin and all-over lace. The bride wore the customary veil, and carried the conventional bouquet of Bride roses.

The bridesmaids, Miss Alice Maud Menhinick, cousin of the bride, and Miss Rosie Gustafson, sister of the groom, wore gowns of white muslin and carried bouquets of pink roses. The groomsmen were Mr. Oscar Johnson, cousin of the groom, and Mr. James Menhinick, brother of the bride.

The ushers were Mr. Robert G. Curtis, Mr. Charles Johnson, Mr. Alexander Marnock and Mr. Lemuel Tinney. After the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's home, where they were assisted in receiving by the parents of the bride and groom. The gifts to the young couple were numerous and costly, among which was a beautiful upright piano, a gift from the groom to the bride.

It will be interesting to note that this was the first wedding to be solemnized at this church. The young couple will be at home after May 1, at No. 4 Pleasant street.

Unity Club Tonight.

The last regular meeting of the Unity club of Wollaston will be held this evening, the eighth in the series on Switzerland. The programee includes:

The present government of Switzerland--Initiative and Referendum, Mrs. George Badger.

The Swiss chalet and peasant life, Miss E. Hubbard.

Education — Pestalozzi. Technical schools, Mrs. John O. Hall, Jr.

The Alps in song and story, Miss Edith Randall.

The musical program is in charge of Mr. Follett and will include:

March from "Lenore" Symphony, Raff—Mrs. Chandler Smith and Miss Angie Faunce.

Quartette, "There's one that I love dearly."

Quintette, "Alpine Echo" — Mrs. Follett, Mrs. Lull, Mrs. King, Mr. Bullock and Mr. Follett.

The date of the banquet has been changed to Friday evening, May 4, at the United States hotel, Boston. Tickets may be procured at the hotel.

The receivers' sale of the Quincy Department store is attracting many buyers.

CITY BREVITIES.

A Local Budget with the News in a Nut Shell.

Mr. O. H. Linnell of Wellfleet, Cape Cod, is visiting his brother, A. E. Linnell, at Wollaston park.

The "Deestrict Skule" will hold forth at Bethany chapel May 3, under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E.

A special meeting or the Board of Assessors will be held Saturday night. They will start on their tramp next Tuesday.

The Norfolk County delegates occupied the platform at the Republican State convention, and the Quincy men had the front row.

The hearing before the Board of Health on the charges of G. B. Bates against Inspector of Plumbing Keniley will be held Monday night instead of tonight.

Ex-Deacon Hill is preparing to shingle his barn. The shingles piled up in his yard are a tempting bait for some stray traveler who may be a kleptomaniac on shingles.

The Mothers' meeting of Memorial Congregational church, Atlantic, was held Wednesday afternoon in the church vestry. Mrs. H. H. Bemis presided and Dr. M. E. Drew read an interesting paper on "Motherhood."

The Rapid Eyeletting Machine Co., P. R. Glass, manager, are about to move their business from our city to Boston. It is a pity if a business which has grown so fast and is so promising as this company, can not be induced to remain here.

Rev. Walter Russell Breed will make the award of the translation and essay prizes, and O. W. Dimick the award of declamation prizes at the High school speaking contest tonight. The prizes will be books presented by Henry H. Faxon and Luther S. Anderson.

The Quincy Co-operative bank has just declared a dividend of three per cent. earnings for past six months. It enters upon its twelfth year, next month, and by uninterrupted success has confirmed the expectations of its hundreds of patrons. Shares in the 23 series may now be obtained of the secretary.

The new Atlantic station has been started, and its progress is watched eagerly by one and all. The station will be built entirely of stone, Horton and Homenway of Boston are the contractors. The cost of the station is estimated now to be about $38,000 when finished, although at present, the little patch of broken ground looks as if the completion of the building would be far ahead in the future.

On his recent visit home from Dartmouth, Harry Linnell of Davis street, Wollaston Park, was accompanied by two college friends, Arthur Holbrook of Ashland, and Timothy Lyman of West Brookfield. These two gentlemen being semi residents of the interior a fishing trip off Boston light in "Harry's" trim little yacht, Gwendoline, was an experience. Their catch was good. The three "studes" returned to their studies yesterday.

A Week of Meetings.

The Atlantic Memorial Congregational church will hold a series of evening meetings for one week, beginning next Monday night, April 30, 8 o'clock.

Monday night,—speakers, Rev. G. Wolcott Brooks, pastor Village Congregational church, Dorchester. Soloist, Miss Helen Dudley, soprano.

Tuesday night,—speaker, Rev. George H. Flint, pastor Central Congregational church, Dorchester. Music by chorus choir from Central church.

Wednesday night,--speaker, Rev. F. W. Merrick, pastor W. Roxbury Congregational church. Soloist, Miss Adelaide J. Griggs, contralto.

Thursday night—speaker, Rev. C. H. Beale, D. D., pastor Emanuel church, Roxbury. Soloist, Miss Elizabeth A. Harrington, soprano.

Friday night—speaker, Rev. F. E. Emrich, D. D., pastor Grace Congregational church, South Framingham. Soloist, Mrs. Willianna Folsom, contralto.

These meetings will be made bright and interesting, the music will be a special feature. The public is cordially invited.

TODAY'S COURT.

William E. O'Brien was fined $5 for drunkenness at Weymouth.

Arthur Cox was arraigned for assault on Robert Plummer at Weymouth. Case continued until Thursday, May 10.

James Hickey was arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Case continued until Saturday.

The continued case of George E Hatch, who is charged by James P. Clare with criminal libel, came up again this morning. The case was not completed however at noon and it was again continued until next Tuesday.

QUINCY CO-OPERATIVE BANK.

FULL POWERS

Given to the Granite Cutters' Committee.

An Important Action If Report Is True.

Likely to Mean Early Settlement of the Trouble.

The two branches of the Quincy Granite Cutters' Union held meetings Thursday, which, if reports can be believed were most important, as they may mean an early settlement of the differences existing between the Manufacturers and Cutters in Quincy.

It is reported that the Cutters authorized its committee to have another conference with Manufacturers' Committee, and it is further reported that it gave its committee full powers.

If, as rumored, the Cutters' Committee have full power, there is no question but what there will be an early termination of the present strike, as both sides are anxious to settle.

When the conference with the two committees will be held is not known, but it will not be until some time next week, as John L. Miller, chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee is out of town, and will not return for several days.

From what can be learned from the cutters it appears that their committee have not been given full power to settle, but simply to seek another conference, and whatever is done by the committee at this conference, will have to be ratified by the Unions.

It is a general belief however that the Cutters will submit a preposition to settle for a minimum price of 33 cents per hour for eight hours, and that the manufacturers will accept.

New England Order of Protection.

The last regular meeting of Quincy Lodge No. 261. N. E. O. P. was devoted chiefly to a discussion of the "good of the order" and substantial results are expected, especially as regards increase of membership. Among other things, it was the sense of the meeting, that all possible publicity be given the doings of the local daily paper, the Quincy Ledger, and a brother was appointed as lodge reporter An active canvass of the city is to be made by the members in quest of recruits. Quincy lodge has a membership of 75, many of whom are well known and successful business men of this city. Since January, the Massachusetts jurisdiction of the N. E. O. P. has added 754 members to its roll, and many applications are on file. This year gives promise of excellent results for the order and Quincy lodge proposes to be in the front rank.

New Home of Press Club.

The Boston Press Club will give "housewarming" in its new home, a Sewall place, Wednesday afternoon and evening, May 2. The club has recently removed from the time honored and memory-laden quarters in Bosworth place, and has for its present abode a house that is unique in being the only old Boston residence now standing in the financial and commercial section of the city. The "housewarming" has been arranged particularly for newspaper men of Boston and vicinity, to whom a cordial invitation is extended by the committee to pull the latch string.

G. A. R. Ladies' Night.

Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., held a ladies' night, Thursday evening at Grand Army hall, which was attended by upwards of seventy-five ladies, representing the Women's Relief corps and Ladies Aid of the Sons of Veterans. An entertaining programme consisting of vocal and instrumental music was given, following which ice cream and cake were served. Then came a social game of whist, and a dry smoke by the veterans.

HERE AND THERE.

Local Brevities of the City of Presidents.

Cool today.

Cows are out to pasture.

Are we to have this kind of weather in May?

James Moorhead has put in the market this week some excellent lettuce.

Miss Mary L. Marnock has recovered from a five weeks' illness of typhoid pneumonia.

The new steam roller has been at work rolling the ball-field at Merrymount park.

Julius Johnson is starting a house of 14 rooms on Whitwell street for James Skinner.

L. M. Pratt & Co. are selling new goods at reduced prices. See their large advertisement.

Another case of diphtheria was reported from West Quincy, Thursday, and one from Wollaston this morning.

Trees are being planted around the play ground near the Atlantic station, which will be quite an addition to the place.

The outbuildings at the Coddington school have been removed, now that the schoolhouse is connected with the sewer.

A six room cottage is started on Hancock street, near Billings road, for Mrs. Mary Jones. Julius Johnson is the contractor.

The house at the coner of Coddington and Spear streets has been divided and the rear end is being moved down Coddington street.

The three-year old daughter of Hugh Tracy of Washington street fell from her tricycle, Wednesday, and broke her arm. She was attended by Dr. Dion.

The physical examination for admission to the naval academy was taken by 41 young men of the 10th Massachusetts district on Thursday and 39 passed.

Miss Marion L. Bailey and her class of little folks from the Massachusetts Fields school, enjoyed a trolley ride on Thursday afternoon while studying local history.

Work rebuilding the Houghs Neck line of the street railway is progressing rapidly. The new track is now laid from the Willows to near the entrance to the Adams shore property.

Swingle & Falconer will soon have another granite cutter, strike or no strike. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Swingle on Wednesday and he is receiving many congratulations.

Past Grand E. L. Goodridge of Mt. Wollaston lodge attended the grand celebration of Odd Fellowship at Reading on Thursday. Eddie is always there when the Odd Fellows celebrate.

Mr. J. B. Willis, who made such a favorable impression at the Atlantic Monday Evening Club a year ago, will occupy the pulpit of the Atlantic Congregational Church, Sunday morning, April 29.

Residents of Presidents hill are pleased with the attention the streets have received at the hands of Commissioner Knowlton. Whalley road, Avon way and Goffe street have been put in good condition.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. finished painting their poles in Quincy Thursday. The gang of men doing the work commenced at the New York end of the line and are to paint every pole between that city and Boston.

The Chief's call was sounded on the fire alarm circuit shortly before midnight Thursday night to notify him that there was a fire in the woods at the Blue Hills Reservation. The department however did not respond.

EXAMINE BEFORE YOU BUY.

When in a grocer's store you stand
And cakes of Ivory Soap demand,
Be careful not to be mislead
And imitations take instead.
For dealers oft will praises sing
Of that which may more profit bring.
Examine well with careful eye
The cake until the name you spy,
And always thus be well assured
That Ivory Soap you have procured;
And should a lingering doubt remain,
'Twill vanish like the darkest stain,
When in the tub on washing day
That cake of soap is brought in play.

The Sultan's Plans.

London, April 27.—The Constantinople correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says: The Turko-American controversy is in a fair way of settlement, the sultan having promised satisfaction. It is asserted that the porte has revived the project of building a cruiser in the United States, to disguise the payment of the indemnity, and Ahmed Pasha is going to New York to negotiate with the Cramps on the subject.

Nicaragua Not Looking For Trouble.

Washington, April 27.—Senor Corea, the Nicaraguan minister here, has made an emphatic denial of the story that Nicaragua has any hostile designs upon Costa Rica. Because of the reiteration in the news dispatches of rumors to that effect, the minister had a long conference with Secretary Hay yesterday, and disposed of these stories finally and completely.

Epidemic of Typhoid Fever.

West Burke, Vt., April 27.—There are 30 cases of typhoid fever in this little village and several deaths have occurred. The cause of the epidemic is attributed to the Passumpsic river water, which, it is said, has been pumped from the river, just below the point where sewerage enters it, to increase the regular water supply when the water was low in the winter.

Castro Increasing His Unpopularity.

Kingston, Jam., April 27.—Dr. Ricardo Becerra, an aged and distinguished Colombian resident of Caracas, has been forcibly expelled from Venezuela by order of President Castro for press writing. Venezuelans and Colombians warmly resent Castro's autocratic act, which is considerably increasing his unpopularity.

Fatal Elevator Accident.

Lowell, Mass., April 27.—James Seeton was instantly killed while attempting to board an elevator in motion in the Odd Fellows' temple. About three feet above the entrance on the ground floor he was hurled through a glass panel and pinned in the sash while the car, up-going, struck him in the head, inflicting horrible wounds.

Cholera In Relief Camp.

London, April 27.—A special dispatch from Bombay says: The cholera is raging fearfully at the great camp at Godra, where thousands of families of stricken natives are receiving relief. A hundred and fifty corpses were removed yesterday, but 100 others had to be left because it was impossible to procure bearers.

FOR SALE--The Durgin-Merrill Block and Buildings in the Rear.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS.

Suburbs of Ottawa and Part of the City Itself Swept by Flames.

All the Business Portion of Hull Reduced to Ashes.

Twenty-Five Hundred Buildings Burned and Thousands of Families Homeless.

Ottawa, April 27.—The city of Hull was swept by fire yesterday and all that remains is a small corner in the east end of the city. Hull has a population of about 12,000 people, and more than half of them are homeless. The entire business part of the city, including the courthouse, postoffice and public buildings, and newspaper offices, is one mass of ruins. The population is almost entirely composed of people who work in the mills, or who derive their business from those works.

A summing up shows five square miles of territory burned over; more than 2500 dwellings, factories, mills, stores and other buildings destroyed, entailing a loss estimated at between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000, and between 12,000 and 15,000 men, women and children homeless.

Most of the lumber piles in Ottawa and Hull have disappeared and are now mere heaps of only charred wood and ashes. Half a dozen churches and schools, a number of mills, the Hull waterworks, the Hull court house and jail, the postoffice, the convent, almost every business place, and about 1000 dwellings and shops in Hull have been destroyed.

Indeed, practically nothing of Hull is left, but a church and a few houses beyond it. In this city it is estimated that, besides the mills, factories, etc., burned, 1500 residences were destroyed.

The spot where the fire originated is about a quarter of a mile from the main street of Hull, and as a gale was blowing from the northwest, right in the direction of the lumber piles and mills on both the Hull and Ottawa shores of the Ottawa river and Chaudier's Falls, it was soon seen that the fire was almost certain to be a large one. By 11:30 the fire had got a good hold of Main street, and the entire street, with dozens of cross streets, was burned.

Practically there is not a house left in the street. About this time the fire made a jump of nearly half a mile, and ignited Eddy's wood yard, near a match factory. It was soon in flames, and the 50-mile an hour gale which was blowing drove a high column of flame across Bridge street and set fire to the Eddy paper mill and the other buildings of the company.

The fire at this time also sprang across the Ottawa river and caught the sheds in the rear of the McKay Milling company on Victoria island, and in a few minutes the lumber piles on Victoria and Chaudierre islands, one of the power houses of the Ottawa Electric company, the Victoria foundry, and half the buildings on the two islands, were in flames.

While the Victoria and Chaudierre islands were a seething mass of roaring flames, the fire made another jump and caught in the freight sheds of the Canadian Pacific railroad yards at the Chaudierre, and soon after the Union station was ablaze. The rolling stock and most of the freight and baggage had been removed, but the flames spread with great rapidity, and in a very short time the whole of the Chaudierre flats were fireswept. The mass of fire was blown by the wind, which stiffly continued to blow a gale down upon Rochesterville, Mechanicsville and Hintonburg, consuming everything in its way.

At this time, 5 o'clock, there was almost a continuous line of fire from its starting place, Chaudierre street, Hull, to the St. Louis dam, and the experimental farm in one direction, and through and beyond Hintonburg in another, a distance of nearly seven miles. In some places the fire was more than half a mile deep.

The fire originated through a fire in a dirty chimney, and the high wind caused the flames to spread rapidly.

Weston's Big Fire.

Weston, Mass., April 27.—A fire, which at one time threatened to wipe out the centre of the town of Weston, was caused by a spark from a passing locomotive. The fire spread toward the meadow, and drove toward the south part of the town, and at one time three large brush fires were burning. The fire destroyed a large barn, the roofs of several buildings and about 60 acres of woodland, and nearly 25 cords of wood.

Twelve Hundred Acres Burned Over.

Chatham, Mass., April 27.—A destructive forest fire was started here Thursday, presumably by a locomotive. The fire swept through the thickly wooded land with great rapidity. By a great effort the fire was finally got under control, after having burned over about 1200 acres.

REVERTED TO NINTH INNING.

Bostons Scored Three Runs In the Tenth, but the Umpire Called the Game.

New York, April 27.—In the ninth inning the Bostons went to the field five runs to the good. The Gothamites had given up hope. But the Giants made another whirlwind finish and tied the score. Then the crowd and the players clamored for the umpire to call the game. It was broad daylight though and Connolly ordered the game to proceed.

The Bostons at once batted out three runs and the crowd became more clamorous than ever for the game to be called. The scene beggars description. Everyone but the Bostons was doing a ghost dance. They wanted to continue the game if it took all night.

Finally Umpire Connolly called the game. The game reverted to the ninth inning, with the score a tie.

Houses and Barns In Danger.

Springfield, Mass., April 27.—Forest fires are raging on the town line between Longmeadow and East Longmeadow. Much damage has been done, and the flames threaten several houses and barns. All able-bodied men in Longmeadow are fighting the flames.

A Blaze at Edgartown.

Edgartown, Mass., April 27.—A heavy fire is raging in the timber in the vicinity of Little Pond. It started from a brush fire. Already much valuable young growth has been burned over.

Forty-Five Families Driven Out.

New York, April 27.—Fire that originated in the basement of a five-story triple apartment house yesterday spread rapidly and drove 45 families into the street and caused a loss of $50,000. Many rescues were made by the police and firemen and many occupants of the building had narrow escapes. A number of firemen and tenants received severe burns.

Strike In Shoe Factory.

East Weymouth, Mass., April 27.—Four of the 34 lasters employed in Edwin Clapp's shoe factory were discharged Thursday, no reason for this action being given, whereupon the remaining 30 lasters voted not to return to work until the other operatives were reinstalled. It is believed by the lasters that the firm intends to introduce lasting machines to replace hand labor.

A Sensational Announcement.

Berlin, April 27.—It is announced that Prince Von Hohenlohe has forbidden the North German Lloyd Steamship company to make further importations of, and to land in German, Dutch or Belgian ports, freshly slaughtered meats, butter, dairy products or cereals, as directly competing with German agriculture.

Philadelphia Families Homeless.

Philadelphia, April 27.—Federal market and hall, an old landmark in the southern section of the city, was destroyed by fire yesterday. Much surrounding property was damaged. A number of families are rendered homeless. Total loss, $90,000.

Weather Conditions and Forecast.

Almanac, Saturday, April 28.
Sun rises—4:44; sets, 6:40.
Moon rises—4:01 a. m.
High water—10:15 a. m.; 10:45 p. m.

The weather has continued fair east of the Mississippi, except in Florida and southern Alabama, where showers have occurred. No well-defined storm appears within the region of observation. There is evidence, however, of a storm development over the southern Rocky mountain region. The weather will continue fair in the New England states. Along the New England coast fresh northerly winds will prevail.

The Social Realm.

If thou hast yesterday thy duty done,
And thereby cleared firm footing for today,
Whatever clouds make dark tomorrow's sun,
Thou shalt not miss the solitary way.
—Goethe.

ATTACKED BY DOG.

Little Seven-Year-Old Girl Terribly Lacerated.

A terrible sight was witnessed at the home of Mr. Wakeham, Quincy Neck, late Thursday evening. Mr. Wakeham's eleven-year-old daughter, Emeline, was playing in her yard in front of the house, when the large black dog owned by Mr. T. J. H. Thayer of Quincy Neck came rushing into the yard. Mr. Thayer's dog frequently is around the home and it was not thought strange that he should be there at that time, and the first intimation of any trouble, was when the little girl's two older brothers, who were in the yard heard her scream. They turned just in time to see the dog spring upon their little sister, but not soon enough to prevent the terrible accident. The dog sprung at her twice, the second time fastening his teeth in the child's face and tearing it in a most brutal manner.

The little girl was carried into the house, where she became unconscious. Medical Examiner Jones was immediately summoned, but failed to respond and then Dr. Ellsworth was called, but did not arrive at Mr. Wakeham's home until nearly eleven o'clock. The little girl remained in an unconscious state for nearly three hours before the doctor could get to her. Dr. Ellsworth pronounced it a most serious case, the face was so terribly torn. Ether was given at once, and the child remained under ether for three hours, about forty stitches being taken about her face. The mother and father are prostrated. The owner of the dog, Mr. Thayer, immediately came forward and offered to pay all expenses and help the parents in every way. The dog was killed this morning.

—Governor Crane has issued the following proclamation, making this Saturday, April 28, Arbor day: "Complying with the provisions of Chapter 32 to the Resolves of 1886, I thereby designate Saturday, the 28th day of April, now current, as Arbor day, and I recommend that it be observed by the people of the Commonwealth in the planting of trees, shrubs and vines, in the promotion of forest growth and culture, in the adornment of public and private grounds, places and ways, and in such other efforts and undertakings as shall be in harmony with the general character of a day so established."

—An address will be given next Tuesday evening at 7.45 P. M. in Cochato hall, Elm street, Braintree, by Rev. Bipin Candra Pal, Minister of the Brahmo Somaj, Calcutta, India. Mr. Pal is a very fluent and eloquent speaker, a man of great culture and education, a person of many attainments and is a representative man of India. He will probably speak on "Hinduism and Christianity Compared" or kindred subject. We have sent missionaries to far away India and now let us hear what a native hath to say. The address will be free, but a collection may be taken.

—The Hyde Park ice rates this year will be: Families and offices, 60 cents per 100 pounds; apothecaries, hotels and boarding houses, 50 cents per 100 pounds; markets, stores, and milkmen, 40 cents per 100 pounds. All will be served by weight.

—Philadelphia has had a three weeks' trial of an ordinance prohibiting the distribution of circulars and flysheets at doors and on stoops in that city. It has worked an instant improvement in the street. April winds have less paper to blow about. The streets are neater and cleaner.

PRIZE SPEAKING.

Interesting Program by Quincy High School Pupils.

The eighth prize speaking contest of the Quincy High school, like its predecessors was a gratifying success. The contestants were greeted by a crowded house of nearly 1,000, and they gave a creditable exhibition of training. The school under the direction of Miss Fish rendered pleasing part songs which were also excellent. There was an innovation this year, in that the school did not march in or out. The speakers platform was also placed nearer the audience, most of the pupils being to the rear.

The prizes for declamations were given as usual by Henry H. Faxon, Esq.; and ex-Councilman L. S. Anderson gives the prizes for essays and translations. The program was:

THE PASSING BELL.

When our little day is ended,
When the dusk and dark have blended,
When the lights of time cease gleaming
O'er these tents of earthly dreaming,
Lord, be near us!

Do not in that hour forsake us;
Let not dust and darkness take us;
Send thy dawn's clear splendor streaming
From the east of our redeeming;
Father, hear us!

POSSUM TALKS

Zeb White, He Tells How He Treed a Sunday Coon.

BY M. QUAD.

[Copyright, 1900, by C. B. Lewis.]

"One Sunday mawnin seven or eight years ago I got up feelin sorter cantankerous," said the old possum hunter as I asked for a story. "The old woman seed that I wasn't peart, and she let me alone till arter breakfast. Then, as I started out for a walk around, she says:

"'Zeb, thar ain't no preachin at the skulehouse today, but it would look mighty decent fur you to sot down and read a chapter in the Bible.'

"'What fur?' says I.

"'Fur to show the world that you respect the day,' says she.

"'I reckon the world don't keer whether I read the Bible or take a walk.'

"'But the Lawd does. Can't nobody keep on bustin up the Sabbath as you do without somethin happenin to 'em. My eyes are a leetle weak this mawnin, and if you'd sit down and read me that chapter 'bout the children of Israel crossin the Red sea I'd be powerful glad.'

"That's what I orter hev done, of co'se," explained the old man, "but when a critter is feelin cantankerous he ain't hisself. He's mad at his wife, his dawg, his gun and everything else, and he won't git decent ag'in till somethin has happened. I whistled to my dawg and went off up the hillside, and the old woman didn't call arter me. Mebbe I'd got half a mile from the house when the dawg took arter a varmint and run it up a tree. I jest got a glimpse of the thing and took it fur a coon, but I orter hev known better. Every ha'r on that dawg's back was standin up and his eyes as big as sassers, and if I hadn't bin cantankerous I'd hev figgered it out that no coon could excite him in that way. The thing to do was to tie the dawg to the tree and go home fur an ax. The dawg didn't want to be tied, but I managed it and went back.

"THE BIGGEST WILDCAT I EVER LAID EYES ON."

"'Hev you cum back to read to me 'bout them children of Israel?' asks the old woman as I arrove.

"'No; I've cum fur the ax to cut down a coon tree.'

"'Are you gwine to risk your soul fur the sake of a coon?'

"'Don't be silly. Coonskins is wuth 60 cents apiece, and we are out of 'lasses, and the Lawd ain't gwine to punish folks fur gittin somethin to eat, even on Sunday.'

"'Zeb,' says she as I was turnin away, 'if you've got a coon up a tree, mebbe it wouldn't be so awfully wicked to chop him down, but if I was you I'd kinder smooth it over with Providence first. Bein as you left the dawg on watch you kin read me that chapter befo' you go. I've sorter forgotten how clus Pharlo was to 'em when the waters rolled back and kivered him up.'

"'I don't believe it ever happened,' says I, feelin a new streak of cantankerousness comin over me.

"'What! Do you deny that?'

"'Reckon I do, and heaps of other things besides.'

"'Then, Zeb White, you jest git ready fur a calamitous calamity! It's denyin the Lawd, and the Lawd ain't gwine to stand it. Go on arter your coon, but I'm sayin goodby to you. I shall be a widder befo' the clock strikes 12.'

"I wasn't troubled a bit in my mind," said Zeb, "but I was sorter astonished when I got back to the coon tree. Bits of ha'r was lyin around on the ground, and the old dog was gone. 'Peared to me that thar had bin a fout around thar, but I didn't figger fur long. It was a tree which stood alone, and away up in the top I could see the coon hidin away in a crotch of a limb. It took me but half an hour to cut the tree down, and all the time I was choppin I was sayin to myself that the children of Israel never passed through the Red sea dry shod. Jest befo' the tree fell I heard a yeowlin and a snarlin from the varmint in the top, but I took it that the coon had got shaky. The tree went down with a crash, and I run up with a club to give the coon a lick on the head. I hadn't reached [illegible] whar the cum out to [illegible] and biz up to once. It wasn't no coon 'tall, but one of the biggest wildcats I ever laid eyes on. He hadn't bin hurt by the fall, but he was mad 'nuff to eat nails. I had skeercely made out what the varmint was when he lit on me and got to work. I don't reckon you ever met up with a 20 pound wildcat with teeth and claws in good trim, but if you ever do you'll find that buzzsaws ain't in it with him. The varmint knocked me down at the fust jump, and he had torn off half my clothes befo' I could git up. Then we went at it hammer and tongs. I had denied the children of Israel, and so I had to depend upon the club. It wasn't much of a weapon to fight a wildcat with. The critter dodged half the blows, and the other half didn't seem to hurt any. I yelled fur my dawg, but he didn't cum. I yelled fur the old woman, and 'bout the time I yelled I cotched sight of her two rods off, lookin on. She had my rifle in her hands, and I hollered fur her to cum cluser and shoot the cat.

"'Zeb White,' sez she, 'it ain't fur me to mix in this fout. You went out in defiance of the Lawd to cotch a coon, and if you've cotched a wildcat instead it's a proper punishment.'

"Her words made me mad and teched my pride, and I determined to kill that cat without her help or be clawed to death a-tryin. I got in two or three good blows and sorter evened up things, but it was nip and tuck. Bimeby, when I begun to weaken, I says to the old woman:

"'I ain't axin you to shoot the varmint, but you might shoot off a paw or two and gimme a fa'r show.'

"'How about Sunday?' she asks, never movin a foot.

"'It's a purty good day.'

"'Is it the Lawd's day or a coon's day?'

"'The Lawd's day, I reckon. Gwine to stand thar till the meat is clawed off my bones?'

"'Can't tell yit. When the Lawd brings about a calamitous calamity to punish a man fur denyin him it's fur folks to be keerful how they mix in.'

"'Nobody has axed you to mix in,' says I, and then I went fur that cat like a hawk fur a chicken. Fur the next five minutes I had the advantage and was beginnin to feel peart, but the loss of blood began to tell, and I found myself growin weak. The old woman noticed it and called out:

"'Zeb, how about the Bible?'

"'I'm a-believin in it,' says I as I makes an awful blow at the cat.

"'And how about the children of Israel?'

"'I'm a-believin in them too.'

"'Did they cross the Red sea dry shod?'

"'I'll bet they did!'

"'Was Pharaoh overwhelmed?'

"'He was, and I'll lick any man who denies it.'

"'Jest one mo' question, Zeb,' says the old woman as she cums forward. 'Are thar gwine to be any mo' coon huntin on Sundays?'

"'Not if we never hev another pint of 'lasses in the cabin!' says I as the cat rakes me across the shoulders.

"That ended the fight. The old woman mixed in and shot the cat through the head, and I tumbled down and lay thar fur half an hour befo' she could help me hobble home. 'Bout all the clothes I had left on me was one boot and a shirt collar, and it was fo' weeks befo' the bites and scratches let me git around ag'in. On the fust Sunday I could sit out I saw a b'ar up the mounting and started fur my gun, but the old woman held up her hand and said:

"'Zeb White, take a cheer and sot down. Yes; I know it's a b'ar, and we are powerful short of meat, but we've got somethin else to do. As soon as I git my hands out of this dishwater I'll fill my pipe and sot down, and you'll read to me 'bout them children and the Red sea. If you read slow and don't skip anything, mebbe you'll find somethin 'bout wildcats too!'"

Napoleon on Wellington.

The Century quotes from Dr. O'Meara's unpublished "Talks With Napoleon" at St. Helena this judgment of the imprisoned emperor on the general who finally overthrew him:

"I asked him if he thought Lord Wellington merited the reputation he had gained as a general. He said: 'Certainly; I think he does. He is a very excellent general, and possessed of great firmness and talent, but he has not yet done as much as some others. He has not conquered upon so large a scale.' I observed that he had shown great judgment and caution latterly, but that at first he had been too precipitate in advancing into Spain. He said that he had shown a great deal of ability in the campaign of Spain. 'It is impossible,' said he, 'for man not to commit some faults. We are all liable to it, and the general who commits the fewest in number is the greatest general, and he has certainly committed as few as any one.' I then observed that still he was scarcely to be equaled to himself. 'Why, certainly,' said he. 'He has not done so much as I have done. He has not conquered kingdoms in the manner I have done, but he is an excellent general. His operations have not been upon so great a scale.'"

A Young Man's Queer Pets.

"A pretty well known Philadelphian," says the Philadelphia Record, "who is now at Atlantic City likewise strives to attract the eye there by appearing in the hotels and cafes and on the board walk every night with a gold chain around his neck to which two big gray rats are attached. The rats, plain, ordinary rodents, but tamed, wear gold collars, and the young man's gold chain is fastened to these. Up and down his back and waistcoat the rats patter, but usually they are seated on his shoulder, whispering in his ear. Sometimes he fondles them or gives them bits of cheese and cracker. They seem to be quite clean, but a peculiar smell somewhat like musk irritates the nostrils if one comes too near the young man's pets."

HOW SOROSIS DRESSES.

A Fashion Writer Tells of a Visit to the Mother of Woman's Clubs.

BY HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

The other day I passed the afternoon at the social meeting of Sorosis, and it is just there that one can go with profit, if looking for style, for these ladies are determined to lift the reproach of carelessness in dress from women with ideas above buttons.

A better dressed lot of women gathered together it has never been my lot to see, not even at the horse show, which has generally been the place par excellence where fine dressing is seen. The majority of the members of Sorosis are women of wealth and the rest are possessed of such good taste that there is nothing left to be desired.

I only wish that it came within the province of a fashion writer to tell all about the clever things these women said and the ovation given to Mrs. Esther Hermann. What she wore is not of such great importance as what she is to us all. But she was well dressed for the honor of Sorosis, and her snowy hair was surmounted by a bonnet of silver spangles and pale pink tulle with lots of delicate lace. I think that her dress was of black peau de soie, but the crowd was so great that, being seated, I could not see very well.

Kate Upson Clarke was elegantly dressed in black, with spangles all over, that sparkled brightly as she grew earnest in demanding that some one should write some better songs for the boys in our colleges.

Mrs. Clifford Elizabeth Williams of Georgia, the new success as a soprano, wore a very novel and pretty dress, with the waist in blouse form below a sort of guimpe of white lace over pink. The blouse was of sage green panne velvet, sewed in lines of fine steel beads in such a way as to suggest an old Egyptian pattern. The sleeves and the rest of the gown were of thick silk of the same color, with such trimming as would be suggested by the trimming on the waist.

There was a great showing of white silk waists, all tucked and decorated with lace, and there were many waists made of ribbon and lace in lines. One of them was much admired, and that had ribbon one inch and a half wide of a rich damson color and butter colored lace. This was worn with a cloth skirt in exactly the same shade.

One stately lady wore a black satin dress covered with a net or one decorated with silver and emerald spangles. The skirt was long and was altogether lovely. There were so many elegant costumes that it is obviously impossible to describe them all, but I cannot resist telling of a few of the hats.

There was one toque of handmade pale pink silk lace o[illegible] white. In front there was a large [illegible] of black velvet and a black fa[illegible] peacock feather. One large blush [illegible]se was put on the left side.

Another pretty toque had the whole of it covered with pink laurel flowers with their foliage. It was arranged so that part of them covered the crown, and others stood up for trimming.

A bonnet for an elderly lady had a crown of black spangled lace, and around this was a brim made of close rosettes of white tulle, each one having a strass diamond in the center. There were long tulle strings to tie under the chin. This softens the face as nothing else can.

The chairman of the day wore a hat with three immense roses—one white, one pink and the other deep red, one rising above the other—but the other officers rather favored picture hats with large plumes.

Eton jackets were much in evidence in every variety. But the skirts were more notable for graceful, sweeping lines than for the tucks and close habit shapes.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning April 29—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—What is God's due?—Luke xx, 19-26.

"Is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Cæsar or no?" With this question the Pharisees sought to entrap the Saviour. If He said "Yes," they would charge Him before the people with being against them and an emissary of the Roman government. If He said "No," they would inform on Him and have Him accused of disloyalty to the government. But, as ever, He defeated their plans. Asking for a penny, a Roman coin containing Cæsar's image, He inquires, "Whose image and superscription hath it?" They answer, "Cæsar's." "Render, therefore," He replies, "unto Cæsar the things which be Cæsar's and unto God the things which be God's." Obligations are owed to Cæsar representing human government, and these obligations should be fulfilled. But beyond them are moral and religious obligations which belong to God. These debts should be paid to God. There is no conflict in the obligations. A man should be both pious and patriotic, a saint and a citizen. He should be loyal to God, who alone is king in the moral world, and to Cæsar, who is king in the secular world.

Since we should render unto God the things that are God's, it is very natural to inquire: What are the things of God? What is God's due? It is impossible for us to estimate what we owe God. His gifts to us are so numerous and so valuable that we cannot compute that which we owe to Him for them or what is due from us to God in consideration for what God has done for us. Among many things:

1. We owe God a debt of gratitude. All His gifts are mercies to us. They are absolutely unmerited. They come to us without any worthiness upon our part at all. Therefore gratitude is due unto God for them. Unmerited mercies should call forth our deepest and truest gratitude unto God.

2. We owe God a debt of love. God has given us a love that is unspeakable and unsurpassed. He has manifested His love in the gift of His Son to die on the cross for our sins. This is His priceless gift to us. It should call forth our love to Him in return. Love should beget love. Love is under obligation to love, and, therefore, we should love Him because He first loved us.

3. We owe God a debt of service. God has bought our lives. We were dead in trespasses and in sins, but He redeemed us. We have been bought with a price. Therefore we are not our own and should serve and glorify Him to whom we belong. The service of the owned belongs to the owner. Therefore the service of our lives is due unto God. He owns us.

We owe God more than we can ever pay in ourselves. There is but one way in which our debt can be fully canceled—we must cast ourselves upon God's mercy in Jesus Christ, and for His sake God will abundantly pardon us and cancel all the debt that we owe.

THE PRAYER MEETING.

The topical reference is mainly a question and an answer. It is therefore appropriate to have a "question box" meeting. Call the roll and have as many as will respond by asking a question on some phase of things lawful and unlawful, our duties to God and our relations to government and society.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ex. xiii, 1, 2; Lev. xxiii, 9-14; Ps. xxiv, 1; Mal. iii, 8-12; Prov. xvi, 8; Math. ii, 1-11; Acts iv, 36, 37; xx, 28; Rom. xii, 1, 2; I Cor. vi, 19, 20; vii, 23, 24; I Tim. v, 8.

Some People Who Need Watching.

People who are on the watch for frauds generally need close inspection. The disposition to magnify trifles and discern flaws is fatal. It is often a disease for the alienist to cure, but usually it is a mask to cover one's own faults. In fact, the more convinced a man is that his neighbor or competitor is a scoundrel the more certain it is that the rascality is in the critic. No one is secure from calumny, but the tricks of the envious and the malicious always recoil upon themselves.—Jewish Messenger.

Music.

Music, heavenly and holy art, thou hast ever been a great help in stirring the depths of men's souls to a higher devotion, to a deeper attachment to Deity! But thou hast not been intended to drown God's word—aye, and to drown the sweet words of prayer! Music should be a help, but not what it has really come to be—the sole object of the worshiper's attention.—Jewish Voice.

He Is Ever Coming.

If the Lord should come in the morning
As I went about my work,
The little things and the quiet things
That a servant cannot shirk,
Though nobody ever sees them,
And only the dear Lord cares
That they always are done in the light of the sun,
Would He take me unawares?

If my Lord should come at noonday,
The time of the dust and heat,
When the glare is white and the air is still,
And the hoofbeats sound in the street;
If my dear Lord came at noonday
And smiled in my tired eyes,
Would it not be sweet His look to meet,
Would He take me by surprise?

If the Lord came hither at evening
In the fragrant dew and dusk,
When the world drops off its mantle
Of daylight like a husk,
And flowers in wonderful beauty,
And we fold our hands and rest
Would His touch of my hand, is low command,
Bring me unhoped for zest?

Why do I ask and question?
He is ever coming to me,
Morning and noon and evening,
If I have but eyes to see,
And the daily load grows lighter,
The daily cares grow sweeter,
The Master is near, the Master is here;
I have only to sit at His feet.

LOSS OF $17,000,000.

All Classes of People Suffer From Fire Which Devastated Ottawa and Hull.

Three Thousand People Are Rendered Homeless.

Work Is the Most Serious Problem Confronting Those Who Were Burned Out.

Ottawa, April 28.—The stricken inhabitants of Ottawa and the now almost extinct city of Hull are slowly coming to a realizing sense of the magnitude of their calamity, and the horrors through which they have passed. While they are recounting with each other the experiences of the past two days and are struggling with the great task of formulating their financial loss, the mother country sends her condolences, and the cities of the province and dominion join with those of the United States in expressions of sorrow and an expressed desire to aid the suffering and afflicted. It is now believed that the loss of life will not exceed seven. The closest that it is possible to estimate the loss is to place it at $17,000,000. Three thousand people are homeless. The amount of lumber burned is closely estimated at 200,000,000 feet.

The government, at a cabinet meeting yesterday, decided to give $100,000 to relieve the sufferers of the Ottawa and Hull fire. Ten thousand dollars will be given for immediate use. The city council has decided to give $10,000.

The fire is entirely out. The devastated area in Ottawa city is very large. It includes a great part of Victoria and Dalhousie yards, and it is estimated that over 2000 houses have been destroyed. In the Catholic parish of St. Jean Baptiste 600 families are homeless. The value of lumber destroyed reaches $2,000,000.

The fire area has been viewed by thousands of people. One of the most remarkable things about the sad scene was that no smoke was to be seen. There were no half-burned buildings or smouldering logs anywhere. Everything that the fire touched was burned to ashes. All of Hull's principal buildings, with the exception of the Catholic church, are things of the past. The buildings and land in the place were valued at $2,700,000, and of this amount over $1,000,000 may be put down as loss. Then in stocks, fixtures, equipment, household effects and wearing apparel there is a loss of nearly $3,000,000. The vast piles of lumber which went up in smoke may be reckoned at $2,000,000 more.

The thousand families who met with disaster will probably number considerably over 7000 persons. It is said over 150,000,000 feet of lumber was destroyed.

The most serious problem that confronts Hull is that of work. The majority of householders who were burned out are poor and have large families. It is not expected there will be employment for a considerable period, and the way in which many of the poor are going to live in the meantime is doubtful.

Coming to the Ottawa side, fully two-thirds of Dalhousie ward is devastated. The destroyed property in this district included some of the finest residences in Ottawa as well as a great many of the humblest.

The list of dead now stands as follows: Miss Minnie Cook, aged 40, cremated in her own house; John Pumple, suffocated in Canadian Pacific railroad yards; George Peeley, suffocated; John Dare, Hull, a fireman; unknown man found dead in Hull; Mrs. Carron, died from fright, aged 80; A. Baudin, aged 8.

Joseph Robert of Hull is not expected to live. There are others more or less injured.

Doesn't Affect American Products.

New York, April 28.—Manager Schwab of the North German Lloyds line, American agency, says, in referring to the action of Prince Von Hohenlohe in interdicting the importation into Germany or Dutch or Belgian ports of pork and dairy products by the North German Lloyds company, that the edict does not apply to American provisions. The ruling applied to the importations from China and Australia, as the steamships of the North German Lloyds line plying to those countries are subsidized by the German government, while those running to the United States are not subsidized.

Final Report Not Yet Made.

Frankfort, Ky., April 28.—The Franklin county grand jury completed its labors yesterday, but its final report will not be made until Monday. Over 100 witnesses were examined in connection with the Goebel assassination case. It is unofficially stated that the indictment said to have been found against Governor Taylor will be entered on record then.

Pistol and Oil Stove as Weapons.

Beverly, Mass., April 28.—In a fracas that occurred at the house of Frank L. Harmon, concerning which the principals tell different stories, Samuel Dooling was shot in the arm and Harmon sustained several bruises about the head, which he says were caused by an oil stove thrown at him by Dooling. The injuries are not serious.

LACK OF POPULAR ENTHUSIASM.

Throng on Middle Class People Witnessed Governor Allen's Arrival at San Juan.

San Juan, P. R., April 28.—Governor Allen has arrived at San Juan on the United States steamship Dolphin. In accordance with the program, he arrived in state, escorted by the vessels of the North Atlantic squadron, and was received with salutes and other military honors.

General Davis visited Mr. Allen on board the Dolphin. A detachment of insular police and four companies of the Porto Rico regiment, with a band, were drawn up on the wharf. The Dolphin's launch, carrying Mr. Allen and others, left the Dolphin at noon, the Texas and Dolphin firing a salute of 17 guns. Meanwhile the band played the Porto Rican national air, and the steamers lying in the harbor kept up a continuous whistling until the launch reached the landing.

The families of General Davis and the new civil governor were introduced to each other. A crowd of 3000 looked on, but was kept at a distance. The troops and police marched past, and Mr. Allen then drove to the executive mansion, preceded by troops and followed by squads of police.

The simplicity of the governor's costume and of the general details of the reception took the Porto Ricans by surprise, and they could scarcely realize that they looked upon the new governor. Mr. Allen is the first governor of Porto Rico to arrive in anything less conspicuous than a gorgeous uniform, covered with gold lace and similar trappings.

Few representative citizens were present at the landing, the throng being composed largely of middle-class people. Nor was there any attempt to decorate the buildings or nothing to speak of, and generally the reception was not notably enthusiastic.

In the course of a brief interview Mr. Allen said that it was too early for him to talk of government affairs, but that he had formed no outline of policy. He desires to settle the details of the new regime as soon as possible, and will remain here conferring with General Davis pending the arrival of the new appointees.

Noted Railroad Man Dead.

Portland, Me., April 28.—Payson Tucker, the widely known railroad man, died in Michigan, where he had been for some time seeking relief from physical ailments. About a year ago Mr. Tucker was critically ill with blood poisoning. The seeds of the disorder remained in his system and the periods of relief had been only temporary stays of its ravages. Mr. Tucker was born in this city in 1841. When he retired from the Maine Central management his genius had developed the road to its present fine proportions. Mr. Tucker was a Mason, a member of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks and other literary, scientific and fraternal organizations.

Paine For Vice President.

Boston, April 28.—The Post says that Democratic members of congress received in their mail yesterday copies of an unsigned letter, headed "Just government; a winning ticket, for president, William J. Bryan; for vice president, Robert Treat Paine, Jr." The letter contains a strong plea for Bryan and Paine. To all appearances the letter was issued in the south. The Post says Mr. Paine is not in town.

Woods Still Ablaze.

Northampton, Mass., April 28.—The timber between this city and Westhampton is still burning. Already over 5000 acres, a greater portion of this being well-grown young timber, and thousands of small trees and much cordwood, have been burned. To the north of this city the woods are also on fire. Several farm houses were saved by building back fires.

Ewry's Long Jumps.

Syracuse, April 28.—In a competition with Leroy Yakeley at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night, Roy C. Ewry of the New York Athletic club made 11 feet 3 inches in the standing broad jump, breaking the world's amateur record, and 5 feet 4 inches in the standing high jump, breaking his own world's record for the event one-half inch.

Roundabout News of "Insurrection."

Madrid, April 28.—A commercial house here has received a dispatch from Cuba saying that Jesus Rabi, the Cuban leader, has headed an "insurrectionary" movement in the province of Santiago, which the sender of the dispatch believes to be "supported by the chief towns of the province."

For Outrages Upon Boer Sympathizers.

Berlin, April 28.—The German government has formally demanded satisfaction for a number of outrages lately committed at Melbourne upon German residents supposed to be friendly to the Boers.

Younies on the War Path.

Freetown, Sierra Leone, April 28.—A serious rising among the Younies, in the Benietta district, is reported, and a detachment of the West African regiment has been sent to Rotofunk to quell it.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The little town of Laurel Forge, Pa., Cumberland county, was almost wiped out of existence by fire. Forest fires caused the conflagration. The loss is $50,000.

London newspapers are unanimous in expressing the opinion that it is the duty of Great Britain to promptly and substantially assist in repairing the losses incurred by the Ottawa fire.

The annual inter-college debate between Bates and Colby colleges was held at Waterville, Me., and was won by Bates.

FAVORABLE BUSINESS SITUATION.

Bradstreet's Reports That Nothing of Definitely Depressing Character Has Developed.

New York, April 28.—Bradstreet's says: Evidences of the fact that there are now two sides to the general trade situation, where for a year past there was but one, come to sight each week, but that the situation as a whole is favorable and suffers merely by comparison with the enormous activity of some time ago is also evident. Speculation is at a low ebb in most lines, hence current clearings make rather unfavorable comparisons with a year ago. Excluding the great speculative centers, however, the aggregate of business is undoubtedly larger than a year ago. Buying tends to be more conservative and careful. Crop prospects, except in the wheat area of the central west and in some flooded sections of the south, remain all that might be wished for. Retail demand is improving, nothing of a definitely depressing character has yet developed.

In the abrupt readjustment of steel and wire prices the iron and steel industry received a notable shock, but has stood the ordeal very well. Wire and nails have been reduced about $20 a ton, and already increased sales from manufacturers are reported, with jobbers and retailers yet to be heard from.

One of the most favorably situated industries is that of shoes. Manufacturers are reported active, jobbers are busy and seasonable weather is inducing a good distribution from retail hands.

In agricultural products the situation is generally one of sustained strength. Some slight shading in wheat prices is largely the result of the flattering winter wheat crop prospects in the sections west of the Mississippi.

Raw cotton has been firm, partly on reports of damage by recent storms and floods, but also on the continued strength of the statistical situation and bullish foreign advices. Raw wool, especially the finer grades, is again weaker. Most cotton mills are reported still heavily sold ahead, while in woolen goods a fair fall business is reported booked for men's and women's wear goods.

Failures for the week numbers only 182, two less than in this week a year ago and comparing with 245 in this week of 188.

Suspected of Desertion.

New York, April 28.—Orders have been issued by the war department for the arrest of Lieutenant Hazzard of the First artillery on a charge of absence without leave. Lieutenant Hazzard disappeared on Feb. 26 from Key West, where he had been stationed since September, 1899. It is charged that he deserted his wife and fled with another woman. Unless he returns within three months from the date of his disappearance he will be branded as a deserter and his name taken from the army rolls.

Rain Causes Many Fatalities.

Waco, April 28.—The heaviest rain in 15 years fell in Waco and vicinity yesterday. Reports of death and destruction are coming from every direction. Eight or ten persons have been drowned within the city limits of Waco. Boats are being used in the principal streets on the south side to take people to places of safety. A report from Rockdale states that the mines at that place were flooded by the high water, drowning four men.

Buildings Wrecked by Tornado.

Blum, Tex., April 28.—A tornado passed through the eastern part of this place yesterday, destroying several residences and a two-story building. But two people were seriously hurt, and about 15 others were slightly hurt. Robert McClusky's business house and the Baptist church are among the badly wrecked buildings. The storm started about three miles south of the town, and was nearly 200 yards in width. The grain crop in the path of the storm was badly damaged, and fruit trees were broken and stripped of fruit.

Ten Square Miles Burned Over.

Edgartown, Mass., April 28.—After burning for two days, the forest fire, which started in the vicinity of Martha's Vineyard and burned through to West Tisbury and continued on in the direction of Vineyard Haven, has been brought under control. Two sets of farm buildings and several barns and outbuildings were burned. The area of the fire belt embraced a tract four miles long by six wide. The property loss is not known.

Charges Considered Trivial.

Chicago, April 28.—The investigation of Dr. J. C. Jennings, publishing agent of the western branch of the Methodist Book Concern, resulted in his exoneration. The book committee voted that the charges were too trivial to carry further, and that they should be dropped. The only negative vote was that of John E. Andrus, a friend of Dr. Schell, former secretary of the Epworth league, who made the charges.

Lease of the Fitchburg Favored.

Boston, April 28.—After a somewhat stormy meeting, the Boston chamber of commerce passed a resolution to the effect that, in the opinion of the members of the institution, the public interests of both the city of Boston and the commonwealth will be promoted by the consummation of the lease of the Fitchburg Railroad company to the Boston and Maine Railroad company, now pending before the legislature of Massachusetts, without unnecessary delay.

Fight Awarded to Gardner.

New York, April 28.—Oscar Gardner gained the decision over Joe Bernstein of this city on a foul at the end of the 10th round of what was to have been a 25-round go last night. Bernstein fouled several times, but, although Referee White forgave him for previous transgressions, he had no alternative when Bernstein began wrestling, the outcome being a clean throw to the floor just as the bell sounded at the end of the 16th round.

LEAVES MUCH UNSAID.

Roberts' Latest Report Brings No Comforting News to the British Public.

Boers Have Got Safely Away With Seven British Guns.

Whole British Force May Have to Concentrate Before Advance Can Begin.

London, April 28.—It is true that Lord Roberts latest dispatch leaves much unsaid as to the whereabouts of other forces than those of General French and General Rundle.

Nothing is said by Roberts about the troops of General Brabant, Pole-Carew, Hart and Chermside, but the indications from Aliwal North show that several small commandoes are still hovering in the vicinity of Springfield, causing a certain amount of danger, and advices from De Wets Dorp, outlining the duties of General Chermside, justify the conclusion that it will still be necessary to employ a considerable body of troops to keep the Free State clear of Boers.

The position is that the Boers, who began their raid a month ago by compelling General Broadwood to retire on Bloemfontein, have now got safely away to the northward, practically without loss, but with the advantage of seven British guns, together with 100 prisoners captured.

In Commandant General Louis Botha the Boers appear to have found a capable successor to General Joubert. As the result of his insight and quick decision it may be assumed now that the retreating commandoes have gotten safely away with the transport.

Meanwhile the advance to Pretoria has not begun. Small wonder is it that muffled complaints and criticisms are beginning to be heard here and there against Lord Roberts. Two-thirds of his entire force have been employed in effecting this small satisfaction; and the probability is that the whole force must be again concentrated on Bloemfontein before the main advance begins. As similar raids on the British communications are likely to be repeated it is evidently still a far cry to Pretoria.

The significance of General Hunter's division going to Kimberley, where mounted troops are also arriving daily, is now said to be a serious attempt to deal with the strong Boer forces on the Vaal river, now threatening to retake Barkly, and then an endeavor to relieve Mafeking. It will still be borne in mind that General Hunter paid a hurried visit to Lord Roberts at Bloemfontein.

A temporary railway bridge has just been completed at Bethulie, where hitherto railway trucks had been transferred over the wagon bridge. This will greatly facilitate getting stores up to Bloemfontein.

Poultney Bigelow, discussing the treatment of South African rebels, says that the wisdom of the United States government in not punishing the Confederates after the war of secession has borne good fruit; and he suggests that a similar result would follow a similarly liberal policy in South Africa.

The war office has issued the following from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfontein, Friday, April 27:

General French reached Thaba N'Chu this morning with cavalry. He met General Ian Hamilton and General Smith-Dorrien's brigade. The enemy were still holding the eastern outlet to the town, wherefrom General French and General Hamilton were proceeding to turn them. General Rundle's division was eight miles south of Thaba N'Chu last evening.

A dispatch from Kimberley says enteric fever is so rampant there that the city officials are urging the military authorities to remove the camps from the town and discontinue the use of public buildings as hospitals, with the view of better safeguarding public health.

Advices indicate that United States Consul Hay's position at Pretoria is exceedingly difficult, but he is pursuing an impartial policy and has succeeded in considerably ameliorating the condition of the British prisoners at Pretoria.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Daily Telegraph says: The Boers who detreated from De Wets Dorp kept well ahead of General Frenchs' cavalry. Undell the enemy should make a stand at Kroonstad, Lord Roberts will rapidly cross the Vaal river.

Another Bloemfontein special says: Seven hundred and fifty wagons of a Boer heavy transport train have reached Kroonstad from the south. Only light wagons have been left behind. The Boers have organized a specially mounted corps for foraging and other work requiring special mobility.

Still another dispatch reports that, before the Boers were driven from De Wets Dorp, about 7000 of them had been slowly retiring toward Ladybrand, where large supplies are stored and immense corn fields are ready for harvesting.

Blew Open Three Safes.

Richmond, April 28.—Eight men opened the vault of the Massanutten bank at Strasburg, Va., early yesterday morning and blew open three safes, securing $5000. The men escaped on a hand car on the Southern railway. Negotiable paper and securities amounting to $75,000 were untouched.

Had Been In Poor Health.

Biddeford, Me., April 28.—Police Officer Greenville J. Dearborn, aged 50, committed suicide by hanging. Although attending to his duties regularly, he had complained of poor health for some weeks. His wife found his body in a woodshed, suspended from a rafter.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Two sessions a day will hurry matters along at the State House, and bring much nearer the day of final adjournment. The weather is becoming warmer and the members from the rural districts must be thinking about their spring work. Those who are engaged in other pursuits than farming will find the Capitol not the most comfortable place in which to spend the spring days. Custom has made the people expect long sessions and a Legislature that would get down to work with celeriy and finish its business early would create surprise throughout the Commonwealth.—Lynn Item.

☞ Flogging as a means of revenge upon a man who has committed a despicable offense, may appeal to a certain rude sense of justice, which is pretty apt to be flavored with passion. But we take it that the first question to be considered in a modern civilized community is the good of the community by the prevention of crime and that all so-called punishments are chiefly attempts at prevention. At the best they seem pitably bungling and ineffective but there is no need of making them more so by a return to methods which have once been abandoned for ineffectiveness and brutality.—New Bedford Standard.

Letter from Albert Crane.

A letter was received this week from Mr. Albert Crane of New York, in which he related the delightful trip to Bermuda, the West Indies, and the north coast of South America, from which he has recently returned.

In company with his old friend, Capt. F. Arnold Robert, formerly of the U. S. cavalry, he left New York February 17, touching first at Bermuda, and going thence to St. Thomas, Barbados, Trinidad, and La Guayra. The latter place is the seaport town of Caracas, which is twenty-three miles inland and which the travellers reached after a vigorous journey over a mountain railway. A short visit was also made to Ponce and San Juan Porto Rico.

The letter was written Easter morning on the return to New York, on board the Red D. Line S. S. Philadelphia, which was then at sea, midway between the coast of Georgia and Bermuda. It was a "glorious" trip, as Mr. Crane puts it, and he reports his health to have been greatly benefited.

County Tax Larger.

The county tax assessed upon Quincy this year is $16,377.23, against $15,580 last year. The total Norfolk county tax is $165,000, so that this city pays practically one-tenth. Brookline and Milton alone pay more than Quincy. The amount assessed upon each muicipality by the Norfolk county commissioners follows: Avon, $761.16; Bellingham, $687.50; Braintree, $4,272.32; Brookline, $59,517.85; Canton, $3,977.68; Cohasset, $5,82.59; Dedham, $7,292.41; Dover, $908.48; Foxborough, $1,767.86; Franklin, $2,823.66; Holbrook, $1,276.79; Hyde Park, $8,397.32; Medfield, $1,301.34; Medway, $1,301.34; Millis, $638.39; Milton, $17,825.89; Needham, $2,921.88; Norfolk, $466.52; Norwood, 3,339.29; Quincy $16,377.23; Randolph, $2,062.50; Sharon, $1,645.09; Stoughton, $2,799.11; Walpole, $2,136.16; Wellesley, $6,703.12; Westwood, $933.04; Weymouth, $6,408.48; and Wrentham, $1,375.

THE BUSINESS END.

Quincy Neck May Soon Become So Known.

Activity on the New Ship Building Plant.

Several Large Buildings in Process of Construction.

A visit to the property recently purchased by the Eastern Dock and Construction Company at Quincy Neck, furnishes conclusive evidence that the company is no dream, but a reality, and that in the near future this section of the city will contain one of the largest ship building plants in the United States, and will furnish employment to hundreds of skilled mechanics. It will of course take some time to get the full plant in operation, but the company have not allowed grass to grow under their feet; they are pushing things as fast as possible. Several large buildings have been staked out and a large force of men are at work upon the foundations.

The blacksmith and forge shops will be located just east of Murdock's old machine shop, and will be a large building. Several of the butments posts are already in. These are of granite, and as the soil is of a clay nature it is necessary to dig quite deep to get a good foundation. In this building there will be located a massive trip hammer, and workmen are now excavating for this. From soundings made it has been learned that a ledge lies twenty-seven feet below the surface and a shaft twenty feet square is being sunk to that ledge as a solid foundation is necessary.

Further on, to the north of Howard avenue, another large gang of men are at work upon the machine shop and steel room. The machine shop runs parallel with the shore for 140 feet. The shore end of the foundation will be a solid granite wall, several feet of which has already been constructed. This building will be fully sixty feet wide.

At right angle with machine shop is the steel building which, joins the machine shop, forming a letter T. The street building is to be 390 feet long and from 75 to 85 feet wide. This building will rest on granite butments three feet square. The excavations for these butments has already been made and some of the mason work has been completed.

The main ship building will be on the water front at the extreme easterly end, but work has not been commenced upon this building as yet. C. O. Miller of Braintree is general manager of the building work, and has an office upon the ground, which has been connected with the Quincy telephone system.

A large steam land dredger is expected to arrive today, and for the successful operation of this labor saving machine tracks will be laid about the property for it to run upon. Not only will this machine do all excavating necessary, but it also has a powerful hoisting crane.

It looks as though one of Uncle Sam's navy vessels would be built here for quantities of steel plate has already arrived upon the grounds, and more is arriving every day.

As soon as the necessary permission is obtained from the Harbor and Land Commissioners, a larger wharf will be built, and a deep channel dug, that will give the company all the water necessary at all times.

Quincy Neck has long been considered out of the world, but with this new industry it bids fair to be, the business end of Quincy.

TWO FAMILY HOUSE.

This Design Embodies a Novel Idea Costs $3,000 to Build.

[Copyright, 1900, by George Hitchings, architect, 1090 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn.]

This is a somewhat novel idea of a two family house. From its outside appearance you would say it was a single house, but it is so planned that it can be used for either.

The exterior is very picturesque, with a piazza across the front on the first story and a balcony on the second. The gables and roof are shingled with spruce shingles dipped in creosote stain, which preserves the wood. The sides are covered with white pine bevel siding.

The first floor contains hall, parlor, dining room and kitchen. The second floor is the same, with the exception of the bathroom. Two rooms are finished in the attic, making ten rooms and a bath in all.

There is a good cellar under the whole house seven feet high of hard burned brick, with a concreted floor, and there are coal bins, a furnace and a cold cellar.

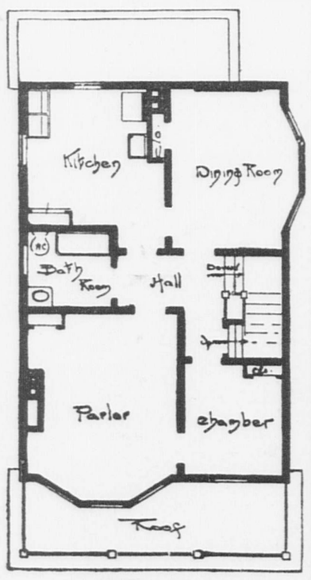

The parlor on the first floor is 13 feet wide by 14 feet deep, with a bay window in front, a wood mantel, tile hearth and facing and a summer piece complete, and is connected with a chamber in the rear by sliding doors. The chamber is 11 feet wide by 12 feet 6 inches deep and is provided with a large clothes closet. The dining room is 11 feet wide by 13 feet deep and is also provided with a wood mantel. The butler's pantry is situated between the dining room and the kitchen. In the pantry is a dresser. The kitchen is fitted with tubs, sink, boiler and range.

The rooms on the second floor are of about the same dimensions as those on the first floor. The woodwork throughout is cypress, finished natural. The bathroom has an enameled iron tub, an earthenware open set water closet and a china bowl and cost to build, complete, $3,000.

Building Points.

If you propose building a stable, try to build it solidly. Hay catches afire easily. Remember also that it is easy to elongate a building according to most designs.

See that you secure the best of everything that will be necessary to the erection and to the furnishing of your residence.

You may want a fence, say a rustic one. Before you decide think about a hedge.

It is easy enough to build a house, but in building it one should think of the possible necessity of repairs. Sometimes it costs more money to shoe a horse than the horse is worth.—Philadelphia Press.

MANSLAUGHTER.

Terrible Charge Against 10-year Old Braintree Boy.

John E. Burgess, the 10-year-old Braintree boy, who is charged with manslaughter in causing the death of Arthur C. Long, a seven-year-old boy at Braintree, July 7, 1899, came up before Judge Cook in the juvenile session of the district court this morning. Hon. E. C. Bumpus appeared for the government and Philip J. Sullivan for Burgess.

At the outset, Counsel Sullivan moved to quash the complaint, on the ground that no alligation was made in the warrant and therefore the juvenile court had no jurisdiction. The motion to quash was overruled.

Fred J. Long, a brother of the drowned boy, testified that on the day his brother was drowned, he and Arthur, Eddie Burgess, John Finigan and Chester Connell were at the mill pond. They were undressed. Arthur sat on a rock on the shore. Eddie went out into deep water, and then came ashore and took Arthur out into deep water and let him drop. Arthur was holding onto Eddie's shoulder around the neck. Arthur said, "leave me alone, I cannot swim." Eddie then came ashore crying.

Chester Connell, another boy who was present testified that on the day of the drowning he was at the mill pond with the other boys. Three boys were in swimming and Fred and Arthur Long and Elisha Parker were playing on the shore. Eddie Burgess came ashore and took Arthur in his arms and walked with him in the shallow water and then into the deep water, and as Arthur's weight was pulling him down he shook him off and Arthur sank. John McDonnell dove for him. When Burgess came ashore he was crying and said Arthur bad a death grip upon him, and he shook him off. Burgess then put on his clothes and run to Mrs. Long's house.

Elisha Parker, 9 years old, also testified to seeing Burgess take Arthur and carry him out. Arthur was crying and told him to let him alone. They went into deep water and the Burgess boy shook him off.

Mary L. Long, mother of the dead boy, testified that on the day her son was drowned, she was at home. A knock came at her door. Eddie Burgess was there and said, "Arthur is dead." I said, "No it is not so." Eddie answered, "Yes, he is, he had a death grip on me and I pushed him under the water." I screamed and began to cry, and Eddie said "Don't cry, Arthur is a little angel now."

Robert Johnson, who recovered the body, testified that it was in deep water about fifteen feet from the shore. When I went down "sounding," my feet touched him. I then dove down and brought him up.

Constable Furnald testified to meeting the Burgess boy and of a conversation with him. Burgess said he took the boy up in his arms and went out into deep water with him. Arthur began to struggle and we got out into deep water, when he gave him a death clutch at the throat and he had to push him off to save himself.

Margaret McGan was a servant at the Long house at the time of the affair. Her testimony was in relation to the visit of the Burgess boy, and to show Mrs. Long's feeling toward the family of Burgess.

At this point the hearing was continued until next Saturday.

A. O. U. W. Bal Masque.

One of the most successful parties ever held in Music hall, Atlantic, was a private ball masque given by the Norfolk lodge, No. 178, A. O. U. W., last evening. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity. A promenade concert was given from 8 to 9 when the grand march was promptly started, only those in costumes and masked participating. The floor was in charge of A. C. Brown assisted by the following aids: J. Morris, J. H. Flanigan, F. K. Browne, D. Moody, D. Collins, C. McDonald. The entertainment committee were: C. Hoyt, C. Nelson, G. G. Morris, J. C. Condon, J. H. McKenny, J. H. Murray, C. J. Penpleton. A contest for a gold watch was entered by a number of young ladies by selling the largest number of tickets. It was won by Miss Lottie McPherson of Neponset. Three other young ladies who had worked diligently for the prize were each presented with a handsome ring in appreciation of their work. They were Misses Margaret Dolan, Margaret Eagan and May Griffin. Dancing was continued until 2 A. M. Sprague's orchestra furnished music.

LIABLE TO A FINE!

Extracs from the Laws of this Commonwealth.

Ever owner or keeper of a dog of three months old or over shall anually on or before the THIRTIETH DAY OF APRIL, cause it to be Registered, Numbered, Described and Licened for one year from the first day of the ensuing May, in the office of the clerk of the city or town wherein said dog is kept, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

No owner of a dog may at any time have it licensed until the first day of the ensuing May; and a person becoming the owner or keeper of a dog after the first day of May, not duly licensed, shall cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed as provided in the preceding section.

The fee for every license shall be two dollars for a MALE and five dollars for a FEMALE dog.

Whoever keeps a dog contrary to the provisions of this chapter shall forfeit FIFTEEN DOLLARS, five dollars of which shall be paid to the complainant and ten dollars to the treasurer of the county in which the dog is kept.

Every owner or keeper of dogs kept for breeding purposes may receive annually a special license authorizing him to keep such dogs upon the premises described in such license. When the number of dogs so kept does not exceed five, the fee for such license shall be twenty-five dollars; when the number of dogs so kept exceeds five, the fee shall be fifty dollars, and no fee shall be required for the dogs of such owner or keeper, under the age of six months.

Any owner or keeper of a dog not duly licensed, which becomes three months old after the thirtieth day in April in any year, shall, whenever it is three months old, cause it to be registered, numbered, described and licensed until the first day of the ensuing May, as provided in Sec. 80 of Chap. 102 of the Public Statutes, and shall cause it to wear around its neck a collar distinctly marked with its owner's name and its registered number.

EDUCATIONAL.

Every act of the teacher, his manner, attitude, character, all that he does or says, all that he calls upon to do or say, develops in a degree moral or immoral tendencies.

Francis W. Parker.

The Sloyd instruction secures the following educational results: 1, Acquisition of general results: 2, Manual dexterity of the hand; 2, Instilling taste for work, and respect for labor; 3, training rough, honest, bodily neatness, exacting in habits of order, Accustoming to, cleanliness; 4, and perseverance, attention, industry, development of the 5, Promoting the Training the physical powers; eye and sense of form.

Dr. Salomon.

A poor school is one present happiness of in which the considered; where the child is not and memoriter methods purely mechanical and where mere facts are permitted; and forms and facility with words education. A good is accepted for the child is taught school is one where and to do; where it to observe, to think, arithmetic are taught reading, writing, and connection with nature interestingly in the child is natural science; where enthusiastic; happy and the teacher love; and where the discipline is by physically and mental child is allowed The Dial. ally to expand.—

It is a very common error of the popular mind to confound education with learning. The educated man," or the phrase "a well man," is not unfrequently applied to a highly educated one who has gone through a college or university course, with success In the sense in which the word education is more properly used, a man may be a very learned and at the same time a very illy educated person A man is not necessarily a well educated man because he commands the whole range of mathematics, biology, sociology and all other allied sciences, or is versed in Greek dialects, Latin prose and the verse of Horace. He may know these and yet be very poorly fitted for the discharge of the functions and duties of life.

D. M. Delmas

It is surprising what a portfolio of geographical pictures a school can collect when the teacher, pupils and their friends enlist, in such an endeavor. In addition to the ever available illustrated papers and old files of magazines which can be bought for the price of waste paper, there are fresh sources for such gifts for schoolroom aids in the beautiful advertising pamphlets and summer time-tables of the railroad which are ever ready to magnify the scenic beauty of the country through which they pass. Care in cutting, preserving, arranging, and labelling is needed, and the discipline in preparing the collection is worth as much as the portfolio when completed.

So obvious is it that the elementary science work is the most prolific of all contributions to the fund of word-material needed for reading, writing and number work, that a dispassionate investigator might fairly conclude that the facts taught about plants, animals and other common objects exist alone for the benefit of the "3 R's." In this he would be in error, yet so closely is the one wrought into the fiber of the other that his inference is an easy one. He would miss, in a casual visit, the comprehensive purpose of all elementary science teaching, the cultivation of attention, and the subsequent awakening of the perceptive power; but he could not fail to see how the living world around him is being despoiled of its riches to be laid at the feet of the "3 Rs." Nature study cannot be taken out of the primary school of today. It is bone of its bone, and flesh of its flesh. Pupils read better, write better, and comprehend the relations of things better by its aid. It can therefore be truthfully said that the essential studies are not hindered, but vastly helped by it.

Powell.

What then, it may be asked, can physical training do for the children that it is worth while?

1. Physical training of school children invigorates the circulation of the blood, thus repairing the waste of brain tissue and keeping the mind clear and active.

2. It aids digestion and improves nutrition, whereby the blood is enriched, the tissues firmly built up and dyspeptic headache prevented.

3. It strengthen the muscular system enabling the children to bear fatigue and preparing them for the laborious duties of life.

4. It gives tone to all vital organs, such as the heart, lungs, and kidneys; thus promoting longevity, by preventing those diseases of later life arising from weakness of these organs.

5. It is one of the best preventives of consumption. The chest exercises increase the breathing capacity by augmenting the size and expansion of the lungs. Free circulation in the chest is also promoted and the lungs acquire a tonicity which enables them to resist disease whether threatening them in the form of chill or of bacilli.

Royal

BAKING POWDER

-Absolutely Pure-

The housewife will find the Royal Baking Powder indispensable in making finest foods. It makes the hot bread, hot biscuit, cake and other pastry light, sweet and excellent in every quality.

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, the most healthful and pleasant of all fruit acids, and adds anti-dyspeptic qualities to the food.

Many low-priced imitation baking powders are upon the market. These are made with alum, and care should be taken to avoid them, as alum is a poison, never to be taken in the food.

Kings Daughters Home.

The work of the King's Daughters and Sons of Norfolk County has led to the discovery of many aged people homeless and without friends to care for them.

In many instances these dear old people have seen better days, but circumstances which they were powerless to prevent, compel them to be the unwilling recipients of charity. As these sad cases have been presented, many fruitless attempts have been made to place these unfortunate, friendless ones in some of the many Homes established for this purpose. The answer to these applications for shelter have been: "The Home is full and a long list of names waiting;" or "The person for whom application is made, being a non-resident of this country, cannot be admitted," thus closing all doors except those leading to the almshouse.

At first this might seem the proper place, but after a little careful thought the reason will be very evident why this class of people should be provided with a different home.

With hearts full of pity for the lonely aged ones, the King's Daughters have asked "What can be done? These worthy people must not go to the poorhouse."

After many prayers and careful thought and planning, the work of the little silver cross, believing the King had laid the care of His aged children upon them, decided to establish a Home for the Aged of Norfolk county, and for this purpose were incorporated March 1899, under the auspices of the "Norfolk County Association of the King's Daughters and Sons of Massachusetts," with the following aims: "The King's Daughters and Sons Home for the Aged in Norfolk County."

On Saturday April 21st at the invitation of Mr. W. S. Pond, the Board of Trustees, with friends, visited the old Pond homestead at Pondville, near Foxboro, which the owner proposed to give them if found suitable for their purposes.

There are about seven acres of land containing beautiful shade trees, two orchards and other fruit trees, a fine grove of pine trees, and a miniature mountain, known as Mt. Pisgah. The house contains fifteen rooms, there is a fine spring of water and there are several barns. The trustees were so well satisfied that the place could be made into a desirable and restful "Home," that they voted to accept Mr. Pond's generous offer.

It is believed that those who have happy homes of their own, will be interested in giving toward needed repairs on the "Norfolk County Pond Home," that it may soon be opened for the worthy, homeless ones of the County, and that by gifts and bequests many will wish to help sustain this much needed charity. For further particulars address the clerk of the Board of Trustees. Mrs. H. M. Dean, Readville, Mass., or Miss Leila A. Miller, Quincy.

Americans Doing Gallant Work.

Manila, April 27.—About 300 of the enemy have been killed lately in North Ilocos, including Dodd's fight and the attack on Batoc on April 16, when from 600 to 700 rebels, a quarter of whom were armed with rifles, determinedly attacked the Americans, charging their positions and fighting at close quarters. The engagement lasted all the afternoon, the enemy burning the town, but they were repulsed after the arrival of American reinforcements. The insurgents, generally, are aggressive in that province.

Indications of Triple Suicide.

Cambridge, Md., April 27.—Carl Kornig, his wife and son were discovered dead in a farmhouse seven miles from here, each corpse having a noose about the neck. The body of Mrs. Kornig was tied with a rope to a door knob. The son, Carl, was suspended from a bedpost in the same room. In an adjoining room the body of the elder Carl Kornig was found hanging from a hook. Many persons believe that a triple murder has been committed. But the authorities think all three committed suicide.

Secretary Hitchcock Will Investigate.

Washington, April 27.—Chief Joseph of the Nez Perce Indians was introduced to the secretary of the interior yesterday by General Miles, by whom he was captured during the uprising in 1877. Chief Joseph asked that his band be returned to its old reservation in Oregon. The secretary stated that the Indian bureau had made an adverse report on this petition, but he would personally investigate the subject.

A Boom For Farmington.

Farmington, N. H., April 27.—Work will begin soon in the Nute factory, recently purchased by a syndicate of Farmington citizens, who organized as the Strafford Shoe company. The shoe cutters will begin work Monday and the other departments immediately thereafter. The factory will be run to its fullest capacity, employing 300 operatives. This factory has been idle for many years.

TO TAKE TROOPS FROM CUBA.

Senator Mason Would Turn the Island Over to Native Government on July 4.

Washington, April 27.—Senator Mason introduced a resolution yesterday providing for the gradual withdrawal of our troops from Cuba, and setting July 4 as the date for turning over the government of the island completely to the people thereof.

The resolution is preceded by a preamble setting forth that in entering upon the war with Spain, the United States disclaimed any disposition or intention to exercise sovereignty over the island; that the United States is under treaty obligation to give independence to the Cuban people; that the continuance of the United States in possession of the island has excited the attention of the world, and is exciting the apprehension of the people of Cuba; that under the Monroe doctrine the island is safe from invasion; that the Cubans have shown a disposition to make their best efforts to govern themselves, and can undoubtedly do so without endangering life or property, and that the United States has done all that could be expected of it.

The full text of the resolution follows: "That the President of the United States is hereby requested to withdraw the forces of the United States as rapidly as may be done with convenience and safety, and that on the fourth day of July, 1900, all civil and military power of the United States be turned over and surrendered to the people of the island of Cuba."

After four days of discussion, the house yesterday completed the consideration of and adopted the post-office appropriation bill. The attempt to strike out the appropriation for special mail facilities from New York to New Orleans, and from Kansas City to Newton, Kan., met the fate it has ever since the appropriation was placed in the bill in 1893. No one demanded a separate vote upon the amendment striking out the pneumatic tube provision, and the house, by a large majority, stood by the amendment to give extra compensation to letter carriers for work in excess of 48 hours a week. The bill to increase the salary of the director of the census to $7500, and the salaries of supervisors of the census by 2 percent of the amount received by their enumerators, was passed.

Almost the entire session of the senate was devoted to consideration of the right of Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia to retain his seat in the senate. Mr. Pettus (Ala.), who alone of the members of the committee of privileges and elections is opposed to the claim of Mr. Scott to a seat, made an elaborate argument to sustain his views. The case went over without action.

Had $10,000 Worth on Her Person.

Nashua, N. H., April 27.—Bridget McKeon of Montreal was found wandering about in a demented condition Thursday afternoon by the Nashua police. She had on her person nearly $10,000 in money, jewelry and other valuables. Her story is that she started from Montreal Wednesday, intending to go to Ireland. Becoming ill on the train she got off at Nashua to take a walk in the hope of recovering from her indisposition. She was acting queerly when taken into custody. The Nashua police have telegraphed for particulars to Montreal.

Significant Military Orders.

Washington, April 27.—Orders have been issued for the transfer of 118 men from Fort Leavenworth, Kas., to Havana; 190 men from Fort Sheridan, Ills., to Santiago, and 85 men from Fort Snelling, Minn., to Havana. A possibly significant feature of the orders for these transfers is that the selections are confined to men who have not less than one year to serve in their present enlistment. That is taken to mean that the military occupation of Cuba is not likely to be entirely abandoned for at least a year to come.

Life Imprisonment For Young.

Dedham, Mass., April 27.—The trial of William J. Young, charged with the murder of Benjamin F. Coolbroth at Randolph, Sept. 9, 1899, ended Thursday by the acceptance by the commonwealth of a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree. Judge Bond immediately imposed a sentence of life imprisonment at state prison, the first three days to be in solitary confinement.

Under Bonds on Perjury Charge.

New York, April 27.—George W. Hull, who is wanted by the police of Providence on a charge of perjury in connection with a suit for divorce against his wife, waived examination before Magistrate Meade yesterday. He was later arraigned in the supreme court and bail was fixed at $5000 pending an examination for extradition papers before Governor Roosevelt.

Pressmen Want Uniform Wages.

Detroit, April 27.—One hundred and fifty job pressmen, feeders and assistants, who are members of a newly organized local union branch, went on strike yesterday, in an endeavor to unionize all the printing establishments in Detroit, and secure a uniform scale of wages for job press work. The employing printers decline to make the wages uniform.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

By the provisions of the will of Charles P. Huntington, the cathedral of St. John the Divine of New York will receive more than $500,000.

Thomas Harland, for many years a learned member of the New York bar, and the practical framer of our existing patent law, is dead. He was in his 71st year, and was born at Norwich, Conn.

The observance of Memorial day in Atlanta was made notable by a speech delivered by the governor of Georgia, in which he scored Republican "fanatics" and criticised the war in the Philippines.

Rev. Omer Genere Petrie, 30, died at Palmer, Mass. He was pastor of St. Paul's Universalist church, and until within a few days his death had been entirely unexpected.

The building occupied by the Lydall & Foulds Paper company at Manchester, Conn., was totally destroyed by fire. The loss will be upwards of $40,000.

QUINCY INSPIRED.

By Great Hearted, Sympathetic and Unselfish Teacher.

Manhattan, N. Y. City,
April 1900.

Editors of the Quincy Patriot :

It was not my good fortune to be in Quincy at the time of Col. Parker's advent, but I became aware of the new spirit in education while teaching in one of the busy manufacturing towns of Middlesex County.

One of the yonng teachers in my school had received her training under Col. Parker, and in observing her I recognized a new spirit and a new purpose underlying the education of little children. There was manifest a charming sympathy between teacher and children, a quiet, natural interest in the subject matter presented, a happy freedom, an awakening intelligence under the quiet guidance of the teacher. I remember watching the instruction of a little group one day, when the teacher observed, or rather felt, that the unity of her thought with one ittle mite of a boy was momentarily broken by some interruption. Instantly she glanced at me anxiously as if to seek in my face a reassuring expression of sympathy. Never shall I forget that look of a simple conscientious teacher craving the uninterrupted unity of spirit and of thought so essential to be maintained between teacher and taught. From that young womon and her work I derived my first inspiration as a disciple of the new education.

The next year the Colonel invited me to take the principalship of the old Adams school. Four grammar classes were in the High School building and the two lowest in the old stone schoolhouse over by the railroad. Never do I pass through Quincy to connect with the Fall River line, without looking out of the car window to see if the old stone school-house is still there. The most important year of my teaching experience was passed under the Colonel's eye. I struggled with many a problem of child study and of self-study. Many an eye opener I had, and many a pang of disappointment with results attained.

The task entrusted to me was to teach a class of boys and girls, and help them through a year's growth. About the only conditions present worth mentioning were the class and the teacher. Text books were of no account except as they might help us work out the problems; the course of study was of no account, as I was to teach them what they ought to know and to train them to habits of work; examinations upon what I taught were of no account, the question was, what could my pupils do; the method was of no account, the pupils were to establish a right method of study and work. Nevertheless, method, tests, course of study, text books, were of much account, provided the grand result could be measured in terms of natural, harmonious, essential growth of the children.

As I see it now, the year was worth more to me than to my pupils. From them I learned much and from my experience I learned more. I came to realize that the teacher could do nothing for his pupils unless he was able to keep them in the right relation to the school and to the subject of instruction; that each child had his own method of approach to a given problem and could only work out by his own effort and through his own intelligence—that children seldom see with a teacher's eyes or from the teacher's view point; that the teacher who forces his own method, his own reasoning and his own conclusions fails to secure unity of thought with his pupils.

I found that the spirit in the Quincy schools was inspired by a great-hearted, sympathetic, unselfish teacher, who went about among the teachers and the children, and in close touch with them. He wanted to see how he could aid, encourage and stimulate all to the highest attainment possible. He looked to see if the proper relation existed between teachers and children; if the broadest views of the work were held by the teachers; if the highest ideas were being sought and the right standard established; if the broadest fields and the richest sources were being explored. He did not intrude his own methods, but wanted permanent results. He wanted to see the children gaining in power to learn and to work, and the teachers acquiring greater skill and higher efficiency in teaching.

I was inspired with the fact that the children were eager for teaching that was free from stereotyped methods; that they were hungry for knowledge; that they were ready to say and to write what they knew; and that they were glad to do anything by their own effort when given the opportunity. I found that the teachers were happy because emancipated from routine; that they were growing because untrammelled by limitations and proscriptions; that they were seeking the better way because unfettered by directions; that they wanted kindly criticism and helpful suggestions; that they were ready to follow a safe leader and dared to attempt a new thing so that they might better reach the desired end.

Fortune has greatly favored me since leaving Quincy. I went away with many valuable lessons only begun, but at least so far entered upon that I could pursue them to advantage by study, by conference, by practice and by wider observation. Several years as teacher and principal by actual face to face contact with class room problems, and with the learning child, opened for me the more responsible and more exacting duties of the Superintendent. For three years it was my privilege to deal with the problems of teaching from the philosophical and theoretical point of view with college students as my pupils. Here the science and the art of teaching could be brought upon the same platform. In all these years my ideas and my practice have been advancing upon the lines which found their direction in my year at Quincy.

CHARLES E. MELENEY,
Associate Superintendent of Schools.

Thought to Be a Murderer.

New Haven, April 28.—John Allison, colored, aged 24, thought to be an escaped murderer who broke jail in Quincy, Fla., two years ago, was apprehended last night by members of the local detective bureau, and when being taken to the station house broke away. Two shots were fired at him, which were ineffective. He was, however, rearrested after a lively chase. He is nominally held on the charge of theft, but will be detained pending further information from the Florida officials.

Indication of Infanticide.

Boston, April 28.—While a plumber was at work in a Roxbury house he found the headless body of a child in the trap in the sewer pipe. Medical Examiner Draper unofficially pronounced it a case of child murder, the head of the infant having been cut off with an axe. Julia Walsh, who was employed as a housekeeper at the place where the discovery was made, has been arrested. She maintains that she is not guilty.

GIANTS NEVER PLAYED BETTER.

Outplayed the Bostons at Every Point and Easily Won the Game.

New York, April 28.—Jack Doyle was the boy who did the trick. His three two-baggers sent in runs enough to win, as it was, but he had to clinch things by sliding into the boys on his ear and doing various other base-running stunts, which made the Beaneaters look rather small. By his good work the Giants were enabled to pull off a victory, the odd game, too, 8 to 4.

"Bill" Carrick had a lame arm, but after he replaced the erratic Seymour in the fourth inning the Bostons didn't get a safe hit. Lowe is credited with one on the score card, but it was on the scratch order. The Giants never played a better game. They won by the cleanest kind of ball playing, and outplayed the Beaneaters at every point of the game.

Looks Bad For the Pawnbroker.

New York, April 28.—Armed with a search warrant, Police Captain Schmittberger, with a number of detectives, yesterday raided the pawnshop of William Wiesenberger at 528 Sixth avenue. The search was made on a warrant based on the confession of Harry Hess, a notorious burglar. Hess confessed to 42 burglaries on the West Side. In Wiesenberger's pawnshop Captain Schmittberger recovered about $25,000 worth of property, consisting of jewelry and silverware, costly hangings and valuable wearing apparel. Hess received about $1000 for the lot. Hess declared that he sold the stolen property outright to Weisenberger. The pawnbroker said that the goods were pledged in the regular procedure of business. A close investigation will be made.

Boston, April 28.—The annual dinner of the Middlesex club in honor of the memory of President Grant was held last night, with three western speakers as guests—Governor Nash of Ohio, Congressman Dolliver of Iowa and Congressman Smith of Michigan. The speakers advocated holding all the territory we have got, eulogized President McKinley and urged their auditors to line up and support him.

Saved From Forgery Sentence.

New York, April 28.—Julius Schroeter, charged with forging the names of the treasurer and second auditor of the state of Virginia to an issue of bonds ordered in 1882 by that state, and obtaining $38,000 on them, was yesterday found guilty of "uttering" the bonds. He will be sentenced later. The conviction of uttering the bonds saves him from punishment for forgery.

Moon sets.
High water—11:15 a. m.; 11:30 p. m.

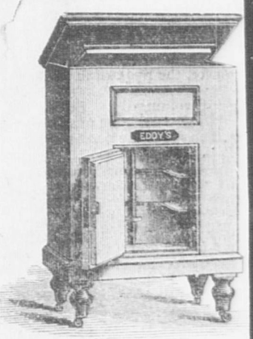

Fair weather has prevailed from the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic coast, except on the south Atlantic coast, where showers occurred. There is evidence of a storm development of considerable strength in the Rio Grande valley. This storm will probably cause heavy rains in Texas and the southwest during the next two days. Fair weather is indicated for New England. On the New England coast the winds will be fresh from the north, shifting to northeasterly.

IMMEDIATE PAYMENT

Demanded of the Sultan of Turkey In Settlement of American Claim.

Attempt at Secret Payment Met With Many Obstacles.

But Three Negative Votes on Resolution Granting Scott a Seat In Senate.

Washington, April 28.—No change has occurred in the Turkish situation. A high official of the state department admits that a note has been sent to the sultan demanding immediate payment. This note does not take the form of an ultimatum, but nevertheless it is strongly written. By "immediate payment" is not meant tomorrow, but any time within two or three weeks. The only point sought is payment and thereby the satisfaction of American claims.

Novel though the proposition was from a diplomatic standpoint, yet it is learned to be true that the effort was made by the porte to pay the American claim under a cover of an order for a warship to be built in the United States for Turkey.

The reasons for the failure of the project were several: the United States government has no warship for sale, and is not authorized to build any for foreign order. Then there is no warrant of law for entering into an arrangement with a private shipbuilding firm for the collection of an international obligation in the manner proposed. Lastly, judging by the experience of concerns that have had dealings with the Turkish government, any shipbuilder accepting the order from Turkey would require a guarantee from the United States government, and the net result of the transaction might be the assumption by the United States of an obligation as much larger than the original claims as the price of a battleship exceeds the $90,000.

Even if these obstacles were overcome, the scheme would be an utter failure, so far as concerns the accomplishment of the prime object, namely, the secret payment to the United States of the indemnity, with a view to avoiding demands from other nations for settlement of their claims, for under our open methods of business the transaction would have to be a matter of official record.

One effect of this sudden application of pressure upon Turkey is a renewal of the applications from American holders of other claims against Turkey for a presentation of their cases. Save the missionary claims, the $90,000 indemnity contains only one small allotment of about $5000 for the benefit of the family of the bicyclist, Lenz, who was killed in Turkey while making a circuit of the globe. But it is believed that, however well founded the other outstanding claims may be, the present time is not regarded as propitious for urging them upon the attention of the porte.

The senate yesterday voted upon the resolution declaring Nathan B. Scott to be entitled to his seat in the senate from West Virginia. The number of votes in the negative was only three.

Mr. Chandler gave notice that he would call up the case of Senator Clark of Montana on Wednesday of next week, but intimated that he would not press consideration until senators could have time to read the testimony in the case.

The Alaskan and cotton claims bills were also considered.

The senate, in executive session, ratified the treaty with Spain, extending for six months the time in which Spanish residents of the Philippines may decide whether they will remain subjects of Spain or become citizens of the Philippines. Senator Davis explained briefly the provisions of the treaty, and it was accepted without debate.

The house broke all records yesterday by passing 91 private pension bills. Among them was one to pension at the rate of $40 a month the widow of the late Colonel John M. Stotenburg of the First Nebraska regiment, who was killed in the Philippines.. The conference report on the Hawaiian government bill was adopted, and the bill now goes to the president.

Prince of Wales' Acknowledgement.

London, April 28.—The Prince of Wales has just made public a letter in which he says he has been deeply touched by the numerous expressions of sympathy and good will addressed to him from all parts of the globe upon the occasion of the providential escape of the Princess of Wales and himself from the danger they lately passed through at Brussels. "Such a proof of kind and generous feeling is, naturally," he says, "most highly prized by me, and will be forever cherished in my memory."

Carter Dons Prison Garb.

Leavenworth, Kas., April 28.—Oberlin M. Carter, late captain United States army, arrived at the federal prison last night under guard of Lieutenant Harker, a corporal and three soldiers. Newspaper men were not permitted to interview the prisoner, who was immediately dressed in the prison garb and assigned to a cell. Carter will be a prison bookkeeper.

Won't Participate In Dewey Demonstration.

Chicago, Auril 28.—Resolutions calling on its 20,000 members and their families and friends to refrain from taking any part in the Dewey demonstration were adopted by the board of business agents of the Building Material Trades council. The action of the board is the outgrowth of the use of non-union labor in constructing the parade grand stand.

More Riches For Rhodes.

London, April 28.—The Daily Express says this morning: We learn that the sudden return of Cecil Rhodes to the Cape was due to his receipt of news of a great find of copper in Northern Rhodesia. Mr. Rhodes will soon be heard from as a "copper king."

PORTO RICO'S GOVERNOR.

Mr. Allen Has Been Successful Both In Business and Politics.

Charles H. Allen, who has been appointed governor of Porto Rico and who leaves the post of assistant secretary of the navy to accept, is a Massachusetts man. His home is in Lowell, "the Spindle City."

There is nothing surprising in the choice of President McKinley. Both he and Secretary Long knew Mr. Allen well when they were all members of the Forty-ninth congress. It was because of this acquaintanceship that Mr. Allen was asked to become Secretary Long's assistant when Mr. Roosevelt resigned.

Although Mr. Allen is generally regarded as a young man, chiefly because his pictures make him look so, he is 52 years old. He was born in Lowell and educated at the public schools of that city and at Amherst college. His early ambition was to become a physician, but he liked the study of chemistry better than that of medicine. Several inventions led him into business, and his success in that field made it easy for him to drift into politics. His only reverse was when he ran for governor of Massachusetts against William E. Russell and was defeated.

He entered the lower house of the Massachusetts legislature in 1881, went into the state senate in 1883 and then became a member of the national house of representatives. He served through the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth congresses and might have continued in legislative work had he not declined a renomination.

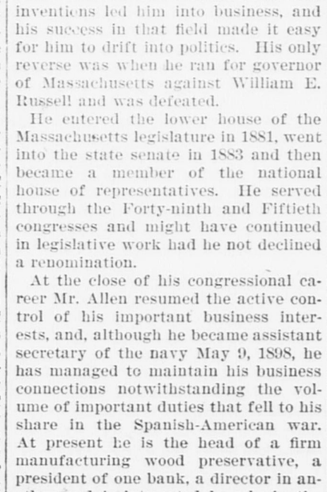

At the close of his congressional career Mr. Allen resumed the active control of his important business interests, and, although he became assistant secretary of the navy May 9, 1898, he has managed to maintain his business connections notwithstanding the volume of important duties that fell to his share in the Spanish-American war. At present he is the head of a firm manufacturing wood preservative, a president of one bank, a director in another and is interested largely in the manufacture of high grade papers. As governor of Porto Rico he will have a salary of $8,000 a year and the free use of a palace in San Juan.

WASHINGTON LIKES HER.

Census Director Merriam's Handsome and Popular Daughter.

One of the handsomest young women in Washington's official set is Miss Merriam, eldest daughter of General Merriam, director of the census of 1900. The officer who is directing the big count of Americans so soon to take place has recently moved to Washington with his family, and while he has been busy organizing the forces of his bureau his wife and daughter have entered into the gayeties of the capital. The Merriams have purchased a fine home on Sixteenth street, near the aristocratic Scott circle, and have entertained largely.

Miss Merriam became almost at once one of the most popular belles of the season. Like her mother, she is tall and graceful, with a charmingly rounded figure. Her hair is dark, and her eyes are large and expressive. Miss Merriam has a fine voice and will probably go abroad next year to study vocal music.

Miss Merriam has made hosts of friends in Washington on account of her many accomplishments and her bright conversational powers. She is a graceful dancer and is in demand at dinners for young people and at dances. Miss Merriam has inherited those inbred characteristic qualities that have made her mother so popular as a hostess both at the national capital and at the state capital of Minnesota, where her father served as governor. On her mother's side Miss Merriam is a grandniece of General Winfield Scott Hancock.

FOR LITTLE FOLKS.

Some Birds' Nests.

Woodpeckers all use holes drilled out with their strong bills, the chips making the lining. If you follow up a series of round holes drilled in the decayed branch of a tree, you will usually come upon one of these nests.

These birds waste much time and labor by drilling several holes before they find one to suit their fancy. These holes, besides forming the nest in summer, answer for a home in winter, though sometimes the male bird drills a hole just large enough for himself and lets his mate weather the winter storms as well as she can.

The woodpeckers drill new holes for nests each season, and the old ones are quietly appropriated by the nuthatches, the chickadees and the brown creepers. Each has her notions of refurnishing the borrowed homes. The chickadees put down a soft carpet or rug of caterpillar silk or spider webs mixed with down from plants. The nuthatches are satisfied with a mat of grass.

The great crested flycatcher also uses a convenient woodpecker's hole; but, not finding it furnished to meet her fancy, she upholsters it with the most curious material you could possibly guess—snake skins. How can a bird know where to find them? Yet she does, and almost invariably in every great crested flycatcher's nest you will find one or more cast off snake skins.

Wrens, swallows, bluebirds, owls, eagles and some hawks use last year's nests with some slight repairs or appropriate a deserted one that seems suitable.

A wren will rear a little family in a hole in a tree that seems hardly large enough for the mother bird. The bluebird and the martin will be thankful for any boxes nailed about the garden to assist them in their housekeeping cares.

By far the larger proportion of our birds build a new nest each season, though often returning to the same locality. Then comes that great army of birds that build not only a new nest each year, but a new nest for each brood.—Vick's Magazine.

A Jolly Tar.

A Jack Tar brave and jolly,
He's happy as can be,
He can dance a sailor's hornpipe,
Though he never saw the sea.

The color of the ocean
Is in his eyes of blue;
His hair, touched by the sunshine,
Is of its golden hue.

His cheeks are bright and rosy,
His lips like cherries red;
No thoughts of stormy weather
E'er fill his curly head.

We pray no wild tornadoes,
No days of weary strife,
O'ertake our little sailor
Upon the seas of life.

Odd Facts About Two Queer Towns.

Perhaps the most unique spot in Europe is the little village of Altenberg, where on its border four countries meet. It is ruled by no monarch, has no soldiers, no police and no taxes. Its inhabitants speak a curious jargon of French and German combined and spend their days in farming the land or working in the valuable calamine mine of which it boasts.

The little town of Stanley, in the Falkland islands, possesses the most unique school service ever known. Two traveling schoolmasters are provided by the government, who visit the different families where there are children and give instruction. The length of their visit depends on the astuteness of the children, and they may spend days or weeks, as the case may be, at one house alone.

Boys Who Became Famous.

A Swedish boy fell out of a window and was badly hurt, but with clinched lips he kept back the cry of pain. The king, Gustavus Adolphus, who saw the boy fall, prophesied that the boy would make a man for any emergency. And so he did, for he became the famous General Bauer.

A boy used to crush the flowers to get their color and painted the white side of his father's cottage in Tyrol with all sorts of pictures, which the mountaineers gazed at as wonderful. He was the great artist Titian.

An old painter watched a little fellow who amused himself making drawings of his pot and brushes, easel and stool, and said, "That boy will beat me one day." And he did, for he was Michael Angelo.

Jingle.

There once was a knowing raccoon
Who didn't believe in the moon.
"Every month, don't you see,
There's a new one?" said he.
"No real moon could wear out so soon!"

Bloodhounds Put on the Trail.

Woodstock, Vt., April 28.—The use of bloodhounds has been employed in the pursuit of Dustin and Frank Shaw, father and son, escaped prisoners from the Windsor county jail, who, when cornered, perhaps fatally shot Deputy Sheriff Hoffman. The animals were brought up from Rutland and put on the trail of the Shaws, who are still making their way through the woods. Volunteers are going to the scene of the shooting, and if the Shaws are again cornered they are likely to be killed.

Not Creditable to Union Men.

Chicago, April 27.—Complaint has been made that the girls who are to sing in the chorus which is to be a feature of Dewey day have been threatened with violence if they persist in attending rehearsals. The threats are said to have been made by union pickets and their sympathizers, who, according to Professor Katzenberger, have been standing guard at the entrance to Steinway hall, where the rehearsals take place. The unions are arrayed against the whole celebration committee because the Dewey grandstand is being built by non-union men. Professor Katzenberger is in charge of the chorus and has applied to the police for protection.

Child Probably Fatally Burned.

Newton, Mass., April 28.—Robert B. Hurley, 2 years old, placed a can of kerosene on the kitchen stove during his mother's absence. His clothing became saturated with the oil and a few moments later neighbors heard an explosion. They found the boy's clothing ablaze, but they quickly extinguished the flames. The child is not expected to live. His father is serving with the army in the Philippines.

For Thirty-Five Cents an Hour.

Barre, Vt., April 28.—The result of a meeting of the Barre branch of the National Granite Cutters' union, called to act on the wage question, was that it was voted to reject clause 198, which in effect regulates that the wages of the cutters shall be $3 a day of eight hours. The men by this action express their favor of a wage of 35 cents an hour as an average.

Foreign Bankers Looking For Gold.

New York, April 28.—Bankers abroad are inquiring for gold in this city, and a small engagement is reported to have been practically arranged for. The transaction will probably involve $1,000,000, the shipment leaving by Tuesday's steamer if negotiations can be closed on a satisfactory basis by that time.

Many Adherents to Crown of Spain.

Washington, April 28.—Acting Secretary of War Meiklejohn has received a report from Cuba showing that 66,869 Spanish residents of the island have preserved their allegiance to the crown of Spain under the terms of article IX of the Paris treaty of peace. The registration is almost complete.

Bullet Through His Head.

Cambridge, Mass., April 27.—The Fitchburg railroad station agent at Mt. Auburn, Oliver H. Porter, 35 years old, was found dead in the cellar of the station, with a bullet through his head. He had recently been suffering from the grip, and it is supposed that he had become partially deranged.

Students Got Off With Light Fine.

Trenton, April 27.—The 18 Princeton students who were arrested for creating disorder in a museum here were released by Justice Jackson upon each paying $1 fine.

MR. BATES' CHARGES.

He Asks an Investigation Not a Hearing.

Would Summons Witnesses and Put them Under Oath.

Shows by Example Discrimination by Plumbing Inspector.

Editors of the Ledger:

Allow me through your columns to correct a misrepresentation of the facts as reported in your paper of recent issue of the six charges preferred by me to the Board of Health, against the Inspector of Plumbing, asking for an investigation. I herewith hand you a correct copy of the charges for publication so that the public may know the truth and judge for themselves whether I have been unfair, unkind, unjust or unreasonable in my request.

G. B. BATES.

To the Honorable Board of Health, Quincy, Mass.

Gentlemen:—Knowing and believing as I do the laxity of the Plumbing Laws and Ordinances of our city, as enforced by the Inspector of Plumbing, Mr. J. J. Keniley, while he has held that office, and practiced by certain plumbers in an illegal manner and sanctioned and approved by the Inspector of Plumbing showing favoritism and discrimination and vioalation, I am compelled for the good of the health and welfare of our city and a more just enforcement of our Plumbing Ordinances, to make at this time six complaints against the Inspector of plumbing of our city, Mr. J. J. Keniley, and ask of your honorable Board a careful investigation of the same.

Permit me to say at this time that I earnestly desire for this honorable Board to give Mr. J. J. Keniley every opportunity and the benefit of every doubt. But I do respectfully ask a fair and equitable investigation and that you will, for the good of all concerned, administer justice tempered with good sense.

The complaints are as follows:

First. Mr. J. J. Keniley has received applications for plumbing work and has issued permits to do plumbing work and has inspected and approved the plumbing work of a plumber who did not have a Master License to do business in our city and who was not registered at the Board of Health as a Master Plumber, during the past three years from June 1, 1897, to June 1, 1898, and from June 1, 1898, to June 1, 1899, and from June 1, 1899, to about Feb. 1, 1900. For facts to corroborate this complaint I refer to the records of the Board of Health and the record at the office of the City Treasurer. I refer to George C. Coleman, plumber, Ward 6, Quincy.

Second. Mr. J. J. Keniley has inspected and approved plumbing work for a party who did not file an application and who did not have a permit issued to him to perform the plumbing work in house of W. D. Sherman, 61 Franklin street. There were two applications filed at the office of the Board of Health and two permits were issued by the inspector of plumbing, namely, one to G. B. Bates, and one to Lawrence Haynes, and neither party who had the permits and right to do this plumbing did it. Mr. J. M. Fitzgerald did this plumbing and to corroborate this complaint I refer to the records at the office of the Board of Health and to the owner of the house who had the plumbing done. Mr. W. D. Sherman, 61 Franklin street, South Quincy.

Third. Mr. J. J. Keniley performed a plumbing job in the stable of Grace L. Whiton without filing an application and without a permit in April, 1898. I do not refer to the application and permit issued for the plumbing work performed in the house of Grace L. Whiton. To corroborate this complaint I refer to the records at the office of the Board of Health and a bill I have in my possession sent by J. J. Keniley to Grace L. Whiton for both jobs of plumbing, one performed in the house and the other performed in the stable, and receipted by his attorney.

Fourth. Mr. J. J. Keniley inspected and approved a plumbing job in a house owned by F. W. Grant and performed by A. F. Powers, and this plumbing is in violation of Sec. 6 of our plumbing Ordinance regulating plumbing, as follows: There is a trap placed at the foot of a stack and the trap that is at the foot of this stack or soil pipe is not a running trap but a 1-2 S trap. My authority that this trap which is a 1-2 S trap as it is now situated and that it is at the foot of a stack and that it is not a running trap is Mr. John S. Damrell, Inspector of the City of Boston, and Mr. Coleman, Inspector of Plumbing for the City of Newton. This house is situated on Whitwell street, and plumbing was completed about Jan. 1, 1900.

Fifth. Mr. J. J. Kenily has inspected and approved a plumbing job in a house owned by Alice E. Parker on Upland Road and performed by A. F. Powers in 1899 that is in violation of Sec. 6 and Sec. 10, namely. There is not a running trap as required of Sec. 6. There is a trap (1-2S) placed at the foot of a vertical soil pipe and Sec. 6 prohibits it. The 4 soil pipe is too near a chamber window which is in violation of Sec. 6. Cup joints have been allowed to connect the waste of the basin, bowls and bath tubs in both bath rooms, and they are not plumbers' wiped solder joints, as required in Sec. 10 of the ordinances under which the work was performed.

Sixth. Mr. J. J. Keniley inspected and approved a plumbing job performed by Mr. J. S. Todd, house owned by Mrs. J. M. Follett, and now occupied by Herbert Y. Follett, on the corner of Park street, Wollaston Heights. Some of the 4 in. soil pipe in the cellar running to the running house trap, and the running trap as well, is concealed from view below the cellar floor, covered over with cement which is a violation of Sec. 6 of our Plumbing Ordinances, where it states every part of every drain pipe below cellar floor shall be accessible through sufficient unattached covers.

Next. When the sewer connection was made by the entering of this plumbing work which was commenced April 25, 1899, and finished April 27, 1899, our Plumbing Ordinances were violated according to Sec. 6 where it states,

In all cases of sewer connections there shall be an extra heavy iron pipe laid from (8) eight feet outside and carried through the foundation wall and connected with the drain inside by a Y branch with a brass screw clean out in a direct line with the sewer and the drains under the cellar bottom shall be of extra heavy iron pipe also. I examined this plumbing job last winter and last spring with a competent witness and I examined it again the 30th day of March, 1900, and find that there is no Y with a brass screw clean out and the soil pipe outside of cellar wall connecting with the sewer is not extra heavy pipe, and the running 4 in. trap under cellar floor is not extra heavy.

Now, gentlemen of the Board of Health, I wish to compare by illustration a plumbing job which I did on Avon way, President's hill, that was practically identically the same. The permits were taken out and the applications made out in the same year, only mine was made out a few months before Mr. Todd's. These two plumbing jobs were performed under the same plumbing Ordinances, only my work on my plumbing work was completed and approved and connected to the sewer before No. 28, an ordinance regulating plumbing, was passed to be ordained Dec. 12, 1898, and approved Dec. 17, 1898.

Although my work was completed and approved before the Ordinance had become a law, I was, never-the-less, obliged to live up to the letter and spirit of the plumbing ordinance passed and approved after my work was completed. I was obliged to place a 4 in. extra heavy running trap with an extra heavy 1-8 bend and an extra heavy Y with a brass screw clean out in a direct line with the sewer and I was obliged to place 10 feet of extra heavy 4 in. soil pipe through foundation wall to connect with the sewer and I was obliged to place my soil pipe that was below the cellar floor in a brick trench to be accessible through unsufficient unattached covers. My connection to sewer was made Oct. 10, 1898.

Mr. Todd's plumbing was not connected to the sewer until April 25th to 27th, 1899, over four months after the plumbing Ordinances were passed governing all cases of sewer connections.

Still a 4 in. light pipe was allowed to connect with the sewer. Still a 4 in. Y with a brass screw cleanout in a direct line with the sewer was not required and an extra heavy running trap under cellar floor was not required, neither was the pipe trap and fittings below the cellar floor required to be accessible through sufficient unattached covers although the Ordinances regulating plumbing in the City of Quincy made it necessary and compulsory.

Respectfully submitted,

G. B. Bates.

Castle Square Theatre.

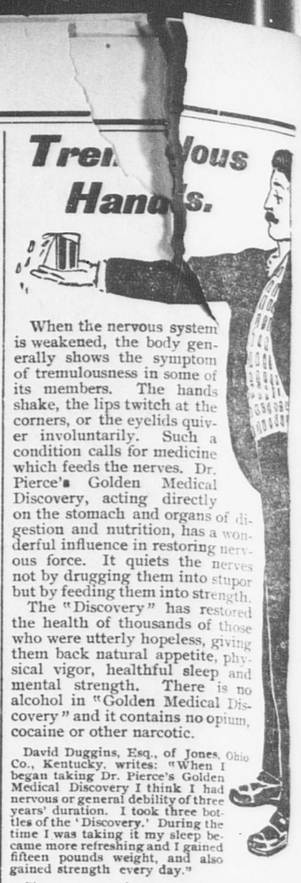

The production of the dramatic version of "Quo Vadis" at the Castle Square theatre has attracted widespread attention in amusement circles and the performances of the great romantic play have all been attended by audiences limited only by the capacity of the auditorium. The continued demand for seats has been so unprecedented that the management of the Castle Square theatre has decided to continue this attraction for still another week, making the third of its continuous performance, with every prospect of another succession of big audiences. The liberality shown in the stage settings and their artistic merit, the beauty and accuracy of the costuming of the production, and the fidelity shown in caring for even the smallest details of the beautiful stage pictures, all go to heighten the effect of the excellent work of the players and make the presentation of this drama a most notable one. The great scene of the feast in the palace of Nero, and that of the arena, where the great wrestling match occurs, have seldom been surpassed in modern stage productions. The usual distribution of boxes of chocolate bon bons will be made at the Monday matinees.

Keith's Theatre.

Another exceptionally strong show is scheduled for presentation at Keith's during the week comencing April 30, with the wonderful Lafayette, who is making an extraordinary hit in his role as Ching Ling Foo, as the headliner. Marshal P. Wilder, the prince of humorists, will return for another six days, and a few of the others are: Charles Dickson, a popular comedian, supported by Elsie Esmond and Master Colby, in a new comedietta, "A Pressing Matter;" McCoy sisters and Sam Marion, in a singing, dancing comedy sketch; Hamilton Hill, a celebrated Australian baritone vocalist; the Rexes, in an interesting exhibition of roller skating; Frencelli and Lewis, operatic vocalists; Newhouse and Ward, bicycle experts; the Nevarros, in a great exhibition of acrobatic and equilibristic feats; J. W. Winton, ventriloquil comedian; Mr. and Mrs. Robyns, in "The Counsel for the Defense," and the three Franks, in a comedy bar act. There will be an exceptionally fine lot of pictures in the biograph.

When the nervous system is weakened, the body generally shows the symptom of tremulousness in some of its members. The hands shake, the lips twitch at the corners, or the eyelids quiver involuntarily. Such a condition calls for medicine which feeds the nerves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acting directly on the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition, has a wonderful influence in restoring nervous force. It quiets the nerves not by drugging them into stupor but by feeding them into strength.

The "Discovery" has restored the health of thousands of those who were utterly hopeless, giving them back natural appetite, physical vigor, healthful sleep and mental strength. There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery" and it contains no opium, cocaine or other narcotic.

David Duggins, Esq., of Jones, Ohio Co., Kentucky, writes: "When I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I think I had nervous or general debility of three years' duration. I took three bottles of the 'Discovery.' During the time I was taking it my sleep became more refreshing and I gained fifteen pounds weight, and also gained strength every day."

Free, on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only, Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, 1008 pages. Send 21 one-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps in cloth binding to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Trem[illegible]ous Hand[illegible].

When the nervous system is weakened, the body generally shows the symptom of tremulousness in some of its members. The hands shake, the lips twitch at the corners, or the eyelids quiver involuntarily. Such a condition calls for medicine which feeds the nerves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acting directly on the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition, has a wonderful influence in restoring nervous force. It quiets the nerves not by drugging them into stupor but by feeding them into strength.

The "Discovery" has restored the health of thousands of those who were utterly hopeless, giving them back natural appetite, physical vigor, healthful sleep and mental strength. There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery" and it contains no opium, cocaine or other narcotic.

David Duggins, Esq., of Jones, Ohio Co., Kentucky, writes: "When I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I think I had nervous or general debility of three years' duration. I took three bottles of the 'Discovery.' During the time I was taking it my sleep became more refreshing and I gained fifteen pounds weight, and also gained strength every day."

Free, on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only, Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, 1008 pages. Send 21 one-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps in cloth binding to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HIDING IN A SWAMP.

Officers Think Capture of the Shaws Is a Matter of but a Short Time.

Friends Were Close at Hand When Hoffman Was Shot.

Popular Deputy Sheriff Succumbs to Wound Inflicted by One of the Desperadoes.

Woodstock, Vt., April 30.—The death on Saturday of Deputy Sheriff Hoffman, who was shot Friday in Stockbridge in the attempt to recapture Dunstan and Frank Shaw, father and son, who had escaped from Woodstock jail, has caused renewed excitement in this vicinity and further aroused the people, who are now redoubling their efforts to capture the criminals.

Thoroughly exhausted after a four days' uninterrupted pursuit of the Shaws, Deputy Sheriffs Thomas and Spofford returned here early Sunday morning from Pittsfield and Stockbridge, both having been recalled to attend the funeral of Deputy Sheriff Hoffman at White River Junction. They will return at once and join in the hunt with a stronger determination than ever to run down the murderers.

Sheriff Thomas says it is now believed that the Shaws are quarantined in a swamp in West Rochester, a few miles west of the place where Deputy Sheriff Hoffman was shot on Friday, and that their capture, dead or alive, is only a matter of a short time. Deputy Thomas was but a short distance away at the time of the shooting, which occurred on the top of Pittsfield mountain.

He heard Hoffman call upon the men to surrender, but they sprang for their rifles when Hoffman again shouted: "Drop those rifles or I'll bore you." The elder Shaw said: "Don't let's shoot, Frank," but hardly had Hoffman shouted the second time when young Shaw fired, his shot being followed by a fusillade from the rifles of the officers.

Then Hoffman fell. Mr. Thomas said he saw the men running about among the trees, but not knowing whether or not they were his own men, he dared not fire. Dunstan Shaw, the father, he says, did not fire a shot.

The bloodhounds did not prove to be of such great assistance as was anticipated. For three hours Deputy Thomas and party followed a hound which was held by a long rope, until they were finally compelled to stop from exhaustion.

With many of his townsmen beside his casket, the funeral services of Deputy Sheriff George W. Hoffman occurred at White River Junction Sunday afternoon. Mr. Hoffman was born at Island Pond in 1854. He was secretary at many state agricultural fairs. He was known in every part of the state, and what added to his acquaintanceship was the fact that he was one of the best of horsemen. He was a member of the state central committee. He had been deputy sheriff of Windsor county for 10 years, and his courage had never been questioned.

Chicago Police Sergeant Murdered.

Chicago, April 30.—Desk Sergeant Timothy S. O'Connell of the Woodlawn police station was shot and instantly killed on the Eighteenth street viaduct last night. When the body was found the officer's revolver was clutched tightly in his right hand. The weapon had not been discharged. Near the remains was a hat which, it is thought, belonged to the murderer. Two hours after the shooting James Santa was arrested because he was found without a hat. It is thought that one or two men attempted to hold up the officer, who was mistaken for an ordinary citizen because he was dressed in citizen's clothing, and that when he drew his revolver the intended robber shot him.

Has None of Stolen Thousands.

New York, April 30.—Samuel C. Seeley, who stole $354,000 from the National Shoe and Leather bank, was released from the Kings county penitentiary today, having served a sentence of eight years which, through good behavior, was reduced to five years and four months. His wife, who obtained a divorce, has remarried, and Seeley says he will leave this part of the country and seek employment where he is not known. It is said that he has not one cent of the hundreds of thousands that he stole.

Engineers Have No Grievance.

Cleveland, April 30.—Chief Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers says that the engineers on the New York Central will not be affected by the threatened tieup of that railroad. "The engineers have no grievances," he said, "and they cannot strike except in obedience to the laws of the organization. There will, in my opinion, be no trouble."

He Lost His Courage.

Manchester, N. H., April 30.—George W. Blake, aged 37, a dining room manager, committed suicide Sunday by shooting with a revolver through the right temple. He had been suffering for several weeks with cancer on the spine, and took his life because he could not bear the thoughts of an operation which the doctors said he must undergo.

SPRING RUSH TO GOLD FIELDS.

Nearly Six Thousand Persons Have Engaged Passage For Cape Nome District.

Seattle, Wash., April 30.—The formal rush to the gold fields of Cape Nome will be inaugurated when the steamer Jeanie of the Pacific Steam Whaling company, the first steamer to start on the trip this year, is scheduled to sail providing she arrives in the meantime from San Francisco. This vessel will take 80 passengers and 400 tons of freight from this port and expects to be one of the first to reach Nome when the obstructing ice has broken.

For the last several weeks people have been arriving here by the hundreds to get ready to make the northward trip and have filled all the hotels to such an extent that it has been difficult to get accommodations. The steamship offices have been crowded with applications for berths and freight room, and many of the companies have been refusing passengers for several weeks.

It is conservatively stated that there are not more than 200 tickets available on all the steamers that are scheduled to leave here in May, and most of the freight room has been sold. This means that all who wish to go to Nome except those who secure the few berths left must wait until the June sailings unless they embark on sailing craft, which are leaving this port at the rate of two a day, and have been doing so for the last week.

Twenty-five steamships are scheduled to leave here for Nome in May. The most conservative estimates of the traffic to Nome this year, based on actual returns, shows that 5838 persons have already engaged passage for the first sailings of the 25 steamships, and that these vessels have already contracted for 25,225 tons of merchandise in their cargoes. Taking the average of $90 per passenger and $40 a ton for freight it is seen that the steamships will get a total gross revenue during next month of $1,561,300.

The operators of 14 of the vessels state that they intend to make four trips each to Nome during the season, five will make three trips each and the remaining six, one trip each. The net registered tonnage of the steamers to sail next month is 25,352 tons, or a quarter of the entire tonnage departing for Alaska last year. The value of the freight booked for the May sailings, estimated at $100 a ton, which is a conservative figure, will be $2,522,500.

Thirty Thousand In Labor Parade.

New York, April 30.—With fully 30,000 people in line, representing trade and labor organizations of Greater New York and Jersey towns, the great May day parade of labor swept through the streets of the city Saturday night. One of the principal features of the parade was the marching of the women and the singing of "Labor Marseillaise" by the girls and women on strike in a number of factories. The women paraders presented a beautiful spectacle, and their voices rose high above the blare of the bands and the shouts of the spectators. Over the rough cobble stones the women marched with soldier-like precision, keeping time with the rhythm of their song.

Steamer Puritan Disabled.

New London, Conn., April 30.—Owing to a broken shaft the steamer Puritan, belonging to the Consolidated Railroad company's fleet, was towed into port Sunday. With assistance from other steamers and two tugs, the passengers were landed here without any mishap and were taken by special trains to Boston and other points en route. The steamer had on board 600 first-class passengers and 150 emigrants.

Providence Burglar Captured.

Providence, April 30.—Ephraim Ellis of Centredale fired several shots at a burglar crawling through his window Sunday morning. Though the intruder was grazed no serious harm was done by the bullets and he made his escape, to be later captured and turned over to the police. His name is Charles McGinn.

Wife Murder and Suicide.

Upper Sandusky, O., April 30.—William Bolyard, who lived about seven miles from this place, shot and killed his wife yesterday and then killed himself. Bolyard's wife had left him, and he asked her to return and live with him. Upon her refusal to do so he shot her and then himself.

FAVORABLE TO BOERS.

They Are Now In a District Well Adapted to Their Line of Tactics.

Pursuers Are Forced to Return to Bloemfontein.

British Operations of an Exhausting Nature and Will Cause Further Delay.

London, April 30.—The total absence of news from the seat of war in South Africa, it is presumed, indicates that operations are progressing which it is deemed prudent to keep secret. So far as the situation in the southeastern part of the Free State can be worked out from the latest dispatches, the main body of the Boers, composed of the forces recently holding Thaba N'Chu, Leeuwkop and De Wets Dorp, is retiring, probably with a view to joining in the neighborhood of Ladybrand the commandoes from the vicinity of Wepener, who, according to a dispatch from Aliwal North, made good their retreat to Ladybrand.

The flood of newspaper dispatches describing the recent operations throws no light whatever upon the present position of affairs or upon the great question as to when the main advance is to begin. The Standard's announcement that General French's cavalry are returning to Bloemfontein is clear proof that there is no further hope of catching the retreating Boers; and the London papers are beginning to display impatience at the practical failure of the elaborate operations of last week.

The Standard says: It is disheartening to find that these elaborate maneuvers have had so small a result.

The Daily Chronicle remarks: We are reluctant to criticise Lord Roberts; but it is impossible to shut our eyes to the fact that, during the last 10 days, we have gained very little from our enormous display of force.

Without doubt these operations have been of a very exhausting nature and will entail further delay. The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Times, writing on March 3, after the Paardeberg affair, describes Lord Roberts' army as a "wreck," because it was without horses and without transport. The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Post speaks now of the urgent need at present and always of more horses.

There is very little news from other quarters.

The Daily Mail publishes a statement from Colonel Long, who was blamed for the loss of the guns at Colenso, that, in advancing the guns as he did, he merely obeyed orders, and that the staff was quite ignorant of the proximity of the Boer positions.

The sudden decision of the Boer peace delegates to go to America is attributed to the fact that the government of The Netherlands, after sounding all the European capitals, told them they had nothing to hope for from Europe.

Colonel Dalgety's force at Wepener numbered 1700. His losses during the siege were 30 killed and 149 wounded. It is reported that there was an artillery engagement yesterday at Karee Siding, but no details have been received.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Standard says: The Boers have taken every advantage of the mountainous nature of the country which marks the line of their retreat to Ladybrand. The task of driving them is difficult, and it is doubtful whether they can be reduced to submission in a district so favorable to their tactics. I have visited a British outpost, the one nearest Brandfort. The Boers show the deepest anxiety to learn the probable line of our advance, and they declare that they will not fire a shot from Brandfort, as they wish to save the town from bombardment. The enemy are entrenched on the hills southeast of Brandfort, but they are not likely to make any serious stand until we reach Kroonstad.

The Standard's special correspondent at Bloemfontein says: Reports have just been received that the Boers are retiring to the north of Ladybrand. Their horses are exhausted and they themselves disappointed over their failure to capture Colonel Dalgety's position. The British cavalry who were pursuing the fugitive commandoes are returning to Bloemfontein.

The Bloemfontein correspondent of The Times, describing General Botha's good generalship, which enabled the Boers to evade the intended cordon, says: General Botha arrived at De Wets Dorp Monday, and immediately detached a commando to oppose General French's cavalry. We appear to have been forestalled by Botha by just 24 hours.

The members of the Boer peace mission will sail from Rotterdam for the United States next Thursday evening by the Holland-American line steamship Maasdam. Dr. Leyds and Dr. Mueller will not accompany the delegates.

Money Needed at Ottawa.

Ottawa, April 30.—The city is just beginning to recover from the shock of the great fire. The relief of the unfortunates is proceeding, and from distant points visible evidences of sympathy are pouring in. The relief committee has ample use for all the money it can get. In many instances the destitution was complete, even the ordinary means of livlihood being cut off.

Crime Rampant In Germany.

Berlin, April 30.—From numerous points in Germany come reports of sensational murders. In addition to three cases in Berlin, cases are reported from Cassel, Schweidnitz, Treves, and Storchnest, the victims being young girls and boys. The murderers have not been discovered, although large rewards are offered.

English Linoleums.

For people who wish the best and are willing to pay a little more than the price of Oil Cloth, our English Linoleum will afford a comfort that never grows tedious.

Good Afternoon.

The Boston dailies all speak of activity in Quincy real estate. Its a good indication. Now is the time to give the city a push forward.

May 1 would be a desirable date to settle the labor trouble in the granite industry which started March 1. Two months is long enough for such a suspension of work.

The New York democrats set a late date for their State convention so as to enable them to judge whether it will be best to jump on the Bryan band wagon, or to try to wreck that vehicle.

Turkey's Sultan has a reputation for disliking to turn loose money, but he'll pay the money demanded by President McKinley for the destruction of American missionary property in Turkey.

The honors at the annual speaking contest of the High school were very equally divided among the classes, and no dissatisfaction is heard. While prize contests are condemned in some cities, they seem to be popular in Quincy, and the contestants all receive a valuable training.

With all his theoretical knowledge, Dr. C. Ben Andrews, who migrated from a Rhode Island college to the head of the Chicago public schools and who is now billed for another move, to the head of a Nebraska college, appears to be ignorant of the time-honored adage about a rolling stone.

It required nerve on the part of the teller of the Five Cent Savings Bank of Lynn to foil the would-be robber on Saturday, but Miss Houghton was equal to the occasion, and a man would not have been more successful. The desperado had considerable nerve, but as he was unsuccessful, he and others will not be apt to repeat such a demand soon.

The committee to whom was referred the remodelling of City Hall have not progressed very far, but some of the members advocate the improvement. Only those who have frequent business with city officials realize the necessity of better accommodations. Not only is there the need of more offices, but more conveniences. Now the officials who occupy the front rooms have to act as information bureaus, especially if one wants to find the Overseer of the Poor, Tax Collector or Assessors, and if it is not an inquiry, it is a salutation which is quite as liable to disturb a busy official. There is plenty of room within the present walls of City Hall for convenient offices for all the city officials, and it will be economy for the city to remodel it now rather than to wait a few years and then plunge heavily into debt, perhaps $100,000 to $200,000 for a new City Hall. About enough would be saved in rent to pay interest on the cost of remodelling. At present the City Engineer, Sewer Commissioners and School Committee rent outside quarters.

Drift of Opinion.

☞ Tact, sincerity and amiability are a golden combination in the character of any girl, the first enabling her to avoid those subjects which are likely to prove irritating, and keeping her from rubbing others in the wrong way; the second showing her flawless as a crystal in her truth of word and thought, and the third making her to overflow with loving-kindness.—May Ladies' Home Journal.

TO-MORROW.

May Be an Eventful Day for the City of Quincy.

The Granite Manfuacturers' Committee received a notice from the Cutters' Committee, Saturday night, asking for another conference. The communication was considered at a meeting of the Manufacturers' Committee that evening, which appointed Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, as the time for the conference. The meeting will be held in the Granite Manufacturers' room in Durgin & Merrill's block, and it is the general wish of the public that this meeting end the strike, and there is reason to believe that it will do so, and that the men will return to work before the end of the week.

A Just Inference.

A committee of the Granite Manufacturers' Association of New England held a meeting at the Exchange building, Boston, on Saturday, and the general situation was discussed. At the conclusion of the meeting a Boston Herald reporter was informed that the situation remained the same. The strikers had made no overtures for peace nor had any proposition been received by the manufacturers looking to a meeting between themselves and the men. When asked if it was fair to assume that the manufacturers would maintain their stand at Quincy, a member of the committee declared that that was a just inference.

Granite Firm Handicapped.

The Mt. Waldo Granite Company has about 200 non-union men at work at Frankfort, Me., a small number to do the contracts of $3,000,000 which this company has. There are no prospects of a settlement.

Horton—Wagniere.

Emmanuel church, Boston, was gay at noon Saturday with Boston's society girls, accompanied by their maters and paters, for the wedding of Miss Marguerite Wagniere, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Wagniere of Marlboro street, and Mr. Kenneth Horton, son of Mr. Henry Horton of this city.

Palms and other tropical plants filled the chancel, and as the march from "Lohengrin" was heard the ushers, Messrs. H. S. Blake, Howland S. Russell, Harold Blanchard, William Stackpole, R. H. Stevenson, Jr., Philip Dalton and Eliot Wadsworth, formed in line, and passed up the side aisles.

The bridemaids Miss Edith Stackpole, Miss May Sargeant, Miss Marion Fenno, Miss Beatrice Blake and Miss Dorothy Deven, walked up the centre aisle with the maid of honor, Miss Anne Blake. They were all gowned alike, in white taffeta, the skirts tucked in effective lines radiating from the waist, and the corsages were of accordion plaited silk finished with a large pink chrysanthemum, whose tone deepened into scarlet. Bouquets of scarlet carnations tied with self-color ribbons and dainty white straw hats decorated with roses and chiffon completed their elaborate toilets.

Then came the bride, a petite blonde, in a superb creation of white mousseline de soie over silk, a deep lace flounce edging the hem over a demi-trained skirt. It was one of the handsomest gowns of the season's brides and her high corsage was of lace and chiffon, with a sunburst of diamonds at the throat. She was escorted by her father, and carried a huge bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The Rev. Leighton Parks officiated, the groom being attended by his brother, Mr. E. M. Horton.

An informal reception followed at the Wagniere residence on Marlboro street, where M. and Mrs. Horton were the recipients of all the good wishes of their many friends, who also testified substantially in their beautiful gifts, on both sides of the ocean.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton will make their home after their wedding journey, in Quincy for the present, with the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Bigelow.—Herald.

—The Ferris wheel, which was one of the greatest attractions at the world's fair in Chicago in 1893, will probably be taken down and sold for scrap iron unless some new promoter shall become a purchaser. Its original cost was about $300,000. It was removed from the fair grounds and run as a beer garden attraction at a cost of $175,000. But it did not pay, not being specially provocative for thirst and now the costly toy is again on the market.

The Cup Challengers.

The Sunday Globe gave sketches of the challengers for the Quincy cup.

In the design of the Lookout Mr. Higginson frankly confesses that he has sought to beat last years, successful cup defender, the Hostess, by means of more power and sail, and to this end has had Fenton give the Lookout quite two feet more beam and about 200 square feet more sail. He admits that it is wholly an experiment, but feels that it is worth trying.

Mr. Lawrence in the Tashmoo has gone Mr. Higginson a foot better in the matter of beam but has taken only about the same amount of sail. At the same time his boat shows a harder bilge and looks more powerful than the Fentoon design. As the two boats are to be "tuned up" against each other in Hull bay prior to the cup races there is a promise of good sport before the races themselves are sailed.

The following table allows a close comparison of the boats on dimensions, and shows their differences in those respects at a glance:

Name	Length over all ft in	Beam ft in	Draft inches	Sail area sq feet
Hostess,	39 0	10 9	9	1100
Lookout,	41 5	12 8	5	1300
Tashmoo,	41 7	14 0	5	1300

Death of War Veteran.

Mr. John A. McKie, for nearly thirty years a resident of Brook street, died on Saturday morning after an illness of about three weeks' duration, because of illness resulting from wounds received during the Civil War. He lost an arm while in the service as a member of the 3d Mass. Cavalry. For over thirty years he was a letter carrier at the Boston post-office. His route covered the market district. He was very popular in the business section which he faithfully served for so many years. A widow and son survive him.

Among the Magazines.

Upward of fifty writers and artists contribute to the May Ladies' Home Journal, consequently variety is combined with excellence throughout its pages. Rudyard Kipling drolly tells of "The Beginning of the Armandillos." Mary B. Mullett writes of "The Real Thrums of Barrie" Clifford Howard, of "The Flower that Set a Nation Mad," Mabel Percy Haskell, of "A Famous Boston Belle," and Edward Bok writes of Early marriage and of domestic science in the schools. Two pages of pictures, "Through Picturesque America"—the second of a series—reveal the beauties of our country's scenery. The drawings, "The American Girl on the Farm," by H. C. Christy, and "The Minister at Tea," by A. B. Frost, worthily fill a page each. Fashions for women and for girl graduates, cooking, and in fact every phase of home making, from the "Etiquette of Dances and Balls" to "How to Treat and Keep a Servant," are included in the May Journal. By The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelpha.

In the Review of Reviews for May, there is editorial comment on Admiral Dewey's candidacy; on the government of Porto Rico under the law recently passed by Congress; on the proposed government of Alaska, and on the developments of the month in financial and industrial circles. Other topics treated in "The Progress of the World" are the rush to Cape Nome, fox-breeding in Alaska, the April elections, the epidemic of strikes, the opening of the Paris fair, the military operations in South Africa, and the Delegoa Bay award.

Among the contributors to the April issue of Smart Set are the Countess ot Warwick, who writes on "The Revolution of English Society;" Julien Gordon (Mrs. Van Rensselaer Cruger), who contributes a dialogue between a modern young society matron and her old-fashioned mother; Edgar Saltus, who discourses fascinatingly of "The Toilet of Venus;" Clement Scott, who writes of "The Smart Set and the Stage;" Miss Caroline Duer, Mrs. Burton Harrison, Max Pemberton, and Ella Wheeler Wilcox. The novelette of the number is a somewhat melodramatic story of New York society entitled, "A Maiden Diplomat," by L. H. Bickford.

—The University of California, holds in trust a fund the interest of which must be used each year for the purchase of a medal to be presented to the most advanced student. This year the interest happened to amount to as much as $240, and the regents of the university were at first puzzled to know how to put such a large sum into one gold medal. The conditions under which the trust is held would not permit of giving the fortunate student a $100 medal and the balance in cash, as was proposed, so it was decided to inclose the medal in a case into which the surplus gold should be so worked that it could be easily taken out and disposed of as the holder might see fit.

The Bridge Bill.

The committee on Counties of the Legislature, to whom was referred the petition (with accompanying bill, House, No. 479) of De Witt C. Bates and others for legislation to provide that three county commissioners of the counties of Norfolk and Plymouth shall be constituted a board of trustees for the care, maintenance and repair of certain bridges in said counties, report the accompanying bill.

Section 1. The supreme judicial court sitting in any county, or any justice thereof, upon application of ten legal voters of either of the counties of Norfolk or Plymouth, shall appoint a board of commissioners consisting of three disinterested and suitable persons not residents of either of said counties; and it shall be the duty of said commissioners after having been sworn to the faithful and impartial performance thereof and after due notice to all parties interested and a hearing to determine what cities and towns are specially and directly benefited by the three bridges known respectively as the bridge over the Weymouth fore river, connecting the city of Quincy with the town of Weymouth, the bridge over Weymouth back river, connecting the towns of Weymouth and Hingham, and the bridge on Quincy avenue over the Monatiquot river located in the town of Braintree. Said commissioners shall also determine and decree in what proportions and in what manner said cities and towns shall defray the expenses for the care, maintenance and repair of said bridges, their abutments, draws and piers, including any damages which may be recovered for injuries resulting from neigect in such care, maintainance and repair, also any expenses incurred under this act not otherwise provided for; and their determination and decree, or that of a major part of them, shall be made in writing and reported to the supreme judicial court sitting in any county, and the same having been accepted by said court, after such notice thereof as said court may order, shall be binding upon said cities and towns.

Section 2. Said commissioners may in like manner determine and decree which officers shall have charge of the care, maintenance and repair of said bridges, their abutments, draws and piers after the passage of this act.

Section 3. Nothing herein contained shall impair any existing contracts between boards of trustees or selectmen who have heretofore had the care of said bridges, and any persons or corporations, but said contracts shall remain in force according to their tenor.

Section 4. The officers who shall be finally determined and decreed to have charge of the care, maintenance and repair of said bridges, their abutments, draws and piers, are authorized to make such other additional contracts as may be just and reasonable.

Section 5. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 6. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

A New Assessor.

Charles R. Sherman, Assistant Assessor from Ward Five, forwarded his resignation to Mayor Hall a few days ago, requesting that the same take effect May 1. The resignation has been accepted and Mayor Hall has appointed Lysander W. Nash to fill the vacancy.

The Assessors will commence their field work tomorrow. Messrs Johnson, Nash and Glover will take Ward One and Messrs. Newcomb, Murray and Ames Ward Two.

Pickpockets at Work.

People who ride on crowded street cars should beware of pickpockets, who are said to be working the cars on Sundays and holidays. Sunday a gentleman whose name could not be learned reported to the police that he was relieved of his pocketbook containing $100 on a car between Neponset and Quincy. This is the second loss reported to the police recently, the first case being a week ago Sunday, when a lady had $70 taken away from her.

Against Sunday Work.

The Continental Sababth vs. the Anglo Saxon Sabbath was the subject of Rev. M. C. Ward's sermon at the Universalist church on Sunday, and he said in part:

"Sunday on the continent. What is it? In some places doubtless it is a day of rest and reverence. Nearly everywhere the people attend church at least once every Sunday, even far more generally than with us today, but the larger part of the day the shops and stores are open and the afternoons are given to all forms of amusements, while Sunday evening is the time when the theatres and beer gardens are at their maddest and merriest whirl of frolic. The continental Sunday is simply a phrase for wanton Sabbath desecration.

I protest against the Sunday paper, which is a thing without need and without excuse, I am not protesting against the paper as a paper. Some Sunday issues are good papers and contain valuable material. But the paper could publish a special edition on any other day of the week as well, say Saturday. Then it would not do half the harm.

"I would protest against the Sunday mail business. It is not needed. I would protest against all unnecessary business. Sunday work in all good trades and proper business is utter stupidity. The man who lies or steals or swears or commits adultery gets some sort of devilish pay for it, but the man who works on the Sabbath serves the devil for nothing and boards himself.

"I would protest against all unnecessary Sunday travelling and a great deal of Sunday visiting and against non-church attendance and the seven-day week for workingmen.

"Today a sly serpent from across the waters has emigrated here under the coat of friendship, and claiming the protection of our banner of liberty, the continental Sunday is twining its sinuous folds through our civilization."

The Parker Patriot.

The Parker souvenir edition of the Quincy Patriot, issued on April 21, is a masterpiece of newspaperdom. It is well-written, richly illustrated, handsomely printed. Editor Prescott and son are thoroughly up to date.—Dedham Transcript.

APT ILLUSTRATOR.

The Quincy Patriot issued an educational number last week showing the progress of education in the public schools of that city for 25 years. It was a very artistic paper and reflects credit upon the if popular proprietors, who have done a large share in the educational work of Quincy. The Patriot is an apt illustrator of a well conducted paper in an enterpising town or city.—Whitman Times.

ADMIRABLE EXAMPLE.

The Quincy Patriot published a supplement last week of equal size with its regular issue. It was a souvenir school edition, published in observance of the 25th anniversary of the commencement of the Parker system, so called, and so favorably known, in the Quincy schools. The supplement was profusely illustated with half tone photos of the prominent school officials and educators of the grand old town and was superbly printed. G. W. Prescott & Son, the publishers, are deserving, of much credit not only for the large amount of interesting matter given pertaining to the history of the schools and Col. Parker's methods, but also for the clean cuts and admirable example of good printing.—Mansfield News.

HIGHLY CREDITABLE.

The Quincy Patriot of last week was handsomely illustrated anniversary number in honor of the Parker celebration, making the twenty-fifth anniversary of Colonel Parker's assuming the duties of school superintendent of Quincy, with the radical changes in educational methods, which made the "Quincy system" a synonym for many of the advanced ideas and improvements in our school methods of today. The Patriot illustrations included former superintendents, teachers, members of the school board and prominent citizens and was a highly creditable output. The anniversary exercises, which were of especial interest, were carried out on an elaborate scale, and much of the success of the affair was due to the untiring efforts of H. W. Lull, the present superintendent of the Quincy schools, and formerly principal of the Milford high school.—Milford Gazette.

President Powell's Declaration.

Atlanta, April 30.—President Powell of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, says that there will be no sympathetic strike on any southern or eastern railroads. "I see no reason," said Mr. Powell, "why the difficulties on the roads named should not be settled without a strike. We have received the sympathy and moral support in our difficulty here from the operators on many railroads, and no strike is necessary. We are prepared to continue this strike indefinitely.

Prinstein's Marvelous Jump.

Philadelphia, April 30.—One world's record was shattered on Franklin field during the sixth annual relay races under the auspices of the University of Pennsylvania. The new world's record was made by M. Prinstein of Syracuse university, who leaped 24 feet 7 1-4 inches in the broad jump. The former record was held by A. E. Krenslein of Pennsylvania, 24 feet 4 1-2 inches.

To Extend Boxing Licenses.

New York, April 30.—The World says: It is almost certain that boxing licenses will be extended to September today by the police commissioners. At all the sporting headquarters last night it was rumored that the licenses would be issued. None of the club managers would talk about it, but each wore an air of contentment that for the last week or two has been absent from their faces and bearing.

Strikers Get the "Little End."

Woburn, Mass., April 30.—By removing the larger part of its business to Boston, the Russell Counter company has scored a victory over the help, whose attitude in causing the going out of 175 employes nearly crippled the plant. The company, while operating fully in Woburn, employed 200 hands. The removal, the officers say, was caused solely by a desire to get away from the dictates of labor unions.

General Wilson's Wife Burned to Death.

Havana, April 30.—The wife of Major General Wilson, military governor of the department of Matanzas-Santa Clara, while alighting from her carriage, stepped on a match, which ignited her dress. She was terribly burned and died shortly afterward. Great sympathy is expressed by everyone, Cubans and Americans alike, for the Wilson family.

Want Immediate Concessions.

Buffalo, April 30.—The striking employes of the New York Central have given the company until 1 o'clock today to grant their demands. If the concessions are not made by that time it is the intention of the strike leaders to extend the strike, and they predict that it will be the largest in the history of railroads of the east.

Not Afraid of Indictment.

Frankfort, Ky., April 30.—Governor Taylor returned here Sunday from Washington. He said he returned to silence the rumors that he was endeavoring to escape indictment. After learning whether there is an indictment against him he will return to Washington.

Youngster Rescued From Death.

LIVES CRUSHED OUT

By the Collapse of a Bridge Which Had Been Condemned as Unsafe.

Nine Persons Were Killed at the Paris Exposition.

Severe Criticism of Those Who Allowed Public to Jeopardize Their Lives.

Paris, April 30.—An accident threw a pall over the happiness of an immense throng who had profited by the magnificent weather to visit the exposition on Sunday. Nine persons were killed and at least 40 injured as the result of the collapse of a bridge.

Not merely the interior of the grounds, but the precincts also, were crowded, and the concourse was particularly great along the Avenue de Suffren, which forms the northern boundary of the grounds.

Here is situated a big side-show, the Celestial Globe. A foot bridge, on which the finishing touches were being put, crosses the Avenue de Suffren, connecting the side-show with the exhibition. It was constructed of wood, with a stucco facade and with a plaster-made tower at each end.

Strangely enough, the bridge had been condemned only yesterday morning as unsafe by the exhibition authorities. The public was therefore not allowed to go upon the structure, and in this way a disaster even more terrible than which occurred was averted.

The gay crowd was passing along the avenue and some hundred or more persons were walking beneath the bridge, when suddenly an ominous crash was heard. Before those underneath could turn aside, the structure fell with a fearful crash, burying nearly 50.

A shout of horror rose from the spectators, mingled with the cries of the victims. For a moment nothing could be distinguished but a cloud of dust and plaster. A scene of the greatest excitement and confusion followed. But this was only for a few seconds. Almost immediately the crowd attacked the debris in an effort to release those lying beneath. Wooden beams and poles were hastily brought from the half-finished buildings near by and were used as levers to raise the fallen mass.

The victims first recovered were mostly only the injured, the dead being found later beneath the center of the structure. The first body was found after a quarter of an hour's frantic labor. It was that of a little girl, about 7 years of age, whose head was horribly crushed. Victim after victim was brought to light, until a row of six mutilated corpses had been placed upon the sidewalk, and nearly 40 other persons, some badly and others less seriously injured, had been carried in ambulances and driven to the hospitals, where two afterward died.

The weighty plaster towers seem to have been responsible for the fall of the structure.

The disaster is the leading topic of discussion, and strong criticism is levelled against the exhibition authorities for allowing an unfinished structure to jeopardize the lives of citizens, fears being expressed that the incomplete state of the works within the exposition grounds themselves might lead to a similar accident.

The exhibition authorities, however, are not responsible for the defective construction of the foot bridge, which was erected by the management of the Celestial Globe. As a result of the accident M. LePine, prefect of police, has ordered the closing of several side-shows, the structural arrangements of which are considered dangerous.

Several of the morning papers pronounce severe criticisms. The Matin says: There is only one judgment to deliver on this sad event. It is this. Those who did not think of preventing the public from passing under a cardboard bridge, after having themselves recognized it as unsafe, and those who have opened attractions to visitors which are not protected against fire, are guilty of crime.

It calls upon the authorities to thoroughly inspect hastily-built buildings and to destroy those which present the least danger. It also urges the closing of dome buildings and the appointment of a committe of inquiry, declaring that this is a necessary guarantee of public security.

THIS WEEK IN CONGRESS.

House Will Consider Nicaragua Canal Bill. Alaska Code Bill In Senate.

Washington, April 30.—The feature of the week in the house will be the Nicaraguan canal bill. The elimination of the section relative to the fortification of the canal removes the objections entertained to it by the friends of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but because of that very fact the resentment of some of the Democrats has been aroused. The bill, however, doubtless will command a very large majority when it comes to a vote.

So far as can now be foreseen, the week in the senate will be given up largely to the Alaskan code bill, and to appropriation bills. Senator Hawley has given notice that he will call up the army appropriation bill today, and when this bill is disposed of it is probable that the fortifications bill will be taken up.

There will be an effort to secure final disposition of the Alaskan bill, but as there is almost as much opposition to the Carter amendment as there was to the amendment suggested by Senator Hansbrough, it is impossible to say whether the effort will succeed. Senator Chandler will ask consideration of the resolution in the case of Senator Clark of Montana, but there will be a request for more time to read the testimony, and the case probably will go over for at least several days.

No Clue to Identity of Wreck.

Vancouver, B. C., April 30.—The steamer New England arrived last night from the north with the news of the finding of the larger part of an unknown ship. One of the New England's fishing boats visited an unfrequented bay in the Queen Charlotte islands, and there found a dismantled three-masted schooner. She was evidently American built, and only recently wrecked. Her deck and stern had been so smashed on the rocks and the Indians had so completely looted her that no trace of her identity was left. Some bones of animals or men were found in the bottom of the wreck.

Shooting Case at Manchester.

Manchester, N. H., April 30.—George Mayhew shot William H. Johnson while they were eating supper at the former's house Saturday evening. Mayhew, it is said, took offense at something Johnson said about his wife, and drawing his revolver fired at Johnson. The latter ducked his head and received the bullet in the back of his neck. A dirk knife, with blood stains upon it, was found upon the floor, with which Mrs. Mayhew says her husband endeavored to stab himself before he made his escape. Johnson's wound, while serious, is not likely to prove fatal.

Consecrated Army of a Hundred Thousand.

Chicago, April 30.—A Methodist army 100,000 strong, consecrated and banded together for the salvation of souls, may be an outcome of the great gathering of Methodism which is about to be held in this city. Bishop Thoburn is the man who will propose to the general conference this great crusade, and whose eloquence will urge that it be at once begun. It is understood that he will at once begin to gather around him supporters for the effort to convince the conference that the "consecrated army of 100,000" has the field ripe before it.

Husband's Death Killed Wife.

Somerville, Mass., April 30.—Owen Doherty and his wife, Hannah, died within 15 minutes of each other at their home on Sunday. The husband's death was attributed to pneumonia, and that of his wife to an apoplectic fit, caused by the death of her husband. Mr. Doherty was 40 years old, and his wife 35. They leave two children.

Lovers' Quarrel Ends With Shooting.

Watseka, Ills., April 30.—Bert Underhill fatally shot Miss Anna Davis, the 17-year-old daughter of D. M. Davis, last night, pointing his pistol through the kitchen window. Underhill then killed himself. He worked on the Davis farm, and it is thought he and Miss Davis, to whom he was engaged, had quarrelled.
